The George Carver Fellowship club held its annual buffet dinner dance last Saturday at the lovely home of Mrs. Thomas on New Jersey avenue. Good music and palatable food, supervised by Mrs. Verline Stevens, Abraham Harston, and Mrs. Ada Reed caused the evening to be an entertaining one.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gower, George Bryant, Henry Jennings, John Anderson, Emmett Hicks, Joe Wynne, William Stevens, Woodrow Reed, Ulysses Harris, and Martin Elam; Misses Rheba Winfry from Pasadena, Beatrice Beamon, Ann and June Thomas, and Susie Jackson; Messrs. Cornelius Hancock, Deaderick Jenkins, Arthur Wilson, E. Malcolm, Elijah Stevens, Harold Harris, and Roland Coleman.

Open House at Woodlawn YWCA Slated

Woodlawn Branch YWCA is fast becoming a beehive of activity. Every day Girl Reserves, the younger members of the association, come to the branch for their meetings. The Business and Professional Girls' league meets every other week. Their next regular meeting will be Sunday afternoon.

Thursday is Open House Day, carrying on the tradition established in the former 12th street branch as coffee hour. A special occasion will be the program on next Thursday, when neighbors and friends are invited into the new clubroom at E. 43rd street entrance to hear informally about matters of civic interest. After the first of November there will be regular features each Thursday.

The November calendar already bids fair to be full for the new Woodlawn Branch, according to Mrs Jessie Coles Grayson, chairman of the committee of management and chairman of the branch building project.

The Girl Reserves of the city of Los Angeles, who contributed to the building campaign, will dedicate their barbecue pit and clubroom Saturday afternoon, Nov. 7.

The formal opening and dedication of the new branch will take place on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 15. The public is cordially invited. More details will be announced later. Friends of the "Y" are urged to save the dates of Nov. 7 and Nov. 15 for big events in celebration of the opening of the new building.

William Coopers Hold First Wedding Fete

Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper celebrated their first wedding anniversary at their new residence, 1621 W. 37th street. Cocktails and canapes preceded the delicious turkey dinner. Champagne was freely served during the dinner.

Those who joined in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gloster, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Altniemer, Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Miss Edna Durant, and Oscar Brocheim, who entertained the guests with movies before going home. A delightful time was had by everyone.

Mrs. Celestine Scoby Is Golden State Hostess

Mrs. Celestine Scoby was hostess to the Golden State Social club Wednesday evening. Regular business was discussed, and a delightful dinner was served.

Two rubbers of bridge were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. M. Hale, first, Mrs. Alphia Peoples, second, and Mrs. Zora Price, third.

Ira McCains Surprise Matron on Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Ira McCain, 898 E. 57th street, entertained Mrs. Anita Conway with an elaborate surprise birthday party Monday, Oct. 12, at which time many lovely gifts were received.

Among the guests were [illegible] and Mrs. Ira McCain, Mrs. Anita Conway, guest of honor, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Leland D. Whitney, Mrs. Mae Lewis, and Mr. E. Wright.

TELL BETROTHAL OF FRANZANNA SLATER, WM. SAFFOLD JR.

At a tea given by her aunt, Mrs Jennie H. Graham, in her home on West 31st street, the engagement of Miss Franzanna Slater to Mr. William Saffold, Jr., was uniquely revealed on last Sunday afternoon to relatives and close family friends. A drawing by the assembled guests of tiny announcement cards enclosing minature photographs of the happy pair, told their secret.

Theirs will be a home wedding around Thanksgiving time, reports Miss Slater. Both are popular in the younger set and are now employed in the defense program.

Mrs. Graham was assisted by Mmes William Saffold, Sr., mother of the groom-to-be; Aurora Hoskins, and Misses Pauline Slater, Paullyn Garner, and Rosalie Saffold.

CONTACT MAN.—Daring motorcyclists such as Pvt. Willard Brown, Philadelphia, Pa., keep the highly mobile tank units in contact. For protection Brown carries tommy-gun, either slung over shoulder or in handle holster. Cpl. Alan Bell, Kirksville, Mo., hands message to Brown. The typist is Cpl. Claude Mills, Columbus, Ohio.

E. A. Baileys, Mother Week-end Guests Here

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Bailey and daughter, Gloria, and mother, Mrs. J. Hodgkins, of San Diego, were the week-end guests of Mrs. Etnel Newsome and Mrs. Emily Brown Portwig. They were entertained Friday evening with a supper by Mrs. Newsome, a coffee Sunday morning by Mrs. Portwig, and dinner Sunday afternoon by Miss Lena Horne, and Mrs. Edwina Smith King.

LIONEL HAMPTON

HAMPTON BAND AT ELKS NOV. 1

Lionel Hampton is headed for the Elks' ballroom Sunday night, Nov. 1. This IS news.

Thousands of dancers here have been awaiting this event for a long time and now that it has become a reality it'll be a miracle if the Elks can hold 'em. For that reason persons planning to take in this affair are urged to purchase their tickets in advance. Karl's Pharmacy, as usual, is selling them for 75 cents. If you wait until the night of the dance you will have to dig down for 85 cents.

The spacious Elks' garden will take care of the overflow crowd and will furnish its relief from the heat when Lionel's boys spread it on too thick. Yep, you can bet the Elks is going to roll up the night the vibraphone master and his bunch take over. No self-respecting jitterbug would want to miss this one. It's natural.

FAMOUS NEGRO ACTRESS TO APPEAR IN "JOHNNY DOUGHBOY"

Etta McDaniel, whose excellent work on the screen has attracted wide audience attention, is featured in Republic's "Johnny Doughboy," Jane Withers' first starring vehicle on her contract at this Studio. The cast includes Henry Wilcoxon, Patrick Brook, William Demarest, Bobby Breen, Baby Sandy, "Alfalfa" Switzer, "Spanky" McFarland, and Cora Sue Collins.

MISS JACQUELYN FREEZE, who will be presented at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, Friday, Oct. 23, at 8 p. m., byb the Independent Guild as a benefit for the scholarship fund. Miss Freeze, age 12, is a very talented pianist and plays the electric Hawaiian guitar. She is also a member of the Independent Choir of Youth. Mrs. Gwendolyn Russell is president of this organization, and Mrs. Nell Saunders, organizer of the Choir of Youth, is in charge of the program.

RACE FILM PLAYERS IN MEETING

Transacting much important business the Colored Movie Actors Association held an important meeting at E. 28st Monday night and reported a sizeable surplus in the treasury. They also resolved to take a more active part in the town's civic affairs, keeping tab on individuals who knowing nothing of the movies, or movie actors affairs try to meddle.

They are preparing a new membership drive as to recruit all members of the Screen Actors Guild who have not been attending Association meetings, and to induct a dozen or more who have recently entered the movies.

The organization has the full sanction of the Hayes Office, Of Motion Pictures Producers, Central Casting Bureau, and the Screen Actors Guild.

Originated by Mrs. Mary Reed, Mrs. M. Caldwell, and several others extras and bit players, with the encourgement of Clarence Muse and other senior members of the Guild, the Colored Movie Actors Association was set up for the purpose of getting more work for colored actors. At the same time it has ever since its organization several years ago, contacted producers and distributors in regard to a wider variety of roles, rather than the stereotyped ones of the early days.

Here's another reason why we will keep 'em rolling!

On July 31, 5,137 Southern Pacific men were serving in our country's armed forces; on August 31, 5,836 men; and on September 15, 6,214. That's a lot of men from one organization!

To these men, the ideal of service is nothing new. Railroading has always inspired devotion to duty, and a conductor wears the stars on his sleeve just as proudly as a sailor wears his "hash marks."

We miss these men badly, for we worked side by side with them. We also miss their long training and experience in railroad work—training and experience that just can't be replaced overnight. But we're going to do our best to back these men up, wherever they may be.

We who are left have the job of getting troops, equipment and war materials over the line to the places where they're needed, when they're needed. And though the traffic peak in the next few months will be the greatest we have ever faced, we promise our men in the service that we will not let them down.

So if you see an extra glint of determination in an engineer's eye, or a passenger representative on the road night and day accompanying troop trains, or a section hand swinging his pick as if the ballast were full of Japs—you'll know why they have a personal interest in this war, and a personal determination to do their part to keep 'em rolling.

The War Bonds you buy now will help pay for one of these swell new post-war automobiles.

Anti-Prejudice Society Asks Support of Baptist Prelates

Spurred into greater action by two more lynching horrors last week, the American Anti-Prejudice Society, Inc., has called upon the Baptist Ministers Union to hlp end mob-law and all evils founded on race perjudices and discrimination.

The letter follows:

The Baptist Ministers Union of Los Angeles City and County
Second Baptist Church
Rev. F. L. Taylor, President
Officers and Members—
Brethren, Greetings:

In August of this year the Western Baptist State convention gave us an endorsement to the National Baptist convention held in Memphis, Tenn., last month. Theat great convention passed a resolution of endorsement of our work.

Now, therefore, we pray the Baptist Ministers Union of this, our great city and county, to also pass a similar resolution.

We are in the business of cultivating the friendship, the respect and goodwill of the whole America people for us, the 15 million Negroes in this great nation.

You will please remember that there are three sides to every question. Our side, the other side, and the right side. We are striving to put the world on the third side—the right side. May we have your coooeration?

Respectfully submitted in Christ,
Yours,
REV. C. TOWNSEND TUCKER
President and Exec. Director
HARRY LEVETTE,
Public Relations Director;
MILDRED DENT,
Executive Secretary.

Dr. J. C. Anderson at Hamilton

Rev. J. C. Anderson, former pastor of Phillips Temple and at th present time pastor of the great CME temple of Shreveport, La., will deliver the 11 a. m. sermon Sunday, Oct .25, at Hamilton Methodist church, E. 18th street and Naomi avenue.

Dr. Andrson is a great preacher and has rendered a great service to his church throughout his denomination. He made a great record here where he served so many years and has established himself as the outstanding preacher of his church. You are invited to hear him.

Choir Director Streety Dead

Mr. William Streety, music instructor of this city, died Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1942. Mr. Streety, who had studied band instruments under Major N. Clark Smith and Wade Hammond of the 10th Cavalry, directed several choirs in the city, but the evangelical choir of St. Paul Baptist church was his most outstanding work. His arrangements of the old songs made this choir just a little different; his work shall ever be a cherished memory. Mr. Streety also won a scholarship course in voice culture with Madame Margaret Egbert of Detroit, Mich. In his passing the Musician's Union has suffered a great loss.

Mr. Streety leaves a wife, father, sister, and other relatives and many friends to mourn his passing.

Save a Life Day Sunday at Second AME

The First Quarterly conference in the conference year was well attended all day at Second AME church. The presiding elder, Rev. F. A. Harris delivered a very inspiring and helpful sermon, and the choir, under the direction of Miss Ella Mae Crosland, sang very delightfully. There were two conversions and 9 accessions.

The rite of infant baptism was administered by the pastor, Rev. Jno. B. Isaacs.

Among the visitors seen at Second church were Mrs. Gladys Asolye, Mr. and Mrs. Webb and family, of Omaha, Neb.; C. W. Brooks, jr., Mrs. Doris Houston, Mrs. Pearl Heard, Mrs. B. T. Washington, and Mrs. Mineola Lloyd.

Next Sunday, "Save A Life Day" will be observed under the auspices of the Outdoor Life and Health association. The message will be delivered by Chaplain Cooper of the United States Army. Other prominent speakers will include Major Hollingsworth, Col Moody Staten of the 7th Regiment, California State Guard; and Dr. Whiteman of the U. S. Army. A number of civic, patriotic and military organizations will be represented. The soloist for the day will be Miss Ethel Waters of screen and stage fame.

The minister says, "Love, happiness and good friends are found only by those who look for them, and who fit themselves to find such things. We have to look for things if we want to find them; usually we find what we seek."

Rev. Isaacs conducts a class in solving personal problems on Wednesday evening at the church at 7:30 o'clock. Join the class and learn how to solve your problems.

MT. CORINTH SETS INSTALLATION

The installation service of Rev. George W. Cofield, pastor of Mt. Corinth Baptist church, 1248 E. 27th street, will be held for a week beginning this Sunday. The service will open with a homecoming jubilee and close with a reception Monday, Nov. 2, in the dining room of the church.

Hamilton Days Net $1400

The services of Men's Day last Sunday at Hamilton Methodist church, E. 18th street and Naomi avenue, brought to a close a very successful contest between the men and women of the church. As the women declared they would, they won; but the men of Hamilton proved worthy foes for the intrepid ladies. The women raised $764.06, and the men, $657.64, making a total for the two days of $1421.70.

The men and women take this opportunity to thank a generous public for their sympathy and support in their efforts.

Special Notice to All

The great opening service at the Holy Temple, 1245 N. Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena, began Sunday, Oct. 11, at 11 a. m. Our friends are cordially invited to attend these services.

This temple is dedicated to those who are interested in spiritual development and spiritual education in holiness and perfection: learning how to master and control ourselves and all other things in harmony with cosmic law, and the word of God. That they may do the things Jesus did, read John 14:12.

This great temple is where the sick are healed (and you can learn how to heal others), the lame are made to walk, the blind can receive their sight, the dumb speak, burdens are lifted and souls are blessed. Come one, come all to the Holy Temple; be filled and baptized with the Holy Ghost and power.

REV. PAUL COWGILL.
Director;
DR. M. W. GRAY, LL. D.,
President.

Village Baptist to Burn Mortgage

The Village Baptist church, 1521 E. 111th street, invites its many friends and well wishers to worship with them Sunday, Oct. 25 when they shall celebrate what is considered by many people an astounding feat—the burning of the mortgage.

For the morning service, Pastor Curtis will deliver a special message on the story of Ebenezer, and there will be an old-time basket dinner so characteristic of the spirit of Village church.

The mortgage burning service will take place at 3 p. m., at which time E. W. D. Carter, pastor of the great Friendship Baptist church of Pasadena and vice president of the National Baptist convention, will preach the sermon.

Choral Union Meets Saturday

The Los Angeles Gospel Choral Union is having the regular weekly meeting Saturday evening at St. Paul Baptist church, E. 21st and Naomi streets. The hours have been changed to 6:30 until 8:30 p. m.

One Saturday evening each month is set aside for social evening. This Saturday, Oct. 24, is our first monthly social. The Southside Inspirational group is serving refreshments free to all, old and new members. Please be present. Miss Mary R. Banks is the president; Mrs. Reveta Fuller, corresponding secretary.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during the long illness and the passing of our loved one, Josephine Crosby Knox. Our gratitude to Rev. Clayton Russell and his assistant for the consoling words; to the Conner-Johnson mortuary for the efficient handling of the servic and many thanks for the beautiful flowers.

(Signed)
MRS. MAUD NORMAN.
Oakland, Calif., sister;
B. H. KNOX, husband.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The Lesson-Sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, will be "Probation after Death." This statement from Revelation is the Golden Text: "He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment."

A selection from Luke relates that while two of Jesus' disciples were on their way to Emmaus, "Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know him." In reply to his questions they said, "Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? . . . Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him. . . . And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Jesus patiently persisted in teaching and demonstrating the truth of being. His students saw this power of Truth heal the sick, cast out evil, raise the dead; but the ultimate of this wonderful work was not spiritually discerned, even by them, until after the crucifixion, when the immaculate Teacher stood before them, the victor over sickness, sin, disease, death, and the grave."

MISS GLORIA HEMPHILL

Gifted Youth in Recital

Miss Gloria Hemphill, talented young musician of this city will be presented in a novel recital Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, at the First AME church, 801 Towne avenue, by the Courtes- club.

Mrs. Florence Carter, president of the club, stated today that the first part of the program would feature Miss Hemphill in two vocal groups, including such favorites as "The Lord's Prayer," by Mallot; and "Ave Maria," by Schubert. Miss Hemphill's selections will include renditions in Latin, French, and English.

The second part of the program will consist of piano selections, including "A Sonata," by Beethoven; numbers by Chopin, and other favorite composers.

First AME Officers to Be Installed

The first public installation service for the officers of the various groups and departments of the church is scheduled for the Sunday evening worship hour at 7:15.

Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor, stated that elections have now been held in all of the organizations and departments of the church, and that the new officers, accompanied by the membership of their group, will be assigned special seats at the service, and the offering for the service lifted and reported by groups.

The Woman's Mite Missionary society is serving its annual family dinner as a convenience to the many friends who will wish to attend all of these services during the day. Mrs. Hallie Randall, chairman of the committee, has announced her menu, including roast young turkey, and all the trimmings.

The pastor will deliver the sermon at both services. The soloist for the morning worship will be Mrs. Sallie Brown of Chicago, Ill., daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Brown, of this city. She will sing "O Divine Redeemer."

Capt. Mulzac Speaks at Zion Hill

Captain Hugh N. Mulzac of the good ship Booker T. Washington, the only man of his race to hold a Master's Degree Certificate enabling him to command any ship on any sea or ocean, was the guest speaker at Zion Hill Baptist church Sunday evening. He was introduced by Mr. Peter Ross, a member of Zion Hill, who was solely responsible for the ship being named for the great American leader and educator.

Accompanying Captain Mulzac was the Radio Technician, also a member of the ship's crew, Mr. Blackman, whose hope and ambition is to serve as an inspiration to the youth of the Negro race that they may find their place and hold it.

The spirit at Zion Hill was high all day. The women were still happy in the fact that the final Women's Day Rally report was more than $625, they are grateful to the public for its contribution toward their success.

Bossters Observe 9th Anniversary

The Second Baptist Boosters invite you to their 9th anniversary program Sunday, Oct. 25, at 6 p. m., in the church auditorium.

The program this year will be unusual. A Victory program will be the main feature. Guest spesakers will be Rev. J. Lyle Caston and Attorney Crispus Wright. It will be a real treat to hear these outstanding speakers discuss the trend of the times. Music will be rendered by the choir, Donna Perry Thomas Singers and the Booster Singers. The time, 6 p. m., Second Baptist church.

WEDDING BELLS—With his whole outfit attending, Private Ira Buck Woods, former MGM player from Los Angeles, was married to Miss Vera Maude Videll, of Los Angeles, at Davis-Monthan Field Base chapel, Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday morning, Oct. 14. Chaplain Homer B. Reynolds officiated at the service. Before her marriage, Miss Videll resided at 1129 E. 43rd place, Los Angeles. Pvt. Woods' last work in motion pictures before joining the Army was in Miss Joan Crawford's picture, "Reunion," which was completed two days before Woods was inducted. All his comrades in the 427th Signal Construction company attended the wedding in a body. This was the first Negro wedding to be performed in the Base chapel at Davis-Monthan. Major C. R. Allison, Base Signal officer, attended. Corporal Fred Buford served as best man. Miss Iola Johnson was bridesmaid.

HARRISON BAILEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bailey, Pasadena, has been in Tuskegee for the past 18 months studying aeronautics. He has now joined the Navy and is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill. In both Pasadena and Los Angeles, Mr. Bailey was very popular among the younger set who wish him loads of success in his new work for Uncle Sam.

★ GOLDEN WEST BRIDGE

Hail them. Hats off to them. Oh, well, choose your own method of salutation, but be sure you do it. Did someone ask just who deserved all this respect? To those who don't already know, it is our grand president, Mrs. Agnes Beal, and that grand bridge playing husband of hers, Mr. Louis Beal. The new 1942 GWBA regional open pair champions playing a steady game Saturday and Sunday came in with the highest score of all contestants—194½. Who said husband and wife couldn't play bridge together? Not I.

Two veterans of card playing, whist, auction, contract, and duplicate, Prof. J. D. Dunn and Genial Gene Robinson, were only 1½ points behind the winners with 193. A ladies' pair, Mrs. Capitola Robinson and Mrs. Louisa Roan, were tied with another husband-wife pair for third with 173.

The others trailed in this order: Harris-Maddox, 171½; Denton-Denton, 170½; Floyd-City, 169; Barnett-Barnett, 169; Clay-Brewer, 168; Wallace-Matthews, 152; Woods-Hale, 149; Morgan-Hughes, 149; Milligan-Reeves, 144½; Smith-Watson, 144½.

This was our best regional. Our next will be a women's pair and men's pair. Please register now for these matches. Shall we have our first sectional match next month? It's up to you.

A newcomer to duplicate is running away with the Friday night series. The gentleman's name is George Whisenant. We old timers are humiliated.

Our playing schedule is Sunday at 7:00 p. m., Tuesday, 8:30 p. m.; first and third Thursdays, at 2 p. m.; and Friday, at 8:30 p. m., at 1054-56 E. 54th street. AD-5946.

LADIES AUXILIARY, LOCAL 582, HOLDS LITERARY MEETING

Thursday, Sept. 24, the ladies auxiliary of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters, Local 582, held its literary meeting at the club hall, 4006½ S. Central. There was a white house demonstration and some of the ladies received some beautiful and useful gifts.

Mmes. Marie Washington, Lorena Wilson, and Beatrice White, hostesses for the day, served ice cream and cake.

Their business meeting was held Oct. 8, at which time the ladies planned big things. Mrs. Marie Washington made a very interesting talk, which all who heard her enjoyed.

Local 582 meets regularly every second and fourth Thursday of each month.

CLUB IDEAL ELECTS NEW OFFICERS, OFFERS PRIZE

The Club Ideal met at the home of Eva Lee Buckner, 1644 E. 108th street, Oct. 14. Due to the unavoidable tardiness of the president, Lillian Pitts, Mrs. Esther Greenley, club mother, presided at the meeting.

A big opportunity is offered by the club members to anyone who wishes to win a cash prize. Tickets, which were mimeographed by two of the members, are being sold at the nominal price of 10c each and everyone is invited to participate.

The following new officers were elected president, Eva Lee Buckner; vice president, Margaret White; recording secretary, Lillian Pitts; treasurer, Beulah Jackson, who was reelected; business manager, Lessie Madison; reporter, Juanita Majors.

After the usual bridge game, delicious refreshments were served, and the club adjourned to meet at the home of Laura Collins, 1453 E. 48th place, on Sunday, Oct. 25.

Vye Aldridge, of Eastside USO Staff, in Frisco

The Eastside USO is living up to the meaning of the words—United Service Organizations. Each day, assigned canteen women workers give their time making and serving sandwiches, cookies, coffee, or punch, while the senior hostesses make the soldiers feel at home. A grand Sunday afternoon was given the men by the Women's Council of the 28th Street Christian church. The food was marvelous and plentiful. One hundred and seventy soldiers were served during the day.

Defense work, home work, house work, and any other kind of work did not prevent such lovelies as Marilyn Warren, Rosalia Saffold, and Doris Winston from journeying to Long Beach, Thursday, Oct. 15, to entertain service men in chemical warfare. Many Hallowe'en parties are being planned—no soldier will have to do without his goblins. Friday night's jam session was mellow, indeed. The dances on Friday night furnish wholesome recreation to many of the boys; so much so that our junior hostesses are being asked for at camps, far and near. These girls are at all times well-mannered and yet sociable.

Rev. N. R. Hale, Minnie P. Sanders Are Wed

Rev. N. R. Hale, internationally known evangelist, and Miss Minnie P. Sanders, nationally known soprano, were married in Yuma, Ariz., Monday night, Oct. 19.

Accompanying them to Yuma were Miss Rosa Floyd of the famous E Flat Gospel Singers; Miss Velma Moss of the Moss Singers; Rev. Frank Laws, and Mrs. Fred Hardy.

The YMCA on the campus of UCLA donated its dance hall for the service men in chemical warfare, also. Some of the USO jr. hostesses in attendance were Joy Speights, Josephine Spearman, and Doris Garrison.

Vye Aldridge, staff worker, left Sunday night for San Francisco for a 10-day USO conference. She is the only USO worker sent from the Los Angeles area to this session. Everything is going on as usual until her return and we know she will give an accurate account of the conference.

Donations are still numerous, and we appreciate them. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Covan donated a number of games this week, and are arranging a show for the center. The date is not set as yet. Come in and see the center at your convenience. You will be inspired. Our soldiers need you.

ERSKINE HAWKINS

Erskine Hawkins and his swell dance band will play a hop in the Elks' ballroom Thursday night, Oct. 29, and this one announcement is causing dance lovers to go in training so that they will be in the best of form to do that music justice.

To be certain you'll get admitted to this one, you are advised to purchase your tickets in advance. You can get 'em at Karl's drug store for 75 cents. At the door the price of admission is 85 cents.

Erskine Hawkins is truly one of the big bands in the show world. The fashion in which he handles a trumpet is something and enough to make him a fortune. Thousands can be expected to file into the Elks next Thursday night to hear him and his musical crew, which also features the swell vocalizing of Ida James.

Mrs. Mamie Waugh Fetes Mysterious Few Club

Mrs. Mamie Waugh was hostess to the Mysterious Few club Saturday evening with a formal bridge dinner. Club prizes were won by Miss Louise Skanks, Mr. Charlie Cameron. Guest prize was won by Mrs. Laura Smitherman. Out of town guests were Mmes. Clara Bailey and Janice Hodgkins of San Diego.

Three Matrons Fete MDPA Auxiliary

Mesdames Marjorie McPherson, Edith Bailey, and Ursula Adams were joint hostesses to the auxiliary of the Medical, Dental, and Pharmaceutical association Tuesday at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Henry McPherson. After outlining the work for the year, a supper was enjoyed by the 35 members present.

R. Conklin Brown jr. Week-ends in L. A.

Mr. R. Conklin Brown jr., who is working in the defense plant in Richmond, spent the weekend in the city. His wife, Mrs. Lorraine Ellis Brown, returned to Oakland with him where they will make their home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Brown sr., had a family dinner for him Saturday.

BRIDGING BARRIERS—The "commando" course at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., is an important part of the training offered Negro recruits at Camp Robert Smalls. The new sailor must be able to balance himself if he doesn't want to tumble into the pit. This is one of several barriers on the course. (Official Navy Photograph)

Why Is the Second Front Important to Negroes?

As the first and most consistent participant in the great effort of the American people to realize offensive warfare against our enemies through establishment of a second front among Negro newspapers, we feel a responsibility once again to emphasize the importance of this issue.

To date, there is no second front. To date, the people have not been successful in this supreme war effort.. Part and parcel of the popular demand—and the military demand, if we can credit the statements of our key generals in the field—for a second front is the drive to hound out of positions of authoritiy those remnants of a dead and disgraced foreign policy, the eerie and evil men of Munich. This war is the realization of the opposed policy of collective security—it is all the free nations gathered together in one attack against the fascists who would fling the whole world into slavery. It took the grim teaching of bitter war necessities to effect this natural union of freedom-loving peoples against the tyrant which would rob all of them of independence. An effective alliance between Great Britain, the United States and Russia during the period of Nazi birth and growth in Europe would have made this war unnecessary. But both America and England preferred to follow another path, a path leading relentlessly to the perfidy of Munich.

Remember when Italy invaded Ethiopia? What was the reaction of the American people? Overwhelming support of Ethiopan patriots! Longshoremen under Harry Bridges at San Francisco refused to load cargo vessels destined for Fascist Italy. But what was the policy of our government? Hands off! Let Italy take Ethiopia—let her take it with American oil!

What was our policy about Spain. Again, hands off! But this time we meant it; we had an arms embargo. Oil to Fascist Italy—O. K. But nothing to democratic Spain, fighting the first actions of the war in which we are now embroiled—fighting on our side. What did the American people think? Hundreds of them went to Spain to stand side by side with the weary peasant armies of that land against the Fascist mechanized invasion, thousands contributed to the Loyalist cause, millions demanded that the embargo be lifted.

What about U. S. relations with Japan? Scrap metal from us to help martyr Chinese patriots—but above the opposition of most of the people in this country.

The result of this consistent appeasement was the revolting growth of the most reactionary power on earth to the point at which that power stabbed us in the back, with the very knife that was our own gift.

Why did apparently intelligent leaders of our national life follow this obviously suicidal policy? What motivated this elaborate kow-towing to the black tide of aggression?

FEAR of the Soviet Union in high quarters. This fear expressed itself in the effort to build up a strong bumper state— a state which might someday consume both itself and Russia in a bloody war, allowing the most reactionary sections of the American and British ruling class to take over when the smoke of battle cleared. Yes. That was the cold, damnable plot. It was created by men who refused to recognize that Adolph Hitler's fascism was not designed to accomodate U.S.-British high politics, it was and is a neat plan aimed at the enslavement of the world for the benefit ofGerman Fascists and whatever honorary Aryans that might be useful in moulding and policing this empire.

The very depth of stupidity and treachery was found at Munich, when Chamberlain and Deladier handed over the Czech nation as a sop to German expansion and openly plotted with Hitler against their countries' natural ally, the Soviet Union.

THIS is what Munich means: cooperation with fascism with the hope that it will destroy socialism. This is the policy whose brutal fallacy has cost the lives and the liberties of people all over this world. It has been a policy, however, consistently opposed by the vast majority of common people in both England and America.

Today we are engaged in the unavoidable war against fascism. We are allied now with all the freedom-loving people on earth. THESE VERY FACTS are the negation of our foreign policy for the last ten years. This is a battle for survival of liberty and decency. It can only be won through making this liberty available to all who fight in its cause. This is the message of President Roosevelt. It is the message of Wendell Willkie.

Very well. But our first job is to win the war! A policy of joint offensive action has been established in the second front agreements. That policy is still on paper! In effect, then, we are veering dangerously close to the position of the Munichmen—we are to date standing by while Russia alone resists the full weight of fascist aggression. We pause and hesitate and make up stories about shipping shortages when there are enough ships to take a half million men to North Africa and a cool million to India! Why is this happening? It is happening because the pro-fascist men of Munich still stupidly imagine that the Nazi beast will be satisfied with Russia alone, or, worse yet, are looking forward to a wholly fascist world economy,—these Munícheers move heaven and earth to prevent the realization of a real unity between the anti-fascist nations and a complete defeat of Hitler. The second front would effect both these hated eventualitites. So the fascist press and the fascist men in office and the little squirming stooges of the big shots launch a campaign of lies about the second front. Who are they? Hoover and Hearst, —their pet and joy, Earl Warren—Talmadge, Dixon, Rankin, Dies, Roy Howard—the whole diabolical machinery of corruption. The guardians of white supremacy, the traitors of Meridian, Miss. It is sheer political opposition. And the people have a right to demand how their leaders should conduct a people's war.

End of the Poll Tax--A Job for You and Me

Bitterest fighting in the long, battle-scarred fight for passage of the Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill lies directly ahead. The enemies of this great democratic reform, which aims at extending democracy to ten million disfranchised American citizens, have been pursued to their last stronghold, the United States Senate. It is precisely here that their power is strongest. But an American Senate must still obey the clearly enunciated will of the American people—as witness the magnificent grass-roots support which the President's recent threat to supercede Congressional delay in the enactment of anti-inflation legislation obtained. Our job in California is to make certain that the two Senators from this state not only vote for the Geyer bill but actively urge its support by other Senators and join wholeheartedly in the great progressive struggle which surrounds the bill.

Mobilized for action at a meeting in the offices of the Californa EAGLE last nite were the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the National Negro Congress, the CIO Anti-Discrimination Committee, The Negro Victory Committee. With the endorsement and suport of Mayor Fletcher Bowron and of a city-wide anti-poll tax group headed by Supervisor John Anson Ford, a mass meeting has been set for Sunday afternoon at Second Baptist church. As main speaker, fiery Florida Senator Claude Pepper is virtually assured. It is believed that the gathering will rank as the biggest, most significant in the history of the local Negro community.

Other important MUST phases of the city's pressure drive is the securing of telegrams to Senators Hiram Johnson and Sheridan Downey from EVERY church, club, civic body, and social organization in town.

The need for bringing every section of Los Angeles into the fight has been recognized by our splendid Mayor, by the CIO by Supervisor Ford, by the Jewish Community Center, by scores of unions and liberal bodies. But the major weight of the drive rests squarely upon the shoulders of the city's Negro population. Although we are only four million of the ten million disfranchised by the tax, it is a fact that the poll tax and the vicious system of exploitation for which it fronts is the biggest boulder in the way of the progress of all—no matter where we live in this country—no matter what OUR rights of franchise may be.

FATHER RIKER —A JOB FOR EARL WARREN!

If any further proof were necessary to prove that Attorney General Earl Warren is a friend if not the leading spokesman of pro-Fascist anti-Negro elements in California, it was obtained last week when the U. S. Army was forced to remove several known Fascists from the San Francisco military area. Such removals are Earl Warren's job. But the Army had to take over. Why? Warren was too busy operating as the evil genius behind the Festus Coleman injustice, too busy jailing Labor leaders.

Another thing that has succeeded in failing to attract the Attorney General's' attention is the treasonable anti-Negro propaganda of Father Riker of Holy City, California. Not only did the Attorney General ignore protests of Negro citizens against Riker but he permitted his name to appear on the primary ballot as Republican candidate for governor!

★ SPREADING JOY

By JOHN FOWLER

The sad news of the passing of Mrs. Annie Wright-Hogan in Oakland last week was a distinct shock to her many friends here. I find it very hard for me to realize that Annie Hogan, whom I have known for so many years, has gone to a higher plane, there to await our coming.

Mrs. Hogan was the wife of Ed Hogan, the mother of popular Roger Hogan of Los Angeles, and the daughter of my lifelong friend, the late Aaron Wright, Oakland, like Los Angeles, will long cherish the memory of Mrs. Hogan; they will remember her friendly smile that was like a ray of sunshine wherever she went. My heart goes out to her husband; to Roger, her son; and to her two brothers here in Los Angeles.

MRS. M. E. BAKER

Death came as sweet release to the soul of Mrs. M. E. Baker, the widow of the famous pioneer Baker of early Los Angeles. I wrote a tribute to Mrs. Baker which she could read and hear some months ago. I shall now devote myself to the very pleasant task of paying a tribute to two people whom I think have proven themselves the most dutiful daughters I've ever had the joy of observing.

Both Irene and Ruth, for the 11 long years that Mrs. Baker was bed-ridden, were at or near her side every hour of the day and night. Surely God has some choice blessing in store for these two daughters who loved their mother so much that her every whim was granted lovingly and tenderly.

MRS. VIVIAN MARSH IN THE CITY

I see where the charming Vivian Marsh is in the city. I consider Mrs. Marsh one of our most progressive women, one of the very leaders capable of taking the places of such distinguished leaders of yesteryear as Mrs. Tobe Williams, Mrs. Dr. Hart, and Mrs. Hettie Tilghman. Welcome to our city, Mrs. Vivian Marsh.

PASADENA'S NEEDLEWORK EXHIBIT

Last Sunday afternoon the smart set of Los Angeles and Pasadena turned out en masse to rave over the handiwork of the ladies of the Self Improvement Art and Social club of Pasadena. The palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. George Crowder, 153 Pepper street, was the scene of the annual art and needlework exhibit of the popular matrons' club.

The first prize, a silver loving cup, was awarded to Mrs. Zenobia Clark for her entry of a needle point chair and a hand crocheted rug. The second prize went to Mrs. Freda Filer for a dainty hand knit sweater. Mrs. Eva Galloway of Los Angeles, and Zuna Austin were given special mention for their efforts.

Delicious refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Nannie Wellbourne, the club president.

CAPTAIN E. L. GAINES

While in Pasadena we called on our old friend, Captain E. L. Gaines, one of the old Romans, a grand old man. Captain Gaines is one of the best known of our national leaders. He traveled the width and breadth of this country time and again in the interest of the Garvey movement. His whole life has been devoted to the task of making this world a better place in which to live. He was at his zenith as the commander of the Black Legions of the Garvey movement.

I remember the thrilling scenes he created in old Liberty Hall in New York City as he stood at attention with his unsheathed sword while the fast-stepping legions marched by looking "eyes right" to the martial music of Captain Lysces. Here is a prayer and a hearty wish for the speedy recovery of grand old soldier of the cross.

This week, the Old Sweethearts Parade is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Prince of Pasadena.

★ POST OFFICE FACTS & FIGURES

Organizing is often an ungrateful job and yet it has its compensation. I have never been able to figure out why people for whom you are fighting will attack you. Only the implicit faith that our loyal friends have placed in us has given us the courage to carry on. Let me publicly thank these staunch allies who have brightened our darkest hours. We ask your continued support.

Every field of endeavor has its obstructionists, opportunists, and appeasers. The post office department is no exception.

To the obstructionist we say, "As you sow, so shall you reap."

To the opportunist we add, "What profiteth a man that he gain the world only to lose his soul."

To the appeasers we say, "Appeasement never won a battle. (Ask Chamberlain). It only gives the other fellow time to find a bigger stick to crack your thick skull.

Any man who is not man enough to speak in his own behalf is not worthy of consideration.

If you are not for labor, then you must be considered against it and therefore, a common enemy to labor.

We are proud to announce that John Rencher, of the M. V. Division, is a blood donor and a 10 per cent man.

Clifford Busch, formerly of the Terminal, is now a construction forman. Ninety bucks a week is not hard to take Cliff.

Karl Kimbrough, A. L. Ward, Stanley Watkins, Roy Kinney, and Dunn are all singing, "How Long, Uncle, How Long?"

Elevator operator Lewis has been voted to be the most accommodating operator at the Terminal.

Operator Boyd joined the force on the 17th of October. Best of luck to you, pal.

Albert (Lover) Hill has transferred to the Mare Island Navy Yard; that monzuma was too good to resist. We will miss you in front of the Dunbar, A. B.

Hats off to Jesse Robinson and the Postal Alliance; we have a mixed crew at the P. O. Cafeteria at last.

A PARTING THOUGHT

A satisfied man has little ambition. We have many satisfied men in the Post Office Department. Am I right?

A SUGGESTION

Asks Second Front Now

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Considering the immediate opening of a Second Front in Europe the most decisive factor for victory, and in view of the perilous military situation resulting from the failure to open this Second Front, the Young Communist league, at an enlarged meeting of its national board here early this month, decided to carry through a series of 100 emergency meetings throughout the country within the next few weeks to clarify the issues involved in the immediate opening of the Second Front and to mobilize the youth against the defeatists and appeasers in order to strengthen the hand of President Roosevelt in the fight to open the Second Front now.

In order to make its own maximum contribution to the strengthening of every phase of our country's war effort, and by its example to stimulate the widest sections of youth to more complete participation in serving the country's war needs, the Young Communist league has decided upon the following objectives to be achieved before Jan. 1:

5000 gift packages to be sent to the boys in the armed services; 75% of its membership in war industries; purchasing of a minimum of $100,000 worth of war bonds and stamps in the next three months; donation of 2500 pints of blood by the end of the year; collection of 400,000 pounds of scrap metal; and a minimum of $5000 for Russian War Relief.

In adopting this plan for the maximum development of its war service activities, the national board reaffirmed its pledge of full support to the commander-in-chief for victory for the country and the United Nations in th war against the Fascist Axis.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Alden W. Prudhomme, scholar, musician and gentleman, who passed this life on Oct. 25, 1940.

Nancy Butler, mother;

On the cold gray stones, O sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O, well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O, well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But, O, for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

At the foot of thy crags, O sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.
—ALFRED TENNYSON.

★ WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

KNOW-IT-ALLS

When Axis radios and newspapers begin announcing military plans of the United Nations, it can be assumed the enemy is fishing for information. Today Germany and the Nazi-controlled Paris press are beating drums of alarm over an "imminent Allied attack on Dakar and a large-scale invasion against the coast of Normandy." It is a small sorrow that either event would inflict on the people of France. Germany's cries of indignation are more likely calculated to elicit a denial, or to give herself the appearance of having omniscient knowledge, knowing very well the Allies will refuse to answer. The Nazi psychological attack is beginning to lose the razzle-dazzle with which it once benumbed an unsuspecting world. The old divide-and-rule trickery is all too evident when Germany today jeers Russia on the failure of her Allies to open a second front and, at the same time, taunts Britain with giving in to Soviet pressure for a second front. The United Nations have united to conquer, not to be split asunder by jibes, jeers and rumor-mongering from an uneasy enemy.

VOTES WITHOUT FEES

Those who, in pre-Pearl Harbor days, argued that we should first institute reforms at home before concerning ourselves elsewhere, are finding that war is not incompatible with such reform. The House of Representatives, in passing a bill outlawing the poll tax, has taken a long delayed step toward ending the tribute which 8 southern states continue to exact from millions of citizens for the privilege of voting. The aim of this discriminatory tax, of course, is not revenue but to keep a large bloc of citizens permanently disenfranchised. These voteless Americans have all the responsibilities of the enfranchised, but none of the privileges guaranteed by the Constitution and deviously evaded by a handful of states. The high aims of the Atlantic Charter will sound more convincingly in the far corners of the earth for having been applied within our own borders.

BATTLE FOR PRODUCTION

A determined struggle in the House is forecast to achieve a wider distribution of war contracts among smaller manufacturers. As a leader of the battle forces put it, "We mean this as a threat. If we don't get action, we are going to take drastic steps." It is noteworthy that Britain has enrolled her small enterprisers in war production on a large scale, but it must be remembered that Britain has been at war three years, that the disaster at Dunkerque, as much as anything, awoke her to the necessity of employing every available resource to stave off the peril of invasion. Here in the United States, big industries have carried the initial load because they alone were equipped to go into action on our war production without dlay. Nevertheless, California can testify the small manufacturer is coming into his own here to an ever greater extent. There is no denying that access to financial help and to many special types of banking lo and serv.ces, are available to California's small manufacturer on a scale far beyond other states. The progressive branch banking system that has introduced these services and brought metropolitan banking facilities to the humblest Main St. in the state, has geared an army of small enterprisers for war production. Its aid has brought about in California the conversion of plants from the manufacture of calculating machines to shells and fuses; from printing to fuse adapters; from race track totalizer boards to precision instruments, and scores of other transformations. Given such opportunity and aid, many small manufacturers are doing a big job for war production, hence the hope of House members to extend him that aid and opportunity on a national scale.

BALKAN BOILING POT

Europe's traditional "boiling pot," the Balkans, has lost none of its tempestuous nature even under Nazi dominion. Serbs and Croats continue to wage ruthless guerilla warfare against both Italian and German forces. In the past month, Croats have derailed nearly 50 trains in Croatia, showing how the Balkan boiling pot keeps the foe in perpetual hot water.

YESTERDAY'S VOICE

Just one year ago, a sublimely confident Hitler declared, "I must admit we were mistaken about one thing. We had not the slightest idea how gigantic had been this adversary's preparations. I am admitting it on today (Oct. 1941) because this enemy, Russia, already lies broken and cannot rise again." The evidence indicates Hitler continues to be mistaken.

★ LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The White House
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

It is with a great deal of sorrow that the Los Angeles Industrial Union Council is compelled to call your attenttion to what is undoubtedly flagrant anti-union activity on the part of Mrs. Mary D. Briggs, postmistress of Los Angeles.

I say this is an unhappy chore, because the CIO stands for the progressive right of women to hold important positions and to take their place in all walks of life. It is, therefore, particularly unfortunate that Mrs. Briggs, an outstanding woman official, has seen fit to pursue the extremely unfriendly course toward labor that she has done.

This council, representing more than 100,000 CIO workers in the Los Angeles area, has in its files repeated protests, not only from the United Federal Workers, a CIO union represented in the post office, but from officers and leading members of various American Federation of Labor unions at the Post Office, as well. All of these complain about the dictatorial, high-handed, overbearing, and highly unjustified actions of Mrs. Briggs against the working men and women in the Post Office.

Our files show that this is not a new condition, but one which has continued over several years. We submit that a record of anti-labor activity, such as that achieved by Mrs. Briggs, cannot be an accident but logically must be considered as studied and intentional.

Therefore, at the request—not only of officers and members of the United Federal Workers—but of leading officials of AFL unions in the Post Office as well, the Los Angeles Industrial Union Council has voted to respectfully request that you do not reappoint Mrs. Mary Briggs as postmistress in Los Angeles.

May we further suggest that, in light of the many and varied charges of anti-labor and anti-union bias made against Mrs. Briggs, you cause to be sent to Los Angeles an impartial investigator to probe into these allegations and to provide for you independent information upon this situation, which, I assure you, is growing more serious as the days go by.

It is most distasteful to this council to have to protest against the activities of any public official, but it is the considered judgment of the executive board and the delegates that this protest is most definitely required.

Most respectfully submitted,
(Signed)
PHILIP M. CONNELLY,
Secretary, Los Angeles Industrial Union Council, CIO.

This is the answer to the above:
Mr. Philip M. Connelly
Secretary
Los Angeles Industrial Union Council
Los Angeles, California
My dear Mr. Connelly:

Your letter of September 28, 1942, addressed to the President and written in opposition to the reappointment of Mrs. Mary D. Briggs as postmaster at Los Angeles, has been referred to this department for reply.

I have noted very carefully what you say with reference to Mrs. Briggs, and you may be sure the letter will be placed on file for proper reference when final action is taken.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed)
AMBROSE O'CONNELL
First Assistant Postmaster General.

★ MASONIC NEWS

By EDGAR HAMPTON

Attorney George R. Vaughns of Oakland, grand master of Masons of the State of California and its jurisdiction, F&AM, made a grand visitation with the grand trustee board in Los Angeles recently.

The members of the trustee board are M. Earl Grant, Pasadena, chairman; A. F. Pierson, Oakland, secretary; Roy Treece, Oakland; R. Godfrey Gray, Los Angeles; S. O. Sheffield, Fresno; Lillard G. Dandridge, Los Angeles, grand secretary; C. L. Taylor, Los Angeles, grand auditor; and John B. Frierson, Los Angeles, grand treasurer.

Among the highlights of the meeting was an appropriation of $1400 for Defense Bonds, the purchase of complete motion picture equipment to be used for the education and entertainment of the jurisdiction, and the erection of a Masonic Temple in Tulare to be used also as a recreational center for those thousands of people in the San Joaquin valley who have no place to go.

Free Masony, that is, the Masonic institution, is perhaps the oldest fraternal order in existence. Its roots go back to the beginning of time. Its rites are drived from a myriad of sources, from primitive initiation ceremonies, and perhaps, even, from pagan cults. Its right to carry on was further exemplified by the very fine work of this grand body of California. We, of this jurisdiction, are proud of our Grand Lodge representatives, for they are doing things the American way. The generations that will follow will be able to point with pride to the work that is being done by these Negro Americans. During these perilous times, the Masons of the entire world are at work doing whatever they can for their fellowman.

Most London lodges now have their meetings at mid-day to avoid the difficulties of the blackout. Due to the fact that most younger Masons are either in the service or too busy to attend day meetings, the bulk of the work to carry on the craft has fallen on the shoulders of older members.

British Masons have found the craft a constant source of inspiration during the dark days of war, and have made every effort

"NATIVE SON" ★

From the book by

He heard footsteps on the stairs. The siren died and began again, on a high, shrill note this time. It made him want to clutch at his throat; as long as it sounded it seemed that he could not breathe. He had to get to the roof! He switched on the flashlight and crawled through a narrow loft till he came to an opening. He put his shoulded to it and heaved; it gave so suddenly and easily that he drew back in fear. He thought that someone had snatched it open from above and in the same instant of its opening he saw an expanse of gleaming white snow against the dark smudge of night and a stretch of luminous sky. A medley of crashing sounds came, louder than he had thought that sound could be: horns, sirens screams. There was hunger in those sounds as they crashed over the roof-tops and chimneys; but under it, low and distinct, he heard voices of fear: curses of men and cries of chilren.

Yes, they are looking for him in every building and on every floor and in every room. They wanted him. His eyes jerked upward as a huge sharp beam of yellow light shot into the sky. Another came, crossing it like a knife. Then another. Soon the sky was full of them. They circled slowly, hemming himin; bars of light forming a prison, a wall between him and the rest of the world, bars weaving a shifting wall of light into which he dared not go. He was in the midst of it now; This was what he had been running from ever since that night Mrs. Dalton had come into the room and had charked him with such fear that his hands had gripped the pillow with fingers of steel and had cut off the air from Mary's lungs.

Below him was a loud, heavy pounding, like a far-away rumble of thunder. He had to get to the roof; he struggled upward then fell flat, in deep soft snow, his eyes rivetting upon a white man across the street upon another roof. Bigger watched the man whirl the beam of a flashlight. Would the man look in his direction? Could the beam of a flashlight make him visible from where the man was" He watched the man walk round awhile and then disappear.

Quickly, he rose and shut the trapdoor. To leave it open would andcreate suspicion. Then he fell flat again, listening. There was the sound of many running feet below him. It seemed that an army was thundering up the stairs. There was nowhere he could run to; either they caught him or they did not. The thundering grew louder and he knew that the men were nearing the top floor. He lifted his eyes and looked in all directions, watching roofs to the left and right of him. He did not want to be surprised by some one creeping upon him from behind. He saw that the roof to his right was not joined to the one upon which he lay; that meant that no one could steal upon him from that direction. The one to his left was joined to the roof of the building upon which he lay, making it one long, icy, runway. He lifted his head and looked; there were other roofs joined, too. He could run over these roofs, over the snow and round thase chimneys until he came to the building that dropped to the ground. Then that would be all. Would he jump off and kill himself? He did not know. He had an almost mystic feeling that if he were ever cornered something in him would prompt him to act the right way, the right way being the way that would enable him to die without shame.

He heard a noise close by; he looked round just in time to see a white face, a head, then shoulders pull into view upon the roof to the hight of him. A man stood up, cut sharply against the background of roving yellow lights. He watched the man twirl a pencil of light over the snow. Bigger raised his gun and trained it upon the man and waited; if the light reached him, he would shoot. What would he do afterwards? He did not know. But the yellow spot never reached him. He watched the man go down, feet first, then shoulders and head; he was gone.

He relaxed a bit; at least the roof to his right was safe now. He waited to hear sounds that would tell him that someone was climbing up through the trap door. The rumbling below him rose in volume with the passing seconds, but he could not tell if the men were coming closer or receding. He waited and held his gun. Above his head the sky stretched in a cold, dark blue oval, cupping the city like an iron palm covered with silk. The wind blew, hard, icy, without ceasing. It seemed to him that he had already frozen, that pieces coul be broken off him as one chiped bits from a cake of ice. In order to know that he still had the gun in his hand he had to look at it, for his hand no longer had to look at it, for his hand no longer had any feeling.

Then he was stiff with fear. There were pounding feet right below him. They were on the top floor now. Ought he to run to the roof to his left? But he had seen no one search that roof; if he ran he might come face to face with someone coming up out of another trapdoor. He looked around, thinking that maybe someone was creeping upon him; but there was nobody. The sound of feet came louder. He put his ear to the naked ice and listened. Yes; they were walking about in the hallway; there were several of them directly under him, near the trapdoor. He looked again to the roof on his left, wanting to run to it and hide; but was afraid. Were they coming up? He listened; but there were so many voices he could not make out the words. He did not want them to surprise him. Whatever happened, he wanted to go down looking into the faces of those who would kill him. Finally, under the terror-song of the siren, the voices came so close that he could hear words clearly.

"God, but I'm tired."

"I'm cold."

"I believe we're just wasting time."

"Say, Jerry! You going to the roof this time?"

"Yeah, I'll go."

"That nigegr might be in New York by now."

"Yeah. But we better look."

"Say, did you see that brown gal in there?"

"The one that didn't have much on??"

"Yeah."

"Boy, she was a peach, wasn't she?"

"Yeah, I wonder what on earth a nigger wants to kill a white woman for when he has such good-looking women in his own race. . . . ."

"Boy, if she'd let me stay here I'd give up this g— hunt."

"Come on. Give a lift. You'd better hold this ladder. It seems rickety."

"O. K."

"Hurry up. Here comes the captain."

Bigger was set. Then he was not set. He clung to a chimney that stood a foot from the trapdoor. Ought he to stay flat or stand up" He stood up, pushing against the chimney, trying to merge with it. He held the gun and waited. Was the man coming up? He looked to the roof to his left; it was still empty. But if he ran to it he might meet someone. He heard footsteps in the passage of the loft. Yes; the man was coming. He waited for the trapdoor to open. He held the gun tightly; he wondered if it was holding it too tightly, so tightly that it would go of before he wanted it to. His fingers were so cold that he could no tell how much pressure he wa, putting behind the trigger. Then, like a shooting star streaking across a black sky, the fearful thought came to him that maybe his fingers were frozen so stiff that he could not pull the trigger. Quickly, he felt his right hand with his left, but even that did not tell him anything. His right hand was so coud that all he felt was one cold piece of flesh touching another. He had to wait and see. He had to have faith. He had to trust himself; that was all.

The trapdoor opened, slightly at firsta, then wide. He watched it, his mouth wide open, staring though the blur of tears which the cold wind had whipped into his eyes. The door came all the way open, cutting off his view for a moment, then it fell back softly upon the snow. He saw the bare head of a white man—the back of the head—framed in the narrow opening, stenciled against the yellow of the restles bars light. Then the head turned slightly and Bigger saw the side of a white face. He watched the man, moving like a figure on the screen in close-up slow motion, come out of the hole and stand with his back to him, flashlight in hand. The idea took hold swiftly. Hit him. Hit him! In the head. Whether it would help or not, he did not know and it did not matter. He had to hit this man before he turned that spot of yellow on him and then yelled for the others. In the split second that he saw the man's head, it seemed that an hour passed, an hour filled with pain and doubt and anguish and suspense, filled with the sharp throb of life lived upon a needle-point. He lifted his left hand, caught the gun which he held in his right, took it into the fingers of his left hand —turned it round, caught it again in his right and held it by the barrel; a lone motion, swift, silent; done in one breath with eyes staring unblinkingly.

Red Cross Post to Social Worker

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Miss Thelma Hawes, widely known Negro medical social worker from the Chicago Welfare administration, has been assigned as assistant Red Cross field director in charge of Red Cross hospital activities at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., A. L. Schafer, Pacific Area manager, said here.

Miss Hawes, who for the past two years has been supervising medical social worker for the Chicago Welfare administration, is the first Negro to be named to a Red Cross administrative post in the West.

The Red Cross previously assigned two other Negroes, Miss Lenore Cox and Miss Elizabeth Green, to the Fort Huachuca station hospital as recreational workers. They will work under the supervision of Miss Hawes.

A graduate of the University of Indiana and the University of Chicago school of social work, Miss Hawes began her social work career with the Provident hospital in Chicago in 1933 as a medical social worker. She has spent the past six years with the Chicago Welfare administration.

As assistant field director at Fort Huachuca, Miss Hawes will supervise the comprehensive Red Cross social welfare and recreational program being conducted in conjunction with the arm for hospitalized Negro soldiers. This program includes counsel and assistance to men in solving their personal or family problems, financial assistance to soldiers going home on convalescent furlough and guidance in convalescent recreation. The Red Cross staffs and maintains a fully equipped recreational building at the all-Negro military post, providing all recreational facilities, including movies, free to the soldiers.

Miss Hawes, whose home is in Bloomington, Indiana, is a member of the American Association of Medical Social Workers and belongs to the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority of the University of Chicago.

Renew Fight to Control TB Disease

To meet the rise in tuberculosis deaths resulting from war conditions, a renewed emphasis must be laid upon special problems in the fight to control and eventually eradicate the disease, according to a bulletin issued today by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association "A high tuberculosis mortality among people of the Spanish speaking races is one of the major problems confronting the anti-tuberculosis movement", the statement said.

The statement from the association is based on results of a case finding survey, recently completed, of a Mexican group in which three and one-half percent of those examined were found to have active, advanced disease. Of a total of 1,745 persons given the tuberculin test, 42 per cent had positive reactions indicating the presence of tuberculosis germs. Chest X-rays of each reactor revealed the three and one-half per cent with active tuberculosis and another 17 per cent with evidence suggestive of this disease, the report showed.

Recognizing the problem as one demanding prompt and intelligent action, the National Tuberculosis Association has appointed an advisory committee to study and recommend control measures to reduce the high death rate among Spanish speaking people. James G. Stone, Executive Secretary, Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Associatio has been named a member of this committee.

posium scheduled to take place in the south hall of the Embassy auditorium Sunday, Oct. 25, at 3 p. m.

Miss Anita Whitney and La Rue McCormick, Communist candidates, have also accepted invitations to appear.

Eastside Mothers Club Begins Settlement House Program Here

After 12 years of successful service to the unemployed and needy women and girls of the city, the Eastside Mothers club, Sept. 1, entered the field of group work and began the first Settlement House program for Negroes in Los Angeles.

The previous housing program of the Eastside Mothers club has been taken over by the YWCA.

Recognizing that war conditions present a challenge to the community and that community programs are an excellent medium through which civilian morale can be developed, strengthened and maintained, the Community Welfare Federation has designated the Eastside Mothers club as the agency to carry on such a program.

The objectives of the program are to encourage self-direction through the democratic way of life; to build morale and offer opportunities for group and individual partiei-pation in various types of activities; to help young people in determining their future social and economic adjustments; and to interpret group work to the community.

With these objectives, the club has arranged the following tentative schedule of activities in which all interested groups and individuals are invited to participate:

Adult Classes—Thursday, 10-12. Remodeling garments, etc; 1:30-4. Sewing, Knitting, Miscellaneous. Friday, 10-12. Red Cross Piece quilting project. 1:30-3. Nutrition for War Needs.

Children's Classes—Monday, 10-12. Story Hour, Pro-School; 2-3:30. Weaving, games and miscellaneous. 3:30-5:30. Crochet, Miscellaneous. Tuesday, 10-12. Photo tinting, Miscellaneous; 2-3. Weaving, games, Miscellaneous. 3:30-5:30. Sewing, Home Arts. Wednesday, 10-12. Story Hour—Pre-School, 2-3:30. Weaving, games, Miscellaneous. Friday, 10-12. Story hour, Pre-School; 2-3:30. Handicraft, Miscellaneous; 3:30-5:30. Dramatics. Saturday, 10-12. Playground activities; 10-12. Handcraft, games, recreation; 10-12, Athletic games; 1:30-4. Domestic Science.

This program will be under the efficient leadership of Mrs Nettie B. Reese, who has guided the destiny of the organization for many years, and Miss Lucile Mitchell, group worker.

Kappa Alpha Psi Heads Call Off Grand Session

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—Carl R. Johnson, grand polemarch of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, announced today the cancellation of the annual grand chapter session of the fraternity which was scheduled to be held in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 27-30.

Johnson stated that the heavy drain on fraternity personnel by the armed forces and the great demand for unlimited support of the war effort have been accepted by the Kappa national board of directors as sufficient reason to cancel the annual meeting.

The administration of the fraternity's vast national program will be carried on by its national board which will convene in a special business session in the city of Chicago, Dec. 11-12. The chairmen of key commissions and a representative from each of its 12 provinces throughout the country will attend the Chicago board meeting. Following the meeting the fraternity's program for the duration of the emergency will be announced to its members.

T. A. Briggs Gets War Job

SAINT AUGUSTINE, Fla., Oct. 22.—T. A. Briggs, formerly professor of industrial education at Florida A&M college, has been appointed supervisor of instruction of the Vocational School of War Production Workers at Florida Normal and Industrial Institute, Saint Augustine, Fla.

Briggs, who is a graduate of Michigan university where he received the master of arts degree in industrial education, is in charge of the supervision of instruction of 40 men teaching in both the war production program and teachers of radio connected with the United States Signal Corps located at Florida Normal.

T. Arnold Hill Appointed to OPA

Acting to bring the nation's 13 million Negro consumers into a closer working arrangement with the price control and rationing programs of war-time America, the Office of Price Administration today announced appointment of T. Arnold Hill, well known Negro leader and former assistant director of the division of Negro affairs of the National Youth Administration.

Hill will act as special assistant to the senior deputy administrator, John E. Hamm. While he will be concerned with the entire OPA program, Hill's immediate assignment is the problem of rent control and its relation to the Negro tenant, who for many years has been the classic victim of the combination of poor housing and high rents.

The impact of war industries and military establishments on cities already faced with housing shortages and the attendant scramble for all available housing has enormously increased the housing problem of the Negro.

Hill was born in Richmond, Va., and graduated from Virginia Union university which made him an honorary doctor of laws in 1939. He has been on the staff of both the national and Chicago Urban leagues. From 1938 to 1940 he was consultant with the Works Progress Administration in Washington. He has been a member of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection and the President's Emergency Committee on Employment. He is now a member of the board of directors of the Council of Inter-State Migration and since 1938 has been a member of of the New York State Board of Social Welfare.

A frequent contributor to the Negro press, Hill is author of "The Negro and Economic Reconstruction," and co-author of "Occupational Opportunities for Negroes."

Women Urged to Vote in Nov. Elections

WASHINGTON, Oct. —Officers of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority's Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs, here, have sent out a nation-wide call for a record registration of women at the polls in the coming elections.

The organization calls attention to the unusual significance of the feminine vote with millions of men under arms and out of touch with local politics, and with questions vital to the welfare of the Negro minority constantly coming up before local and national legislative bodies.

Women are urged to keep in close touch with local developments affecting Negroes, and reports to the Washington office show that scores are taking the lead in studying in their gatherings all pending legislation and the record of all candidates soliciting support.

The women are also urged to take stock of Negro needs in local, district and state areas, and in cooperating with other organizations wherever possible, to make support of legislation which meets these needs the price of their vote.

Olson Hits Gold Mine Shutdowns

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22.—Gov. Culbert L. Olson, in a telegram addressed to Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, Wm. E. Batt of the same agency and Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission, appealed from a recent decision to shut down California's gold mines.

Pointing out that complete abandonment of the mines would result in flooding, deterioration and consequent loss Olson urged that, in the event of a shutdown, mine operators be granted a moratorium covering contractual obligations such as bonds, lease contracts, royalties and bank loans.

The Gov.'s Telegram said in part:

"I do hope you can and will avoid direct suspension of gold mining. I believe that the extremely few men who could thus be made available for copper or other war mining cannot possibly justify the inevitable injury to our gold country communities.

"Already practically all men capable of bearing arms or war industry work have left the gold mines. As a consequence, they are operating at a mere fraction of capacity, and practically all miners remaining are too old or too settled by long residence and property ownership to be shifted to other types of mining unless possibly in our own nearby copper and tungsten country, for development of which we have repeatedly asked your help.

1ST WEEKLY NEWSREEL ON RACE SET OCT. 30

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Probably the most significant motion picture news item for Negroes of America since the invention of the motion picture camera is the announcement this week of the release on Oct. 30 of the first weekly newsreel of All-American News.

All-American News will record each week the news of Negroes throughout America and will be presented in theatres throughout the nation exactly like the pictures of the several national news reel organizations now providing the motion picture public with prompt pictures of all important news events.

All-American News will be released on a basis that will make it available to every theatre in America which wishes to present it to its patrons. Ask the manager of your neighborhood theatre now if he has made arrangements to show this news feature and when the first issue will be shown at your theatre.

Preparations for the production of the newsreel dealing exclusively with Negro events and affairs has been in progress for several months and last week a sample release was exhibited to leading motion picture exhibitors in New York and Chicago and to high government officials at Washington, D. C.

MARCH OF FREEDOM

The War and Navy departments and the Office of War Information have given enthusiastic support to the Negro newsreel, and have cleared the way to insure adequate supplies of films under wartime priority regulations and have guaranteed full cooperation of all governmental departments.

An outstanding feature of the All-American newsreel is the March of Freedom section which will record each week the activities of Negro men and women in the service of their country throughout America and the world. All-American cameramen will cover every Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard camp where Negroes are training, the WAACs, the Red Cross, and the various defense activities of Negro men and women. The official Army and Navy photographers who make all the motion pictures of American fighters outside the United States have been instructed to cover especially the activities of Negroes in overseas service and their pictures will be included in the March of Freedom.

All-American also will cover all [illegible] affecting Negroes throughout America. The company has offices in Chicago, New York and Washington, and camera representatives in 30 cities throughout America from Portland, Me. to Los Angeles and from Seattle to Miami.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Full coverage of Negro sports will be provided. During the Autumn actual pictures of the big football games of the leading Negro universities will be presented.

Women's interests will be fully covered with weekly releases on fashions in clothing, hats, furs, makeup, etc., as well as home economics features. A special corps of Negro announcers will describe all the pictures shown by All-American.

All-American is cooperating fully wtih the American Negro press. A weekly feature is the All-American interview in which a leading representative of one of the Negro papers of America interviews an outstanding American, Negro or white, on questions of vital importance to his people.

BEN CARTER STILL BUSY AS AGENT

In spite of the fact that Fox studio has kept him busy in a "Dorie Miller" role in "Crash Dive" for two months, Ben Carter, famous movie star, has managed to continue his business as actor's agent.

In "Happy Go Lucky," which just finished at Paramount, Carter placed Tomago Williams, of England; Caleb Peterson, new radio singing sensation; Freddie Clarke, comedian; the Dreamers quartet, and Woodrow Strode, who played the part of chauffeur to "Rochester." Carter filled the role of Joe, the boatman. As soon as "Happy Go Lucky" was finished, he placed the Ben Carter choir of 24 voices in Columbia's "A Daring Young Man" starring Joe E. Brown.

MARIE DICKERSON, IN HAWAII FOR DURATION, WRITES

(Just missing the convoy on which Thelma Porter, well known entertainer, and her mother recently returned, Marie Dickerson, famous actress-aviatrix, wrote the following letter to the theatrical editor. Full of news, it tells of life in the islands since Pearl Harbor—which she witnessed.)

Dear Harry,

Don't be surprised, because I have longed to write you, but didn't know how to get in touch with you until I saw your column in the Eagle. Gee, it is good to read your jive. It looks as though I will be here for the duration. I was booked for the last convoy to leave the island, but I was one of the featured performers on the Army relief show and was asked by the committee to remain in the islands to help out with the entertainment, so here I am working on all of the U. S. O. shows and private road shows at nite. I keep very busy. Since it is considered war work, I am essential.

The presence of Negro soldiers and officers on the streets of Honolulu makes me feel very proud to be one of the race. This regiment boasts several bandsmen who formerly were musicians with the Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway organizations.

Julius Delifiac of the two Jacks bar has sold out and returned to the mainland. Two Jacks is one that reminds me of L. A. Only there is a shortage of women. Colored and white sailors drink side by side in the bars here in Honolulu. Everyone gets along as one big happy family. As you know the population of the island is cosmopolitan.

Archie Grant, who returned to Honolulu a year ago from Japan with his two young sons is still wowing 'em with his black-face joke. Archie had been in Japan for twelve years prior to the outbreak of the war. Bud Joyner, another black face comedian who works with Archie is knocking out the army force with his chick-Mushy Robinson are still tops Mushy Robinson are stilll tops when it comes to picking 'em up and laying them down.

Dickie Walker and his adorable dusky island maidens work six days a week with the U. S. O.

Well, Harry, I guess you know about as much as I do about the island now. Of course, if I had the time I could write all night telling about the changes we have undergone since December 7.

So, I'll say Aloha—

MARIE DICKERSON

P. S. The reason I put my name at the top of the letter so you wouldn't be so very shocked. Oh, yes, I forgot to tell you: We only can buy one quart of whiskey a week. It is rationed. "Smile."

If you wish, you may use some of the jive for the column. May like to read it.

Armstrong Puts Over the Old Convincer

This column sat stunned, disbelieving. There was Juan Zurita there on the canvas, unable to beat the fatal count of "ten." And Henry Armstrong, former holder of the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight boxing championships simultaneously, had won another comeback battle—a campaign which he now hopes will lead to the lightweight championship again. Now Zurita is no world beater, to be sure, yet he was thought to be a pretty good bet against lightweight ruler Sammy Angott. He was one of matchmaker Charley MacDonald's stars at Hollywood Legion stadium, two years undefeated. Yet, there he was, near the end of the second stanza, a victim of Armstrong's fast-pumping fists. Up north, previously, Hank had stopped Rodolfo Ramires, another H'wood Legion main eventer, and done it convincingly. Last Tuesday night at the Olympic, Armstrong showed no ill effects from havin absorbed some of Zurita's stiffest punches. His eyes were unmarked. They were the cause of his downfall. He is hitting as hard, if not harder, and he was much too fast for Zurita, as he probably has been for the rest of his foes to date. He's appears to be more determined than ever to again hit the heights. Last week when he entered the ring wearing that cross bones and skull blue bathrobe he couldn't keep still. So, what does it add up to. Going into the Zivic fight next Monday night in San Francisco, Hank will have two good eyes, and he won't be over-fought. If he has gone back, we are not so sure Zivic has gone forward. And from here, it looks like Armstrong to settle an old score. The move to send Hank after the lightweight bauble seems to be a wise one. Angott is not yet in service; welter kingpin Red Cochrane is. Besides, a fast cutie named Ray "Sugar" Robinson is filling Cochrane's shoes, though not officially.

Washington Wields A Big Stick

Supervised by the Helms Athletic Foundation and the All-Southern California Board of Athletics, Silverwood's Southern California Prep School Athletic Hall of Fame opened Saturday. The sports center is dedicated to war correspondent Jack Singer, recently reported missing in action, and who in former years was a prep sports writer. Colored athletes, whose names and pictures are prominently displayed in the Hall of Fame, winners of Player of the Year honors, include Jackie Robinson, Francis Garland, Mack Robinson, Wilbur Miller, Thelmo Knowles, Bryant Allen, and Bill Smith . . . Tommy Farmer told the column recently that his world bantam champ, Manuel Ortiz, and Nat Corum put on a great show up in Portland a couple of weeks ago. Every body made money, Farmer said . . . Always comes up with a good mitt performance: Jack Chase, the Denver battler, who Friday night at H'wood Legion, stopped Tabby Romero, who previously had kayoed Jimmy Brooks . . . Believe it or not, but the offensive star of the Philadelphia Royal Giants in their series with Pirrone's Major and Minor League All-Stars the past two Sundays has been Kenny Washington, the former Bruin footballer. A homer, triple, a couple of doubles and a single have been made off portsider Larry French, the Brooklyn Dodger great. He wields a mighty big stick, does Police Officer Washington . . . Speaking of "The General" reminds the column that those UCLA Bruins he and Jackie Robinson and Ray Bartlett and John Wynne and Woodrow Strode and Clarence Mackey helped to build now are perched atop the coast conference grid heap, and from all indications are apt to remain that way. There isn't one great individual star on the team, but they are ALL good. And they play as a team. In meeting and defeating California Saturday, they played against guard Norman Houston jr., son of the local insurance exec, and halfback Walt Gordon jr., son of the Bear scout and Rambler coach . . . A lot of weight was given the argument for judges of preliminary bouts in local rings last Friday night at Hollywood Legion stadium when referee Frank Holborrow pulled a stinkeroo by calling the Paul Altman-Jimmy Doyle semi-windup a draw. Doyle was distinctly ahead at the end of the 8-heat affair . . .

Canelli, Bruins, Hank, Thomas Liked

Talked with little Clarence Mackey, the junior ball-carrying and defensive star at UCLA last year, who is working on the swing shift at Cal-Ship. Mackey avers that no transformation has come over the UCLA eleven, the line stacks up as one of the best in the nation, and Ken Snelling, the fullback, has always been a terror. Snelling had just never had the chance to lug the pigskin. With George Phillips out, Ken got his chance . . . Corporal Joe Louis was met at his plane last week by actress-singer Lena Horne, visited her a day or so later on the "Cabin in the Sky" set at MGM . . . The column likes Tony Canelli over Sheik Rangel at Hollywood Legion; UCLA over Santa Clara at the Coliseum; Henry Armstrong over Fritzie Zivic at San Francisco; and John Thomas over Eddie Marcus at the Olympic. All tussles should provide plenty of fireworks . . . A highlight of the Philadelphia Royal Giants-Pirrone's All-Stars series at Wrigley Field the past couple of Sundays has been the consistently brilliant pitching of Nate Moreland, ex-Redlands and Negro league ace. Hope the games continue, regardless of the fact the colored nine has lost four straight, although several of the major leagues are said to be in difficulty with their home clubs because they didn't get permission to play on the Pirrone club.

Ring Commission Puts Turner, Booker on Shelf

J. M. Genshlea, secretary of the State Athletic commission, announced today that the commission Saturday took action in the following cases:

Ill and unavailable: Eddie Booker, Frisco boxer, 30 days, injured nose; George Freitas, Santa Clara boxer, indefinite, injured eye; Earl Turner, San Pablo boxer, two weeks, injured side.

Suspensions: Eugene Washington, S. F. boxer, indefinite, in custody; Vic Galiotto, San Jose second, 30 days, violation of rule.

Reinstatement: Robert H. Hagar, S. F. boxer, effective Oct. 13.

Contracts Filed: Joseph Irvin Relich, boxer—Harry Fine, manager, effective June 15, '42, for five years; Manuel Villa, boxer—Ralph Gold, manager, effective Sept. 29, 1942 for one year; Lincoln S. Medlin, boxer—John Henry Lewis, manager, effective Oct. 9, 1942, for three years; Chester Slider jr., boxer—Jess Howard, manager, effective Oct. 12, 1942 for five years.

SCCGA Stages Inter-Club Matches Sunday at Sunset

This coming Sunday at Sunset Fields, the Southern California Colored Golfers association will hold the second of its four yearly tournaments when inter-club matches between golf teams from the Eastside and Westside will be played.

The Westside club, captained by Henry Lewis, is composed of golfers living west of Main street, while those east of Main are captained by Ivan Johnson III.

Each club will have three teams, A, B, and C, the low handicap players being in the A teams; the next best group in B and the high handicap players on the C team. The winning club of the matches will be the club whose team gathers the most points, points being awarded for low ball in a foursome and low aggregate score of a foursome in hole by hole play.

The first foursome of the class A teams will tee off at 1:01, and other foursomes will follow at 7-minute intervals.

A plaque will be awarded to the winning club and each member on a winning team will receive a medal.

Smith Meets Villavicenio in Semifinal

John Thomas, unbeaten, untied Los Angeles lightweight, whom fight fans would back against world lightweight champion Sammy Angott, faces popular Eddie Marcus, former national amateur champion and shipyard worker, Tuesday night, Oct. 27, in the 8-round main event at Olympic auditorium.

Snowy Baker made a 10 strike when he signed this classy pair.

Boxing veterans call Thomas the "Sugar" Robinson of the coast.

Thomas takes on a clever, ringwise fighter in Marcus, who packs a healthy wallop in either hand.

Marcus has turned in some thrillers at the Olympic. He whipped Richie Lemos, former featherweight king; drew with Baby Arizmendi, and recently beat Charley Miegel, Lupe Gonzales and Chief Crazy Horse.

READY FOR BEST

Art Martell, famed handler, will be behind Marcus when he squares off against the fast stepping, rapid traveling Thomas.

Under the capable handling of Ben Lewis and George Tolson, Thomas has been taken along slowly and after two years of campaigning fight experts believe he is ready for the best lightweights in the game.

If Thomas were fighting Sammy Angott, Allie Stolz or Juan Zurita at the lightweight poundage in a local ring, Long John would be an even choice against any of the trio.

In recent main events at Hollywood stadium, Thomas easily defeated Petey Scalzo and Toby Vigil and two weeks ago scored a five-round technical kayo over Charley Miegel at San Francisco.

Jimmy Smith, protege of Lamar DeLavallade, meets Vincent Villavicenio of Mexico in the six-round semi-final.

Four other fight will round out the bill.

Canelli Subs for Burley in Legion Main

Tony Canelli, popular North Broadway Italian sharpshooter, subs for Charley Burley in tomorrow night's 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion stadium against rough and tough Sheik Rangel of Fresno.

Burley, 26-year old Minneapolis boxer who holds two wins in three engagements over Fritzie Zivic, conqueror of Henry Armstrong, wired stadium matchmaker Charley MacDonald that he would be unable to go thru with the Rangel fight due to a leg injury.

Rangel beat Cecil Hudson twice in three battles here, and gave Armstrong a stiff battle a few weeks ago shortly after the latter opened his comeback campaign.

Ad Alonzo and Ran Jackson meet in tomorrow night's six-round semi-final.

Giam Whips Brown in Dull Bout

George Giambastiani, 212, and Bob Brown, 25 pounds lighter, wrestled and fanned each other in the feature bout at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night, with Big Giam winning.

A dull bout most of the six rounds, Brown, touted as the best heavyweight prospect on the coast, apparently centered his attack on his white opponent's head, neglected in so doing to ram his fists in the enormous expanse which looked like Big Giam's stomach.

There were no knockdowns, and when Giam wasn't resting on his shorter and lighter opponent he kept him off with a long left jab.

Bobby Yaeger and Al Guidry staged an interesting six-round semi-windup. Although Yaeger floored Guidry in the second heat he couldn't put him away for keeps. Guidry proved stern opposition for the flashy and hard-punching Yaeger.

Bruins Meet Santa Clara at Coliseum

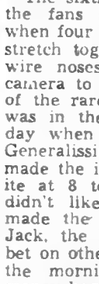
The hot UCLA Bruins come back to their own bailiwick Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, engaging Santa Clara's undefeated Broncos in a non-conference tilt.

The Coliseum engagement will afford football fans a looksee at a Bruin eleven which has toppled Oregon State, an upset, and University of California on successive Saturdays. The Uclans walloped Oregon State, 30 to 7, and Saturday shut out California, 21 to 0, and thereby boomed into the conference title picture. Two early season non-conference games were lost to Texas Christian, 7-6, and St. Mary's Pre-Flight, 18 to 7.

The Broncs started off with victories over Utah, Stanford and California to stamp themselves as one of the country's outstanding clubs. Their Freitas to Beals passing combination—one of the best in the country—is the Broncs' chief offensive weapon.

An average home burns enough fuel oil in a year to drive a destroyer 50 miles.

Service Teams Clash Nov. 8



Tuning up for what will decide the football championship for service teams on the Pacific coast when they clash Nov. 8 at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, are the Navy Pre-Flight team of St. Mary's and the Santa Ana Base Army Flyers.

This game, sponsored by the USO and the American Legion, is now considered the most important in service circles on this coast.

Coggins Loses State Title

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 22.—A tired and beaten fighter as the bell rang ending the 12th and final round, Jack Coggins, 172½, lost his state light heavyweight belt here Friday night, to the veteran Johnny (The Bandit) Romero, 175.

The ringwise 33-year old Romero led throughout in a hard fought bout and never gave the hard punching Negro a chance to get set.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico, Oct. 22.—Under a balmy sun "south of the border down Mexico way," the fans enjoyed one of the best cards of racing in many weeks with the favorites winning five of the 12 races, while the three short price second choices won. And to give the long shot players their chances, Owotapal won the baby race, paying $28.20, while one of the old Caliente favorites, Brilliant Son, won the 10th, paying $32.60. Misme, which had been trying to reach the judges' winning circle for some time, got there at last, paying $18.20.

One of the shortest Daily-Double payoffs in some time was when the two favorites won—Vain Folly in the second, and Cargador the third. The payoff was $10.80, but the Quiniela players that were lucky to hold the winning combination were rewarded $130.20 for their $2.00 investment.

The sixth race of the day had the fans standing and yelling when four horses came down the stretch together and crossed the wire noses apart. It took the camera to tell the winner. One of the rare things that happens was in the feature race of the day when on the morning line Generalissimo Walter Marty made the imported Betico favorite at 8 to 5. But the public didn't like the choice so they made the derby winner, Sunny Jack, the hot favorite and also bet on others in the race to beat the morning favorite. As the money began pouring in the mutuels, Betico's price went up from 8 to 5 to $7.20 to one, and when it was all over, the son of Berkeley Boy won by two lengths and his ticket holders received $16.40 for $2.00.

Sunny Jack, the post time favorite, was out of the money. Jockey G. Koyk was the star rider of the day, bringing home three winners. One of the best pieces of horsemanship was seen in the 8th race when Jockey F. Chojnacki nearly lifted Cohigh across the wire a nose in front of Gay Imp. It was really a beautiful ride.

Much interest is now being shown in the coming Juvenile Stake at a mile and 70 yards for a purse of $2500 added, which will be run Sunday, Nov. 1. The champion two-year old will be crowned. Some of the horses that are training well are Boot Black, Carl Junior, Paula's Lulu, Tangazo, Hand Torch, Boston Maud, Golden River, and others.

Well, that's it, folks—the news from "south of the border, down Mexico way." So keep on buying U. S. War Stamps and Bonds. That's the way to get those hounds a-long. GEORGE.

Hank Out to Even Old Score

Henry Armstrong, former three-crown wearer, seeks a victory in his 12th comeback fight next Monday night when he tangles with Fritzie Zivic in San Francisco.

Initiating the greatest comeback try in ring history several months ago, "Hammerin' Hank" last week convinced all but a few doubting Thomases that he stands a better than 50-50 chance to regain either the lightweight or welterweight championships. He knocked out Juan Zurita at Olympic auditorium in 2:20 of the second round, drawing an SRO house in so doing.

The veteran Mexican gladiator figured to extend and test Hank as he had gone undefeated in two years of battling, having been one of Hollywood Legion stadium's best drawing cards.

George Moore, manager of Armstrong told the EAGLE last week that following the Zivic tussle Hank would take a vacation from the ring to see if he could make the lightweight limit. What with welterweight champion Red Cochrane in the Navy, Armstrong's board of strategy is going after Sammy Angott's lightweight bauble if it appears Hank can make the weight without hurting himself.

The bout Monday night looms as probably the most important of any of Armstrong's comeback battles, for in Zivic he meets the man who lifted his welter title from him two years ago, but who subsequently lost it to Cochrane.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles will receive bids for furnishing all labor and material for the following work:

Kind of Work and Name of School—Repainting and refinishing of the exterior of the following buildings: administration, home economics, auditorium, shop; arcades, yard equipment, and appurtenances at the Lafayette Junior High School.

Date of bid opening—October 30, 1942.

Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the Architectural Section of the Business Division of said Board, 1425 So. San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, California. Prospective bidders may secure copies of said drawings and specifications at the office of said Architectural Section, upon the posting of a guarantee deposit, or deposits, of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars for each set, which deposits will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

Pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Education has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contracts which will be awarded the successful bidders; and these prevailing rates are contained in said specifications adopted by the Board, and are as follows:

CLASSIFICATION
Foremen

All foremen not herein separately classified, shall be paid not less than $1.00 per day more than the journeyman rate for the craftt involved.

Apprentices

May be employed in conformity with section 1777.5 of the California Labor Code.

CLASSIFICATION	Hourly Wage Rate	Overtime Rule
Carpenters
Carpenter	$1.35	A
Laborers
General or construction, including all labor not herein separately classified, on all types of construction	.875	E
Painters
Painters	1.25	C
Painter, Swing Stage or
Steel Erected	1.375	C
Painter (Spray Gun)	1.50	C

The rates per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work; it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to eight (8) hours.

The overtime rule establishing the rates of wages for overtime and holiday work for each of the various classifications shall be in accordance with the following schedule:

A Double time for all overtime and holidays.
C Time and one-half overtime and holidays.
E Time and one-half for all overtime. Double time for all holidays.

Overtime as herein referred to shall be deemed to be work performed in excess of eight consecutive hours per day, between the hours of 8:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M., Monday through Friday, unless the job is operating on a shift basis.

Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be every Sunday in the year, except as otherwise provided herein, New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him, to pay not less than said general prevailing rates of per diem wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids, a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on forms to be obtained at said Architectural Section of the Board of Education; must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond (issued by a Surety Company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles; shall be sealed and filed with the Purchasing Agent of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 So. San Pedro Street, on or before 2:00 o'clock P. M. on the dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

The above-mentioned check or bidder's bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work, or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into contract after being requested so to do by the Board of Education.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to 75% of the contract price, and faithful performance bonds in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company or surety companies satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informality on a bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

By order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles.
Dated Los Angeles, California.
October 9, 1942.

The first of every month is a good time to take mental inventory. It is an opportune time to find out where we stand, what we have to go on with, and whence our destination.

It used to be a habit to draw up resolutions on New Year's Eve, knowing all the time that before the year was half up, we would break them. But resolutions for a new month are a safer commitment, calling for less moral energy, than in a long-term resolve. Its rapid brevity enforces ardor. Whatever is to be accomplished must be done soon.

In our tragically uncertain world, few of us can with any certainty, look too far ahead. Therefore, let us start each month with a keen resolve to accomplish as much as possible, and in this manner, "Keep them flying for Victory."

M. Y.—Dear Sir: I don't really think it is necessary for me to tell you how much you have helped me. For I believe you know. Your products are all I pue 'aiow pue sey noy teu don't intend to be without them from now on.

J. B. L.—Under the existing circumstances do you think there is a chance for me to be happy again?

Ans.: A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you and this man you love have been married before and neither of you are divorced. A definite decision must be reached and agreed upon, and I suggest that you do this soon. There is no reason why you should not be happy together after all of these other matters are cleared up.

E. W. P.—What happened to my ring?

Ans.: It seems that you have just misplaced your gold bar ring, and a careful search will reveal it.

D. W.—Will I find the happiness I desire with this man?

Ans.: You lucky stars and guiding planet indicate your finding true love and happiness with this man. You have so much in common and your signs harmonize which indicates you will have no trouble in getting along.

W. M. W.—I have placed my application in one of the factories. Do you think I will be successful?

Ans.: According to your Zodiacal sign, the next two months will prove very successful and your business adventures will turn out well. Keep trying, as better things are ahead for you.

S. A.—Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column in the California EAGLE every week for sometime and find it very interesting. So, I have decided to ask your advice about a matter that is worrying me. Will my husband get out of the trouble he is in?

Ans.: Concentrating upon your question, I find that your husband stands a good chance of clearing himself of the accusations and getting along all right.

A. M. S.—Does he really care for me? Do I love him? Why doesn't he come around to see me?

Ans.: Only one question is answered in the column. I suggest that you write in for a private reply.

E. M. S.—Can you help me overcome my difficulties?

Ans.: If you write in for a private reply perhaps I can help you find happiness and peace of mind. Your horoscope reveals many interesting things that I am sure would help you in the future.

E. S.—Will I be successful in finding employment elsewhere?

Ans.: It comes to me that you would be quite successful in finding employment in Memphis, Tenn. I suggest that you try; also, that you make inquiries before leaving Leland as to the future possibilities.

R. D.—Will my present job cause my eyes to get worse?

Ans.: Welding is hard on the eyes, and for that reason I suggest that you consult a good oculist for his opinion on the matter and follow his advice.

Save-a-Life Program at Second AME

Members of the audience will gain increased enthusiasm for All-Out Victory efforts when they react to the Assistance League's Save-A-Life for Victory program to be presented Sunday morning, Oct. 25, at Rev. J. B. Isaacs' beautiful new Second AME church at 43rd and San Pedro.

Miss Pauline Slater, president of this Assistance league for the Outdoor Life and Health association, announces the program will present an imposing array of military officials, as well as many Civilian Defense units.

The league is proud to present as speakers the following well known participants: Chaplain R. Cooper, Col. Moody Staten Dr. Fred Whiteman, USA, and Maj. Hollingsworth, and Dr. Leonard Stovall. In addition, various uniformed military organizations will be present.

Miss Laura Slayton will be speaker for AWVS: Mrs. Kimbrough for Ladies in Gray; Capt. Ethel Davis for the Women's Ambulance and Defense corps; Mrs. Nellie K. Carlisle, reserve platoon leader of the State Guard, will speak for that military organization; Edward Atkinson sr. will speak for the air-raid wardens. Mrs. Esther T. Greenly will speak for the Eliza Warner unit of the American Red Cross. The nurses' organization will be represented by Mrs. Bobo Conner, head nurse at the General hospital.

Musical selections will be rendered by George E. Bryant, first lieutenant of the 7th Regiment, as well as by the army quartet. Claude Hudson will also assist in the program.

Stating that this is an annual affair, Mrs. Fannie Williams, organizer and sponsor of the Assistance league, urges its many friends to attend.

Men's Day at Wesley Sunday

Sunday, Oct. 25, is the annual Men's Day at Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian streets.

The Men's Day sermon at the morning worship, 10.50 a. m., will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, who will speak from the subject: "A Man Who Found Himself."

The evening service at 7 p. m., will center around the theme, "Building Manhood for Tomorrow's World."

The speakers at the evening worship will be Prof. Robert H. Lewis, principal of Lafayette Jr. High school, whose subject will be "Juvenile Delinquency and Its Causes"; and Harold Flane, member of California Corrective Authority, who will speak from the subject, "Corrective Measures."

Music during the day will be furnished by a male chorus of 40 voices, under the direction of Charles Williams. Samuel Brown, teacher of music at Jefferson High school, will be at the organ.

Baha'i World Traveler Will Speak Sunday

Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop, under the auspices of the Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Los Angeles, will speak Sunday at 3 p. m. at 1709 W. 8th street, on "A Pattern for Future Society."

Over 60 years ago the founder of the Baha'i Faith summarized the 12 basic needs of humanity for this age to be: The oneness of mankind, independent investigation of truth, that the foundation of religions is one, religion must be the cause of unity, religion must be in accord with science and reason, equality between men and women, prejudice of all kinds must be forgotten, universal peace, universal education, spiritual solution of the economical problem, a universal language, an international tribunal.

Mrs. Reed knows her subject well and speaks with force and conviction. It will be a forward looking talk that will give all who are involved in these distressing times a new hope and a new outlook.

Landon Church to Celebrate

The Community Baptist church, Landon, enjoyed the message brought to them in the evening services by Rev. Bentley, the pastor. His subject was "God Will Answer Prayer."

The church will celebrate its first anniversary the second week in November. Plans are being made to build a social hall, and the church would appreciate the cooperation of all churches and their pastors. Whatever donations are sent will be appreciated. They should be sent to Mrs. Estella Powell, Rt. 2, Box 180, Fontana, Calif.

Deacon Mouton has been confined to his home with a severe cold. Everyone wishes him a speedy recovery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Brown and the many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of our dear husband, and father.

To Pastor C. T. James, the Reverends Collins, N. H. Jones,

Women's Day Sunday at Trinity

This Sunday i sWomen's Day at Trinity Baptist church, 3500 S. Normandie, Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor. Under the leadership of Mrs. Q. T. Bookman, an elaborate program has been prepared with many special features, and the women are out to beat the men in attendance, offering, and number of additions to the church.

At the 11 o'clock hour, the speaker will be Mrs. Sophia Tichnor Salvin, former principal of 111th street school, Watts, and now principal of the Palo Verde and Paducah schools.

Soloists will be Marguerite Chapman and Willie Mays. First Lieutenant Faustina Johnson will introduce the speaker and head the Women's Auxiliary Ambulance Corps. Girl Scout Troop No. 21, which meets at the church, will attend in a body, and Mrs. Anita Conway will be mistress of ceremonies.

Margaret Satchell on the steel guitar, JoElla Hardeman on the violin and Woodia Price at the organ, will support the women's ensemble, under the baton of Mrs. Virdes Shortridge. They will make their first appearance in their new robes.

LAURA BOWMAN

At the night service, the distinguished dramatic artist, Laura Bowman, will present a dramatic act. The guest soloist will be Carrie Daniels and Margaret Hairston, the wife of Jester Hairston, one of Oakland's favorite artists, will appear.

The Booster Singers of the Second Baptist church will present a number and the one and only A. C. Bilbrew will act as mistress of ceremonies. Trinity church welcomes all visiting guests from other cities and will present them at both services.

Morris II in San Diego Sunday

Announcement was made exclusively to the California EAGLE on Tuesday by Mrs. S. Norman Roberts of San Diego, clerk of the Calvary Baptist church of that city, that the Rev. Charles Satchell Morris II, of Los Angeles, famed minister, educator, and orator, would be guest of that congregation throughout the day on Sunday, Oct. 25.

Calvary, mother church of San Diego Baptists, and one of the historic parishes of the state, will hear the Rev. Morris first at the regular 11 o'clock worship service when he is slated to preach from the theme, "The Unknown God and How to Know Him."

Special music has been arranged by the choir for this event. Many visitors of both races from other churches throughout the city are expected to join in welcoming the distinguished guest to the Calvary pulpit.

At three o'clock a mammoth city-wide mass meeting will be staged at which time Dr. Edward A. Bailey, prominent local physician and surgeon and a brother-in-law of Dr. William J. Hale of Tennessee State college, Nashville, where the Rev. Morris formerly held a professorship, will be master of ceremonies. A brilliant musical and literary program will be featured attractions at this time and the eloquent visiting guest will deliver his celebrated message on "The Negro in the American Picture."

Dames Heads AME Ministers

The AME Ministerial Alliance met at First AME church, 8th and Towne, for the annual election of officers.

Rev. J. A. Dames, of Pasadena, was elected president; Rev. A. K. Quinn, of Santa Monica, vice president, Rev. E. R. Carter, of Los Angeles, secretary; Rev. J. B. Isaacs, of Los Angeles, assistant secretary, Rev. Isaac Wilson, treasurer; Revs. Cincinnatus White, reporters; Rev. J. A. Green of Los Angeles, chaplain.

After the election an address was given by the chaplain, Alvia Shaw, of the United States Army, was made the order of the day. At the conclusion of a very brilliant address on the motion of the Rev. Frederick Jordan, the alliance extended the chaplain a standing vote of thanks. The Rev. F. A. Owens, editor of the San Diego Plaindealer, gave the closing address.

Brown Temple Tells Services

Brown Temple AME Zion church, 1201 E. 43rd street, will hold its pre-conference closing services at the church Sunday evening at 7.30 p. m. There will be special music by Mrs. Estelle Johnson Conquest and Mrs. Katrina Stockard.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Sister Blake, nationally known evangelist of the CME church. Mrs. W. J. McRoy will be mistress of ceremonies, and Wendell H. Alexander is the minister. There will also be remarks by Dr. James B. Holmes, and Rev. Sister Ralston will preach at the 11 a. m. services.

Chaplain Simpson; the American Legion, Benj. J. Bowie Post No 228, the Dining Car Waiters and Cooks, P. Porter, news agent; Women's Auxiliary, American Legion Benj. J. Bowie Post No. 228, and all others, for their consoling words, and to the Conner-Johnson company for their services rendered.

(Signed)
MRS. JOHN ROY, widow;
INEZ BOLDEN, daughter;
JOHN AND JAMES ROY, sons.

SANTA MONICA MATRON HONORS HUBBY ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Anna Coleman, 1837 20th St., entertained at her home last Tuesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday. A delicious buffet dinner of fried chicken and all the accompaniments was served with ice cream and cake for dessert.

Among those attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Will Linly, J. Allen Reese, D. H. Cook, Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mmes. Georgia McQueen, Marie Simon, Julia Grant, Mary Hawkins, Henrietta Jarnigan, Beatrice Morgan, and Samanthia Wilson; Messrs. Ben Coleman, Charles Fortune and Corporal Turner.

After dinner, the evening was spent playing games and admiring the beautiful gifts with equally beautiful cards received by Mr. Coleman.

George Tarver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tarver, 1844 17th St., who is better known to his little friends as "Dunnie", entertained recently with a lawn party on his fifth birthday. Those present were Susie and Louis Adams, Alva Knowles, La Rita Brown, Irvin Campbell, Carol and Dee Dee Afner, Lois and Loraine La Cour, Gladys Whitmore, Coy and Velma Halliburton, Larry and Lonny Stapleton, Jayneen Johnson, Maurice McNeil, Eddie Mitchell, Freddie Marqus and R. C. Owens.

Mrs. Laura Chapman, who is spending a few months in a Monrovia rest home, recently spent several enjoyable days in Santa Monica with her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Vinars of 1919 19th St. While here, she also visited her mother, Mrs. Gordon, and was greeted by many of her friends.

Mrs. Mary Hawkins, 424 Bay St., entertained Sunday afternoon with a party after the singing of the Hall Johnson choir in Los Angeles. Those invited were Mmes. Julia Grant, Clara Trotter, Henrietta Jarnigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, members of the Choir.

The O.E.S. will honor its Grand Associate Matron, Beatrice McCarroll, and Secretary of Relief, Marie Johnson and other Grand Officers of the Southern California with an elaborate tea at the Masonic Hall, Sunday afternoon at which time an enjoyable program will be rendered.

to keep the fraternity functioning. The methods they have adopted to keep going even under desperate war conditions may well be copied by the Masons of the United States.

Last Saturday night was Blue Lodge night for Egyptian Temple. The Raymond E. Jackson class is about to be completed. Shrine initiations will be held Nov. 14, and all prospective Shriners are urged to make application as soon as possible. A special treat is in store for those fortunate enough to be present at the initiation services. Two members of the Imperial Council will be here. One man is Brother Freeman, treasurer of the Imperial Council, who figured so prominently in winning the suit through the Supreme Court favoring Negro Shriners in the United States.

Holland Lodge No. 20 was the guest of Crescent Bay Lodge No. 19 in Santa Monica Oct. The master wardens and brothers of Holland considered it quite an honor to be asked by a sister lodge to assist them in their initiation ceremonies.

Circle in Program at Greater Olivet

The Greater Olivet Baptist church, 981 E. 35th street, is going on with its installation program. The Ruth Circle had a wonderful missionary program yesterday at 3 p. m. Outstanding women speakers were Mrs. Dixon, supervisor of the young people of the California State convention; Mrs. McCuller, of the New Hope Baptist church, and many others.

Rev. and Mrs. Pius, congregation and choir of the Metropolitan Baptist church, were the guests of the church at the evening services for the Rhoda Girls. Rev. J. E. Evans was speaker of the evening.

Pastor's Aid Circle will sponsor the fourth program next Sunday, Oct. 25, at 3 p. m., with their guest, Rev. Anderson and congregation.

Dinner will be served free throughout the installation until Nov. 29. We are doing great things at Greater Olivet. We welcome all. Reporters, F. Blake and N. Coleman.

It's no longer TABOO for girls to talk of this possible help

You can't expect a grin-and-bear-it attitude to bring relief from the distress of periodic, functional pain.

Perhaps that's why so many women use CARDUI. It has a 62 year record of 2-way help, when taken as directed: (1) started three days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely periodic, functional causes; (2) taken as a tonic, CARDUI usually improves appetite, aids digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices, and thus helps build resistance, which often aids in minimizing periodic functional distress.

Try CARDUI. You may be glad you did!

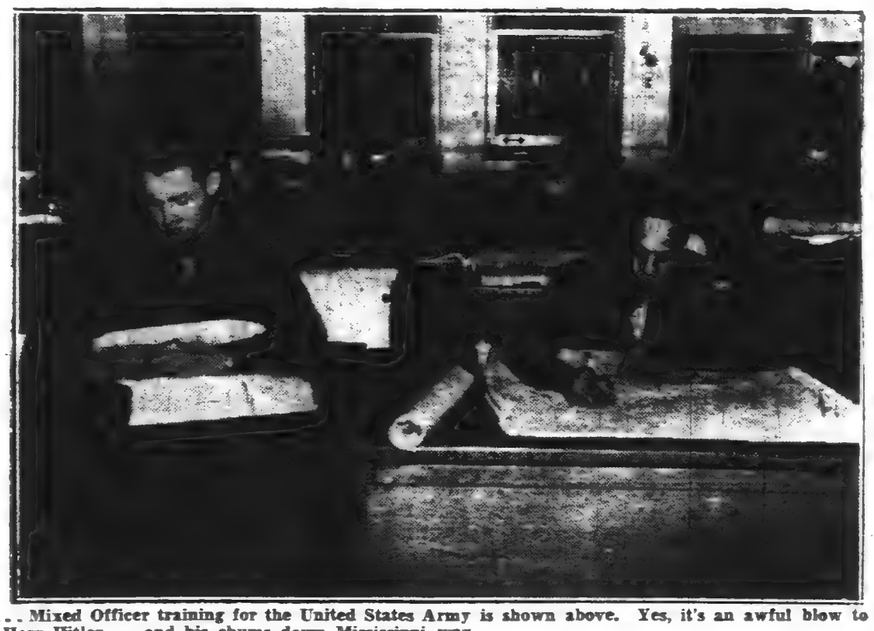
STORY OF GREAT EVENT

SEN. PEPPER ARRIVES — CONFERS WITH EDITOR — 'FREE ALL COLORS' — CONGRATULATED

In Los Angeles eight hours behind schedule and cramming in the eastside meeting between engagements at Long Beach Civic Auditorium and in Pasadena, Senator Claude Pepper arrives at 3 o'clock meet; time: 5:05.

Before speaking, Senator Pepper confers with Eagle editor Charlotta A. Bass. In front of him more than 3,000 Negro and white citizens sit, having waited well over two hours to hear him. Time: last Sunday. Place: Second Baptist church on the eastside.



Even optimists expected Florida Senator to speak only briefly, bring greetings and urge local anti-poll tax organization. Instead what audience got was a half-hour address called one of the historic statements of the war epoch.

Not disguising the sentiment registered in the face of Editor Bass after speech in which Pepper declared war is fruitless unless it is for the liberation of "all continents, all nations, all colors." Also seen, Rev. Clayton Russel, La Singh, William Nickerson.

NEW ANTI-POLL TAX TRIUMPH

BLAST BILL TO SENATE FLOOR "FREE ALL COLORS"—SEN. PEPPER

THE WAY TO DO IT, UNCLE!

... Mixed Officer training for the United States Army is shown above. Yes, it's an awful blow to Herr Hitler, — and his chums down Mississippi way.

Anti-Poll Tax Bill Out of Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Another smashing blow was dealt the poll tax system Monday when the Senate Judiciary Committee, reacting to nation-wide pressure organized by labor and the Negro people, approved the Peper Anti-Poll Tax Bill by a vote of 13 to 5.

The action of the full committee over-rode a previous subcommittee report which contended that the bill was unconstitutional.

The committee's approval sends the bill to the Senate floor for final debate and vote. Similar legislation has already been passed by the House.

Altho Negro leaders and labor spoksmen were active in support of the bill in recent

Attorney General Wes Coleman Jailer — Lawyers

By CHARLOTTA A. BASS

"Earl Warren was the most powerful behind-the-scenes agent in the prosecution of Festus Coleman. It is our belief that, if elected, he will never pardon Coleman."

This is the statement of the attorneys for Festus Coleman, young Negro serving a term of 65-years in San Quentin because he walked through 'Frisco's Golden Gate Park one night and encountered an army officer blanketed with a 17-year old girl. In true Dixie fashion, the officer, along with another military friend, accused the Negro of "rape . . ." and railroaded him

Mexican Kids' Trial -- Nazi Plot?

By JOHN KINLOCH

Don't look now but there are twenty-one teen-age Mexican kids on trial for first-degree murder in the courtroom of Judge Charles Fricke. They are accused of murder of ONE guy during a general tussle at Sleepy Lagoon, dank eastside swimming hole where Mexicans go because they can't get in the regular swimming spots.

What's been going on in Judge Fricke's court brought a heated delegation to the office of District Attorney John Dockweiler Tuesday afternoon. Sparked by CIO chief Phillip Connelly, State Senator candidate LaRue McCormick, Jessie Terry, of the Housing Authority, Carey McWilliams, of division of housing and immigration; Bert Corrona, of Warehousemen's union, George Shibley and Leo Gallagher, labor attorneys — the meeting exploded in the face of demon prosecutors Clyde Shoemaker and Johnny Barnes.

These two worthies have been going at the Mexican kids like all hell depended on a gas-chamber conviction for each of them.

PEPPER HAILS "GREAT DEMOCRATIC SURGE"

3,000 Cheer Senator's Address; Applaud Gov. Olson's Record

Fitting climax to Anti-Poll Tax Sunday, which saw mobilization of Negro community in the anti-poyy tax fight, scores of telegrams from leading churches dispatched to Washington, 15,000 signatures gained in one day in a giant petition drive, — was the appearance four days ago of Florida's Senator Claude Pepper before a cheering audience of 3,000 at Second Baptist church here.

The Senator's address was promptly labeled most important Administration pronouncement since Vice-President's Wallace speech on the "Age of the Common Man." Pepper, author of the Pepper anti-poll tax bill, is in California as a part of the President's effort to rally win-the-war support of Gov. Culbert L. Olson as opposed to Hoover-Hearst nominee Earl Warren.

Pepper's brilliant address follows:

"If we mean to convince the rest of the world that America leads toward real democracy we must believe in democracy; good works begin at home!"

Pepper, hard-hitting Senate progressive, lashed out against enemies of a people's war, proclaiming. "This is no time for insincerity. This is no time for half-truths. Ths time demands strength, courage, the will to win a victory for all men, white, black, yellow."

The poll tax, against which Pepper's bill is directed, exists in eight southern states, disfranchising a total of 10 million voters economically, unable to pay the voting levy. Six million of them are white.

Fight Bet Nets Killing

Directly as the result of a bet on the Henry Armstrong-Fritzie Zivic fight at San Francisco last Monday night, one man is dead and at press time, the other dying, following a pistol-rifle duel last Tuesday night, that threw the usually quiet eastside residential section into wild excitement. The dead man is Wm. Durham, of 1578 W. 35 Place; and seriously wounded in the General Hospital by S. A. R.

I am a Republican. I am a member of the Republican County Central Committee. I am also all-out for the re-election of the current Democratic Administration in the State of California.

Why is this?

I am having a tough time financially. And in the campaign of Earl Warren, money is thrown about like confetti. The Warren campaign is supported by the millions of William Randolph Hearst, the millions of Harry Chandler, the additional millions of Herbert Hoover. There is poverty in the Olson camp.

Why is this?

Let's answer the first question:

If there were a Republican party in the State of California reflecting the policies of Wendell Willkie, I'd be in it. But there is no such thing. There is only a party of Fascists, of Big Money, of non-partisan Friends of Hitler. I mean this quite seriously.

I believe that Hearst is guilty of daily sedition. I think he should be jailed.

I believe, with the poor boy's lawyers, that Earl Warren was the great behind-the-scenes figure in the railroading of Festus Coleman.

I know Earl Warren has shielded Father Riker, the California Gene Talmadge, who, day after day, unmolested, spreads anti-Negro propaganda. I know Earl Warren refused to move against Richard K. Franklin, who now supports him for Governor, when Franklin threatened to hang

"India Is Our Business," Says Great Republican Party Leader

In radio broadcast to the nation Wendell Willkie told America that "India is our problam . . . ", reiterated a demand for an immediate second front, and challenged the notion that "freedom is priceless for the White man" only.

Excerpts from his great speech follow:

LABOR ON THE MARCH

by MARTIN HEWLETT

With the war going on into its first anniversary, with shortages and rationed produce, it is quite surprising how many people are still unaware of the true situation existing in the world today. There is an appalling auro of vagueness covering these conditions in many of the people's minds. For instance, ask your next door neighbor who is he voting for in the next election, which incidentally, is not very far off.

The probable answer would be, "I haven't even registered yet," sabotage, pure and unadulterated sabotage. No matter how innocent this reply seems, no matter how patriotic the person is who answers, failure to register and failure to vote gives the appeasers and disrupters in this country an all powerful weapon to impose their type of destruction on the people of America.

Aiding in abetting the axis is what you do when you fail to vote. Would you offer your home and its sanctity to a kidnaper, murderer or arsonist? Would you let him destroy the harmony in your home, take away your freedom and menace your loved ones? Emphatically, not, you wouldn't even entertain the thought. You would probably be on the lookout for such a person to immediately inform the authorities. In comparison, you do just such a thing, when you fail to vote. Your family and your home is left unprotected. You help those who would deprive using this sacred democratic right you forsake democracy itself and help in your own little way to establish facism.

After realizing how important it is to vote, you must then find out where your vote will do most good for you, or whom to vote for. First of all, here are the things you don't do while finding out. You don't look in rotten newspapers, like the Heart Syndicate, to find out who to vote for. You don't listen to speeches made by rants and red-baiters like the Warren-Ware-Houser clique. You don't read lily-toned campaign literature without thinking that your intelligence has been insulted, and you don't put finding out off until election morning.

And by a process of elimination you go to responsible agencies to find out. You can go to your labor union or you look in a credited publication to get some leads. Then, if you're a racing fan, you'll pick them by judging from past performances, but if you are not fortunate enough to have had such experience, suggestions are in order. Suggestion No. 1, be sure to vote for the right man. Who is the right man? Well, ask yourself the following questions: (1) What has he done for me as individual and what can he do for me as an individual? —What he will do remains to be seen. (2) Is he willing to go along with the president in every way possible? (3) Is he pro-administration? (4) Is he in accord with the President's Anti-inflation plan? (5) Is he for the passage of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill, now pending in the Senate? (6) Is he for the establishment of a second front and an all out offensive war? (7) Is he pro-labor? (8) Is he willing to further the cause of organized labor? (9) Is he for the freedom of Africa and India and immediate aid to Russia and China? If the candidate that you have in mind meets these issues in the affirmative, then he is the right man; but if he is the least bit wishy washy on any of the above issues, then beware, he is not the right man.

Now that you have a candidate in mind, let's be specific and consider the two men running for governor of this state. It will not be shown how good Olson is, who is the present governor of the state and who has gone on record supporting the issues raised here, but how bad Mr. Earl Warren is.

Answering first question, Earl Warren as Attorney General, could have granted an appeal to Festus Coleman. He has dodged all issues pertaining to the President and the administration. Earl Warren has been very quiet on the Anti-Poll Tax bill one way or the other and that if a statement is not made for the second fron[illegible]

Then too, on numerous occasions Warren has proven himself to be closely allied with the anti-labor forces in this state. And if Mr. Warren is so non-progressive, then surely he would not be in favor with such progressive moves as the liberation of India and Africa and immediate aid to Russia and China, our noble allies. By deductive reasoning, this leaves governor Olson.

NMU Seeks to Aid Job Applicants

Since December 7th, many Negroes on the Pacific coast have tried to get into the merchant marine training schools, in order to become seamen for the merchant ships.

While many Negroes on the Atlantic coast have been able to get into the schools and have since been put aboard ship, just the reverse is true of the Maritime schools on the Pacific coast. To date not one Negro has been able to break through the wall of discrimination raised on the Pacific coast.

The National Maritime Union (CIO) in an effort to carry out the President's Program of no discrimination would like all those Negroes who have applied for Merchant Marine training and have for one reason or another either been turned down or had their application pigeonholed get in touch with their Regional Office by mail, in writing, please give the date of application, what efforts have since been made to get into the schools, and what replies have been given the applicant

Please send all letters to Regional Office, National Maritime Union, 27 Clay Street, San Francisco, Calif.

Formal Dedication of Woodlawn Branch YWCA Facilities Planned

Mrs. Leonard Stovall, chairman of the Education Committee of the Woodlawn Branch Y.W.C.A., has been appointed chairman of Arrangements for the official opening and formal Dedication of the new facilities which will take place Sunday afternoon, November 15 at 3 p.m. The Committee working with Mrs. Stovall are Mesdames Josephine Brown, Geo. A. Beavers, Jr., Walter Gordon, Sr., Byron F. Kenner, Archie R. Mosley and Dr. Alice Garrott.

According to Mrs. Stovall, the formal opening Sunday, November 15 will be followed by a week of activities which will demonstrate the program which the Woodlawn Branch will be offering for girls and women during the coming months.

The Girl Reserve Ceremony on Saturday, November 7 at 2 p.m., will precede the larger program. Girls from all clubs in the entire city who contributed to the Building Campaign will participate in the service of dedication of the barbecue pit which their gifts made possible.

Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson, Chairman of the Committee of Management and Chairman of the Branch Building Project is co-colonel with John E. Hargroves of the Community Chest Campaign in the Central Avenue Area.

The staff of the Woodlawn Branch Y.W.C.A. have had many varied experiences during the past few weeks. Mrs. Hellen G. Wilson, office secretary, has just returned from a well earned vacation. Miss Violet Aldridge, Y.W.C.A.-U.S.O. worker has been attending the National U.S.O. Orientation Course at the beautiful Sonoma Mission Inn, Sonoma, California. At this Conference Miss Mamie Davis, National Regional Supervisor of the U.S.O. representing the National Board Y.W.C.A., New York City, has been making a notable contribution in a leadership role. Miss Davis recently spent a day enroute in Los Angeles and was the guest of Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson at luncheon

Misses Dorothy C. Guinn and Ruby C. Jefferson attended the recent meeting of the Southern California Chapter of N.A.E.O., the National Association of Employed Officers held at Pasadena. Secretaries from Los Angeles, San Diego, Long Beach, Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, San Pedro, and Santa Monica were present.

Miss Guinn is vice-president of the Southern California Chapter of N.A.E.O. and program Chairman for 1942-1943. Miss Jefferson while in Pasadena attended the Southern California Girl Reserve Secretarial meeting. Meetings of this kind are important gatherings during the war period in that they enable professional staff members to think and plan together to be more efficient in services which are now so greatly needed.

Weiners and Hamburgers Join War Effort

Town Talk Buns And Rolls Get New Enriched "Oomph"

According to Ralph Gibbs, well known operator of Central Avenue's famous "Jockey Club", his hamburger sandwiches and hot dogs are now contributing to the war effort. The story behind this militant statement is the fact that he is using Town Talk buns and weinie rolls — the only ones which are enriched with B vitamins in accordance with the Federal Government's Nutritional Program. This well known institution has long featured Town Talk Bakery products and perhaps that is one of the reasons why his foods are the talk of the town.

Hubby Cruel; Asks Divorce

Mrs. Pearl Morris, beautiful young matron and former Houston, Texas socialite, has filed a complaint for divorce charging cruelty against her husband, Raymond Morris, North American Aircraft employee. In the complaint which was prepared by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, the attractive Mrs. Morris states that practically ever since she has been in the city her husband has pursued a course of cruelty toward her and because of his threats she has asked the court for a restraining order and for protection of the court until the matter comes up for hearing.

It was also learned that the Victory Market, 4325 Central Avenue, in answer to public demand, has recently added the full line of Town Talk Bread to its bakery stock.

YES, SIR, THEY'RE GETTING THEIR A B C'S

Children all over the United States have been learning their A B C's, but millions of them have not been getting their A B C's in valuable vitamins. These youngsters are getting theirs in a delicious school lunch which nourishes their growing bodies and keeps them strong and mentally alert. The American-grown farm products used in these lunches are provided by the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Last school year 1,140,784 colored children received lunches under the Community School Lunch Program.

State Guard Present at Assistance League Program

The Assistance League of the Outdoor Life and Health Association presented its fifth annual "Save a Life" rally at the Second A.M.E. Church, Rev. J. B. Isaacs, Pastor. This year with the military effort in minds, the program was captioned "Save a Life for Victory." Mrs. Emily Woody presided as mistress of ceremonies.

It was through the efforts of Colonel Moody Staten of Camp Peneschal, guest speaker for the morning, that men from that unit were present in large numbers and rendered a musical selection from their army choir. An impressive procession, led by Garner Van Grayson, Jr., carrying the American Flag, opened the program. Following were the ladies in gray, the Communication Corps, Platoon Corps, A.W.V.S., Red Cross, Nurses Aid Ambulance and Air Raid Wardens. The Star-Spangled Banner, led by Mrs. Jesse Grayson, was sung. Representatives from these various branches of Civilian Defense described the services to the home front which were being rendered by them.

A liberal offering was received for the promotion of the Rest Home in Monrovia of which Dr. Leonard Stovall is president. The purpose of these public programs which are rendered is to invoke spiritual inspiration and to stimulate public interest and support for the Sanatorium. The slogan for the Assistance League this year, as announced by its sponsor, Mrs. Fannie Williams, is "Saving Civilian Lives is Vital for Victory."

Vivian Rose Driver Rites Set Today

Mrs. Vivian Rose Driver, wife of Mason Driver, prominent business man and member of the well known Driver family, died Monday at the Good Samaritan hospital following the delivery of a baby girl.

The tragic death of the popular young matron comes as a deep shock to the entire community, especially because of the happiness which had blessed the couple's 19 years of marriage.

Mrs. Driver, daughter of Milton Davis, was a native of Louisiana, but had lived most of her life in Los Angeles. She was well and widely known, and until five years ago, had been her husband's valued assistant in his two establishments, the Driver Brother's Cleaning and Laundry Service.

Bishop E. L. Driver, father of the deceased's husband, was almost prostrate with grief over the death of his daughter-in-law, as were other members of the well-known family.

Funeral services are to be held today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. at the Saint's Home Church of God in Christ on 20th street, near Hooper. Rev. Louis M. Driver, brother-in-law to the deceased, will officiate. Burial will be in Rosedale cemetery, where Mrs. Driver's mother is at rest. The People's Funeral Home was in charge.

Beautician Is Held to Answer

Esora Bilbrew, beautician of 1115 E. Adams Blvd. was held to answer on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon at a hearing before Judge Robert Chambers in Division 3 of Municipal Court last Monday morning. The accused woman who was represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, did not take the stand during the hearing in which she was identified by Mrs. Willie Martin of 5321 Compton Avenue as the person who fired a shot through a window at that number on the morning of October 10th. According to the testimony of the Martin woman, two shots were fired, one of them going harmlessly through the door and the other lodging in the leg of Mrs. Sammie Richardson who was in bed at the time of the shooting.

Another witness against Mrs Bilbrew was George Potts who also lives at the Compton Avenue address. Mr. Potts testified that he did not witness the shooting and only heard the shots, but upon cross-examination by the attorney, both he and Mrs. Martin admitted that there had been a quarrel over a dice game prior to the shooting at which time Mrs. Bilbrew accused one of the participants in the game of using crooked dice. After being held to answer, Mrs. Bilbrew was ordered to appear with her Attorney in Department 41 November 4, for plea.

Funeral Rites Are Held for Virgil Ward

"A beloved husband . . and a faithful father."

This was the keynote of the sermon delivered by Rev. S. M. Beane Monday afternoon in the Ivory Chapel of The People's Funeral Home at the funeral of Virgil M. Ward, Sr., prominent young bussiness man whose sudden death last Wednesday was a shock to this community.

Mr. Ward, who at 38 had made a success of an unusual business — that of leather supplies — was cut down in the very prime of his life. Among his many friends, his devotion to his wife, Audrey, and to their three sons was well known. Virgil Ward, Jr., 18, his eldest son, had recently entered the employment of an aircraft company as a draftsman.

Mr. Ward, a native of Nagadoches, Tex., had lived in Los Angeles for 22 years. His firm, Virgil Ward and Son, was started in 1929, and will be carried on by his widow. In addition to other activities, Mr. Ward found time to do much work with the Boy Scouts. His hobbies were building model railroads with his sons, and playing golf. He was a member of the West Coast Golf Club.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Audrey Ward, three sons, Virgil, 18; Murphy Alfred, 8, and Richard James, 5, a mother, Mrs. Virginia Ward, Dallas; and by three brothers and sisters, also of Dallas.

Burial was at Lincoln Memorial cemetery, where Masonic rites by the B. F. Talbert Lodge No. 8, of which the deceased was a member, were observed.

To Reorganize 49th St. School P-TA

The reorganization of the 49th Street School P.T.A. will be held in the school auditorium, 49th St. and McKinley, 50th St. entrance, on Thursday, Oct. 29 at 1:15 p.m.

Mrs. Edward Walker, President of the Tenth District will be present. The principal, Mrs. Craft, will serve as the Hospitality Committee. We are expecting a large attendance.

Final Rites for Wilma Burt Held

With the Rev. Samuel Crouch in charge, the funeral of Mrs. Wilma Burt, 51, of 1633 E. Santa Barbara, was held Tuesday at 2 p.m., in the Church of God in Christ at 23rd and Hooper streets.

Mrs. Burt died of a heart attack on her front porch on Oct. 20. She was a native of Hartswille, Mo., had lived in this city for 14 years and was noted for her constant work in the church where she sang in the choir and belonged to several church clubs.

She is survived by a husband, Obie Burt, and by a sister, Mrs. Zella Hackworth, of Kansas City, Kan., who with a cousin, Mrs. Blanche Duncan of Glathe, Kan., came here for the funeral. Other survivors are a brother, Dewey Trout, of Detroit, a nephew, Burnell Reeves, of Los Angeles, and a niece, Edwina Clay, of Kansas City, Kan.

Burial was at Evergreen, with The People's Funeral Home in charge.

Postal Employees Take Stand to End Discrimination

We, the Post Office employees of the City of Los Angeles call upon you to assist us in removing all undemocratic practices from the Post Office Department both locally and nationally. We are in an all-out war and this war is being fought to guarantee forever democracy to all peoples. To reassure those who are willing to sacrifice their life, if need be. Let's coast aside pretense and set democracy to work.

Wishing to cooperate in the war effort one hundred per cent, we have been reluctant to voice our disapproval at this time. However, the realization that we must demonstrate that democracy is God's gift to man, has spurred us to take this action.

We ask that now and in the future that all position to be filled, whether by promotion or appointment be based on qualification, seniority, and merit. The spoils and patronage system should be abolished at once. Efficiency and high morale can only be built through recognition of merit, honesty and effort.

In most major cities like Los Angeles, after three years of satisfactory permanent employment, employees are given the opportunity to take a non-competitive examination. A non-competitive examination is given in competition with fellow employees only. The one receiving the highest mark over 70 is placed at the top of the list of regular substitutes to be called. The knowledge that a man may advance through application gives him an urge to improve himself. The giving of these examinations is left to the discretion of the local Postmaster. Although post office clerks have gone one record as favoring these examinations, and many individuals and organizations have requested them, our Postmaster, Mrs. Mary D. Briggs has refused to comply.

Contrary to the belief of many, the shortage of help in the Post Office is not entirely due to induction into the service. Many men have resigned because of resentment toward the supervision. Thiss ituation will continue unless their attitude changes.

Although the Post Office Cafeteria Association receives 40 per cent of its support from colored employees it has constantly refused to hire a colored girl behind the food counter. The excuse has been that the A.F. of L. with whom they have a contract refuses to take colored into the union. Now, we wonder just who is to blame. It looks like the old Army game, passing the buck. We have information that the A. F. of L. has colored waitresses working harmoniously with white waitresses in the Bay Region.

Most children ten years old know that strong lye solutions are injurious to the skin. Regardless of this fact a world war veteran with 14 years in the Army, and injured in line of duty is washing approximately 200 cuspidors with the aid of soap, concentrated lye, hot water, and a swab brush. The department has refused to furnish rubber gloves on the grounds of priorities. Men who wash toilet bowls, that are used by all types of people, with their bare hands, rag, and scouring powder are told there is no danger as long as they wash their hands good when they are through. We would appreciate knowing what the public thinks about this.

Let's put democracy to work by starting out in all government agencies. Will you help us?

United Federal Workers of America, Local No. 191. Paul L. Hackett, President.

Defense Worker Gets Probation for Drunk Driving

David Tipton, 1251 E. Adams Blvd., defense worker, was granted probation on a charge of drunk driving by Judge LeRoy Dawson in Division 28 of the Municipal Court last Friday evening, after his Attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, had made a moving plea for his release. Police officers testified that on the morning of September 19, while in a state of intoxication, Tipton ran his automobile into another car resulting in a serious collision in which Tipton was severely injured while enroute home at 3:00 a. m. from the Harlem Night Club where he had been since early in the evening. The Officers testified that although Tipton was bleeding at the time they reached the scene, he was heavily intoxicated and his breath was rank with the odor of hard liquor. Due to the recently promulgated severe penalties being meted out to persons convicted of drunk driving, Judge Dawson was apparently about to give the man a lengthy jail sentence; but his Attorney pointed out that the man was working in a defense plant and that his services were badly needed, whereupon the Judge decided to suspend the sentence and grant probation.

★ POST OFFICE FACTS & FIGURES

PAUL L. HACKETT, Sr.

The United Federal Workers of America Local No. 191 and the National Postal Alliance wish to Angeles for the invaluable support they have given them. There are more perplexing problems which require immediate attention. To this end we seek the continued support of our loyal friends.

Those who have sat in post office conferences are aware of the intrigue used in interpreting Postal Law and Regulation. For this reason it is very essential that every case be carefully prepared. All complaints must be specific and substantiated. It is also very important that parties filing a complaint have a fair knowledge of postal procedures.

That all complaints might be more effective we recommend that all individuals and outside organizations enlist the aid of some post office organization. The Postal Alliance and the UFWA are both progressive organizations and are working harmoniously together to obtain better working conditions in the post office. Jesse Robinson will gladly advise any person in need of counsel; he is always in there fighting.

We are happy to make the following announcements: Bro. Osberry S. Lott, who has been acting elevator operator foreman at the Terminal Annext for the past two years, has been promoted to guard at the Main Post Office. Best wishes, Lott; personally, I think you deserved a berth as elevator foreman with all the trimmings. Bro. Arthur Washington is leaving us to be a guard at the M. O. Bro. Wash., you can't do that to me. Bro. Eric Neuhaus goes to the M. O. also as guard. He tells me it means a few more chops on the table; maybe a potato too. Bro. Thomas (Silent) Alexander has been elevated to lampist by way of ladder. Tommy, I don't know of anyone I would rather see make the grade and I do mean you. Bro. Walter (Punk) Shirley has achieved his goal. He tells me something he expects to make and find himself in heaven (fourth floor). Punk, it must be swell to wear out the seat of your drapes sitting. Papa Papa Bruce Owsley, I hope all the rest of your heirs will be girls; that rope you gave me has still got me down. Old man William Owens passed out cheeroots the day I was off. (that's his story, so I'll let it stick.) I believe this makes son number five, Doxology Bro. Owens.

With the help of God and our good friends we hope to leave for Washington the first week in November. The object of the trip is to clarify legislation and grievances we have failed to solve locally. Our hold-back is greenback and any contribution will be cheerfully received.

If we are not willing to help fight our own battles, don't expect the other fellow to fight them for you.

Mrs. Nola Hammonds Dead

Death came as a merciful release from many months of suffering for Mrs. Nola Hammonds of 750 E. 52 Street on Monday morning at 6:30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Conciella Morris, 2018 W. 31 Street where she has been since coming from the hospital last July. Mrs. Hammonds had been in poor health for the past two years, but she became confined to her bed last March where she remained until her death.

A native of Louisiana, Mrs. Hammonds come to Los Angeles from Shreveport in 1925. Besides Mrs. Morris, she is survived by one other daughter, Mrs. Josie Colley, a teacher in the public schools of Shreveport; a son, Warren Hammonds of Los Angeles; three grand-children, Mrs. Mavice Wallette of Shreveport, Betty and Warren Hammonds, Jr.; two sons-in-law, Hurlon Morris of Los Angeles and Alonzo Colley of Shreveport, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services under direction of the Angelus Funeral Parlor, were held from Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church of which the deceased was a member, Thursday afternoon, October 22 at 2 o'clock, Rev. Cleaves officiating.

"Listen Folks"

WE conductors and motormen and bus drivers are human, too.

We don't spend all our lives on streetcars and coaches. When we go home after a tough day we read the papers, listen to the radio, play with the kids, or go to a civilian defense meeting, same as you.

What we're getting at is that we know your problems because they're our problems, too. We know that service on our lines isn't as good as it used to be.

We're not apologizing, understand. We're doing our best under war time conditions.

So bear with us, folks. Our job is to get you to your job — and we're going to do it, come what may!

EASTERN-COLUMBIA

Central at 45th Street

On Sunday evening, October 18th, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Owens, of West 37th street, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at Camille's Party Den, 848 East Adams Blvd. While Miss Eleanor Rayford played appropriate music, the attendants, Mrs. Alice Dugan and Mrs. Dorothy Owens (in evening gowns) preceded Mrs. Owens down the stairway at the foot of which waited Mr. Owens. The group then proceeded to the living room where Father Moore performed the blessing crmony at 8:00 p.m. Mrs. Owns' gown was of blue flowered satin and she wore satin shoes. Many beautiful letters, presents, and telegrams were received by the couple congratulating them. As an extra gift Mrs. Neysa Washington (nee Owens) presented the happy couple with a grandchild. Mother and baby are doing nicely at home.

Lawrence Travis Home Scene of Double Wedding Reception

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Travis, 861 E. 117th street was the scene of a lovely double wedding reception given by the hostess, Mrs. Blanchette Travis, in honor of the two new brides and grooms: Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Pease, nee, Elodee Streety; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Suarez, nee, Pauline Sims.

Both brides looked adoringly lovely as more than 200 guests greeted the happy couple during the appointed hours showering them with beautiful gifts. The home so lavishly arranged with gorgeous Dahlias, Gladioli, and other beautiful flowers gave a real setting for such an affair. The surprise event of this lovely affair was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Juanita Lo Dickinson to Mr. Wilson Matlock. As each guest was served, he discovered uniquely concealed tiny envelopes bearing announcement cards of the bethroded.

Mrs. Travis gorgeously gowned in lace over crepe was ably assisted in receiving guests by Miss Isobell West, Juanita Dickinson, Mrs. Anna Lankford, Miss Essie Mae Hurd, Mrs. Mabel Nelson, Mrs. Hazel McClain, Mrs. Susie Huggard, Miss Helen Douglass.

Among the many out of town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Revaul; Mrs. Olivia Guy of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Doris of Beaumont, Tex; Mrs. Lewis Houston; Bishop and Mrs. Washington; Rev. and Mrs. Lively; Miss Fay Lively; Mr. Spicer; Mrs. Martha Dickinson; Mr. Douglas Pease; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson; Mrs. Whitifield; Mrs. Elcock; Mrs. Doris; Mrs. A. Albritton; Mrs. Guy; Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown; Mrs. Prince; Mr. Hordon; Mr. and Mrs. S. Robinson and many others.

Mr. Jessee Pease, one of the grooms, is now with Douglas Aircraft Co. Mr. Suarez is a seaman with the Merchant Marines. The bride, Mrs. Elodee Pease, has been with Blanchette Beauty Salon for eight years. Mrs. Suarez has been with Blanchette's for six years, and the bride-elect, Miss Juanita Dickinson, two years.

MRS. MARGARET WRIGHT, one of the speakers at the tea Sunday evening at 4033 Wall street. Her subject was "Three Words to Young People." Mrs Wright, one of the outstanding artists of the Mount Zion Baptist church, is a graduate of the McDonald Beauty College of Los Angeles and a pupil of a prominent musician, Mrs. Luvenia Nash.

Cliff, Henry Bennett Visit Mother on Ranch

Spending last week-end on the Arizona ranch of their mother, Mrs. Willie Morris, were Cliff and Henry Bennett, prominent in the city's social life.

Mrs. Hope Bennett, wife of Cliff Bennett, and Mrs. Ann Weaver King, both well known here, have been vacationing on the Morris ranch, which is called "The Gateway Ranch."

NARCISSUS ART AND LITERARY CLUB RESUMES WORK

After a brief vacation, the Narcissus Art and Literary club has resumed activities. All officers were reelected and installed in an impressive ceremony by Mrs. Willamae Brackin. Mrs. Georgia Banks Leroy is embarking upon a third successive year as president of the club. Mrs. Banks Leroy brought back a splendid report from the state convention of the Federation of Colored Women's clubs that convened in Oakland.

The club is happy to announce that she has been elected state organizer for the southern section. Anxious to aid in the war effort, the club has added to its many activities a Red Cross First Aid course, which is being taught by an experienced instructor from headquarters. We wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who have assisted the club in anyway during the past seventeen years.

Art and Charity Club Exhibit Sunday

The Los Angeles Art and Charity club met with Mrs. Epsie Hayman in Zamora St., October 23. The hostess served a delicious repast of fresh shrimp salad. All members are busy putting last-minute touches on their pieces of art for their coming exhibit Sunday, November 1, from 3 until 6 p.m., at the Elks Temple, second floor, 4016 S. Central. We welcome you to this affair.

The joint socials were given by the L. A. Tri-Y Club of which Miss Marilyn Williams is president. La Vonne Patterson, Sec'y. and Mrs. Emily Brown Portwig is adviser.

Reciprocity Club Women Meet Extols

The initial meet of the Reciprocity Club of the California State Association of Colored Women, was held last Sunday, October 15 at Second Baptist church. The confab was attended by scores of enthusiastic members and friends. The meet was presided over by Mrs. Ardelia Anglin, State Association president.

Numerous presidents of the various clubs making up the association membership, heard Mrs. Anglin, ardently urged them to do their utmost to make their every effort in these perilous times count. Her slogan was "Build, Build, Build". All clubs were urged to join the reciprocity move and within the present body of the association.

An inspiring devotional was led by the club Chaplain, Mrs. E. A. Johnson, to touch off the highly interesting program. A new club effort was introduced during the meet. It will henceforth be known as The Woman's Council of Service. Led by its first President, the Rev. Anna McMillan, the group promises to perform with unselfish zeal all those deeds of kindness, charity, and mercy so sorely needed at this time.

Members and officers of the Women's Council of Service were feted Tuesday night at a reception given at 901 East 116th St., Bldgett Manor. A public reception will be held Sunday in honor of the State president of the California State Association of Colored Women's Clubs, at the Sojourner Truth Home, Adams and Central. A splendid program has been arranged, according to publicity released through a press committee, consisting of Mrs. Frances Inlowe, chairman and the Rev. Maybel L. Oliver and Anna McMillan.

Bridge Authority Is Inducted

M. L. Milligan, nationally recognized contract bridge authority, lecturer-writer and a certified Master Culherton teacher, one time columnist for such leading papers as the California Eagle, Los Angeles Sentinel and the Chicago Defender, is A-1 in the army. He reported for induction as a candidate for officers training on the 28th of October.

Many affairs were given in his honor over the week-end. The most outstanding were a party given by the G.W.B.A. and dinners given by Mr. and Mrs. Veil and Mrs. Rosa Coleman As one of the founders of the G.W.B.A. and president of the L. A. School of Bridge, he will surely be missed by his many friends

F. Douglas Farrell is pastor. In the afternoon, she will appear at St. Paul Baptist church, 21st and Naomi streets, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Gospel Choral Union promptly at 3 o'clock, at which time, the pastor, Rev. S. A. Williams will extend Miss Martin and the Union aheartywelcome. All who love the Lord avail themselves of the golden opportunity to hear this great singer who has inspired thousands and helped hundreds to improve their talents to sing.

Webb Infant Christened at Long Beach

Baby Lillian Teresa Webb was christened Sunday at St. Anthony's Catholic church in Long Beach, wearing the tiny christening robe of lace and finely tucked batiste, which her father, LeeRoy J. Webb, wore 22 years ago. The Rev. Father Sullivan performed the baptismal rites in the presence of members of the family and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drape were the child's godfather and godmother. Baby Lillian is the grand-daughter of Mrs. E. C. Hammond, of Santa Barbara. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Haskin. A small luncheon was served at the home of the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy J. Webb, for the participants in the christening rites. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. ★ GOLDEN WEST BRIDGE

All attendance records of the Golden West Bridge Club were broken when on Friday, October 23, the largest group ever to play duplicate gathered together on the east side. Twenty-one pairs took part in the most popular of our three weekly plays. However, we are not contented with this turnout, as there are enough good bridge players within easy reach of our club room to have forty pairs at each of our three weekly pairs. We urge you to bring a new player whenever you can. To the surprise of the regulars, George Whisenaut won the October Friday series of plays. November is hospitality month. All C.W.B.A. members are asked to bring a player who has never played with us, or at least one who has not played regularly. Friday, October 30, the A.L. Cross trophy will be in play. Agnes Beal, Clyde Maddox, Joe Henry, or Ellis Veil will have this beautiful trophy in possession if either of them wins this play. Can you prevent it?

In Sunday's twenty player individual, Viola Henry won first place, Clarence Ennis, second and Louise Roon, third. The G.W.B.A. in particular and the bridge world on a whole have been thrown for a great loss by Uncle Sam. The one and only M. L. Milligan has been called to the colors. He was to report Wednesday, October 28 (yesterday). We are not grieving, as we know that our loss is Uncle Sam's gain, and that M. L. will give a good account of himself in whatever capacity he may fulfill. We wish him a safe return to his duties of helping to promote scientific bridge.

Have you made plans to go to the club room when gas rationing goes into effect? Better do so now, for we cannot afford to sit home and go to seed. The date for our Women's pair and Men's pair regional is November 14 and 15. You mast take part in this match. Get your partner now.

UCLA Out to Down Indians Thru Air

The coast's two best lines face each other Saturday afternoon in the Memorial Coliseum when the UCLA Bruins, coast conference leaders, and the Indians of Stanford university tangle in a conference football hindig.

Beating down Saturday's opposition by identical scores — Stanford 14, USC 6; and UCLA 14, Santa Clara 6 — both squads will be in top shape for the coming grid party.

According to information from Westwood, Coach Babe Horrell has his boys concentrating on passing this week. Attention also is being paid to blocking and tackling.

Bob Waterfield, UCLA quarterback, and last season's best passer on the western slope, has been pegging the ball over the practice field, for of the 9 tallies scored on the Indians this year, all were a result of aerials.

WOMAN'S DAY IS OBSERVED BY RIVERSIDE CHURCH

Members and friends of Second Baptist Church, Riverside, will enjoy a very wonderful day Sunday, which is Woman's Day. In the afternoon there will be a program by the Mother's Club with Mrs. V. B. Armstrong, president. The soldiers will be entertained.

Sweet Martin and De Vonne Armstrong are returning to Chicago after spending the summer with her mother and his grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Wiley, 3350 High Street. De Vonne played his piano accordion on a number of programs and hours some day to master his music. He will also return to his school where he will have to study very hard. He is hoping to see all his friends next year where he really enjoyed himself in Lincoln Park. Mrs. Martin enjoyed a delicious breakfast at the home of Mrs. E. A. Williams, October 8.

Pastor, members and friends of Allen Chapel enjoyed a real spiritual lass Sunday afternoon when Rev. J. D. Gordon of Los Angeles preached to soldiers of the cross and soldiers of U. S. Army. Although the U. S. soldiers were few, friends of long years ago with friends of today, greeted the man of God and wished him well on his way. Re-

JOLLY HOOSIERS MEET IN CROWN CITY

Indiana State club held it regular Third Sunday Monthly Meeting Sunday, October 18, 1942, between 3 and 6 o'clock P. M. at the beautiful, Spanish villa-type home of Mrs. Emogene Edson of 823 Manzanita Ave., Pasadena, with Mrs. Lonnie Collier presiding over the forty members present at the meeting.

Highlights of the social gathering were the address by the Rev. Wood, Randolph Johnson of a sermon entitled "A Fool That Was" rendered by Mrs. Mayme Young. The Rev. Johnson is a young minister of youth of the Pasadena First A.M.E. church.

Honor guests included Mr. and Mrs. Rice Singleton and their two children, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Mayme Kimbrough, Shelbyville, Ind.; Mrs. Rupy Greene Burnside and Mr. Grant Burnside, Hill City, Kans.; and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Edson of Indianapolis.

Plans for both a social and a benevolent Yuletide were considered. The next meeting will freshments were served in the dining hall.

The community welcomes the opening of the Woodson's Cafe just off Park Avenue on 12th St.

Northern Ushers Union Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Northern California Ushers Union was held at San Mateo, Sunday, October 18, with the St. James A.M.E. Zion ushers as hosts, the Rev. B. L. Carson, Pastor. The meeting was opened as usual by our chaplain, Mr. Dewey Allen. Mrs. Opal Lewis, the delegate to the national convention, gave a very complete and interesting report on the convention. A letter from the president of the National Ushers Association, commending Mrs. Lewis on her wonderful work as national organizer, was read and well received. The meeting was then adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brown invited us to their spacious home in Delaware street for the social hour. All sorts of delicious food and drinks were served, games were played, pictures were taken, and a gala time was had by all.

Democrats First to Take Stand on Race Bias Issue

With the November general election close at hand, Negro members of both the Democratic and Republican parties have been anxious to hear what their leaders have to say on the question of discrimination. Due to the fact that Republican Earl Warren topped incumbent Gov. Culver L. Olson in the primaries for the gubernamental seat, it is conceded that as before, a hard battle will take place between the two, and that as before, the more than 100,000 Negro votes in the state may prove the balance of power.

State heads of the Democratic party have sent an answer to inquiries from the Associated Negro Press, and one from the Republicans is expected momentarily.

Straight from the shoulder is the Democratic Party platform on this question. It is in line with Governor Olson's enlightened stand on this question and his several appointments of Negroes to administration posts in this state. Here is the Democratic Party pledge on this question:

"Racial Discrimination Impedes our War Effort. — On the home front we recognize that civil rights must be preserved and we will fight racial discrimination with all our powers. By putting into immediate practice one of the tenets of the new democracy we are fighting for, we not only set an example to all other states but actually increase the manpower available for production. All racial groups, especially our Negro population and our citizens of Mexican descent, deserve and will receive equal opportunities in education, work and in every war activity. We pledge ourselves to provide the machinery for the enforcement, so far as it lies within the state's power, of the Fair Employment Practices Act. Not only is it essential ot provide jobs within war plants, but training centers, schools and other preparatory facilities must be kept open for all on a basis of complete equality, regardless of race, color or creed."

Proposition No. 3 Would Hurt Chiropractors

At the coming election there will appear on the ballot an initiative Proposition No. 3, called the Basic Science Act. The true motive of the act is carefully disguised under the pretense of raising the educational standards of osteopaths and chiropractors.

As a matter of fact, the educational standards (required hours of study of subjects like anatomy, etc.) of the osteopaths are higher than those of the M. D.'s, as may be proved by consulting the printed curricula of the various schools.

The basic science subjects recommended in the act allow a smaller number of hours than the chiropractors have as a requirement for their education right now.

But that is only pretense. The true purpose of the bill is as monopolistic and fascistic as any piece of legislation you will find anywhere—as Proposition No. 1 is, for example. It places in the hands of a small board of college professors who are medically-minded and controlled by the monopolistic AMA, the completet power to license—or deny license to—all drugless doctors, osteopaths and chiropractors in this state.

DISCRIMINATION

In the State of Washington, where a similar Basic Science Bill has been in operation for several years, the non-medical professions are slowly dying of strangulation by discrimination, and there is pending in the Supreme Court a case accusing the board of maliciously discriminating against chiropractor candidates for licenses.

Documentary evidence there introduced shows clearly where chiropractors were marked wrong and M. D.'s right for exactly the same answer in the same subject Chiropractors were rejected with a grade of 80 per cent, and M. D.'s passed with 39 per cent, etc., etc.

The labor unions in Los Angeles have already come out as opposed to Proposition No. 3. Vote no on No. 3 and No 16, which is a cat of the same litter.

There never was so much fuss about chiropractors or drugless therapy until the people in large numbers began to employ this method to restore their health. There is a reason, Chiropractors get results.

Again we say, do not VOTE YOUR RIGHTS AWAY. VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION NO. 3, AND NO. 16.

Hurl Challenges at Earl Warren

Earl Warren today was challenged to two public debates with Governor Culbert L. Olson, one in Los Angeles and the other in Sacramento, in an open letter signed by Lou N. Small, campaign director here for the Democratic State Central Committee.

If Warren accepts, a small admission charge will be made with the proceeds going to the United War Relief Committee and the USO, the committee said.

Capt. Hugh Mulzac, history making first Negro Captain of a U. S. vessel, is seen here aboard the S.S. Booker T. Washington, shaking hands with Rev. C. Townsend Tucker, president of the American Anti-Prejudice Society, Inc., of 4406½ So. Central Ave., Los Angeles. They have just returned from the first trial trip out the harbor where the ship was launched. Rev. Tucker is congratulating Capt. Mulzac on behalf of the 15,000,000 negroes of America.

VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE said of Poll-Tax Congressman Martin Dies, "He should be on Hitler's payroll." The little Martin Dies of California is JACK TENNEY, aspirant for State Senator from Los Angeles.

WHY? Mr. Warren?

WHY do you attempt to insult the intelligence of every voter in California with your loud protests of nonpartisanship?

Take off that mask!

WE know that Herbert Hoover calls you "Earl."

WE know that you have always been on the reactionary side of the Republican Party . . . that you think Wendell Willkie is a species of Communist.

WHY do you keep talking of your record as a law enforcement officer?

Every informed person in California knows that record to be as synthetic as your nonpartisanship.

They know about Mark Megladdery and they know why you waited over a year AFTER you knew the score to prosecute at a time when it would be to your greatest POLITICAL advantage.

They know that you used that prosecution as a means of committing the political murder of Frank Merriam.

And they know all about the dice games in every cigar store in your own Alameda County and about your long record in Emeryville.

WHY, Mr. Warren, didn't you clean up the vice resorts in the Military Areas, instead of leaving it up to Governor Olson to have it done at the direct request of the Western Army Command?

WHY don't you prosecute the murder charge hanging over Charlie Real, the only Union Labor man supporting you in Alameda County?

WHY, Mr. Warren, did you circularize the Japanese in the concentration camps during the Primaries? We have the proof that you did, Mr. Warren.

WHY did you violate the Primary Election Law by reporting under oath campaign expenditures of only $2,600 when you must have known of expenditures of over $150,000.00?

WHY, Mr. Warren, did you let your actor friend come up with that idea about "loyal Democrats"? Don't you know that every Democrat who sees one of those signs immediately asks himself . . . "Loyal to WHAT?"

TAKE OFF YOUR MASK, MR. WARREN, and run under the true colors of a Republican reactionary . . . WHICH YOU ARE!

The bill applies to all kinds of organizations that deal, in "whole or part," with labor conditions as to wages, hours of employment, or conditions of employment.

This would mean, for instance, that in Negro districts where business houses depend entirely upon Negro trade, that it will be against the law for Negro organizations to insist that such establishments employ Negro help. Upon refusal of such Negro organizations to patronize it, and to ask others to refuse, would be a violation.

Miss Anita Whitney Is Heard Here

Miss Anita Whitney, only woman candidate for state wide office, running for State Controller on the Communist Party ticket, has arrived in Los Angeles for the southern part of her election campaign tour and will remain here through Sunday, October 25. Miss Whitney, who is a native of California, a member of the old, well known, pioneer Whitney family, and a leader in this state ofr many years in such movements as women's suffrage, repeal of the Criminal Syndicalism law, and the freeing of Tom Mooney, will speak at a number of public meetings in Los Angeles.

Highlighted in the program of the seventy-five year old veteran campaigner will be a city-wide campaign workers' rally to be held on Friday evening, October 23, at the Embassy Convention Hall, from which Miss Whitney will speak to radio listeners over station K.F.I. at ten-fifteen. A second radio broadcast in which Miss Whitney will be joined by Mrs. La Rue McCormick, candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles, will take place Monday night, October 19, at six-thirty over station K.F.W.B.

A huge second front rally at which Miss Whitney will speak is scheduled for seven-thirty Saturday night, October 24, at Brooklyn and Breed. Other special gatherings at which Miss Whitney will appear are an evening meeting of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, Tuesday night, October 20th, at the C.I.O. building, 5851 Avalon; a rally for workers from the large Los Angeles garment industry Thursday, October 22, at five-thirty in the afternoon in the Embassy Auditorium; an evening reception on Wednesday, October 21 in Boyle Heights, arranged by the East Side Whitney Campaign Committee; and a symposium of political candidates organized by the West Side study club of the Democratic Youth Federation for eight-thirty Thursday night.

'Yes' on Prop. 1 Will Stop Labor Rackets, Says Speaker

Declaring "Hot Cargo and Secondary Boycott" will in a short space of time cancel all of the immense war effort which California has put forth, Randolph Van Nostrand, state director of the Committee for Proposition No. 1, in a series of factual discussions before representative groups throughout the country this week urged a strong "YES" vote of Proposition No. 1.

"Organized labor does not favor Hot Cargo," Van Nostrand said. "It is, rather, a scheme of certain unscrupulous labor organziers and it is known in labor circles as a 'boss racket.' A 'YES' vote on Proposition No. 1 will outlaw Hot Cargo and the Secondary Boycott for the duration of the war."

"In one case," Van Nostrand said, "after employees of a large hardware company had rejected union membership by a 3 to 1 vote and the management had refused to force them to join, all merchandise from that company was declared 'hot' and could not be transported. Sixty percent of that merchandise was direct war material. Work in war plants was delayed.

"In still another instance a company engaged in the manufacture of paper food containers asked for a labor board election. This request was refused by union leaders who tied up a shipment of containers destined for soldiers in the Canal Zone. In order to release this necessary material, the army was finally forced to send an armed 'jeep' to go through the picket line for the receptacles.

"These are but a few of the many instances in which certain men are taking advantage of our wartime preoccupation," Van Nostrand concluded, "and if we are to continue our production effort we must suspend the practices of 'Hot Cargo and Secondary Boycott' for the duration. A 'YES' vote on Proposition No. 1 will create a situation which is fair and favorable to both labor and management and which will enforce the promises of labor leaders."

Two new appointments recently announced by Mrs. Kinnear are Mrs. Milton Transchel, music chairman and Mrs. Langfield, membership chairman.

Mass Blood Test Survey Held

Over 125 persons, meeting as guests of the Southwest District Health Association and the Pueblo Del Rio Housing Development, join in a mass voluntary blood test survey in the President's nation-wide campaign to eliminate wasted manpower due to syphilis. Invited to show a film on venereal diseases by the manager of the development, Mr. Cosby Turner, the Health Association followed it up by a special blood test demonstration, "on the spot." Tests were free to everyone, and purely voluntary. It's all in good fun, as the smiling residents testify.

Parliamentary Piffle Perils California

Pared down to the essentials, the legislature's controversy over the California State Guard resolves itself into a deplorable demonstration of political inability to perceive or act upon fundamental values.

The equation is very simple:

California urgently needs a well-equipped and well-trained State Guard to maintain internal peace and order, and to police the State's vital utilities, communications and defense factories.

The California State Guard is already in being. It is composed of veteran officers and men of proven ability and experience.

But the State Guard needs equipment and must be paid.

So the question is simply whether California's internal safety is worth ten million dollars, the modest amount provided for in Senate Bill No. 2.

The rest of the controversy is the sheerest parliamentary piffle.

Furthermore, it is exactly the kind of procrastination, of fumbling, indecision and parsimonious timidity that delights and encourages the alert, unscrupulous enemy.

Let not the legislature imagine for a minute that this enemy is a remote and vague figure. Let no one sit in bland complacency and belittle the danger or the need.

California is a theater of war, a glittering and rich objective to the saboteur, the spy, the dynamiter and arsonist, quite as much as to the uniformed forces now arrayed against us, quick with the daring born of first successes.

California's job is to be prepared to meet all POSSIBLE attacks, and all IMPOSSIBLE attacks as well. This war has taught one great lesson, that any and everything is POSSIBLE, and that ruinous defeat has always visited the peoples too lax, too blind and too naive to neglect COMPLETE PREPARATION.

The United States Army and Navy have learned that lesson.

They are now fending off, seeking out and gallantly wrestling with the military enemy. California cannot throw its own burden on the American national forces.

Governor Olson has been very wise and patriotic in his attitude, very temperate and very judicious.

He has made himself a great many friends and probably has assured his re-election.

The lower house of the legislature has shown itself incompetent in peace and improvident in war.

California must look out for itself, and the California State Guard is the practical, efficient instrument for the purpose.

GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 3

BARNES: Forward looking, with a background of executive experience that amply qualifies him to cope with present-day county governmental problems.

Barnes' Program

1. Elimination of waste and extravagance by consolidating all offices where such mergers may be executed without reduction in efficiency.
2. Sponsoring all proper legislation to provide that the home of every citizen must be protected from confiscation when it is shown by the home owner that through circumstances beyond his control is unable to meet tax demands.
3. Charter amendments and sponsoring of adequate legislation to eliminate wasteful and technical detail in the administration of county government.
4. The use of gas tax money allocated to the city and county governments in improving such heavily-traveled arteries as 28th street, Sixth avenue, University, University Extension and Mission Valley road.
5. A Charter amendment to provide that no county body can expend funds to purchase county lands, parks, and buildings after the people have voted "no."
6. To encourage and assist in further improvements and developments of the 4th District Bay-Shore line.
7. A sane and sensible administration of county business without regard to political pull, and vigorous opposition to any political organization that would serve the interests of a favored few against the rights and welfare of the general public.

SAN DIEGANS!

Come to Logan Avenue School this evening and hear the issues of the campaign discussed!

We are faced with the most important elections since the Administration of Abraham Lincoln. We are faced with a historic moment in which our every action will contribute toward victory or defeat for our nation, for our own cherished aspirations of freedom, and for the whole civilized world. America, no part of America, certainly not San Diego, center of humming defense industry, can afford to elect pro-Fascists, defeatists, appeasers, Negro-haters, or labor-baiters to public office. Such men and women at any other time are dangerous. Today they may be fatal.

This is a win-the-war election. An election for those who will advance the war effort through recognizing the right of EVERY American to participate in it.

The candidates whose names we present on this page represent men and women qualified as progressive, win-the-war candidates for the positions they seek. They offer themselves as the servants of a warring people. Their labor records insure protection against exploitation of working men and women. It is they who will carry forward the integration of all citizens in the war effort. They are pledged to adequate appropriations for health and housing in this State.

The candidates recognize and appreciate the fact that Culbert L. Olson, the Governor of the People of California and not a favored few, who have and always seek to make slaves of the working people and keep minority groups fighting one another.

We recommend that you keep Olson, Governor; elect Mary Fay to the Assembly from the 78th District; Charles Calhoun, State Senator; Kathryn T. Milhouse, member of the State Assembly from the 79th District; Ed V. Izac to Congress; Walter Barnes as Supervisor of the Fourth District. If you wish to vote the PEOPLE'S TICKET, take this list with you when you go to the polls.

These men and women will help defeat Hitler. They will help construct a new world of peace and democracy!

Take This Ticket to the Polls With You on Nov. 3

The candidates whose names appear on this Ticket stand for a real

Win-the-War Program

Victory slogans are meaningless unless tied to definite commitments. Here's their program —

1. Mobilization of resources and manpower for all-out war — thus speeding time when second front can be opened.
2. Labor-management cooperation on equal basis. No slavery for labor.
3. Pensions as a right instead of charity.
4. Reduction of sales tax which puts burden on wage earners.
5. Equality for women in industry.

Dr. Morris Heard in San Diego

SAN DIEGO.—Charles Satchell Morris, ILI, noted preacher and lecturer of Los Angeles, was a week-end visitor in San Diego, the guest of Calvary Baptist church, where he delivered two exceptionally fine sermons Sunday and also addressing a large audience in the late afternoon.

Rev. N. T. Melton has temporarily charge of the church awaiting the call of a new pastor.

PHILADELPHIA ROYAL GIANTS LOSE

The coming of the Philadelphia Royal Giants to San Diego Sunday drew a record crowd to Lane field at 2.45 p.m. to witness the much-talked-of big game between the Kent Parker All-Stars and the famous eastern base-ball team. And although the game was full of excitement and thrills, the all-Stars barely won out, 5 to 4, in the 10th inning.

Mr. W. R. Taylor, superintendent of mails at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation plant, and Mrs. Diverson, an employee in that department, were visitors in Los Angeles Sunday.

Count Basie, famous orchestra leader, and his musicians were in the city for a week's engagement at the Orpheum.

Mr. Frederick M. Roberts of Los Angeles, manager of the Roberts Funeral Home and one of the executives of the USO was a visitor in San Diego for a few hours Sunday having come here to take part in the opening of the San Diego USO for the 10th Cavalry and other soldiers and sailors in the vicinity. Owing to a previous engagement, Mr. Roberts was unable to remain for participation on the program.

Dr. H. B. Hawes, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, will be the guest speaker at La Jolla Union church, Sunday, Oct. 25 at 7:30 p.m. His subject will be "The Blackout." Dr. Hawes was at one time moderator of the Los Angeles Presbytery.

Hold Funeral Rites for Lynn Starr, San Diegan

The funeral of Mr. Lynn Starr, who met death Sunday, October 11, when the truck which he was driving on highway 80 got out of control, was held Saturday afternoon, October 17 from Calvary Baptist church.

Mr. Starr was a long time resident of San Diego, and the community was shocked at his sudden death. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Mary Starr; a mother, brothers and sisters. Burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. W. E. Tucker, who has been the guest of Mrs. Alex McPherson for the past 10 days, returned to her home in Elsinore Saturday.

Elder W. D. Peterson of Dallas, Tex., is in the city to conduct a series of revival services at the Church of God in Christ beginning early this week.

Wendell Lipscomb, one of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lipscomb of this city has been added to the staff of flight instructors at Field No. 11 at Tuskegee Institute. The other two boys are making rapid advances in the branch of the service with which each is connected.

Listed among the sick are Mrs. Mattie Sommerville, 2963 Imperial avenue, Mrs. Jewel Williams, in a local hospital, and Mr. George Johnson, owner of Johnson's Barbecue Cafe, on South 30th street, who is doing nicely in Paradise Sanatorium after having undergone surgery.

NINTH GRADE CLUB

The Club meets each Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. The following officers were elected at our last meeting: President, Sylvia Hobson; Vice President, Kathleen Wagner; Secretary, Shirley Sayales and Treasurer, Edna Davis.

When J. Warren Moss, outstanding young civic leader left last week to train for the army air corps at Tuskegee, he not only bore the Godsends of many friends of both races but a message sent by Governor Culbert L. Olson.

Presidents Installed at First AME; Hold Council

On last Sunday evening the presidents of the clubs and auxiliaries of the First A.M.E. church, 801 Towne avenue, were installed in a beautiful and inspiring ceremony by the Pastor, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan. The award for the largest attendance at the service was won by the "Sarah Allen Woman's Mite Missionary society of which Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan is the president, and the award for the largest offering was won by the "Usher Board No. 2," Mr. Flipper Fairchild, president.

At the residence of the Pastor on Wednesday night, the Annual Council of the Presidents was held, and the work of the organizations for the conference year laid out. It was revealed today that the clubs agreed to undertake an aggregate budget of more than $5000. The major portion of this budget will go into the Building Fund Reserve being accumulated by the church to meet the Expansion Program contemplated by the administration at the close of the war. Early activities of the organizations include "The Anniversary Program" of the Here Am I club, Sunday evening, November 8; a Dinner by the "Get Acquainted" club, Saturday, November 14, at the residence of the president, Mrs. Jessie Herrell, 824 E. Jefferson Blvd.; "The Anniversary" of the Emergency Club, Sunday evening November 15; a Gospel Musical by the Stewardess Board No. 3, Sunday afternoon of November 22, are also planned. This day will also be observed by the Decorateur club as their Annual Harvest Home Day. A delicious Turkey Dinner will be served free to many of the aged and indigent members who will be guests of the club or some friend.

Dr. Jordan, who will leave shortly to attend certain important conferences of his Church in the East and South, will preach at the Morning Worship from the subject "Crucified Unto The World." The Holy Communion will be administered at the Morning and Evening Hour. Church officials are expecting an unusual participation at this service as a result of their intensive efforts on behalf of World Communion Day last month.

10th Anniversary Conference Date Set

REV. HERBERT A. FOSTER
Founder-President

The Tenth Anniversary Session of "The Unity of Christian Faith Conference" will be held at the Avalon Christian Church, Rev. Baxter C. Duke, Pastor, and First Vice President of Conference, Thursday and Friday November 19 and 20, with the possibility of a Mass Meeting Sunday afternoon November 22. Rev. Herbert A. Foster, President, announced this week.

The onward march of the Christian Church today demands a Spiritual Oneness or Unity as expressed by St. Paul in Ephesians 4. Past antipithy and unbrotherliness must be replaced by genuine Love for all the people of God, with the desire to meet on a common basis and in genuine christian fellowship.

The Conference Committee will meet this Friday evening at 7:30 P.M. at the residence of Mrs. Minnie Bates, 1213 E. 57 street. Ministers and others interested are invited to attend.

Plan Special Services at St. Paul

On Thursday, November 5th, at 7:30 P.M., the Unveiling of a set of expensive and colossal organ chimes in connection with a dedicatory service will be conducted by the following Pastors, their choirs and congregations. The choirs will number two hundred and fifty voices, including an orchestra from Long Beach, Calif.

Master of Ceremonies, Dr. Clayton D. Russel, Peoples' Independent Church.

Dedicatory Prayer, Dr. W. D. Carter, Friendship Baptist Church, Pasadena.

Dedicatory Message, Dr. Rusthoi, Long Beach, Calif.

Unveiling of Chimes, Dr. J. L. Caston, Trinity Baptist Church.

This occasion promises to be more than significant, and far reaching in its scope, than any previous undertaking; therefore, all Pastors in the city and their congregations are invited. The public also is requested to be present.

Sunday, October 25th, was a day long to be remembered and never forgotten, in St. Paul. Through gospel singing and preaching the church overflowed with the presence of the Holy Ghost. There were nineteen accessions, and a great financial success.

Program will appear later.

What have we to expect?—Anything.

What have we to fear? — Nothing.

What have we to hope for? — Everything.

For the battle's not our's BUT GOD'S.

Attend services at Second Church next Sunday.

Dr. Anderson Visits His Ex-Pastorate

Dr. James C. Anderson, minister of Williams CME Temple, Shreveport, La., former minister of Phillips Temple CME Church when it was Phillips Chapel CME Church on Newton street, arrived in Los Angeles Tuesday, October 13th from Tucson, Arizona, with the Rev. G. L. Hays, Presiding Elder from the California Annual Conference to visit former parishioners and friends. Twenty years ago Dr. Anderson served in this city and rendered a lasting service to the religious, civic and social life of this great commonwealth. He is one of the leaders of the Colored Methodist Church and has served in the following cities: Atlanta, Ga., one year after leaving here; Augusta, Ga., pastored Trinity CME Church seven years; Columbia, S. C., historic Sydney Park CME Church, five years; Memphis, Tenn., three years at Greenwood CME Church and thence four years ago to his present pastorate. He has met with signal success in all his pastorates and has served in many General Conferences as floor leader. Dr. Anderson has always championed the rights of men and has been an unrelenting foe of unrighteousness. Last Sunday morning he preached at Phillipes Temple ot a large audience and many former members and friends were present to once hear this servant of God.

This coming Sunday morning he will preach for Dr. S. M. Beane and his good people at the Hamilton Methodist Church. In the afternoon he will preach at Phillips Temple CME Church for the Board which he organized, Stewardess Board No. 2. He is one of the few men eligible for the Bishopric in Church and is favorably mentioned for this high office in the coming General Conference of 1946.

Mt. Carmel Pastor Goes to Field

Rev. Frank H. James, Pastor of the Mt. Carmel Baptist church located in Boyle Heights, has resigned and has accepted the position of missionary evangelist for the Southern Baptist convention and the Western Baptist State convention.

His noble and successful ministry in Boyle Heights was closed with a grand reception given for him and Mrs. James by the church following his month's vacation.

Rev. James was pastor of Mt. Carmel for thirteen years, during which time the present modern building was erected. He left the church in fine condition, and with all departments functioning satisfactorily.

His many friends at Mt. Carmel and throughout Boyle Heights and the city are wishing him much success in his new work.

Gospel Singers at Baptist Temple

The Southern Gospel Singers under their very competent leader Prof. A. L. Johnson, will stage a two nights program at the Baptist Temple, 620 E. 48th St. Thursday and Friday evenings, October 29 and 30. The public is invited to hear these great singers. The admission is free. Dr. J. C. Sweeney, minister; Miss E. Fox, clerk.

Wesley Methodist Church, 8th and San Julian streets, raised $2,007.21 in its Annual Men's, Women's and Young People's Days. The Men raised $810.03, Women $1,044.15, Young People, $150.03.

Trinity Club Sets Big Program

Big program at Trinity Church, W. 35th St. and Normandie Ave., Friday evening, November 6, 1942, by the Speech Arts Club of which R. C. Jackson is the sponsor. Contributing artists will be Miss Virginia Paris, one of the best women vocalist in Los Angeles, a coloratura soprano; Miss Juanita James, costume lyric soprano and Mr. Prince T. Patridge, monologist and interpretive reader. Rev. L. J. Caston, Pastor.

Pioneer 8th and Towne AME Deaconess Passes

Death, last Friday, claimed Mrs. Emma M. Baker, oldest deaconess from point of service, at historic 8th and Towne AME Zion church. The deceased was 84 years of age. She had continuously resided in Los Angeles for 58 years after coming from her native home in Missouri.

Mrs. Baker raised a large family during her lifetime here and many of her children survive her here. Impressive funeral rites were conducted from the church which she so charitably served during her lifetime, with interment following later at Rosedale cemetery Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. The church was filled with pioneer families and friends of long standing.

Surviving Mrs. Baker are daughters Mrs. Irene Hargroves and Mrs. Ruth (Benjoi) Rose, and son, Lee C. Baker, all of this city. Mrs. Baker, resided with her daughter Mrs. Hargroves at 1245 East 27th Street at the time of her passing.

There was a good attendance at 11 A.M. The Paster brought two powerful messages, one at 11 A.M. and one at 8 P.M.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Zion, who were united in marriage October 17, were present at the evening service.

Mr. Ephraim H. McKissack and Miss Ruby V. Branch were united in marriage last Thursday in the home of the bride, 126 E. Walnut Avenue, Monrovia, Reverend John A. Davis officiating.

Mrs. Lulu Range, who has been spending her vacation in California, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary V. Green, is returning home to her home in Louisiana.

'Escape from Trouble' Second AME Theme

Rev. Jno. S. Isaacs, Minister

An overflow crowd was present at Second Church on Sunday, on the occasion of the Fifth Annual "Save a Life Day" under the auspices of the Assistance League. The sermon of the day was delivered by the Pastor, Rev. J. B. Isaacs, who based his remarks on the 42 Psalm, verse 3. There was one conversion and two accessions. The offering for the day was in excess of $85.00 and $40.00 was given as an after offering to the Assistance League for the work of the Rest Home of Duarte.

Seen on the rostrum beside the minister were: Chaplain Cooper, Col. Staten, Major Carpentier, Dr. Stovall, Dr. Whiteman, Paul Williams, Lt. Geo. Bryant, Mrs. Fannie Williams, Miss Woody, Miss Slater, Dr. McPherson, and Mrs. Jesse Grayson. There were many prominent visitors seen in the large audience present. The Choir under the direction of Miss Mae Crosland sang very effectively, as also military chorus who accompanied Col. Staten.

"ESCAPE FROM TROUBLE" will be the theme of the Minister's sermon on next Sunday. The Holy Communion will be administered at both the morning and evening services. The Cathedral Choir will render the music at the morning service and the Junior Choir under the direction of Herman Woods will be presented at the evening service when the Pastor will speak on "CLIPPING THE WINGS OF YOUTH".

The Minister says:

treasurer, M. St.; G. McCullum, pianist; Rev. R. E. Arrington, chaplain, and Rev. J. B. Isaacs, sergeant-at-arms.

Att'y. Bert McDonald spoke on current issues.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction: for whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth." The foregoing passage from Proverbs is the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

"One of Jesus' parables from Matthew relates that a servant who had been forgiven a large debt by his king "went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which owed him an hundred pence: . . . And his fellowservant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt." The parable continues, "Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee?"

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "In order to pray aright, we must enter into the closet and shut the door. . . . We must resolve to take up the cross, and go forth with honest hearts to work and watch for wisdom, Truth, and Love. We must 'pray without ceasing.' . . . The Master's injunction is, that we pray in secret and let our lives attest our sincerity."

Rakestraw Is New Prexy of Alliance

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 26, 1942. The devotions were conducted by Rev. R. A. Arrington, who offered prayer, and sang "I Love to Tell the Story."

Devotional address was delivered by Dr. J. C. Anderson: subject: The Bread of Life. "Jesus Saviour Pilate Me", etc., was sung. Prayer by Rev. L. E. Jordan.

Current and religious news were given by Rev. E. W. Rakestraw. He said that for the first time in the history of Arkansas eight policemen were elected. Rev. Rakestraw continued that Dr. S. M. Beane, because of his Men's Day and Women's Day, raised $1400, and that Wesley Methodist Church had raised $1900.

Election of officers followed. Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, president; Rev. M. F. Mitchell, vice-president; Rev. H. Philbert Lankford, recording secretary; Rev G. W. Coefield, assistant secretary; Rev. John A. Davis, Corres. financial secretary; Rev. L. E. Cleaves, is Robt. Turner, 157½ E. 47 street. The two men had made a bet on the figh t,Turner being the winner, but the two had disagreed over the settlement of it.

Fight Bet Nets Killing

According to the sum-up of the statements of several witnesses, Turner had gone to Durham's residence at about 7:30 p.m. to collect $5.00 allegedly owed him by Durham, who was there. A bitter quarrel resulted between the men, (formerly friends) developing into first a fist fight, then the shooting. Durham used a 32 caliber repeating rifle, and Turner a 32 caliber Colt automatic pistol.

The most direct light on the suddenly developed tragedy was shown by Miss Cora Campbell, a relative of the Turner family. He told detectives Armstrong and Bright of University Police station that she had accompanied Turner to contact Durham at the 42nd street address. Arriving there she remained in the car, while Turner had walked to the side of the house to talk to Durham. Meanwhile a niece of Miss Campbell, Miss Bonnie Crews, came to the car and began chatting with her. Miss Campbell alighted from the car and the two women started to look at a house for sale nearby. Before they had taken but a few steps, Miss Campbell, a relative of the Turner family. As she turned to the car she asked what was the trouble and that Turner replied, "Durham won't pay a bet he owes me on the fight."

Suddenly Miss Crews shouted, "Durham has a gun," and they saw him come around the side of the house with a rifle in his hand. He began shooting at her as she drew near the women decided and that Turner began firing back from the car. Suddenly they saw Durham sink backwards on the ground, but Turner exclaimed, "I'm shot, he's shot me." However according to witnesses, he managed to drive away, but later was rushed to Georgia Street Receiving Hospital, thence to General Hospital. Detective J. L. Marshall, assigned to the investigation found Turner's weapon lying on the front seat of his car. He had presumably, acording to them, carried it in the side pocket of the vehicle, expecting trouble with the deceased.

Other yitnesses were N. A. Smith, 1157½ W. Ardmore street; R. Gist, W. 47th place; George Warren, 1632 W. 36th place; and Mrs. Whitten, 1576 W. 35th place. Mrs. Whitten stated that she heard shots being rapidly fired, and looking saw Binnie Crews crouching down as if to escape the line of fire.

Further action by police is dependent upon whether or not Turner recovers.

Durham is survived by a wife and other relatives.

PEPPER HAILS "GREAT DEMOCRATIC SURGE"

When the Anti-Poll Tax measurre was introduced a year ago, Pepper, "people thought I was crazy," Since then, he pointed out, "a great surge of democracy has gone through the arth. Millions began to suffer and die,—not for cars, not for wealth, not for possessions, but for people, yellow, white, black. When that spirit began to move through Congress,—when that spirit surged through the House, the petition to draw the Geyer-Anti-Poll Tax bill from committee, was successful, and the bill passed the House overwhelmingly. It is that surging democratic spirit which will pass Anti-Poll-Tax legislation in the Senate."

Pepper debated the poll tax issue recently in a nationally broadcast Town Meeting program with Texas' poll tax supporter, Rep. Eugene Cox. After the show, Pepper said, Cox told him, "Well, after all, this thing has outlived its day."

FREEDOM FOR ALL

"As never before," the Senator said, "the world is one, physically, geographically, spiritually. We have dedicated ourselves to the high task of securing freedom for all continents, all nations, and all colors . . .

"If this is just another war for empire; if this is just another contest for the right to exploit, we are as bad as those we defeat and American blood will have been shed in vain.

"We have many problems here in this nation, problems of breaking down prejudice and recognizing the dignity of men—all men. A lot has gone before, scars, misunderstanding. But the question we must answer is: are we going to liberate the masses of people from privilege and wealth? I see America as a partnership not as a nation for master and servant."

POINTS WAR CAUSES

There were two great fallacies which drew the country to its present situation, Pepper said. First, he said, was the fallacy that what happened far away, geographically, didn't matter to us. Second, he held, "was the idea that what was done to people elsewhere wasn't important to people here. So we let the enemies of mankind tak country after country and enslave people after people. Yet they were simply beating a path to our doors."

The Senator said that the very necessities of war were forcing great American refroms in education, housing, health. He said, "I hope this war will give your people (the Negro people) in the South skill in trades so that they may have the opportunity for achievement now denied them in an agricultural economy already hard pressed.

SEES NEW FUTURE

Although voicing a strong warning against "weak men in Washington" who would attempt a negotiated peace with Hitler when the going gets tough, Pepper saw as the result of this war, "A greener field, a richer life than man has ever dared to dream of."

He said, "Even though this is a dark time, at the end of the corridor, I see light. Light, if we make it so."

At the conclusion of his address the huge mixed audience rose to its feet in a tumult of applause. In leaving swiftly for another engagement, Pepper's aides literally battled their way through cheering throngs.

Chairman of the [illegible] was Mrs. Charlotta A. [illegible] Eagle Editor. Other speech came from religious and civic leaders of the Negro community, all expressing a determination that America must win the war.

Berry-Snow Marriage Is Annulled

Nyas Berry, member of the famous dancing team of the Berry Brothers, was granted an annullment of his marriage to the famous dancer Valaida Snow in Department 36 of the Los Angeles Superior Court by Judge Charles Haas this week. Berry was not present in court, but his attorney, David W. Williams presented the deposition of the young dancer taken before he recently left Los Angeles to fill theatrical engagements in the East, and the court allowed this as testimony in the absence of the plaintiff. The dancer's father, Nyas Berry, Sr., testified that his son had married the defendant over parental objections and that it was afterward learned that the wife had another husband living from whom she was undivorced. Criminal records of the State of Pennsylvania were introduced by Attorney Williams in proof of the contention that Miss Snow was tried and convicted in that State of Bigamy charges.

Berry, together with his brothers, recently appeared in "Panama Hattie" and are achieving great success in New York in a stage revue. Miss Snow is well known in Los Angeles and is at the present time believed to be in Switzerland where she became stranded during th present war crisis.

Candidate Linked to Fascists to prison.

The mock trial, which convicted Coleman, a trial during which Coleman's family was eluded along with everyone else from the courtroom, in which he was "defended" by a known shyster since disbarred, and throughout which a biased Judge peppered proceedings with anti-Negro statements, — this monstrous indictment of California jurisprudence was defended lengthly and heatedly in a written opinion by Attorney General Earl Warren.

Warren concedes that there was "error" in conduct of the trial but holds that this "error" was unimportant since it probably did not prejudice the jury.

Judge Ray Peters of the State Supreme Court answered that nitty with this challenging statement: "As important as it is to society to see that those guilty of criminal activity should be punished it is far more important to society as a whole tha he fundamenal principle that every defendant is entitled to a fair trial should be preserved."

SHIELDS FASCISTS

Coupe Warren's prosecution of Coleman with his shielding of Father Riker who has never been disturbed during his vile career as California's leading Nazi racial theorists, throw in the recent action of the U. S. Army in clearing San Francisco of pro-Warren Fascist agents and you have a true picture of the "non-partisan" candidate for governor!

Hall Lynching

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 29.—In a sharply worded letter to Attorney General Francis Biddle, the Southern Negro Youth Congress today called upon the Department of Justice to reply to the challenge presented by the lynching of two Negro children in Mississippi "with the swiftest and most demonstrative justice."

OPEN SECOND FRONT, FREE INDIA -- WILLKIE

war aims. Besides giving our Allies in Asia and eastern Europe something to fight with, we have got to give them assurance of what we are fighting for. The 200,000,000 people of Russia and the 450,000,000 people of China—people like you and me—are bewildered and anxious.

They know what they are fighting for. They are not so sure of us. Many of them have read the Atlantic charter. Rightly or wrongly, they are not satisfied. They ask: What about a Pacific charter; what about a world charter?

"Their doubts were expressed to me in simple, unmistakable questions. "Is there to be a charter only for the millions of the western hemisphere?" they asked. "Is there to be no charter of freedom for the 1,000,000,000 people of the east? Is freedom supposed to be priceless for the White man, or for the western world but of no account to us in the east?"

"Many of them asked me the question which has become almost a symbol all through Asia. What about India? Now I did not go to India. I do not propose to discuss that tangled question tonight. But it has one aspect, in the east, which I should report to you. From Cairo on, it confronted me at every turn.

The wisest man in China said to me: "When the aspiration of India for freedom was put aside to some future date, it was not Great Britain that suffered in public esteem in the Far East. It was the United States."

This wise man was not quarreling with British imperialism in India when he said this—a benevolent imperialism, if you like. He does not happen to believe in it, but he was not even taling about it. He was telling me, and through me, you, that by our silence on India we have already drawn heavily on our reservoir of good will in the east.

"People of the east who would like to count on us are doubtful. They cannot ascertain from our government's wishy washy attitude toward the problem of India what we are likely to feel at the end of the war about all the other hundreds of millions of eastern peoples. They cannot tell from our vague and vacillating talk whether or not we really do stand for freedom, or what we mean by freedom.

"I reiterate. We and our Allies must establish a second front in Europe."

2 Cleared of Assault Charge

George Wright and Clarence Robinson were exonarted last Tuesday by a Jury of nine women and three men of the crime of Assauld with a Deadly Weapon.

The charge arose out of the shooting of five people in the Hotten Tot Cafe on September 29, 1942. Prosecuting witnesses testified that George Wright and one of the waitresses in the Cafe got into an argument after which George Wright and Clarence Robinson went outside to Wright's car and got a gun and came into the Hotten Tot Cafe' furing into the Cafe, as a result five people were seriously injured.

On cross examination by Crispus A. Wright, attorney, it was brought out that none of the witnesses saw George Wright or Clarence Robinson firing a shot. The defendant George Wright contended that defendant Clarence Robinson got the gun out of the car and in his attempt to take the gun away from Robinson, the gun went off by accident and that he had no intention of shooting anybody in the place.

The defendant Clarence Robinson, had been charged with three counts of assault with a deadly weapon and George Wright had been charged with one count. Attorney Crispus A. Wright represented both George Wright and Clarence Robinson.

Tire, Wheel Theft Jails Youth, 21

Leland Duckett, 21 year old youth of 2409 S. Central Ave., has been held to answer by Judge Oda Faulkner in Div. 2 of the Municipal Court last Friday afternoon after a preliminary hearing in which the testimony revealed that in company with an accomplice who however eluded police, the youth took a tire and wheel from an automobile belonging to a Foreman employed at Douglas Aircraft Corp. while the car was parked at the corner of Figueroa and Santa Barbara. The complaint was filed under the new law which makes it a felony to remove parts of an automobile without permission.

The youth who was represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, did not take the stand at the preliminary hearing, although he subjected the police officers to a detailed cross-examination after they had testified that Duckett had admitted to them in conversation after his arrest that he and his friend had taken the tire. Evidence was also brought out that tended to connect him with several other tire thefts from various automobiles throughout the city. His bail was fixed at $2500.00 and he was ordered to appear with his Attorney in Dept. 41 of the Superior Court on Nov. 4 for plea.

Mrs. Aubry Sets Up Auxiliary

On Sunday, Oct. 25, at St. Odelia's Catholic church, 53rd and Hooper avenue, the Most Esteemed Supreme Lady, Mrs. A. R. Aubry, established the Ladies Auxiliary to the Knights of Peter Claver.

After receiving Holy Communion at 9 o'clock mass, 15 young ladies walked the hot sands of Clavetism, which was followed by a delicious Spanish luncheon.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Barbara Davis, Grand Lady; Mrs. Theresa Lucien, Vice Grand Lady; Mrs. Mable Figaro, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Mackey, financial secretary; Mrs. Virgist Mellover, treasurer; Mrs. Edmonia Abrams, outer guard; Mrs. Mae Pierson, inner guard; Mrs. Maggie Pickett, sergeant-at-arms.

Tell of Negro Naval Hero

Matt Weinstock, columnist of the Los Angeles Daily News, reported a new instance of Negro heroism in the war this week. He wrote:

"Listened to Ensign Robert M. Adrian's gripping story of the sinking of the U. S. destroyer Gregory off Guadalcanal and the heroism of a colored mess boy named French. When Adrian grabbed hold of a raft to save himself it was filled to the brim with seriously wounded sailors and he couldn't get on. Despite his warnings about sharks, French tied a rope about his waist and swam for six hours, towing the raft ashore. Nice tag line by NBC: "Abraham Lincoln collects a dividend."

the Negro Communist, Pettis Perry, in Pershing Square, and boasted of a Fascist armed body in Los Angeles waiting to scrap the 14th, 15th and 16th Amendments. I know that the U. S. Army was forced to remove pro-Warren Fascist agents from San Francisco.

I am not disturbed that Warren is a Republican masquerading as a Non-Partisan. I am shocked to the core that he is a Fascist running for a great elective office in one of the key areas of military production to be found anywhere in the United States.

He is the man who wrote a legal opinion, which would deny Japanese citizens post-war civil liberties because they behave in an Oriental manner.

Why is the Warren campaign rich with funds? It is in the pay of the richest men in the world, the most corrupt, those who would sell America to the enemy for the right of exploitation.

NO! I will be no "Republican" in this election! Neither will I be "non-partisan." I will vote for the future of America. I will vote for Culbert Olson!

The world is growing wiser each day and with wisdom comes a better understanding of the problems of this war-torn world.

In order to win the war we need every ounce of loyalty from individuals and institutions. Such destructive practices in the employment of labor as that on the part of the Goodyear Rubber Company and the Maritime Commission is impeding the progress of production in war materials.

Goodyear displayed large signs calling for women workers but when some fifteen Negro women applied, their applications were spurned with the curt remark, "As long as you are colored, we can't hire you."

Employment of Negroes in mechanical classifications for the Maritime Commission in Los Angeles has been consistently balked. Colored men, qualified for certain skilled positions, have been told that there is nothing available for them above menial service.

In a global war, a total, this is sheer suicide!

weeks, intensive opposition came from spokesman of the Solid South, so that the coming debate in the Senate is expected to be a showdown fight with izinz all parliamentary tricks the Southern poll tax bloc utilto block passage.

Negro organizations are already mobilizing pressure for the final battle. Both the National Negro Congress and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have warned the nation against a filibuster in the Senate by poll tax representatives. It urges the immediate organization of nationwide pressure on the Senate for passage of the bill, which would give the franchise to some 10,000 Americans.

The Bourbon South: It's Running!

An unprecedented surge of mass pressure behind anti-poll tax legislation two days ago forced it out of the Senate Judiciary committee onto the floor of the United States Senate for what will be the key political contest of this session of Congress. This is the eleventh hour. This is the moment of climax. This is the test of the energy and will-to-victory of Negro-America and, indeed, of all progressive and patriotic elements in our nation.

A Negro woman told Eagle Editors this week: "Well, I'll wait and see if these white folks really mean what they say about 'democracy.' I'll wait and see if the anti-poll tax bill passes."

SHE'LL WAIT AND SEE!

This is the kind of talk, the precise attitude, which rekindles hope of survival in the breast of the tyrant South. It is the might of our own struggle, coupled with that of every other progressive American, that has forced the black power of our Congressional Bourbons from one shell-ridden battlement to another. Direct, offensive action, — mass meetings, telegrams, letters, resolutions, the myriad ways of expressing popular will, wrenched the poll tax bill out of committee in the House of Representatives, smashed it through to triumph with a vote of 254 to 112, and has now brought it to the moment of final decision in the Senate.

What happens to the Pepper Anti-Poll Tax bill in the Senate is OUR JOB! Every pen, every purse, every voice in democratic America must be raised in this struggle. The who waits and sees will see only defeat.

What is the specific job of Californians? We are responsible for two votes in the U. S. Senate, those of Senators Hiram Johnson and Sheridan Downey. Downey, a distinguished liberal, has announced militant support of the anti-poll tax legislation. Hiram Johnson has SAID NOTHING.

Wires dispatched to both Senators this week by the local CIO brought prompt reply from Downey. "BATTLE TO REPEAL THE POLL TAX . . ." he said . . . "SHOULD HAVE THE SUPPORT OF EVERY PATRIOTIC AMERICAN . . . YOU MAY COUNT UPON MINE." From Johnson there came the usual dank silence.

The Senator must understand that the people of California demand his forthright action on this measure. They will brook no trips to Virginia when the Senate votes upon this measure. Senator Johnson must act, — and act NOW!

Democracy Goes Up a Notch: Pepper and Willkie

Fundamental pronouncements of Administration policy, statements of vast international significance, came this week from Senator Claude Pepper of Florida and former Republican presidential nominee Wendell Willkie.

As the city of Los Angeles mobilized in its mighty effort to aid in the anti-poll tax battle with a mass meeting of 3,000, with a petition drive netting 15 thousand signatures in one day, and an unprecedented flood of telegrams to the Senate Judiciary Committee and Senator Hiram Johnson, — as all these things happened, the No. 1 man of President Franklin Roosevelt's Administration, Senator Claude Pepper, told that audience of 3,000 gathered at Second Baptist in East Los Angeles: "A great surge of democracy has gone through the earth. Millions have begun to suffer and die, — not for wealth, not for possessions, but for people, yellow white, black. When that spirit surged through the House, the petition to draw the Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill from committee, was successful, and the bill passed the House overwhelmingly. It is that surging democratic spirit which will pass Anti-Poll Tax legislation in the Senate.

"As never before," the Senator said, "the world is one, physically, geographically, spiritually. We have dedicated ourselves to the high task of securing freedom for all continents, all nations, and all colors . . .

"If this is just another war for empire: if this is just another contest for the right to exploit, we are as bad as those we defeat and American blood will have been shed in vain."

Continuing, he pointed out, "We have many problems here in this nation, problems of breaking down prejudice and recognizing the dignity of men, — all men. A lot has gone before, scars, misunderstanding. But the question we must answer is: are we going to liberate the masses of people from privilege and wealth? I see America as a partnership. NOT AS A NATION FOR MASTER AND SERVANT."

Senator Pepper, as recognized spokesman for the Administration, is not in a position to speak for the purposes of expelling wind. What he says is of basic importance to the struggle of Negro America and of our whole nation in winning this war.

The present Democratic party rests, first, upon the power of President Franklin Roosevelt and the progressive, anti-fascist elements in American life, and, second, upon that of the poll-tax South. This poll-tax South exists because it disfranchises 10 million Southern people, white and black. It represents a brutal and corrupt domination of vast sections of America through force and violence. It further represents the forefront of native Fascism, replete with Hitler's theory of race superiority as an excuse and basis for what Wendell Willkie has called "the imperialism within our country."

What does it mean, then, when at long last the progressive wing of the Democratic party comes to blows in direct, devastating political warfare with the fascist poll-tax South? It means, that the fight of Negro America has been joined by the MOST POTENT POLITICAL POWER OF OUR TIME: THE PROGRESSIVE, WIN-THE-WAR, ROOSEVELT WING OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY! Such a coalition means victory!

The Pepper speech was a declaration of unity between the anti-fascist Administration and the battle for Negro rights as opposed to the defeatest poll-tax South. It is of profound importance. Our role is clear — we must purge from us every vestige of defeatism. We must FIGHT LIKE HELL TO SECURE THE VICTORY WITHIN SIGHT. A local application of that fight, is the effort to defeat anti-Roosevelt, Hoover-Fascist Earl Warren as governor of California.

The defeat of Warren is as important in the anti-poll tax fight as pressure upon Hiram Johnson. Under the revolting reams of "non-partisan" propaganda spread by Warrenites is the glaring truth that Warren and his henchmen represent vicious opposition to the Administration and its win-the-war polices. Prominent among these win-the-war policies is the President's executive Order 8802, whose full implementation has to date been prevented through the existence of Warren's cohorts in this State and his poll-tax comrades of the South.

And Wendell Willkie

Wendell Willkie's radio address to the American people was like a clean, invigorating wind sweeping away the foul misrepresentation of the Indian crisis and our general role in the liberation of colonial peoples which has been foisted upon us all by our commercial press, by the United Press and Associated Press.

The President's announcement that Willkie's address formed the basis for no controversy between himself and his former political opponent, strengthen the Administration's position and literally begs for the development of mass pressure to "force" the President to that line of action, with regard to India, which, clearly, he desires to follow. Further, the President's new announcement that the Atlantic Charter applies to ALL the world hurls a lie at Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who has declared that the Atlantic Charter does not apply to India.

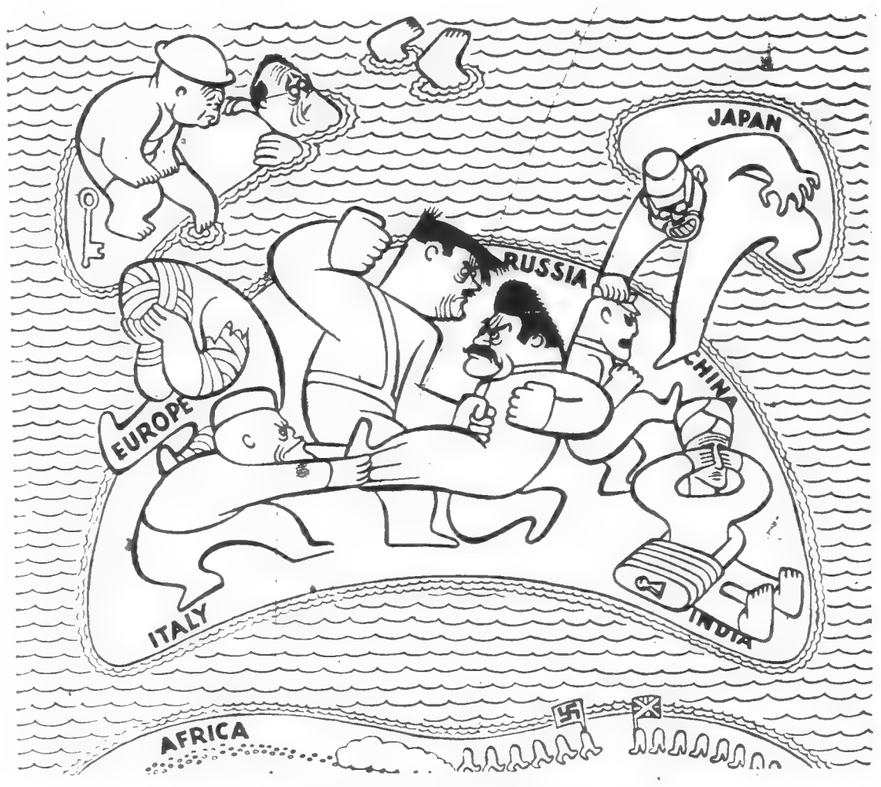
Mr. Willkie's statements speak for themselves, — eloquently:

"We are also punching holes in our reservoir of goodwill every day by failing to define clearly our war aims. Besides giving our Allies in Asia and eastern Europe something to fight with, we have got to give them assurance of what we are fighting for. The 200,000,000 people of Russia and the 450,000,000 people of China — people like you and me — are bewildered and anxious.

"They know what they are fighting for. They are not so sure of us. Many of them have read the Atlantic charter. Rightly or wrongly, they are not satisfied. They ask: What about a Pacific charter?

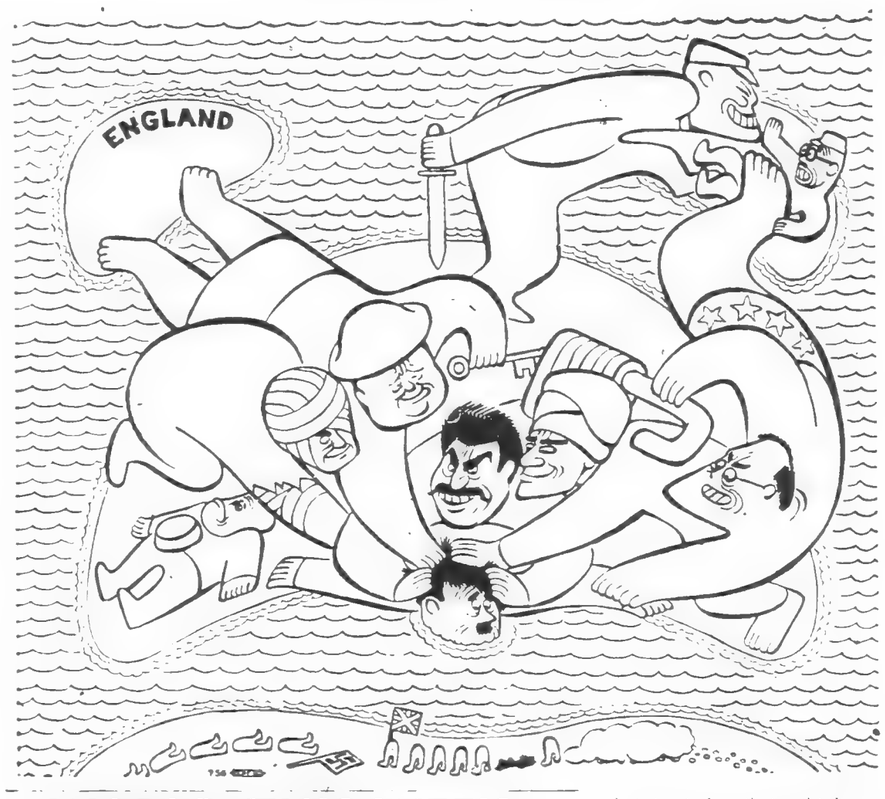
"Their doubts were expressed to me in simple, unmistakable questions. 'Is there to be a charter only for the millions of the western hemisphere? Is there to be no charter of freedom for the 1,000,000,000 people of the east? Is freedom supposed to be priceless for the white man, or for the western world, but of no account to us in the east?'

"Many of them asked me the question which has become almost a symbol all through Asia: 'What about India?'



"People of the east who would like to count on us are doubtful. They cannot ascertain from our government's wishy washy attitude toward the problem of India what we are likely to feel at the end of the war about all the other hundreds of millions of eastern people. They cannot tell from our vague and vaccilating talk whether or not we really do stand for freedom, or what we mean by freedom.

"In Africa, in the Middle East, throughout the Arab world, as well as in China and the whole Far East, freedom means the orderly but scheduled abolition of the colonial system. I can assure that this is true. I can assure you that the rule of people by other peoples is not freedom, and not what we must fight to preserve."



AMEN!

I. YESTERDAY'S LESSON

II. LESSON FOR TODAY

(Dedicated to the memory of J. B. Bass, editor-publisher of California Eagle who passed Nov. 1, 1934.)

Recited at Second Baptist Church Funeral Ceremonies
By HARRY LEVETTE

Greeks laid a shield upon the warriors mound,
On which they'd borne him to his resting place,
By him his trusty sword, the gleaming blade
Reflecting back the setting sun's last trace.
Stern, severe, implements of brawny might
Yet not a tender flower to greet the sight.

But not so Joseph Bass who rests at last
From life-long battles for his fellow-man
Though fearless, bold, unyielding in the fight.
His heart was kindly throughout all life's span.
Then let bright flowers smile, the sword beside,
Twin emblems crossing with him Charon's tide.

Still that resonant voice that thundered loud
In praise of zeal, or blast at wrong so deep.
Still that tall, robust form, that tireless seemed
Those eyes that blazed or wept, are closed in sleep
Both shield and flowers he earned, then tenderly
Place sweet forget-me-nots the world to see.

There is no death; the Elysian portals open
To let the soul pass through to happier climes.
'Tis true we should not drench these flowers with tears
These tolling bells be tuned to cheerful chimes.
But who can choke back tears, when one is gone
Who was so thoughtful, kind, to everyone.

Not on a tablet of dull bronze we'll carve
His name in memory, or on a marble cold:
Not on the parchment roll, for all of these
In time will crumble, — but in the worlds of gold
Let his name gleam, writ with fond memory's pen,
Pright everlasting in the hearts of men.

And you his help-mate, try to bear this blow,
Though bowed your shoulders be, he's found surcease
From pain and suffering, calm, relieved at last
In the Good Shepherd's arms he rests in peace.
Bear up; he'd wish it so though he has gone;
His spirit cries: "Charlotta, carry on!"

All those who in his life's work lent a hand;
All those he met along life's crowded way;
All we who knew and loved him stand and gaze
Across the bar where his bark sailed today.

L'envoi

Well he has wrought, his deeds are living yet;
Here is our pledge: "We will not e'er forget!"
Broken our voices, crushed beneath grief's spell
Farewell! Sweet dreams — and peace — farewell! — Farewell!

HORROR STORIES

The past few days, the Nazi radio has painted for the long-suffering German people a lurid picture of what will happen to them in case of an Allied victory. "Executed persons will not be buried. Their bodies will be burned with wild animals and, the ashes thrown to the winds. The bodies of national heroes will be exhumed and dishonored." They affirm, less romantically, that we also plan to murder or imprison all members of the Nazi party, Elite Guards, storm troopers and government employees. Faith in the Fuehrer and the Nazi cause must indeed be at a low ebb, if fgihting spirit has to be whipped up with broadcasts which sound like the old tales of "Raw Head and Bloody Bones", with the Allies cast in the role of a savage ogre.

WHILE MEN DIE

Admiral Land warns this nation that the submarine menace will grow steadily worse this winter, as bad weather and longer nights protect the lurking U-boats. Only a month ago we were at least building cargo boats faster than the Nazis could sink them. Now heroic seamen, shipyard and factory wrokers, truck drivers speeding the cargoes to waiting ships—all must fight even harder to hold this dearly-bought advantage. Yet, at a time like this, a truck load of oil, being rushed to a waiting tanker, was delayed for six fatal hours in Wilmington, because the driver didn't wear a long, white beard. — Excuse us, please! Wrong story! — Delaware officialdom performed this patriotic act, not because the driver didn't wear a long, white beard. It was because the truck violated some minor regulation about the size and weight of the load, which Delaware alone, of all the forty-eight states, had imposed. Delaware's dead-fall delayed the shipment so that the tanker had to sail without the oil — oil so precious to the fighters overseas that, to deliver it, men of the merchant marine face without complaint the daily chance of death by water or by fire. Other states, and counties even, have trade and punitive tax barriers, too, equally un-American, equally selfish. In peace time such restrictions are hampering enough. In war time, their consequences can be tragic.

THE SECOND FRONT

Field Marshal Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, veteran statesman and strategist, in his recent historic address told members of the British Parliament that we are now in a new and final phase of the war, that this is the time for the long-awaited Allied offensive. "The final alignments both of the Allies and our enemies have been made," he declared. "We are approaching the point when, both on the war fronts and on the home fronts in the enemy countries, the situation is ripening for far-reaching developments." So one great man reads the signs of the times, the straws which show the coming of the wind which will sweep the world clean of Nazism.

VOTE NOVEMBER 3!

Every California citizen has a must date with democracy on Election Day, November 3. A ballot is more than a scrap of paper, a vote is more than an idle gesture. The privilege of voting in free elections is one of the rights of a free people which is now at stake in the titanic struggle now being waged around the world. The people of France, of Norway, of all the other conquered countries, know what it is to lose that right, know, from bitter experience, it is a right that can never be taken for granted. In this national testing period, we need ballots bearing the results of intelligent, conscientious reflection to assure the very ablest leadership. A privilege not faithfully, continuously exercised withers and dies. You have a must date at the voting booth on November 3 to exercise a privilege on which the vigor and health of democracy depends.

HALLOWE'EN COMES TO TOWN

So it's Hallowe'en again! The night when witches, demons and such gentry hold their Grand Annual Fish Fry and Free-For-All here on earth. In the old days it was no joking matter, and timid souls stayed at home with pieces of cold iron on doorstep and hearth, and tight-barred windows. As our respect for ghosts and spirits died down, the prankish, humorous side of the festival took the foreground, and today it is all that really matters. So, on this Hallowe'en, though we've forgotten their old meanings, let us keep some of the old rites, for it is good to honor the past. Good-bye, now. We have to see a witch about a cat.

Good Jobs for Girls and Women

We have some good jobs in our laundry plant for colored girls and women. Experience is not necessary. We will work with you and help you learn. You will be paid top wages while you are learning, and advance as you improve your work and ability. As far as possible we will help you to choose the department you like best, and do all we can to make your work pleasant and profitable.

Come in Saturday a. m. at 10 o'clock, 3000 South Central avenue. Ask for Mr. Newcomb, CITY DYE WORKS & BEVERLY HILLS LAUNDRY.

★ SPREADING JOY

By JOHN FOWLER

First, I want to tell you I am sitting in my study on my palatial land coach, "Spreading Joy" in San Diego, where we arrived last night from Imperial Valley. But before I tell you about our trip, I want to tell you about the pioneer meeting last Tuesday night at the residence of that grand old pioneer, Ike MyVea. Sandy Gardner was co-host with Ike, and some host they turned out to be.

In many ways this was the most interesting meeting we've had in years. It was a cross between a testimonial or class meeting — or in the language of the old fashioned Baptist, a covenant meeting, a big family reunion, and a sacred memorial. Touching tributes were paid to two beloved pioneers who have recently "crossed the Bar".

In the absence of our president, Mrs. Cora Buck, the writer presided and called on Pioneer James Alexander to eulogize Mrs. Baker. Mr. Alexander paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Baker and her husband who was one of the first barbers.

Percy Buck was at his best in his tribute to Mother Earley. He spoke of the monument she left in the lives of her step sons, who reflect her early training in their lives. There were tears in our eyes when we stood and sang one verse of "Nearer My God to Thee".

Among the prodigals whom we have not seen for years and who came back to our hearts were the following: You remember Warner Moulton of the Moulton family years ago. They are all gone but Warner. We were delighted to see another of the old boys, Arthur Henry. Arthur used to play ball with the Trilbys.

Martha Barr, one of the girls of yesteryears, has blossomed out into a full fledged poet and read one of her poems for us. Another old timer who was welcomed with open arms was Mrs. Amanda Green of San Bernardino, better known as Mrs. Spiller. You remember she used to live on 9th street near the school? Mrs. Spiller is one of the founders of the club. It was born in her home. After the reunion, delightful refreshments were served, and say, what refreshments they served! Some of that old time pre-war, pre-high prices chicken salad. Say, it a thing of rare beauty, a joy forever. The next meeting will be with pioneer S. P. Johnson.

Now to our trip. We left Los Angeles Wednesday morning, stopped for a chat with the Smiths and Pullams of Pomona, then on to Riverside for a short visit with the Boyds. Mrs. Boyd has been East for some months visiting her daughter, Helen, in Mississippi. Then to San Bernardino for an evening at the U.S.O., a verry pretty little place where our soldiers relax. We also called on the Muckleroys where we met the new parson

AN EXCLUSIVE CALIFORNIA EAGLE SERIAL

"NATIVE SON" ★

RICHARD WRIGHT

Hit him! He lifted it, high, by the barrel. Yes. Hit him! His lips formed the words as he let it come down with a grunt which was a blending of a curse, a prayer, and a groan.

He felt the impact of the blow throughout the length of his arm, jarring his flesh slightly. His hand stopped in mid-air, at the point where the metal of the gun had met the bone of the skull; stopped, frozen, a till, as though again about to lift and descend. In the instant, almsot of the blow being struck, the white man emitted something like a soft cough; his flashlight fell into the snow, a fast flick of vanishing light. The man fell away from Bigger, on his face, full length in the cushion of snow, like a man falling soundlessly in a deep dream. Bigger was awarse of the clicking sound of the metal against the bone of the skull; it stayed on in his ears, faint but distinct, like a sharp bright point lingering on in front of the eyes when a light has gone out suddenly and darkness is everywhere — so the click of the gun hand de against the man's head stayed on in his ears. He had not moved from his tracks; his right hand was still extended, upward, in mid-air; he lowered it, looking at the man, the sound of the metal against bone fading in his ears like a dying whisper.

The sound of the siren had stopped at somt time which he did not remember; then it started again, and the interval in which he had not heard it seemed to hold for him some preciously hidden danger, as though for a dreadful moment he had gone to sleep at his post with an enemy near. He looked through the whirling spokes of light and saw a trapdoor open upon the roof to his left. He stood rigid, holding the gun, watching, waiting. If only the man did not see him when he came up! A head came into view; a white man climbed out of the trap-door and stood in the snow.

He flinched; someone was crawling in the loft below him. Would he be trapped? A voice, a little afraid, called from the open hole through which the man whom he had struck had climbed.

"Jerry!"

The voice sounded clearly in spite of the siren and the clang of the fire wagons.

"Jerry!"

The voice was a little louder now. It was the man's partner. Bigger looked back to the roof to his left; the man was still standing there, flashing a light round. If he would only leave! He had to get away from this trapdoor here. If that man came up to see about his partner and found him sprawled in the snow he would yell before he got a chance to hit him. He squeezed against the chimney, looking at the man on the roof to his left, holding his breath. The man turned, wolked toward the trapdoor and climbed through. He waited to hear the door shut; it did. Now, that roof was clear! He breathed a silent prayer.

"Jeeerry!"

With gun in hand, Bigger crept across the roof. He came to a small mound of brick, where the upjutting ridge of the building's flat top joined that of the other. He paused and looked back. The hole was still empty. If he tried to climb over, would the man come out of the hole just in time to see him? He had to take the chance. He grabbed the ledge, hoisted himself upon it, and lay flat for a moment on the ice, then slid to the other side, rolling over. He felt snow in his face and eyes; his chest heaved. He crawled to another chimney and waited; it was so cold that he had a wild wish to merge into the icy bricks of the chimney and have it all over. He heard the voice again, this time loud, insistent:

"Jerry!"

Then he saw the man's face come through; it was stuck like a piece of white pasteboard above the top of the hole and when the man's voice sounded again Bigger knew that he had seen his partner in the snow.

"Jerry! Say!"

Bigger lifted his gun and waited.

"Jerry . . . "

The man came out of the hole and stood over his partner, then scrambled in again, screaming:

"Say! Say!"

Yes; the man would spread the word. Ought he to run? Suppose he wnet down into the trapdoor of another roof? Naw! There would be people standing in the hallways and they would be afraid; they would scream at the sight of him and he would be caught. They would be glad to give him up and put an end to this terror. It would be better to run farther over the roofs. He rose; then, just as he was about to run, he saw a head bob up in the hole. Another man came through and stood over Jerry. He was tall and he stood over Jerry's form and seemed to be putting his hand upon his face. Then another came through. One of them centered his flashlight on Jerry's body and Bigger saw one bend and roll the body over. The spotlight lit Jerry's face. One of the men ran to the sheer edge of the roof, overlooking the street; his hand went to his mouth and Bigger heard the sound of a whistle, sharp, thin. The roar in the street died; the siren stopped; but the circling columns of yellow continued to to whirl. In the peace and quiet of the sudden calm, the man yelled:

"Surround the block!"

Bigger heard an answering shout.

"You got a line on 'im?"

"I think he's around here!"

A wild yell went up. Yes, they felt that they were near him now. He heard the man's shrill whistle sounding again. It got quiet, but not so quet as before. There were shouts of wild joy floting up.

"Send up a stretcher and a detail of men!"

"O.K.!"

The man turned and went back to Jerry lying in the snow. Bigger heard snatches of talk.

". . . how do you suppose it happened?"

"Looks like he wsa hit . . . "

". . . maybe he's about . . . "

"Quick! Take a look over the roof!"

He saw one of the men rise and flash a light. The circling beams lit the roof in daylight brightness and he could see that one man held a gun. He would have to cross to other roofs before this man or others came upon him. They were suspicious and would comb every inch of space on top of these houses. On all fours, he scrambled to the next ledge and then turned and looked back; the man was still standing, throwing the spot of yellow about over the snow. Bigger grabbed the icy ledge, hoisted himself flas upon it, and slid over. He did not think now of how much strength was needed to climb and run; the fear of capture made him forget even the cold, forget even that he had no strength left. From somewhere in him, out of the depths of flesh and blood and bone, he called up energy to run and dodge with but one impulse: he had to elude these men. He was crawling to the other ledge, over the snow, on his hands and knees, when he heard them yell:

"There he is!"

The three words made him stop; he had been listening for them all night and when they came he seemed ot feel the sky crushing soundlessly about him. What was the use of running? Would it not be better to stop, stand up, and lift his hands high above his head in surrender? Hell, naw! He continued to crawl.

"Stop, you!"

A shot rang out, whining past his head. He rose and ran to the ledge, leaped over; ran to the next ledge, leaped over it. He darted among the chimneys so that no one could see him long enough to shoot. He looked ahead and saw something huge and round and white looming up in the dark; a bulk rising up sheer from the snow of the roof and swelling in the night, glittering in the glare of the searching knives of liht. Soon he would not be able to go much farther, for he would reach that point where the roof ended and dropped to the street below. He wove among the chimneys, his feet slipping and sliding over snow, keeping in mind that white looming bulk which he had glimpsed ahead of him. Was it something that would help him? Could he get upon it, or behind it, and hold them off? He was listening and expecting more shots as he ran, but none came.

Dedicate New Project for War Workers

Aliso Village, 802-unit development for war workers, located at 1401 East First street, will be be dedicated Sunday, October 25, at 2 p.m., with Mayor Bowron delivering the principal address here, Nicola Giulii announced today.

Among other speakers were Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president, Occidental College; Bruce Newman, of the Mexican Consulate; Monsignor Thomas O'Dwyer, of the Catholic Welfare Bureau; Ralph C. Flewelling, chief architect of the Village and representative of the City Council.

This program marks the successful completion of a . . . $16,000,000 low-rent housing plan initiated by the local Authority in March, 1940, with the construction of Ramona Gardens.

Through the Hollywood Victory Committee, arrangements are being made for the appearance of several motion picture and radio celebrities. Music was furnished by a 50-piece army band and the brass ensemble from the Neighborhood Music School.

Aliso Village covers a 30-acre site. Estimated cost of land and buildings is $4,410,000. It completely surrounds the Utah Street School and is easily accessible to shopping centers and more than 50 war plants in the heart of industrial Los Angeles.

Applications for homes in Aliso Village are received daily, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Rents start at $11 a month and range upward to $40

Army Officers Praise Local USO Center

Army officers of various camps, write and come in to the local U.S.O. Center to thank the workers profusely for courtesies shown soldiers. Truck loads of these men arrive almost daily for short visits to the city; they like to relax in the Center, finding shaving materials, shoe polish, stationery and many other necessities always available. Hostesses and Canteen Workers see to it that the boys receive refreshments, motherly advice, or listen while the boys tell their woes or joys.

The Wednesday evening Gabfest is always an inspiration. Presiding last Wednesday were Mrs. Giles and Conney and Junior Hostesses Jeraldine Jenkins, Charlotte and Laura Soares, Inyta Creekmore, Alice De Cuir and Doris Williams.

On last Friday evening, trucks were arriving before dark for the usual Jam Session, and joy reigned supreme all evening.

Donations are still numerous from those who appreciate what our boys are doing for us; but we are very greatful for one donation in particular — this is the generous space given to our activities by our Newspapers. To them we say, thanks! Other donors were: Mrs. Edith Boswell and friends, Mrs. John Mitchell, Mrs. Ivory Treadwell, Cora L. Flood and Berta Thomas. Some of our efficient Hostesses are: Mesdames Ernestine Davidson, Chr., Georgia Matthew, Nannie Williams, Minnie Boring, Bossie Davis, Gertrude Chrisman, Laura Chrisman, Dorothy Howard, Roberts, Wyndon, Janie Giles, Rita Smith, Pocahontas Whitman, Hazel Gray, Marion Black and Stella Blodgett, Osborne and Dorothy Guinn.

Jefferson, Anti-Prejudice Society Honor Mulzac, Crew

Before a large crowd the final honorary program to Capt. Hugh Mulzac and crew the day and evening high schools of Jefferson High School and the American Anti-Prejudice Society I. N. C., combined in an impressive program last Friday night.

With the slogan "End Discrimination for Victory", the program was opened with brief remarks by Rev. C. Townsend Tucker, founder and president of the Anti-Prejudice society as master of ceremonies. An organ prelude by Don Lee White brilliant Polytechnic High School student. Salute to the flag by Lucretia Sarah Smith, of Jefferson High School. Invocation by Rev. F. Douglas Farrel of Western Baptist, State Convention.

The master of ceremonies then introduced Mr. Robert Pressley, Principal of Jefferson Evening High School, who made the welcome address. He then presented Prof. C. A. Dickinson, Principal of Jefferson High School, who paid high tributes to Capt. Mulzac for his accomplishments and records which won him the appointment of skipper to the history making Liberty Ship, the S. S. Booker T. Washington.

Followed then a piano solo by little 12 year-old Elaine Grace Bready, 2nd pianist at L. A. High. Then, remarks, by Miss Rosina Green Jerrell, High English teacher; a baritone solo, by Norris John Cookes, accompanied by Miss Amanda Woods.

Pressing business prevented the attendance of Gov. Culbert L. Olson. His greetings were sent by Mr. Mr. Clarence Irvin, state commissioner of Real Estate who gave thrilling eulogy on Booker T. Washington. Another solo "Angel of Mercy", by Stokes, followed.

Then came the wildly applauded presentation of Capt. Mulzac and crew, Mr. Brenman I. Thompson, instructor of radio and electricity at Jefferson High. Those of the crew who followed he Captain address, were Cecil H. Blackman, radio operator; Irving Smith, chief engineer. All gave impressive talks and insight to the duties of keeping on sailing, an eloquent sum-up and digest of all preceding talks the master of ceremonies delivered a response. Timing at impressively Mrs. Lucretia A. Tucker, presented Captain Mulzac with a beautiful Bible sent by Mrs. Ada Russell, through Peter D. Ross, namer of the ship.

The master of ceremonies also presented Capt. Mulzac with one of the emblematic photos which he sent the President, asking "If Not, Why Not" Negro Captain on American Ships.

"God Bless" was the closing number led by Miss Amanda Woods, instructor of piano and voice of P.G.B. school, the whole audience singing it, led by Miss Gladys Dent.

Dr. Carver Gives $6300 in War Bonds

Dr. George W. Carver turned over to Dr. F. D. Patterson $6300 in War Bonds to be applied to the George Washington Carver Foundation, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, October 10, 1942.

Dr. Carver in turning over the Bonds stated to Dr. Patterson that in making the gift he was not only happy to add to the financial security of the Foundation which has been established to carry on the creative research to which he has given his time and energy, but that he wished the nation to know that Negroes are just as interested in helping to win the war as is any group in the nation.

The gift of October 10, 1942, brings Dr. Carver's total contribution to the George Washington Carver Foundation to well over $40,000 dollars, representing almost the entire savings of his lifetime.

'Share-the-Ride' Canvass

Resident motorists of this community and vicinity today awaited the scheduled call of air raid wardens, P-T-A workers and others participating in the house-to-house "Share The Ride" canvass aimed to ease the gasoline rationing problems confronting the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area.

Under the supervision of the local defense transportation administrator, the canvassers on their calls will leave a questionnaire card designed to gather information needed, in "matching up" riders for trips to and from places of employment.

Final instructions and plans were completed at a recent meeting of defense transportation leaders of this region with Ray L. Riley, State Railroad Commissioner and coordinator of defense transportation administrators for this area.

Full cooperation has been asked of all local motorists when the canvasser makes his call, for as Riley explained:

"These men and women will be doing you a great favor by calling at your home to help you in solving a problem you will soon have to face. Gasoline rationing is not intended to take cars off the highway, but rather to prolong their usefulness on the home front as long as possible, bringing the gap between today and the time synthetic tires are available for civilian use."

At the same time, car-sharing will avoid an overburdening of mass transportation facilities, already handling a near-peak load, Riley said.

PUEBLO DEL RIO MAKES BLOOD SURVEY IN VENEREAL DISEASE FIGHT

More than one hundred and twenty-five persons met last Thursday night to participate in a meeting of the Special Committee on Venereal Diseases, of the Southeast District Health Association. The group assembled in the spacious new auditorium of Pueblo Del Rio Housing Development, as guests of two hosts — the Health Association and the Pueblo Del Rio Health and Welfare Committee, under leadership of Mr. Cosby Turner, Manager of the Development.

The packed audience at the Development, located at 54th and Long Beach Avenue, had been invited by Mr. Turner and the Southeast District Health Association to attend a free film showing on the subject of venereal diseases. After the showing, residents of the Development and their friends, and neighbors of the community, voted to have a voluntary blood test survey conducted that evening as a special attraction.

The blood tests, offered on a purely voluntary basis, were free to anyone who wished one. The guests, enthusiastically showing their desire to support President Roosevelt's national campaign to "establish total moral and physical fitness," lined up for the free blood tests with a rush.

Before volunteers had lined up for blood testing, Mr. Turner had introduced the guests of the evening, Dr. A. A. Foster, physician and member of the staff at Southeast Polytechnic, 54th and Central.

Dr. Foster addressed the group of intelligent listeners with a forceful speech on the unseen dangers of venereal diseases, and their staggering cost in dollars and human lives.

"Syphilis and Gonorrhea," Dr. Foster told his audience, "respect neither race nor pocketbook. They are serious saboteurs of the war effort. You, as war-workers, should be on the alert to combat them on the home front. A blood test is one simple way to outwit the menace of syphilis. If ever you think you might have come into contact with gonorrhea, ask your physician for a thorough physical check-up."

Venereal diseases, the doctor pointed out, are insidious. They attack mostly youth, but many a middle-aged person is harboring in his system, unknown to himself, germs that will one day destroy him unless checked.

"President Roosevelt is wise in requesting all American citizens to lend their efforts toward stamping out these most dreadful of all serious diseases," Dr. Foster said. "A blood test for every citizen would help get rid of syphilis in one generation. You residents of Del Rio Development are among the vanguard of intelligent leaders of your community in taking advantage of the free movies and blood tests now offered you without charge by the Southwest District Health Association."

Before the crowd filed past the table where Dr. Foster swiftly and painlessly took from the arm of each person a spoonful of blood for the test, Mr. Crosby thanked the Southeast District Health Association for appearing at the meeting.

Mr. Turner declared, "There is nothing as important to a war-worker as his health. It takes good health to get good jobs, and it takes good health to keep war production rolling. We shall be proud here at Pueblo Del Rio to set a good example for other groups in Los Angeles City to follow. We stand behind this national health campaign in every way."

The number of residents who then followed past the blood testing unit proved the truth of this statement in the most convincing manner.

★ BEHIND THE SCENES With Harry

By Harry Levette

WHAT WILL BE THE EFFECT of increased dim-out restrictions on night life is the moot question that has cabaret and theatre owners concerned this week. Will they combined with the necessary gas and rubber rationing keep recreation seekers in-doors at knitting, dominoes, cards and other mild indoor sports of the past generation, or will it cause them to crowd into the lighted nighted spots, since there will be no dizzy white lights to speed past or stroll beneath. A few weeks of double dimout will decide it.

BING CROSBY'S PLAYING HOST to colored soldiers last Sunday at his beautiful home overlooking Toluca Lake in San Fernando Valley, was just about the biggest week-end affair in both film and military circles. Led by Capt. Laura Slayton, the A.W.V.S. girls and other organizations arranged the program and acted as hostesses. During the 11:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. open house period, Erskin Hawkins, famous band, donated a two-hour entertainment.

The dinner was arranged in their honor by the committee that staged the pre-launching mass meet at Second Baptist Church. The very able Coley Stafford was the chairman, with the Women's Civic Luncheon order guidance of Baron Lawson lending unstinted aid. You'll see more detail in another article, also photos by Eagle camera snooper Cutler as well as highlights by my clever assistant, Jacqueline Woods whom I was escorted.

"ETHEL WATERS entertains Governor Olson," caption of this paragraph would make a nice full-page bannerline in anybody's Southern daily. America's No. 1 dramatic artist opened her fine big home in the Harvard street district, (California's Sugar Hill), for a reception to Gov. Culber L. Olson on last Sunday, October 26. It marked one of the few times Miss Waters, who lives very modestly and reservedly, has entertained since she began like most all New York celebs making this her home. Miss Fay Allen, lone race member of the Los Angeles Board of Education, and Gilbert Lindsay, business manager of the "Bronze radio hour" had charge of the arrangements for the swank affair in the shape of an afternoon tea. Besides Hollywood highlights of both races, a number of high state and government officials thankfully answered their R.S.V.P.'s on the embossed invitations.

(Ex-governor Talmadge, take notice!) Talmadge you remember disgraced the name of the Democratic party in Georgia.

REPUBLIC'S 'JOHNNY DOUGHBOY' FEATURES ETTA McDANIEL; JANE WITHERS STARS

Once again, Republic Studios takes advantage of the splendid talent of an excellent negro actress by featuring Etta McDaniel in the Jane Withers' starrer, "Johnny Doughboy", based on the popular song of the same title.

Etta McDaniel was born in Wichita, Kansas on December 1, the sister of Hattie and Sam "Deacon" McDaniel. The family moved to Denver when Etta was in the first grade, and she received her education there.

The McDaniel children's parents were both musically inclined, and Sam, who was considerably older than the two girls, arranged appearances for them in local churches, minstrel shows, and the like, as a sister act.

As they grew older, the McDaniel trio took its act into vaudeville, and for years, the three toured on the Pantages Circuit. At one time, they were part of an act called "The Seven California Poppies."

Etta came to Hollywood nineteen years ago, married and raised a son. She now has a grandson. She is proud of the fact that she is a 'self-made woman', and when she was unable to find enough picture work to support herself and her growing son, she did not hesitate to find work in private homes as cook, cateress, or maid.

She has appeared in three previuos pictures with Jane Withers, and Republic featured her in several western releases, as well as in "The Pittsbourgh Kid".

"Johnny Doughboy" includes in its cast Henry Wilcoxon, who scored as the vicar in "Mrs. Miniver," Patrick Brook, who plays the title role, and many young screen veterans — Bobby Breen, Baby Sandy, "Alfalfa" Switzer, "Spanky" McFarland, Butch and Buddy, Cora Sue Collins, and Robert Coogan.

PAUL ROBESON, center, great singer and actor, appeared for the first time in New Orleans when he gave a concert Monday night, October 19, before a non-segregated capacity audience of colored and white music lovers in the Booker T. Washington school auditorium. Left is JAMES E. GAYLE, and right is RANDOLPH EDMONDS, secretary and president, respectively, of the Crescent Concert Company, which staged the concert in New Orleans and also presented Mr. Robeson in Birmingham and Atlanta. A new organization, the Crescent Concert Company was formed out of the desire of Mr. Edmonds, who is Professor of Drama at Dillard University and an outstanding dramatic author, to present Negro and white artists in New Orleans and other southern cities to non-segregated audiences. Mr. Gayle is a New Orleans business man.

$1000 JAM SESSION

In a jam-session performers get together after working hours and let down thir hair by "going to town" on some special rift or routine, for their own mutual entertainment.

x x x

Last place in the world you would expect to seee a jam-session would be on an expensive budget movie set with production reckoned in terms of thousands of dollars an hour. But they had such a jam-boree the other day right on the stage of M-G-M's lavish all-Negro film, "Cabin in the Sky", which stars Ethel Waters, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Lena Horne, Rex Ingram and Kenneth Spencer.

x x x

The setting was this: Jack Porter and his band, who are doubling for Duke Ellington, were beating it out while the extras swayed together in the cabaret scene. Just as they would be getting ready to groove into the second chorus, Vincente Minnelli, the director, should shout "cut!" Four or five times of this and everybody felt like a starving man who had been set down to a fine table, given a glass of water and then told to "hold it" — here comes another glass of water."

x x x

Then came the break. Time was needed to adjust the camera and a fifteen-minute rest was called. Rest was the last thing in the world anybody there wanted. The band poured their pent-up energy into their instruments and what acme out, to the dance hungry boys and girls, sounded like a comoination of the top men in Duke's, Count's and Cab's bands. The panic was on and everybody got down to the business at hand — that of cutting a few rugs, unhampered by that cruel man with the megaphone who only wanted to get on with completeing the film.

x x x

Not only did the extras "give out" but some of the principals "caught the lick" too. "Rochester" cleared a little space on the dance floor and proceeded into a specialty dance, much to the delight of everybody. He was closely followed by Bill Bailey, considered by many as tops among the tap dancers, and that includes Bill Robinson.

x x x

Maybe there wasn't anything wrong with that camera after all. The director had been pleading with the boys and girls to "give" and dance naturally. If the cameraman shot that jam-session, he got something for "Cabin" he couldn't have bought for love nor money any other time.

x x x

What is most widely known about Rex Ingram is that he triumphed in the recent Ronald Colman picture, "The Talk of the Town"; that he previously played the lead in the film version of "Green Pastures"; and that he is currently starred along with Ethel Waters, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Lena Horne in M-G-M's all-Negro musical, "Cabin in the Sky".

What is not known is that his 18-year-old daughter Gloria, raised in Los Angeles by his mother while he was carving a dramatic career for himself in New York, is studying draughting at Chaffey Junior College. She will complete her course in a very short time and already has a job with the U. S. Government waiting for her in Washington.

x x x

Bill Bailey, started shooting his dance routines this week on the M-G-M lot.

He is out to live up to the acclaim awarded him by New York critics being equal to Bill Robinson "in his better days," with some going overboard to state that he hal already topped the great "Bojangles."

x x x

John W. Sublett, better known as Bubbles of the famous dance team of Buck and Bubbles, who is currently cast as Domino Johnson in M-G-M's all-Negro musical, "Cabin in the Sky", followed in the footsteps of Lena Horne who recently tore a ligament in her leg while doing one of the dance routines, when he sprained his back during the filming of a fight scene with Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, causing him to be lodged temporarily in the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Bubbles' condition is not serious and it is expected h will be back on the set within a few days.

x x x

Reginald Beane, Ethel Waters' pianist and arranger, entrains for New York and home Friday for a visit and maybe to have that much neglected appendix removed.

x x x

A ceiling has been placed on Lena Horne's weight, M-G-M, who has her under contract, found her four pounds over specifications when they started shooting "Panama Hattie" in which she has a featured role. Immediately massages and exercises were ordered until she reached the desired 122 pounds. She doesn't have to worry now, because the activity of "Cabin in the Sky" keeps her at that point or below.

TECHNICOLOR FILM, "BAMBI," NOW PLAYING AT UA

Walt Disney's newest feature production, "BAMBI", photographed in Multiplane Technicolor, reveals the exciting peak which this original and fascinating form of screen entertainment has reached. "BAMBI" is now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles.

"BAMBI" goes even further than any previous Disney feature; it has overtones of serious significance and in certain ways can be described as one of the most moving love stories ever brought to the screen. It was filmed — or drawn — from the best-selling novel of the same title by Felix Salten. As a novel, "BAMBI" was a book-of-the-Month Choice, and has a sales record of more than 650 000 copies. Incidentally, this is the first novel to be brought to the screen by Walt Disney.

ROBESON ON COMMON MAN PROGRAM

Paul Robeson will speak and sing at a dinner on "The Century of the Common Man" under the auspices of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee on Tuesday, Oct. 27 at the Hotel Astor, New York.

Joining Mr. Robeson as a speaker will be Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, which has successfully fought the anti-Negro bias of the reactionary shipowners. Other speakers will be Carl Sandburg, poet and biographer of Abraham Lincoln; Jan Struther, author of "Mrs. Miniver", and Louis Bromfield, novelist, who will be dinner chairman.

Negro members of the committee of sponsors include Elmer Anderson Carter, editor of Opportunity; Charles A. Collins, co-chairman, Negro Labor Victory Committee; the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., New York City Councilman; and Dr. Max Yergan, executive director, Council on African Affairs.

Seated on the dais as guests of honor will be men and women who are working and fighting for the "people's century which is about to begin," as expressed by Vice President Henry A. Wallace in his famous speech. Among them will be members of the armed forces, and aircraft worker, air raid warden, clergyman, farmer, machinist, miner, seaman, steel worker, social service worker and others.

The purpose of the dinner is to raise funds to rescue anti-fascis fighters in French concentration camps who have Mexican visas.

★ SPREADING JOY

Rev. Boyd and his wife.

Thursday morning we had the joy of a short visit with Mrs. Annie Waters and the Max Morgans at Valley Truck Farms. We found the old veteran, that gallant gentleman of the old school, John R. Collins, sitting in his beautiful summer house in Redlands.

After a long hot ride, we stopped in Indio for the night. The next day found us knocking at the door of Mrs. Helen Sims in Brawley. If you ever go to Brawley, don't fail to call on her. She has one of the few oasis on that hot desert. We failed to find Rev. Edwards home in Imerial, so we went on to El Centro and to the home of that splendid old pioneer, Mr. George E. Davis. We had short visits with the Princes, Rev. and Mrs. Vaughn, the Burleighs, and Mrs. Fair of Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr of E. 115th street were visiting relatives on the same street. So here we are in San Diego.

Leading the Old Sweethearts parade this week are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Collins of Redlands.

Pasadena Meet Scheduled

Many speakers of note and many prominent citizens will be on hand at a meeting to be held at the Lincoln Ave. School, corner Peoria and Lincoln Ave., Pasadena.

The speakers for this meeting are such personages as Brigadier General Joseph O. Donovan, Mr. Carl Hinshaw, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Editor-Publisher of the California Eagle, the Hon. Charles Kelly, Assemblyman; the Hon. Mrs. Steinberger, Assemblywoman, the Hon. Augustus Hawkins, Assemblyman, the Hon. Hawley Bidwell, Assemblyman, the Hon. Willis Sargent, Assemblyman and Rev. J. W. Former Writer, Movie Player Tells Washington War Work

Miss Arie Lee Branch of this city, formerly of Polytechnic High and City College, who meanwhile made rapid strides as a bit player in the movies was one of the first local girls to secure a position in government work in Washington. With the permission of the head of her department she has written at length of her first six months in the Capital. The first installment of her story follows:

"My Dear Mr. Lovette:

I wish to express my deep and sincere appreciation for the lovely write up. I was quite thrilled upon arriving home from work Friday morning and having my landlady hand me the Eagle with my name in large print. I thought all of hollywood had forgotten me, you know how we rise, fall, and are forgotten out there.

I am quite happy here and am studying very hard. In fact, between my studies, my work and catching 20 winks in between, I hardly have much time for sightseeing, and social life. However, what little I have participated in has been very enjoyable and successful. I attend St. Luke's Episcopal Church, where I met several very congenial people, one of whom is Mrs. Georgia Turner. She was very instrumental in securing a permanent home for me, and tried to comfort me during my first homesick hours here. Proudly I inform you, that I was elected Recording Secretary of the Progressive Club of St. Luke's Church. It is the first time that a stranger has ever held a position in any of their clubs, so you can imagine how elated I am.

I regret very much to inform you that I do not possess a high salaried position as you mentioned, but am working hard to that effect and I sincerely hope that the fruits of my hard studying will result in one of those fine salaried positions that are available and open to each and every one of us on my shift and inmy department, once they present themselves capable. I have truly a grand Branch Chief, Mr. Fratwell, and Supervisor Miss Rose Carelli, who both have the interest of the Race at heart and are doing everything possible to push them forward. Our chief has done away with a lot of the petty prejudices that existed in our department upon his arrival and has promoted quite a few of us already. . .

★DOWN IN FRONT

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

What Will Be Ken Snelling's Fate?

Sheik Rangel, the "barroom battler" from Fresno, toppled another local favorite Friday night at Hollywood Legion stadium. Tony Canelli, pride of the local Italian colony, was the victim in five rounds. The other favorite, who was going great guns until Rangel got him in the squared circle, was Cecil Hudson, the good colored 150-pounder. Rangel recently gave Henry Armstrong a decision fight, dropping the verdict after 10 stanzas. Using the same tactics on Canelli as he did on Hudson, he simply bulldozed the Italian, a fast, sharp boxer, to the ropes and manhandled him. The outcome was never in doubt. Canelli subbed for Charley Burley . . . Honored guest at the stadium was none other than uniformed Sergeant Joseph Louis Barrow. The announcement of his presence, his introduction and the applause were terrific. Tobey reminded the audience of the results of Louis' first encounter with Max Schmeling, and what he did to the Nazi in their second meeting . . .

Definitely not up to the standard set in the Oregon State fracas, UCLA's coast conference leading Bruins won another game Saturday—the third in a row—toppling undefeated and untied Santa Clara, king of the independents, 14-6. Suffering from a let-down, for all but a few minutes at the opening of the third quarter when they sustained a 78-yard march to a touchdown and looked like the club of three weeks ago, the Bruins faced a club which seemed to be satisfied to roll up yardage between the 20-yard markers. Down in pay-dirt, the Broncos fizzled. What with the Stanford Indians coming to town this week-end to attempt to bag some more scalps for their trophy room, the column is wondering what Coach Babe Horrell is going to do about fullback Ken Snelling when the regular plunger, George Phillips, is ready to return to action. Snelling, along with Bob Waterfield, have been sparking the Westwooders so far. The former's line plunging is sensational. Wonder how a backfield combination of Waterfield at quarter, Al Solari and Snelling at the halves, and Phillips at full would do? Well, it's just a thought . . .

Vote for the 15-Round Title Bout Proposition

Energetic John R. Williams, former L. A. newsman, is president of the Detroit Athletic Association which is staging that Wilberforce university-vs. West Virginia State college titanic in University of Detroit Stadium, Thanksgiving Day . . . Fresno State college, unbeaten, leads the nation's football's scorers, and in a backfield which boasts Jackie Fellows, former Los Angeles City college phenom, is colored sophomore right half, Jack Kelley. A game here, pitting Fresno against one of the universities, as has been suggested, would generate a lot of box office traffic . . . George Moore, managing Henry Armstrong's comeback, told the column recently, that during Hank's jaunts up and down the coast in recent months, he has observed flagrant discrimination against colored soldiers in the Army camps. What this country needs apparently is more of the Wendell Willkie-Henry Wallace conviction about what this war means—both now and later . . . Lone Angeleno on the Xavier university Gold Rush eleven (New Orleans) is Lucas Harris, a 23-year old back from Jefferson High . . . On the ballots for the general election next Tuesday is a proposition which, considered favorably by the voters, will probably mean the sanctioning of 15-round championship boxing bouts in this state. The 15-rounders are badly needed, there being too much confusion, and inconvenience as it is now when champions lose their titles here over the legal 12-round route. Lou Salica vs. Manuel Ortiz is the most recent example. Now is the time to wipe it off the books . . .

Armstrong in Easy Victory Over Zivic

BULLETIN

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29.—Promoter Joe Waterman announced here yesterday that Henry Armstrong, who defeated Fritzie Zivic, in San Francisco, Monday night, would meet former lightweight kingpin Lew Jenkins here on a date tentatively set for the early part of December.

Following the Zivic bout, Armstrong said he would take a month's rest from the ring.

SAN FRANCISCO, O . 29.—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, former feather, light and welter weight champion of the world, holding the three crowns simultaneously, partially evened up an old score here Monday night when he administered a terrific body beating to Fritzie Zivic, his two-time conqueror, to win the unanimous 10-round verdict.

Zivic took the last of the trio of crowns, the welterweight, from Hank in 1940, and whipped him in a rematch several months later, forcing Armstrong to retire. Subsequently, Zivic lost the crown to Fred Cochrane, of the U. S. Navy. He did, however, reverse the decision over Cochrane several months ago in [illegible]

Boring in relentlessly, Hank resembled the champion of old as he concentrated his attack on Zivic's body. The referee and two judges using the point system, gave Armstrong the verdict by a wide margin.

Using sharp uppercuts to the face which cut Armstrong's mouth, Zivic's best rounds were the fourth and 7th.

A dozen foursomes, divided into two clubs, representing golfers of the East and Westsides of Los Angeles, teed off Sunday at Sunset Fields, in the first of three scheduled inter-club matches.

Divided into three teams, the matches were for 18 holes, and when the final scores had been tabulated, the Westsiders had won two team matches, "B" and "C," with a grand club total of 12 matches. The losing Eastside team, with five winning matches and one team (Class "A") winner, had to be content to play second fiddle.

Individual scores started at below par and soared up over the 100 mark.

Oscar Clisby, California champion, for the first time this year in tournament play, shot under par, turning in a brilliant 70. Diminutive Roscoe Jones, with his buggy-whip driver, and Clisby's opponent, turned in a 72, a very creditable showing for the thin man.

Jones, Monroe Boykin, Dr Hardimon and A. Hairston were the winners for the Eastside in Class "A." Theophilis Smith and Sol Ellis accounted for the single win of the Westside.

In Class "B" Ed Allen and C. Lay, and S. Owens and R Johnson and W. McQueen and N. O. Houston were the Westside winners. For the Eastside, Dr. Wallace and Ivan Johnson and E. Carey and E. Lomera were winners.

Class [illegible] matches were as follows: Westside: L. Jennings-D. A. A. F[illegible] S. Drake H. Martin, A. Tourd-A. Howard, Eastside, J. B. Colbert, Al Brewer.

In the second round, during a brief flurry of gloves, Long John touched the canvas with one glove, the result of a left hook from Marcus.

From then on, it was all as easy as pie.

Two fights were substituted for the scheduled six-round semi. Frankie Wolgast, 132, TKO'ed Johnny Hernandez, 134, in two; and Al Guidry, 137, defeated Manuel Villa, 138, in a thriller.

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Corum gave former champion Lou Salica several hard battles before the latter lost the bantam bauble to Ortiz. Doing most of his boxing in the south and northwest, this will be his first appearance here in several months.

It will be Ortiz's first appearance at Hollywood since he whipped Salica for the 118-pound crown more than two months ago.

Although New York has refused to accord the Mexican battler titular recognition because the Ortiz-Salica bout went but 12 rounds instead of 15, the National Boxing association has given Ortiz proper recognition.

LOUIS AT RINGSIDE

The bout tomorrow night will be over-the-weight.

Max Hutchins clashes with Mexican Joe Ybarra in the six-round semi.

Building up a narrow lead in the early rounds, Ran Jackson, 153, wilted in the late heats, and dropped the duke to Ad Alonzo, 149½-pound Mexican in last Friday's semi-windup.

Sgt. Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, was the stadium's honored guest, received a great ovation from a capacity house and was paid a fine tribute by announcer Dan Tobey.

It used to be TABOO for girls to discuss this kind of help

Many a girl has suffered from cramp-like pain and other distresses due only to periodic functional causes simply because it was a subject people didn't talk about.

Nowadays, thousands of women rely on the 2-way help of CARDUI. Started 3 days before the time and taken as directed, CARDUI should help relieve purely functional periodic pain. Used as a tonic, it often perks up appetite, increases the flow of gastric juices, thus aiding digestion and thereby helping to build up strength and resistance for the time it's most needed.

CARDUI may help you. A 62-year record says it's worth a trial.

General Baptist Association Reports on 'State of Country'

Fresno, Calif., Oct. 17, 1942.
To the General Baptist Association, Assembled.

We, your committee on "State of the Country", submit the following report:

We thought that within the short time that we would have to give our views in the 'State of the Country' that we would touch lightly on three (3) phases of this important subject, Viz: The Political, the Economic and the religious aspects.

THE POLITICAL

We are familiar with our form of 'Democratic Government' with its President, Secretary of State, etc. And in this war condition our attention is continually called to the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, the Generals and Officers of the United States Army.

Let us think of the attitude of these officials with reference to the various races making up this great civilian population of our country: We have noticed with great concern the attitude of our Government in this matter. In spite of the fact that we are fighting for 'Democracy', it seems very clear that our own nation has not reached the point where they can grant for themselves the very democracy for which they are fighting.

As Christian citizens of this country we are both praying, working and fighting. First of all, that our own government might accept its own principles as are contained in the "Atlantic Charter."

OUR ECONOMIC STATUS

Let us glance at the Economic condition: This of necessity ties in with the political condition; because of the discrimnatory attitude within the government and running through the Political and Army set-up: it naturally comes down to, and influences our economic condition. We are aware of the fact that there are 'bars' set up preventing the Negro race from sharing equally in the economic Status as created by this war-condition, in which we find ourselves — This, in spite of the fact that the President of the United States of America has declared that there shall be equal opportunities without any discriminatory act against any of our citizens.

This is especially so in the so-called "White-collar jobs." We, as Christian citizens are determined to meet these conditions, first by proving our qualifications for these various jobs and positions, and secondly, by exercising patience, and yet showing the determined attitude that we shall never be satisfied until we too, are allowed to earn a livelihood on an equal basis with any any other race. This too, requires a Christian attitude of prayer.

THE RELIGIOUS CONDITION

And now with reference to the Religious condition of our Country: This too, ties in with both the Political and economic situaton. It is impossible to live a "departmentalized" life. We cannot be unjust in our economical and Political status, and when it comes to 'Religion' or Christianity, be wholly, "Just and good." If our Political and Economical system is not properly shared, then our claim to Christianity is a mere farce.

In this we meet a condition that gives us our greatest task as 'Christian' citizens of the United States of America. It is our task not only to live the individual Christian life, but by our life, attitude and conduct, we are to help to make this a Christian Nation. For in spite of the fact that we are referred to, and refer to ourselves as a "Christian Nation", we are conscious of the fact that we have a long way to go. This of itself calls for consecration on our part as members of the General Baptist Association of Northern California.

Respectfully submitted,

Committee — J. T. Muse, G. J. Wildy, Mrs. Ida Lucas, Mrs. Maxine V. White

(The Association endorsed this report, and directed that a copy of same be forwarded to the President of the United States.)

L. A. Baptists Hold Great Meet

The L. A. Baptist District association held a great session Oct. 21-24, at the Macedonia Baptist church, South Los Angeles, Rev. F. D. Ferrell, pastor.

The association just closed one of its greatest quarterly sessions in its history. The attendance was good; the spirit was high, the finance was very good, and the Rev. G. A. Miller, moderator, was at his best.

The following vacancies were filled: Rev. Cranl Harris was elected first vice moderator, succeeding the late Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge; Rev. L. D. Stevens, B. D., executive secretary, succeeding Rev. Frank James, who has been called to State work; Rev. E. A. Anderson, elected recording secretary, succeeding Rev. L. D. Stevens, who was serving at that time; Mrs. Mildra Carwell was elected treasurer.

Rev. G. Albert Miller is moderator, Rev. L. D. Stevens, executive secretary; and Rev. C. M. Toney, field secretary, the reporter.

2 Scattergood Members Sign Up With Army

Harry McWilliams and Elden Coffee left last week to join the Army. A good-bye party was given at the club-house.

The $100.00 drive for the new club-house is to start in the near future. The Ministers in the Crown City are loyally giving their support.

Clarice Thompson, assisted by local talent and a Los Angeles pianist rendered a fine musical program at the Friendship Baptist Church. She was presented by the choir of the Metropolitan Baptist Church. Next year she hopes to enter a music school in the east.

The Scattergoods are proud of the appointment of Rev. William Dickerson, Jr. (Billy) to Harvard, to complete his training as a chaplain in the army. We always knew that 'Billy' would make good.

Friday evening, Oct. 30, at 7:30 the Juniors will have a silver medal contest at the club-house under the Opportunity Club, Mrs. Ruth McWilliams, president. A new quilt will be given away. The public is invited.

Thank you.—Mae Ro: Johnson.

LARY Suffers from Shortage Manpower, States Director

REV. CHAS. M. TONEY

Reporting that the number of service complaints from the streetcar and coach riding public has risen perceptibly in the past several months, L. A. Reeves, director of the Los Angeles Railway Bureau of Public Service, this week admitted that public transportation has suffered somewhat as a result of war time conditions but said that every possible remedy is being employed.

"In almost every case these complaints have proved to be caused by 'war nerves' both on the part of our operators and the passengers," Reeves said. "The Los Angeles Railway will never sanction discourtesy on the part of its employees and yet, in times such as these, we are particularly careful to find the real cause of each complaint."

Reeves pointed out that more than 1200 of the company's regular employees have entered some phase of full-time war production or the armed services, a situation which calls for intense "new man" training much of which is difficult to assimilate quickly.

In addition a great number of motormen, conductors and coach drivers are engaged in Civilian Defense work in their off-hours nad are thus fully familiar with the seriousness of the war situation.

"They know that their big job is to transport war workers," Reeves concluded, "and, to a man, they are determined to do that job right. While the Los Angeles Railway continues to adhere to its policy of welcoming every legitimate complaint it asks its customers to remember the position of transportation all over the country and try to overlook instances which are not in direct violation of company rules and generally accepted behavior."

Bishop of Rangoon at St. Philip's

Father Moore, Vicar of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, has announced that Bishop George West, of Rangoon, Burma, will be the special guest speaker on Sunday, November 8th, at the 11 a.m. service. Bishop West, known as the Bishop of Rangoon, is the Bishop of the Angican Diocese of Burma, India. He has for a number of years stationed at Rangoon, and was forced to leave just prior to the taking of the Burma Road, and occupation of Burma by the Japanese.

Although the occasion of the service at St. Philip's Church (801 E. 28th street) will be the celebration of the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the congregation, Bishop West will take occasion to discuss the Anglo-Burmese situation prior to outbreak of war, and the attitude of the Burmese toward the British which is said to have culminated in the loss of Burma. The Vicar and congregation of St. Philip's extend an invitation to the public to worship with them on this occasion. Persons especially interested in minority group problems will, doubtless, welcome the opportunity to hear and meet the Bishop of Rangoon.

A HINT TO THE WISE -- -- --

Picture to yourself that kind of life you would like to live, and the kind of person you would like to become — and remember that the power is within you, to make those pictures become a reality.

Letter after letter tells about surprised clients wondering at the great changes in their lives. They look younger, feel better, their luck has improved, along with their personalities. These letters to Prof. Herman, from his friends also tell of increased earnings, better mental conditions, rapid growth of their talents and hundreds of other blessings derived thru his works and faith.

You too, can expect similar results, for there is nothing to hold you back, and everything to gain. Why deny yourself life's richest rewards, when they are right at your finger-tips. Write him at your earliest convenience.

E.W. Dear Sir: Many thanks for the Horoscope. Every happening from day to day comes true. Will you please let me know when the 1943 Horoscopes will be ready, as I am very anxious to get one.

x x x

E.W. How can I locate some of my relatives? — Ans. The Bureau of Missing Persons will aid you in locating your oldest brothers children. Write them at once giving all particulars and information you have.

x x x

E.P.G. How will this case come out? Ans. Probing into the matter I find that your wife is in some trouble and you are wondering if she will get out of it alright. It seems that justice will be done and she will be given every consideration, so don't worry.

x x x

C.R.S. What do you advise me to do concerning my problem? Ans. A careful analysis of your case indicates the fact that you have promised to marry a man much older than yourself, but you have two children by a previous marriage and are wondering if it would be the thing to do. This man loves you dearly and seems to be quite interested in your children as well. He would try and make you and the children happy, and since you care so much for him I see no reason why you should hesitate in going thru with the marriage.

x x x

G.B. Does S. S. love me? Should I keep after him to quit this other girl? What can I do to make him love me? Ans. Only one question is answered in this column. I suggest that you write in for a private reply.

x x x

J.D. Dear Prof. Herman: I read of your good works and feel that you can help me find peace of mind and happiness too. Will I be able to marry the girl I love? Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that you will marry the girl within the next few months. You are inclined to be rather backward in asking this important question. I suggest that you refrain from putting it off any longer. She will make a fine wife and be a great help to you.

x x x

L.W.R. Should I answer this letter or ignore it? Ans. If you feel that the letter is not genuine, then simply ignore it. You can however have it traced, and in this manner clear the matter up.

x x x

G.McD. Who keeps wearing my shoes? Ans. It appears that the children in the house like to put on older people's shoes, thus they wear yours around when you are not there. If you talk to them, I am sure they will stop.

x x x

U.M.J. Will my husband get the charge he desires? Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your husband's desire to get another church, and I vision his being successful in getting the one he has in mind.

x x x

L.B.H. There are three men I am very fond of, which should I spend the most time with? Ans. It seems that you are also married and your husband is a jealous man. I do not recommend your taking any of the three men serious under the existing conditions. It may result in trouble and heartaches.

'Yes' Vote to Defeat Hot Cargo Urged

Over thirty flagrant cases of interruption and delay of the war program in California through hot cargo and secondary boycott practices have been reported to the state-wide committee for Proposition One, Randolph Van Nostrand, assistant to the chairman, announced today.

"The hot cargo and secondary boycott are labor's slang terms describing two practices sometimes used by irresponsible union organizers," Van Nostrand said.

"National labor leadership has repeatedly called upon organized labor to forego strikes and stop all needless interruptions in production during the war.

"The California State Legislature passed Proposition One as a law by a two-thirds majority. The people must vote on it November 3 because the teamsters union has made it subject to a referendum.

"To stop the waste of hundreds of thousands of vital food products and delays and interruptions to vital war production, the Legislature must be upheld by a "Yes" vote.

"If you are against hot cargo practices, you will vote "Yes" on Proposition One", Van Nostrand concludes. —Adv.

SEVEN TONS of best quality steel is on the way to the nation's scrap pile as a result of a donation of two huge vault doors by California Bank. A. H. Smith, cashier of the bank, right, is shown inspecting the doors as C. G. Griffith, safe expert, explains that the open hearth steel used in manufacturing the doors is second in quality only to fine tool steel. "They've just been standing idle in the warehouse," explained Smith, "and we decided they could be used to better advantage in a seven-ton tank."

Machinists Will Vote on Negroes

National Referendum Result of Long Campaign Here

The decision to initiate and sponsor a national referendum of all unions of the International Association of Machinists was reacred this week by the District Council, speaking for the thirty thousand members of the Machinists Local 727.

A stunning success for Negro workers at Lockheed-Vega aircraft plants—who have demanded their right to full union participation since the firms first hired them—the District Council action climaxes a long series of meetings between Negro workers, union officials and figures in the Negro community.

The Los Angeles District Council, chaired by progressive Dale Reed, makes history in raising the question of Negro participation. As the District responsible for initiating a call for national referdum, it wil be the job of Local 727, first, to rally ten per-

Olson Takes Eastside; Kenny Wins

Gov. Culbert L. Olson won as far as the citizens of this community are concerned. In a poll canvass conducted by the California EAGLE on the Eastside, it was discovered that Olson led Warren by a comfortable margin.

In Los Angeles, 4,595 precincts out of 5367 reporting, showed that Olson polled 288,201 votes and Warren 279,112. Press time returns, 10,200 precincts out of 14,494, Warren 677,786 votes and Olson 529,74" votes.

The race for lieutenant Governor still remained in doubt. A hard battle is being fought between incumbent Elis E. Patterson and Frederick Houser While State Senator Robert W. Kenny, boasting the finest progressive record of any of the candidates running, won out over red-baiting Republican Walace Ware for Warren's old post as Attorney General.

For Secretary of State, the issue may remain in doubt for several days until all ballots are counted. The Republican candidate, Frank Jordan, is leading incum-

Man Was Jailed for Drunkenness

Uncle Says Suicide "Not Plausible"

With no new light thrown on the death of Alfred Mosby at pres time, relatives of the 47-year old man found dying in the Beverly Hills jail last Tuesday, started an investigation that may bring out some startling facts. According to police reports, Mosby, who was arrested on Saturday of last week on a charge of drunkeness, had committed suicide by beating his head against the bars of his cell.

But, according to his uncle, John Farley, the family suspects Mosby may have suffered fatal injuries during a fight among prisoners, such as frequently occurs, or otherwise may have been the victim of violence rather than self-inflicted wounds. Farley has an engagement with Beverly Hills police authorities this afternoon when he hopes to learn more concerning the tragedy.

Incidentally, friends and relatives of the dead man declare that it does not seem possible that with his one week's sentence ve next Saturday, he would destroy himself. Discrepancy in the report of his residence was also noted, since he has not lived at 838 East 31 street fo four years.

RECENT NEWS STORY— GIRL RAVISHER.16, GETS 1 TO 50 TERM AT SAN QUENTIN

Sixteen-year-old Robert G. Smith, Negro, will spend from 1 to 50 years of his life in San Quentin for the kidnap-rape of a 15-year-old El Monte girl.

Superior Judge William R. McKay passed the sentence yesterday, called the crime "the most outrageous ever heard in the criminal courts."

After the ravishment of the girl under the Rio Hondo bridge the night of July 12, Smith was charged with kidnap, rape and committing an immoral offense.

He pleaded guilty to forcible rape.

"At a time more than any other time, when unity is so vital such a crime even has an effect on the morale of our people," said the judge.

Dear Madam:

Happy greetings to you, Mrs. Bass, I hope your family and your self are enjoying the best of health and happiness.

Out of desperation, I write you these few lines in hope that God may find this way to give me the help I think I deserve.

I am only 16 years old and have just been sentenced to San Quentin for one to fifty years over a crime I never committed. I am innocent of raping anyone, and yet my attorney, who is of another color, had me to plead guilty.

I was involved in the association of another boy older than myself who has a bad record and I believe I am being sent to prison on the strength of this boy's statement.

I was born in Duarte and my mother, sister and myself have lived here all our lives. I was going to Monrovia High School and my mother and family all belong to and attend regularly the Holines Church af Rev. Baman in Monrovia.

Now, Mrs. Bass, I do not know if my mother is a member of the N.A.A.C.P. or not but my sister is and we wish to request your consideration of this case in order that I may have the real true justice of which we hear so much talk these days.

There needs to be haste in this matter, Mrs. Bass, and while this may be a delicate subject to handle, still it is quite possible I may be carried away from here very

MEXICANS FACE POLICE TERROR ROUND-UPS; VILE PRESS SLURS

Link L. A. Anti-Mexican Drive With So-Called Harlem "Crime Wave"

By JOHN KINLOCH

Paralleling the plot to elect pro-Fascist Earl Warren as Governor is the Hearst-Chandler conspiracy against what the boys of the vermin press have termed "Mexican Baby Gangsters."

Fellow participants in the slander drive at the present writing are the Los Angeles Police and Sheriff's departments. The District Attorney's office, through demon prosecutors Clyde Shoemaker and Johnny Barnes, has got in a few foul licks in a trial charging TWENTY-ONE 'teen-age kids with murder and asking gas chamber penalty for all of them.

WHAT COOKS?

What do I mean, conspiracy?

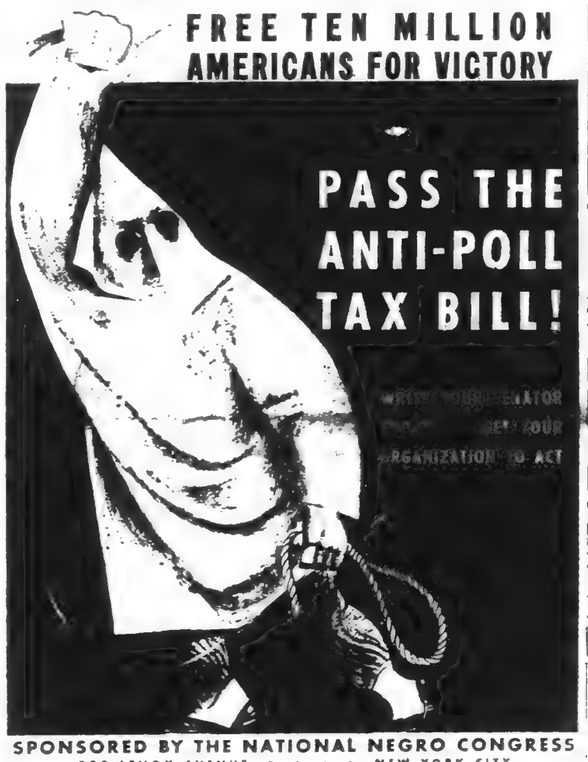
I mean just what I say. I mean conspiracy . . . plot . . . a bunch of guys sitting around a table cooking up mischief.

The line of reasoning is like so:

1—There are a gang of pro-Fascists in this country who are scared sick at the prospect of victory for the United Nations, the kind of victory charted by President Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie, Senator Pepper, Joseph Stalin, and Chiang Kai-Chek.

2—They have great power in government and in the press, which is their major prostitute.

3—They get their cues from Hitler, and Hitler says that "America is a country permanently on the brink of revolution," — that its minorities may be used to divide and disrupt the nation's war effort.



4—So city editors in New York, in Detroit, in Los Angeles get orders from upstairs that they must whip up a phoney "crime wave" among Negro kids in Harlem, Negro kids in Detroit and Mexican kids in Los Angeles.

5—This is a very fine idea from the Fascist viewpoint. It destroys the fundamental prerequisite of a victorious America: national unity. It disrupts the growing unity of all citizens. It sets group against group, prejudices the whites, destroys the war spirit of minorities.

SPONSORED BY THE NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS
290 LENOX AVENUE • • • • NEW YORK CITY

HERE IS the striking Ant-Poll Tax placard being nationally distributed this week by the National Negro Congress.

ANTI-POLL TAX FIGHT DEMANDS NEW DRIVE

Progressive America girded this week for an all-out battle with Senate reactionaries in the contest for passage of the Pepper Anti-Poll Tax bill.

All churches which still have anti-polltax petitions are urged to turn them into the California Eagle offices. A special bearer from the Los Angeles community will take them to Washington. He is Paul E. Hackett, postar workers official, who leaves for the capital Monday evening.

Also impressing Senators with Los Angeles' determination for success in the fight to liberate 10 million American voters is CIO State President Phil Connelly.

Comenting on the anti-poll tax campaign, officials of the National Negro Congress pointed out this week in Washington that only the most determined effort on the part of trade unions and local organizations and individuals

REMEMBER MERIDIAN, MISS!

What You Can Do

1. Send telegrams to Senators Hiram Johnson, Barkley, McNary, and the President, demanding vigorous support of the Pepper Anti-Poll Tax Bill.
2. See that your club or organization sends telegrams and passes resolutions for the passage of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill.
3. Write to the City Council, Board of Supervisors and the State Legislature asking for support of this measure.
4. Demand that the city's papers carry stories on the progress of the bill.
5. Pray.

CIO Takes Goodyear Bias to D. C.

Employers who continue to discriminate against Negroes in hiring were given sharp warning that the CIO will continue its militant fight for equality as the union prepared to take the case of six Negro girls refused employment at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company plant here, straight to War Man-Power Commissioner Paul V. McNutt.

A full report of the instances of discrimination at the plant and the lax role played by the United States Employment Service when it did not report cases of discriminatory hiring was to be laid on McNutt's desk by CIO President Phillip M. Connelly and Secretary Mervin Rathborne when thy reach Washington some time this week.

Figures revealed here showed that in three major rubber factories very few Negroes are employed and that only two Negro women are working, both of them in the capacity of maids.

Conferences with U.S.E.S. officials brought out that the government agency knew about in fact, had filled orders specifying "white" workers—without reporting to Washington.

Goodyear policy was disclosed when six Negro girls were turned down at the employment gate when they answered an advertisement for unskilled workers at the factory.

Although company men hinted that it was union policy which kept them from hiring the Negro women, ironically enough, at the very moment the girls were ap-

18 States Ask Pardon for Coleman

Enthusiastic responses to the appeal for a pardon for Festus Coleman, young San Francisco Negro now serving 65 years for "rape and robbery," have been received from 69 cities, towns and hamlets in California and from eighteen states in the United States. Letters, signatures, petitions have been sent to the Coleman Defense Committee from Los Angeles, Oakland, Fresno, Berkeley, San Jose, Sacramento, Bakersfield, Hayward, Petaluma, Mill Valley, Stockton, Merced, Pittsburgh, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Oroville, Redding, Selma, Alhambra, Chico, to mention only a few. The states include Ohio, Kentucky, Florida, Kansas, Oklahoma, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Louisiana, the home state of Festus Coleman, and the District of Columbia.

Organizations from many states have passed resolutions

NAZI PROPAGANDA!

WHAT FASCIST PROPAGANDA LOOKS LIKE: It was 'crazy' stuff like this that brought Adolph Hitler to power. Read the amazing story, below, of Nazi Father Riker—twice candidate, on the Republican ticket, for GOVERNOR of California!

FATHER WILLIAM E. RIKER, native Fascist, arrested for sedition this week by the F.B.I. after twenty years of spreading disruptionist, Hitlerite propaganda against Negroes and Orientals.

AXIS PROPAGANDIST IS AT LAST JAILED

EXCERPTS FROM "FATHER RIKER'S" FASCIST WRITINGS:

1—All negroes and orientals under this Divine Plan—Riker's new world order—will become their—The Great White Man's—exalted servants as are the arms and legs to your physical body.

2—I came into this world to introduce a NEW WORLD of Supreme Law and Order, harmoniously working, within our present world and it will be. . . . for . . . the Jew and Gentile, not only to own, but also to rule and control.

3—If a white race Woman, busines,s and the country belongs only to the White race people, and in giving negroes and orientals either possessions or authority and access to our White race people, dignity and sanctity in our White Man's Country, is absolutely criminal and rank insanity. I say, STOP IT. . . . .

4—If a half-breed shows signs of creativeness, it is because of the Christian White Blood in his veins.

6—A negro would pay any price to be you—a 'Great White Man'—and the oriental would pay a good price. It is now time for all White people to wake up.

7—Fanatical and ignorant preachers who are drunk with delusion, come out and foolishly declare there is no difference—between the races—likewise fanatical grafters and communists take the advantage of such delusion and use them for the purpose of their vote and muscle power, in heading off the supposed enemy. I hope this true information will aid in straightening you out, in realizing that there s a Big Difference. The White Man is Supreme.

Arch Negro-baiter Father William E. Riker, 68, Republican candidate for Governor, was jailed last week for sedition by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it was revealed here today.

Riker's arrest adds further proof to support the contention that Negro-baiting today is part of the Fascist fifth column in America designed to split national unity and prevent victory of a people's war.

Significance was attached to the fact that it was necessary for the G-Men to snag Riker, who had operated a vicious Nazi propaganda mill for years without interference by former Attorney General Earl Warren or his predecessor. Warren was yesterday elected Governor of California.

Specific charges against Riker—who is at liberty on $7,500 bail—accuse him of attempting to create dislovalty in the armed forces by "making defamatory statements to three United States soldiers near Moffet Field, California."

Following the Hearst defeatist line, it was further chaged by Special Agent Nat J. L. Pieper that Riker had sent pamphlets to Congressmen advocating peace with the Axis, except Japan.

LONG PROTESTED

Negro individuals and organizations have long protested the activities of Father Riker, who heads a 'religious' communal township at Holy City, California.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE editor, has been a consistent worker in exposing the treacherous falsehoods and cockeyed racial theory Riker has spewed through the U. S. mails. Only a few months ago, Rev. Clayton D. Russell of the Negro Victory Commtittee appealed to local F.B.I. offices for investigation of Congressman John M. Coffee, Democratic representative in the House from Washington State, was today announced as the keynote speaker for the Conference of American Soviet Friendship, to be held at the ments to Japan.

Coffee has long urged closer cooperation and understanding between the United States and Russia and has been active in attempting to bring about such a feeling.

At the same time that Representative Coffee's acceptance was received by the local conference, telegraphic word was also received from President Avila Camacho that he would send a special envoy to attend. Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada has also indicated that a prominent Canadian figure would be present.

A list of patrons for the conference, which is similar to one being held in New York on the same date and suggested by Joseph E. Davies, former U. S. Ambassador to Russia, includes Charles R. Burr of the Securities & Exchange Commission; Mark Aberson, Isaac Pacht; District Attorney John F. Dockweiler; Louis W. Myers; Film Director Michael Curtiz; Rev. Willsie Martin; Dr. Alexis Kall; A. L. Lathrop; Blackstone Smith; E. F. Scattergood; Minor Moore; Olive C. Woods; Dr. Max Mason; George R. Larwill; Joseph P. Loeb; Ray W. Smith; Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens; Wm. W. Clary; Dan B. USO Club Aide Attends Confab in Sonoma

Mrs. Gertrude V. White, associate director of the Buchanan Street U. S. O. Club, is attending a ten day conference of the U. S. O. and Y. W. C. A. officials at the Sonoma Mission Inn, Sonoma, California.

Mrs. White represents the Y. W. C. A. on the U. S. O. program. She is responsible for the many lovely young ladies and charming matrons who entertain the servicemen at the Buchanan Street Club. The officers at the camps are enthusiastic in their praise of the cooperation received from this club. The junior hostesses have made several trips to the various camps as mobile units.

Mrs. White was born in San Francisco and obtained her secondary and college education in Nashville, Tennessee. Upon graduation from the Tennessee State College, she taught for two years at Okolona, Miss. Further studies were completed at Fresno State College and San Francisco State College. For the past three years Mrs. White has been associated with the city recreational department of Palo Alto, California. She is the wife of William H. White, former show producer of the mid-west. The Whites reside in Palo Alto.

Non-Partisan Council Protests WAVES Bar

Refusing to accept for Negro women any special status following the discriminatory racial lines now forced upon Negro men serving their country in the Navy, the Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority has announced its intention to fight to the limit every case of exclusion or other discrimination by the Navy's "WAVES."

The Navy's Director of Officer Procurement, Kenneth Castleman, joined the issue with the collegewomen when he rejected Doris Eloise Hill, Trenton, New Jersey, soror, and Indiana University alumna, on the grounds that she did "not appear to qualify for any division of the Women's Reserve of the U. S. Naval Reserve," and had "not established to the satisfaction of the Director of Naval Officer Procurement that your particular qualifications fit you for appointment."

To Tax Freight, Express Bills

LOS ANGELES—Southern California businessmen will pay new penalties of millions of dollars in buying raw materials and distributing finished goods beginning December 1, when the federal government will start collection of a 3 per cent tax on freight and express bills paid for shipment of goods by rail, truck, air and water, C. B. Tibbetts, president of the Los Angeles County Chamber of Commerce, revealed yesterday.

"The new tax is incorporated in the Revenue Act of 1942," Tibbetts said. "The law states that the 3 per cent levy must be added to amounts paid for the transportation of property from one point in the United States to another, except that in the case of coal the tax shall be 4 cents per short ton."

Meet Today on Mexican Problems

The recent outbursts of "so-called" juvenile delinquency among Mexican youth in Los Angeles has serious implications in mobilizing Los Angeles behind the war effort. There is evidence that fifth-column elements are operating in our community and are stirring up action among the Mexican youth which is detrimental to national unity. As a result of lack of recreational facilities and slum conditions many Mexican youth have been arrested for congregating on street corners.

Through Anthony Quinn, movie actor, and Mrs. La Rue McCormick, head of the International Labor Defense, an adult committee has been formed to develop a constructive program of war work for young Mexican people.

Youth organizations in Los Angeles have also expressed an interest in cooperating with Mexican youth to solve the problems affecting them. An invitation to attend a meeting on these problems has been issued to all young people in Los Angeles by Morton Newman. The meeting will be held Thursday, November 5, 8:00 p. m., in the ballroom of the Angelus Hotel, Fourth and Spring Streets. Brothers and sisters of the twenty-four Mexican youth on trial for murder will tell inside facts of the case. Mrs. McCormick as well as other representatives of the adult committee, will meet with the youth leaders to discuss the problem and to insure a fair trial for the accused youths. All interested young people are invited to attend.

Papers Begin New Drive for Salvage

A new salvage drive covering homes, business establishments and industrial plants on a greater scale than anything yet undertaken in Southern California will be launched next week by the newspapers of the city of Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday.

The first step will be the opening of several hundred salvage depots in various sections of the city. The efforts of salvage wardens and enlarged district salvage committees will be consolidated into the most extensive scrap drive planned so far.

In announcing the new campaign, it was pointed out that the collection of salvage is a job which will last for the duration. The salvage depots which are to be opened next week are being set up on a permanent war time basis.

The new campaign comes immediately upon the heels of the outstandingly successful school scrap metal drive during which 300,000 Los Angeles youngsters hauled in more than 3000 tons of metal, rags and rubber.

"The school kids did an outstanding piece of work, but we must keep right on with the salvage campaign," Margaret E. Hughes, executive secretary of the calvage committee, said yesterday. "The collection of salvage is not a one week or two week duty anymore than this is a one or two week war.

"The youngsters have set an excellent example for their elders. When the new campaign starts next week, it will be up to everyone to get in the scrap—home owners, business men—and industrial leaders alike.

"It must be remembered that even in normal times steel mills use 50 per cent scrap in turning out steel. Now, with demands increasing daily for finished steel, the percentage of scrap needed is even greater, since the use of substantial proportions of scrap actually speeds production.

The salvage depots are now in process of being located and an announcement of the location of every depot in this area will be made as soon as the list is completed.

Meanwhile, householders and business men alike are being asked to round up every possible bit of scrap metal, rubber and rags in preparation for hauling it to the salvage depots commencing next week.

★ POST OFFICE FACTS & FIGURES

By PAUL L. HACKETT SR.

Telling the truth is like throwing a stone. The one who is in- jured usually hollers. We have promised to stick to facts and figures in the column, void of personal prejudices. If any group or individual feels that we have un- justly accused them we are will- ing to rectify an alleged injus- tice in the same spirit as we con- demn.

Recently both the Postal Alli- ance and the United Federal Workers of America have suffered embarrassment as me- diators for post office employees. Only such information as these employees felt might help them was given. The result was, when the heads of the department pre- sented the facts the case was a matter of supposition.

There are too many two-way carrier pigeons in the post office who keep confusion with both the men and the department. Let me say here in behalf of the United Federal Workers of Am- erica that we hold no brief for these men or their methods. We refuse to protect or to be vic- timized by men of this ilk any longer.

A correction on the statement of last week pertaining to rubber gloves in washing cuspidors. The ruling was handed down by the comptroller general and not through priorities on rubber. Our assistant custodian, Mr. Charles Stambach, who has a sympathetic understanding of our problems, has personally offered to help purchase rubber gauntlets if they are available. We have found that Mr. Stambach is willing to lend an attentive ear to your problems if you are man enough to take them to him.

To avoid a strained relationship which has seemed to have arisen bewteen the UFWA and the Post Office department, we recom- mend that all departmental grie- vances be certified for local ref- erence and legislative problems be handled from our national of- fice in Washington, D. C. We have every reason to believe that this will work out to the satis- faction for all concerned.

A joint conference of the Post- al Alliance and UFWA is being arranged with the Post Office this week. We have hopes of working out a progressive pro- gram, which will be gratifying to all Post Office employees.

Yours truly expects to leave the first of next week for Wash- ington, D. C. We expect to pre- sent our legislative problems be- fore our national organizations. It is hoped that we will be able to report the attitude of Congress toward economic relief.

PARTING SHOT:

If you have a real beef and are man enough to back it, we are with you all the way, but if you are looking for a monkey to pull chestnuts out of the fire for you, we are not the men.

Randolph Goes to Canada to Organize Porters

It was learned at the interna- tional headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters in New York City that A. Philip Randolph, interna- tional president, and Bennie Smith, second international vice president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, had left for Canada the latter part of October to organize the sleeping car porters of Toronto, Montreal, Calgary, Vancouver, and Winni- peg into the Brotherhood. These porters are employed by the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

Following the organization of this group, plans are set to take in the porters of the Canadian National, said Mr. Randolph. The two railway systems employ nearly a thousand men.

Capt. Emmett L. Gaines Passes

Captain Emmett Leon Gaines, of Pasadena, servant of God, soldier, humanitarian, and a na- tional leader, is dead.

Death came Saturday night about 8 o'clock at the hospital in Sawtelle, where he was rushed Friday morning.

Emmett Leon Gaines enlisted in the United States Army in his native city, Richmond, Virginia, in 1898, and was sent to the Philippine Islands with the 48th Regiment, where he was com- missioned captain.

After the war he returned to the United States and took up residence in Pasadena. In 1920 he was called to New York City to assist Marcus Garvey in the N. N. I. A.

He was the commander and the organizer of the Black Legion.

He returned to California about 1930 and became instru- mental in the foundation of the Metropolitan Baptist Church.

The funeral services were held at the church of his own choosing, Wednesday. The re- mains were interred in the cemetery at Sawtelle.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Sarah Gaines, and some cousins, resi- dents of Los Angeles. The funeral was under the direction of the V. of F. W. of which he was chaplain.

McNutt Urged to Restore Original Powers to FEPC

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the National Urban League are directing a parallel effort as their share in nation-wide pro- tests against the transfer of the President's Committee on Fair Employmnt Practice from its for- mer independent status to that of control by the War Manpower Commission directed by Paul V. McNutt. This transfer was made on July 30, 1942.

The chief concern of Walter White and Lester B. Granger, ex- ecutive secretaries respectively, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peo- ple and the National Urban League, centers about Mr. Mc- Nutt's recent assurances that "the Committee's independence of judgment will not be im- paired."

It was revealed this week that numerous letters addressed to the Administrator of the War Manpower Commission by the executive secretaries of the two powerful organizations are deter- mined "that the rightful inde- pendence of action of the Presi- dent's Committee on Fair Em- ployment Practice be main- tained." Thirteen million Ameri- can Negroes are represented in the combined membership of the NAACP and the National Urban League.

"Negroes of the United States, along with other minorities are increasingly alarmed at what appears to be a deliberate at- tempt on the part of certain of your subordinates to strip the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice of its inde- pendence and effectiveness," said Mr. White in a recent communi- cation to Mr. McNutt. "The ap- parent emasculation of the Com- mittee which is now going on, or which is believed by Negroes in all parts of the country to be going on, is definitely increasing the pessimism and cynicism among Negroes."

Meanwhile, Mr. Granger issued the following statement public- ly: "The vigorous work and en- couraging results which mark the anniversary of the creation of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice must be continued strictly in keeping with those sturdy, democratic objectives set forth in Executive Order 8802. The banning of dis- crimination from war industries and Federal Government agen- cies because of race, color, creed or national origin means more today than it did last year and all the years in our nation's his- tory."

It was learned from reliable sources that the plans now under consideration by the War Man- power Commission place a limit on the powers of the Committee on Fair Employment Practice to the point of the War Manpower Commission having sole right to decide if, when, and where the Committee on Fair Employment Practice shall hold hearings on discrimination in war industries and in Federal Government ag- encies. The plans are also said to stipulate that the field repre- sentatives of the Committee shall be accountable to General Mc- Sherry, Chief of Operations, War Manpower Commission, and that the general activities of the Com- mittee on Fair Employment Prac- tice are limited to the reviewing of the reports of both investiga- tions made and decisions reached after complaints in vio- lation of Executive Order 8802 have been received. At the same time, it is reported, if the Com- mittee objects to either the in- vestigations or the decisions then the Committee must file all com- plaints to Chairman McNutt of the War Manpower Commission.

These limiting factors were not placed about the activities of the Committee on Fair Employ- ment Practice prior to its transfer to the War Manpower Commis- sion.

Gasoline Storage Drum Kills Boy, 6

An iron drum, formerly used for the storage of gasoline, but empty for at least a month, brought death to David Valen- tino, 1338 Dewey Street, Venice, age six and one-half years last week. The strange circumstances surrounding the death of this child definitely demonstrates that to store gasoline in any type of container . . . except under a permit from the Fire Department . . . may cause similar conse- quences in every case.

To Issue Nylon Hose Shopping Card Soon

A shopping card that every woman can tuck into her purse when she goes out to buy nylon hose will be issued soon by the Office of Price Administration. The card will list the new ceil- ing prices on all types of nylons and can be obtained by writing to the Office of Price Adminis- tration, Washington, D. C.

With this addition to her shopping gear, a woman can take full advantage of OPA's action against the "bootleg" prices often demanded for nylon hose in recent months. And to make her job of price-checking easier, the card will show which facts on type and quality must be marked or labeled on each pair.

Facts on type and quality can be checked against the prices on the card or newspaper clipping, but they will be most useful to the shopper who approaches the hosiery counter with a working knowledge of the things that spell serviceability in nylons.

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

Due to many reasons the pace of the younger set has been slowed down considerably. The college crowd that constantly entertains and keeps the younger set going is being left completely manless. Therefore, dances, parties and social gatherings come at long stretched intervals. But when the intervals do fall, the affairs are definitely on some solid time. The AKA sorority took the spotlight last Saturday evening when it presented the cabaret classic. All the tables were taken, reserved and otherwise, everybody was on hand, feeling fine, and havingthe usual grand time. The AKA members and pledges did their part, acting as hostesses, waitresses, and hat check girls. Melonee Temple headed the list of hostesses and saw to it that everybody was taken care of. Benzell Graham and Helen Thompson were hat check girls, while Ann Anderson., Willa Jean Ashford, Marion Clarke, Helen Mills, Josephine Marshall, and others served as waitresses. While scanning the crowd, took note of Enoch Spann with UCLA freshman Mary Louise Thomas, Howard Grant and Tommy Palmer with sub-deb company, also Gloria Tribble and Donald Bowdoin at ring-side tables along with Winifred Allen and Bill Terry, Connie Duffey, Harold Faulkner, Renna Clarke and Paulette Dejoie, Wallace Decuir —back in town—with Netaline from Pasadena, Betty Yarbrough and John Alston, Joye Speights, Leonard Grimes, Booker Stevens and Herbert Simmons were in evidence. The floor show featured Archie Savage and his dancers. Wesleen Foster and Kathleen Bush Hartsfield did some fine dancing. The whole affair was well received by the patrons and all proceeds went into the AKA scholarship fund.

Following the cabaret party, a large number of the younger set went down to the main stem, entered the packed Club Alabam and watched the Trippers of the Light Fantastic take their respective places in the passing parade. I hear there was scarcely standing room in the club.

Now for a little back tracking. The pre-Haloween pirthday party honoring Muriel Foley t'other week was swell. The smart setters and the up and coming brown skinned movie queens were on hand, garbed in ocstume. Muriel made a perfect hostess, dressed in a brief Daisey Mae number, while Dick Terry and Franklin Gurrido looked the part of 'Okies, in loud plaid shirts and blue jeans. Ruth Crosby was dresed as Topsey,while Renna Clarke sported a majorette costume. Delicious refreshments were served thruout the evening, and the guests received Halloween favors. . . .so much for a gay Halloween. . . .

L. A. TRI-Y ENTERTAINS

Saturday night the sub-debs of the popular LA Tri-Y are sponsoring the Aces vs. the Weight-Lifters in a basketball game afterwhich there will be a dance at the 28th street Y. The hours of the affair are from 7 till 12. Tickets are being sold by the club members.

ARMY BOUND

Yes indeed Uncle Sam's taking all of the local gents. For five days Tamlin Haris has been bidding his many loves good-bye, and I hear that many a tear has been shed. Tamlin leaves tomorrow morning. Herbie Boswell is also departing and according to the latest, Lou Gross has returned the ring, and Herbie will enter the forces disengaged. R. B. departed for the air corps last week. Next week the great Kanna basketball player, Lowell Stewart, leaves for the air corps. Saturday night his many friends will bid him farewell at a party given by his fiancee, Helen Jane Ford. Lane Cleaves and Maurice Page are also scheduled to leave. The younger set wishes all the boys a cheery good-bye with a hope for their early return.

WELL, WELL, WELL

Old Dan Cupid starts out this week with . Bert Kenner and Roberta Nort.. plan to tie the knot and in the very near future. . . . Florence Cole and William Dyer are engaged. Gloria Drake and Franzanna Slater are being feted Sunday with wedding showers . . . .Learned from Arnette Lewis that he and Nanty Balch will not be married till after the war. Arnette is making definite plans to join some part of the service. It's rumored that Maurice Page was married while on recent trip to Chicago and not to any local deb. The Leroy Beavers-Opal Simms combo has been rekindled. Cornelia Lumpkin and Fred Scott are thinging very seriously of middle aisling it. And according to the very latest, the Clyde Townes - Coleman Baines engagement is all off. Well, Cupid stops right here and the regular jive carries on. . . .

Rachel Isom was very pleasantly surprised when Champ Joe Louis came to see her the day before he returned to Army camp. Rachel's boy friend, Jackie Robinson, and Joe Louis are both stationed at Fort Riley, Kans. Paulite Coleman, Vashti Peake and Doris Austin have been cycling to keep those girlish figures. When James Harris blew in town from his post in the army, he sported none other than a draped uniform—with cuffs! Now how bout that. . . .Glamor Gal Rosalia Saffold is investing her money furs. Hear that she wil appear in red fox come this yuletide. Vivian Staten is seeing a bit of George Winchester of late, wonderwhat the isue might be. Did you know that Pauline Evans is one of John Kinloch's latest additions or that Lester Freeman is very much interested in Cookie Cook? . . . Here's wishing Phyllis Hoxie a speedy recovery from her illness. Till next week. . . .

Alma Holmes, Army Sergeant Are Married

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Washington announce the marriage of their sister, Alma Holmes, to Staff Sergeant James Suggs.

The bride is well known in the society circles of Los Angeles and was a former model. Sergeant Suggs is formerly of St. Louis, Mo., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Suggs of that city.

The newlyweds eloped to Yuma, Ariz., on July 26 and participated in a double wedding ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Suggs, brother of the groom.

Sgt. Suggs is now en route to St. Louis to visit with relatives before leaving for officers training school. Sgt. Suggs holds the esteem of all of his army associates, being a very progressive young man, and after finishing officers training school he will become a commissioned lieutenant. Mrs. Suggs is now residing with her brother and will join her husband in the East soon.

Their many friends extend them their heartiest congratulations on this their day.

MRS. VIVIAN OSBORNE-MARSH, grand worthy matron, Golden State Grand Chapter, O. E. S., which has just purchased $2400.00 worth of War Bonds.

USO Center Fetes Soldiers on Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en in all its glory has come and gone. The soldiers knew the U. S. O. Center would not permit them to spend a dull holiday, and they were not disappointed. Mrs. Ethel Atkinson and her committee members provided elaborate decorations—skeletons and everything; and there was no limit to the refreshments, including the proverbial apple cider. The junior hostesses wore kiddie costumes as masks were taboo. The only thing needed was more room. Music was provided by our juke box, and a radio just donated by Mr. and Mrs. George Ring. Other donations were received from Mesdames Cora L. Flood, Alice Harvey, Ursula Adams, Virginia Mae Cook, S. P. Johnson, H. A. Greenwood, Ivory Treadwell, Edith Boswell, Joe Morris through Mrs. Ora Bell Smith) and Mr. and Mrs. Harnett. Mrs. Bass of the California Eagle has donated subscriptions to out of town newspapers.

The leaders of the Eastside U. S. O. Canteen are especially doing splendid work daily, preparing and serving delicious refreshments to our boys of the armed forces. The canteen is organized into supervisors and their respective committees. The following named ladies are supervisors: Mrs. Cora L. Flood, Alice Wilson, Edna Copney, also Mesdames Georgia Hardimon, Ethel Atkinson, Florence Carter. Sundays are left open for organizations. Any organization wishing to serve on Sunday may consult our chairman, Mrs. C. A. Roberson. Mrs. Roberson is capable and loved by all who serve with her on the canteen. The Jolly Eight Club, Mrs. Edna Elgin, president, and the De Jeunier Club, Mrs. Hazel Gray, president, were hostesses last Sunday. Womens' Council, Mrs. Minnie Moses, president, and her group have also served on a Sunday. Any lady wishing to serve on the U. S. O. Canteen Committee may contact the secretary, Mrs. Cora L. Flood, at the U. S. O. Clubhouse, 2814 Paloma Street.

Two capable young women, Misses Alice De Cuir and Mary Stamps, supervise our junior hostesses. Some of the faithful junior hostesses are: Consuelo Van Vactor, Pauline Johnson, Gloria Roberts, Jeraldine Jenkins, Frances Smith, Gloria Burchet, Cecelia Thomas, Virgie Walker, Marilyn Warren and many others. Vye Aldridge has returned from the U. S. O. conference and reports an interesting session. During her absence things were kept going by senior hostesses, canteen workers, Mr. Lloyd Thomas, asst., and Evelyn Warren, typist.

CHARLES MADLOCK ENTERTAIN FOR KNOXVILLE MATRON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madlock, 303 E. 48th street, well known to their many friends as one of the loveliest host and hostess of the Eastside, opened their beautiful home at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Oct. 25, with a cocktail party honoring Mr. Madlock's daughter, Mrs. Gladys Bryant, of Knoxville, Tenn., whom he had not seen for 10 years.

The house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers. The honoree, Mrs. Bryant, was very prettily dressed in a rose and black evening dress. She stood with Mrs. Madlock in the receiving line where she met more than 75 friends.

The guests were ushered into the dining room and bar where they were served a turkey dinner and all kinds of drinks, including coffee and cake for the choice ones. The table was beautiful, with a lace tablecloth and a centerpiece of pink gladiolas and roses.

Everyone thanked Mrs. Bryant for having such an enjoyable time. The evening was a great pleasure to those present, especially the beautiful musical numbers.

DAFFODIL GIRLS IN FINAL OCTOBER MEETING

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, the Daffodil Girls held their final meeting of the month at the home of Mrs. Ella Mae Fisher with the president, Mrs. Ora Townsend, presiding.

The usual club business was taken care of and suggestions and discussion of future activities came next in order, with announcements to be made later.

After adjournment the hostess ushered the members into the dining room where, from a beautifully white-clothed table, accented with a large red V for victory, they served themselves to a delicious chicken dinner.

Mrs. Fisher was highly complimented for her culinary art and also for being such a gracious hostess. All went home, having expressed themselves as enjoying a very lovely evening.

Ora Townsend, president;

TOWLES HOME IS SCENE OF MDPA MEETING

Drs. Leonard Stovall, S. B. Robinson, H. H. Towles and L. L. Robinson, assisted by Mesdames Yolande Stovall, Laura Fowler, Marjorie McPherson and Mary Robinson, were hosts to the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Assn. Wednesday evening at the residence of Dr. H. H. Towles. The year's program was outlined by the president, Dr. Henry McPherson. Two minute talks were given by Drs. Clifford Gordon, Charles Ennis, T. Kyle, E. I. Robinson, Warner Wright, B. Humphrey and E. Hardiman, after which a turkey dinner was enjoyed by the forty members present.

Golden State Mutual Life Official Back from Chicago

Returning from a business trip to the Chicago office of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company, Edgar J. Johnson, assistant secretary, arrived in the city last Friday.

The main purpose of his journey to the Illinois headquarters was to complete the installation of the new agency accounting and statistical proceedure in that district for the insurance company.

He was fortunate in being in Chicago for a meeting of the Chicago Negro Underwriters association, that was attended by district managers and supervisors for the various Negro insurance companies and funeral associations of the city.

Main subject of the meeting was the planning for observance of National Negro Insurance Collection Month, and the adoption of a program to be followed by each company towards stimulating higher percentage of premium collections. This observance is in keeping with the major national effort of concerving rubber, and gaining the cooperation of policyholders with agents toward this end.

Godmothers' Guild Cocktail Party Nov. 15

Now don't forget you have a date with the Godmothers' Guild at their cocktail party at the Alpha Bowling Club, 3914 So. Western Ave., Sunday, Nov. 15th, between 3 and 10 p. m.

It will be a gala affair with plenty of entertainment and dancing. Miss Ivy Anderson, formerly with Duke Ellington's orchestra, is chairman of entertainment.

"Come out and join the fun—get acquainted with the Godmothers. You'll be helping to swell the milk fund this organization is creating," says the president, Mrs. Hazle Randle (the personality plus prez).

Grand Officers of OES Honor Southland Bodies

A tea honoring the officers and members of the Eastern Star chapters of the Golden State Grand chapter, OES, of Southern California, was held Sunday, Nov. 1, from four to 7 p. m., in the beautiful and spacious Casa Rafael, 453 S. Adams boulevard.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in a profusion of flowers of white and gold blossoms, furnishing the motif. In the spacious dining room the table was resplendent in its magnificent lace covering, embellished by a silver service, golden blossoms, and tall lighted golden candles. From it was served, by the gracious hostesses of the occasion, dainty open-faced sandwiches, cake, nuts, mint and tea.

The hostesses and hosts for this delightful occasion were Mesdames Martha City, chairman; La Gulia Shaw, secretary; Martha Seldon, Claribel Ashcraft, Victoria P. Lewis, Josephine Cummins, Marie Foster, Irene Lampkin, Beatrice McCarroll, Marie Johnson, Izetta Allen, Marie Sheffield, Willa Cowan, Echo Robinson, Ruth Williams, Mildred Lanning, Geraldine Johnson, and Grand Worthy Matron Vivian Osborne-Marsh; Messrs. A. B. Hunt, Henry Spears, S. M. Beane, Arthur Crosby, Herbert Lampkin, Grand Worthy Patron.

In the receiving line were the worthy matrons and patrons, associate matrons and patrons of the chapters of Southern California, past grand matron, Mrs. Ida Mae Robertson; past grand patrons, Messrs. J. H. Wilson, S. M. Beane, S. P. Johnson, and T. B. Norman.

This very delightful occasion, which found the grand officers of the Golden State Grand chapter acting as hostesses and hosts to the members of the chapters which have made possible the purchase of $2400 in War Bonds, by the Golden State Grand chapter, OES, was indeed a fitting tribute to the fine spirit of loyalty, cooperation, and interest, which have made possbile the success and advance of Eastern Star interests.

SURPRISES WIFE ON BIRTHDAY WITH GALA PARTY

Friday, Oct. 23, Mr. Aaron Trotter, 1066½ E. 47th street, Apartment No. 1, surprised his wife, Cynthia, with a birthday party.

Delicious Mexican food and all types of beverages were served. Mrs. Tivis, manager of the apartments, baked the beautiful birthday cake.

Those who enjoyed the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. J. Peters, of Tucson, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Clark, Mrs. Thelma Hamilton, George Pinkney, Miss Aileen Bryant, Mrs. Ruth McKeller, and Mrs. Trotter, the honoree, who received many beautiful gifts.

Bertha P. Haynes Will Wed San Diegan Sunday

Miss Bertha P. Haynes, secretary for the Board of Education, who resides at 4523 Lexington avenue, Hollywood, will be joined in wedlock with Kersurse R. DeWitty, of San Diego, Sunday, Nov. 8, at New Trinity Baptist church, 35th and Normandie.

The wedding reception will follow at the home of the bride.

Miss Haynes has been active in city affairs and has worked in many stage plays. At one time she was secretary of the American Advancement league. The affair will be a military wedding, Miss Haynes being a corporal and company clerk in the state militia. Both bride and groom extend a cordial and hearty invitation to attend the wedding to their many friends.

Mr. DeWitty, formerly of the Navy, is now working in one of the defense plants here and will make Los Angeles his home.

Ruby E. Greene United With Roy Evans

Rev. S. M. Beane, the guiding light of Hamilton Methodist church, united in marriage Miss Ruby E. Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greene, 872 E. 50th street, to Mr. Roy Evans, Friday, Oct. 30, in the beautiful home of the bride's parents.

Miss Greene, recently returned to Los Angeles from Nashville, Tenn., where she was supervisor of obstetrics at Meharry Medical college and Hubbard hospital for the past three years. Distinguished in the field of nursing, Miss Greene has completed a course in obstetrics at Cook County hospital in Chicago, and spent three years as a student at hospital No. 2 in Kansas City, Mo. At present Miss Greene is employed at the Los Angeles County hospital in the obstetrical ward.

The groom, Mr. Evans, is engaged in the field of advertising, in which he majored at the University of Southern California's School of Journalism.

Entertains Husband and Sister

An elaborate affair was given last week at the home of Mrs. Sadie Patin, 693 E. 46th street, honoring her husband, George Patin, and sister, Rebecca Lanaux.

The home was very attractive with beautiful flowers and the season's motif displayed. Everyone present enjoyed the gaiety of the evening.

Refreshments of all kinds were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Andy Savage and son, Mr. John Lee, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williams, Miss Edith Featherstone, Mr. Charles Edwards and mother, Mrs. M. Edwards, Ruby Cooper, Rose Henry, Mrs. C. A. Bass, Mr. J. C. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Shaw, and o.. ers.

Willing Workers Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Georgia Thomas, 1359 E. 18th street, was a very charming hostess Tuesday evening to the Willing Workers club, of Phillips Temple CME church. A very delicious repast was served the members and guests present.

The club meetings are the second and fourth Sunday afternoons from four to five o'clock.

The election of officers for the new year was held with the following results: Mrs. H. R. Johnson, president; Miss Ella Grace Payne, vice resident; Miss Leona L. Thompson, secretary; Miss Marcia Williams, assistant secretar ; Mrs. Leola Douglas, treasurer; Miss M. Teal, educational chairman; Mrs. Georgie Thomas, social chairman; Mrs. Evola L. Chism, publicity.

The president and her officers are making their program streamlined to fit the day and times. The young college women added to the club are going to make the club's meetings very interesting and enjoyable. Next meeting is Sunday, from 4 to 5, 1138 E. 22 nd street, Mrs. Evola L. Chism, hostess.

All States Tea at Second Baptist

The annual "All States Tea," sponsored each year by the Second Baptist church, is well under way. Under the excellent leadership of the president and its originator, Mrs. Vassie D. Reese, all the governors of the various states are going after it 100 per cent.

A meeting of the congress was called by the president Sunday, Nov. 1, when all the governors responded heartily. Reports from the various states were heard, with each governor trying to out-rally the other one. Each governor reported that his state was still on the map.

Mrs. Anna G. Morrow, chairman of the program committee, submitted her outline of the program for this year's event. The program will be heard from a replica of the S. S. Booker T. Washington, that was recently launched. All participants in the program will be seen and heard from the deck of this replica of the ship. Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of the Second Baptist church, will be its captain. All officers aboard the ship will be attired in uniform. The various numbers will be chosen from outstanding persons in different sections of the country.

Due to the lack of space in the social hall of the church, which causes great confusion while the program is being heard, the program will be held upstairs this year. There, each state will be placed in the auditorium under place cards. After the program everyone will proceed downstairs to view the exhibits of the booths and be served refreshments.

If you have not planned to attend this great event, it would be wise if you do so, and reserve the date, Nov. 27.

Young lady, does an old TABOO prevent your knowing this help?

In less enlightened days, women didn't discuss these things. Now, it's different. If a woman suffers from periodic cramp-like pain and other purely functional distresses, she tries to learn how to help herself.

Thousands of women praise the 2-way help of Cardui. Taken as a tonic, it usually peps up the appetite, stimulates the flow of gastric juices, thus aiding digestion and thereby helping build up energy and resistance. Started three days before the time, and taken as directed, it should help relieve much purely functional, periodic pain.

Try CARDUI. A 62-year record says it may help!

L. G. ROBINSON. . . . shown head custodian for the county of Los Angeles, is retiring. He is bidding farewell to co-workers. Mr. Robinson, who has been pictured above receiving a happy send-off from County Supervisor Gordon McDonough.

Laud L. G. Robinson as He Retires

"My friendship with L. G. Robinson is one of my most cherished possessions."

These words of Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough were repeated by county officials and friends of Mr. Robinson at a special party honoring him upon his retirement after 36 years in the service of Los Angeles county.

Presided over by Supervisor McDonough, the meeting brought together county department officials in the assembly room of the board of supervisors on Tuesday morning to honor the superintendent of county elevators and janitor service. Robinson retires this week.

In addition to 20 department officials of county government prominetn citizens who attended Robinson's "farewell party" included:

Dr. H. C. Hudson, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, publisher, California Eagle; Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor, Hamilton N. E. Church; Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor, Independent Church of Christ; Clarence Muse; William Nickerson, president, Golden State Life Insurance Company; Floyd Covington, Mrs. Jessie Terry, member city housing commission; Norman Houston; George Beavers; Clarence Johnson, labor relations board, Washington, D. C., and many others.

Music for the party was furnished by the L. A. County Harmony Quartette, consisting of four members of Mr. Robinson's elevator operator staff.

Members of the county board of supervisors were also present and commended Robinson highly for his splendid service to the county.

That he is going to continue his activities was predicted by Supervisor McDonough in these words: "I know his retiring is not going to put him out of circulation."

An honor parchment scroll is being prepared which will be officially signed by the board of supervisors and presented to Mr. Robinson, stated Supervisor McDonough.

More Volunteers Needed for Chest Campaign

Volunteers are urgently needed to help in the Community Chest campaign on the Eastside, to raise funds for the annual support of 86 children's homes, hospitals, clinics, family welfare and youth agencies.

John E. Hargrove, chairman for the second year of campaign forces, appeals to all citizens to give whatever time they can spare for the charitable army. "Short time or many hours, all help will be welcomed," he said.

"We have a reputation for generous giving and community responsibility to uphold," Mr. Hargrove stated.

"Both Mrs. Grayson, the district vice chairman, and I know that people are busy as never before. But these are days of sacrifice, days that we must sacrifice time, money, pleasures to save everything American that is worthwhile. We dare not neglect human kindness, the protection of children, the proper training of our boys and girls here at home, when our men are dying to save this same home. We have a sacred responsibility to keep this home front healthy, sound and united.

"The rest of the city is well organized with more workers than ever before enrolled, striving to finish the campaign before gas rationing affects us.

"I am sure that Eastside residents will take their full share of the work of raising the funds for the needy sick, the friendless, for families in trouble, and for children, who receive 75 per cent of the chest agencies' services."

Enrollment can be made at Mr. Hargrove's offices, 4006½ South Central Avenue, CE 22511, or with Mrs. G. V. Grayson, 1749½ S. Normandie Avenue, RO 3237.

Portland Confab to Ask Bar on Bias

A conference will be held at Portland, Oregon, November 10th between labor union, government agency and Henry J. Kaiser Company officials to make certain that no discrimination against Negro employes will be practiced by unions affiliated with the Portland Metal Trades Council, according to an announcement from the Shipbuilding Stabilization Committee in the WPB Labor Production Division.

In announcing the conference, Paul R. Porter, chairman of the Shipbuilding Stabilization Committee, released a telegram from John P. Frey, stating the policy of the Metal Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, with which the local unions affiliated with the Portland Metal Trades Council will be called upon to comply.

Representatives of the following groups are expected to participate at the November 10 conference: Henry J. Kaiser Company, Portland Metal Trades Council, Shipbuilding Stabilization Committee, Maritime Commission, War Manpower Commission, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, and the Metal Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Frey's telegram to Mr. Porter follows:

"The following telegram sent to Tom Ray and Earl Ingram, Portland Metal Trades Council: Quote Have been informed that Portland Metal Trades Council has informed Oregon shipyard that it must immediately downgrade Negro workmen now employed. This action is contrary to sound judgment and patriotic duty during war time. It is contrary to President Roosevelt's publicity announced policy relative to no racial discrimination. It is contrary to the clause in every shipbuilding contract entered into by the U. S. Maritime Commission with all shipbuilders, which provides that there shall be no racial discrimination. It is contrary to these specific declarations against racial discrimination made by the American Federation of Labor and the Metal Trades Department. It is contrary to public policy. Department Metal Trades Council has made an outstanding contribution to shipbuilding and to the great value of trade union cooperation with employers. You cannot afford now to take action which you and your friends cannot defend. I urge you for your own welfare and the integrity of trade unionism during war time to immediately rescind your action. I am confident that you will do so, for knowing you as I do I am convince dthat you will not continue in a policy which could only result in disaster. Sending copies to J. A. Franklin, Paul R. Porter, Admiral Land, Assistant Secretary of Labor Tracy, Henry J. Kaiser and Ed Kaiser. Unquote.

Signed,

John P. Frey,
President, Metal Trades Department A. F. of L.

Farmers to Shift to Better Soil

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4—As a possible solution to the problems of wartime farm labor, and rural slums, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard suggested in an address last week before the National Catholic Rural Life conference at Peoria, Ill., that farm families, white and colored alike, be helped to move from marginal soil to land that can be worked more productively.

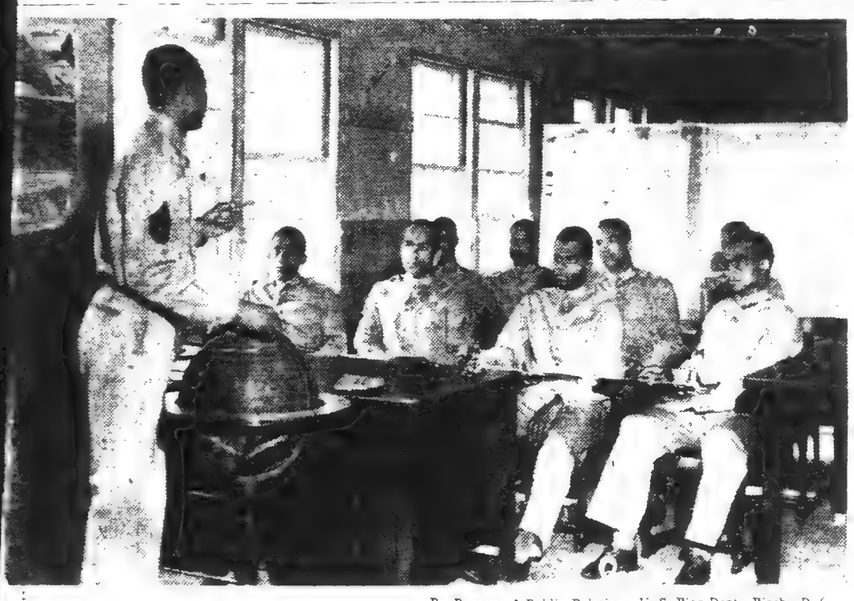
War Stamps Sold By Harlem Church



With more than $16,000 in War Bond sales to credit during the past 5 months, St. Martin's piscopal Church, 230 Lenox Avenue, New York ty, is becoming one of the most active centers in arlem for the promotion and distribution of War vings securities.

Sunday announcements and appeals by Dr. hn H. Johnson (shown at right), pastor, and eekday efforts of Guy C. Payne, sexton, stimulate stematic investment in War Bonds and Stamps nong the 3,000 members of the congregation. le of Stamps alone averages over $30 daily—in ddition to the $3,200 average monthly sale of nds.

Enrolled as a branch of the Federal Credit nion, the church is legally entitled to handle War nds and Stamps for direct sale, and its office is en every Wednesday evening for the convenience all persons in the neighborhood, regardless of hether they are members of St. Martin's or not.

The church itself subscribed for $4,000 in War nds and various clubs and societies have made ck purchases. A number of middle-aged women banded together and invested their savings in $400 rth of Bonds.

The picture at the top shows Miss Lorraine Baily, church secretary, selling Stamps to a member of e congregation, at the church office.

PINT OF BLOOD—With the slogan, "A pint of blood for every fellow employee in the service," 120 employees of California Bank gave up their Columbus Day holiday to storm the Red Cross Blood Bank and donate a pint each of their blood. With every inch of sitting and standing room inside the blood bank already occupied, the crowd pictured above waited patiently to prove that the liquid that courses through a banker's veins is not "ice water," as has been sometimes alleged, but red, warm, life-saving blood.

Prominent Local Mortician Makes Extensive Trip

Mr. A. Robinson, president of The People's Funeral Home, left the city Saturday on a business trip which will cover most of the lishments of the leading morticians in such cities of the Lone Star state as Fort Worth, Dallas, Southwest before his return in mid-November, his associates disclosed this week.

Mr. Robinson a native Texan, will visit relatives in Cuero, Texas before visiting the estab- Houston, and San Antonio.

TO MAKE SURVEY

One of Mr. Robinson's chief objectives will be to make a survey of the best undertaking firms in each section, with a view towards bringing back new ideas for improved service to his own cern.

With a brief stop in New Orleans as the highlight of his Louisiana trek, Mr. Robinson will also pay visits to Memphis, Little Rock, Kansas City, and Denver before returning to Los Angeles.

Founded only a few years ago by Mr. Robinson, Norman W. Hopkins, A. C. Blackwell and Jesse Overstreet, the People's Funeral Home now is considered one of the fastest growing concerns in the West.

Cut Finger Leads to Death of Los Angeles Pioneer

Mrs. Carrie Williams Dungee, 1207 N. Hoover, died at the General hospital Oct. 29 as a result of an infection developed when she cut her finger while preparing a meal several days previously.

Mrs. Dungee had lived in California for 53 years. She was a native of Weller, Texas.

Funeral services were held in the Ivory Chapel of the People's Funeral Home on Monday at 1 p. m., with Rev. Percy Williams of the Lincoln Memorial Congregational church, in charge. Burial was at Pomona, where Mrs. Dungee lived for many years previous to coming to Los Angeles. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Allie Shankel, of Hollywood.

bent Paul Peek by a narrow margin.

..Olson's excellent showing in the Negro community was deemed accountable to his fine record of suport for isues important to minority groups, his numerous appointments of qualified Negroes and his general role as a supporter of the progressive national administration. Further, it is believed that the realities of the campaign were impressed more sharply upon this district than they were in many other districts. Warren's connection with the Hearst-Hoover defeatist ture which was literally plastercliche was emphasized in literaed over the Negro residential and business sections.

Also, Negro supoters floated the Olson campaign largely at their own expense realizing the gravity of the threat to Negro rights involved in the elevation of reactionary candidates at this time. This was not the case, it is understood, in other areas.

In the Congressional races, there were some sharp contests. Voohris beat Fascist Bob Shuler in the 12th; reactionary Poulson nosed out Roosevelt man Kramer in the 13th; tCongressman Thomas Ford, leader of the House anti-poll tax fight won hands down over Herberts in the fourteenth; Costello walked off in the 15th; and there is a nip-and-tuck battle between incumbent Leland Ford and Will Rogers, jr., in the 16th. Ford, closely linked with Fascist elements, nevertheless signed the anti-poll tax petition after heated prompting from the California EAGLE.

Card of Thanks

To the pastors and members of the Bethel Church of Christ Holiness and the Pleasant Hill Baptist church:

I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation for the kindness and attendance and the many favors extended me during my illness. I thank you for your cards, your attendance, your calls and above all, your prayers. I still ask you for your prayers.

Yours in Christ.
LUCILLE WOODY.

Card of Thanks

"They laid his head beneath a rose
On yonder hill the place:
In a bed where the promised dawn
Will touch his resting head."

With a grateful heart, I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the many friends and neighbors for their loving kindness and sympathy during the passing of my beloved husband, Augustus Thompson, Oct. 23, 1942. Your cards of sympathy, telephone calls and floral tributes helped to strengthen me, and made me know that someone cared.

Mr. Thompson had been a resident of Los Angeles 29 years. During this time he made a host of friends who were true and tried.

I wish to especially thank my life-long friends, Mrs. Kansas Tibbs and Mrs. Ola Mae Ratliff, who have and are yet standing by me, helping in every way to share my sorrow. Also I express my appreciation to my pastor, Rev. Jordan, and Rev. S. M. Beane for their uplifting and consoling words, and to Conner and Johnson for their excellent and efficient services.

May God's choicest blessings rest upon each of you.

Mrs. Bruce Thompson, wife.

BILLY ROWE "REAPS THE WILD WIND"

It's an ill wind that doesn't blow some one some good. Billy Rowe is a lot smarter than the local gentry of the Fourth Estate is giving him. Billy Rowe has "gone Hollywood." In the parlance of the theatre he has stepped up stage or in the film industry he is stealing scenes. That is trying to. Contrary to Mr. Rowe's self evalulated opinion of himself, there are plenty of people who have never heard of a Billy Rowe. And that is true of most of us. We think we are great guys when we are flying high. But the public is fickle and they say in one breath, "The King is dead, long live the king."

To those people who are not acquainted with the "big shot reporter," Bill Rowe is a product of Harlem (New York) a good writer, photographer and has the nack of finding out juicy morsels of scandals.

Billy Rowe is ambitious. He conquered the scandal field in New York. Then he mastered the technique of the news camera. Then he made a flying trip South with Ted Poston. New York and Chicago fell before his machine-gun like typewriter barrage. Hollywood needs conquering. Being a smart lad he hops to the West Coast. He came into town with high and mighty airs. He was a big shot and proceeded to get himself photographed with movie celebrities.

Twice in the fore-going paragraphs I have stated that Rowe was indeed smart. Well, he is. He is riding on the crest of the waves. He knows which the wind will blow and he intends to reap that wild Hollywood wind.

BREAKS COMING BECAUSE OF WAR

In other words the Negro will get plenty breaks from Hollywood—with Rowe popping up on the scene at this moment he hopes he will get the credit for making Hollywood change its attitude toward hte Negro. This is not true. Hollywood is not doing it because a Billy Rowe comes to Hollywood. Hollywood is doing it because there is a war going on and because the Government has decreed that all peoples of the United States should be moulded into one people—to win this war.

Billy Rowe had nothing to do with changing the attitude of national magazines. Yet "Life," "Liberty," "Fortune", "Reader's Digest", "P. M." and several daily newspapers have filled their pages with news and features about the Negro. The Newsreels followed suit. We began reading about the Negro everywhere. Billy Rowe saw which way the wind was blowing. He knew that Hollywood would have to release all the films in cans, on the shelves and in production. That would give him time to get to Hollywood, before Hollywood followed the Press. Get out here and gloat that he had done something great for his race.

The same thing that caused the Press to play up the Negro—the war and the government's attitude is the reason the powers that be listened to Peter Ross. For fear that Billy Rowe will take credit for the good ship "Booker T. Washington" it was Peter Ross who put it over.

IT'S EASY TO ROWE WITH THE CURRENT

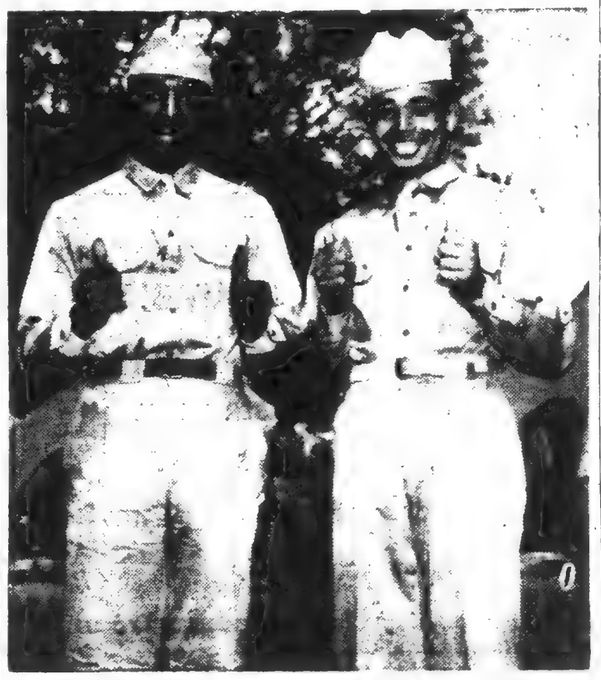
Long before Billy Rowe came to these shores such writers as Harry Levette, Lawrence LaMar were pounding away at Hollywood. Theirs was a real fight, because they had opposition. Earl Dancer, Clarence Muse hammered away at Hollywood. Dancer got an edict from Will Hays not to type Negroes on the screen. Muse put the name of Negroes into the titles many, many times. Ben Carter and Charles Butler saw to it that Negroes got some bread from Hollywood. Jesse Graves fought from the Guild side, along with Muse. Graves was largely responsible for Negroes being in street and fight scnes as extras. And practically every actor, every reporter had a hand in trying to do something for his race in Hollywood. This all happened before the war and Billy Rowe.

Hollywood had pledged itself to aid in the all out war. Hollywood has sent its stars to the army. Producers, directors and cameramen are in the army as instructors of photography in the Signal Corps. Col. Darryl F. Zanuck made authentic films for the government in Alaska and the Aleutians. Carole Lombard lost her life, while selling War Bonds. Hollywood has sold more bonds and done more for the USO than any other industry.

Before Billy Rowe came to Hollywood the Screen Writers Guild at a meeting pledged to write-in good parts for the Negro. See back issues of the Eagle and magazine "Screen Actor." The film "Crash-Dive" was written, numerous conference held long before Hollywood was discovered by Billy Rowe. Ben Carter had played his "Dorie Miller" role before the lenses, while Rowe was making his mind up to come here.

HERE IS REAL REASON; NOT MR. BILL ROWE

Wendell Willkie has just recently returned to the United States after a world-wide tour. He said in part on his return: "It is also a war for men's minds. We must organize on our side not simply the sympathies but also the active, aggressive, offensive spirit of nearly three-fourths of the people of the world who live in SOUTH AMERICA, AFRICA, EASTERN EUROPE AND ASIA. We HAVE NOT done this and at present we are not doing this.



"I have traveled through thirteen countries. . . I found four things in common to all the countries . . . to all the ordinary people. 1st—They all want the United Nations to win this war. 2nd.—They want the United Nations to get on the offensive (Second Front) now. 3rd—They all want a chance at the end of this war to live in liberty and independence. 4th—THEY ALL DOUBT . . . THE READINESS OF THE LEADING DEMOCRACIES . . . TO STAND UP AND BE COUNTED UPON FOR THE FREEDOM OF OTHERS AFTER THE WAR IS OVER. This doubt kills their enthusiastic participation on our side."

The Government will depend largely upon the influence of the motion picture industry to build the morale of this country. To show to the world how Democracy can be made to work. With or without Billy Rowe, Hollywood will write in good lengthy parts for Negro actors.

Hollywood wants the United Nations to win this war, and Hollywood will soon go all out. However, should Hollywood have other ideas and stray from this path the Office of War Information will crack down as they did a month or so ago when they stopped the release on a Civil film. The Government did not care if they would spend $200,000, the picture could not be released. Hollywood changed the film all around. And Billy Rowe didn't have anything to do with it.

The Negro actors have been beaten editorially too much. They know that if Hollywood changes the Negro's status in pictures that it will mean bigger and better roles for them and that means more and more money to the Negro actors.

Harry Lavette, Lawrence LaMar, Fay Jackson, Bernice Patton and other writers have had their photos taken with big stars; many have appeared on the screen with them. What then does Billy Rowe want in Hollywood? Is it false credit and glamour along with a vacation with pay? It certainly isn't advertising, because the purse strings are in Billy Rowe's front yard, New York.

THUMBS UP—The thumps up spirit of these two Negro soldiers, Dilworth, N. C., saved several thousand gallons of gasoline and other valuable property when their company gasoline dump caught fire. They have been awarded the Soldier's Medal, highest award made to soldiers for bravery outside combat action. Their names are (left) Pfc. Earnest Wallace, Kingstree, South Carolina, and (right) John H. Hayes, Chatom, Alabama.

Bill of Rights Celebration Is Planned

The Southern California Bill of Rights Sesquicentennial Celebration Committee will meet this week to consider a wartime program for the observance of the 151st anniversary of the Bill of Rights on December 15th, it was disclosed by Joe Crail, Los Angeles county chairman.

Members of the executive committee are Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Roger Jessup, Councilman G. Vernon Bennett, Dr. Rufus B. Von Kleinsmid, Dr. Robert G. Sproul, Dr. Vierling Kersey, Dr. C. C. Trillingham, Col. Rupert Hughes, Rabbi Edgar F. Mangin, The Most Reverand Joseph T. McGucken, Dr. E. C. Farnham, Mrs. Edmund W. Gale, C. J. Haggerty, J. A. Hartley, Dr. H. L. Herberts, Mrs. A. Bartlett Ross, Paul Shoup, Mrs. Anne Merservey, Carleton Tibbetts and Joe Crail.

Last year, Los Angeles county, civic, patriotic, religious, social organizations, newspapers and radio stations combined to make the observance here one of the most outstanding in the nation. Almost 300,000 copies of the Bill of Rights were distributed to schools and adult organizations. Many Southland churches dedicated December 14th to religious freedom and practically every city and community in the county, under the direction of their mayors, held local community observances. More than 100 notable citizens participated in the program as honorary sponsors contributing their name and effort to this commendable educational and patriotic observance.

Girl Reserves Dedicate Fireplace: For many years service activities have been held as an important part of Girl Reserves' program because younger girls need immediate opportunities to contribute to the solution of community problems. Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship Project have helped Girl Reserves to reach out beyond their own immediate communities.

So, as a way of doing something about a need close at hand, and making for greater understanding of Girl Reserves in the other branches of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the city, Jane Earl, former president of the city wide Girl Reserve Inter-Club Council, and from the Beverly Hills High School Girl Reserve Club, conceived the idea of raising funds for the erection of a fireplace in the new building of the Woodlawn Branch Y. W. C. A.

Through contributions of the following clubs her idea has been carried out: Belmont High School, Beverly Hills High School Tri Y-ers, Dorsey High School Tri Y, Fairfax High School Tri Y, Florence Avenue U. P. Chapter Alpha Omega Tri Y, Franklin High School Tri Y, Fremont High School Tri Y Clubs, Inglewood Senior Tri Y, Japanese Branch Girl Reserve.

Jefferson High School Girl Reserve, Korean Tri Y, Manual Arts High School, Southside Committee Girl Reserve, University High School, Washington School Girl Reserve, Garfield High School (Alphas), Victorettes, Wilshirettes. Campaign drive, music by the North Hollywood Girl Reserve group under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Hopson, and the ceremonial lighting of the fire by Barbara Slate of Beverly Hills Girl Reserves Group and Ouida Pruitt of Woodlawn Branch Girl Reserves.

Orchid Oliver, inter-club president of the Woodlawn Branch, will be the official hostess for the occasion.

The city wide program planning committee included Ouida Pruitt, Evelyn Evans, Pat Gordon, and Miss Irma Betcher, Girl Reserve secretary at the Hollywood Branch. Woodlawn branch committee on arrangements: May Louise John, Katherine Shaw, Clarice Amour, Ysobel Gray, Ouida Pruitt, Orchid Oliver, and Mrs. Naomi Hazley, member of the Branch Girl Reserve Committee.

Girl Reserves throughout the city will participate in the ceremony.

The public dedication and consecration service of the new branch facilities will take place Sunday afternoon, November 15, 1942, three p. m. on the grounds, 43rd and Woodlawn Avenue. This service will launch the fall program of the Woodlawn Branch and provide an opportunity for members and friends who contributed to the new "Y" to inspect the buildings and grounds.

During the week following, a special program is being planned by the Educational and Residence Committees on Wednesday, November 18. Other features for the week and following dates will be announced shortly.

Miss Marion Vera Cuthbert, staff member of the National Board Y. W. C. A., New York, has sent a copy of her doctor's dissertation for the Columbia University to Los Angeles. The subject of the book "Education and Marginality" contains material contributed by Los Angeles women who helped in the initial study of leading Negro women.

Among prominent women of the country mentioned in this study are Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of the Los Angeles "California Eagle," and Miss Celestine Smith, formerly Y. W. C. A. secretary to Negeria, Africa, and American representative to the World Missionary Conference, Madras. Miss Smith is no wsecretary of Personal Service and Counseling at the Woodlawn Branch Y. W. C. Randolph Says Jim Crow Closed Shop for Railway Unions Should Be Denied

Commenting upon the movement which has been recently projected by the fourteen non-operating railway unions to secure a closed shop, A. Philip Randolph, international president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said that unless the railway unions eliminate the color bar from their constitutions and rituals, and admit Negro railway workers as full fledged members, with the right to voice and vote and election to offices and as delegates to the international conventions that formulate and adopt legislation to govern the order, and also the agreement and grievance committees to negotiate wage contracts and adjust grievances and claims, the closed shop ought to be denied these unions.

Until the color clause is taken out, the closed shop may be the means of eliminating Negroes from the railway industry as firemen, switchmen, brakemen and shopcraft workers, concluded Mr. Randolph.

MORRIS FIELD, N. C., Nov. 5.—He didn't want to set the world on fire; he just had a powerful hankering for some ham and eggs and coffee.

He got the ham and eggs, all right, and he set a million piano ivories ablaze with that tuneful little song about starting a flame in your heart—and he is at Morris Field, and this is his story about it.

"I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire" was written by a three-cornered composing team—two Jewish boys and a Negro native of the Virgin Islands. Now the latter, Claude Benjamin, is a private in the Signal Corps.

SALLIE MARTIN, national gospel singer . . . The churches of Los Angeles have long awaited the coming of this talented and consecrated singer and our waiting has not been in vain, for Miss Martin, of the Martin and Morris studio in Chicago, will make her first appearance here Sunday, Nov. 8, at 11 a.m. at the Macedonia Baptist church, 114th Street at Graham Avenue, of which Rev. F. Douglas Farrell is pastor. In the afternoon, she will appear at St. Paul Baptist church, 21st and Naomi streets, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Gospel Choral Union promptly at 3 o'clock, at which time, the pastor, Rev. S. A. Williams will extend Miss Martin and the Union aheartywelcome. All who love the Lord avail themselves of the golden opportunity to hear this great singer who has inspired thousands and helped hundreds to improve their talents to sing.

St. Paul Baptist Marches On Sunday, Nov. 1, was another great day in St. Paul.

The preaching was profound, the singing was full of Holy Ghost power. In our church, we are emphasizing these days Holy Ghost worship, which implies Holy Ghost faith. Genuine faith is of divine origin and comes down from God. Therefore, the Apostle Paul said, "Contend for the faith that was once delivered to the saints."

In our worship Sunday, there were 11 accessions, including two for baptism. The financial success was a secondary matter. However, there was laid on the table, $441.75.

Thursday, Nov. 5, at 7:35 p. m., a mammoth program will be renderde in St. Paul, including the unveiling of a set of cathedral chimes, the best that can be obtained in the State of California, and a dedicatory service, the following persons participating:

1. Twenty-minute prelude by four organists (five minutes each).
2. Master of ceremonies, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, his congregation and two major choirs.
3. Unveiling of the chimes; Rev. J. L. Caston, Trinity Baptist church, his congregation and two major choirs.
4. Dedicatory prayer, Rev. W. D. Carter, Friendship, Pasadena, his congregation and two major choirs.
5. Dedicatory message, Rev. Rusthoi, Long Beach, his congregation and orchestra.

The public is cordially invited.

S. A. Williams is pastor; S. E. Buxton, reporter.

REV. PERCY WILLIAMS

Lincoln Keeps Percy Williams as Acting Pastor

At the weekly business meeting of Oct. 29, the membership of the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church voted unanimously that the young Rev. Percy Williams be requested to remain as acting pastor until January of 1943. Since the failure of Rev. Harrold Kingsley, pastor of "The Church of The Good Shepherd," Congregational, of Chicago, to respond to the call to the pastorate of Lincoln, and invitation has been extended to Rev. Rush, of Charlottesville, N. Carolina.

REV. HENDERSON MAKES STATEMENT

"Tuesday's issue of the Los Angeles Times carried an article which stated that: 'Olson backed by twelve Negro ministeds.' My name was among the twelve. Concerning this I have the following to say: I concede that any minister has the right to endorse a candidate if he so desires. No one has requested me to endorse any candidate. I have at no time endorsed Governor Olson. I was not consulted before this statement was released to the press and whoever put my name among the twelve did so without my knowledge or consent. I do not believe it was done in error, and shall demand proper satisfaction at the hands of those responsible.' SIGNED, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, minister, Second Baptist church, L. A.

Rev. Williams announces that his subjects for sermons for the month of November will be: Nov. 8, "The Highway of Life," Nov. 15, "Seek Ye the Lord," Nov. 22; "In God We Trust," Nov. 26, at the Thanksgiving services, "On Being Thankful," Nov. 29, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters."

FIRST AME CLUB PLANS CHRYSANTHEMUM TEA, SUNDAY, NOV. 8

You and your friends are invited to attend a Chrysanthemum Tea, Sunday, Nov. 8, 1942, from 1:30 to 7 p. m. at 1225 E. 27th street, sponsored by the Emergency club of First AME church, 8th and Towne avenue.

A splendid program will be rendered. Artists scheduled to appear are Mr. Ralph Be Cera, famous baritone of Hollywood, and Dr. N. A. Davis, of New York City. Three prizes will be awarded for the largest chrysanthemum presented by the attendant. Silver offering. Mrs. Emma Surrey, president; Mrs. Louise Cook, chairman of program; Rev. Frederick D. Dramatized Worship Service at Second AME

Cor. 43rd and San Pedro Place
Rev. Jno. B. Isaacs, Minister

The Junior Choir of Second Church presented the music with credit to themselves at the evening service to a very creditable audience, after which the group in a body partook of the Holy Communion administered by the minister.

The services at the 11 o'clock hour were very impressive, the pastor, Rev. J. B. Isaacs, spoke very touchingly on "Escape From Trouble." The music was furnished by the Cathedral Choir under the direction of Ella Mae Frosland with Laura Saulsbury at the piano. Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. Hazel Lundrum, Mrs. Earl Samothe, Mrs. Charles Butcher, Ruth Williams, Mrs. Virginia Johmnson, Mrs. Roy Nailey, Mrs. Alfred Willis, Mrs. Josephine Curry, Mrs. Neicio Mann, Mrs. Carrie Williams, Mrs. Rosalind Watkins of Oklahoma, Mrs. Esther Lucky of Kansas, Mrs. Z. Williams, Jane Eldridge, Mrs. Osborne.

Dramatized worship service will be presented on Sunday evening next under the direction of Mrs. Esther B. Isaacs, the theme of which will be "Weavers of Life."

The pastor will speak on Tree-like Christians next Sunday morning.

A Message

God has given us freedom so great that it is beyond our comprehension, yet we continue to enslave ourselves, because we are ignorant of our true nature. If we could but understand that we are Love, we should never hate; if we would but realize that we are Substance, we should never be hungry; if we would but understand Life, we should not taste death. We have no reason for anxiety if we would permit God to manage and guide our affairs; there is no problem too difficult for us to solve if we are linked up with God. "Cast your care upon Him for he careth for you."

The minister says: "The man who objects to the narrow way sometimes lands in a narrow cell." A-men.

You are invited to worship at Second Church next Sunday.

Ministers' Wives Council Will Meet Nov. 11

The Interdenominational Ministers' Wives council held its monthly business session at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. Raymond Henderson, in W. 37th street. A delicious turkey luncheon was served by the co-hostesses of the day.

The annual Hallowe'en party found the members and their many friends assembled in the spacious parlors of the Woodlawn YWCA. Games, songs and refreshments were enjoyed by all present.

Everyone regretted that because of the illness of our president, Mrs. E. Porter, she was not present but we are happy to know she is improving.

All members are urged to be present at the meeting Nov. 11, at 2272 W. 29th street. The election of officers will be the order of the day.

What is taken from the fortune, also, may haply be so much lifted from the soul. The greatness of a loss, as the proverb suggests, is determinable, not so much by what we have lost, as by what we have left.—Bovee.

Willard Hatch Baha'i Speaker

Willard P. Hatch, under the auspices of the spiritual assembly of the Baha'is of Los Angeles, will speak Sunday, 3 p. m., at 1709 W. 8th street, on "Religious Evolution."

The Baha'i teachings uphold the unity of all religions, the necessity for progressive revelation, the need for an agreement in this day between science and religion. They teach, also, the necessity for freedom from prejudice, for universal education, and for an independent investigation of truth.

Hatch's talk will bring mental and spiritual stimulation to all who hear him, as he develops his topic with great inspiration.

There are no charges or collections at any Baha'i activity, and all are cordially welcomed.

Family Day at Hamilton

Family Day will be celebrated at Hamilton Methodist church, E. 18th street and Naomi avenue, Sunday, Nov. 8, at the 11 a. m. hour, when the families of the church will assemble with their friends and worship en familie as they hear the sermon by Rev. S. M. Beane, the pastor, from the subject, "Family Life the Base of National Life."

This service will be sponsored by the Home department of the church, which extends a cordial welcome to the families of the city to come and worship together.

B. P. LEWIS CONDUCTS CHURCH OF AIR

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"As by . . . ce many were made sinners so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous." This statement of Paul to the Romans constitutes the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

A Bible citation relates the healing of the man at Bethesda, "which had an infirmity thirty and eight years." According to John's Gospel Jesus asked him, "Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole and took up his bed, and walked. . . . Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee."

Mary Baker Eddy says in a passage chosen from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Christ, as the spiritual or true idea of God, comes now as of old, preaching the gospel to the poor, healing the sick, and casting out evils. Is it error which is restoring an essential element of Christianity,—namely, apostolic, divine healing? No; it is the Science of Christianity which is restoring it, and is the light shining in darkness, which the darkness comprehends not."

He stopped at a ledge and looked back; he saw in the lurid glare of the slashing lances of light a man stumbling over the snow. Ought he to stop and shoot? Naw! More would be coming in a moment and he would only waste time. He had to find some place to hide, some ambush from which he could fight. He ran to another ledge, past the white looming bulk which now towered directly above him, then stopped, blinking: deep below was a sea of white faces and he saw himself falling, spinning straight down into that ocean of boiling hate. He gripped the icy ledge with his fingers, thinking that if he had been running any faster he would have gone right off the roof, hurtling four floors.

Dizzily, he drew back. This was the end. There were no more roofs over which to run and dodge. He looked; the man was still coming. Bigger stood up. The siren was louder than before and there were more shouts and screams. Yes; those in the streets knew now that the police and vigilantes had trapped him upon the roofs. He remembered the quick glimpse he had had of the white looming bulk: he looked up. Directly above him, white snow, was a high water tank with a round flat top. There was a ladder made of iron whose slick rungs were coated with ice that gleamed like neon in the circling blades of yellow. He caught hold and climbed. He did not know where he was going; he knew only that he had to hide.

He reached the top of the tank and three shots sang past his head. He lay flat, on his stomach, in snow. He was high above the roof-tops and chimneys now and he had a wide view. A man was climbing over a near-by ledge, and beyond him was a small knot of men, their faces lit to a distinct whiteness by the swinging pencils of light. Men were coming up out of the trapdoor far in front of him and were moving toward him, dodging behind chimneys. He raised the gun, leveled it, aimed, and shot; the men stopped but no one fell. He had missed. He shot again. No one fell. The knot of men broke up and disappeared behind ledges and chimneys. The noise in the street rose in a flood of strange joy. No doubt the sound of the pistol shots made them think that he was shot, captured, or dead.

He saw a man running toward the water tank in the open; he shot again. The man ducked behind a chimney. He had missed. Perhaps his hands were too cold to shoot straight? Maybe he ought to wait until they were closer? He turned his head just in time to see a man climbing over the edge of the roof, from the street side. The man was mounting a ladder which had been hoisted up the side of the building from the ground. He leveled the gun to shoot, but the man got over and left his line of vision, disappearing under the tank.

Why could he not shoot straight and fast enough? He looked in front of him and saw two men running under the tank. There were three men beneath the tank now. They were surrounding him, but they could not come for him without exposing themselves.

A small black object fell near his head in the snow, hissing, shooting forth a white vapor, like a blowing plume, which was carried away from him by the wind. Tear gas! With a movement of his hand he knocked it off the tank. Another came and knocked it off. Two more came and he shoved them off. The wind blew strong, from the lake. It carried the gas away from his eyes and nose. He heard a man yell.

"Stop it! The wind's blowing it away. He's throwing 'em back."

The bedlam in the street rose higher; more men climbed through trapdoors to the roof. He wanted to shoot, but remembered that he had but three bullets left. He would shoot when they were closer and he would save one bullet for himself. They would not take him alive.

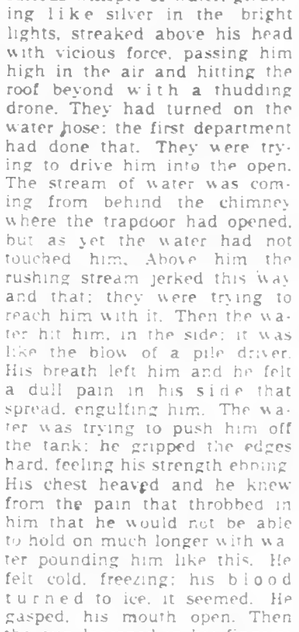
"Come on down, boy!"

He did not move; he lay with gun in hand, waiting. Then, directly under his eyes, four white fingers caught hold of the icy edge of the water tank. He gritted his teeth and struck the white fingers with the butt of the gun. They vanished and he heard a thud as a body landed on the snow-covered roof. He lay waiting for more attempts to climb up, but none came.

"It's no use fighting, boy! You're caught! Come on down!"

He knew that they were afraid, and yet he knew that it would soon be over, one way or another: they would either capture or kill him. He was surprised that he was not afraid. Under it all some part of his mind was beginning to stand aside; he was going behind his curtain, his wall, looking out with sullen stares of contempt. He was outside of himself now, looking on; he lay under a winter sky lit with tall gleams of whirling light, hearing thirsty screams and hungry shouts. He clutched his gun, defiant, unafraid.

"Tell 'em to hurry with the hose! The nigger's armed!"



What did that mean? His eyes roved, watching for a moving object to shoot at; but none appeared. He was not conscious of his body now; he could not feel himself at all. He knew only that he was lying here with a gun in his hand, surrounded by men who wanted to kill him. Then he heard a hammering noise near by; he looked. Behind the edge of a chimney he saw a trapdoor open.

"All right, boy!" a hoarse voice called. "We're giving you your last chance. Come on down!"

He lay still. What was coming? He knew that they were not going to shoot for they could not see him. Then what? And while wondering, he knew: a furious whisper of water, gleaming like silver in the bright lights, streaked above his head with vicious force, passing him high in the air and hitting the roof beyond with a thudding drone. They had turned on the water hose; the first department had done that. They were trying to drive him into the open. The stream of water was coming from behind the chimney where the trapdoor had opened, but as yet the water had not touched him. Above him the rushing stream jerked this way and that; they were trying to reach him with it. Then the water hit him, in the side; it was like the blow of a pile driver. His breath left him and he felt a dull pain in his side that spread, engulfing him. The water was trying to push him off the tank; he gripped the edges hard, feeling his strength ebbing. His chest heaved and he knew from the pain that throbbed in him that he would not be able to hold on much longer with water pounding him like this. He felt cold, freezing; his blood turned to ice, it seemed. He gasped, his mouth open. Then the gun loosened in his fingers; he tried to grip it again and found that he could not. The water left him; he lay gasping, spent.

"Throw that gun down, boy!"

He gritted his teeth. The icy water clutched again at his body like a giant hand; the chill of it squeezed him like the circling coils of a monstrous boa constrictor. His arms ached.

ELECTION NIGHT BLUES

By JOHN KINLOCH

Here I sit.
Evil as hell.

Beat to my socks.
Empty.

I want to cry.
But I'm too damn.
Mad.
To do it.

Warren beat Olson.
Bad beat good
Rotten beat right.

A Fascist is The Governor.

Why?

I keep asking.

Why?

Who screwed up?
When? Where?

Thousands of free.
Votes.
Strung together.
And made a noose.
For the people's neck.

Suicide

What the hell.
Is wrong?

I know:
Hearst papers.
Lie
So does Chandler

Type lice.
Crawling.
With lies.
—Hearst and Chandler.

(Not since 1862
Such a job to do.
And we failed.)

Sure.
Hearst lied.
On Olson.
On Roosevelt.
On the people's war.

Sure.

A gang of.
Preachers sold out.

Sure.
A sway back.
Bastard.
In a brand.
New suit.
And a line of.
Jive.
A jack-leg.
Politician.
Sure.
He sold out.

But the people.
Didn't sell out.

They were sold.

Like cabbage.
In a market.

So much a head.

They were sold.
A bill of goods.
They were tricked.
They were fooled.
They were DUMB.

The people.
Ought've known.
Better!
By now.

They should.
Know:
HEARST LIES.

The new Governor.
Is a heel.

He hates Roosevelt.
He hates Negroes.
He hates Willkie.
And the people's war.

The people's vote.
The vote they.
Die for.
Strung 'round.
Their neck!
The people's vote.
To make Hearst.
Happy!

HEY! YOU!

Who'd you vote for?

Warren, huh?
—Well, he's.
Hitler's little.
Playmate.

Oh, you don't.
Believe it.

That's silly, you say.
That don't make.
Sense.

Remember Quisling?
O. K. Just remember...

MORNING AFTER

So the people.
Got stung.
And elected a jerk.

What to do?

Sit on our fannies.
And moan?

Naw!

Now.
More than ever.
We'll need.
Each other.

They'll kick.
The Mexican kids around.
Worse.

And do us.
Negroes out.
Of jobs.
And bury.
Festus Coleman.

And mess up.
Things in general.

So we'll Fight 'em.
Harder.

A FASCIST!

Day and night.
We'll fight him.
And all the rest—
The stinking
Hitlerite vermin.

A rope in hand.
His buddies.
In the South.

Two dead kids.
Hung.
From one damn bridge.
Bulging blue lips.
And staring eyes.—
Handiwork.
His buddies.
In the South.
A pile of babies.
Soaked in oil.
Burning up.
—His buddies.
In the Caucasus.

Yeah.
We'll fight
WE'LL FIGHT.
LIKE HELL!

And we'll remember.
What Abe said.
About guys.
Who fool.
The people. . . .

Walter White Views the WAACs at Work

The WAACs at work were viewed by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, recently. When he visited the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Training Center at Fort Des Moines the Negro leader was escorted by this group of Negro Third Officers of the Corps.

Mildred E. Carter, Boston; Elizabeth C. Hampton and Harriette B. White, Los Angeles; Doris M. Norrel, Indianapolis, Ind.; Evelyn F. Greene, Washington, D. C.; and Dovey M. Johnson, Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. McDaniels Improving

Mrs. Betty Stovall McDaniels, of Washington, D. C., who has been confined in Friedman hospital for the past month, is now improving, and will be home in a few days.

Mrs. McDaniels formerly lived in Riverside and Los Angeles before moving to Washington. She was an active member of the Gay Modernettes club, and popular among the social set.

Negro Insurance Companies Growing, NNIA Reports

By Public Relations Committee National Negro Insurance Association

According to reports from twenty-five of the member companies of the National Negro Insurance Association, our insurance companies are making steady progress despite the shortages of manpower and equipment, transportation difficulties, and other dislocations caused by the war. This is a tribute to the economic good sense and thriftiness of our people as well as to the capable management of our insurance companies in coping so well with the current problems caused by the conditions which we are undergoing which try men's minds as well as their souls.

It is noteworthy to observe that during the twenty-one years' existence of the NATIONAL NEGRO INSURANCE ASSOCIATION no member company thereof has ever failed. It is doubtful that this can be said of the membership of any other business association of any group. The statement, "A member company of the National Negro Insurance Association," has the same significance to the insuring public as "Approved by Good Housekeeping," does to the consumer public.

For the first six months of this year, 18 of the reporting companies showed an increase in insurance in force of $60,638,847 over the corresponding period last year. 24 showed an increase in income of $1,483,254.18. The number of employees increased by 862.

The general health conditions and the mortality rate of the policyholders showed improvement. Even with over sixty-million dollars more insurance in force for the first six months of this year, the amount of sick claims paid showed a decrease of $16,637.24; the amount of death claims, a decrease of $3,568.70.

These Negro owned, manned and managed insurance companies are investing heavily in Government securities. Although the income for the first six months showed an increase of only $1,483,254.18, their purchases of Government Bonds for the period amounted to $1,358,579.67. Many of the companies are investing over 100% of their new money in government securities and are otherwise contributing their bit to the fight for democracy on the home front as well as abroad.

Signed,
A. T. SPAULDING,
President & Chairman of the Public Relations Committee.

Student Council Selects Sweaters

COUNCIL SWEATERS

Coat sweaters of light blue and white were chosen by the members of Jefferson high school's student council. The officers were measured for them on October 29.

The council chose to retain the emblem which has been worn by the council for a number of years. It is the insignia of an upheld torch, significant of the council's work. It is becoming the traditional emblem.

He that has no cross will have no crown.—Quarles.

In memory of my beloved husband, Alexander S. LaVigne, who departed this life Nov. 5, 1941:

Well dear, one year ago you left
Life's grim door shut slowly behind.
You entered that bright Happy Land
Where death and sickness none can find.
I live in a land of shadows,
Awaiting the sun to arise.
And then it seems ages till evening,
And you seem to come down from the skies.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true
There is not a day, dear Alex,
That I do not think of you.
Sadly missed by wife,
BIRDIE M. LAVIGNE.

★ BEHIND THE SCENES With Harry

By Harry Levette

By HARRY LEVETTE

THE FIVE AND OVER CHARITY CLUB gets the salute of the column this issue for their 8th annual Pre-Armistice Day program scheduled for the Lincoln theatre next Sunday morning, Nov. 8. Starting at 9:00 a. m. and closing promptly in time for all who wish to attend 11:00 o'clock services at their churches, to reach them in time, these impressive memorial services, dedicated to the dead and living heroes of the first World War, is observed by representatives of all patriotic bodies.

Band music, singing, dramatic sketches and addresses make the program very entertaining as well as the fulfillment of a patriotic duty.

Mrs. Mabel Gray, chairman, and the program committee, deserve great credit for their sincere efforts. Sunday's memorial being of greater significance than any of the past. All who possibly can should attempt to be present.

OCTOBER WAS a month of seething war-aid activity for screen, stage and radio volunteer entertainers, according to compilations made from the reports of the Hollywood Victory committee, which allocated a total of 278 personalities, including 40 colored, to the various activities.

The committee's talent pool provided players for 53 USO "spot" Army and Navy camp shows in the Pacific area, 26 governmental broadcasts, 20 personal appearances for the Treasury Department and other governmental agencies, and 23 transcriptions recorded for short-wave transmission to American fighting forces in all parts of the world. Eighty-seven players made transcriptions, 36 were on the broadcasts, 64 made personal appearances and 81 entertained the troops in the camp shows.

Players went to Canada to take part in the Canadian Victory Loan bond drive. Others appeared in all parts of the United States, from California to Washington, D. C., and even in the Canal zone.

AFTER CONCLUDING a sensational six-weeks engagement at the Trianon ballroom, Count Basie and the band immediately started to work at Columbia Pictures Studios in a full length musical film, which occupied their time for the first few weeks in October.

Rumor has it that the Basie band will move into a leading New York hotel along about the first of the year. This may very likely be the Blue Room of the Hotel Lincoln, owned and operated by the famous "First Lady of Music," Maria Kramer, who also has New York's Edison hotel and the Roosevelt in Washington, D. C.

NOTES SCRIBBLED ON A CALL-SHEET: Halloween most unusual one in city's history. No street masking, no crowds; just parties and indoor entertainment . . . Hollywood socialites cutting their own lawns, and doing other chores; no unusual sight now in swank Beverly, and other residential districts . . . Domestic servants scarce; they're quitting every day to go into defense work . . . Helen Crozier, called by Pat Somerset, Bob Ellsworth, and other officials of Screen Actors Guild, "Unusual type of old Louisiana Creole," finally granted membership card after year's petitioning . . . SCREEN, STAGE, RADIO ARTISTS DRAW PRAISE

By HARRY LEVETTE

Their aid increasing rather than diminishing, loyal colored citizens, both the famous and those in private life, have attracted the attention of War Department heads by their unstinted efforts towards keeping up the morale of the armed forces.

According to Arch Reeve, of the public relations committee of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association, it is all highly appreciated. Said Mr. Reeve:

"Negro artists of the film, stage and radio entertainment field are playing an increasingly important role in the efforts of the Hollywood Victory Committee to provide entertainment for the men of the armed services.

"Spearheaded by such personalities as Hattie McDaniel, Ethel Waters, Ben Carter and Clarence Muse, all of whom are members of the committee, the colored players are becoming more and more active in the war program, according to Victory committee records. In the past few weeks the Negro players have participated in a total of 25 USO "Spot" Camp Shows, War Department broadcasts, War Department transcriptions for the men overseas and personal appearances for the Treasury Department. A total of 61 Negro performers took part in these activities. They are:

"Helen Andrews, Louis Armstrong, Count Basie, Stymie Beard, Berry Brothers, Leonard Bluett, Maida Briant, Eddy Brown, Lenore Brown, Ben Carter, Covan Dance Duo, Vivian Dandridge, Dudley Dickerson, Duke Ellington, Robert Felden, Ford, Harris and Jones, Chinkie Grimes, Alice Haines, Jester Hairston, Hallelujah Quartette, Lena Horne, Ivey, Vern and Von, Corporal Joe Louis, Etta McDaniel, Hattie McDaniel, Minnie and Billie, Mantan Moreland, Clarence Muse, Nicodemus, the P-38 Trio, Ne a Peoples, Caleb Peterson, Princess Luana, Lillian Randolph, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, Rosana, Three Shades, Lucius Smith, Dorothy, Spivey, Sunshine Sammy, Sunshine Sunny, Joe Turner, Tony Wall, Earl Warren, Ethel Waters, Ernest Whitman and Wonderful Smith."

Plan 'Salute to Russia' Sunday

Elaborate plans for a gigantic "Salute to Russia" to be staged next Sunday from the steps of the City Hall, were jointly announced today by the mayor's office and the Conference of American-Soviet Friendship.

The event will be in commemoration of the founding of the Soviet Union 25 years ago and will celebrate the Russian national holiday.

Starting with radio speeches from the City Hall steps by Mayor Bowron, Carlton Tibbetts, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Lech T. Niemo, Polish consul and president of the United Nations association; William Morris jr., chairman of the Conference of American-Soviet Friendship; and A. Scorocuv, Russian consul here, the affair will culminate in a parade thru the downtown area.

One feature of the event will be the raising of the flag of the USSR on the City Hall flagpole and the playing of the American and Russian national anthems by a U. S. Army band, accompanied by a large Russian choir.

The Office of War Information is making plans to broadcast the entire ceremony to Russia via shortwave as well as carrying it to other United Nations.

Jefferson High's Girl Bodies Being Organized into Victory Corps

VICTORY CORPS ORGANIZED—The girls' organizations at Jefferson high school are reorganizing into a Victory Corps. Many of the girls are already busy giving service for victory.

One of the gorups which is rendering the most in community service is the Nurses Victory Corps, under the direction of Mrs. Gjertrud Smith, coordination of health. The girls are voluntarily helping the local Visiting Nurses Association on regular rounds. The girls are working from two to four hours every Saturday morning, although only one hour's work is required for corps credit. Others are working at tse General Hospital in the library, helping patients to select reading material, and as occupational therapists with the convalescent patients. Girls who prefer to work with small children are doing their part in the many nurseries.

The junior and senior members of the Secretarial Victory Corps have joined forces to work together in offering secretarial service. Mrs. Grace Vradenburg, commercial teacher, is their sponsor.

Miss Dora Newton's dress committee of the Girls' League and the girls of the Chinese club are sewing, making caps for the members of the Victory Corps. The Girls' League welfare committee, sponsored by Mrs. Gladys Byram, is sewing on insignia.

Mrs. Stella Betz, teacher of physical education, is organizing a military drill corps and the Stamp club, sponsored by Mrs. Emma Hibbs, is doing work in promotion of war stamp sales.

Other groups are forming into corps which will be joining the national movement throughout the high schools to help in the war effort.

Chorus to Present Victoria Rice, Violinist

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29, the Festival Negro Chorus of Los Angeles, under the direction of Hall Johnson, will present Miss Victoria Rice, well known, young Los Angeles violinist, in concert.

This presentation of Miss Rice in concert is in accordance with the program of the chorus, which plans to present as many talented young artists as possible. The chorus has also been instrumental in giving scholarships to some of the young artists whom they have presented.

The development of Miss Rice as a concert violinist is largely due to the interest shown her by this organization. She has just returned from two years of study at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester.

MUSIC TOWN ADDS TO FACULTY

With the announcement of two new teachers to its staff, Music Town, Los Angeles' newest cultural center and only institution of its kind anywhere, boasts of the finest and most complete faculty teaching under one roof in the Southland.

Coming from a six months engagement in Chicago's Congress hotel, 52 weeks over CBS in New York, 14 months at the Ambassador hotel here, 10 weeks at Earl Carroll's, 104 weeks at KHJ, Fred Skinner, celebrated song stylist and pianist, is now interviewing prospective students in voice placement, breath control, and diction. A student of the late maestro Etorre Campani, Skinner, who is still appearing professionally every evening, will devote his afternoons to teaching.

Also affiliated with Music Town is Luvenia Harper Dones-Nash. Teaching piano, theory, accompanying, voice, and pipe organ, this popular teacher is offering special rates to new students enrolling in her fall classes, beginning Nov. 5 through Dec. 5.

Appointments for both teachers may be made any week-day, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. by calling the registrar at Music Town, REpublic 6211. The address is 1480 W. Jefferson boulevard, at Normandie.

Robeson Letters Draw Thanks from "Life"

To all of you who wrote us commenting on the letters objecting to Mr. Robeson's performance of Othello—Life's thanks. There are too many of you to thank individually, but we hope this assurance that the published criticisms do not represent the majority view, will compensate in part at least for the fact that you did not get a personal reply.

There are unfortunately some Americans who believe democracy can be limited to a particular race or class and still survive, that it is legitimate to fight for democracy abroad while denying it to fellow citizens at home. Ignorance and prejudice are two of our greatest enemies on the homefront, but the many letters like yours which we received are encouraging proof that there are plenty of Americans equipped to fight against these enemies.

We are extremely grateful to you for writing us and for letting us have the benefit of your own personal opinion. For this courtesy, our thanks indeed.

Sincerely,

THE EDITORS.

WALT DISNEY'S "BAMBI" HELD OVER AT U. A.

United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, takes pleasure in announcing Walt Disney's feature "Bambi" is being held over for its second big week.

In "Bambi" Walt Disney is moving away from the world of fantasy where elephants fly, to a world of nature approached with the simplicity and charm of children. He has chosen the story, by Felix Satlen, of the coming of age of a faun, setting it in a forest of breath-taking beauty, peopled by friendly animals.

It is a simpler, and yet more sophisticated story, and the quiet dignity of the telling should appeal to all ages. There is humor and delight as always, in the small, personalized animals, but there is power, too, in the majesty of the "princes" of the forest and in the vicious struggle of Bambi with a stag who threatens his mate.

Technically, "Bambi" surpasses Disney's previous creations, as advance which has come to be expected in each succeeding effort of this craftsman. The coloring is often muted with splendid, almost photographic effect, yet masterful suffusions of brilliant reds dominate some dramatic climaxes. Both music and color are used to greater effect than ever before as dramatic aids. Above all, "Bambi" is entertainment, in its fascinating beauty of scene and sound, in the straightforward telling of tis story and in the charm it holds for all who have not outgrown the fancy of childhood.

The United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles, offers a second surprise feature as the co-attraction with "Bambi."

Armistice Day Program at Lincoln Theatre

The annual Armistice Day program, observed here under the direction of the Five and Over Charity club, is set for next Sunday morning, Nov. 8, at the Lincoln theatre, 2300 So. Central avenue.

At a recent meeting, held in the home of Mrs. Mary Leatherwood, 1014 E. 28th street, plans were mapped to make this year's observance of the ending of World War I more significant than any held heretofore.

Mrs. Mabel V. Gray, president of Five and Over, urges the public to take a part in this great patriotic observance. A program in keeping with the dignity of the occasion and significantly related to the global conflict now raging in every part of the world will be unfolded during the exercises beginning at 9:00 a. m. at the Lincoln.

The loss of earthly hopes and pleasures brightens the ascending path of many a heart. The pains of sense quickly inform us that the pleasures of sense are mortal and that joy is spiritual. —Mary Baker Eddy.

NOTES FROM REPUBLIC LOT

Jane Withers, who has just completed "Johnny Doughboy" for Republic, opens a six week bond-selling and personal appearance tour on October 9th in Rhode Island. Last time out Jane sold more than one million dollars worth of bonds, concentrating mostly on high schools.

When Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys, left Hollywood for New York to headline the 17th annual Madison Square Garden Rodeo, he made sure he was going to have transportation during his three week stay in New York. Roy had a carriage shipped with the cattle going to the rodeo and will ride between his hotel and the Garden in the carriage drawn by two horses.

"The Traitor Within" is the title of the drama starring Don "Red" Barry and Jean Parker. It had the working title of "Eleven Were Brave."

Republic, worried about several scenes in which Don "Red" Barry figured in the feature "The Traitor Within," Don becomes very rich in the picture, which wouldn't set right with Don't regular western following. Now at the end of the picture Don will speak the line, "Money means nothing to me." This new line, Republic hopes, will make peace in the western world where it's heretical for the cowboy star to become rich.

There are several new tenants of 4 Acres, the home of Republic star Jane Withers. Three soldiers who had heard of Jane's love for animals have left with her for the duration their pets, a cocker spaniel, a pet canary, and a pet mink.

At the Hollywood Canteen, Republic's serial queen, Kay Aldridge, was dancing with a sailor who had seen "Perils of Nyoka." As they glided over the floor, the sailor said: "Gee, you dance well too. I thought you only fought good."

Fay McKenzie, Republic starlet, saw a toothbrush sticking out of the back pocket of a soldier at the Hollywood Canteen. "What's that for," she asked. "Miss," exclaimed the soldier, "I'm on a three day leave."

Martin L. Harvey, for nine years director of young people's work for the A. M. E. Zion church, has accepted a position as dean of men at Clark College, Atlanta, Georgia. Rev. Harvey comes to his new position with varied and rich experience in young people's work, denominationally, inter-denominationally, racially and interracially. He received his undergraduate and graduate training in religious education and guidance from New York University.

In addition to his work with his denomination, he served as the first president of the Christian Youth Council of North America, as the American Youth representative at the World Missionary Conference at Madras, India, and as the American presiding officer at the World Christian Youth Conference at Amsterdam, Holland. He has travelled around the world studying youth movements in more than seventy countries.

★DOWN IN FRONT

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

USC Notwithstanding, It's the Rose Bowl for UCLA

After watching the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins topple Stanford's Indians Saturday, the column is making reservations for Rose Bowl tickets. We don't think they will miss this season. They did once before, by the margin of inches, when they played that 0-0 thriller with USC's Trojans. They had the great Kenny Washington then. For that reason, too, the column is going to keep his fingers crossed. The Bruins are not "in" until they get over USC . . . UCLA should have had two more tallies Saturday. Poor officiating robbed them of at least one, and quarterback Bob Waterfield's scoring play, when he fakes to the half and full but carries the ball himself around his own left end, might have clicked when the Bruins were inside the Indians' 10-yard line on one occasion and didn't score . . . Bob's superb kicking and passing, and choice of plays as a whole, however, were the game's highlights . . . And, believe it or not, the Bruin forwards more than held their own against the Indians' vaunted line . . . UCLA hit the rods last night for Eugene and Saturday's tussle with the University of Oregon Webfoots. They should capture that one, too.

Max Hutchins Keeps on Clicking

Nat Corum put up a game battle against bantamweight ruler Manuel Ortiz in the Legion stadium headliner last Friday night, but succumbed in the sixth round to the Mexican's heavier artillery—it's plenty heavy, too. Bright prospects like John Thomas and Bobby Yeager could take some lessons in punching from Ortiz. The way the champion works on an opponent's body and head when he, Ortiz, is cornered on the ropes is a caution . . . Max Hutchins, the good-looking middleweight, can't be kept away from main event billing much longer. He stopped Joe Ybarra in the Legion semi . . . The column's nomination for thrill of the week: When those P-38's roared low over the Coliseum Saturday as a crowd of 60,000 forgot about looking at UCLA-Stanford to watch the aerial display . . . No wonder Jimmy Doolittle scared hell outta Tokio! . . . Those inter-club matches the S2CGA is putting on at Sunday figure to produce some more sterling golf come Sunday . . . Norman Houston jr., California guard, and Walter Gordon jr., Bear half, will see some action at the Coliseum Saturday when those enraged Bears claw USC's Trojans. They both have well known paters. Gordon sr. is Cal scout and Rambler coach, while Houston sr. is Golden State Mutual Life secretary-treasurer, and civic leader . . .

Sergeant CLIFTON RUSSELL, former L. A. High School student and senior at Chapman college, whowon the 1941 Dober trophy for outstanding athletic achievement.

Sgt. Russell is now with the Signal Corps at Tuskegee and is making rapid progress as an officer. He is the son of Mrs. Carney Stewart of 2171 West 30th street and a cousin of Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of People's Independent Church of Christ.

Feud on View for 4th Time at Legion

Undefeated in 14 starts in Southern California, Jumpin' Jack Chase, Denver middleweight, clashes with Costello Cruz of San Jose, for the fourth time tomorrow night in the 10-round main mix at Hollywood Legion stadium.

Chase's score with the Mexican in their previous battles reads two 10-round decisions for Jack and one six-round tie. All of the tiffs were corkers.

In 58 fights Cruz has lost only twice, both times to the Denver sharpshooter.

In the six-rounder, a semi-windup at Hollywood last March, Cruz had chase on the floor in the third heat for a three-count. Chase rallied to get a draw. It was sensational and in April matchmaker Charley MacDonald headlined them. Chase put Cruz on the deck for a four-count, and in the second "ten," put him down for the toll of 8. He outboxed his rival each time to earn the decisions.

Chase recently scored a technical knockout over Tabby Romero, and because of his other wins over Cruz, will be favored to repeat in the fourth meeting tomorrow night.

Cruz's last fight at the Legion saw him take Jimmy McDaniels to the cleaners in decisive fashion. In the last several weeks, a boom has started for a Chase-Henry Armstrong fight since the former's handlers claim their 155-pound star can make 147, the welterweight limit.

ORTIZ STOPS CORUM

Last Friday night at the film arena, Manuel Ortiz, making his first start since he won the bantamweight championship of the world from Lou Salica two months ago, technically knocked out Nat Corum in six rounds.

Although he stayed 10 heats with Ortiz in Portland recently, Corum receipted for a bad beating at the hands of the Mexican champion. It was an over-the-weight battle.

Ortiz had too much heavy artillery for the game colored boy, and referee Bill Kirschner stopped it.

In the six-round semi, Max Hutchins, 155, scored a three-round technical kayo over Joe Ybarra, veteran Mexican 151-pounder.

In other bouts, Matt Oglesby, 140½, decisioned Quenin Rangle, 140½, in four rounds; Harry Mills, 148½, nodded Jimmy Smith, 151½, in four; Paul Guerrero, 118, and Jose Tovar, 119½, fought a draw, and Spencer Coleman, 148, TKOed Ray Paddock, 152, in the third round of the curtain raiser.

WALTER GORDON SR.
. . . Gordon jr. a Bear threat.

California, USC in Grid Spotlite Here

Los Angeles football fans will get their first gander of the season at a colored gridder playing on a major eleven Saturday at the Coliseum when the University of California's Bears boom into town for a conference date with the University of Southern California's Trojans.

The two lads are Norm Houston jr. a guard, and Walt Gordon jr., a halfback.

According to reports from the North the sons of the Golden State Mutual Life executive and the Bear coach-scout are playing a bang-up brand of ball.

Off to a bad start, California is now rolling along like she was scheduled to do at the start of the season when she was favored to win the conference title. With Jim Jurkovich, the triple-threat star, who has apparently conquered his injury jinx, and full-back Frank Porto teaming up in a big way, the Bears trounced the University of Oregon Webfoots, 20-7, last Saturday in Berkeley.

After dropping a game to the Stanford Indians the Trojans drew a bye last week, and hope to be clicking Saturday.

CAPT. IVAN JOHNSON
. . . his "Clinkers" seek golf win.

Yeager KOs Railey in 1 at Olympic

Bobby Yeager, 138, scored a one-round knockout over Chuck Railey, 142, in the feature bout at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night.

But a few o. the fistic faithful attended the card which headlined preliminary stars.

Vincent Villavicencio stopped Chris Virgis in the second stanza of the semi-wind-up. Both were scheduled for six rounds.

In an "extra" bout, Al Guidry dropped a four-round decision to Al Sanchez.

Other results: Willie Collins, 155, duked Sebastian Gonzalez, 149½, in a five-rounder, but the best he could get for his efforts was a draw. Kobie Scott, 141, shaded Don Lemos, 137, in five, and Manuel Azteca, 135, knocked out Henry Trujillo, 134, in the opener.

2ND LEG OF S2CGA INTER-CLUB MATCH PLAY SLATED SUNDAY

The civil war of the links will break out all over again Sunday when the second leg of the Inter-Club Golf Matches, as scheduled by the tournament committee of the Southern California Colored Golfers association, is played off at Sunset Fields.

As of Sunday, Oct. 25, the matches will be between teams representing the East- and Westsides of Los Angeles. Each club, as before, will have three teams, A, B, and C, the teams being made up of foursomes. Each winning foursome contributes a point to his team and to his club total, and the club with the most points is the winner.

After a session with adding and calculating machines, it was found that in the first leg of the matches the Westside "Elites" defeated the Eastside "Clinkers," 6½ to 5½ points. If the Westsiders repeat the performance hety will win the plaque that represents the club championship of Southern California. Each player will also receive an individual medal.

FORECASTS 3RD MEETING

Captain Ivan Johnson, however, claims that his "Clinkers" will come through this time and that a third meeting will be necessary to decide the championship. Henry Lewis, speaking for the Westsiders, says it will be all over Sunday before sundown.

The matches have been moved up to start at 12:30 this Sunday, and the play will be over the Number 2 course at Sunset Fields as before.

The players had quite a gallery before, the fair sex being on hand to "pull" for their favorite teams. An even larger group of spectators is expected this coming Sunday, and they will be welcome.

Ollie Loftuss went to the cleaners for five hundred t'other night in Oakland.

Irene Stevenson, glamour lady this week.

At the ringside at Henry's fight—Mrs. Ida King, Mrs. Jess (Velda) Wilson—wonder why Jess wasn't along—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunn, Mrs. Francis Clemons, Mr. Brady Clemons, afterwards had a reserved table at Club Alabam, ending up at all the others and down town.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Clement having a good time at the fight ringside, knocking themselves out on this side and across the bay.

Dick Lindley, the Scotch king of Oakland, and Dave Logan, the grand old man, having a swell time out seeing the town.

P. F. C. Bernard Chisholm spent the week end of Oct. 24 and 25 in San Francisco visiting friends.

George Karl spent Thursday evening in Jack's Nite Club having a nice time.

Mrs. Cleo Jones is still going strong. She had a party at the Town Club with Mr. Willie Henderson, Mr. J. B. Nicholson and friends. And Mrs. Juanita is in the great L. A. doing like a million.

Mabel Hamilton, Mrs. Morgan Worell and husband visiting from L. A. Elizabeth Booker out sporting at all the clubs, even down the International Settlement way.

Hattie Mae Kelley, Mrs. Nell Easton, Mr. Wm. Taft and Mr. Alfred P. (Picadera) out knocking themselves out at all the nite spots.

Rosa Foster who is that pretty, don't play too hard. You are only the one Rose and you only dress and have a million dollar smile.

Duke Jackson back in town after vacation in Seattle, Washington.

Mrs. Willie Sims and Mr. Skaggs having great time at the races.

Lawrence C. Menard flew in from Honolulu Wednesday, October 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ellis are out playing awfully hard again with friends in the famous Town Club before they take the ringside seats at the fight. They are only throwing money away like water and laughing loud. The party included Ruth and Alfred and Eddie Grubbs, Joe Davis, Gladys Pittman and Buddy K. Jay.

Well, well, again that playboy Bland and that most beautiful "Pretty" Miss Dorothy Webster and Walter Studer at the Club Alabam, still playing, also Sonnie Patrick.

George Jerome, Celeste King, Black Dot Magee, J. M. Lomax, Jr., L. W. Lomax, Sr., J. C. Nelson, C. C. Jackson, Bob Newman, Roaster Thornton, Strut Michal, John Vernon and Roy Spencer were up from L. A. betting big on Armstrong.

Mrs. F. C. Majors and daughter, Bernice, are visiting her son, Oscar, (Sonny Boy) Morgan.

Tite Montgomery won $150 on the fight Armstrong and Zivic.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, Mr. and Mrs. West Sanders, Mrs. Katheryn Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Bank Frazer, Mrs. Lois Jones from Stockton were seen opening 1 dozen bottles of champagne at Jack's Tavern.

Quincy Ford, Elbert Moben and company up playing hard in Jack's from L. A. for the Armstrong-Zivic fight.

Ruby Hammond Barton seen in all the night spots having a fine time.

Jane Britt can be seen in and out of the best places in Frisco. Miss Britts gets her mail at 3917 Post St.

A cordial invitation has been extended to Mr. J. Gould of the California Eagle to visit the Buchanan St. U. S. O. by Mr. Alfred McNichols, a director.

Some of the well-known playboys are now shipfitters and helpers, such as, Howard Jefferey, Percy Boost, Duke Jackson and even Ellsworth out getting his share of it.

John (Mustard) Arnold on the right side of the Armstrong-Zivic fight with his pretty and Jimmy Nash and Wseetwyne (a Love boss of Jack's Tavern) was only sitting in the box in front of the judge's stand with a pretty show stripper, Dorothy Webster. And rolled off with his grey Lincoln, four-door sport car.

Warren George bet Slats $200 on Armstrong.

Joe Rieriele was seen on the ringside betting on Armstrong.

Daniel Boone is O. K., gals.

Miss Callera Scott flew in for the fight and to see her daddy Ross. After wondering for 30 minutes, Miss Callera only had 1:30 to decide to board a plane to come to see the fight.

Gussie Valley and Bette Treadwill going around to all the bright night spots.

Thomas Davis, Mrs. De Beal, Sammy Miller and Thelma Williams betting on the races.

Gordon Croques, former New York sports promoter, was present at the Henry Armstrong vs. Fritzi Zivic fight. He had four boys on the card and they all gave a good account of themselves.

One interesting item in this week's affairs—Mrs. Brooks of the Dunbar grill, graced the Golden Gate city with her charming personality, coming by train, while her help came by plane—oh well, things are upside down.

A big fight must have big names—Bob Atkinson and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Duncan at the Zivic-Armstrong fight betting heavy on Armstrong, in ringside seats at $8 per seat.

Men are good but men and women together are great. Opal Hargraves, Johnnie Walker's sister and Johnnie's wife are employed at Moore's shipyard as electricians—how about that?

"Soldier" Williams of Vancouver, B. C., had friend of Buddy White sightseeing and looking across country stopped at twin cities, Minnesota; next was Chicago, then Toledo and New York City. His next stop was St. Louis, Mo., on to Kansas City to visit his lovely mother and next of kin. The next stop was Los Angeles and San Luis Obispo and then San Francisco to be the guest of Jim Roberts and Jay Gould.

Violet McGowan and T. L. McGowan had ringside seats at the fight, also Fay Young and Carmen Keeling.

Jimmy Johnson, Leroy Durkin and two certain misses were seen having fun in all the clubs and at the ringside for the Henry Armstrong fight.

Mr. and Mrs. Banks Frazier, Mr. Clarence Dunn and wife were the guests of Mr. Frank Brown and wife and they made all the nite spots in Frisco and they were still playing at the Cherryland where they met Velda Wilson and started everything all over again.

Mr. J. M. was seen playing hard, breaking $50 dollar bills at all nite spots.

Spider was in town a few days and says the boys on the ranch are all doing fine.

Charley Montgomery and Red Duvernay are playing hard and spending plenty of dough.

Palmer Pinckney and Sketts and Wm. Bonre were playing hard, racking the back with Jay Gould with $100 bills and ringsided it at the Armstrong-Zivic fight.

E. Snackleford can be seen around, looking on and having a good time in all the late spots.

Bond and A. Sweittis were seen at ringside at the fight. He is holding his own in Frisco and is going back for his daughter's wedding.

Duke Harris is seen in all of the clubs playing hard, from one night spot to another, also had a ringside seat at the fight.

Margaret Madaris and Barbara can be seen in and out of the night clubs. Both two fine looking girls. They only go to dances when big bands appear. Pick up on them at Erskine Hawkins dance Nov. 2d.

Lillian Banks seen looking swell, going in and out of the hot spots.

Adversity is the first path to truth.—Byron.

Our bravest and best lessons are not learned through success, but through misadventure.—A. Bronson Alcott.

ELEMENTS OF SUCCESS

Money and success are both universally desired. There are very few whose curiosity is not aroused, and, who will not give their attention to something whereby their material welfare will be increased, or their success advanced.

Money, under the present conditions of society, has become a necessity. All who provide for themselves, or those dependent on them, find this to be true, as practically all transactions involve the exchange of money in some form.

Success may be considered the accumulation of money, the attainment of fame, the accomplishment of a cherished ambition, or the gratification of a desire.

Your career of success and fortune must be built on a solid foundation, and a definite plan created in your imagination. Why not get a better picture thru your personal 1943 Horoscope? The secret of obtaining satisfactory results lies in using the right kind of material in the proper place, and, at the appropriate time.

R. T.—Dear Sir: May I congratulate you upon your splendid advice and products. Not only did I get the job, but I found the type of house I want and am moving into it next week. Without your help I would be still trying to solve my problems and sick from worry. Thanks again for everything. Professor Herman.

M. J. K.—What do the people I work for think of me?

Ans.: Concentrating upon your question, I find that these people are very fond of you and wish to do everything possible to keep you. You will hear some good news from them in the near future.

J. M. C.—Should I marry this boy when I finish school?

Ans.: Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate an early marriage and since you love this boy and your parents do not object, I see no reason why you should not marry him.

D. H.—Will my job last until after Xmas?

Ans.: It seems that you have no cause to worry. Your job will last for an indefinite period of time at least another year.

J. B. C.—How long will it be before I get the money?

Ans.: The source from which you expect this money requests a lot of detailed information which will take sometime. You know the government makes a thorough investigation before paying off such a debt. So just be patient. You will hear some good news soon.

S. L. D.—Dear Prof. Herman I have been reading the column in this paper for sometime and would like your opinion on this question. Will I be able to finish school and attend college?

Ans.: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your finishing school and getting the opportunity to go to college. You are very ambitious and will achieve a great deal thru your untiring efforts.

S. L. O.—How can I get the house I have in mind?

Ans.: If you have your present landlord recommend you as a very good tenant and some influential person talk for you, I am sure you will be able to get this house. But it will take this kind of recommendation to obtain it.

H. R.—Will I have to put up with this condition much longer?

Ans.: I vision conditions changing in your home and your daughter-in-law going elsewhere to live. Try to be nice to her for your son's sake, until such time as she can make some other arrangements.

T. E. D.—What shall I do about my problem?

Ans.: Probing into the matter, I find that if you will write me for a private reply, I will be able to help you. Your Horoscope indicates certain things that would prove beneficial to you, if you knew this information.

G. J.—Does this boy love me?

Ans.: According to your lucky star and guiding planets, you are destined to find true love in 1943. What this boy feels for you is friendship and admiration.

ANTI-POLL TAX FIGHT DEMANDS NEW DRIVE

everywhere, can develop the necessary strength in Congress for passage of the bill during the next few weeks.

On Monday, Oct. 26, the Senate Judiciary Committee, by a vote of 13 to 5 reported the Geyer-Pepper Anti-poll tax bill out favorably. Actually, the Committee reported out the Geyer Bill, striking out all parts of this bill except the enacting clause and substituting, with certain amendments, the language of the Pepper bill.

Except for the fact that the Geyer bill contained an enforcing clause, the Senate Committee amendments serve to strengthen the bill and make it less vulnerable to attack in the United States Supreme Court. Also, because the bill governs the operation of primaries, it lays the foundation for an attack on the lily-white primary system which operates in southern states.

The bill, as reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee majority, is now on the Senate Calendar and may be called up on the floor of the Senate by any Senator whenever a quorum is present.

Congress officials stated that it is now necessary to put pressure on Senator Charles McNary and Senator Alben Barkley, Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate in order to see that both of them exercise their fullest influence to have the bill called up for a vote. It is also urged that letters be sent to President Roosevelt calling upon the Commander-in-chief tof wartime America to bring the full weight of the Administration behind the fight to pass this vital war measure in the interest of inational unity to win the war.

P. S.

I am writing Atty. T. L. Griffith and Rev. Henderson of the Second Baptist church, soliciting their assistance if possible.

I have not seen the young man or inquired into his case as yet. I will do so today.

It seems that California is adopting the practice of the South in criminal cases in which Negroes are involved.

Festus Coleman had a one-act, one-scene show in a San Francisco court, but not a fair, impartial trial, despite an opinion to that effect by our new Governor. Coleman's reward for being leading man in this one-act perversion of justice was 65 years at San Quentin.

Sixteen-year-old Robert G. Smith was advised, as you note, by an unsympathetic counsel and he gets from one to fifty years in prison for a crime he claims he did not commit.

As a climax to Tuesday's election, a Negro arrested for drunk driving in Beverly Hills 'beat out his brains against the prison bars,—according to the police.

In all three cases, the California EAGLE, the people's newspaper is calling for a vigorous investigation.

All ye spiritual and political advisors of the people, TO ARMS! Reaction is on the march. It railroads Festus Coleman. It lynches children in Mississippi. It's armies are spread from the Caucasus to the North Pole—into the jungles of the Pacific isles. Reaction fikhts hard. And disobeys the rules. We have a big job. Let's get to it. All of us!

18 States Ask Pardon for Festus Coleman

calling upon Governor Olson to pardon Mr. Coleman. Twenty-five prominent doctors, lawyers, professors and artists have added their names to the original list of one hundred sponsors.

Earl B. Dickerson, nationally known Negro assemblyman of Chicago, member of President Roosevelt's Fair Employment Practices Committee, writes as follows:

"I have read your booklet 'Because of Race, Creed, Color . . .' and I am convinced along with you and others, that Festus Coleman is not guilty of the charges attributed to him. I wish you much success in your efforts to have him released."

In the effort to spread still further the story of Mr. Coleman's vicious trial and condemnation, the Coleman Defense Committee requests urgently that organizations and individuals will order copies of the booklet, sold at two cents each, from the committee offices, 83 McAllister St. The committee will pay mailing costs. More than 7,000 copies have been sold but it is hoped that an additional 3,000 can be distributed in the next two or three weeks.

Mexican Kids Form Defense Body

The Youth Committee for the Defense of American Mexican, formed last Sunday at Lindley Hall, will meet at Polish Hall, 42 street and Avalon blvd. Friday at 8 p. m. to further chart means of aiding more than a score of Mexican youngsters on trial for first degree murder in the courtroom of Judge Charles Fricke.

All in their teens, the kids already are underway with a scrap drive, designed both to aid the war effort and raise defense funds.

Movie stars Anthony Quinn and Dorothy Comingore spoke to the young people Sunday. Friday's meeting will attempt to effect a unity between rival kids' clubs.

Youth representatives of the Negro community will also be on hand to lend aid in combatting the press-inspired wave of anti-Mexican feeling in the city.

Officers of the Defense Committee are Reginald Garcia, chairman; Dor Baca, vice-chairman; Frank Hermosillo, secretary; Roger Cordona, treasurer, sergeants-at-arms Ceferina Leyhas, Rudy Leyhas, Ray Obregon, Dominick Gonzalez and Alphonso Martinez

MEXICANS FACE POLICE TERROR ROUND-UPS; VILE PRESS SLURS

Link L. A. Anti-Mexican Drive With So-Called Harlem "Crime Wave"

THE FACT IS: There has been no increase in crime among Mexican kids in L. A. or Negro kids in Harlem or Detroit. The "crime" has existed all along, just as the revolting system out of which it grows has existed. These so-called "enemies of society," the kids of slum belts all over America — what in hell have they got to be friendly about? Despicable housing? Job discrimination? Race prejudice? Residential restrictions? Swimming pools barred to Mexicans and Negroes? So the natural energy and vitality of these kids are sometimes polluted into channels of gang warfare? All right. But are the riot squad, dirty names in the press, and the attempted martyrdom of TWENTY-ONE for the death of ONE — a solution? Are they?

PECULIAR SITUATION

In Los Angeles, we have a peculiar situation. The Negro people here, through magnificent organization, through the march of two thousand black women upon U.S.E.S. headquarters, through giant mass meetings, and innumerable committees against discrimination, have blasted a gaping hole in the wall that formerly dammed us into paths of restricted employment. Most of our young men and women are finding proper employment in defense industries. THE DECREASE IN JUVENILE DELINQUENCY HAS BEEN ASTOUNDING! The lesson is clear.

Militance and organization of Negroes in Los Angeles rendered a press campaign against "crime waves" of our youth very different. So the Hearst-Chandler press looked around for a more likely target, and they leveled a lousy typewriter barrage at the Mexican population.

Mexicans here boast nothing like the organization of Negroes. There is a real cleft between the first and second generations; there is a church control of political activity; there is a very slight voting power.

Nice and defenseless, you see. Fair prey for the vermin press!

White and Negro Angelenos in the last several weeks suddenly began to read of Mexican baby gangsters. (Nothing about decrepid housing.) They were regaled with tales of gang war. (Nothing about a lack of defense training for Mexicans). They saw lurid photographs of fifteen-year old girls in the toils of the law. (Nothing about the Mexican soldiers who, with Negro and white comrades, wrote pages of glory on Bataan and Corregidor.)

Quick to jump aboard the Examiner-Times witch-hunt were the Los Angeles Police and Sheriff's departments. For the past several weeks, there have been nightly round-ups of Mexicans. There have been mass jailings on suspicion of this or that. Police squads enter nite spots, clean out all the Mexicans (to look for their draft cards), but don't touch white or Negro customers. Rank discrimination! CIO State President Phil Connelly states the case of one young Mexican, part of the fortunate few employed in defense industry, who has been picked up EVERY SUNDAY for the last three weeks on the way home from his job and has had to pay off $10 each Monday morning to return to work!

Something stinks in Denmark and it has the familiar, rancid odor of William Randolph Hearst.

What's happening in the Mexican community? Ah, the other wing of the Axis propaganda machine, the pro-Fascist Sinarquistas, have moved in like poor relatives. Listen to 'em!

What kind of war is this they ask you to fight, fellow Mexicans? Is it a war for the common man when the children of the common man are jailed because they wear wide britches? Out with the foreigners, Mexicans! You were in California first! It is the Jews and the white people and the Negroes who have come here to cheat you of your birthright!

And a few lisfen, — but only as the police crusade and the lying press campaign force them to desperation.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE

But the rosy p[illegible] of W. R. H. and his fellow [illegible]is due for a healthy swat in the slats.

Last week a committee of Labor people, Mexican groups, Negroes and the legal profession called upon District Attorney John Dockweiler and demanded certain reforms in the trial of twenty-one kids for first degree murder. It was pointed out by such an authority as Carey McWilliams, chief of the state division of housing and immigration, — that the recent Pan-American Conference reported Nazi broadcasts throughout South America drawing attention to the persecution of Latin children in Los Angeles county.

It was shown that for two months following arrest, the 21 on trial had been denied haircuts and even a change of clothing. It was shown that prosecutors Shoemaker and Barnes were going after the kids like all hell depended on conviction. It was shown that the words "Mexican" and "gang" were used for purposes of rousing race prejudice in the minds of jurymen.

To his credit, D. A. John Dockweiler immediately ordered haircuts and changes of clothing for all defendants who so desired, went into a lengthy conference with the prosecutors as a result of which the trial has become noticeably less rabble-rousing.

On Monday, an expanded committee called upon progressive Mayor Fletcher Bowron to demand reform in police prosecution of the Mexican minority.

Jewish publisher Al Waxman, of the East Journal; EAGLE editor Charlotta A. Bass, CIO chieftain Phil Connelly, and others, are mobilizing citywide pressure against the divisionist drive on Mexican youth.

WHY ARE WE NEGROES INTERESTED IN WHAT HAPPENS TO OUR MEXICAN NEIGHBORS?

Well, we've had a lot of experience along the same lines. We've felt the whip-lash of oppression and we know how and where it stings. Besides, it would be us if the Mexicans weren't more convenient. It's us in Harlem and Detroit. It's us in Meridian, Miss. It's us on that damn Dixie bridge from which six black bodies have hung.

And we're getting smarter every day about what kind of war this is. It's OUR war. It's the war of all the little people everywhere. That's why Mr. Hearst goes to such lengths to defeat that war, to divide our unity, to prevent passage of the anti-poll tax bill, to start the war's major offensive in Alaska!

This is OUR war. The Mexicans' war. The Negroes' war. It's got the Bourbon South on the run. It's got Hearst scared to death. Discrimination and persecution directed against minority groups today is more than injustice. It's sabotage.

AND WE DON'T HAVE TO TOLERATE SABOTAGE!

CIO Takes Goodyear Bias to D. C.

plying for work at the front gate a CIO committee was meeting with management astking that Negroes be hired on a proportionate basis and that Negroes already in the plant be given the chance to get into production and that they not be limited to janitors jobs.

When the girls were turned down, they came to the CIO building and Revels Cayton, organizer, asked them to apply to the local U.S.E.S. office. The girls were given referral slips to the Goodyear plant.

After a fruitless interview in which R. J. Kelley, personnel representative, urged the girls to apply for work in aircraft plants, they were again turned down.

Acting for the women workers, a CIO committee, headed by Cayton and Floyd Gartrell, regional director of the United Rubber attended a conference with U.S.E.S. officials and demanded action. The conference was attended by the U.S.E.S. advisoryt committee for the employment of minorities, including Monsignor Thomas J. O'Dwyer, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, Bert Harnish, local War Manpower Commission head.

Arthur E. Wood, local U.S.E.S. chief, and Ray Ellis, on tour from the Washington office of the service also atended the meeting and heard the testimony of the women.

A subcommittee composed of Harnish, Clarence Johnson, minorities division of W.M.C., and Col. J. E. Wyman of the U. S. army, who also attended the conference, was named to call on Goodyear management and report back to the committee of the whole.

Meanwhile, a report of the developments was to be presented to McNutt in Washington by Connelly and Rathborne.

"We in the CIO," Cayton told the EAGLE, "are going to pursue our fight against discrimination until it is wiped off the industrial map."

cent of the Machinists total union strength to join in the referendum plea. It will then serve as the nerve-center of a national campaign among thousands of Machinists urging their abolition of a tradition-hallowed statement in the union ritual which bars membership to any but qualified 'white' machinists.

The Machinists convention does not meet until 1944, therefore the special referdum is necessary to settle this raging union issue. A proposal that eNgroes form a Jim Crow union adjunct until 1944 was turned down cold by the Negro workers.

Initiated several months ago by the Junior Council of the NAACP, the Lockheed carried forward the drive for full union status under the tireless leadership of young Herbert Ward. The last meeting of the executive board of the NAACP offered the District Council of Machinists every aid in conducting the national anti-bias referendum.

WET WEATHER REPORT

Rainy weather will be here before we know it. Traffic experts say that smooth tires will stop your car just as efficiently as new ones when the road surface is dry. But when the streets are wet—watch out! Your ability to stop your car will be cut down as much as forty per cent. "It never rains but it's poor—for driving!" warns the Traffic Education Unit of the Los Angeles Police Department.

IN PHOTO above, standing at left, is Edgar J. Johnson, assistant secretary of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company, addressing a meeting of the Chicago Negro Underwriters association, held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Morris, of Washington Place, Chicago. Mr. Johnson arrived last week from Chicago where he spent the month of October completing the installation of the new agency accounting and statistical proceedure in the Chicago district.

the Fascist agitator.

LESSON FOR SOUTH

The action of F.B.I. agents against Riker has been advocated for his brother Hitlerites in Dixie, former Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, Gov. Dixon of Alabama, and Horace Wilkinson, whooper upper for a proposed National Association for the Preservation of White Supremacy.

Negro citizens generally regard Riker's arrest as a valuable contribution toward victory. "Those who preach racial disunity are Hitler agents," is a common statement. Furthermore, it is a statement OF FACT.

GIVE US A HAND OUT . . .

One of the most dangerous habits a driver can form is the failure to give a hand signal when pulling out from the curb. The man who is driving along legally in the right-hand lane of traffic is often taken unawares by this violation, and swings his car into the path of another one causing a needless crash. When leaving a parking space, do so cautiously and remember the hand signal!

Ques. Are all laxatives alike? Ans. Certainly not. Ques. Are all laxatives herbal laxatives? Ans. No, some are saline, emolient, etc. Ques. Is Black-Draught herbal? Ans. Yes, Black-Draught is purely herbal — usually gentle but thorough if directions are followed. That's why it is called "the friendly laxative."

Black-Draught has been a popular-selling laxative with four generations. Costs only 25c for 25 to 40 doses. Comes powdered or granulated, which many say is even easier to take. Be sure to follow label directions. Next time, try Black-Draught in the familiar yellow box.

Reed Family Wants Probe

Returing from the sad mission of accompanying the body of his lifelong friend, Harold J. Reed to New Orleans, La. for burial, last week Walter J. Clark, well known young local defence worker, brought back news that the family is stunned with the shock of the young entertainer's death. Not only were they further stricken by the fact that he had allegedly met death by a fall over a 200 foot precipice, but also by their doubt as to it being a case of suicide or accident.

Survived by a mother, Mrs. Josephine Davis Reed of New Orleans and several brothers and sisters, all are firm in the belief that Reed was the victim of foul play.

What the Election Means

Unquestionably, the defeat of Gov. Culbert L. Olson is a defeat for the war effort. It is also a defeat for the forward march of Negro America. As always, the two things are inter-changeable.

There is, of course, no time for lament. However, there are certain lessons to be learned from the campaign. Of first importance in Los Angeles is the fact that a substantial majoritly of Negro citizens 'voted right,' i. e. for Olson. Their action reflected the excellent, though belated, Olson campaign in this area.. Literature explained the fearful connection of Warren with the worst defeatist elements in the nation, William Randolph Hearst and Herbert Hoover. More realistic than other voters, many Negroes wanted specific instances of Warren's loudly touted war support and his last minute statement that all Americans "regardless of race, creed or color" should participate in that effort.

The hard facts of the case will not permit us to sit back and chortle about the will of the people having been expressed. What has happened is this—a fantastically corrupt press, one which refused PAID ADVERTISING from pro-war candidates has deceived the majority of the people of this state concerning the basic issues of the campaign. A skillful manipulation of deceptive phrases, of brazen lying and a bewildering display of glittering generalities has placed the governorship of one the key military and industrial areas of the free world in the hands of a man whom we have every reason to believe is a spokesman for native Fascists and appeasers.

Our job, we think, is plain. We must be on guard for attacks upon the war effort, upon Negro rights, upon the Labor movement and upon the President of the United States.

All was not disaster, however, in the election. Elevation of fighting progressive Robert W. Kenny to the State Attorney Generalship is an important gain. Kenny, we expect, will do as much good in that spot as Warren did harm. Final results are not known at this writing, but there is an indication that Will Rogers, jr., may replace Leland Ford in Congress. This would be an important addition to the House roster of promising young liberals.

Presence of Augustus Hawkins in the State Assembly will be a powerful deterrent to reactionary legislation.

By and large, there is a whale of a fight dead ahead. . . . .

From the Deep South

....—Last week there appeared in the Louisiana Weekly a column by Samuel Hosins which ranks with anything produced in American journalism this year. For clarity, simplicity and accuracy, it is matched by few columns we have ever encountered. It is proudly reprinted—

Last week this column concerned itself with the three recent lynchings in the State of Mississippi, and intimated that the pattern of mob violence in the South has developed to the danger mark. It attempted to show that the anti-Administration, anti-Negro attitude of those reactionary southerners who refuse to concede the fundamental issue of this war—freedom versus slavery—may easily wreck our hopes for victory.

How near we are to the rocks which will upset our ship of state was revealed by the stand taken by three congressmen from the lynch-ridden commonwealth, men who are supposed to represent the people but who actually personify the antithesis of Rankin and McGehee, delivered heir messages to America when a mob of their fellow Mississippians was slinking home from its number three job in five days. The fact that congressmen from other sections of the country listened to them without protest indicates to what dephs we have allowed the defamers of democracy to pull us down.

Attacking the Adminstration for what he termed "enforcing social equality between Negroes and whites in public buildings and offices under its control," McGehee told the House that the issue "is going to cause more trouble and bloodshed than the Civil War."

Senator Bilbo, who once proved his patriotism by wearing red, white and blue shoes, is one of the poll taxers attempting to thwart the will of the people by killing the anti-poll tax bill. He sees it as an attempt to rape the Constitution. "One man can't filibuster," he said, "but I've taken an oath to uphold the Constitution and Ill do all I can to prevent its being torn to shreds right in my face."

In a speech on the 'teen age draft bill, Rankin fired the lynch spirit and uttered dark warnings of a race war in the South. Said he, "If you people keep stirring up trouble for us in the South, we are going to need our young men trained when this war is over in order to take care of the domestic situation."

These were Mississippi's answers for the lynchings. The Congress took them lying down.

.....Appeasement policy. We contend that these attacks on the administration and the Negro people are due to the policy of vacillation on the part of the national government and the pro-war forces in America.

We contend that the pro-war forces have weakened their position by not demanding a more vigorous prosecution of the war.

We contend that the President has been too much the politician and not enough the Commander-in-Chief of our armed forces; that by so doing he has weakened and not strengthened his own position; that he can control the cliche of southerners and industrialists by a wider use of his war powers and that if it comes to a question of leadership the people will give the necessary support as was proven in the inflation bill.

We contend that while labor has adopted a win-the-war program, it lacks firmness on the question of racial discrimination; that it has not been able to contribute its maximum to the war effort because of a willingness to compromise the issue and that this has brought about dissatisfaction on the part of he Negro people and caused untold harm to the cause of national unity.

We contend that the increasing wave of mob violence directed at the Negro people is a direct result of the policy of appeasement.

For instance, the first great set-back to the cause of national unity and the morale of the Negro people was the sabotaging of Fair Employment Practice Committee, which resulted when it moved South to investigate discrimination in war industries.

..... Despite the support from certain sections of southern labor and liberals of both races throughout the country the administration allowed the FEPC to be crucified.

Because the challenge was not met, a wave of anti-adminstration, anti-Negro sentiment swept the South the South. With it went a movement of violence against the Negro people and union organizers. . . . .

Then came the poll tax fight in Congress. Encouraged by their previous gains, the reactionaries released another tide of anti-Negro, anti-administration propaganda. Dies accomplished the the classic feat of Negro-baiting and Red-baiting at the same time. With the possible passage of the poll tax looming in the House, the Dixie bloc threatened a second Civil war. It may or may not be coincidental that immediately three persons were lynched in Mississippi; that nine others were saved only after the governor called out the state guards; that i took a Shreveport, La., jury only two minutes to return a death penalty against a Negro charged with rape; that in Pulaski, Tenn., it required almost the entire police force to prevent the lynching of a man accused of the misdemeanor of house-breaking; that in two army camps of the South violence threatened anew, but the speeches of Bilbo, Rankin and McGehee were no accident.

These speeches are further attempts of the reactionaries to hold the club of race over the head of the country. They reveal what has come of the government's policy of appeasement; they reveal what happens when lynchings, violence and discrimination are allowed to go unpunished and prejudice placed above the war effort. But most of all, they reveal that now is the time for quick, decisive action or we will lose the war. We will lose the war because we are, as in 1861, at that point where we must either remove the contradiction of our way of life or risk the possibility of splitting the country into disunifed halves. We will lose it because by allowing the sothern bloc to continue sabotaging our efforts at liberalism further damages not only the morale of the American Negro but our Allies in China, India, and elsewhere.

We must Fight. The southern bloc is powerful. It has control of 50 percent of the important legislative committees. It is working hand in glove fith other appeasement forces.. . . .

★ SPREADING JOY

By JOHN FOWLER

Last week the name of Henry Bedney was left out of my report of the Pioneer meeting.

We were all glad to see Henry and were mighty proud of the remarkable change that had come in his life. You know he was a very speedy youth and to see him settle down into a quiet family man was indeed gratifying to the old friends of the Bedney family. Of course all of the old timers remember the Bedneys and the Parties, the best and the rest of them who used to live out at the jumping off place of the old Temple Street Cable line.

We remember the wedding of Ophelia Bedney to Ed Jacks some 45 years ago, which was the biggest social event of that period.

Every hack, buggy and express-wagon was engaged in moving the guests out there. Rev. C. H Anderson officiated.

We called in our president, Mrs. Cora Buck, of the Pioneer Club yesterday to find her much inspired and in high spirits. Pioneers, if you cannot call, be sure to send a card to her; she will appreciate them.

Mrs. Maurice Holt is detained at home on account of an injured limb. We found her in a happy mood in spite of her being unable to go to her church at Eighth and Towne, where she has worshipped for more than a half century.

I am informed that the minister of music of historic old First AME is almost ready to be released. The plaster and splints that have bound him for so long have been removed and he will soon be seen leading his host of sweet singers of Zion down the aisles to their sacred place behind the altar.

Surely it will be a happy day and all will say, "My Lord, What a Morning," when the ever popular George Garner comes back to us well and strong again.

We had a delightful chat with Mrs. Baptiste, of Pasadena, one of the founders of the Self Improvement, Art and Social Club. We found in Mrs. Baptiste a charming person, with a vision and ambition, that accounts for the progress and success of that talented group of ladies known as the Self Improvement, Art and Social Club of Pasadena. Ladies, accept my hearty congratulations.

Well, I am truly glad the political campaign is over. Now my friends can be named again, and won't be afraid to speak to me.

In all of my years in politics I have never let my partisanship intertere with my friendship. I never lose a friend over politics, so that if my recent stand or anything I have said in the heat of battle has offended anyone I am sorry and do humbly apologize.

Leading the Old Sweethearts this week are Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Robinson.

★ THE ARMISTICE IS OVER

By RUTH TAYLOR

Those of us who remember Armistice Day 1918 recall not merely the wild excitement with which the news was greeted, but even more the deep sense of relief and the keen rapture at the thought of peace. We felt that not only this war but all wars were over.

But as the years have come and gone, we have celebrated Armistice Day more and more solemnly, in the belated realization that "Armistice" truly meant "the temporary cessation of hostilities."

We wanted peace and we sought it by compromise, equivocation and side stepping issues. We overlooked the fact that there is—there can be—no truce in the fight between right and wrong.

Ours was the task of bearing high the torch of liberty. Of seeing that the light of freedom dispelled the darkness of oppression. We did not ask of those who died from whence they came or by what faith they lived. They were soldiers in a battle for Democracy. Ours was—still is—the task of keeping that Democracy alive so that their sacrifice might not have been in vain.

We have not yet fulfilled our task. And today the fight is on anew between the forces of oppression and aggression and the forces of democracy and freedom. We have a faith to keep with those who have gone before. Tolerance, justice, equality, freedom, democracy—are not just words. They were ideals for which men died—they are ideals by which we must live if the faith is to be kept.

The armistice is over and this time there must be no stopping before the dictators are finally and definitely crushed. We must finish the job. We must fight until the forces of evil are completely conquered for all time.

Bishop of Rangoon, Burma at St. Philip's Sunday

St. Philip's Episcopal church will celebrate the 34th anniversary of its founding Sunday, Nov. 8, with special services at 11:00 a. m. Father H. Randolph Moore, vicar, has announced that the guest speaker will be the Rt. Rev. George West, D. D., bishop of Burma, India.

St. Philip's church was started back in 1908, and after several moves from small dwellings and the old Scott's hall, settled at Paloma street, near 14th.

In 1928, led by the Rev. Walter T. Cleghorn, the congregation moved into its new church building at 801 E. 28th street. The present vicar assumed leadership in 1934.

Prairie View College Alumni Body to Honor Outstanding Citizen

The monthly meeting of the Prairie View College Alumni association was held last Friday night at the residence of Mrs. Laura Criner, 1422 E. 15th street.

The meeting marked a distinct forward step in the progress of the club, as Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, the president, authored a resolution which was passed by the club which will cause the issuance of a citation of merit every year to some person of African descent, of either sex, who has contributed some outstanding contribution to the life of the community. The award will be made next year to whatever person is chosen for the honor and the affair will be held in a public place where the public will be invited.

The club also voted to become a corporation. Attorney Taylor was instructed to draw up the necessary papers to give the club corporate existence.

At the conclusion of the meeting old college songs were sung and the club put on a great celebration in honor of the recent great victory of the Prairie View football team over Wiley on the night of Oct. 19 at the Dallas State Fair in Texas. The game is an annual feature of the fair. This marks the fourth successive year in which the Prairie View Panthers have triumphed over the Wiley Wildcats in the annual state classic, and the club celebrated merrily by a fine course of baked ham and other delicacies which were prepared by the hostess.

The September meeting of the club, which was held at the beautiful residence of Dr. H. H. Towles, 4959 Wadsworth avenue, was a great success. At this party Dr. Towles had over 150 guests and a course of barbecued spareribs and hot biscuits were served. Many distinguished out-of-town visitors were present.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Woods, proprietors of Woods Mortuary in Pasadena, at which many friends of the club from other points in the state are expected to be present.

Second Baptist Boosters Hold 9th Anniversary

The Boosters Club of the Second Baptist church sponsored its ninth anniversary program at the church Sunday, Oct. 25, at the evening services.

The Boosters, being a very lively organization was formed by Mrs. Vassie D. Reese, on Oct. 26, 1933, in the effort to boost the church in all its movements thru Love Harmony and Peace..

The program offered both entertainment and inspiration following the general feeling of our country, which is Victory! Mrs. Anna Mabry was the mistress of ceremonies.

Outdoor Life Program Sunday

★ WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

THUNDER OVER CHINA

The latest raids of American bombers upon Japanese-held territory in China have now brought the whole of China within the range of American air power. Under Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stillwell's China command, air men have dropped their destructive loads over a vast area extending from the Great Wall in the north to tropical China in the south. Raids on Hong Kong have shattered that city's main electric supply plant, while attacks on the great Kailan coal fields north of Tientsin have done heavy damage to the source of 65 to 75 per cent of the coke used in Japan's steel industries. These raids naturally constitute only the beginning of an aerial offensive, but even on the present limited scale, they have shown that all of occupied China has been brought within reach of American bombing operations. It is now a question of adding to that present air force in sufficient numbers to launch a full-scale offensive that will pave the way to those land operations which will smash the power of Japan on the continent of Asia. A China, freed of dominion or control by Japan or any other power, is one of the goals of this present worldwide struggle, for the people of Asia, after centuries of apathy and ignorance, have awakened to join the worldwide forward march toward freedom and independence for all peoples.

DREAD IN THE AXIS LANDS

Allied air might is once again battering at the industrial empire of Northern Italy after months of inaction on that front. The people of war-weary Italy have little confidence and fighting faith with which to meet a baptism of fire through air attacks, having gained from this war little but hunger, poverty, and defeat and the virtual loss of their country's independence. Nor is the morale of the German people in the bombed area staving off dejection and defeatism to judge by the nature of the admonitions fling them by their Nazi masters, seeking to whip up flagging civilian spirit by picturing the horrifying butchery to which each and every German will be subjected if his country should lose. The sublime confidence which swept through Axis lands at the fall of France has today given way to an uneasy, growing dread that the victory which then seemed so near may never come.

SHIPS, SUBS

AND SECOND CUPS

To unnumbered millions of Americans, November brings a new war casualty—that second cup of coffee. With a new rationing program going into effect on the 29th, families will be limited to one pound every five weeks for each member of the household over 15 years, a ratio averaging out to about one cup a day. Supplies have been depleted by a lack of shipping, by Axis undersea raiders, and by some plain and fancy torpedoing from domestic hoarders. It is not a pleasant spectacle to see Americans—luckily, a minority—raiding stores' limited supplies, or staging as they did the other day in an Eastern city, a knock-down, drag-out brawl to obtain coffee. The hoarder's selfish thoughtlessness does his country and his fellow-citizens a grave dis-service. Chain and independent merchants are striving by every means in their power, and doing an admirable job under difficult circumstances, to maintain adequate food supplies for all their customers. When their stocks are cleaned out by panicky shoppers, rush orders for replacements must be sent to other cities, perhaps 100 or 1000 miles' distant, disrupting transportation and marketing schduless. A minority of hoarders can thus succeed in speedily bringing down a rigorous rationing program on the heads of all Americans. So when lamenting your one cup a day coffee quota, and blistering U-boats with apt epithets, don't forget to pay your respects to the thoughtless hoarders who have done their share of the torpedoing.

THE WRONG ENEMY

Fighting spirit against the enemy is one thing, but fighting spirit which, as in a Bay Region shipyard the other day, culminates in a war of rivet-hurling between hundreds of shipfitters and boilermakers is a danger. The Axis won't suffer; the war effort will. Lets keep our eyes on the foe!

FIVE MILLION WANTED

Manpower needs require more than apportioning our present working force in the right place at the right time. The War Manpower Commission states that more than 5 million additional women must be added to the ranks of the nation's women war workers by the end of 1943. If these millions fail to report for duty at an early date, national service legislation is inevitable. Future compulsory government action depends on voluntary action now.

★ W. J. WHEATON

During the post-war period this world will be rebuilt spiritual, and materially. Women will be potent factors in the rebuilding.

California women have a leader, sane, logical, and withal, the embodiment of unselfish devotion to the cause of human justice and the rightful interpretation of democracy. She is nationally known one who, while espousing the cause of those with whom she is identified racially, pleads for equality of opportunity for all, the world over.

We have no hesitancy in stating that the editor and publisher of the California EAGLE, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, has demonstrated that she is worthy of our confidence and should receive our unstinted support.

Why not prepare for the renaissance, the rebuilding of the world, NOW? Why not gather at the conference table and plan for a world democracy? We would stress the "world democracy" because, if democracy is to prevail, racial interests must be subordinated to the betterment of the masses. The interests of any special group should be secondary in espousing and pleading for that which men now are fighting and dying to achieve.

Without doubt, this expression of thought will be met with strenuous objections, especially by that class who exploit our racial problems for self aggrandizement, and for ends entirely selfish. Let us state here: That we have two pet aversions, (a) The person or persons who exploit our racial group for political gain: The man, or woman, who rants, and plans idiotic schemes that place them in the spotlight, but whose protests are easily smothered under the quilt of some political job, however insignificant; (b) there cannot possibly be any room in Heaven for that class who, religiously or fraternally, use their opportunity for service for the furtherance of their own aspirations.

It is this class who have been vociferous in the telling of our racial handicaps. Barriers that are bvious. But their mouthings and fantastic ideas have savored so with hypocrisy that their pretense to leadership has failed. They have lost caste. The rank and file of us have sought a new leadership. It has been found in the earnest desire to serve and the sane ideology expressed thru our leading women. Well do we know of many inhibitions, the number of barriers placed and erected on the road of PROGRESS which we seek to negotiate. The world knows, as well as we.

Mass meetings without number have given the chance for our apostles of Demosthenes to demonstrate their oratory and enact resolution, which are never heard of after adjournment.

But there never has been formulated a plan. Again, our youths must be brought to sense the great obligation which they will assume as time brings world readjustments. Theirs will be no easy task. Let it be said that there can be no greater service to humanity than planning for the future of our youth. But one must plant before they can reap, and the planting can effectively be done by our women. They only have the forbearance, the tact, and ability to imbue our youths with that spirit which will enable them to shoulder the burden which, inevitably, will pass on to them. And, this will take sober thought and sane planning.

There is a splendid organization of colored women that contains in its membership some distinguished personalities and women of sound judgment. They are represented in each of the forty-eight states. Why not each of those forty-eight State Federations select one member, just one, to meet in joint conference and plan for representation at the post-war conference table which will make the design from which will emerge a democratic world. That may seem a herculean task, an imaginary dream, an impossible procedure. Not so. "Whatever man imagines that can he do." It is the will to do that succeeds; only lack of will can fail.

Women of California!! Why not take the initiative and start this idea on its way? It's your idea, so why not bring it to a successful culmination? We leave it with you.

Meet at Unity Truth Sunday

Members of Unity Truth Center, 1165 East 55th street, are urged to be present at an important meeting Sunday, Nov. 8, immediately after the morning services. Policies affecting the future of the church are being considered. Make it your duty to be present.

A revised list of membership is in the making. Kindly give or send your correct name and address to the secretary at once.

Now the Scripture Says:

"What mean ye by this service?" So my Aunt keeps saying that not all the wisdom of Solomon could explain what so many of our waitresses mean by the exasperating service they give in most of our public eating places.

Yours until it will no longer require the patience of Job and the courage of Samson to obtain a meal even in some of our "best" eating places,

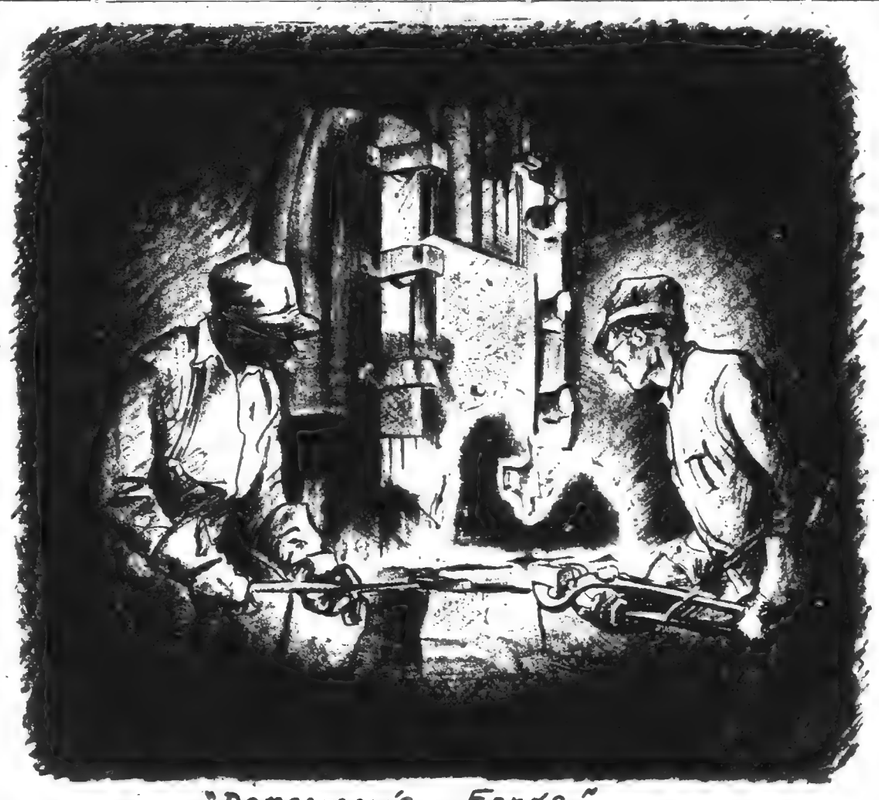
LABOR ON THE MARCH

By MARTIN HEWLETT

Well, it looks as if the people got it again. u'd think that by now they'd kinda get hep to a things. From where we sit it looks like a long, rd winter, speaking figuratively, of course.

I wonder if people realize that there is a great r in progress, a people's war, and that this war is eir war.

I wonder if they realize what THEY are fighting . Do they still think that it is some mysterious onomic or political principle that they know nothing ? Don't they know that we are fighting the great- menace that the world has ever been confronted th since the Black Plague?



With the greatest array of facts staring them uarely in the face, they went blithely on their way, cking and choosing, like bourgeoise sheep in a tch of loco weed, when there was no choice.

But, of course, they had to be led. And who led em? Their own kind. People, members of the hu- an race in a vast, corrupt machine, lubricated with e oil of moulded public opinion, which in turn is ilt by its own subsidized press and radio. But they e a very small minority, working together in an or- anization so closely knit and so well planned and ganized, that they can function smoothly, perpet- ating their rotten program against the people of e world. It is almost inconceivable how the forces Fascism throughout the earth are so closely allied. very angle is given consideration. They never miss bet. No stone is left uneturned. From lynch rid- en Mississippi to the Golden Gate and from Hiro- to bound Tokyo-to swastika Germany, there is a olid line of Fascist conspiracy against the world.

But this is no time for us to weep and moan bout the chance we had and how we muffed it. The eople have many allies, allies who have pledged hemselves to a death fight with the forces of bar- arism. Organized Labor is still in the forefront. The pitifully few honest newspapers are still at it. The Negro people, who know what Fascism is. The ncontrolled clergy. The unconquered people of onquered lands. The honest and sincere leaders who have been balked at every turn and the true men who have been elected to public office, who will serve the people and fight their enemies in the enemies' own strongholds. These are our allies. Give them something to fight with!

This shall be a new age. An age of pamphlet- eering. An age when we must oppose the enemy with every possible medium. We, too, must con- sider all angles. We, too, must not leave a stone un- turned. We, too, must concentrate our effort into an unbroken wall of opposition to the forces alligned against us!

Justice and the common peoples' cause have been raped and the crime is crying out for vengeance. We cannot, we must not, and we shall not let them die.

"Democracy's Forge"

Cayton at Barbers Conference

On Monday night at nine o'clock in the assembly hall of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters local union hall, a very significant meeting was held. The barbers of this community met under Brother Clay, their President. They have organized themselves into an up and coming local and are making plans to join the International Barbers union of the AFL.

Revels Cayton CIO State Vice-President, was present iat ths meeting. He expresed his appreciation on being invited to participate in the meeting and help in any way possible. He pledged the full support of the CIO to any plan that they might have in achieving union status and to work under union conditions.

Cayton further stated that he regretted that there was no International union for barbers in the CIO.

Bert Coronna, Mexican president of the Warehousemen's union, a local of over 7,000, accompanied Cayton to the meeting. He also told workers of the importance of joining the main union and not applying for a separate charter. Coronna stated, "The Warehousemen have learned through bitter experience that to maintain full membership, both white and Negro workers must organize together.,,

Your Fighting NAACP Urges This Plan of Action:

Smash Poll Tax!

1—Write or wire Senators Hiram Johnson, Alben Barkley or Charles McNary urging full, active support of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax Bill, Senate Bill 1280.

2—Demand that the rule of cloture (limitation of debate) be invoked against any filibuster attempt by Dixie die-hards.

3—Wire President Roosevelt to use his good offices to assure passage of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill.

4—See to it that your church, club, civic or social organization IMMEDIATELY wires Washington in support of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill.

5—Understand that THIS is the Zero Hour. It was thought that the bill would never come out of the House Judiciary Committee. But it did. It was thought it would never pass the House. But it did. It was thought it would never come out of the Senate Judiciary Committee. But it did. OUR fight made these triumphs possible. NOW WE MUST FIGHT FOR FINAL VICTORY—HARDER THAN EVER!

WLB Exec Tells New Plan

For the establishment of wage increases under the new stablization order, W. F. Lubersky, new regional executive officer for the war labor board, explained the procedure for employers and employees here today.

Before applications can be taken care of by the war labor board, under Lubersky, they must first be rendered to the local office of the wage and hour division of the department of labor.

"The proceedure applies only to uncontested adjustments," explained the WLB executive. "Contested cases will, of course, be regularly channeled through the WLB conciliation facilities."

Thenew regional director, Robert Littler, will have no influence over contested wage stabilization cases. This was emphasized by Lubersky.

In view of the fact that all applications must be rendered through the office of wage and hours, J. A. Stellern of this division will investigate all uncontested cases before passing them on for approval to the WLB regional office. The wage and hour office will advise those inquring of their status under the stablization order.

"Our office(wage and hour division) will serve purely as an operative arm for the war labor board," Stellern said.

"Ours will be a screening job to, take care of the routine questions arising under the wage program and to assist the public in filing applications."

Both the WLB new office and the division of wage and hour will operate from room 417 in the W. H. Hellman building at 354 S. Spring St.

Cases affecting only wages and salaries under $5,000 will be handled by the WLB, leaving higher wage settlements to the treasury department with the exeception of administrative positions.

CIO Ready for Big Drive to Organize Southland Negro

CIO unions in the Southland were prepared this week to throw all their energies behind a concerted organizing campaign among the thousands of Negro workers in the fast-growing industrial southeast section of Los Angeles.

The drive, which is being pushed by a dozen southern California CIO organizations, has the support of the California CIO Council

A meeting to outline the program for the drive and to enlist the active support and participation of more local unions was held Wednesday night

Representatives of 10 unions, including warehouse; furniture; steel; auto; aircraft; electrial; shipyard; state and county workers; mine, mill and smelter workers,and transport service workers attended, and mapped plans for a grand organizing drive

DRIVE TO SPREAD OUT

The drive, according to Revels Cayton, council organizer, will not be limited to union work but will carry the work of the CIO into the heart of the Negro community.

"We will establish an office in the southeast section of the city," Cayton said, "and according to plans now will carry on a door-to-door program with the aid of the various religious and civic groups in the community.

"In this way we will be able to carry our WIN-THE-WAR message on a much broader scale than if we only concentrated in the shops.

"Thousands of Negro unorganized workers are ready to be organized by the CIO if we act now."

Cayton said that the drive was a joint community-union campaign and that the Negro workers who are pouring into industry should be given the advantage of the CIO program.

"Animals!" gasped the boy. "I though you said 'admirals.' "

Potent

A crow had gathered 'round a man who was selling tins of a corn cure After a long speech on its qualities he asked if anyone in the crowd had bought a tin before.

A voice from the back of the crowd shouted, "Yes, I got a box last week!"

"Thank you, sir," said the salesman. "And did you find it does all I say?"

"Yes, sir — and more! My missus used it to polish a bureau and it took off all the knobs!"

New Way to Listen

"But, my dear," bleated the poor little henpecked husband, "what have I done now? You've been talking for half an hour, and I haven't said a word."

"No," snapped his wife, "you haven't said anything, but you've been listening in a most aggravating manner, and I'm not going to stand for it."

The What?

"Mummy, does all our food come from heaven?"

"Yes, darling."

"And does Santa Claus bring us our presents?"

"He does, dear."

"And storks bring all the babies?"

"Certainly, my love."

"Then, what on earth's the good of father?"

Caught!

Teacher: "Jones, can you tell us who built the Sphinx?"

Jones: "I—I did know, sir, but I've forgotten."

Teacher: "How unfortunate—the only man living who knows, and he has forgotten."

Be careful of a live wire when you're in the bathtub."

"Oh, I am. I always lock the door."

How Likely?

In the first World War it was all "French" as far as American troopers were concerned, but now that we're in Hawaii, it may be that some of the boys will bring a bunch of grass with something in it.

No Kids!

Would-Be-Tenant: "But my eldest child is 30 years of age and lives in Australia, and the other two are in New Zealand."

Caretaker: "Can't help that. This flat is not being let to anybody with children."

It Happens

Boss, at ball game: "So this is your uncle's funeral, George?"

Office boy: "Looks like it sir. He's the umpire."

It Is, It Is

Says a knowing one: "It's tough to be old when the night is young." Yes,being born a few years to soon.

Reason Enough

Salesman: "My wife has been yawning for six days without a stop."

Doctor: "How long have you been home from your trip?"

Salesman: "Six days."

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"

Motorist: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."

In this day and time, when our whole nation is involved in a total war and each individual is urged to do his bit, we are proud of the fact that our office is equipped to contribute something by building strong, healthy bodies. Many of our men and women are now engaged in a new type of work, which their physical bodies are not adjusted to; this disturbs the equilibrium and the nervous and circulatory systems. This condition causes strained muscles, backaches, nervousness, stiff joints, leg and foot pains, etc. You can, and you should build up your body so that it will be equal to the task that is required of you.

YOU OWE THIS TO YOURSELF

Come in now for a consultation. Our vapor baths slenderize, tone up the nerves, relieve stiff, aching joints, pains, arthritis and rheumatism. Colon irrigation relieves constipatiton, gas in the stomach, toxemia, etc. Chiropractic adjustments and massage are especially recommended for nervous tension and restore vigor, vitality and health. Los Angeles, California

Gentlemen:

May we take this opportunity to congratulate you and to thank you.

We are referring to the splendid work which you and your school have accomplished since your beginning a short time ago.

The fairplay and the cooperative spirit which you have offered and shown to the young men and women of our community has been brought to our attention many times during the past few weeks.

Thanks to your training, many of our people are now successfully applying themselves in defense production throughout Southern California. You have enabled them to take their rightful places in the defense of our nation.

We wish you to feel free to call upon us at anytime, if there is some service that we might render you.

The entire staff of The California EAGLE joins us in extending our wishes that you and your school have continued success.

Yours,
CHARLOTTA A. BASS, Editor-Publisher

BEFORE WARREN TAKES OVER

URGE OLSON TO FREE FESTUS COLEMAN

On the Sidewalk

by E. A. H.

I salute James Erwin, Sr., editor of the Neighborhood News, upon the assumption of the very serious responsibility of the leadership of the community.

Some men are born to leadership. Some achieve leadership, and some have leadership thrust upon them.

As many others, Mr. Erwin began his journalistic career in Los Angeles under the wing of the EAGLE. Unlike many others, however, he never forgot that first friend and on more than one occasion has defended the old bird nobly.

Mr. Erwin inherits the community's leadership at a time when the situation would give pause to a lesser heart. At least, his job is cut out for him. The specific tasks which the people of the community demand of their leadership today follow roughly these lines:

1—Freedom for Festus Coleman.

—Now, unless Gov. Olson may be prevailed upon to free Coleman before Mr. Warren takes office, this promises to be a very knotty problem, indeed, since our new Governor, while Attorney General, penned the opinion on the basis of which the State Supreme Court denied the Negro lad's appeal for a new trial. It is surely a major undertaking but Mr. Erwin may feel certain of the unstinting support of this publication in any of his efforts in this direction.—

2—Passage of a State law against industrial discrimination, patterned after the law in New York state.

3—Formation of a State Fair Employment Practice Committee.

4—An immediate statement from Governor-elect Earl Warren in support of anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation.

5—. . . . Well, that's enough for now.

I wish to express appreciation to the correspondent who sent me copy of a speech by Washington state Representative John M. Coffee on

Try to Save 16-Yr. Old from Prison

In a telephone communication to the California Eagle this week, superior judge William R. McKay said that he would cooperate wholeheartedly in any effort to save sixteen-year old Robert G. Smith from San Quentin.

The boy was recently convicted of the kidnap-rape of a fifteen-year old white girl, in Judge McKay's court and sentenced by him to one to fifty years in San Quentin.

The jurist explained, however, that a new law forces the State's judiciary to hand down standard penalties and does not make provision for removing youthful offenders from jail terms alongside hardened criminals.

Young Smith wrote EAGLE editor Charlotta A. Bass last week claiming innocence and stating that he plead guilty on the advice of an attorney of another race. Mrs. Bass is conducting an investigation of his case.

Young Smith wrote:

"I am only 16 years old and have been sentenced to one to fifty years at San Qentin over a crime I never committed. I am innocent of raping anyone, and yet my attorney, who is of another color, had r to plead guilty.

Delegation Will Ask Release

Vigorous action by the Coleman Defense Committee may bring a pardon to Festus Coleman before Culbert L. Olson turns over the reigns of State government to the Governor-elect, Earl Warren.

A delegation including outstanding persons from all parts of the State and all walks of life within the next few days will wait upon Gov. Olson in a dramatic move which may bring his progressive administration to a heart-warming close.

Festus Coleman is a young Negro WPA worker who was railroaded to a 65-year term at San Quentin in a case which has become nationally famed as the California Scottsboro case.

One evening Coleman was walking home through 'Frisco's Golden Gate Park when he stumbled upon an army officer on the ground blanketed with a 17-year old girl. He walked on. But the officer, from the South, yelled an epithet after him. Coleman returned. The officer called to him a comrade in a nearby parked auto (with another girl) and the two managed to over-power Coleman.

They took the Negro to a police station and there charged him with rape. According to their story, Coleman was supposed to have attacked one of the white girls, meanwhile holding a gun on the two soldiers!

'Frisco reactionary papers went to town on the story. Coleman

Anti-Poll Tax Campaign Boils

With Washington correspondents shrieking that the anti-poll tax fight had reached its most climactic stage, Los Angeles suporters of the Pepper-Geyer anti-poll tax measure launched a determined broadside at its Dixie die-hard opponents.

Developments were, roughly, as follows:

1—Monday night at six p. m., Paul Hackett, CIO figure, left the city bearing thousands of petitions signed by Angelenos and urging Senatorial support of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill. Hackett will present the petitions to California Senator Hiram Johnson, who, unlike his fellow member from California, Sen. Sheridan Downey, has not announced support of the measure.

2—Tuesday morning the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution presented by Supervisor John Anson Ford, chairman of the Los Angeles Anti-Poll Tax Comittee, giving unqualified support to the legislation and stating "The extension of democracy and the battle against Fascism we hold are inseparable." Copies were sent to the President, and Senators Hiram Johnson, Sheridan Downey, Alben Barkeley, and Charles McNary. A similar resolution is pending before the City Council.

3—Wednesday morning Mayor Fletcher Bowron issued a hard-hitting anti-poll tax statement under the city seal for inclusion in this issue of the California EAGLE. One of the finest of anti-poll tax statements, the Mayor, in expaining interest of the far West, said, "We are Americans as well as Californians."

4—Senator Sheridan Downey ad-

FEPC TO PROBE R. R. BIAS ON WEST COAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—The President's Committee on Fair Employment Practices has announced it will hold hearings here, December 7, 8, and 9, on complaints charging discrimination agamst Negroes in railroad employment. In scheduling these hearings the committee said:

"It is asserted that there exist egreements between the roads employing the greatest number of Negroes, and certain unions to which Negroes are not admitted which in operation excessively restrict the number of Negro firemen and brakemen who may be employed, which bar Negroes as helpers on Diesel engines and which give non-Negro firemen the preference on stoker-fired steam engines, regardles of seniority or length of service."

These charges further state, the committee said, that Negro brake men and firemen are being paid substantially less than white men in the same class of jobs. In some areas, "particularly on the Pacific Coast," the employment in the shop crafts has been largely closed to Negroes.

Organizations making the complaints include the Provisional Committee to Organize Colored Locomotive Firemen, International Association of Railway Employees, Association of Colored Railway Trainmen and Locomotive Firemen, Inc., International Brotherhood of Firemen, Oilers, and Helpers, Roundhouse and Railway Shop Laborers; the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and first of all, a conference on war policy by Chicago Negro labor, last August.

'Race Unity Buttons' May Be Had

There is a group among our younger set that is very interested in the Race Unity movement and is making a strong effort to do something about it. These young people are better known as the One Hundred Percent Club. They have outlined and purchased buttons called "Race Unity Buttons" which are very fine and can be secured from any member.

Many people often speak of Race Unity and United Races and etc., but never make an effort to help bring about results. These One Hundred Percenters have the right idea and should be supported One Hundred Percent by our community.

Everyone else is busy buying Defense Bonds, War Savings Stamps, going to the Army, Navy, Marines, and other things. Some of these young people are too young to take part in most of these things. The club members are now mostly girls attending High school and College, but they do feel that there is some-

Mexican Kids Fight Police Drive

The Mexican Youth Defense Committee, pledged to the support of twenty-two 'teen-age kids on trial for first degree murder, will meet tomorrow (Friday) in the assembly hall of the California EAGLE at 4075 So. Central evening at 7p. m.

Mexican youth from all parts of the city have joined in a large scrap drive for the twin purposes of aiding Uncle Sam and raising funds for the defense of their fellows on trial. The young people protest what is termed 'prejudicial over-emphasis' upon crime among Mexicans by the daily papers.

STAR LENDS A HAND

God-send to the youngsters effort to mobilize city-wide support behind them is motion star Anthony Quinn, son-in-law of fabulous Cecil B. DeMille. He has become a driving force behind organization of the much-slandered 'pachuco clubs.' He has appeared at both previous organizing meets of Mexican youth and is expected to be on hand tomorrow night.

Members of the Junior Council of the National Asociation for the Advancement of Colored Peopel wil also participate, offering aid to the Defense Committee scrap drive.

HOW CALIFORNIA FIGHTS POLL TAX

PAUL HACKETT, center, who is speeding east today as a special bearer of thousands of anti-poll tax petitions signed by Los Angeles citizens. In Washington, he will present them to Senator Hiram Johnson, who has not yet announced support of anti- poll tax legislation. Hackett is flanked by EAGLE editor Charlotta A. Bass and Atty. Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., president of the local branch of the NAACP.

MAYOR FLETCHER BOWRON, who took nasty swipes at Ole MAN POLL TAX in a statement made especially for this issue of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE. "We are Americans as well as Californians," the Mayor said in advocating the extension of the ballot to ten million Americans, white and black, in the eight southern poll tax states. Bowron's flat-footed opposition to the vote denying levy followed similar action by the County Board of Supervisors.

SENATOR SHERIDAN DOWNEY, told an EAGLE reporter in an exclusive interview that he intends to support the Pepper-Anti Poll Tax bill "most vigorously."

PHILLIP CONNELLY, State CIO chieftain, shown above with Paul Robeson, will lobby for the Anti-Poll Tax bill in Washington following the current CIO national convention.

SMASH POLL TAX

By MAYOR FLETCHER BOWRON

For nearly two years the Anti-Poll Tax Bill introduced by Senator Pepper of Florida has been pending in Congress. Its purpose is to remove legal obstacles that now prevent several million Americans from participating in the election of the public officials who guide our nation's destinies.

In California we could take a selfish view and say that we are not interested in the enactment of Senate Bill 1280 because the measure does not affect our elective procedure. We could point out that already it is possible for every citizen in our state to freely exercise his rights as an elector. We have no poll tax here. But we must take a broader view. We are Americans as well as Californians.

At a time when our nation is exerting itself to the utmost to preserve our rights as free men we cannot turn a deaf ear to the plea of a considerable minority group of American citizens that they be given a right that we in California enjoy and guard jealously —the right to exercise our franchise at the ballot-box without legal hindrance.

The privilege of taking part in choosing public officials is a traditional American institution—one

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS SUPPORTS BILL RESOLUTION

—Passed Tuesday, Nov. 10, by the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors—

WHEREAS ten million American citizens are denied the right of franchise due to poll tax restrictions on the ballot, we hold this a fundamental deterrent to the nation's war effort and to active citizenship.

The extension of democracy and the battle against Fascism we hold are inseparable.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors respectfully urge upon you the use of your good offices and your support to the Pepper-Geyer Anti- Poll Tax Bill;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be addressed to the President of the United States, Senators Alben Barkeley, Charles McNary, Hiram Johnson and Sheridan Downey.

SEN. SHERIDAN DOWNEY TO VOTE FOR MEASURE

"My intention is to vigorously support the anti-poll tax fight. I believe it is an essential step in the social advancement of the American people."—SENATOR SHERIDAN DOWNEY, to an EAGLE reporter yesterday in Los Angeles.

CIO's PHIL CONNELLY WILL LOBBY

"The CIO will work to the last man for the passage of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill. This is a part of labor's job. After all, the ten million disfranchised by the poll tax are working guys. More

EAGLE EDITOR SPEAKS AT BIG SAN DIEGO RALLY

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 12. (Delayed) (By Mrs. E. B. Wesley)—Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the widely-read California EAGLE, was the principal speaker at an enthusiastic political meeting held in Logan Heights school, Thursday evening, Oct. 29.

Mrs. Bass, who was here under the auspices of the Better Home Legislator committee, composed of AFL and CIO, dealt specifically with campaign issues, which were clearly and interestingly presented. Mrs. Festus Coleman, wife of the young San Franciscan whose case of alleged rape, and a stiff sentence of 65 years in prison has attracted wide attention, accompanied Mrs. Bass.

Protests are coming in from all sections of the country against the unfairness of the charges as related by the accused man for whom an appeal to the governor for clemency or a complete pardon has been made.

Mr. F. M. Poberts, editor of the New Age-Dispatch and chief executive of the Roberts Funeral Home, Los Angeles, was in the city Friday at which time he broadcast over KFSD in the interests of the Republican party.

Mrs. J. E. Craft, president of the Women's Civic league, gave a political broadcast Friday in support of the candidacy of Mrs. Mary Fay.

FAREWELL TESTIMONIAL

A most impressive service was held at Zion AME church Sunday afternoon to pay homage to its progressive young pastor, Rev. R. O. Cooper, whose call to the armed services terminated his pastorate in San Diego for the duration.

A very splendid program in which the ministers of the various churches took part was well-received. Mr. Jerry Allen acted as master of ceremonies.

Many glowing tributes were paid Chaplain Cooper for the clean, Christian conduct of his ministerial work during his residence here. A love offering of $55.00 was presented to him by Mrs. Ellen Story, one of the church officials.

Mrs. Cooper was also highly commended for her activity in the church work.

Chaplain Cooper left for Ontario Monday, showered with prayers and best wishes for his safety throughout this trying period.

Mrs. Bessie Rumber, of Hollywood, who was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Warner, was the recipient of many courtesies during her stay in San Diego. Among them was a delightful dinner party given by Mrs. Mary Wilson, 2896 Clay avenue, and a well-appointed dinner by Mrs. D. V. Warner, her hostess.

Mrs. Beulah Brown, 2917 Webster avenue, returned Saturday from Vallejo where she spent a week at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Edress Washington. Her condition was much improved when she left.

SOCIAL AFFAIR

The outstanding society event of the fall season was the Royal Eagles social club's fourth annual dance Thursday night, Oct. 29, at Buckner's Dance studio. This annual affair is always looked forward to with much delightful anticipation in society circles. Mr. James D. Hopkins is president of this popular organization.

HONOR EMPLOYEES

The employees of the Consolidated Aircraft mailroom, with Mr. W. R. Taylor, superintendent, were hosts Nov. 1, at a most enjoyable stag party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCarn, 2852 Imperial avenue, complimenting Mr. Reginald Dorn, who left on Tuesday to be inducted into the army.

Mrs. Agnes McFatter and Miss Sarah Morrow were gracious hostesses at a jolly hallowe'en party Saturday night at the residence of Mr. E. G. Rollins, 1721 Logan avenue.

Lillian Teresa Webb Visits Grandparents

Mrs. Lee Roy J. Webb brought her infant daughter, Lillian Teresa, age 9 weeks, to Santa Barbara last week for her first visit to her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hammond of Indio Muerto Street. Mrs. Webb returned Friday to Los Angeles.

Power Sewing Training at Jeff Attracts

The training class in Power serving at Jefferson Evening High School has been one of the largest and most successful in it's history. Enrollment has numbered fifty persons with many names on the waiting list. Cards of notification are now being sent to call in those who are waiting as several of the trainees are now employed in various factories. Women both young and older who like to sew and have a fundamental knowledge of the subject may be trained in a few weeks to take the places of operators that have gone to work in the Defense jobs. The salaries are good, the need is great, the training is free.

The course includes instruction in the operation and maintenance of different types of power machines fundamental details of slacks, blouses, dresses, skirts, housecoats and the use of special machines.

Those interested should list their names in the evening school office for notification when there are openings. Lucille Pulliam, the instructor is thoroughly qualified from the standpoint of training and experience having been employed in recent years by one of Los Angeles' leading suit factories. — Robt. Presley, Principal.

INTERRACIAL LEAGUE OF REDLANDS IN MONTHLY MEET

The Inter-Racial League held its regular monthly meeting with the Second Baptist Church November 8th, at 6:30 a. m.

A very interesting program was arranged by Rev. Cesar Lizarraga, Pastor of the Mexican Presbyterian church. Miss Rose M. Dominguez, a Spanish student attending the University of Redlands, was the principal speaker. Miss Dominguez very forcibly emphasized many race problems encountered by the Mexican youth and probable solution for same. A very helpful discussion followed the address by others with many suggestive solutions offered.

The Phyliss Wheatley unit of the Women's Political Study Club was hostess and served a very appetizing and enjoyable breakfast. The Inter-Racial League expressed thanks and appreciation to Mrs. H. D. Nash, chairman of the ways and means committee, and her co-workers for planning such a lovely breakfast. Attendance at this meeting was the largest since its first meeting. The next meeting will be held at the house of neighborly service, 612 Lawton St., Redlands. Breakfast is a regular feature of the session, don't miss it.

'Booker T.' Nursery School Begins Work

The Booker T. Washington Nursery School sponsored by the child education program of Southern California, is now being held in the child's nursery of the Second Baptist Church, Rev. R. L. Amos, pastor. The nursery school bids fair to become one of the most outstanding in the city, filling a much needed service in this special community with Miss Nettie V. Wallace as head teacher. Miss Wallace has a mixed faculty of women serving with her. They are rendering very efficient services.

The Second Baptist is also in the lime-light this week, from another very important angle. It is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the church together with the first anniversary of its pastor, Rev. R. L. Amos. A very inspiring program has been arranged for the week beginning Nov. 9th thru 15th.

Mrs. Henrietta G. Freeman, who for the past seven years has been engaged in teaching in the department of Adult Education in the city school system of San Diego, Calif., has been assigned as assistant unit supervisor in the nursery schools of San Bernardino and Riverside counties. Mrs. Freeman feels assured that this will be a very pleasant and interesting position.

Find Letter to Mother By Suspected Gang Victim

Contradicting the fact that he should have contemplated suicide or was at all moody, a note written by Harold J. Reed shortly before he disappeared, was found in his unoccupied room on E. Fifth street last week.

Reed, who with a brother as partner, was a former star of Sebastian's Cotton Club, was found dead at the bottom of a 200-foot precipice in Elysian Park, a mammoth recreation center. Circumstances pointed to foul play, presumably in revenge for the fact that he had been released after questioning in connection with the rape and murder of a 75-year old white woman.

But for the fact that Walter J. Clark, a life-time friend, disclosed facts of Reed's habits, the death might have been recorded, according to police reports, as accidental or a suicide. Clark accompanied the body to New Orleans where the victim's relatives live and on returning made a thorough search of his hotel room.

The letter follows:

"Los Angeles, Calif.

"Dear Mother:

"I was happy to hear from you all but I guess you all were waiting for me to write. I am getting along fine now. What is new down there.

"Tell Roscoe to send Clark's wife's tool bag. I am working on a new job. I am making twenty-five dollars a week. I can make forty-eight if I go up to Oakland, California, but my Social Board may call me any time and I would have to come back to Los Angeles.

"Well, how are all of my brothers, and sisters. Tell them all hello for me. I hope you are in the best health. Here are your kisses xxxxxxx

"From your son,
"HAROLD."

Speaking of Bad Puns

"You say it makes your husband peeved when you bawl him out about his bad habits?"

"Yes, he won't listen to razzin'."

WAAC OFFICER HARRIETTE B. WHITE ASSIGNED TO RECRUITING DUTY

FORT DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12.—One of 14 Negro officers in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps assigned to recruiting duty, Third Officer Harriette B. White, of Los Angeles, Calif., has been ordered this week to Salt Lake City, Utah.

Officer White will be on duty in the Ninth Service Command.

She is a member of the first group of 36 Negro officers commissioned in the Corps. She has received special instruction in the procedures of recruiting women for the work of replacing men in non-combat army jobs. As recruiting officer, she will select women for membership in the Corps.

Officer White follows closely in her soldier husband's footsteps. In fact, she wears the gold Second Lieutenant's bars her husband, Lt. Journee White wore when he was commissioned in the cavalry at Fort Des Moines in December 1917.

Officer White says, "I consider it a privilege to serve in the WAAC because of the opportunities my country has given me."

Participation in the WAACs, designed to train women for non-combat jobs in the Army, thereby releasing men from such jobs for fighting duty, is an opportunity Officer White expects many other Negro women to take because "the Negro is traditionally loyal to this, our country."

Officer White, whose first assignment after receiving her commission was teaching classes in administrative work, commented on "the fine spirit of cooperation I have found everywhere in the Corps." In the administrative courses, women are trained for Army clerical jobs.

Active in civilian defense activities before her enrollment in the WAAC, Officer White served as a lieutenant of police in the communication corps, volunteer workers in Los Angeles who handle the reports of Auxiliary police, wardens, and the entire emergency setup for the civilian defense activities.

She was also secretary of the southeast unit of the American Women's Voluntary Service group of 75 Negro women who provided recreational facilities for service men and also instruction in defense courses.

President for three years of No. 532 American Legion Auxiliary in Los Angeles, Officer White served on various committees of that organization. In 1937 she represented California on the national rehabilitation committee of that auxiliary.

She was society editor and feature writer for the Los Angeles edition of the Pittsburgh Courier. Officer White is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club; the Y.W.C.A.; a reserve member of the Women's Ambulance and Nursing Battalion of the California State Guard; and a graduate of the staff assistant course of the American Red Cross.

Former secretary of the Christmas Basket Committee, composed of 10 organizational representatives to distribute baskets to Negro poor, Officer White is also a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

She was graduated from West Des Moines, high school in 1922 and has since specialized in administration and supervision courses in the University of California's extension school.

As senior clerk stenographer in the Los Angeles police department, Officer White supervised work in her section. She was also seven and a half years in secretarial work with the county assessor there and worked for a time with the state relief administration.

Judge Refuses Property Plea

Last week, Superior Court Judge Collier, refused the plea of Attorney Lester V. Peterman, white, appearing for a Mr. and Mrs. Raines, a young Negro couple purchasing property in a tract not 100% covered by restrictive covenants against occupation by non-caucasians. Only two owners who signed, showed up to prove the restrictions, but despite the defendant's citation of the West Adams tract case, the court ruled the covenants covering certain lots on Palisade Street covered the entire tract. Attorney Peterman intends to appeal. Rev. Dr. Malone of the Metropolitan Baptist Church, despite ill health did a yeoman job as chairman of the NAACP committee to raise funds for the defense.

Modesty is a shining light; it prepares the mind to receive knowledge, and the heart for truth.—Guizot.

Prominent, Active Women Join Ranks of Eastside USO

The success of anything can usually be judged by the results obtained. By this token the Eastside U. S. O. can be judged. Joining the ranks of Hostesses daily are women who, by proven works in the community, are valuable assets to our U. S. O.

Some of those for this week are: Mesdames Jewel Roberts, Georgia Matthews, Claudibell Hippard, Marian Black, Minnie Boring, Janie Giles, N. E. Jefferson, Margaret Glover, Miss Helen Hudson and Earnestine Davidson, Hostess Chairman.

Credit must also be given again to our Canteen ladies who happily serve under the supervisors. Some of those who sacrifice time, labor and material for the Canteen are: Mesdames Edith Boswell, Ivory Treadwell, C. J. Jones, John Mitchell, Bessie Shaw, Mae Oliver, Hulda Denny, Carnev Steward, Nettie and Lelia Gresham, Julia Lee, Vertner L. Gordon, Mamie Dillard, Ollie McKenzie, Hattie Soares, Ruth Kimbrough, L. Elsworth, D. Davis, Josephine Brown, Verlena Webb, Capitola Green, Ethel Johnson, Beulah Balzer.

We are gratefully giving our column this week to donors, as we realize donations mean so much to the Center and to our men in the armed forces. Mother Laura Rector, known to thousands for her spiritual work and benevolence, on her birthday, gave a substantial donation to the Eastside Center. The Morning Star Club, Mrs. R. Lawrence, Pres., and Mrs. Laman Sallier gave a generous supply of cigarettes, etc.; Winfred Jackson, hero of the Solomon Islands, visited us Sunday, and gave a financial donation for fellowmen of the service. Junior hostesses vied with each other in posing for pictures with the hero.

A special convoy of men came for Sunday's activities—the numberber was so large that three shifts of girls were called upon to keep them happy. The Fidelity Girls, Berniece Cook, Pres., were Hostesses for Sunday afternoon; their charm and graciousness made it hard for the convoy to leave. Wednesday evening's intellectual gab-fest was supervised and led by Miss Lelia Gresham, nurse of the General Hospital, it was very informative.

One of the grandest gestures of the week was made by a group of girls who are themselves working in a defense plant to help win the war, took time out to send, through Miss Louise Bunley, a generous donation to the Center. The girls listed with the gift were: Juanita Rhone, Lucill Crawford, Helen Toliver, Mary Ellen, Ethel Scott, Alice Martin, Doris Knight, Virginia Stelly, Helen Blunt and Joyce Barnes. The Thirteen Toppers Social Club, Emma Millhouse, Pres. gave a beautiful combination radio and record machine to making dancing more delightful. In the meantime, orchids to Eddie Atkinson, Jr., who is always happy to come to our assistance when the juke box needs a needle of what-have-you. To all of the above-mentioned and the press—thanks a million.

LEADING NEGRO BUSINESSES COOPERATE IN WAR EFFORT—The Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company and the Liberty Building-Loan Association consummate large War Bond transaction. Above, officials of the Liberty Building-Loan Association and the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company are shown completing a transaction involving the purchase by the Golden State of $20,000 in United States War Bonds from the Liberty Building-Loan Association, local government agent. Left to right, L. M. Blodgett, president of the Liberty Building-Loan Association, receiving check; B. B. Bratton, assistant secretary; Ella S. Matthews, secretary; and Charles H. Matthews, director; William Nickerson jr., president of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, presenting $20,000 check; and George A. Beavers jr., vice president of the insurance company, witnessing the action. The fact that the Liberty Building-Loan Association now leads all Negro businesses west of the Mississippi river in the sale of War Bonds, is largely due to the active cooperation of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company. The Liberty Building-Loan Association is a Federally insured institution and an accredited fiscal agent for the Federal government in the sale of War Bonds. What more natural than that these two leading businesses should team up to make their war effort a conspicuous success? These companies are to be congratulated. Every Negro should strive to in some way be a contributor to the success these businesses are demonstrating.

TRAINED EYES AND SKILLED FINGERS

Precision to the thousandth of an inch is all-important in the manufacture of anti-aircraft guns. The slightest fault in construction may mean the difference between a hit and a miss on an enemy plane roaring overhead. That's why the trained eyes and skilled fingers of an inspector are one of the most crucial functions in the huge job of turning out the big guns we are placing on our coastal defenses and on all our oceangoing ships. Above, T. A. Floyd, one of Uncle Sam's arsenal workers, checks for any possible flaws in a 3-inch anti-aircraft gun.

Says State Patrolman Brutal

Not all police brutality is confined to the Los Angeles police force, according to the story told by Lem Bluett, Beverly Hills chauffeur, 485 E. 45th Street, to his Attorney, Curtis C. Taylor who is representing him on a charge of violation of Section 501 Motor Vehicle Code on October 31st in the Beverly Township Police Court.

Bluett claims that in company with a waitress from the Plantation Club he was coming from his employment on the night of October 31st and inadvertently passed through a boulevard stop.

A State Highway Patrolman riding a motorcycle overtook him and carried him to the Beverly Township Police station where he was put into a room and questioned in Gestapo-like fashion. Bluett claims that the officer accused him of being drunk and when he denied it the officer assaulted him striking him in the face and throwing him into the cell without any sort of sobriety test whatsoever, and that when he complained and tried to insist on being given a sobriety test he was beaten again.

His girl friend who protested was told that if she did not get out of the station he would put her in jail also. Bluett was arraigned before Judge C. D. Holland, and requested a jury trial. His attorney states that he is going to use every means at his disposal to see that justice is done and that he feels confident that Bluett will be acquitted when the jury hears all the facts.

Unfairness Charged in WPA Setup companies here busy with war production. The apparently "unfrozen" salary figures also are in comfortably high brackets.

To the contrary the security brackets of the colored workers are surprisingly kept down. The committee, calling attention to the so-called shifting of W.P.A clients to war work that may never be secured, is merely a smoke screen used in some sections to cut down colored workers, hopes this is not the case here. However it urges that citizens keep watch, and that steps be taken to prevent or put a stop to such unfairness. They promise to continue these investigations along similar lines as affects the race.

Brought face to face with facts called attention to by last week's Washington article by Alfred Edgar Smith, W.P.A. race relations officer, local race citizens are giving much thought to conditions here as regards this organization. A small committee of fair minded persons have made an investigation and have uncovered a number of facts overlooked or unknown by the general public.

Included in these are the following: Regardless of present seeming prosperity of the working class all over the country, and regardless of how far into the future this prosperity may last, that passage of the scripture will always be true which reads "The poor ye have with you always"; that to a great extent, aspiring Negro workers face the same bars of discrimination and race prejudice here as in the heart of the deep south; that while there is a mammoth staff of white collar workers of the white race, operating the office and supervisorial work of the local W.P.A., the still dwindling number of colored persons in these positions is far below the percentage justifiable to the number of W.P.A. clients.

Discussing their findings, they quote Mr. Smith who wrote: "It is estimated that one fourth of the workers currently in W.P.A. work are colored. Optimism over the removal of colored workers to private industry must be tempered by the consideration of facts. Sample studies indicate a high medium age for workers, and many of these will not fit into existing training projects." This is nowhere more true than in the local set-up, declared the investigators, where a rather ruthless system seems to have been used in re-location and apportionment of newly opened occupations. Approximate figures show that there are still over 3000 on the local rolls. Close to a thousand of these are colored but there are only five of them on the supervisorial staff. Yet the personnel payroll of the Caucasian white collar workers resembles that one of the aircraft

READS APPOINTMENTS TO CLOSE AMEZ CONFAB

When the appointments of ministers, district officers and conference workers were read by Bishop William Cornelius Brown, A. M., D. D., of this city, Sunday night, the 22nd session of the Southwest Rocky Mountain Annual conference was brought to a close. The conference had been in session since Wednesday morning, Nov. 4.

Prominent among the changes made was the assignment of Dr. H. Philbert Lankford, host to the conference which was held at the First AME Zion church, to Logan Chapel, San Diego, where he will succeed Lieutenant Chaplain Rufus A. Cooper, now with the California State Guard.

Rev. Jeremiah Allen was assigned as assistant pastor.

Appointed to the First church, Los Angeles, was Rev. P. M. Marshall, D. D., of Sacramento, with Rev. Joseph Maxwell retained as assistant pastor.

Rev. E. C. Walkins, of Modesto, succeeds Rev. R. H. Camp at Monrovia, while Rev. Camp transfers to the California conference, assigned to Modesto.

Other appointments remain as before, excepting Brown Temple, the mission on E. 43rd street, which will be supervised by Rev. Marion McLaughlin, with Rev. Emma Hamilton as assistant pastor.

HOLMES REMAINS

Presiding Elder James B. Holmes, of this city, received his 7th successive appointment to the Los Angeles district.

Bishop Brown, in a very happy frame of mind, expressed himself as highly gratified by the success of the conference, which though the smaller of the two conferences in the state, measured up in very favorable comparison. The conference finance decidedly exceeded its former record, and every church reported round.

A brilliant program and reception, welcoming the conference, was conducted by the pastor-host, Dr. H. Philbert Lankford, on Wednesday night. Rev. A. Wendell Ross, former president of the local Ministerial Alliance, and ex-assemblyman Frederick Roberts were special speakers.

Outstanding among other speakers during the conference were Dr. W. E. Shaw, returned missionary from Afrcia, who delivered the annual missionary sermon, this service being presided over by Mrs. Gertrude C. Brown, wife of the bishop, and supervisor of the 9th Episcopal district; Dr. E. W. Rakestraw, A. M., D. D., pastor of Wesley Chapel, this city, who gave the masterly Christian Education address; Lieutenant Chaplain Rufus A. Cooper, who preached at 11 o'clock Sunday morning; Rev. E. J. McCorkle, who preached the afternoon sermon; and Rev. F. Mayo Roberts, who delivered the closing sermon.

MANY VISITORS

Fine music throughout was a feature of the conference. The senior choir of the First church, directed by Mrs. Jean Willa Holmes, wife of the presiding elder, responsible for most of the music rendered, was highly commended for its beautiful work. Among its outstanding soloists were Mrs. Daisy Hall Goodlow, Mrs. Ethel Hampton, J. Louis Johnson and Beverly Fields. Guest soloist on Sunday morning was J. B. Jones. Mrs. Mae Howard, of the Eighth and Towne choir, was helpful as gospel singer. The gospel choir of the church, directed by Mrs. Roberta Payne, sang for the conference on Sunday afternoon.

Visiting choirs during the conference included the AME Zion choir, of Pasadena, and the excellent choir of Wesley Chapel, this city.

Aside from many out of town visitors coming from cities covered by the conference, came also many from the northern conference, among whom were noted Rev. L. W. McCoy, presiding elder, Oakland; Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Gantt, San Francisco; Rev. E. J. McCorkle, Vallejo; Rev. W. O. Carson, San Mateo; Rev. F. Mayo Roberts, San Jose; and Mr. M. A. Dueberry, Mr. Bullet and Mrs. Ada Hawkins, Jackson, of Oakland.

Rev. D. Robert Cofield, shown above with his charming wife, has just been called to pastor Mount Sinai Baptist church in San Pedro, at the corner of 3rd and Mesa streets.

Well known to church goers throughout the country, Rev. Cofield comes to Mt. Sinai Baptist church with a long and successful record. He has pastored at the Wall Avenue Baptist chuich in Ogden, Utah, the Baptist church in Immanuel, Miss., the New Hope Baptist church in Los Angeles and he also pastored in San Bernardino.

Having a fine educational background, the Rev. is well fitted for any post. He attended the Lincoln Institute at Natchitoches, La. His education was completed in California, where he attended the Western Baptist Theological Seminary and the Bible Institute of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Jessie M. Cofield, wife of the renowned minister, will take over the musical department at Mt. Sinai. She, like her husband, is especially qualified for her work. Educated at Chicago, Ill., she began her musical career at Wendell Phillips High school, finishing her training at the University of Chicago School if Music.

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

PARTY OF THE WEEK!

Helen Jane Ford's Farewell party honoring Kappa man Lowell Stewart, was strictly on time. All of the up and doing members of the set were there to bid their last good-byes to the great Kappa basketball ace.

Enjoying the fine music and refreshments were Frank Dupas, Nita Spearman, Leonard Beavers, Nathaniel Shaw, Paulette Coleman and Ira Johnson, Laura and Johnnie Brewer, William Spencer, Julius Anderson, Phyllis Hoxie and Bruce, Muriel Foley, Betty Yarbrough and John Alston, George Sturdivant and a host of others. Lowell was scheduled to leave for Tuskegee flying school last Wednesday.

Received word that Curtis Smith, stationed down Tuskegee 'way t'other day. He says that he's in primary flight along with over a hundred other cadets and that the Tuskegee campus is virtually surrounded by beautiful southern belles. He and the other local gents stationed down there are having a ball. Joe Johnson, Bill Johnson and Bilf Milton are in the group.

Also received word from Sgt. David Cunningham, stationed somewhere in Australia. He says he's definitely home sick, and that he and the other boys want some news from home..

WEL! WELL! WELL!

If seeing is believing and rumore are right, Leonard Grimes is not satisfied with two flashing debs, he's added popular Alphronsine Paltron to his list. Booker Stevens wonders why Herb and John Simmons choose to take siestas on the way to school. Don't the boys know that too much nite life is bad for school kids? . . . . Between last press time and this, Lou Gross and Herbie Boswell became engaged all over again. Congratulations . . . . The westside bops are calling Josephine Spearman the 'Town Cryer of the Draft Board.' She greets the fellows with the great news of their standing on Uncle Sam's list a before it comes thronugh the mail —Therefore John Alston, Kenneth Hayes and T. L. Kirk are in on the know. Kirk is scheduled to leave on the 19th. Darrington Weaver, like hundreds of others, is taking his induction on the chin and will be departing in a few days. . . . Playboy Raymond Christian is having quite a time nowadays. He doesn't know whether things are on with Hazel Eson nd himself. Kapa pledge Edwin Sneed and a few others on the UCLA campus are wondering why Herbert Simmons chatters about nothing but Auphas. Speaking of Alphas, Pledge Theodore Lumpkin is now enrolled at officers' training school. The Delta pledges are under the capable leadership of Jean Watkins this semester. By the way, I was much surprised when brother Paul (Woody) Brown and Jean unexpectedly blew into town last Tuesday. They will remain in the city on a ten-day furlough Cookie and Ella Louise Cook took a few hurs off from USC last wk. and visited UCLA campus. Santa Monica's Bill Spaulding is ouite the man about town nowadays, at City College and Douglas aircraft plant.

MRS. WILLIAM R. DYER—

Dyer-Cole Marriage Revealed

Congratulations are being bestowed upon William R. Dyer and his bride, the former Florence E. Cole, daughter of Police Officer Arthur C. Cole and Mrs. Stella Blodgett. The popular couple secretly married in August. This marriage unites two of the most prominent pioneer families of the West. Many social affairs are being planned for the Dyers as beacons of joy lighting their marital voyage. The newlyweds will be at home at 141 E. 41st place, after Nov. 16.

thing they should do to help our people as well as our country.

There is no other basic need to put over all our Government programs today that "Race Unity." That is our fight One Hundred Percent and we must make an effort, as well as we expect the other races to do so. President Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie and others are doing their part. WE MUST DO OURS.

Poll Tax, India Crisis Connected

Connection between the struggle for Indian freedom and America's effort to wash away the poll tax scourge was seen here today by R. Lal Singh, editor of India News and the only member of the Indian National Congress in America.

Singh pointed out that end of the poll tax would probably sweep from office reactionaries who not only obstruct the war effort today but could be depended upon to violate the spirit of President Roosevelt's Four Freedom's and the Atlantic Charter after the has been won.

The Indian leader has also dispatched telegrams to the CIO convention in Boston urging support of the demand for a re-opening of negotiations between the Indian people and the British government.

Indiana State Club to Meet Sunday

All Star Show for 76th Chemical Calhoun, Sepia Edgar Bergen Happy Johnson's Band Scores

The boys of the 76th Chemical were treated to two hours chuckfull of entertainment Sunday afternon when the Women's Civic luncheon Club sponsored a variety show featuring such stars as Mantan Moreland, Flora Washington of VV Women's Corps; Jester Calhoun and John Henry jr., clever ventriloquist act here from New Orleans, La., under the clever agent, Ben Carter.

We may see much more of Jester Calhoun, now starred at Curtis Mosby's New Club Alabam. John Henry jr. kept the soldiers in stitches for 20 minutes with clever imitations and many original stunts. Calhoun, his wife, Torchy Willis Calhoun, and Wanda Day, were formerly with the Georgia Minstrels, Ida Cox and Silas Green show. Clever producers in their own right, they can give one hour novelty shows.

Chas. Owens, Caleb Peterson and Miss Carrie Daniels, accompanied by Mrs. Luvenia Dones of Music Town, interspersed the concret tone, to alleviate the swing and Mr. Five by Five angle, thereby gviing all music lovers something they enjoyed.

Howard Simms, dance artist, thrilled the jitterbugs with his intricate steps. Helen Andrews' own interpretation of "Outskirts of Town" and "St. Louis Blues," called for encores. Carolyn Richardson, vocalist with the band, is a mixture of Billie Holliday and Ella Fitzgerald style, and is only "too, too fine" with the soldiers.

Baron Lawson, war service worker, em ceed on behalf of the Women's Civic Luncheon club, extended thanks to hostesses from all clubs and organizations and special thanks to maestro Geo. L. (Happy) Johnson, trombonist; Ralph (Chuck) Hamilton, bass; Thomas M. (Hawk) Davis jr., tenor sax; Jewel (Fat Boy) Grant, alto sax; Jesse (J. A. J.) Sailes, drums; Asher (Eph) Sailes, pianist; and arranger; William (Porky) Woodman, trumpet and vocalist.

Woodman dedicated two numbers to his brothers, Sgt. Coney Woodman and Sgt. Britt Woodman, in Camp Ft. Walton, Texas where Britt is giving out with his trombone in Uncle Sam's band. All versatile members of Happy's band can do an excellent job of vocalizing.

Seen doing their part for the war effort were students from UCLA and City college, Roberta Scott, Stella Estus, Sarah Hunter, Winifred Orr, Marjorie Johnson, Toney Wall, Beulah Nelson, Jessica and Lenora Early, Frances Peterson, Mrs. "Happy" Johnson, Geraldine Mann, Bernice Cook, Jeannette (Edwards) Owens, Faye Waiters and Dorothy Davis; Coley Stafford, war service recreation, and Wm. Westerfield, photographer.

Miss Bette Davis sent a letter inviting all the soldiers to come to the Hollywood Canteen, 1451 N. Cahuenga boulevard.

Orchids also go to the Five and Over Charity club's Armistice Day program, a memorial to World War I veterans.

ded his stout voice to the Mayor's yesterday while in Los Angeles on special work for the Senate Farm investigating committee. Re reaffirmed his intention of suporting the bill to editors of this newspaper and proclaimed it a democratic 'Must.'

5—Phillip Connelly, chief of the California State CIO announced plans to lobby for the bill in Washington immediately following the current national CIO convention in Boston.

6—The California EAGLE publishes today its of ficial anti-poll tax edition, hoping that it embodies the burning desire of this state to see the extension of democracy to ten million fellow- Americans in the eight poll tax states. It will distributed in Washington by the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax and will be presented to every U. S. Senator.

From Washington comes the news that as soon as a quorum of the Senate is present the bill will be called up by Senator George W. Norris when he presents the Senate Judiciary Committee's favorable report. Any attempt to filibuster must be met with the immediate invoking of the cloture rule to limit debate.

the floor of Congress. Coffee was in Los Angeles last week to attend the Soviet-American Friendship rally. Here is re-printed just a portion of the introduction to Rep. Coffee's address:

"Twenty-six United Nations and many races of men today help the United States fight the Axis Powers, yet American industries and our armed forces continue to discriminate against non-Caucasions, particularly Negroes.

"Such discriminations are a dangerous denial of the very freedom and democracy for which we fight. War industries and the United States War and Navy Departments must cease discriminating against Negroes and other non-Caucasians. West Point, Annapolis, and aviation training centers must abandon their race prejudice. If they do not, and quickly, the United States may lose the enthusiastic aid which Negroes, Chinese, Filipinos, Hindu and Moslem East Indians, dark-skinned Latin Americans, and other non-Caucasian peoples now give to the world-wide war against Nazi, Fascist and Japanese barbarism."

Mrs. Eugenia Lewis Jasper Passes

The many friends of Mrs. Eugenia Lewis Jasper were shocked to hear of her sudden passing Oct. 23, 1942. Mrs. Jasper was in the California Lutheran hospital to undergo an operation which was not considered a critical one.

She was an ideal person whose splendid principles were reflected in the life she lived. She was interested in the lives of young people and always a willing helper in Boy Scout and other community movements.

She was a member of the Second Baptist church and an ardent worker in the altar guild, the Gleaners and First Aid club. She was an energetic worker in the Captain E. L. Baker, No. 53, United Spanish War Vets.

She was in business here for many years as a tonsorial artist. After retiring, she was not contented to be idle, but diverted her energy and time in beautifying her home and surroundings so that she would still be able to spread sunshine and happiness to others. Many outstanding club parties and teas were given in her garden.

She is survived by her husband, George W. Jasper, Spanish-American War vet; two sisters, Mrs. Laura St. Mary, and Mrs. Augusta Glover, who reside in Los Angeles. There are many other relatives.

The members of the family wish to thank Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, Rev. F. L. Taylor, Rev. J. E. Pius, the members of Second Baptist church, and friends for words of kindness and remembrances in their hours of sadness.

Signed:
George W. Jasper, husband;
Laura St. Mary, sister;
Augusta Glover, sister;
Eleanor Jackson, niece;
James Lewis, brother.

Dr. George Garner, the distinguished Negro musician, will leave the Huntington Memorial hospital on Saturday, Nov. 14, after 24 weeks convalescing from an automobile accident which nearly cost him his life.

Mr. Garner will be removed to his home, wher he will have the attention of his personal physicians, Drs. Robert J. Gustavos and Earl S. Warren, world famous orthopedic specialists, who saved his life.

During Mr. Garner's weeks of convalescing, there has been received through this officee (the hospital) 2,166 letters of sympathy and get-well cards, 815 inquiries by telephone, 153 transcontinental long distance telephone messages, 414 telegrams and 2222 personal visitors.

★ OBITUARY

LILLIE BELL PURCELL was born January 4, 1859, to Daniel and Matilda Purcell. At the age of three, her family moved to Dowagiac, Michigan, where they resided until Lillie Bell was 18. Moving to Arkansas City, Kansas, she met Amos Burch with whom she entered into the bonds of holy matrimony in the year of 1881.

In the spirit of a true pioneer, this young couple went to Oklahome, then known as Indian Territory, filing their homestead at Elreno, Canadian county. There they lived and reared 8 children, five boys and three girls, experiencing the many hardships of real pioneers. After the passing of the husband and father, she moved to California, where she resided until her demise.

She leaves to mourn her passing, three boys, two girls, six grandchildren, 7 great grandchildren, two nieces, one nephew, other relatives and hosts of friends.

Report for Chest Work Today!

Determined to complete their group quotas speedily, volunteed workers in the current Community Chest campaign are asking all persons who have contributed to this worthy cause in previous years, to do so as quickly as possible. Chairman Hargroves and Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Grayson, said that our work is entirely in the homes where we find complete sympathy for the less fortunate neigbors, whom the more financially secure must aid.

Today, this Thursday at noon the Eastside area will make its report at the Biltmore Bowl luncheon. All majors and representatives of the several groups are expected to be present and make reports.

Mrs. Josephine Brown, Vice-chairman of the 'Special Gifts Committee' has already reported $300.

Te Eastside quota this year is $2200 and all churches, clubs and organizations are asked to contribute their share and help complete the job.

Book Review at Second Baptist

You and your friends are invited to hear Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, minister, in the Second Baptist church, review Pearl Buck's "Dragon Seed," Thursday evening, Nov. 19, at 7 p. m., in the auditorium of the church.

If you have read the book you will want to hear it reviewed, and if you have not read "Dragon Seed," you cannot afford to miss hearing Rev. Henderson review this book in his masterly way, that will hold you spellbound until you hear the last chapter.

Don't forget, Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

BERT McDONALD

One Purpose -- to Win the War

"The time has come for all people who love freedom to unite!"

This was the main point of an appeal made this week by Bert McDonald, manager of Earl Warren for Governor for the race in Southern California.

"We have only one purpose today in our local, state and national government," said McDonald.

"That purpose is to win the war. Mr. Warren, our governor-elect, is a veteran of the last World War. Certainly every effort he will put out on behalf of the people of California will be to win the war. Let's back him up, all the way."

"The election is over. Mr. Warren is your next governor.

McDonald continued to say: "We, the colored people, must solidly support the man whom the majority of the people of California have chosen for governor. This is our duty, just as it is our duty to back up Franklin D. Roosevelt, our president, whom we love.

"Let us forget the bitterness of the late campaign. It is not a question of 'to the victor belongs the spoils.' It is simply a question of getting back of the man most of the people wanted for governor."

Ques. Can any laxative be of help when you feel listless, logy, or have a coated tongue? Ans. Yes, if those conditions are the result of constipation. Ques. Why has Black-Draught been such an outstandingly popular laxative with four generations? Ans. Because it is purely herbal, and usually gentle, thorough, prompt when directions are followed.

Ques. What's another reason for Black-Draught's great popularity? Ans. It costs only 25c for 2 to 40 doses.

Don't wait! Get Black-Draught in the familiar yellow box today. Many prefer the new granulated form. Follow label directions.

Rev. Dames on Radio

The popular and scholarly Dr. J. A. Dames, in addition to his duties as pastor of the First AME church of Pasadena, finds time to take an active part in the affairs of the city.

Last Sunday, Dr. Dames was guest speaker over Station KPAS located in the swanky Hotel Huntington. So enthusiastic was the response to Dr. Dames' address that the management has invited Dr. Dames to continue his talks during the month of Nov. Tune in 1110, on your radio and here this brilliant speaker.

Recently Dr. Dames addressed the student body of Pasadena Junior college on the subject, "God's Peace Plan."

Dr. Dames has been indorsed by the Fifth Episcopal District for the Bishopric, and his many friends all over the connection are pulling for his success.

Formal Dedication, Opening of Woodlawn Branch Y.W.C.A. to Be Held Sunday Afternoon

The formal dedication and opening of the Woodlawn Branch Y.W.C.A. will take place Sunday afternoon, November 15th at 3 p. m. when members, friends and the public in general are cordially invited to participate in the program and to inspect the work in remodeling accomplished to date.

The new property recently acquired replaces the old Twelfth Street Branch of the Y.W.C.A. which was organized over twenty four years ago. This property consists of three large lots on the northeast corner of East 43rd Street and Woodlawn Avenue. On this land is a ten room house and garage which will serve for club activities and a residence during the war emergency which prevents the completion of plans for the new building.

In spite of much delay due to war conditions, the facilities have been remodeled under the direction of the Architects Paul R. Williams and Sumner Spaulding. The three car garage has been converted into an attractive club room which is already being used daily by school girls. The main building has also undergone some interesting changes so as to provide for offices, assembly room and residence. The Olympic Cottage the gift of Mr. Crombie Allen after the Olympiad of a decade ago has become a garden house which when completed will be useable as a club room and recreation room adjoining the large outdoor playroom.

The program Sunday, the 15th arranged by Mrs. Leonard Stovall and her committee will include the following: Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson, Chairman Committee of Management and of the Negro Branch Building Project, presiding; music by the A Capella Choir of the Jefferson High School, Mrs. Helen Rawlins, Director; Invocation Dr. E. C. Farnham, Executive Secretary of the Church Federation of Los Angeles; Greetings from Mrs. Curtis S. Albro, president of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Young Women's Christian Association; Presentation of guests by the presiding officer Mrs. Grayson; Remarks, Mrs. Jerome W. MacNair, Chairman Negro Branch Building Campaign and Lynn D. Mowat of the Community Welfare Federation; Dedicatory Address and Consecration Service Rev. A. Wendell Ross, President Inter-denominational Ministerial Alliance; Benediction, Rev. S. M. Beane.

During the following week the Education and Residence Committees will be hostesses on Wednesday afternoon, November 18th when at 2:30 an Exhibit of Consumer War time Economics will be presented and a speaker from the office of Civilian Defense provided by Mrs. Jessie Terry, a member of the Residence Committee will give latest war-time information.

The public is invited to these events.

Mrs. Clara Bedney Colborn Entertains "Pals," Guests

By John Fowler

The home of Mrs. Murice Mingleton, 858 E. 46th Street was the scene of a brilliant formal dinner party given by Mrs. Clara Bedney Colborn to her "Pals" and other distinguished guests.

Now you may not know who or what the "Pals" are let me tell you. They are the Sons and Daughters of the Pioneers.

This dinner was one of their principal swankey affairs and every one had on his or her best "Bib and Tucks". Ladies in their black and white.

The table was loaded with good things to eat with turkey as the motif and everything in its place on down the line. Pass the spiced fruits to hame made ice cream and cake. In the center of the table were two cakes one to "My Pals" and the other was inscribed "Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Ross," who were guest of honor.

After the sumptuous feast the Pals and their friends were favored with a program of songs, mirth and reminences. Songs by that sweet voiced star of the screen Jessie Cole-Grayson, whom I have before dubbed the Bronze Marion Talley and Mrs. Henrietta Homes. Miss Gloria Roberts was at the piano.

As is the custom on such occasions, Fred Roberts, the president of the club called upon those present for remarks. Among those responding were Rev. A. Windler Ross, Mr. S. P. Johnson and John Fowler.

Assisting Mrs. Calhoun in receiving were: Mrs. S. P. Johnson, Miss Louis Mingleton and Mrs. V. Smith. Others present were the Fred Roberts, Fred Thorntons, Isiaa Robinsons, Leonard Stovals, Garner Graysons, Sr. Van Williams, Walter Earleys, Lawrence Wells, Carl Halls and the John Fowlers.

Mesdames Mattie Scott Nelson, Nell McClannahan, Maud Johnson, May Shoar, Ada Hawkins-Jackson, Helen Russell, Ella Traylor, Tribune Reynolds, Gussie Trine, Lettie Beverly, Ladretta Botler, Corine and Mary Stoval and L. A. Hubbard. Messrs. Will Stoval and Earnest Bryant.

At a late hour all joined in the club song "Pals, Pals old Pals are we" and after a very warm clasp sang "Auld Asyne"

Crisis Editor to Speak at Nov. 22 Victory Rally

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday the 22nd, Roy Wilkins, successor to Dr. DuBois as editor of the Crisis Magazine, assistant secretary National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will be the speaker at a rally for victory staged by the Pasadena Branch at Friendship Baptist Church, Dayton Street one block west of South Fair Oaks Ave., Rev. W. D. Carter, pastor. A musical program of Pasadena's outstanding artists will assure a profitable afternoon for all interested in "victory for democracy at home and abroad" and there will be no charge for admission. Dr. Edna Griffin is the president of the Pasadena Branch, Miss Bernice Burch, secretary.

St. Philip's Celebrates Anniversary

Sunday marked the celebration of the 34th anniversary of St. Philip's Episcopal church 801 E. 28th street, Father H. Randolph Moore, vicar.

Guest speaker for the morning was the Rt. Rev. George West, D. D. bishop of Burma, India. Bishop West, educated at Oxford University, England, spent several years at Rangoon, and was forced to leave just prior to the taking of the Burma Road by the Japanese.

Speaking extensively of the Anglo-Burmese situation and the Burmese people prior to the war, Bishop West stressed the problems affecting minority groups, in which he said, "One must clean his own house, before going out to clean some one's else. First lick the enemy within yourself." He said that the cause of this war is the economic problem, and the answer to this is simple.

"There is enough for everybody's need, but not enough for everybody's greed," he stated.

Among other points, Bishop West declared that there is plenty for everybody, that all nations must join together and forget prejudices, selfishness, and greed; that this war can only be won through prayer and faith in God.

Women's Council of Service Has Installation

On Oct. 12th the Women's Council of Service, a federated club, held a special meeting for the installation of officers, at the residence of Rev. Anna McMillan.

The State President, Mrs. Ardelin Anglin, installed the following officers: president, Rev. Anna McMillan; vice president, Mrs. L. Blanchett Travis; recording secretary, Desree Clark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emma Cunningham; treasurer, Mrs. Frances Inlarve; parliamentarian, Mrs. Hattie Sanders. A beautiful reception followed.

On oct 20th Mrs Desiree Clark was hostess to the regular meeting of the Women's Council of Service. The women of the council are studying Negro History. Our advisory member of Literature, Miss Marion Mathews, gave an interesting preview and outlined for the year's program of study.

Mrs. Ida Mae Robertson, president of the President's Council of the state association of colored women, made an official visit along with Mrs. Alice Mae Parker, state chairman of education. They were both pleased with the work the Council of Service is doing in Civilian Defense, first aid class of the American Red Cross, and our President Rev. Anna McMillan is major of the Community Chest drive is ably supported in her efforts by four lieutenants, Desiree Clark, Frances Inlawe, Blain Irving and Hattie Saunders, to raise the quota open Bladgett Manor, our community.

LOSE YOUR LUNCH?

WELL, sir, if you didn't lots of other people did! The Los Angeles Railway Lost and Found Department has on hand about 60 metal lunch boxes which were left on cars and coaches. They're not marked with the owners names so they can't be returned.

We have all sorts of clothing that has never been called for. We have nearly 50 pairs of glasses. More than 20 flashlights per month are turned in, lots of jewelry and 15 or 20 schoolbooks every week.

We're a little crowded here so if you've lost something on a car or bus please call for it at 1050 South Broadway. When the rainy season really gets under way we may have as many as 500 lost umbrellas all at one time and we've got to make room for them.

Warn Against Filibuster on Anti-Poll Tax Measure

A warning that the Geyer-Pepper Anti-Poll Tax Bill stands in grave danger of being killed by slow paralysis unless the American people act now to prevent the pro-Hitler forces in Congress from carring out their announced intention of filibustering the bill to death, was voiced here today by the National Negro Congress.

"What we have to realize," the Congress statement said, "is that the pro-fascists in Congress: the Conallys, Carter Glasses, Martin Dieses, Reynoldes and Rankins, have become bolder in expressing their determination to undermine national unity in support of the Nation's war effort—now that the elections are over—by spewing forth every type of Hitlerite racial propaganda in order to drive a wedge between the American people and the Roosevelt Adminstration.

"This is their method of accomplishing the work of the Hitler Axis within our country, at the very hour when the survival of America, the security of Labor and the freedom of thirteen million Negro people, depend upon the opening of a second front in Western Europe immediately.

"These pro-facists gained valuable time when proponents of the bill failed to obtain a Senate quorum in the first meeting of Congress after the elections, thus preventing Senator George Norris from calling up this vital war measure for a vote on November 5.

"The fact that Senator Alben Barkley, democratic leader of the Senate was absent and that only forty senators were present on that day, show clearly that tremendous pressure on the part of every local organization and trade union is necessary to get the senators back to Washington at once."

The Congress statement, issued at the close of the first week in the organization's nation-wide Anti-Poll Tax poster campaign "to Free Ten Million Americans for Victory," stressed the necessity of all groups sending wires, letters and telegrams to their senators calling upon them to return to Washington immediately in order that the bill can be called up for vote before the poll taxers have completed their plans for a filibuster.

The big guns of confusion, obstruction ism and demagogy won the election for Earl Warren. Not since the Sinclair campaign has California seen such an unprincipled campaign of poison propaganda to confuse and obscure the real issues as in the elections just past.

But this wartime election had far more at stake than any previous one, and the significance of its results cannot be judged by peace-time standards or by strictly party lines, either in California or elsewhere in the nation.

While there need be no glossing over the fact that the election of Warren is a serious setback to the win-the-war forces backing the President's war policies, it does not indicate by any means that the people have signified their approval of the Hoover-Hearst appeasement line. On the contrary what won for Warren was his claim that he would support President Roosevelt and national unity, and his demagogic exploitation of the mistakes and weaknesses of the Olson Administration in the war effort.

Warren's victory is only one indication of the national trend, whereby opponents of President Roosevelt's war policies were able to capitalize on the dissatisfaction among the people arising out of the failure to go over to the offensive, to open a second front against Hitler, and to establish an all-out war economy, failures which were primarily due to the obstructionist tactics of these same opponents.

But even under these circumstances, the elections in California could have been won by Governor Olson had he shown a better example of vigorous war leadership to the people, and entered this wartime election campaign as something different than Republican versus Democrat. Our opposition to Warren was not based on the fact that he is a Republican, as there are many win-the-war Republicans of the Willkie type, and their election in Minnesota and Massachusetts was preferable to their defeatist opponents. Our opposition to Warren stems from his reactionary anti-labor record and associations, his Hoover and Hearst backing, his red-baiting, all of which belied his claims to support national unity for winning the war.

Had Governor Olson presented these issues more clearly to the people instead of denouncing Warren because he is Republican, he could have ripped the mask of "non-partisanship" from Warren, and kept the war issues in the forefront of the election campaign.

In contrast, the decisive victory of Robert W. Kenny for attorney general, and the lieutenant governor is a more accurate indication of the support of the people for vigorous champions of win-the-war policies, and is all the more significant because both of them were the objects of the most vicious and irresponsible red-baiting by their reactionary opponents, Houser and Ware, who were more open and frank than their running-mate Warren in their Hearstian line.

In view of the fact that the complete results on all candidates for office are not known, we can make only this preliminary analysis of the election results. We will have more to say on the win-the-war tasks of the labor and people's forces in the light of the elections.

But if there should be rejoicing in the defeatist camp today, they will soon find out the temper of the people toward anyone who obstructs the war effort. The majority of the people will turn a vigilant and watchful eye on the Warren administration, and scotch any attempt by the defeatist forces to use it for appeaser and obstructionist ends.

The powerful labor movement and all the people's organizations will dedicate themselves to still greater efforts to carry through the nation's war policies. The labor movement will demand of Warren more than words and promises, but deeds. It will mobilize mass pressure for the carrying out of those promises. And it will mercilessly fight against anyone who will play politics with the war emergency, or who will stand in the way of victory in the war.

Lesson for Negro in Election

We believe that the quoted editorial above is a clear and correct estimation of the recent elections. However, there are certain lessons to be learned from the election by Negro people which will attempt to point out.

First, colored voters, with a proportion of better than two to one, cast ballots in favor of Gov. Culbert L. Olson. This, we think, was due to the facts that Negro people are not as prone to "fall for" the Hearst newspaper line as others—witness their complete renunciation of the pat excuses for suppression of India while the rest of America remains largely enchanted by the Cripps-Tory explanation of matters—and the other all-important element, a spanking good Olson campaign.

Election issues were presented clearly to the Negro people by three of the four Negro papers in Los Angeles, both major labor bodies conducted blistering campaigns in the community. Our voters did the rest.

As has been pointed out, Earl Warren won the election through pledging himself to glittering generalities and to an all-out support of the war effort—pro-Roosevelt—; while his whole anti-Negro, anti-labor record denied his statements and while he accepted and exploited the support of the most reactionary and defeatist sections of Amercia's press and political life, William Randolph Hearst and Herbert Hoover, respectively.

But any attempt of the new governor to follow a Hearst line once in office will be met with a solid wall of opposition not only from those who opposed him in the election but from those whom his demagogic campaign fooled into supporting him. Now, it may be that Warren has political ambitions—if so, he will understand that his future depends upon his suporting the policies of the people, pro-war and pro-Roosevelt, rather than those of his supporters of San Simeon and Palo Alto. Time was when the newly elected had first to please his loyal henchmen. Today he must first make peace with the opposition.

On this basis, it is quite possible that Warren may be forced to even more liberal action on the Negro question than his predecessor. He will act in proportion to the DEMAND of the electorate.

Liberty Building-Loan Sets War Bond Record

Real cause for celebration in the community is the accomplishment of the Liberty Building Loan Association in becoming the Negro firm selling the greatest amount of War bonds West of the Mississippi. The story of this company is no simple tale of easy success. It has striven, it has endured—it has achieved!

THE FOX OUTFOXED

Amid the dust and battle-smoke of ancient Egypt, Britain's Eighth Army has settled its score with General Rommel and the Afrika Korps. In outfoxing the fox by a bold and smashing offensive under the new leadership of General Alexander and Lieutenant General Montgomery—instead of waiting, as last Spring, to see what the "fox" would do—British, Australian, French and American infantrymen, artillerymen, airmen, paratroopers and armored force crews achieved a dramatic victory for the United Nations. In so doing, they have staved off the threat to Allied control of the Mediterranean, and blocked a menacing advance toward Suez and the Middle East, and protected the southern supply lines to Russia extending through the Red Sea. Success for the German Afrika Korps ni wresting contrul of North Africa from the United Nations would have been a major disaster. By the same token, the success of the Eighth Army becomes a major victory.

GIFT TO NAZIS

Vichyfrance, under the control of pro-Nazi Pierre Laval, has made a handsome gift to Germany of 120,000 tons of merchant shipping. This will prove most useful to Germany, though not nearly so acceptable as would the outright gift of the French fleet consisting of four battleships, an aircraft carrier, 14 cruisers, 52 destroyers and 59 submarines. It is not Laval's conscience which has kept him from making this gift offering, but the implacable hatred of the French people toward Germany. That hatred has been exploding into acts of sporadic violence and sabotage. It may not remain sporadic. It may blaze forth into widespread revolt in whose flames Laval and his collaborationist schemes might perish. Thanks to this indomitable spirit of resistance, the French fleet is not yet Hitler's, nor is its naval base, Toulon, nor are the strategic seaport cities of the French colonial possessions in North and West Africa.

MEN MUST EAT

Because men must eat, earth must be tilled, crops planted, tended and harvested, livestock must be bred and raised. To feed a nation of 133 million, and meet as well the food quotas pledged our allies, requires a vast labor force. That it is an indispensable one as well is indicated by the testimony of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard before a Senate committee, urging deferment of all farm workers. Secretary Wickard was not anticipating trouble. Trouble has already happened, as California well knows. Thousands of her acres of fresh produce have been plowed under this year for lack of labor. While Washington called for increased farm output, the ranks of farm labor have been thinned by the loss of 1,600,000 workers in the past year. Loss of an equal number in the next twelve months, asserts Secretary Wickard, cannot be allowed without jeopardizing the entire food production program. It is certain that the government will act. California, as No. 1 breadbasket of the nation in wealth and variety of crops, is amply prepared to meet the challenge of still higher production quotas on every other score. In no other state, for one thing, has agriculture had such unlimited access to ready financial aid as here. Statewide branch banking offices in more than 300 communities are enabling farmers to meet any and all emergency needs for expansion, storage facilities, new equipment. Funds circulating continuously through this statewide system, meeting seasonal dmeands in any part of the State, have provided California agriculture with a stability and service unknown elsewhere. Production in California's fabulous agricultural empire in '44 must not be endangered by a shortage of labor!

WHEN PATRIOTS PROTEST

In two towns in northwestern Yugoslavia the other day, Nazi firing squads lined up 322 Yugoslav hostages and executed them. Such was the reprisal administered guiltless persons whose compatriots had blown up a military train bearing supplies destined for Rommel's troops in Africa. By the mass murder of Yugoslav patriots the Nazi killers have added one more chapter to the infamous crimes they will soon atone for.

GOING UP!

One good miracle leads to another. Henry Kaiser's Portland yards having recently launched a ship in 10 days after laying the keel, his Richmond, Calif., yards are this week launching a ship within five days. How fast is that? Well, World War I's best record was 212 days.

★SPREADING JOY

By John Fowler

In memory of Captain Emmet L. Gaines.

Where men were needed he was one. Nature was proud to call him son. He faltered not in times of stress. His was the strength of gentleness. If eyes were needed for th blind, he saw for them his heart was kind. Where love could heal, he laid his hand. When faith was lacking he could stand. In crisis he was calm and wise. For peace and truth were in his eyes.

William Nawas Ricks.

Out in God's sacred aeus, at Saw-tell where thousands of the Nation's heroes lie in silent sleep of the blessed, the mortal remains of our beloved comrade and friend, Captain Emmet L. Gaines lies under a bedecked of beautiful flowers, mute testimonials of the love and affection in which he was held by his friends and neighbors. Just as he desired he was buried with full military honors.

The parting services were held at the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Pasadena, the church of which he wone one of the founders.

The pretty little edifice situated in one of the prettiest sections of the Queen City was comfortably filled with a cross section of the city's populace as well as friends from other cities of Southern California.

The services were beautiful. They were conducted by the pastor, S. M. Malone, assisted by Rev. J. D. Fordon, Rev. W. D. Carter, Rev. Dickerson and Father Alfred Wilkins. "I've Done My Best" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Robinson.

The poem published here, written by the life long friend and comrade-in-arms of Captain Gaines, was read by Mrs. John Fowler. Touching indeed was the presence of a great number of ex-service men, grizzled Indian fighters and veterans of foreign wars, as they came forward to view for the last time the remains of their fellow comrade; even though their steps were feeble with tear dimmed eyes as they approached the hand-armed couch casket in which lay the gallant old veteran. It seemed as though a flash of youth came back to them as they called to attention and snapped a salute to Old Glory that stood like a silent defender at his head. And thus it was, there in silent Sawtell the Stars and Stripes flew in the crisp November air a volley was fired, the buglar stepped forth and sounded "Taps." While all that is mortal of Captain Emitt Leon Gaines was lowered to its last resting place. We who had honored and loved him through the years said in our hearts "Good Night Old Comrade," see you in the morning."

Last Saturday afternoon it was our sad duty to be with our friends, Mrs. Robert J. Boyd and her two sisters, Mrs. Rosie Pillow and Willie Adams, in the parting services of their mother, Mrs. Emma Todd. The services were held at Roberts and Rev. Cleaves of the C. M. E. Church officiated. Mrs. Todd was a pioneer resident of Pico Heights. She came to California in 1893 and had lived in the same neighborhood ever since.

She was one of the early members of old Zion Street Church.

Our hearts go out to her bereaved children and grandchildren in this sad hour. Besides the three daughters she leaves four grand-children and three great-grandchildren.

I am sure you remember handsome sweet-faced, gray-haired Ada Hawkins and one of the leading club women of California. Well, Ada is here for a few days' visit, looking just as handsome as ever.

This week I have received joy in doing honor to a grand pair of old sweethearts who have recently celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. I give you Mr. and Mrs. Morgan White as leaders of the Old Sweethearts Paradise. My hearty congratulations.

Nation Asked to Set Aside Day Against Bias

Warning the citizens of the United States, against too early a feeling of security over recent successes on the new African battlefield, and reminding them that many hard days of fighting and self sacrifice still loom ahead, the American Anti-Prejudice Society this week, arranged to enthe power of all the churches in the vicinity in a prayer day movement, Dec. 5. The subject of this supplication is to be that race prejudice will be wiped out in this country, while the enemies of Democracy are being wiped out abroad, so there will be truly Double Victory.

Whit prospects of it growing into a state-wide and even nation-wide proclamation, further details as to this memorable Sunday will be disclosed next issue.

★LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

By Rev. J. Raymond Henderson

I have read with considered interest "Election Night Blues" published in last week's issue of the "Eagle" by Mr. John Kinloch. He was blue because Olsen did not win. I concede him the right to be blue. What strikes me is the way he expresses himself, and the way he blames different sources for contributing to Olsen's defeat.

I should first like to say that I have no professional interest in politics. I am interested as any citizen should be. My name appeared as endorsing Olsen, but without my permission. I am not a member of any political party. I change and split my vote, always favoring candidates which favor the Negro. That is why I voted for Olsen, his record in dealing with Negroes commended him to me, not that I am a democrat. I make no apology for this attitude.

Mr. Kinloch's "Blues" seem to me to be too full of profane and vulgar language. Such expressions as "Evil as hell—But I'm too damn mad—What the hell is wrong?—One damn bridge—We'll fight like hell." I am told that sometimes a man can't express himself unless he resorts to such language, but I do not believe it. I think Mr. Kinloch perfectly capable of employing altogether clean speech for his readers.

Mr. Kinloch charges that, "A gang of preachers sold out." Perhaps they did. Who knows the facts in the case? Does he? Here is one thing I know:—some of the preachers whose names appeared as endorsing Warren were as unaware that their names were being used as I was that someone slipped mine in among the endorsers of Olsen. Furthermore, just because some preachers did endorse Warren is not prima facia evidence of selling out. Can't we leave room anymore for honest opinion? I believe we can.

Some sway back jack-leg politician sold out, says Mr. Kinloch. Maybe he did, I don't know. What I do know is that this politician had as much right to be paid for his services to Warren as those who served Olsen's candidacy had a right to be paid for theirs, and none are so childish as to think that Olsen's staunch supporters were not paid. No criticism is made of them at this point. Another thing I know is that whoever the politician is to whom the writer referred, the writer had no obligation to call him such a vile name as he did in his "Blues."

The people "were dumb" says Mr. Kinloch. Perhaps some were. But certainly all the people who voted for Warren were no more dumb than were all the voters for Olsen wise. Things have reached quite a stage when no margin can be left for honest difference of opinion. Also, local issues are not the only determinants of how many people cast their votes. I have heard many people say that they would not vote the democratic ticket in local elections because democrats in the south and in Congress are against the Negro. You may differ with the point of view, but you cannot deny its existence.

All sorts of people support the "Eagle"—Democrats, Republicans, people who have no real attachment to any party, preachers and their congregations. Working together, they can build a "Greater California Eagle," a mighty weapon to help fight our battles. Surely Mr. Kinloch nor anyone else will want to go out of his way to court the ill-will of these people. We are mutually dependent.

Warren is now Governor of all the people of California whether you voted for him or not. He may not prove as bad as close-up election evaluation indicates. He is as indebted to Negroes who helped elect him as Olsen was to those who helped elect him. The chances are that he will make a good leader. If he does not, the same electorate that repudiated Olsen can repudiate him. That is the great advantage of a democracy.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

You and your nephew are doing a capital GOOD JOB—keep on keping on, for mayhap we have not lost this battle even, despite my timid fearful fellow clergy who are always fighting to give "their peepull" places in the sun. Olson may not have been a giant; he was a man with brotherly kindliness and willing to share the sun with all.

Take pride that you alone of Southern California newspapers unflinchingly took your stand for the cause of justice and liberty for all, which cause only incidentally was symbolized in Olson and Patterson. The one daily paper the News of Boddy did not go as far as you did, only its columnist Ted LeBerthon (and more power to him) paced you. May enough of us not be too entirely and completely fooled to give the strength needed, for the struggles that loom ahead of us because so many leaders, black and white, are scared that maybe "justice and liberty for all" can really be had for ALL.

I was only able to sit in for a short while with Dr. Griffin at the Raines case. Dr. Griffin has gone to Arkansas because of the passing of her mother this week end. If you can talk to Rev. Dr. S. M. Malone, of Metropolitan Baptist Church, Pasadena, who raised most of the money for the defense it might prove more interesting than just the brief item I enclose.

Best wishes for keeping on.

As ever,
REV. W. ALFRED WILKINS

Dear Editor:

The other day the People's World of San Francisco reprinted a poem from your paper written by John Kinloch. This was so good that I had to write you to congratulate you on your good sense and good taste in poetry. This is one of the finest pieces of writing I have seen this year and if it is possible I wish you would tell John Kinloch that he deserves high praise.

May you long continue to publish such good work.

Yours truly,
W. W. CONDE,
5024 Lena St.,
Oakland, Calif.

Dear Editor:

It is with much pleasure that I write you at this time, and to hear of you as being one that is dealing with the social world news.

I am the agent for the Pittsburgh Courier and have a range covering around 200 customers. Some of them are from your home town, so you see they asked about the California EAGLE, so much so I may be able to build up a nice field here in Vallejo.

You may send me next week five or 10 copies and the price list so that I might know what to do and how to go about the task.

Yours truly,
T L PLATT
819 Penn street
Vallejo.

Dear Editor:

On Friday, Nov. 13, the Helen Hunt Jackson Branch is having an open house from 2:30 until 5:00 for the adult patrons and any adult friends of the library who would enjoy coming. We would be very glad if you could be among our guests.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Doris L. Bresette
Librarian.

Helen Hunt Jackson Branch

HELEN HUNT JACKson -- ---- branch LIBRARY NOTES -- ---

With all the war news in the papers and the many books on the war, it is a relief to read something light and amusing as a change, so we offer the following books written in a lighter vein.

Heflin—Adventure Was the Compass:

Two airminded girls decide that their vacation should be an air trip to Alaska from Pennsylvania. The two girls have many good times to compensate for one or two breath-taking adventures and a smashed plane.

Partridge—Big Family:

A lively story of the writer's own family in a small town in the '80's and '90's. There were many stirring times in a family of 8 children.

Spence—Get Thee Behind Me:

A candid and continuously entertaining description of what life is like to youngsters reared in the shadow of the pulpit. We see three youngsters at whose coat tails Satan is always tugging; and if it isn't Satan who gets them into trouble it's the head usher or the scout master.

White—Autobiography of a Durable Sinner:

With gusty humor, Owen White tells the tale of an unregenerate life, of the old West and gunmen and honky-tonks down to the New York of the '20's and '30's.

Goodman—How To Do Practically Anything:

An easy guide to complete chaos in your business life, your social life and your love life.

Chase—Past Imperfect:

The amusing autobiography of Ilka Chase, of stage, movie and radio fame.

Phillips—Private Papers of Private Purkey:

A light account of army life with amusing illustrations.

Tressler—Readers Digest Very Little or A Treasury of the World's Greatest Litter:

No more needs to be said after reading the sub-title of this book.

From the book by

RICHARD WRIGHT

He was behind his curtain now, looking down at himself freezing under the impact of water in sub-zero weather. Then the stream of water veered from his body.

"Throw that gun down, boy!"

He began to shake all over; he let go of the gun completely. Well, this was all. Why didn't they come for him? He gripped the edges of the tank again, digging his fingers into the snow and ice. His strength left. He gave up. He turned over on his back and looked weakly up into the sky through the high, shifting lattices of light. This was all. They could shoot him now. Why didn't they shoot? Why didn't they come for him?

"Throw that gun down, boy!"

They wanted the gun. He did not have it. He was not afraid any more. He did not have strength enough to be.

"Throw that gun down, boy!"

Yes; take the gun and shoot it at them; shoot it empty. Slowly, he stretched out his hand and tried to pick up the gun, but his fingers were too stiff. Something laughed in him, cold and hard; he was laughing at himself. Why didn't they come for him? They were afraid. He rolled his eyes, looking longingly at the gun. Then, while he was looking at it, the stream of hissing silver struck it and whirled it off the tank, out of sight.

"There it is!"

"Come on down, boy! You're through!"

"Don't go up there! He might have another gun!"

"Come on down, boy!"

He was outside of it all now. He was too weak and cold to hold onto the edges of the tank any longer; he simply lay atop the tank, his mouth and eyes open, listening to the stream of water whir above him. Then the water hit him again, in the side; he felt his body sliding over the slick ice and snow. He wanted to hold on, but could not. His body teetered on the edge; his legs dangled in air. Then he was falling. He landed on the roof, on his face, in snow, dazed.

He opened his eyes and saw a circle of white faces; but he was outside of them, behind his curtain, his wail, looking on. He heard men talking and their voices came to him from far away.

"That's him, all right!"

"Get 'im down to the street!"

"The water did it!"

"He seems half-frozen!"

"All right, get 'im down to the street!"

He felt his body being dragged across the snow of the roof. Then he was lited and put, feet first, into a trap door.

"You got 'im?"

"Yeah! Let 'im drop on!"

"O. K!"

He dropped into rough hands inside of the dark loft. They were dragging him by his feet. He closed his eyes and his head slid along over rough planking. They struggled him through the last trapdoor and he knew that he was inside of a building, for warm air was on his face. They had him by his legs again and were dragging him down a hall, over smooth carpet.

There was a short stop, then they started down the stairs with him, his head bumping along the steps. He folded his wet arms about his head to save himself, but soon the steps had pounded his elbows and arms so hard that all of his strength left. He relaxed, feeling his head bounding painfully down the steps. He shut his eyes and tried to lose consciousness. But he still felt it, drumming like a hammer in his brain. Then it stopped. He was near the street; he could hear shouts and screams coming to him like a roar of water. He was in the street now, being dragged over snow. His feet were up in the air, grasped by strong hands.

"Kill 'im!"

"Lynch 'im!"

"That black s————!"

They let go of his feet; he was in the snow, lying flat on his back. Round him surged a sea of noise. He opened his eyes a little and saw an array of faces, white and looming.

"Kill that black ape!"

Two men stretched his arms out, as though about to crucify him, his wrists, making them sink deep down in the snow. His eyes closed, slowly, and he was swallowed in darkness.

There was no day for him now, and there was no night; there was but a long stretch of time, a long stretch of time that was very short; and then — the end. Toward no one in the world did he feel any fear now, for he knew that fear was useless; and toward no one in the world did he feel any hate now, for he knew that hate would not help him.

Though they carried him from one police station to another, though they threatened him, persuaded him, bullied him, and stormed at him, he steadfastly refused to speak. Most of the time he sat with bowed head, staring at the floor; or he lay full length upon his stomach, his face buried in the crook of an elbow, just as he lay now upon a cot with the pale yellow sunshine of a February sky falling obliquely upon him through the cold steel bars of the Eleventh Street Police Station.

Food was brought to him upon trays and an hour later the trays were taken away, untouched. They gave him packages of cigarettes, but they lay on the floor, unopened. He would not even drink water. He simply lay or sat, saying nothing, not noticing when anyone entered or left his cell. When they wanted him to go from one place to another, they caught him by the wrist and led him; he went without resistance, walking always with dragging feet, head down. Even when they snatched him up by the collar, his weak body easily lending itself to be manhandled, he looked without hope or resentment, his eyes like two still pools of black ink in his flaccid face. No one had seen him save the officials and he had asked to see no one. Not once during the three days following his capture had an image of what he had done come into his mind. He had thrust the whole thing back of him, and there it lay, monstrous and horrible. He was not so much in a stupor, as in the grip of a deep physiological resolution not to react to anything.

Having been thrown by an accidental murder into a position where he had sensed a possible order and meaning in his relations with the people about him; having accepted the moral guilt and responsibility for that murder because it had made him feel free for the first time in his life; having felt in his heart some obscure need to be at home with people and having demanded ransom money to enable him to do it—having done all this and failed, he chose not to struggle any more. With a supreme act of will springing from the essence of his being, he turned away from his life and the long train of disastrous consequences that had flowed from it and looked wistfully upon the dark face of ancient waters upon which some spirit had breathed and created him, the dark face of the waters from which he had been first made in the image of a man with a man's obscure need and urge; feeling that he wanted to sink back into those waters and rest eternally.

And yet his desire to crush all faith in him was in itself built upon a sense of faith. The feelings of his body reasoned that if there could be no merging with the men and women about him, there should be a merging with some other part of the natural world in which he lived. Out of the mood of renunciation there sprang up in him again the will directed outward toward people, but inward, upon himself. Why not kill that wayward yearning within him that had led him to this end? He had reached out and killed and had not solved anything, so why not reach inward and kill that which had duped him?

This feeling sprang up of itself, organically, automatically; like the rotted hull of a seed forming the soil in which its tainers will be there, including should grow again.

And, under and above it all, there was the fear of death before which he was naked and without defense; he had to go forward and meet his end like any other living thing upon the earth. And regulating his attitude toward death was the fact that he was black, unequal, and despised. Passively, he hungered for another orbit between two poles that would let him live again; for a new mode of life that would catch him up with the tension of hate and love. There would have to hover above him, like the stars in a full sky, a vast configuration of images and symbols whose magic and power could lift him up and make him live so intensely that the dread of being black and unequal would be forgotten; that even death would not matter, that it would be a victory. This would have to happen before he could look them in the face again: a new pride and a new humility would have to be born in him, a humility springing from a new identification with some part of the world in which he lived, and this identification forming the basis for a new hope that would function in him as pride and dignity.

But maybe it would never come; maybe there was no such thing for him; maybe he would have to go to his end just as he was, dumb, driven, with the shadow of emptiness in his eyes. Maybe this was all. Maybe the confused promptings, the excitement, the tingling, the elation—maybe they were false lights that led nowhere. Maybe they were right when they said that a black skin was bad, the covering of an ape-like animal. Maybe he was just unlucky, a man born for dark doom, an obscene joke happening amid a colossal din of siren screams and white faces and circling lances of light under a cold and silken sky. But he could not feel that for long; just as soon as his feelings reached such a conclusion, the conviction that there was some way out surged back into him, strong and powerful, and, in his present state, condemning and paralyzing.

And then one morning a group of men came and caught him by the wrists and led him into a large room in the Cook County Morgue, in which there were many people. He blinked from the bright lights and heard loud and excited talking. The compact array of white faces and the constant flashing of bulbs for pictures made him stare in mounting amazement. His defense of indifference could protect him no longer. At first he thought that it was the trial that had begun, and he was prepared to sink back into his dream of nothingness. But it was not a courtroom. It was too informal for that. He felt crossing his feelings a sensation akin to the same one he had had when the reporters had first come into Mr. Dalton's basement with their hats on, smoking cigars and cigarettes, asking questions; only now it was much stronger.

There was in the air a silent mockery that challenged him. It was not their hate he felt; it was something deeper than that. He sensed that in their attitude toward him they had gone beyond hate. He heard in the sound of their voices a patient certainty; he saw their eyes gazing at him with calm conviction. Though he could not have put it into words, he felt that not only had they resolved to put him to death, but that they were determined to make his death mean more than a mere punishment; that they regarded him as a figment of that black world which they feared and were anxious to keep under control. The atmosphere of the crowd told him that they were going to use his death as a bloody symbol of fear to wave before the eyes of that black world. And as he felt it, rebellion rose in him. He had sunk to the lowest point this side of death, but when he felt his life again threatened in a way that meant that he was to go down the dark road a helpless spectacle of sport for others, he sprang back into action, alive, contending.

He tried to move his hands and found that they were shackled by strong bands of cold steel to white wrists of policemen sitting at either side of him. He looked round; a policeman stood in front of him and one in back. He heard a sharp, metallic click and his hands were free. There was a rising murmur of voices and he sensed that it was caused by his movements.

Then his eyes became riveted on a white face, tilted slightly upward. The skin had a quality of taut anxiety and around the oval of white face was framework of whiter hair. It was Mrs. Dalton, sitting quietly, her frail, waxen hands folded in her lap. Bigger remembered as he looked at her that moment of stark terror when he had stood at the side of the bed in the dark blue room hearing his heart pound against his ribs with his fingers upon the pillow pressing down upon Mary's face to keep her from mumbling.

Sitting beside Mrs. Dalton was Mr. Dalton, looking straight before him with wide-open, unblinking eyes. Mr. Dalton turned slowly and looked at Bigger and Bigger's eyes fell.

He saw Jan: blond hair; blue eyes; a sturdy, kind face looking squarely into his own. Hot shame flooded him as the scene in the car came back; he felt again the pressure of Jan's fingers upon his hand. And then shame was replaced by guilty anger as he recalled Jan's confronting him to kill, but this time it was not upon the sidewalk in the snow.

He was getting tired; the more he came to himself, the more a sense of fatigue seeped into him. He looked down at his clothes; they were damp and crumpled and the sleeves of his coat were drawn halfway up his arms. His shirt was open and he could see the black skin of his chest. Suddenly, he felt the fingers of his right hand throb with pain. Two fingernails were torn off. He could not remember how it happened. He tried to move his tongue and found it swollen. His lips were dry and cracked and he wanted water. He felt giddy. The lights and faces whirled slowly, like a merry-go-round. He was falling swiftly through space.

NOTABLE EXAMPLE of the unity of all races in the cause of freedom is the important work being done by the colored group of the Communications Corps, headed by Captain Nellie Carlisle, above. This volunteer group of 112 patriotic women serve in six-hour shifts of four women each, operating one of the city's vital Cntrol Centers 24 hours a day every day.

Aviation Cadet Preparatory Course Offered at Jefferson

The time has come when everyone should prepare himself so that they may be qualified to meet the requirements necessary demands of the Army and Navy in which you will be enlisted to fight for victory and freedom for our country.

Special training courses are offered at Thomas Jefferson Evening High School, 1319 E. 41st Street. The purpose of this course is to review and give a thorough coverage of the fundamentals of Mathematics, Science, English and History, so that candidates for the Air Corps will be fully qualified to meet the exacting demands of the Army and Navy Cadet Training Schools.

Prepare yourself, this is your opportunity, come and enroll now. "I will study and prepare myself now, and some day my chance will come."—Lincoln.

In these very trying days of all-out for VICTORY every man should prepare himself for a definite place in the struggle for preparation for production, be that in any field that it may, so long as it has a very important place in which to live.

To this end a class in Carpentry and Construction in the Jefferson Evening High School, is offering instruction. The tuition is free. Classes Wednesday and Friday from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., Rm. S-81 Mechanical Arts Bldg.

Jefferson High P-TA Board Meets Monday

Thomas Jefferson High P-TA executive board will meet Monday, Nov. 16, at the school. Regular monthly meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 19. Mrs. P. P. Cobbs, membership chairman, has announced the extension of the membership drive and urges you to join now. All members of the board are working in the Community Chest drive.

Student Wins $25 Bond

Edward Johnson of Mrs. Zetta Walmsley's advertising class at Jefferson high school was one of the 8 young people to be awarded a $25.00 war bond by the Broadway Department store on Thursday, Nov. 5, in connection with the store's annual High School Day.

Edward's ad appeared in the Downtown Shopping News of Wednesday, Nov. 4, with the 7 other winning ads. On Thursday, he, accompanied by C. A. Dickison, principal of the school, was present at the opening ceremonies of High School day, in which 7 girls from Miss Ethel McDonald's salesmanship classes participated.

The presentation of the bond will be made at a school assembly.

FANNIE WILLIAMS EXCELSIOR GUARANTEED HAIR GROWER

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower has been on the market for years. It is a wonderful preparation. It stops harsh and brittle hair from breaking and falling. It corrects itching scalp, ring worms, tetter and eczema, and keeps your scalp in a very healthy condition. It is not a gummy or sticky grower. It leaves the hair natural and soft and the hair grows rapidly.

You can get the grower at the following places:

Mrs. Corrine Grayson, 1247 East 53rd street.

Dorothy's Beauty Salon, 1821 Imperial highway, Watts.

Ethical Drug Store, 1490 West Jefferson boulevard.

Mrs. Fannie Williams, 1749 S. New Hampshire.

Jefferson Loses 3 Coaches

Three of Jefferson high school's coaches are gone. Clarence Duhm, who had been at Jefferson for 15 years, left his place as head of department to go to Manual Arts High school, which is nearer his home, on Monday, Nov. 2.

On Monday, Nov. 9, Ralph Crawford, who had been there for the last six years, and Larry Pickens, who joined the faculty of Jefferson just last September, left for Army air service.

Crawford will be stationed at Santa Ana air base and Pickens will go to Mather field near Sacramento.

3RD OFFICER HAMPTON, WAACs, GOES TO N. Y.

FORT DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12.—One of 14 Negro Third Officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps this week, Third Officer Elizabeth C. Hampton, Los Angeles, has been ordered to duty in the Second Service Command, with headquarters in New York City.

As a recruiting officer for the WAAC, Officer Hampton will help select women from the entire service command for training in the WAAC to replace men in non-combat Army jobs.

With Officer Hampton will be working Third Officer Verneal M. Austin, New York City, also assigned to the Second Service Command. Both officers are members of the first group of 36 Negro women commissioned in the Corps, and both have been specially trained for recruiting duty.

Officer Hampton, former social service case worker and supervisor, said as she left for her new duties: "The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps has provided just what I thought it would—a challenge.

"It offers us as women more opportunity to serve in this present emergency than anything else," she added.

In addition, she pointed out, membership in the Corps, which has as its aim the replacement of men in Army non-combat jobs, is a broadening experience for the individual.

I've found many different ideas about things, but only one aim," she observed. "There is only one aim for us: to help win the war and the peace that is to follow.

"For this, each one of us must remember to do the best job we can as individuals. Above all, we are Americans."

After receiving her commission August 29, Officer Hampton's first assignment was that of assistant special service officer at the Fort Des Moines WAAC Training Center, in charge of a service club.

An honor and scholarship student of sociology at the University of California at Los Angeles, Officer Hampton also attended California Christian College and was graduated from that institution in 1933.

She later attended the University of Southern California's Institute of Government as a special student from 1935 to 1941 and also studied public welfare administration and psychiatric case work.

While in college, Officer Hampton was president of the Pledge Club, and of the undergraduate and later graduate chapters of Delta Sigma Theta sorority. She was regional chairman of the job analysis committee for women in defense industries; member of the executive board of the Y. W. C. A.; and secretary of the student council. She was a member of the Pan-Hellenic council of Los Angeles.

In addition to her membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Officer Hampton holds membership in the Urban League and the Y.W.C.C.

Her other civic activities in Los Angeles before enrollment in the WAAC included membership in the Red Cross disaster relief committee, social service department.

Officer Hampton was also Officer Hampton was also active in the work of the Baptist Church, as might be expected from the fact that she is the daughter of the Rev. Charles M. Hampton, pioneer in Baptist circles. Her brother, Rev. Charles M. Hampton, is president of the Western Baptist State Convention. She was formerly special worker with the Negro Baptist youth of Southern California.

U. S. Asks More Hiring of Negroes

Four major war agencies, the manpower commission, the war production board, the army and the navy, yesterday urged American war contractors to hire more Negro workers to increase production.

The action is defined in a 15 page illustrated pamphlet entitled "Manpower: One-Tenth of a Nation," issued by the WMC, and mailed yesterday to more than 30,000 contractors.

"You are going to need every worker you can get," the booklet said. "There are 13,000,000 Negroes in this country and more than 5,000,000 of them are workers. More than 650,000 are already equipped for skilled or white collar work and more are being trained daily.

"Every time you pass over a Negro worker, for no other reason than his color, either in hiring or in promotion, you place one more obstacle in the path of all-out production."

BENNY CARTER COMES TO LINCOLN STAGE

Benny Carter, "America's most versatile maestro," who brings his famous orchestra to the Lincoln theatre on Saturday, Nov. 14, for four days, is one of the very few name orchestra leaders to have been able to tour the continent abroad before the war smashed all entertainment aside.

After reaching the top rung of America's musical ladder as saxophonist, writer and arranger, he went to Paris in May, 1935, for what was supposed to be a vacation. But he didn't rest. He played for a while in Paris and he toured Europe playing concerts.

One of his first engagements was under the sponsorship of the "Hot Club de Barcelona," and he picked the Barcelona Coliseum, not long before the building was bombed and ruined by the Spanish Civil War. Other concerts followed in France, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Sweden. Carter received an offer from Henry Hall, musical director of the British Broadcasting company, to serve as chief arranger for the BBC orchestra in London.

He accepted the job and remained in London for a year, conducting swing concerts at the London Hippodrome, sponsored by the Melody Maker, foremost British musical publication.

Once back in New York, he reorganized his orchestra to suit more American tastes and began an extended record-breaking theatre tour of the country. He hasn't stopped traveling yet—except for a short stay in New York where—while resting—he broke all records for attendance at one of the best known hot spots.

A big midnight show will be staged at the Lincoln Saturday night. The management wishes to announce a complete show will begin at 12.

BENNY CARTER . . and his 16 piece orchestra featuring Savannah Churchill, coming to Lincoln for four days, st arting Sat., Nov. 16.

★ BEHIND THE SCENES With Harry

By Harry Levette

FRESH NEWS, unlike rare wine, does not grow riper and better with age, so rather than delay longer the very interesting story on the life of our girls in the government service in Washington, started by Miss Arie Lee Lee Branche, former Hollywood movie player, issue before last, I will make it this week's Behind the Scenes.

At that it is very suitable, for naturally, the average reader as well as the talented young actress' many friends and former co-workers will have a curiosity to hear of the impressions of a movie player after giving up the glamour and comparatively easy money of screen work for the steady, hard routine of office work for national defense. Relating her experiences during the first six months as a stranger in the nation's capital, the story continues:

Ed's Note: With the permission of the head of her department, Miss Arie Lee Branch, former EAGLE reporter, and Hollywood screen actress, continues her story on life as a government office worker in Washington.

By ARIE LEE BRANCHE

Among some of the fine personalities in our department are Miss Alleyne Flack, from typist to examiner; Clarence Farcia, clerk to examiner; Lenora Peyton, underclerk to examiner; Pearline Miles, underclerk to conformer; John Thomas, John Marshall, Ruth Mitchell, Prdrito Francois, Anna R. Costner, L. Shufford, Phenicie Thomas, and M. Thurston, from junior clerks to checkers and dispatchers; Blanche Evans, typing pool to conformer; Louise Bynol, typing pool to checking and recording; Francis Holmes, underclerk to checking and recording. Others who have nice positions are Joseph Selden, assistant clerk-examiner, and Doris Streeter, statistical clerk.

The assistant branch chief, Mr. Katzman, who also has an unbiased opinion, has been very considerate in making promotions.

During his first week on our shift, Mr. Fratwell said, "I may be wrong for mentioning this, but I want all of you people to understand that regardless of what color you are, or what race you belong to, if you prove that you can do a higher rated work, I personally am going to see that you be given the opportunity to do it. I am going to do my level best to be fair with each and everyone of you. And if you have any grievanees, or suggestions whatsoever, please do not hesitate, come right up and talk it over with me."

So far, he has kept his promise. He works right along beside us and fills out in any capacity of the work that needs high production.

He is not the aloof, pompous "big shot" as I am sure we have all worked for at one time or another. We feel confident that under the excellent supervision of Mr. Fratwell and Mr. Katzman, we will in the future have supervisors, and more higher rated examiners.

I have attended Howard for three weeks, taking industrial accounting, but had to quit on account of my work. I have a private teacher, Mrs. Frances Lattimore, for shorthand. Incidentally, Mrs. Lattimore is a supervisor of a section of the Office of the Provost-Marshal General. She is very clever and I am very proud of her.

Mrs. Turner took me to the Washington Cathedral my first Sunday here, to the lenten offering of the Sunday School classes. Now that is really the most beautiful cathedral I have ever been in. It is almost an exact replia of the old cathedrals of Rome and England.

For recreation, we go fishing on the Potomac, skating at the YWCA, hiking and bicycling. The "Y" clubs and USO have dances twice a week for the soldiers. I attended one last week and must say that I haven't had as much fun since I left home. I haven't been able to locate a riding academy as yet, so, probably will have to pack my togs for my return to the dear old West.

GILLESPIE ACCLAIMED ON KNX EARLY-MORNING PROGRAM

William Gillespie, young Negro baritone whose songs have become a popular feature of the "Sunrise Salute" programs heard over Station KNX, giant 50,000-watt Columbia Station for Southern California, received his big-time radio chance in an odd way—but the one chance was all he needed.

GORGEOUS LENA HORNE . . . . Soon to be sseen in 'Cabin in The Sky.'

Gillespie, now heard each week-day morning over KNX, was singing from his Los Angeles church over one of the smaller Southern California stations. Galen Drake, director of the "Sunrise Salute" and "Housewives Protective League" broadcasts over KNX, happened to tune in. He liked Gillespie's voice—sent word that he'd like to have him audition—and arranged to have him visit Columbia Square.

Drake heard him—then brought in Fletcher Wiley, chief-of-staff of all "Protective League" and "Sunrise Salute" programs. Wiley, impressed by Gillespie's voice and radio personality, called in Columbia network officials to hear more songs. A few days later the young Negro became a regular member of the musical staff on the "Sunrise Salute" shows—broadcast each morning between 6:15 and 7:15 a. m.

BRINGS NEW LISTENERS

Gillespie's singing, particularly his rendition of the "modern spirituals" written by Thomas A. Dorsey (not the dance band leader but a Chicago song writer) becomes more popular every day. Wiley himself estimates that addition of the singer to his staff of artists has brought thousasnds upon thousands of new listeners to the program.

And that's the story of how William Gillespie leaped from an occasional appearance over a local radio station, to a staff job on a program entertaining millions of Southern California listeners each morning—over one of the finest stations in the country.

As for Gillespie himself—he's 36, born in Nashville, Tenn., in 1906. Has been a singer in church since his days as a boy soprano. Educated in Nashville at the public grammar and high schools. Also attended school in Sycamore, Ill. Once organized his own quartet, the "Golden Echo" group, and toured cities of the South and Midwest.

MEETS HALL JOHNSON

In Chicago he continued his study of music, later moving to Terre Haute, Indiana where he studied music and did some radio singing. Returning to Nashville he attended the school of music at Fisk university and also put in three years at Tennessee State Teachers college where he was a member of an outstanding college musical group.

Friends suggested that he go to New York to sing on the "Major Bowes" program over CBS. In New York he met Hall Johnson, director of the famous Hall Johnson choir, who persuaded him to move to the West coast.

Since his arrival in Los Angeles in 1926 Gillespie has sung with the Johnson choir, with his church group and in pictures. He has appeared in such films as "Blues In The Night," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Mark Twain," "Rainbow On The River," "Green Pastures," and others. He also appeared in the stage productions of "Porgy And Bess" and "The Mikado."

STIRRING SKY FILM, "THUNDER BIRDS," AT U. A. THEATRE

Blasting the screen with a blazing roar of action and romance, 20th Century-Fox's "Thunder Birds," soldiers of the air, a stirring action romance in living Technicolor, is now playing at the United Artists theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, discharging a bomb-rack's worth of excitement of thrills.

"Thunder Birds" is a timely motion picture reconnaissance over a famous training ground, where sprouting wings almost daily are hundreds of democracy's avenging eagles from the far corners of the earth, daring lads with flying in their blood and romance in their hearts.

The theatre offers Fox's "Careful, Soft Shoulder," a spy melodud, with Virginia Brucel--rN drama dressed up in comedy duds, with Virginia Bruce and James Ellison, as the co-attraction with "Thunder Birds."

★DOWN IN FRONT

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

It's Reynolds versus McCardle

The unexpected happened all the way 'round Saturday Our UCLA Bruins were detoured on the highway to the Rose Bowl by an underdog University of Oregon eleven, and Stub Allison's supposedly rejuvenated California Bears bogged down and succumbed to a speedy, flashy USC Trojan.

It's fitting therefore that the two upsetters should get together here Saturday so local fans can see who's who. The Webfoots have a Negro lad cavorting in the backfield, and he is said to be some shucks when it comes to handling the pigskin. Shelby Calhoun, Trojan line coach and scout, who saw the game Saturday said the lad, Bob Reynolds by name, is one of the most dangerous passers on the coast. He's out of Portland, a sophomore, stands five feet 10 inches, and packs 170 pounds.

'Tis said that Reynolds looked so good in spring practice up at Eugene that Honest John Warren, the coach, was forced to give him the veteran Tommy Roblin's berth, and alternate the latter in the blocking back and fullback roles.

It's been about a decade since another Negro terror came out of the Northwest, playing for the same school. That would be "Jumpin'" Joe Lillard, who also knew his way around on a football field.

A duel between Reynolds and Mickey McCardle, the Trojan spark, should be worth seeing. McCardle, a high-stepping, shifty ballpacker and passer, was the big noise in the SC triumph over California. The tussle Saturday should also offer some insight on just high good the Trojans really are.

Hank Armstrong Goes Back on Top

Walt Gordon jr., Bear half, saw a lot of action in the SC game, playing creditably. Norm Houston, a guard, got in for a few minutes near the close of the tilt. For which we applaud Allison, for Norm undoubtedly wanted to perform before the home folks . . . The type of ball played by California, however, is none too exciting . . . Charley Burley, the high-ranking midwestern middleweight, was introduced from the Hollywood Legion stadium ring Friday night . . . So was Henry Armstrong, and Hank was mighty well received, showing that the determined former three-crown wearer is again at the top of the fistic heap . . . Dean Snyder, the publicist, says Jack Johnson, nearing 65, is going to open a cafe in H'wood . . . Rod Castillo, White Sox park owner-promoter, is now in the Army . . .

Captain Mulzac Carries 2 L. A. Souvenirs on High Seas

With the already famous "Booker T. Washington," now somewhere on the high seas, making her maiden trip transporting needed supplies for the Allied nations, the minds of local race citizens are still rife with memories of the history making launching. As to the time of the actual sailing, this remained a war secret so closely guarded that very few outside of Calship officials knew of it. Yet until it is heard from again local citizens as well as all over the country will be following the course of this Liberty ship.

One of the two souvenirs of his brief sojourn here at the launching port which Capt. Hugh Mulzac took with him was a beautiful replica of a pilot wheel made of expensive flowers with an enlarged portrait of himself in the center. This was created and presented to him at the farewell banquet by Hamm-Mee Banks, enterprising young florist. The other was a Bible, purchased by Mrs. Ada Russel, to be taken on all voyages by the captain and his all nation crew, presented under auspices of the A. A. P. B. Because of limited space aboard ship many other presents had to be sent to the captain's New York home. So at his urgent request, the emblematic floral masterpiece was transported directly from the Friday Morning Club banquet hall to the ship lying at anchor in the harbor. "This is an emblem of good luck, I truly believe," remarked the slender, straight commander. "The bible was not presented to the captain until several days later at a meeting at Jefferson High school, held by the American Anti-Prejudice Society, Inc.

Banks, who was lauded for his thoughtfulness and originality in creating the floral piece, is the only colored manager of a downtown floral shop on the west coast. This is the Redondo Floral Shop on 7th and Spring streets on the ground floor of the two story Financial Centre Building. It is the oldest in the city, being founded in 1889, Banks being promoted to manager a little over six months ago. It is a charter member of the Floral Telegraph Delivery Service, and regularly fills orders from all over the world, making it one of the busiest establishments in the heart of the Metropolitan district. All the other employes are white, but the most amicable relations exist between them and the manager.

Robinson Carries Foe; Applauded

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Running his consecutive victory string, amateur and professional, to 127, young Ray Robinson, Harlem's unbeaten welterweight contender, gave middleweight Vic Dellicurti a bloody boxing lesson at Madison Square Garden last Friday night to win a unanimous 10-round decision.

Apparently Robinson could have registered his 28th knockout in 30 pro fights had he so desired, because Dellicurti was virtually blind from blood and groggy from the terrible battering he received in the 9th round.

Instead of putting his man away, Robinson refused to hit him in the head, and contented himself with drubbing gently at Vic's body. The crowd gave him an ovation for this gallantry.

Thomas in Line for Stiff Test

John Thomas, classy, undefeated Los Angeles lightweight, is in line to fight the winner of the Bob Montgomery-Maxie Shapiro bout Nov. 30 at Philadelphia, his handlers said this week.

2 Democrat Gridders Injured

Two of Jefferson high school's football players are out of the game for the season.

They are Ernest Cash and Gordon Lightner. Cash played first string fullback for two games before he was injured during a practice game and was forced to withdraw from the team by order of his doctor.

Lightner was also injured during a practice game. He was on the B team.

James Lee Gets New Manager

James Lee, 205, who won a close six-round decision over Hardy Williams, 206, Monday night at Ocean Park, has a new manager, the State Athletic commission announced today.

He is Al McCoy, whose five-year contract on the boxer, became effective Oct. 30.

Seek Armstrong for Philly Go

Manager George Moore said today that Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, is seeking to sign Henry Armstrong to box any outstanding opponent in January.

Armstrong, fresh from a spectacular victory over Fritzie Zivic in San Francisco, will fight an unnamed opponent next month at the Olympic auditorium. Hank will start training this week-end.

Eastsiders Even Golf Club Series

A happy bunch of golfers thumbed and hitch-hiked to the Eastside Monday evening from Sunset Fields as a result of having turned the tide of defeat into victory after an afternoon of matches with the Westside golfers.

Individual matches were close, but where the Westsiders won the first matches by a single point, the Eastsiders Sunday evened the series by winning 8 points to 2.

The final and deciding matches will be played Sunday, Nov. 29, when the winning club will be presented with the beautiful plaque, offered by the Southern California Negro Golfers association. Each golfer on the winning club will receive an individual medal.

The first foursome to turn in their scores, gave the Westside a one-point lead. It was Clisby and Lem Grant, 71-81, shading Roscoe Jones and Monroe Boykin, 73-80. The next 7 consecutive foursomes to report, scored points for the Eastside. Dr. Hardimon and A. Hairston over Sol Ellis and Elmo Williams. Dr. Wallace and Ivan Johnson III defeated Theop Smith and Sammie McPherson. Then Al Brown and F. Miller carded a win over C. Lay and Chester Carson.

Heading the B division, Al McDaniels and C. Christman were better than Sam Drake and Eddie Allen. Henry Lewis and Norman Houston succumbed to U. S. Thompson and W. Woods. Continuing the Eastside sweep, Oscar Williams and Eddie Atkinson defeated A. Howard and G. Terrell, and Dr. W. E. Bailey and E. Loneta took charge of Dr. A. A. Foster and LeRoy Jennings.

Then came the second Westside tally, W. McQueen and S. Owens took J. Colbert and Jack Clisby into camp.

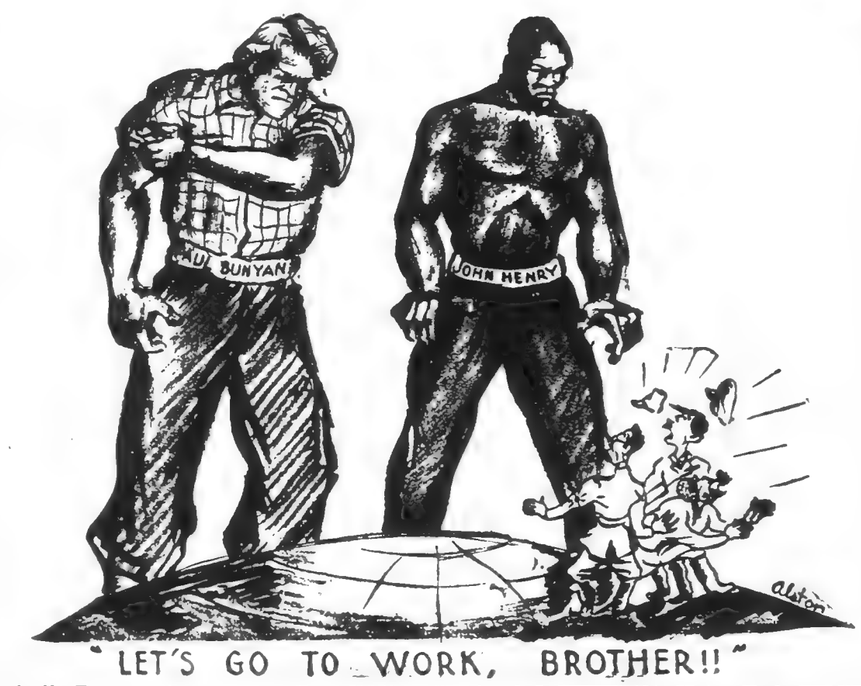
The fact that the last foursome, Ed Carey and Dee Hodge, turned in a point for the winners in defeating Geo. A. Beavers jr. and B. Hunnigan, made little difference, the Clinkers were too far in front to be caught.

Dr. Hardimon, Archie Hairston and Captain Ivan Johnson III had identical 76s. A. Howard was also in the 70s with a 77. Grouped at 80s were McPherson, Boykin, Wallace and McDaniels.

Billy Hale in Hollywood Legion Semi

Matchmaker Charley MacDonald this week moved his Carlos Chavez-Donnie Maes rematch up to tomorrow night when it became apparent that Rodolfo Ramirez, who was scheduled to box Jimmy McDaniels in the 10-round feature, would be unable to get here on time.

Ramirez ran into a bit of border trouble, as he sought re-entry into this country from Mexico.



In their last bout, Chavez whipped Maes in a fiercely contested scrap.

Billy Hale meets Jack Hale in the six-round semi.

Last Friday night, Jack Chase, fast-stepping Denver middleweight who is undefeated here, gave Mexican Costello Cruz a boxing lesson to easily take the 10-round feature. there were no knockdowns. It was Chase's 15th straight win in as many starts in the Southland.

Ad Alonzo, 148¼ pound Mexican lad, finished fast in the last two panels to decision Sammy Walker, 147, in the semi-windup, according to the referee. Walker, who always gives the fans a run for their money, deserved no worse than a draw.

In the fours, Chito Hernandez, 137½, decisioned sub Al Guidry, 138; Frankie Valdez, 160, and Willie Collins, 155, fought a slow draw; Frankie Wolgast, 129, TKOd Teddy Guerrero, 128, in three rounds, and Chester Ellis, 128, duked Tino Ascasio, 127.

Custodial Employees Pay Tribute to L. G. Robinson

Los Angeles paid a heart-felt tribute to one of its great characters Tuesday night at mammoth banquet in the great dining hall of the Second Baptist church.

Hundreds of citizens gathered to honor Mr. L. G. Robinson upon the occasion of his retirement as head of the custodial service of the county of Los Angeles.

Citizens from all walks of life were on hand to testify to the unique position which Mr. Robinson occupies in the regard of the community—and in its heart.

Though the speeches of distinguished figures indicated the wide influence of the honoree, it was the simple, dignified and heart-felt statements of the men who have worked under him for yeaars which revealed the man's true stature, that of a mighty oak in the lives of all he touched.

Among speakers at the banquet were Rev. S. M. Beane, representing the Ministerial Alliance and YWCA, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, representing the NAACP, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, Judge Ruben Smith, Mr. Tillingham, County Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Jurge Guren, Wallace Braden, Dr. Leonard Stovall, Paul R. Williams, S. P. Johnson, William Nickerson, Rev. J. D. Gordon, and others.

Mr. Sephard, representing the Janitor's department, opened the meeting and turned it over to the master of ceremonies, Leon H Washington, Jr.

In the opinion of many, the keynote remarks of the evening were those of Mr. Robinson's long-time friend, Capt. William D. Reynolds. He said "L. G. Robinson never had religion,—he was too busy practicing Christianity."

He Builds for Victory

This man works for the TVA—three letters that mean power. He's a riveter, helping to build new electrical plants that put the punch into America's war production. You've got to turn more wheels, clamp down harder on more chunks of steel if you want to mold a fighting machine. Every bead of sweat on this man's brow means more electricity for new and greater war plants. He can smile proudly because he knows what his job means to America's war for freedom.

ME. M. CLAY, proprietor of Clay's Beauty Shoppe, 1138 Myrtle avenue, Long Beach, will observe the 16th anniversary of her beauty shoppe this week. The shoppe has progressed nicely, and keeps abreast with the newest in hair arrangements, and beauty needs. Mrs. Clay has added two new branches to the shoppe, namely, permanent waving, and hair weaving. This shoppe has served the people of Long Beach successfully, for several years, has many satisfied customers. Mrs. Edith Mitchell, of 1871 Cerritas avenue, states that she is very much pleased with her new Ray permanents.

WEBFOOTS SEEK SECOND UPSET WIN IN USC TILT

Regarded as one of the most dangerous passers on the coast by none other than USC Trojan scout-line coach Shelby Calhoun, 19-year old passing-running star Bob Reynolds and his University of Oregon Webfoots clash with the University avenue gridders Saturday in the Memorial Coliseum.

Reynolds hit the headlines last Saturday when he and Tommy Roblin led the Webfoots to an upset 14-7 win over the Rose Bowl-bound UCLA Bruins at Eugene, Ore.

Reynolds passed for one touchdown and several sensational runs set up the second. He carried the porkhide 13 times for an average of 6.1 yards per try.

A sophomore, weighing 170 pounds, Reynolds and the veteran Roblin are the Webfoots' offensive threats.

Southern California's speedy Trojans won their second conference victory here Saturday when they walloped a favored University of California Bear eleven.

Early odds have SC favored to cop her second straight game. The Webfoots are not lightly regarded, however. Always a good defensive outfit, their offensive game continues to improve and a real tussle may be expected.

Mickey McCardle, high-stepping breakaway artist and passer; Bob Musick, crashing fullback, and Jim Hardy are expected to match the two Oregon threats.

Jackie Wilson Kayos Miller

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Sgt. Jackie Wilson, 148, Los Angeles, Calif., scored an 8-round knockout over Bernie Miller, 142½, New York, at the St. Nicholas arena Monday night. The bout was scheduled for 8 rounds.

St. Paul Baptist Marches On

Under the Banner of The Holy Ghost.

Many unusual things have transpired in the St. Paul Baptist Church in the last twelve or thirteen years.

1. The church was able to pay off a mortgage and outstanding debts, to the amount of $9,600.00.
2. The church was remodeled at a cost of $8,000.00.
3. The Bible temple was renovated at a cost of $800.00.
4. The church was carpeted and furnished with new chairs involving an outlay of $750.00.
5. The church was supplied with a very expensive pipe organ, the original price of which was $7,500.00.

Out of all these occurences, the most impressive one was done last Thursday night, Nov. 5, 1942, when a set of collossal, mammoth and expensive organ chimes were unveiled and dedicated to the service and glory of our Christ.

The program was in charge of our outstanding ministers of the city and state, with their congregation and choirs. The program was elaborate and impressive.

Aside from the spirituality of the affair, the churches and friends made a very commendable financial contribution of $226.50.

Last Sunday was another great day in St. Paul, with Holy Ghost preaching by two dynamic young preachers, and evangelical singing. The church was really blessed, a massive congregation was very attentive, and of receptive minds, there were eleven accessions, including one for baptism.

The total offering for the day was $290.65.

Next Sunday, Nov. 15th, the same two young preachers, who seem to be endowed with the Holy Ghost, will bring the morning and evening messages.

Come worship with us in St. Paul, "a spirit filled church and love for everybody."

Unity Truth Center Named for B. June Cobb

In gratefulness to the work she started, the Unity Truth Center is now the B. June Cobb Institute, Incorporated.

The church activities that have kept in forward motion the work started by the late B. June Cobb, its founder, have been very successful. Ministers have and are continuing to bless us with teachings of Christ and his goodness.

Among those are the following ministers Revs. Brown, Day, Robinson, Williams, Love and many others, with Rev. Willie Fitch ably in charge as assistant pastor.

The Sunday School, with superintendent, Mrs. L. Gosey, and teachers, J. Carper, R. Parks, Mrs. Soreson and others, is wide awake and proving a blessing to many. A complete Sunday's activities under their guidance was a great success.

Letters have been and are still being received and considered for a minister of truth of this center who is desirous of carrying on work as started by the founder, B. June Cobb. Initial founder's day has been decided as Dec. 6, 1942.

We are asking the prayers and help of all that this work might continue.

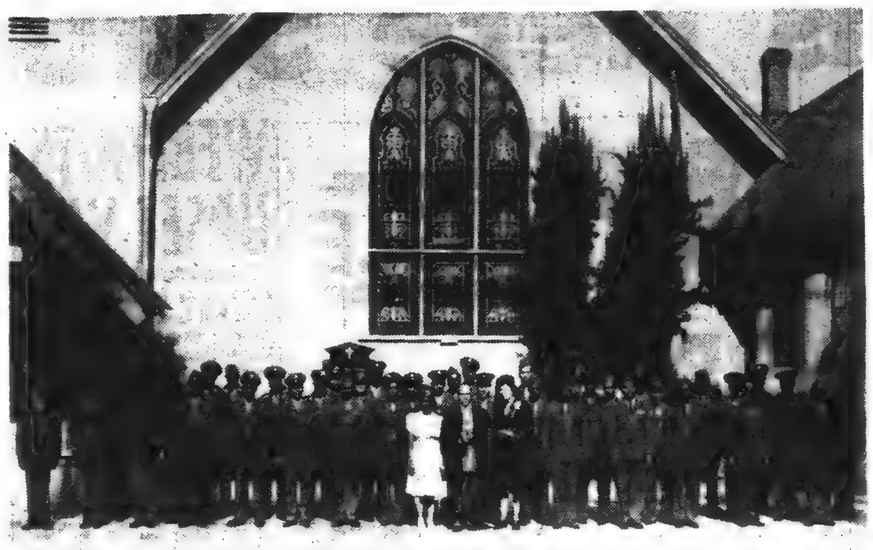
Homecoming Day at Mt. Zion Is Huge Success



The Home Coming Mission Day at Mt. Zion Baptist Church on last Thursday, Nov. 5th, was the finest that has been held for some time. The president, Mrs. L. M. Adams, and her co-workers served a free chicken dinner with all its trimmings besides all kinds of sandwiches, hot cocoa, tea, milk and plenty of home made cake. More than 40 women assembled.

In the afternoon the State President, Mrs. W. I. Carter, was the principal speaker. Over 75 women responded to the appeal and came. Mrs. Carter was at her best outlining the work for the year. The entire day was inspiring and helpful. Christian friendliness joined in with Mt. Zion in making the day one long to be remembered.

To all mission societies keep in mind that on the fourth Sunday in this month we are due at Zion Hill Baptist Church at 3 p. m. Mrs. W. D. Carter, principal speaker.

The fifth Sunday Macedonia Baptist Church at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Lillian Stewart, State Chairman, principal speaker.

The first Sunday in December "Big Mass Meeting" friendship Baptist Church, Pasadena. Combined Mission Circles. Excellent program to be rendered on this day.

The service men were the guests of Benjamin J. Bowie Auxialry 228, American Legion, with Mrs. Christine Cloyd, President, and Florence Carter, Community Service Chairman.

Ex-Pastor at 8th, Towne Sunday

The Rev. J. M. Brown, of Oakland, a former pastor of First AME church, 801 Towne avenue, will be the guest minister on Sunday, Nov. 15. Rev. Brown, who lived for many years in Pasadena, after leaving the service of this church, now makes his home in Oakland. He will preach at both morning and evening services.

Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor, was guest speaker last Sunday at Allen Temple, Atlanta, Ga., and this Sunday, on his way back to California, will be guest speaker at Bethel AME church of Kansas City, Mo. Rev. Jordan has been attending conferences of the AME church in the southeastern section of the church and will bring back many interesting facts concerning the work of the church and the condition and attitude of our people in that section of the country.

Prof. George R. Garner continues ill at Huntington Park hospital in Pasadena. On Sunday a special prayer was offered for him by the church, led by the Rev. W. J. Conquest, who was speaker for the day.

REV. S. A. WILLIAMS TO PREACH IN LANDON

On the fourth Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29, at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. S. A. Williams, pastor of the St. Paul Baptist church, will be in Landon to preach the first anniversary sermon at the Community Baptist church.

EARL PLEASANT CHORUS TO SING AT SECOND AME

Cor. 43rd and San Pedro Place
Rev. Jno. B. Isaacs, Minister

Three ministers worshipped and took part in the services at Second A. M. E. Church on Sunday last; Rev. Beard, Rev. and Mrs. Townsend. The choir under the direction of Ella Mae Crosland rendered excellent music. The minister, Rev. Isaacs was eloquent in his sermon on "Tree-Like Christians." The attendance was large.

A free dinner to the members and friends will be served on Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock. You are cordially invited to attend and to partake.

The Earl Pleasant Interdenominational Chorus will sing on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, under the auspices of the Trustees with Mr. J. L. Lampkins as Master of Ceremonies.

We will appreciate the cooperation of all churches and their pastors, as we are going to build a social hall. Send all donations to Mrs. Estella Powell, Route 2, Box L-80, Fontana.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" is the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from Romans: "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God."

Scriptural selections include these verses from Paul's second letter to the Corinthians: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. . . For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life."

Quoted from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "In the illusion of life that is here to-day and gone to-morrow, man would be wholly mortal, were it not that Love, the divine Principle that obtains in divine Science, destroys all error and brings immortality to light. Because man is the reflection of his Maker, he is not subject to birth, growth, maturity, decay. These mortal dreams are of human origin, not divine."

Dedicatory Program at Baptist Temple

The Baptist Temple, 620 E. 48th street, had a great day Sunday, Nov. 1. Pastor Sweeney preached a wonderful sermon Sunday morning, using for his subject, "Alone With Christ." One young woman from Chicago joined the church.

Dr. A. T. Hines brought us another great sermon at 8:00 p. m.

The dedicatory program of the Pure Gospel Bible school and Baptist Temple began Sunday, Nov. 8. Sunday School was held at 10:00 a. m. At 11:30, Dr. J. C. Sweeney preached the sermon, from the subject, "Sacrifice." At 8:00 p. m., the Southern Gospel Singers, under their leader, Prof. A. L. Johnson, gave us a great program.

The dedicatory program will continue until Nov. 29. We have some of our very noted men and women on our program, including Hon. Wm. Nickerson jr., president of the Golder State Insurance company; S. P. Johnson, president of the Conner-Johnson company, and many of the leading pastors of the city.

We invite friends and members to attend these meetings and see our new building.

New Prelate at First AME Zion Church

Pico and Paloma Streets

The Rev. Paul M. Marshall, former minister of the First A. M. E. Zion Church of Sacramento, California, was appointed to the First A. M. E. Zion Church at the recent conference that convened last Wednesday, the 4th, at the First Church, presided over by Bishop W. C. Brown, the presiding Bishop of the Southwest Rocky Mountain conference of the A. M. E. Zion church. Mr. Marshall has done outstanding work in his former pastorage, and he comes here well recommended. He received his early education in the public schools of St. Louis, Missouri. He received his Bachelor of Sacred Literature from Drake University. Rev. Marshall has pastored some of the first churches in the Missouri conference, building a new church in Des Moines, Iowa, and remodeling others. He has purchased a commodious parsonage in Sacramento, Calif., which is a credit to any church. He will fill his pulpit Sunday morning at the First church, Pico and Paloma streets. He is ably assisted by Mrs. Jessica Marshall, his wife, who has had experience in social work. She also received her early schooling in Missouri and Pennsylvania, receiving her Bachelor's of Art, in Education from Stowe Teachers' College in St. Louis. While in Sacramento she has been employed as a payroll clerk for the government at the McClellan Field, while her husband was civilian chaplain at the Air Depot.

The membership is happy to have this fine young couple as their leader.

Race Track GOSSIP

By Jay Gould

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The three glamour grils this week are Muriel Breeden, Ruth Scaggs and Janie Foster of 'Frisco.

The three best dressed women of the week are Ethel Richie, show stopper; Edith Spencer, ex-show beauty; and Doorthy Webster of Oakland.

Lionel Hampton's group played to a capacity crowd at the Oakland auditorium, with the SRO sign out early.

John A. BurTon, dance promoter, lost over $900 t'other night in an Oakland smoke shop playing his favorite game.

Mrs. Lena Alexander of Oakland was seeing the sights in 'Frisco and switched from one night club to another buying drinks for the house.

A. Larie is now the biggest colored bettor on the coast. Larie is 50-50 owner of Jack's Tavern. He bet $560 on Defense the other day, which was ink.

W. C. Buchanan, Judge Kearney and the well-dressed censor boss, Mr. Fisk, saw everything and all the people.

Eddie Anderson's Burnt Cork won in record time; Duke Brownin's Valdina Doll won two in a row, while A. Glasier's Tiny Tim won at a god price. So the colored syndicate won four races in a week.

Too many long shots winning and supsets. It has all the bettors hanging on a rope. The big sepia sports had a bad week. Black Dot McKee lost $300. Sonny Howard lost $600; Jimmie Fitts went for $700 in town and $300 at the track; Sonny Lee of Seattle lost $200. Bob Hurford, Henry Randall, Cecil Washington, Ferguson, Vernon Brown, Clarence Estelle and Jimmie Morrell came home singing the "St. Louis Blues."

Johnny Cornish won $500; A. Love won $1500; Cornelius Clipper won 80 bucks; Tommy Jordan won 150 bucks. Lovejoy, the comedian, won $600; Ethel Carter, Miss Rebecca (ex-) Clipper, Mrs. Willie B McCovery, Mrs. Rex Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Victoria Francis, Genevieve Friend, Ray Baughnight, Peggie Armstrong and Ula Anderson, all lost but are willing to take another whack for it.

Gene Miffin had a good day at the Meadows.

Mrs. Florence Thompson: You had better not play too much.

Write or wire Jay Gould, 1716 Webster street, San Francisco.

Fighting Seventh

Give us a song we can sing,
And a gun that won't go cold,
Give us a man that will lead us,
And we'll lick the entire foe.

When the fighting goes the hardest
And the zero hour's near
You can see our fighting men,
Go to battle with a cheer.

We're a hard-hitting outfit
Up until the hour eleventh
We're a crack young regiment,
We're the California Seventh.

GIVE FREE BLOOD TESTS TO FIGHT HEALTH FOE NO. 1

It takes morale to win a war. Good morale can only be built on a foundation of good health.

So says Chairman John E. Hargrove, of the Southeast District Health Association's Special Committee on Venereal Disease.

"Public health enemy number one in America today is venereal disease," he stated in a recent interview. "Our association is offering free blood tests to any church, lodge, or union group which wants them. One out of every 42 Americans has syphilis NOW. Gonorrhea victims number more than three times that many. During selective service examinations in California it was discovered that half the men who had syphilis did not know they had it!

"You begin to see why, the deadly spirochete and the crippling gonococcus germs are hailed by the Axis as a prize pair of fifth columnists in this country."

President Roosevelt, Hargrove added, has publicly called attention to this fact in his request that all America—man, woman, and child—join in a national campaign "to establish total moral and physical fitness."

According to Public Health Service statistics, in the last war 157,000 more American soldiers were disabled by venereal diseases than by shot, shell, or other regular weapons of warfare. A total of 7 million days were spent in hospitals by victims of gonorrhea and syphilis—which means that 20,000 American fighting men lost one whole year of action in World War I. And this in spite of being freer from venereal diseases than any of our allies.

A CIVILIAN PROBLEM

Today it costs about $25,000 to turn a Yank into a fighting pilot. If this man falls victim to syphilis he is "dead" as far as his use to the Army goes.

"An infected man is grounded, just as if he had been shot down by the enemy," Hargrove stated. "And we lose another man, and we lose the money and the precious time it takes to train him.

"True, the infected man gets treatment in the service. But he gets his infection on his leaves from camp. Venereal diseases are and always will be a civilian problem. They are every taxpayer's problem. Caring for the syphilitic blind in this nation costs $10,000,000 a year; caring for the syphilitic insane costs $31,000,000. YOU pay your share of all this.

Progressive citizens, concluded Hargrove, have formed the Southeast District Health association, and are earnestly tackling the vicious scourge of venereal diseases as their first patriotic duty. They know this scourge can be stamped out in one generation—and are fighting on the home front to do it.

The health association offers free blood tests to all who wish them. Find out details by phoning MAdison 1271, Station 788.

Super-Shades

The flowers are yellow, red, and blue,
Brown, green, black—of every hue;
They fraternize in brotherhood,
Each breed respecting all as good.
They smile, good neighbors, at day's dawn
And nod until the sunset's gone;
Through the night they whisper not
Nor peep the windows 'cross the lot.

But man—that weed that walks erect,
For all but self has no respect.
If born to skin of feeble white
His colored brothers are as night;
His nose atilt he struts with pride,
Arrogant because his hide
Is pale of face and trunk and limb—
And vanity makes a fool of him.

What Have You Lost Lately?

Every day two workers in the defense plants miss their lunches because they left their lunch boxes on some L. A. Railway car or bus on the way to work.

. . . and some 20 students find they have lost school books every week.

In the meantime our "Lost and Found" department is gathering flashlights, pliers, hammers, knives, wrenches, forks, spoons, pots, pans, vases and even coats, car-jacks and, in one case, a car fender.

Now that the rainy season has started, if averages follow the rules of past years, we're going to find an endless number of umbrellas left on the cars and coaches when the passenger reaches his destination.

All these items are held in the "Lost and Found" department, 1050 So. Broadway, for a number of weeks and, if uncalled for, are then turned over to finder.

Most of the items we find, however, are called for and, upon proper identification are turned over to the loser.

"I'd like to suggest," said L. A. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service of the Los Angeles Railway, "that your name, address and phone number be placed upon every article or package you carry with you while traveling on our cars and buses so that we could get in touch with you in case something that belongs to you finds its way into our "Lost and Found" department.

and will probably save you a lot of worry some day."

Make Plans for Bill of Rights Anniversary

"In this war, every man is an indispensable man, and every woman an indispensable woman."

That theme, given by Joe Crail, Bill of Rights committee chairman, will this year dominate observance of the 151st anniversary of the American Bill of Rights.

Preliminary plans for the commemoration were made at a meeting in the Biltmore hotel, with the dominant sentiment being that the observance should be dedicated to constructive methods preserving the principles of the Bill of Rights through active furtherance of the war effort.

CHANGED CONDITIONS

Pointing to the changed conditions since last year's commemoration, Crail said, "The question now is not whether we can preserve the American Bill of Rights, it is whether we can preserve America."

Among those present were Mrs. Edmund Gale, Friday Morning Club president; Dr. Vierling Kersey, Los Angeles city school superintendent; Harold Kennedy, Los Angeles County Civilian Defense director; Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Charles E. Sharritt, the mayor's field secretary; R. Bruce Walter, Los Angeles County schools chief deputy assistant superintendent, and Lawrence D. Pritchard of the University of Southern California.

Dental Clinic at School

Dr. John W. Brady, and his assistant, Mrs. R. Quigley, are now conducting a dental clinic at Jefferson high school and will remain until Dec. 11.

Mrs. Gertrude Smith, coordinator of health, decides who is eligible for service. However, anyone may have his teeth inspected and receive advice.

Because the graduating boys and girls need to have teeth in perfect condition for health certificates, they are taking care of the senior A's first.

Bombardier Class Has Party in Jeff Cafeteria

The Bombardiers, B-12 class of Jefferson high school, had their class party Wednesday, Nov. 4, in the school cafeteria.

The cafeteria was decorated with maroon and white streamers. An array of flags and a large bomber, drawn by Allen Estes and Ben Walker, added patriotic interest.

The program was original. The scenes were various outposts of American troops. The bombardier at each outpost would announce the next number. On the program were Etta Wanda Mason, Virginia Grace, Gloria High, Elbertine Cloven, Dorothy Atchison and John Taylor. Betty Logan, the boogie-woogie artist, made the cafeteria rock to music provided by Samuel Brown's swing band, which also furnished some selections of its own.

Refreshments were hot dogs, ice cream, and orangeade. Mrs. Zetta Walmsley was the faculty advisor who assisted the committees with the planning of the affair. Faculty guests were C. A. Dickson, Mrs. Marion Martino, Mrs. Bertha Boyd, William Reilly, and Clarke Cosgrove.

Modest expression is a beautiful setting to the diamond of talent and genius.—Chapin.

RADIO GIVEN TO USO

Last Friday, November 6, Miss Violet Aldridge, head sponsor of the USO, 28th Street branch publicly acknowledged her thanks on behalf of the Women's Canteen Workers, Junior Hostesses and other service units, to the Thirteen Toppers Social Club, which donated a lovely R.C.A. Victor radio to the USO for the sertvice men. The radio, beautifully engraved in gold letters with the name of the club, elaborately decorated in true military style, red, white and blue, was graciously presented by the former president, Miss Emma Milhouse.

Each year, for the past three years, the Thirteen Toppers have successfully presented a unique Coffee hour and fashion show. This year on Sept. 13 in spite of various conflicts due to the present day situation, the Toppers presented their third annual coffee hour and surpassed their goal, with the aim of willingly donating the proceeds of this affair to some worthy cause.

The Thirteen Toppers Social club, having been organized since 1937, has presented on numerous occasions gay social functions.

Home of Mrs. Porche Scene of Luncheon

The residence of Mrs. Delia Porche, 1509½ W. 36th place, was the scene recently of a lovely luncheon.

A large number of guests were entertained, including the following: Miss Betty Akins, Mrs. Herbert Crowder, Mrs. Eve Gagnet, Mrs. Freda Flower, Miss Carnile Brown, Mrs. Clarence Lewis, Mrs. Evelyn King, Mrs. Vernon Robinson, Mrs. Clara Hostin, Mrs. Georgia Robinson, Mrs. Blanche Mikens, Mrs. Gladys Sudduit.

Miss Ardell Cleveland won first prize; Mrs. Barver Bicktof, second prize; and Mrs. Quina Austin, of Denver, Colo., received guest prize.

The house was very attractive, carrying out the color scheme of Hallowe'en.

Mr., Mrs. LeRoy Sims Entertain

On Hallowe'en night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sims, 1338 E. Adams boulevard, Club Woconsi entertained a number of friends at a chili dinner.

Games were played throughout the evening. Everyone left for home in the wee small hours calling Mrs. Sims a very charming hostess.

Windy City . . . Brrr, its cold in Chi . . . Californy was never more missed, by cracky! . . . Well, me hearties, tis true. Marva IS going to have a baby, so there . . . Saw fun-loving Mayme Shaw in Cinncy last tweek. Mayme tops our list of rare folk . . . Lawdy, Lawdy, she's a tonic . . . and Allah knows you need atonic in Cinncy, goin' and comin' . . . Bill Allen, in Cinncy last weekend with the Fisk Jubilee Singers (if you could but hear them—ahhhh!), looks trimmer, still plays some frantic pinochle and remains always a swell guy. Tell us his brother Bob is in khaki . . .

Chi . . . Somebody tells me Steve Lockett is here . . . Grand time of it, reunion with good ole Joe Makel, who will volunteer soon—gay-cattin' here and creepin' there . . . yes, yes . . . Gonz Motts, ailing abed . . . Hullo-there with a few of the Lunceford lads, in town . . . Expect to see the Ellington gang when they unravel, Frid. Can well imagine Bre'er Ellington is heading toward NY to be in them thar parts when he becomes an uncle within the next few months or more . . . Eyeing the calendar: Hmmm, wasn't Betty Hudson handed her final divorce papers in LA last week? Sho nuff . . . Sarah Griffin birthdays on the 26th. Well, that alone is good reason for us to wed, e our way onto one of these jammed westbound choo-choos and be home in ample time to help paddle Sarah! . . .

His cronies will be glad to learn Corp. Eddie Smith, back again in Georgia after a (nicely balanced!) trip to Gotham, was No. man in his large class, and the only tan tone lad around for miles . . . Told me to be sure and query—right here—when Norman Archer weds Elsie Rakestraw . . . Norman, last of the bon vivants, sitting home nights, in his slippers, nodding over the papers and not giving the avenoo a teeny thought convinces me I will have seen everything . . . Folk send greetings o Chappie and Walter Bryant and Leontyne King . . . Amusing musing: It that snow Luther Thompson is in closes down before we can hasten home in order to see for ourselves, we'll up and die . . . NYawkers have heard, we take it, Jimmy Daniels is in uniform?

. . . Al (Golden Boy) Smith, who had such a fling of it in LA last year, will be in khaki when you read this . . . and word of Tommy Long in khaki put the finishing touch to the disquieting thought in our mind that the ole gang surely is being broken up, altho temporarily! . . . Thelma Price, who birthdays on the 23rd, is returning to L. A. this mo. She looks grand . . . Rhetta Jean Boswell is returning to L. A., also. She'll wed an army medico, stationed at Ft. Huachuca . . .

Continued delightful hours with Ruby Elzy and Jack Carr, also in Chi from Cinncy. Ruby, let me be the first to tell ya, will do the title role of "Aida" when her current task is completed. And ya should see the eye-widening costume, etc. Ruby will do her trallying in . . . taking for granted no news is good news, we havent heard how ailing Mildred Blount is doin . . . well, we hope . . . Missed seeing Mae Muse, who was in NY shortly before we left for Dee Cee . . . Mrs. R. Fred Cleveland is in Frisco, bag and baggage . . . Tell me, why was that slated wedding betwixt the LA schoolmarm and the musician called off? Shock o' our life to run smack into him, drowning his sorrows at the Rhumboogie, here in Chi . . . and weeping in his beer chaser because a lovely lovelie, in our (protective) wingtold, reminded him so much of his last love!

Showtime in Chi is a busy one. Marquees are sparkling with snows, with more yet to pull in . . . You knew, of course, one of the first things Reggie Beane (who lived very quietly in LA, we learn) will do when he finally gets home to NY is have his appendix yanked? . . . we're a wee bit peeved with Reggie, gol darn it, but we forgive him . . . Mentioning NY, Bill Chase, than which there is no whicher, will also soon be among those droopy-mouth lads measured for khaki. Well, if we know Bill at all even the army won't altogether stymie that guy . . . Athalia Scott, who was in LA several seasons back fror DeeCee, was all set to fall in step with the WAACs but at the last minute changed her mind . . . Mrs. Todd Duncan is in Chi, after a quiet retreat to the Mayo Bros. Clinic . . . Scene: Etta Moten, swathed in black fur and glittering jewlery, dashing down So. Pk., at her hubby's side and headed downtown toward the Studebaker Theatre whence she is the diva, now in evidence . . .

(Brrrr—its STILL cold, dern it) . . . Gorgeous velvet brown Mattie Anderson will wed an Okla. lad in Detroit Thanksgiving, now that her divorce is final . . . Finger-snap: Now we know who Larry Dani ls reminds us so strongly of, in LA . . . Tom Jackson, of course! . . . they could be twins . . . Not even a wisp o' word meant her presence in LA, but I just know Gladys (Boo) Dent swept into town from up North, upset the place, and swept right back out again . . . nobody could ever outnatch her for su-weeping in places . . . miss gabbing with her over a chicken set-up at Ivie's way late . . . Out of the confusion which is DeeCee, I gathered that out of every ten people breathlessly reporting for work from elsewhere there will be five who will sooner or later give it up as the worst move they ever made, and amble on back home, gladly . . . In case you hadnt guessed it, everyplace you go is bowling MAD! All day, all nite—never saw so many old cronies transferring their cramped right hand from picking up glasses at the bar to the nearest bowling alley and recramping, but from that heavy ball.

Reflective grin: Seeing Lydia Burwell Johnson in the Cinncy Sta. with a gentleman with muscles at her right, and muscles with a gentleman at her left. All three, all smiles. Golly, it was good seeing her!! She'll be in LA in Dec., white Xmas or no white Xmas. With that fabulous mink she was toting when we saw her, dear Lydia won't have snow to ever worry her eternally-black lil head about . . . Cal Bailey is hard at work creating the Betty Lou character in ink for the Tommy Riggs air show . . . I believe Bertine Tildon is here in Chi, en route to LA for a visit. Saw Bert in NY during the summer . . . Popped in the Regal the other nite to view the all-race newsreel. Is quite good!

. . . Can hardly wait to actually see Jim Scott pushing his son's carriage down the street . . . Musa Williams is in Chi, and looking the role of a mannequin . . . Harold Batiste flew from Ariz. to Md. the other day to prepare for officer's training . . . What has become of Eugene Gash, the brilliant, promising young concert pianist from Denver? He was off to such a glorious start, and I, for one, was anticipating his appearance in LA.

Did I ever tell you Marie Joe Browne is a pupil of Josephine Dillon, the first Mrs. Clark Gable? . . . Where is Langston Hughes, someone leans over a table at the Grand Hotel to ask . . . Can't help wondering how the gas ration will affect the jitneys on So. Pk! . . . Incident: Listening to a young Princeton lad relate the wholesale "discussion" now on at Princeton to grant Negroes the "privilege" of entering. We asked him what of their "privilege" to fight! . . .

Guess we should pop in Omaha . . . but I dunno . . .

SPEND WEEK-END AT HOME OF FONTANA COUPLE

FONTANA, Nov. 12. (By Mrs. Estella Powell)—Mr. Albert McNeil, with his mother, Mrs. McNeil; his sister., Doorthy Eloise Collier; LeRoy Kelley, of Independent church: Mrs. Ida Collier, New Hope Baptist; and Don Lee White, of Evening Star Baptist church, spent a recent week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mouton.

Mrs. Julia Grant, of Calvary Baptist church, Santa Monica, has moved to her ranch home here.

All of these friends worshiped with us in the morning services, which were carried on successfully in the absence of our pastor, Rev. Bently, who was at the cornerstone laying at Providence church.

The spirit of Community Baptist was high and the people were made happy listening to the songs sung by Eloise Dorothya, Don Lee and Lee Roy, accompanied by Albert.

Mrs. Grant and Mrs. McNeil conducted devotionals. Mrs. Mouton read a paper, subject, "What Is the Church." Estella Powell sang "Some Day"; and Don Lee favored us with a piano selection, "When I Have Done My Best." All contributed generously, both spiritually and financially.

Oakland Man Is L. A. Visitor

Mr. R. B. Cornelius, of Oakland, was guest during the past week of Miss Margie Alton. Mr. Cornelius was lavishly entertained during the stay here by his pugilistic friends, Acy Haynesworth and Connie Greene. Mr. Cornelius will make an extensive trip East.

THE ZODIAC SIGN OF SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 22

Some lead the life of reason, others the life of emotion, few the life of action, and, the majority a life of contemplation. You who are born of Scorpio lead, understand, and can master all of these. Yet the mainspring of your existence is not found in any one of them, but in a certain inwardness of approach to all, and to the point of sainthood—can, in fact, be all of these at once without seeing or feeling any contradiction or inconsistency.

The symbolism of this Zodiac sign is dualistic. On the one hand, Scorpio is the eagle, soaring the heights and losing itself in the heavens; on the other hand, the Scorpion, inhabiting the very depths of the sea. Today we may perhaps think of Scorpio as a submarine, weathering the seas, capable of diving below to profound or degrading depths, but never failing to keep an eye on the periscope and the high, wide horizons that it shows.

For further information concerning this sign, or any of the other 12 Zodiacal signs, write for your 1943 Horoscope at once.

L. M. J.—Dear Sir: I thank you for helping me. Since I received my Hindu Charm Bag, I have had three or four jobs offered to me. I have started on one of them. May the Lord bless you and help you keep up the good work.

Mrs. V. M.—Does he love me?

Ans.: It appears to me that this person cares a great deal for you. Circumstances prevent his expressing himself in terms which you would understand. Give him a little more time to get matters straightened out and I am sure he will give you every reason to believe he loves you.

C. L. C.—Will I ever have any luck?

Ans: Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate the coming months as showing a vast change in your luck. You have been passing thru a cycle of ill luck, but it is going to pass. I would like to help you overcome your difficulties. Write in at your earliest opportunity.

Heartbroken—How will we solve our problem?

Ans.: It would behoove both of you to forget your petty grievances now that you have something more tangible to think of. When he gets his furlough, discuss your problems, find a solution and try to make him happy. Remember, everything you can do and say to bring happiness int ohis life is very important, now.

G. D.—I read your column in the California EAGLE each week. You are helping so many people that I feel you can help me. I took a Civil Service examination and passed. Do you think I will be successful in obtaining employment soon?

Ans.: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that you were very good on this examination and for that reason, I feel that it will not be very long before you hear from the Civil Service board in regards to an appointment.

L. L. H. W.—Are these things really true about my husband and this woman?

Ans.: Probing into the matter I find that you are a victim of malicious gossip. You should turn a deaf ear to such nonsense. Your husband loves you and true to you, and until such time as you see for yourself some proof of his unfaithfulness, dismiss these doubts from your mind.

J. B. C.—When will I get the money?

Ans.: After giving your question careful thought and concentration, I find that this money has been held up for personal reasons. But you will hear some very good news in the near future.

M. R.—Is my decision right?

Ans.: It seems that your boy friend has made several requests, which you feel are unfair. In some respects you are right. Keep your self-respect and good name always. I am sure he will give you credit for doing so, later on.

CELEBRATE FIRST ANNUAL "VAL VERDE DAY"

Last Saturday, November 7th, Val Verde was the scene of a feature attraction. Val Verde day was celebrated for the first time in its years of pioneering with an old fashion bar-b-q and picnic given by the residents of Val Verde.

The day was spent in games of the pioneer days, expression and experience composed the program, a perfect co-operation prevailed.

Barbecued pork, lamb and beef with all the trimmings were served to make a perfect day.

Nothing was left undone to make the day a gala affair, a unanimous vote was taken to designiate this day annually "Val Verde Day."

COMMUNITY BAPTIST TO VISIT IN POMONA SUNDAY

Duarte and Shamrock Ave.
Rev. John A. Davis, Pastor

The Sunday School opened on time; the pastor reviewed the lesson, to the delight of those present. The pastor preached a very fine sermon. Subject, "God's Uplifhting." The message was enjoyed by all.

At 8 p. m. the regular second Sunday evening Talent night was observed. The following program was rendered: Bro. Jewell Wallace, Master of Ceremonies. Paper by Mrs. T. C. Carter; paper, Mrs. L. J. Oatis; recitation by Mrs. Mandeline Zion; solo by Bro. J. Wallace; reading, Mrs. N. Brown; recitation by John Zion Jr.; trio by Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Anderson; solo by Mrs. Moss.

The pastor and members will motor to Pomona next Sunday afternoon to attend the anniversary services.

Baptist Temple Dedicatory Services Continue

The Baptist Temple Church, 620 E. 48th Street, had tow great services Sunday at 11:30 a. m. Pastor Sweeney delivered a great sermon from the subject, "Sacrificed."

At 8:30 p. m. we were favored with the presence of the Southern Gospel Singers under the leadership of Prof. A. L. Johnson. It was a musical treat. The dedicatory services of the Baptist Temple will continue through Nov. 28th, during which time many leading pastors, churches, choirs and professional men will appear on our program including the Providence Baptist Association under the leadership of Dr. B. W. Wade. We will close with a big reception for the visiting pastors, churches, professional men and visitors.

We invite the public to attend these services.

A. Williams, Reporter.

FILIBUSTER: 'NATION IS AGHAST AND ENRAGED', C.I.O.'S. PHIL MURRAY

Eight Senators Arrested In Capital; Los Angeles Demands F. B. I. Probe of Sen. Bilbo

DEMOCRATS SPLIT; CAPITAL IN UPROAR

WASHINGTON—Reflecting the general national reaction to the Dixie die-hard filibuster of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll tax bill was a letter addressed to all Senators by Phil Murray, national president of the C.I.O. He told the legislators, "This nation stands aghast and enraged at the tactics of a small bloc which is seeking to frustrate majority rule in this nation."

On the Sidewalk

by W. A. B.

(Today I am quoting a column written here several months ago which I believe correctly forecast the tremendous split in the Democratic party which is now apparent to the whole nation through the bitter contest surrounding passage of the anti-poll tax bill—c. a. b.)

I quote:

What I am trying to say is this: that today, for the first time since 1877, there lies before Negro America the opportunity to effect basic and permanent changes in our position. This must be done within the frame-work of a bitter struggle against the Axis. Indeed, it can only be done this way or we defeat our own ends as well as freedom everywhere in the world.

As the war issues have matured, there has come about an absolutely stupendous regrouping of forces in America. That regrouping has transformed the Negro into a political aggressor rather than a political victim. We, the most viciously, shamefully victimized group in America, throw off the negative protest against oppression, which has been our major activity for decades, to appear in the forefront of progressive elements as a powerful determinant factor in establishing policy for the whole nation.

To appreciate fully the immense potentialities of the present hour, it is necessary to examine the road by which we have reached it.

(Here a section analyzed briefly the Civil War and Reconstruction epochs, concluding with a picture of the "gentleman's agreement" between Northern and Southern reactionaries which has characterized American political life for the past sixty years.)

. . . . One Administration after the other scrupulously adhered to the gentleman's agreement. There was no interference with the Solid South

This situation has prevailed even throughout the Administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Our President inaugurated the first pro-labor government in the nation's history. But in order to carry out the sweeping reforms of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and similar legislation, Roosevelt, has been forced to knuckle under to the Solid South. Thruout his first two terms, there is nothing to indicate a real opposition to the basic evils of the South. Roosevelt and the Solid South were temporary comrades and the Negro still relegated to the political priphery.

All this prior to the most explosive event in our modern history—Pearl Harbor!

There followed an earthquake in our political life.

First of all, the war is not an imperialist war. It is not that imperialists will not try to con-

Filibustering tactics by a rank minority of Dixie die-hards succeeded this week in forestalling Senate action on the Pepper-Geyer anti-poll tax bill.

However, the bitter determination of Administration forces to jam the measure through this session was revealed Saturday when, on the motion of Democratic Senate leader Alben Barkley eight Senators were arrested by order of the Vice-President and brought to the Senate chambers. The Senators had absented themselves in order to break a quorum and prevent the bill from being called up.

—BULLETIN—

—It was learned at press time last night that Senator Hiram Johnson is attending the Senate anti-poll tax debate. Senator Sheridan Downey is in Arizona on business for the Farm Labor committee. His return must be urged.

Arrested were Senators Doxie, D., Miss., Maybank, D., S. C., O'Daniel, D., Tex., McKellar, D., Tenn., Russell, D., Ga., Hill, D., Ala., Overton, D., La., and Bunker, D., Nev.

The action came as a blow to the Dixie forces and it catapaulted the poll tax issue into head-

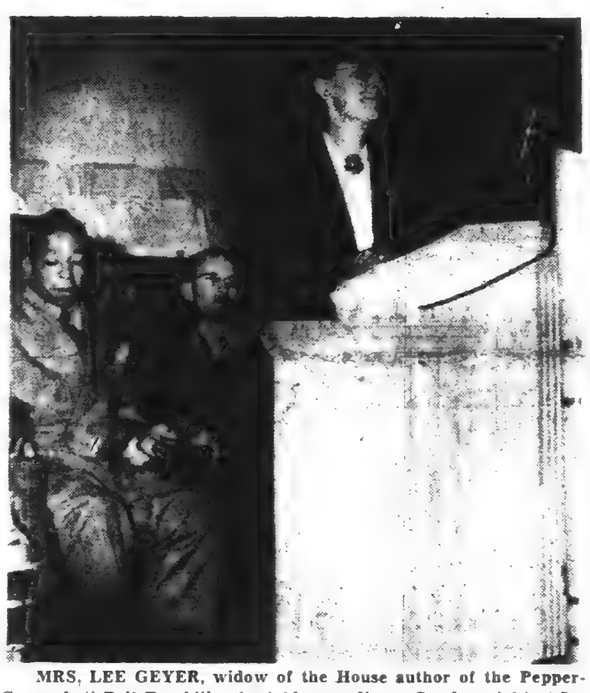
EAGLE EDITOR HITS POLL TAX OVER ETHER

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE editor, will appear on a radio round-table discussion of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll tax bill Friday eve at 5:15—6:15 on station K-P--A-S. She will appear on the Tom Van Dyke program along with Supervisor John Anson Ford, chairman of the Los Angeles Anti-Poll Tax Committee; William B. Taylor, of the aircraft division of the United Automobile Workers; and Rose Segure, of the State, County and Municipal Workers of America, CIO. The program will be broadcast from Music Town at Sunset and Vine streets in Hollywood.

Dauntless Worker Gets No. Amer. Job

The seemingly iron-clad bar against the employment of Negro women in the upper bracket skilled trades at North American aircraft company was thrown for a loss when Miss E. Lea Manson, of 1424 Bandera street, was recently hired there. Miss Manson was placed in the electrical assembly department as a radio technician trainee.

Miss Manson, who studied radio installation, was the only colored girl in a class of 26 students who graduated last July from a local defense school. Although she made a grade of 90, she was not given a letter of recommendation by the instructor, while her hwite class mates (Many with grades as low as 75) received such letters.



She then applied at North American, where she was given the usual line—that there were no openings. But, possessed of pluck and persistence, she returned to the plant at various intervals.

Finally, one of the employment clerks, who had been seeing her often, informed her that the fact that there were no colored persons in the electrical assembly department was the reason that she had been turned down.

But Miss Manson took this in stride, and answered that she

GEYER'S WIDOW SPEAKS

MRS. LEE GEYER, widow of the House author of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill, who told an audience Sunday night at Independent Church of Christ, "NOW is the time we must exert every ounce of pressure—NOW!"

VICE PRESIDENT HITS 'WHITE SUPREMACY'; HE POINTS TO RUSSIA

Vice-President Henry A. Wallace blasted "White Superiority" and hailed President Roosevelt's executive order 8802 in a speech before 20,000 gathered at New York City's Madison Square Garden by the Committee for Soviet-American Friendship.

Wallace pointed to the absence of racial prejudice in the Soviet as a model for America. He said: "A third kind of democracy, which I shall call ethnic, is in my opinion vital to the new democracy, the democracy of the common man. Ethnic democracy means merely that the different races and minority groups must be given equality of economic opportunity. President Roosevelt was guided by principles of ethnic democracy when in June of 1941

French, Navy Hero, Is in City

Saved Raft of Shipmates After Naval Action

Charles French, Negro naval hero who rescued a raft of wounded sailors by pulling them to safety as he swam six miles through shark infested waters is in Los Angeles this week.

The sailor's striking heroism has placed him alongside Dorie Miller as the symbol of the Negro fighting man's courage and audacity under fire during World War II. His exploit further embarasses the Navy's Jim Crow policy and its program of rank discrimination against permitting Negroes to rise out of the ranks.

French performed the almost super-human task of swimming through six miles of shark-infested waters towing a raft of wound-

CITY COUNCIL DELAYS ANTI-POLL TAX MOVE

A motion to suspend the rules and consider a special resolution supporting anti-poll tax legislation was defeated in the City Council yesterday morning. It was offered by Council President G. Vernon Bennett. The resolution was referred to legislative committee and will come up tomorrow morning.

Those who voted against the anti-poll tax resolution were Councilmen J. Wayne Austin, Robert L. Burns, Edward L. Thrasher, Roy Hampton and John W. Baumgartner.

Housewife Says Police Brutal

Another alleged instance of indiscriminate arrest by police vice officers was brought to light this week in the case of Mrs Katherine Anderson, housewife of 1162 East 55th street, who was unceremoniously grabbed, manhandled assertedly beaten and thrown into jail while she was en route from a drugstore a. the corner of 55th and Central, to her home.

According to the statement of her attorneys, Mrs. Anderson was returning from the store where she had bought a bottle of teething syrup for her eight month-old baby, who was in a fretful mood and crying.

The woman's story holds that after having purchased the teething syrup and while on her way home, she was accosted by some soldiers who made improper advances to her. She resented their remarks and was engaged in a verbal battle with them when vice squad officers rushed up and without listening for any explanation accused her of immoral actions.

She says that she pleaded with 'tears in my eyes' to be allowed to go home and make some disposition of her little children one of whom was not a year old and the other five years old.

Attorney Curtis Tarden, in a sizzling statement before Judge Har-

GEYER'S WIDOW TELLS L. A. MASS MEET, 'FIGHT'

Los Angeles Citizens rallied to an all-out battle against the filibuster of the Pepper-Geyer Anti poll tax bill at an emergency mass meeting Sunday night at Independent Church of Christ only a few hours after news of the Senate talk fest reached here. Prime recommendation of the gathering was that every Angeleno, every church, every club deluge Washington with telegrams demanding passage of the Anti-Poll Tax measure and that Senators invoke cloture to kill the Southerners filibuster.

The meeting heard Mrs. Lee Geyer, widow of the progressive California Representative who first introduced anti-poll tax legislation, proclaim that "every possible ounce of pressure must be exerted upon Senators in this fight and that Senator Bilbo, D. of Miss., spearhead of the Senate filibuster against the measure, is known in Washington as "that man."

Blistering resolutions were wired to Washington from the anti-poll tax emergency meet.

To Senators Sheridan Downey, Hiram Johnson, both of California, Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary, Senate Democratic Leader Alben Barkeley, and Vice-President Wallace went the following

"We, the Negro people of Los Angeles, met in a mass meeting sponsored by the Negro Victory Committee, urge the passage of the anti-poll tax bill.

"The poll tax as a requisite for the right to vote for 10 million Americans is a blot against American democracy.

"Our boys in the armed forces abroad are fighting to preserve our nation and our heritage. For the Senate to fail to pass the anti-poll tax bill will mean that their lives shall be spent in vain.

We urge the passage of the anti poll tax bill as an evidence to our allies that we mean what we say when we say "Democracy for all."

Even more senational was a wire directed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Dies Committee on subversive activities. It read:

"We the Negro people of Los Angeles met in mass meeting urge the immediate inestigation of Senator Bilbo and the Senators for whom the writ of arrest was issued by Vice-President Wallace during the poll tax debate.

"The refusal of these Senators to perform their duty in this time of national crisis is comparable to treason and should be punish-

Wrong Man -- Judge After the Cops

That he may be the victim of mistaken identity—and with the knowledge of police—was dismissed just released from a year in jail, closed when Joe Mack Robinson, came before superior judge William R. McKay on Nov. 12 for sentence on a burglary charge.

He had already been convicted.

The man's attorney, Maurice Gleason, told the court that his client was the victim of mistaken identity, that the real culprit had contacted the burglary victim and offered to return stolen money. Judge McKay ordered the case continued until Nov. 19, at which time he directed that Deputy Sheriff Robinson, the victim and all other persons familiar with the case be present in court in order that a full investigation might be made by the court to determine if there had been a miscarriage of justice

In commenting upon the officer's failure to be present in

Coleman Delegation to Olson

The Coleman Defense Committee announced today that within a week a formal application for a pardon for a pardon for Festus Coleman would be made to Governor Culbert L. Olson.

Festus Coleman is the young San Francisco Negro whose vicious trial for "rape and robbery" has become a national scandal. During the week of November 22nd a delegation of prominent Negro and white ministers, lawyers, and editors will present Governor Olson with thousands of signatures secured on petitions calling for an immediate and unconditional pardon for Coleman.

The Coleman Defence Comittee of 83 McAllister Street, San Francisco, called upon the friends of Festus Coleman to rush funds to the headquarters, to return all signed petitions, and to distribute the remaining few hundreds of pamphlets, ". . . Because of Race Creed, or Color. . . "

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Eagle editor, will represent Los Angeles on the delegation. Other local citizens may join here.

EAGLE ANTI-POLL TAX NUMBER IN SENATE

Copies of the special anti-poll tax issue of the California EAGLE are performing the job for which they were published today on the floor of the United States Senate.

The paper is being used by supporters of the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll tax bill to indicate the tremendous grass roots backing which the bill has obtained all over America.

Senators are particularly impressed with the fighting full page anti-poll tax statement of the California CIO. They have shouted with laughter over the Conner-Johnson Mortuary offer to bury the poll tax gratis.

The papers are being distributed in the capital by the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax.

vert it into one, as witness the Indian fiasco. But, fundamentally, this is a PEOPLE'S WAR. Our allies, who are they? The heroic Chinese people, mighty Russia, whose epic resistance has electrified the world—and a Great Britain moving inevitably toward a complete repudiation of her men of Munich. The peoples of all these nations are consciously fighting for a world that will be a better one. They will never permit a repetition of Versailles. First, the people won't allow such desecration of their blood nd tears; and second, the quality of leadership the world over is entirely different—in China, Russia, England, America, India,—and she will be a free ally before the conflict is done.

Now, is this a war for the Bourbon South? Is this a war for fascist America?—which owns the Bourbon South. No. No. NO!

This war must not be won! For a people's victory means the century of the common man—and THAT must be avoided at all costs.

So fascist America orders the Bourbon South to obstruct every progressive, win-the-war measure. Dixon assaults executive order 8802. Talmadge campaigns on the divisionist issue of white supremacy. The second front agreements are subjected to a brutal sabotage by the fascist press. It is all-out war. The fascists abroad have their assignment. They must storm Stalingrad. They must starve and degrade the whole continent of Europe.

The fascists at home have their assignment. They must divide the people. They must raise false issues to guide the people's minds away from the people's war's rig necessities— Talmadge with white supremacy, Pegler with an incessant labor scare, Hearst with his notion that the great offensive of this war should be launched in—Alaska.

But for the Negro people, what is the great triumph and challenge of the hour? It is this:

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE 1876, THE NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES IS SOLIDLY ARRAYED AGAINS THE REACTIONARY SOUTH!

The gentleman's agreement is dead!

This is why the anti-poll tax measure will be enacted into law.

It is my firm conviction that the changes taking place in the South are fundamental, that they are basic, that they are in no sense token actions. I beleive that change is coming as much from within the South as from without and I call your attention to the overwhelming defeat of race-baiter Eugene Talmadge at Georgia polls.

There devolves upon the Negro people a tremendous responsibility. They are joined with the great progressive forces of the world and of the nation. We are an ally of the win-the-war Administration. We are an ally of the Labor movement. We are an ally of the anti-fascist middle class. We are the deadly enemy of the defeatists, the appeasers, the obstructionists, the Negro haters, the anti-second front chorus, the fascists and the monopolists.

With these allies, we will gain our struggle for full democracy in America. No lesser objective is commensurate with our manhood. In the struggle we must give give every support to each progressive win-the-war policy. We must urge immediate establishment of the second front and know that this hits the fascists at home and We must see to it that the anti-poll tax bill becomes law. We must crystalize our universal sympathy for the Indian people into a politically effective demand for their freedom to join us in the anti-fascist fight. We must agitate incessantly for the extension of democracy to native Africa. We must smash all false leaders who would use our grievances as a means of dividing us from the general anti-fascist fight.

There is a big job ahead. Victory will be ours as the result of a positive, offensive struggle!

GEYER'S WIDOW TELLS L. A. MASS MEET, 'FIGHT'

ed as such."

MRS. GEYER SPEAKS

"My husband," said Mrs. Geyer, "gave the last three years of his life to this fight. When you went into his office in Washington, the first thing you heard was 'poll tax.' When you left, the last thng you heard was 'poll tax.' The measure, I believe, is a heritage which Mr. Geyer has left the nation. When the bill passes it will be the happiest day of my life."

"May I urge you to exert every ounce of pressure at your command!"

HAWKINS SPEAKS

Militant Negro assemblyman Augustus Hawkins told the audience, "As a people, we have got to take off our zoot suits and get down to the hard tasks confronting us."

"Let's not fool ourselves," he continued, "men like Bilbo, if we permit them to continue in power, can, as he proposes, send us back to Africa. Nothing is impossible to the Fascist mind. We have the horror of Poland, of France and of Russia to prove that anything can happen.

"Victory not only in the fight for Negro rights is dependent upon passage of the anti-poll tax bill but victory for the whole nation in its great war effort. So long race baiters and open traitors, elected by tiny fractions of the electorate, are permitted to infest the United States Congress, thre is a dagger pointed at the heart of America.

"I was elected to the assembly in California," he concluded, "by 60,000 votes, poll tax Martin Dies was elected to the House of Representatives by 5,000 votes."

BASS—RUSSELL

Rev. Clayton D. Russell, chairman of the Negro Victory Committee, pointed out that thep poll tax domination of the South reached every California home from which Negro soldiers have gone forth to serve the nation. "Training Southern states, our boys are made to feel the whip-lash of tax tyranny. We have demanded and secured investigation of Father Riker (Calnfornia Negro baiter). We now demand the investigation of Senator Bilbo!"

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Eagle editor, active in the local anti-poll tax campaign, told the audience, "Our whole success now depends upon the number of communications, telegrams on top of telegrams, we send to Washington NOW."

Hollie having a few drinks. He allegedly took his girl friend home and then drove Mrs. Hollie home. He encountered Hollie leaving his home about midnight. According to Hollie, the boxer became enraged.

When Jones became belligerent, Hollie allegedly returned to his room and armed himself with the gun. A fight ensued and Hollie shot the man.

Upon advice of his counsel, Walter L. Gordon, Jr., Hollie did not testify at the coroner's inquest Monday.

Hollie and his wife recently came here from Dallas, Tex., Jones, according to fight records, fought Henry Armstrong 1937, and was knocked out in five in New Orleans on December 12, rounds.

sit to San Francisco I studied a thoroughly documented report of the Festus Coleman Case and had an opportunity to visit Coleman at San Quentin and talk with him at length.

It is clear that justice has gone astray. As in many other instances - this has become a case not only of an individual but a case dealing with the fundamental rights and privileges of all American citizens.

As long as Festus Coleman can be railroaded to prison so can other members of his race and of all other groups.

I sincerly trust that the citizens of San Francisco and California will do all in their power to right this grievous wrong. In these trying times as we wage a world wide struggle for true democracy our own record must be crystal clean. Festus Coleman must recieve a pardon ond democratic justice."

WHERE ARE CALIFORNIA SENATORS?

__No definite word as to the position of California Senator Hiram Johnson on the bill has been received here. For months, Johnson has been ducking the poll tax question with promises that he would give the matter 'due consideration' _and _'careful _study.' Whether Johnson is in Washington is not known here.__ __ ____

__Definitely a mystery is the whereabouts of California Senator Sheridan Downey, pledged to support the bill 'vigorously.' He is in the West on business of the Senate Farm Labor Committee and was en route to Arizona when last heard from in Los Angeles last week-end.

Efforts of the local anti-polll tax body to contact Downey in Arizona have failed. However, he has the best record of support for the measure of any Far western member of the upper house. Sen. Barkley has sent out a call for all Senators out of Washington, and it is considered probable that Sen. Downey will heed this order.

Indicating the determination of pro-Roosevelt forces to bring action was Barkley's increasingly militant stand in the face f the Dixie filibuster and the terse comment of Sen. Claude Pepper, 'Administration ball carrier and author of the bill. He said, "They won't get away with it—not this time!"

All sources in Washington stressed the need for maximum pressure from the country's citizenry. Telegrams form individuals and organizations are pouring into Washington, but the flood must be increased. Californians are urged to address wires to Senators Sheridan Downey and Hiram Johnson not only demanding support of the bill but that they vote to invoke cloture (limitation of debate) in order to kill the reactionary filibuster. Wires to Alben Barkley, Sen Charles McNary, Senate Republican leader, and to President Roosevelt are also asked.

VICE PRESIDENT HITS 'WHITE SUPREMACY'; HE POINTS TO RUSSIA

he issued an executive order prohibiting racial discrimination in the employing of workers by national defens industries.

"Russia has probably gone further than any other nation in the world in practicing ethnic democracy. From the Russians we can learn much, for unfortunately the Anglo-Saxons have har an attitude toward other races which has made them exceedingly unpopular in many parts of the world. We have not sunk to the lunatic level of the Nazi myth of racial superiority, but we have sinned enough to cost us already the blood of tens of thousands of precious lives. Ethnic democracy built fromthe heart is perhaps the greatest need of the Anglo-Saxon tradition.

Raising a question which has bothered citizens of booming Los Angeles—a post-war let-down—Wallace said:

"Undoubtedly China will have a strong influence on the world which will come out of this war and in exerting this influence it it is quite possible that the principles of Sun Yat Sen will prove to be as significant as those of any other modern statesman. The British Commonwealth, England herself, the democracies of northwest Europe, Latin America, and in fact all of the United Nations have a very important role to play. But in order that the United Nations may effectively serve the world it is vital that the United States and Russia be in accord as to the fundamentals of an enduring peace based on the aspirations of the common man. I am here this afternoon to say that it is my belief that the American and Russian people can and will throw their influence on the side of building a new democracy which will be the hope of all the world.

Wallace foresaw a program of works as the solution to a post-stupendous international public war depression.

As in the case of Dorie Miller, the story of his courage blossomed but slowly. Constant re-telling by the men whose lives were saved finally brought the tale into national prominence.

court, Judge McKay stated that the highest duty of an officer of the law is to protect the innocent, and that if an officer of the law is in possession of facts which would tend to clear a defendant, it is his highest duty to present them.

The juror stated, "The court intends to investigate this matter very carefully, and if the representations made to me by the defendant's attorney are found to be true, I shall take drastic steps in the premises."

Robinon had just been released from the service of a year's sentenc on a charge of burglary the day before his arrest on the present chage. Robinson freely admitted to the court that he was guilty of the offense for which he had served the year's sentence, but he has at all times protested his innocence in the present case.

cent Civil Service examination conducted to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of L. G. Robinson, who completed thirty-six years of County service. Nathaniel Jones placed second in the examination, and Edward Shepard was third.

The new County department head entered County service on January 5, 1927. He is 42 years old and married. He attended Jefferson High school and Polytechnic Evening High school.

He is a member of Lincoln Memorial Congregational church.

The Janitor and Elevator department has the responsibility of the offices in ten County buildings and partial service to nine other buildings, which means covering a floor space of 950,000 square feet. Daily service is maintained on 17 elevators carrying approximately 8,500,000 persons last year. There are approximately 200 persons in the department.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Gladys Ford Smith, who passed Nov. 11, 1942, wishes to thank their many friends for such beautiful flowers, condolences, telegrams, kind deeds, etc. May God send a special blessing upon the four deacons, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Driscoll, Mrs. Fanning and Dr. B. Robinson, who stayed by until the last; also the missionary ladies aid and V. C. club; consoling words from her pastor, Rev. H. B. Hawes and Rev. Mansfield Collins and Conner-Johnson company.

Signed:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emmerly, stepfather, mother
Wilber and Florence Smith, children;
Mrs. Hilda D. Jordan, sister;
Mrs. Lucy Andrews and Nora Lear, aunts;
Woodley, Bernard, John and Reubin Lewis, uncles.

Mrs. Gladyce F. Smith Mourned

Mrs. Gladys Ford Smith, younger daughter of Mrs. Lillie Bell Emmerly, passed Nov. 11, 1942, at her mother's home on E. 43rd street.

She had been ill for about four months, then passed away very happy. Mrs. Smith was a member and Sunday School teacher of Presbyterian church; mother of two children, Wilbur and Florence. She is the sister of Mrs. Wilda Jordan, neice of the Lewis family and former wife of Roy Smith.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Presbyterian church, W. 35th place and Denker, with Rev. H. B. Hawes, pastor, officiating. Consoling remarks were made by Rev. Mansfield Collins.

Interment was at the Rosedale cemetery.

Red Cross Presents Emblem

Mrs. Louise A. Cook, prominent matron and Christian social worker of the city, was awarded a coveted "E" pin in recognition of excellent services to the American Red Cross and a special badge honoring her for her permanent position now held with the department.

For the past 10 years, Mrs. Cook has rendered timely efforts toward the support and welfare service of race interests or any charitable relationship in behalf of public welfare. She is a prominent member of First church, 8th. and Towne avenue.

St. Paul Baptist Marches On Under Banner of Holy Ghost

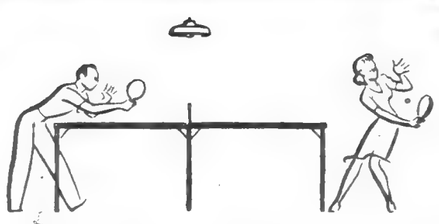
Another glorious day was observed in St. Paul last Sunday, November 15. Dynamic preaching by the same two young, yet spirit-filled, preachers who preached the previous Sunday morning and evening respectively, Elder E. A. Anderson, first assistant pastor, and Elder Clarence Cook, departmental church pastor. The singing also was highly spiritualized. A Christian fervor was at high tide when twelve persons came forward for membership, including three for baptism. The financial effort of our program was secondary yet $247.30 was donated.

The morning services brought an agreeable surprise to Elder James Langley, Pastor Williams, true to form thinking of others outside of himself, asked the congregation to make a special offering for Brother and Sister Langley. In response to this request unhesitatingly the congregation donated $50 to them. This lovely attitude toward the Langleys was largely due to the fact that Brother and Sister Langley are among the most loyal members of the St. Paul church. As the second assistant pastor, Elder Langley is as loyal as an assistant pastor could possibly be and ranks far above the average.

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 4.00 p. m. by Miss Gladys Geraldine Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nelson, and Mr. Wallace G. Ray, in an attractive ceremony, witnessed by hundreds of friends in the main auditorium, of this church. Following the wedding, which was performed by Pastor S. A. Williams, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 243 E. 45th St., where the bride and groom were the happy recipients of numerous, costly, and useful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Claude, Jr., as well as Gladys are loyal members of St. Paul Baptist church, and their many friends showed the high esteem held for them by their large attendance on the wedding.

The bride was an accomplished musician, a graduate of Polytechnic and attended UCLA.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ray. He is a graduate of Manual Arts, and is employed in the Lockheed Aircraft industry.



At the evening service the members and congregation were jubilant and greatly uplifted when Pastor Williams announced that his wife, Mrs. S. A. Williams, would be discharged from the hospital Monday. The congregation and the entire city are cognizant of the fact that Mrs. Williams had a complete nervous breakdown due to her zeal and her determination to make the church program a decisive success. Now that she is at home the doctor has strictly advised that she is not to receive company for quite some time.

John H. Spence Rites Today

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 1 p. m. for John H. Spence at the Smith-Williams Funeral Parlors, 1311 S. Central avenue. Mr. Spence, a pioneer citizen of Los Angeles, passed at his home, 1471 W. 36th street, Monday morning after a long illness.

Fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing his duty whatever evils beset, or dangers lie in the way.—John Locke.

It's Harold Browning who was personally chosen by Noble Sissle to be West coast gen. mgr. for the USO Camp Shows Inc. The unit (known as No. 78) will be called "Keep Shufflin" and begins its circuit on the 25th at Huachuca . . . good luck, chum!

Marion Downs is in the midst of a concert tour in the midwest, while her hubby is East . . . Tommy Martin is in a convalescent hospital in Montreal. His eardrums were badly affected by gun-fire in a Mediterranean sea battle. He's been transferred from the RAF to the Navy. Meanwhile, he's still deeply in love with the Angeleno lovely who wears his RAF pin over her heart. In fact, she wore it to the Hollywood Canteen t'other eveg and the RAF pilots all but swamped her with attention. Its good news hearing Tommy is in good spirits and not worried about his slated operation.

Ollie Terry reported for active duty in the Navy Monday morn. He's at San Pedro . . . Riddell Scott is stationed in Missouri . . . Luther Thompson left Tuesday . . . Vera Clark is back from her trip, rolled up her sleeves and pitched right in to help their business what with help at a premium . . . Tommy Long doesnt have to shove off til mid-January . . . John Simmons is being looked at by Uncle Sam with a coldly speculative eye . . . Ruth Ellington James' hubby reports for duty very soon, she confides . . . Prince Modupe is the papa of a 6-wks old son, did you know? . . . Malcolm Nash, in the Army hospital. The lads at the USO center are lamenting him leaving their conga line unfinished . . . Cato Robinson revd his 2nd Lieut. commission Satd. He's a reserve officer, and deserves a world of credit since he's the only tan tone lad to get such recognition via any professional school (he's a senior in Dentistry at SC, ya know) in town . . . and we didnt know his brother, Fred, married Margo Collins til just t'other day!

Herman Hill is in Pittsburgh. Rex Ingram and he planned originally to take the Super Chief, but Rex has added picture commitments. Herman will dash back as quickly as he tore out . . . Lawdy, we're just hearing, too, that Frank Smith took Marie Fielder unto himself as a wife . . . should be something of a shock to folk back East . . . The dancing Nicholases are due to return East in Dec. We heard in NY that Fayard, facing the draft, stands a fine chance of being asked for by Irving Berlin to go into "This Is The Army" . . .

Vye Jones, of Pasadena, is moving East for the duration to join her hubby . . . Its my guess Thelma Price, who arrives any minute, will stay this time . . . Certainly miss Elizabeth (Kewpie) Hampton, by cracky . . . Nice, that deserving position Ralph Vaughn earned at MGM . . . Recall Charles Williams, the lad with the camera? He's shorn his picturesque long hair and is a Studebaker worker in Chi . . . Henrietta Flanner is back at her school desk i NY. We can well imagine her descending upon Al (Golden Boy) Smith's he'sin-the-army-now party, cigarette holder in hand and a hat well worth passing the ammunition for . . . ah, we love her, doggone it . . . What's this we hear of Reggie Williams in Frisco with a decided love burning in his eyes?

Alec Peoples is in deepest Georgia . . . Berti Hathaway takes a sudden sprint and comes out way-way ahead of all the chic women with a wardrobe of hats, dresses and accessories that would be stock for Wilshire Blvd, no less . . . she will do New Yr's Eve in Frisco with Mrs. R. Fred Cleveland . . . The town still mentions impressionably Cal Bailey's magnificent crayon study of Ethel Waters which should be exhibited, really . . . The Dunham entourage is working in Frisco, we learn. Syvilla Fort is with 'em . . . Altho we havent met, we hear nice things about Monica and Phil Carter, who joined the village after we went East. You know about him, of course, while she's a milliner. Mentioning him, we hear Cabin In The Sky will be released in Febr. and from the stack of forewords submitted for it, the studio selected the one written by Carter . . . Thelma Long was a Friday morn hostess at cards . . . Pabst's ace Bill Graham is now a $10,000 a yr man . . . Jimmy LuValle (that's Dr. LuValle, ain't it?) is apt. hunting on So. Pkwy these chilly days . . . Saw LuVal Duncan, of Louisville, in Chi vacationing. Still a prince of good fellows . . . Saw Duke and Bea in Chi. Duke has his papers and not at all enthused. His midwinter Carnegie Hall concert is definite, this is the fourth time it was planned, each event being postponed for one thing or another. He'll do his symphony, he sez. Bea is headed for NY, happy as a lark for she loves the place . . . The Scruggses are making the best of Pittsburgh, altho their hearts are still here in the sun . . .

Isn't it a wee bit foolish, this pronounced rivalry between the USO center and the AWVS . . . ? Some of the gels actually don't speak because they belong to either of the two groups! Girls, girls—come now!

Hear tell Reggie Beane will be back here for more work . . . Hazel Scott is due . . . Must get up on Sugah Hill and have reunion with Rose Tizol . . . Item: Velvet browns are working in many of the shops in Chi's Loop, in all capacities now . . . I tell ya its a GREAT time, aint it, bub . . . and Ive run into many a husband who has learned to turn around in the kitchen since wifie is working, too . . . railroad travel is frantic and enough to paralyze ya . . . and of the many towns Ive explored the past 7 mos, few outequal ours when it comes to the splendid spirit and energy and dependability shown by our womenfolk in the war effort. They deserve a big hooray . . . and get it!

Aside to Pvt. Alfred Darby: Glad to hear from ya, and by all means make that NY trip . . .

And now, we'll take up that Canteen bid and ankle out thar and see what all the trippin' and troopin' is about . . . and look in on the AWVS to-do, Sunday . . . sho is good bein' home!

Fashion Show at Jefferson P-TA Meeting Today

The girls of the sewing classes of Miss Dora Newton and of Miss Norma Shenk at Thomas Jefferson high school will present a fashion show to the parents and teachers who attend the P.T.A. meeting on Thursday, November 19.

The girls selected their patterns and materials and made the garments which they will model in the fashion parade.

Consuelo Candeleria will wear a red corduroy suit and Rose Guterriez will wear a blue spun rayon suit. In dresses of spun rayon or of crepe will be Norene Allen, Jean Allen, Inez Flanagan, Helen Murphy and Vivian Pugh. Alice Stoglin will be in a yellow corduroy. Dorothy Rhodes has chosen a blue jumper to model.

Warner Dones and Jean Scott will wear plaid suits of their choice. Artie Mae Thomas' child's dress will b the only one of its kind. Gussie Franklin and Helen Irwin will appear in blue evening dresses.

Benj. Bowie Auxiliary Welcomes Officer White

President Christine Cloyd and members of Benjamin J. Bowie Auxiliary No. 228 American Legion welcome home officer Harriette B. White of the W. A. A. C. Officer White is an outstanding member of the American Legion Auxiliary; she addressed the 23rd District meeting Monday, November 16th. Not only is the American Legion proud of officer White and other W. A. A. C.'s of our race but the entire country. We know a record will be set by these women.

All States Tea to Be Staged at Second Baptist

With just 8 days to go, the governors of all the states are rallying to their utmost. Most of the governors answered to the roll call at the third session of congress, which convened Sunday, Nov. 15, at 7 p. m.

The program for the tea was again outlined by the chairman, Mrs. Anna G. Morrow. A most impressive sight will be that of a replica of the S. S. Booker T. Washington ship, with the minister, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, acting as captain. The entire program will carry out a military atmosphere. The young women of the church who are classified as NYA girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Arbezene Walder, will act as guides to direct the people from the various states to their own individual state. Hostesses from each state will be on hand to greet each native son and daughter.

Of course no one will want to miss the wonderful exhibitions in the various booths, each state will be represented in miniature.

Refreshments will be served free from the white house with Mrs. Hassie Reed in charge. The president, Mrs. Hassie D. Reese, will be there waiting to greet all the governors, senators and the people from all the states.

Meet your friends at the All States Tea Friday, Nov. 27, Second Baptist church.

Program begins promptly at 7 p. m. in the main auditorium. At 9 p. m. will be the parade of states to the social hall. We'll be looking for you.

Serve Dinner at Garner Center Today

The Radio and Dramatic Guild is giving a southern style chicken dinner Thursday, Nov. 19th, 1942, at Garner Center, 470 Blake Street, Pasadena. Dinner will be served from 11 a. m. through 9 p. m.

This new colored organization is headed by Mrs. Bobbie Gwynn Buford, well known on radio and stage as Bobbie Gwynn. Feeling that in these days of stress, good clean, spontaneous humor will be a morale builder, the group is working on a radio show, "The Black Diamond Family." The script, written and produced by Mrs. Buford, has already been approved by the Screen Writers Guild. Since there is no all-colored cast on the radio it seems the logical time for Ethiopia to stretch forth her hands in this direction.

The dinner is being given to defray expenses of wax records of the first episodes.

We are enclosing a complimentary ticket for dinner and would appreciate a small item in the Eagle.

For further reservations the following telephone numbers may be called. Mrs. R. E. McWilliams, Sycamore 6-1349 or Mrs. Bobbie Gwynn Buford, Sycamore 4-3621.

Sincerely yours,

TOBIAS CUOTON,
Publicity Chairman,
Dramatic and Radio Guild.

Logan Heights USO Club Entertains 400 Service Men

The Logan Heights USO is occupying the spotlight in USO activities in the San Diego area. This very beautiful and large club is operating to capacity in the entertainment of service men. Many activities are held each evening with a large number of clubs giving affairs for the service men. Donations of cookies, magazines and games steadily pour in from the citizens.

A feature of particular significance and beauty was the buffet supper and dance sponsored jointly by the USO Club and the Citizens' Committee. Through the efforts of Mrs. Bebe Banks, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, and Mrs. Cassandra Patterson, chairman of the canteen service of the committee and the club, a delightful buffet supper was held at the center on the evening of Saturday, November 14th. The following menu was served to more than four hundred service men: Sandwiches of all kinds, potato salad, cookies, coffee and punch.

Mrs. Patterson was able to secure effective support in the donations of sandwiches and other food stuffs from the following citizens: Mesdames Belle Graham, Maude Hicks, Lucille Brown, Mary White, Laurenda Dickens, Willie Ponder, Ike Wooden, E. A. Bailey, Rachel Crawford, Thelma Thompson, Willie Roberson, Adabelle Powell, Ida Henderson, E. W. Anderson, Mattie Bishop, Alice Carlock, Ada Cleveland and Bertha Shelton, and Misses Bessie Crawford and Lorraine VanLowe.

The following ladies served during the time of the supper: Mesdames Anderson, Carlock, Cleveland, Bishop, Powell, Shelton, Henderson and Mrs. Bebe Banks in the Snack Bar. Hostesses for the occasion Mesdames Elizabeth Smith, Thelma Thompson, Ruth Richardson, Willie Roberson, Adabelle Powell and Bertha Shelton. Also Misses Bessie Cobb, and Adelaide Gladden served as hostesses.

After the very delightful supper enjoyed by soldiers from Camp Lockett, El Cajon and San Diego, and a large number of sailors from different centers and stations, the whole group went to the Logan Heights School where there was held a wonderful dance with music by the Military Orchestra from Camp Lockett. A large number of beautifully gowned hostesses participated in this dance well attended by soldiers and sailors. After the dance the men were served sandwiches before the convoys returned to the several stations.

The whole community of San Diego, military and civilian, is immensely pleased with the wonderful success of the USO activities. The operation has as its staff the following: Mr. William Henri Payne, director; Miss Adelaide Gladden, assistant director; Miss Juanita Cobb, secretary, and Mr. Jerry Wallace, custodian.

Defense Worker Jailed, Released

Charles Bush, defense worker of 1642 Staunton street, has been arrested and jailed by Officer Broady of the Newton Street Detective force on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon preferred by Bobbie Baker, his asserted girl friend.

The woman charges that Bush stabbed her with a knife in a lovers quarrel. However, after Bush had been held in jail several days his attorney, Curtis Taylor, sued out a writ of habeas corpus and in the meantime before the matter could be heard, the Baker woman had had a change of heart and declared that she would not prosecute.

Bush was released from custody.

Our great Way-shower, steadfast to the end in his obedience to God's laws, demonstrated for all time and peoples the supremacy of good over evil; and the superiority of Spirit over matter. —Mary Baker Eddy.

MONROVIA COUNCIL HOST TO 32 ORGANIZATIONS

The services at the Community Baptist Church were not so well attended but the Sunday School was very good. The lesson was reviewed by the pastor. The pastor preached at both morning and evening services. Several visitors were present, among them were Mr. W. Watkins and Mrs. Thomas.

The Monrovia Co-ordinating Council met in the Women's Club House last Friday. A luncheon was served the members present at cost. There were 32 organizations represented at this meeting. Angelus Funeral Home Receives U. S. Contract

The Angelus Funeral Home has been awarded a contract from the United States War Department to bury, transport and ship the remains of all Negro soldiers who die in the various camps in Southern California. This is the first time such a distinction has been bestowed on a local Negro establishment.

Aramis Fouche, assistant manager said, "We are proud to have this privilege to aid the armed forces in our national war effort and it is our patriotic duty to uphold and maintain the high standards of military funeral procedure."

The Eagle and the community at large wish to compliment the Angelus on its new achievement.

Colored America—Our boys "in arms" will not let us down. But they are depending upon us to protect and defend the "home front."

Extravagance and frivolity have no place in a war-time economy.

We must spend less for non-essentials and save more for National Defense.

Let us, for the sake of our country and race, use our money wisely and invest in future security.

Buy U. S. War Bonds.

It is not only the patriotic thing to do—but it is good business to do so.

Let us prove by our actions that we have faith in America.

We must believe in Negro leadership and show confidence in Negro Business Enterprises.

Negro Insurance Companies have proven by actual accomplishments that Negro Business, when properly managed, can succeed.

Next to faith in our country, we must have faith in ourselves and in our future as a race of people.

When we place our insurance with a Negro company, we do more than buy protection for ourselves and our families.

We buy employment opportunities for Negro boys and girls. By doing this we make a definite contribution to the future progress and security of the race.

SANTA MONICA—Yonug people's day which was observed all day at Calvary Baptist church last Sunday, Nov. 15, was an outstanding success in church circles.

Eleven o'clock services were graced by visiting choirs of the First Baptist church of Venice, Calif., and the First A. M. E. church, S. M., with choristers M. Robert Ward and Mrs. Ida Gordon, directing, respectively. Misses Alma Brazington and Irene Quinn, pianists.

The inspiring message was brought forth by Rev. Phelno Knowles, Junior church pastor. Mrs. Allene Celistan served as mistress of ceremonies. Misses Marie Morgan and Melva Meshak were on the financial committee; Mildred Allen, clerk. Rev. Knowles also delivered the evening message at which time a financial report of individual banke was given. The ushers for the day were: Misses Tyree and Marvian Lawrence, Ida Bell Dougtha L. Warren, Flo Kennedy, Vilas and Betty Ruth Linly. The entire affair was supervised by Mrs. Clara Smith Trotter. Rev. W. P. Carter, pastor.

The regular meeting of the Monday club was held Monday afternoon at the hime of Mrs H. H. Rhodes of Venice. Mrs. Mildred Reese was guest. The afternoon was devoted to serving for the soldiers. Refreshments were serv'd to Mmes. Alma Lynch and Etta V. Moxley.

Mrs. Lottie Hamilton, who is ill in California hospital, has the prayers and sincer egood wishes of all her friends for a speedy recovery. She is the sister of Mrs. Julia Grant.

Mrs. Essie Carson of Venice, who is now employed on a defense project in Bakersfield, spent tthe week-end with her mother and husband.

Alfred Quinn is now in Tuskegee, Ala., in connection with the air corps.

The Willing Workers culb enjoyed an interesting meeting from five to six o'clock Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Albert Chism, sr., who was the charming hostess.

The lovely Miss Susie Jackson, who has spent two years in traveling has returned to our city accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lizzy Jackson.

Mrs. Birdie Garrett and Mrs. Bonnie Johnson are confined to their beds. Friends wish for them a speedy recovery.

The popular Mr. David L. Johnson, formerly 1138 E. 22nd street, has been called to arms. He is stationed at Ft.Huachuca, Ariz.

ROYAL TWELVE NOTES

Beginning their regular meeting last Tuesday, the Royal Twelve club met at the home of Mr. Peppy Prince in Venice to start an evening of fun and farewell to the club's president, Mr. Charles Marrah, ho answered the call to colors on Wednesday morning. Mr. Marrah played recordings, thanking the boys for their cooperation under his leadership as president. After a brief business meeting, the president and club members and their wives went to the home of Mrs. Christine Moore to be the guest of the club 'Les Uniques,' at a delicious turkey dinner. Before dinner was served, Mr. Marrah had the honor of installing the newly elected Les Uniques officers in a very impressive candle light ceremony. Many expressions of good wishes and gifts of great importance were given to our latest draftee. After an evening of bridge the club adjourned along with the Les Uniques and all expressed their appreciation to these girls for the grand time had by all.

Guests present included the honored guest and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marrah, Les Unique president, Lela Brown, and Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Ware Afner, Persie Lewis, Leon Fields, Clayton Gordon, Levert Payne, Frank Barrie, Peppy Prince, Thurman Thomas, Buck Willars, and Mr. Bill Linley.

BIRTHDAY DINNERa

Mrs. H. R. Johnson, 1381 East 28th street, who has served as president for the past ten years of the Willing Workers culb was entertained at a formal dinner and Mrs. Wilma Myles was the charming hostess. Dinner was announced by Mrs. James Reese, jr., and Mis Ethel Stokes.

The table was beautiful with an imported lace cloth and pink flowers and candles. Lovely silver and beautiful china were displayed. The hostess wore a lovely gown of white crepe and a corsage of orcids. The guests wore lovely evening gowns also. Turkey and all the trimmings were served. Mrs. Alma Gaston made and presented the birthday cake to the hostess and guests. Rv. and Mrs. Lane C. Cleaves, Mrs. H. E. Williams, Mrs Tom Payne, jr., Mrs. Mattie Denison, Mrs. Hazel Carter, Mrs. Geraldine Lewis, who sang "I Love Life," Mrs. Leala Douglas, Miss Susie Jackson, Mrs. Georgia Thomas, Mrs. Enola L. Chism. The honoree received lovely gifts

Late Rev. Lomax Is Paid Tribute

The newly installed Baptistry of the Second Baptist church of Long Beach was dedicated to the memory of the late Rev. Thurston Lomax. Before his passing, Rev. Lomax expressed a desire that the Christian Yonug women of the church should have this pool established as their second big project.

This marked another important event in the history of the Ladies' Rainbow Club. Rev. Clayton D. Russell and the Independent church, along with other churches of Los Angeles, were the club's guest.

The N. P. Gregg churus rendered the music, afterwhich Rev. Russell gave the dedicatory address. Rev. N. Kirkpatrick sang Rev. Lomax's favorite song, "Today." Mr. Spencer, noted singed, dedicated "Deep River."

Presentation of a life-like photo of Rev. Lomax was then made. A large Holy Bible from the Crawford family and a bouquet of flowers went to Mrs. C. Lomax for her commendable serviee to the club as president.

History of the club was read by Mrs. Winnie Jimison. Ladies participating in the drive were: Mrs. Carrie Jackson, Rose Jones, Essie Hill, Daisey Davis, Mamie B. Sawyer, Tommie Lee Gwynn, Lorraine Higgins, Lillian Mcride, Katie Dortch Gold Robinson, Beatrice Seymour, Symantha Douglas, Winnie Jimison, Ernestine Craig, Melissa Williams, Lelia Thornton, Charlee Mae Lomas, and Kathryn Calloway.

MEET PHILLIP CARTER, personable young man with a college degree, who has won a niche for himself out at MGM studios as a publicist on the all colored cast film, "Cabin in the Sky." There is no doubt that Phillip Carter is doing a good job. He is being hailed as the first Negro to land such a job in a studio. However, Ben Carter's man Friday, Jimmy Ascendio, was supposed to have the same type of a job at 20th Century-Fox studios and also Bernice Patton.

But that is neither here or there. The fact Phillip Carter has such a job is important. Carter lurched into his job with the gusto of a highly paid executive publicist and is bombarding the Negro press with blurbs, photos, feature stories and what have you. His job is not easy. Phillip Carter has the task of shoving down our throats during wartime, a picture which will not do much to create morale among his race. The picture was purchased and planned prior to Pearl Harbor and so maybe regarded as the last of that cycle of films, among which was "Tales of Manhattan."

Phil Carter In Jim Crow Office

But here is the rub to Phillip Carters' job. At first I was all praise for Howard Strickland, publicity director. Here, I thought was an American of the new order, possessed with nothing but democratic virtue and brimming with the Four Freedoms.

Let's visit Phillip Carter. You wait in the reception vestibule at the studio. The clerk phones that "there's a gentleman here to see Phillip Carter on Interview. You know Carter, the colored publicist." This however, is after he has contacted Carter to verify the interview. "Dick, (or someone) says all people seeing Carter, must be okayed by him. I have tried to locate Dick. Is it alright to send him in?"

A guide comes along takes you past the publicity building, walks you a half of mile to a row of dressing rooms. And there lodged in one of the dressing rooms is Phillip Carter. An old mahogany typewriter desk, with a battered typewriter and two arm chairs (not old enough to be regarded as antiques) one white and the other brown. Plus a telephone.

Then my high thoughts and praise of Howard Strickland drop to zero. It dawns on me that Phillip Carter is in a jim crow set-up. That he was stuck as far away from the publicity office as they could get him. Howard Strickland must think that Phillip Carter is an isolationist or that he has a Garbo complex—he "wants to be alone."

Maybe Strickland doesn't mean to jimcrow his black employe. Maybe he put him there temporarily, and will move Carter into the Publicity department, with a fine office, chrome furniture and a secretary. Let's hope that is what Howard Strickland will do.

Race Artists Resent Carter's Office

The fact that Phillip Carter is in a jim crow office, it will make his work most hard for him. During the filming of the "Cabin in the Sky" all the stars were accorded the same favors and privileges that any other MGM star has received. Few Negro artists will go to the jim crow publicity office. Never before have they been forced to walk a half a mile to a dingy office in a dressing room. They have stopped at the publicity office, the same as white stars. Is this a subtle plan on the part of Howard Strickland to jim crow Negro film players? Or is it part of a plan to be rid of Negro publicists forever. Will Strickland at some future date hand out a line of chatter like this to inquiring Negro reporters. "Well, we tried a Negro in our publicity department, but it just won't work. Negro stars refused to be interviewed by a colored man and they would not co-operate with the splendid young man we had —a Mr. Phillip Carter."

Howard Ctrickland has not said the above, but he might. The Negro players refused to be segregated. In the meantime Phillip Carter visits what artists he can find at home at night. He reports on the job at nine in the morning, is off at six. He spends the next two or three hours at night trying to interview the players—so he can have something ot work on the next day.

Other departments at MGM however are trying to keep pace with the government's new policy toward Negroes. Lena Horse has been signed to a seven year contract. Also Eddie "Rochester" Anderson is alleged to have signed a contract at MGM. Despite the fact that Rex Ingram has a servant role in "Talk of the Town" which starred Ronald Colman, Jean Arthur and Cary Grant, it was the type of a role we like to see a Negro in. He was educated and had a chance to really emote. Real tears streamed down his face, when Colman shaved off his beard. For once we saw a film where a Negro had a big role and he was not doing comedy. The picture was made by Columbia. Leigh Whipper will play Haile Sellasse in "Mission to Moscow". Ben Carter will be seen in a Dorie Miller role in "Crash Dive" a 20th Century-Fox film.

Ethel Waters Vs. Lena Horne

We also are beginning to wonder whether Ethel Waters will be in "Cabin in the Sky." We hear so much about Lena Horne. There was many a fuss on the sets about this. They accused Ethel Waters of being temperamental. In "Toy Wife" which was taken from the story "Frou-Frou" the colored maid's role is almost as big as the leading lady. We were told in the picture version that Luise Rainer "got temperamental" and they cut a great many of Theresa Harris scenes. In other words stars do not have an artist in their picture, who will detract from them.

A few years aio Ethel Waters had the same trouble with Valaida Snow in "Rhapsody in Black." It seems that the management of Ethel Waters is at fault. Waters is a great artist. She has risen from the honky-onks to the light opera stage. She is at home on the stage, radio, screen, cafes and records. She has "sold" many a tune. While Lena Horne possesses great talents, we do not believe that Ethel Waters should take a back seat. At least not in her own movie.

Sure Clarence Muse is a great scene stealer. Muse will steal a scene from Tyrone Power. But actually Muse does not steal the scene. He simply is a better actor than Tyrone Power, and all the rest. But at that he doesn't detract from Tyrone Power. In my opinion, Lena Horne is one of the most beautiful women on the screen, regardless of color. She has great talents. But Lena Horne is not the singer, nor actress that Ethel Waters is. We have seen Ethel Waters pitted against some heavyweights before, but she has been one of the race's outstanding woman artists for ovr twenty years and one of the highest paid. I say that Lena Horne is good, but she is still Lena Horne and not Ethel Waters.

Our great Way-shower, steadfast to the end in his obedience to God's laws, demonstrated for all time and peoples the supremacy of good over evil, and the superiority of Spirit over matter. —Mary Baker Eddy.

Obituary of Mrs. Melba Boswell Love

Melba Love was born in Chicago, Ill. She moved to Los Angeles at an early age with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Boswell. Her mother was a very faithful member of the church and choir so she brought Melba into the church with her.

When Mrs. Love was a young woman she joined the junior choir of the First AME church and served as the leading alto singer for a number of years. She was later employed where she could not attend church services on Sunday and became disinterested in choir work.

She was married to Mr. Lewis Love, Apr. 19, 1919, to this union one son, Lewis jr. was born. Her health had been failing for several months, the last week having been spent in the hospital.

Before she grew too ill to express herself, she said to her mother that she was constantly praying to God for his help and she felt that her prayers would be answered. She departed this life Nov. 6, 1942 about 10 a. m. Her husband having passed about three years ago, she leaves to mourn her loss a mother, Mrs. Lulu Boswell, a son, Lewis Love jr., a mother-in-law, Mrs. Lucy Love, and a host of friends.

Card of Thanks By Club

CARD OF THANKS by CLUB ..

The Emergency club of the First AME church on Towne avenue wishes to thank members and friends and the general public for their Christian cooperation in every way in behalf of both events sponsored by the club during the past two Sundays.

At the beautiful appointed tea given Sunday afternoon, Nov. 2, Mrs. Helen Nesbitt won first prize, Mrs. Murry, second prize, the third prize went to the president of the club, Mrs. Emma Surrey, as a love token for her efforts put forth at all times in behalf of the club.

The club especially wants to thank Rev. J. M. Brown for the fine sermon rendered and to Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw for the beautiful solo presented Sunday, Nov. 15.

Fashion Revue to Be Presented Sunday at Den

The Junior Union Usher board of California holds its second annual fashion revue and tea. Do you know your junior celebrities? "The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked."—Proverbs 10:3.

Zero Hour! Act Now or Fail

For the first time in ten years, members of the United States Senate have been arrested and returned forcibly to Congress in order to perform the legislators' duty!

Senator Bilbo has started the long-expected filibuster against the anti- poll tax bill!

ZERO HOUR!

The future of this nation rests upon the amount of pressure which can be brought to bear NOW.Telegrams, resolutions, DEMANDS must be rushed to Washington, to California's Senators Sheridan Downey and Hiram Johnson, to Senate Democratic Leader Alben Barkeley, to Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary, and to the president of the United States.

Pressure today.CAN break the filibuster. The monumental perversion of democratic proceedure which killed the anti-lynch bill via filibuster several years ago will fail today—if an aroused public opinion demands action.

We predict that public opinion will assert itself. We predict that the Pepper-Geyer anti-poll tax bill WILL pass in this session of Congress.

The basis for this prediction is the fact, the tremendous political fact, that the two most powerful forces in American government are at blows, are hammering out today, in the poll tax fight, the course of democracy in this country for generations to come.

What are these two forces? One is the foul power of the poll tax South. The poll tax South maintains itself through the disfranchisement of ten million American citizens, six million of them white, four, Negro. The chief political argument of the poll tax South is 'white supremacy.' It is an argument employed to divide the exploited millions of the South into separate camps marked 'black' and 'white.' To support this argument, the poll tax South sponsors every form of racial discrimination. It enforces segregation. It poisons education. It inspires lynchings.

If it does not represent the people of the Southern states, whom DOES the poll tax South represent? It represents the most reactionary section of American capital, the great imperialist exploiters of the South, the arch-enemies of Roosevelt's social legislation, and today the pro-fascist enemies of the people's war,a war in which America is allied with the anti-imperialist people of China, the Soviet Union,of oppressed Europe, of the English Trade Union movement,—a war in which America has taken, step by step, a truely anti-imperialist position.

Let us clearly identify this poll tax South. Actually, what is its power? Its power in our government is second only to that of the President of the United States. Because they are monotonously re-elected term after term by ridiculous fractions of the Southern electorate, the one hundred-odd poll tax Congressmen dominate more than half of all key committees in both the Senate and the House. They are in a position to sabotage the whole American war effort. An important part of that sabotage is the maintenance of discrimination and segregation aimed at one tenth of our population.

Thus the important factors concerning the poll tax South:It rests upon the disfranchisement of the majority of the electorate. Through repeated re-election and consequent piling up of seniority privilege, it controls more than half of key committees in both the Senate and the House, is second only to the President in national political power. Because it is not responsible to any mass section of the American people and because it is controlled by the great corporations which dominate southern economy, the poll tax South opposes and obtructs the war, which is a true people's war.

An important illustration of the reactionary domination of the poll tax South in Congress is the fact that it flourished during the last war.This was an imperialist war and contrary to the interests of most Americans, as we have all recognized in the last two decades. The Bourbons were all for it. This is a people's war—they can't stand it.

What is the tremendous power which now opposes the poll tax South? It is the pro-war will of the American people as reflected in the progressive leadership of President Roosevelt. ..Congealed in this leadership are the anti-Hitler forces of U. S. capital, the whole labor movement, and, most important, the vast majority of the citizens of this country.

This is a power which, when fully utilized, cannot be defeated. That Democratic Senate Leader Alben Barkeley, a southerner himself and official spokesman of the Administration, proposed the arrest of Senators who absented themselves during the poll tax debate, is an indication that the President and pro-war forces in Congress have at last buckled down to the serious job of forever destroying this native Fascist domination of the American government and have renounced the policy of appeasement which has characterized the position struction epoch when confronted with the problem of the poll tax South.

Prime danger in the anti-poll tax fight today is that the hue and cry of the Dixie die-hards may frighten the Roosevelt forces into a deal by which support of war measures by the poll taxers may be traded for permitting the continuance of the poll tax.

HERE'S WHERE THE PEOPLE must act. The millions of Americans who are already sworn enemies of the poll tax must inform the other millions who have no opinion on the subject. Together, all of us must flood the United States Senate with a barrage of telegrams, delegations and resolutions unprecedented in our history. Your NEXT ACT, you who are reading this editorial, must be to wire your Senator demanding his favorable action on the poll tax bill. A poll tax Congress can neither fight an offensive people's war nor can it create a peace founded on the Four Freedoms. Act now! Wire your Senator.

Salute to the Mayor

It is the custom of newspapers to recognize the unique and wholly admirable characters of persons holding public office on the average of two weeks before election day. This editorial is intended as a special, out-of-season tribute to the Mayor of the city of Los Angeles.

The Honorable Fletcher Bowron has given the city an administration of which we may be justifiably proud. His support to the struggles of labor and the Negro people place him in the forefront of the anti-fascists in America. His measured laceration of the poll tax in a statement written especially for this newspaper and issued to the press under the city seal, is unmatched by any city executive of comparable importance in the U. S. We quote portions of that statement:

"In California we could take a selfish view and say that we are not interested in the enactment of Senate bill 1280 (the anti-poll tax bill) because the measure does not affect our elective procedure. We could point out that already it is possible for every citizen in our state to freely exercise his rights as an elector. We have no poll tax here. But we must take a broader view. We are Americans as well as Californians.

"At a time when our nation is exerting itself to the utmost to preserve our rights as free men we cannot turn a deaf ear to the plea of a considerable minority group of American citizens that they be given a right that we in California enjoy and guard jealously—the right to exercise our franchise at the ballot-box without legal hindrance.

"The privilege of taking part in choosing public officials is a traditional American institution—one of the fundamental issues for which our founding fathers fought. We must not deny it to any American citizen."

The Mayor's words are backed up with an administration which has witnessed an unprecedented integration of Negro personnel in all sections of the city government.

And there is the memory of the Mayor's co-operation and full participation in the Paul Robeson-Max Yergan Negro Rights Now rally at Philharmonic auditorium. We remember the Mayor of Los Angeles speaking to a vast audience and saying, "Paul Robeson . . . . is one of the truly great Americans."

Lest We Forget, It's Community Chest Time

With thousands employed in national defense industries, drawing large salaries and generally shaking off the evil affects of ten years' depression, the call for support of the Community Chest should strike the heart and the purse-strings of this community.

We on the Eastside have had no easy time. It was not long ago that more than half our residents received some sort of government aid in order to eat and secure shelter. We have not forgotten..

Welcome, the Community Chest worker who visits you!

LAVAL OR FRANCE?

Armistice Day found Hitler violating the terms of his armistice with France. The German military had marched upon Marseille, Montpellier, Pau, and Toulouse. Marshal Petain, at the bidding of Laval, had called upon the colonials in North Africa to continue to resist the Allies. North Africa had been occupied by Allied troops, and Laval was negotiating with Hitler and Mussolini. Vichy France was dead. Had it ever lived? Certainly not as a government of France, but only as a name, by means of which Hitler had enslaved a liberty-loving people.. The unmasking had its wholesome aspects, proving again that "collaboration" in Hitler's German is spelled "slavery."

END OF THE BEGINNING

"It was President Roosevelt's plan and I was his ardent lieutenant," Prime Minister Winston Churchill proudly told the press a few days after the operations in North Africa got under way. "Now this is not the end." It's not even the beginning of the end, but it's the end of the beginning," he said. The Russians spoke jubilantly of the arrival of the "Yahnkees" in North Africa. The German radio said, "The Egyptian rainy season facilitated the task of escorting German rearguard formations, and the British maneuver to circumvent them was impossible." Such information coming from Berlin was astonishing since it admitted Rommel on the run. The Japanese-controlled Saigon radio station in Indo-China commented that all attacks in landing operations by the Americans in North Africa had failed—except where they have succeeded! The Italian radio on November 8 said, "The offensive of General Montgomery can be considered a failure." But on November 10, it exhorted its people not to tremble in public as that would be considered "a crime against country and community." For Italy, at any rate, it has begun to look like the beginning of the end.

TURKEY AND FIXINGS

We're to have turkey and fixings for Thanksgiving. Price Administrator Leon Henderson went into a huddle and when he came out, turkeys, potatoes and onions were under his price roof. And happily, the hoarders will be out of luck, for the turkeys will be gobbling up to the last minute. They can't be spirited away into the dark corners of the homes of the fearful. The unsportsmanlike hoarding of canned goods, sugar and coffee, is unlike the American people—who usually go all out for any mass effort that is needed, and go all out good-naturedly too. And with the finest mass retailing distribution system in the world at our disposal, panic was never necessary. What there is to have, we shall have, if in rationed quantities. Mass retailing has ever dedicated itself to the policy of a fair and equitable share for all, yet shelves, emptied of many items even in the big food stores, bespeak the selfish determination in many minds to "get enough for myself at whatever cost to my neighbor." The rush orders necessary to fill the lacks left by hoarders defeat what the rationing plans would do—apportion necessary foods fairly, and save transportation facilities for Uncle Sam's war effort. Luckily, hoarders have this time been forestalled. There'll be plenty of Mr. Tom and Mrs. Hen Turkey for all.

MANPOWER IS EVERYONE

If the fighting force numbers 9,700,000 by the end of 1943, the loss in manpower at home will be gigantic. The War Manpower Commission urges the overcoming of shortages by hiring without respect to matters of race or sex, color or creed. These are one thing now—manpower. Emergencies often clarify isssues, and we are being given the opportunity to look behind old prejudices and traditions.

REMEMBER THAT JUNK!

Yes, your scrap is being used. Word comes from the Bethlenem Steell plant in Sparrows Point, Md., that its vast scrap piles are steadily rising day and night. A big electro-magnet sorts through the heap for true metals. Then it goes to the furnaces, is melted along with pig iron into fluid metal which become molded ingots. The metal has to stand terrific punishment, and steel experts study constantly behind closed doors to get better results out of the metal rubbish—all for the battle line against the Axis. Remember it? This is that piece of iron pipe, that old spade, the chandelier chair you fished out of its dusty corner.

★LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I have just finished reading your column, "On the Sidewalk" of the Oct. 15 issue of your newspaper. My attention was immediately attached to your mentioning of the young men who are attempting to secure the Civilian Pilot Training. I think the discrimination which faces them is directly within the L. A. City college itself for I am a graduate of the C. P. T. course which I took at UCLA in the summer of 1941 and I didn't face any discrimination whatsoever in trying to secure the training. At the present time I am an aviation cadet here at the Tuskegee Army Flying School and there are many cadets here who have had Civilian Pilot Training courses outside of the states of Florida and Alabama.

If I am correct, there are laws laid down by the Civil Aeronautics Authority which state that there is not to be any discrimination against students making application for this flight training because of their race or color. I hope this information will be of some value to these young men.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Bass:

It's been some time now, since our little talk in the shop back in the Spring. What I wouldn't give now to be standing on the corner of 41st and Central avenue or for that matter any corner of any street in Los Angeles.

Have covered lots of territory since last I saw you. Nevertheless, I have quite enjoyed my stay in the British Isles, quite a lot of our boys here, and all of them having quite a fine time.

Scotland, I find to be the most hospitable of all the empire. Our boys are welcomed with open arms here and it piques the "O joys" from below the line somewhat to encounter them in the finest hotels and inns accompanied by their charming Scottish belles. Spent some time in London and found it quite interesting. In fact,I am making rather a Cook's tour of the war theatre, poking around spots rich in historical lore. Visited the castle of "Mary of Arots" at Edinburgh, etc. But all is not fun and sightseeing when one sees for one's self the sacrifice and privation these people have suffered in four years of war the seriousness of the situation is brought closer home.

But enough of war, how is "good ole Central Ave?" Surely the ranks of tuxedo-wearing dancers at the many "formals" have been depleted somewhat, has it not? What of the boys with the high-waisted pants and long coats and umbrella-like hats? How do they look in uniform?

Tell Otis and Leon Rene that their "Someon's Rocking My Dream Boat" the most popular tune on the Isles at this time—one hears it at every cocktail lounge, dance hall and whistled on th street. Knowing the writers, I've felt quite chesty and have promisd every band leader on the continent an autographed copy from the writer, upon my return home. I quote from "Dear Mom," if you should see a certain "you know who" (a recently appointed police woman) give her a kiss for me, tell her to write to me.

Well, cheerio (the cheerio is just one of the things I've picked up over here, in addition to a Scottish burr.)

Hope to see you all soon.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

This is from your friend who joined the EAGLE campaign last year and endeavored to sell subscriptions for your paper in Houston, Texas.

I tried to speak to you at our church last Sunday (Second Baptist), but the crowd prevented me.

First, I want you to know that I still admire you as one of the greatest race women in the world. I delight in hearing you speak anytime you are programmed, because I know you are interested in the vital problems confronting us.

I am extending to you an invitation to hear the 7th annual trophy contest, observing National Education Week, at Polytechnic Evening High school Thursday, Nov. 12 at eight o'clock in room No. 159. No admission or fee will be charged. The subject is "Education For Free Men." I was fortunate to be selected as one of the contestants, therefore I should like for you to be in the audience to wish me success.

I am thanking you in advance for your presence, and remain

Yours truly,
Mrs. Lillie Pearl Roberts.

The Negro's Stake in the War

University of California Radio Service broadcast, heard 10:00 p. m., Monday, Oct. 19, over Station KGO, San Francisco, and the Pacific Coast Blue Network.

ANNOUNCER: What will this war mean to the American Negro? Will it improve his status? What has he to gain or lose in the final outcome? Tonight the University Explorer answers these and other questions in a story entitled "The Negro's Stake in the War." And now, the University Explorer!

EXPLORER: Good evening. Two years ago Senator Bilbo of Mississippi gave a new twist to an old wheeze, "If you don't like this country, why don't you go back where you came from." His version was, "If your presence here creates a problem, why don't we send you back where your ancestors came from?" He embodied this philosophy in a Senate bill to resettle American Negroes in Africa.

But the bill was killed, which is not surprising in view of its implications. If we were to send our unemployed Negroes back to Africa, it would be logical to send our unemployed Poles back to Poland, our unemployed French back to France, and perhaps even our unemployed of English descent back to England.

Actually, there is no such simple solution to the problem of the American Negro. Our colored citizens regard themselves as truly American as any other citizens, and indeed they are. Somehow we must find a place—and a useful, respectable place—for them in our society. This will require some conscious effort. In this country one of our habits of thinking is that everything gets better in time. We believe in the inevitability of progress. If you are not familiar with the problem of the Negro, you may assume that his lot has been steadily improving since the time of his emancipation. This is not altogether true.

In the matter of voting, for instance, the Negro enjoyed the most freedom in the so-called reconstruction years just after the Civil War. Today the Negro electorate is largely disenfranchised in the South. At one time Negroes were allowed to enlist in the Navy, and they are remembered for the good account they gave of themselves with Perry at Lake Erie and also in the Battle of Manila Bay. But in later years, Negroes lost the right to enlist in the Navy except as servants, and this situation has been remedied only in the last few months.

In some respects, the Negro also seems to have lost ground economically. There was a time when southern Negroes made up a large part of the skilled artisan class. In the years previous to emancipation, there were many Negroes among the South's mechanics, machinists, and railroad engineers and brakemen. After the Civil War, Negroes were gradually forced out of these fields into the class of unskilled labor. More recently, the depression brought them great difficulties. In general, Negroes were the first employees to be dismissed. They were often replaced by white workers. They even lost out in positions which they had traditionally held for years, such as waiting tables. According to the Bureau of the Census, Negroes suffered heavily in agriculture. In the decade between 1930 and 1940, the number of non-white operators of farms fell off 21½ per cent. During this period, Negroes lost ownership of 2,750,000 acres of land.

But if the Negro seems to have suffered reversals, there can be no doubt that he has also made many gains. In the matter of education, for instance, he has made steady progress from the ignorance and superstition of slavery. His educational facilities are by no means complete, but they are improving. I recently learned something of the pioneer efforts to educate the Negro from a new book by Dr. Frank J. Klingberg, professor of History on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California. His book is called, An Appraisal of the Negro in Colonial South Carolina, and it deals with the early attempts of Christian missionaries to convert and educate the Negro. If the education of the Negro presents difficulties today, it was almost impossible then. It was the custom of plantation owners to work their slaves six days a week and then give them the seventh day to grow crops for their own sustenance. This left no time for the missionaries to instruct the slaves in reading and religion. Moreover, many slave-holders opposed education of the Negroes on the grounds that education might spoil the slaves.

In the face of these and other difficulties, the representative of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel accmophished remarkable results. They gradually won plantation owners over to their point of view by telling them that baptism and education would not free the slaves but would make more trustworthy servants. In time, the missionaries took a stronger stand against slavery and its evils, and it is likely that their efforts laid the ground-work for the whole movement to humanize the treatment of slaves and eventually to set them free. Those interested in early attempts to educate the Negro will want to read Dr. Klingberg's book.

Dr. Klingberg says it is not generally realized what a vital part the Negro played in making the United States the important nation it is today. Without the Negro it would have been impossible to develop the great plantations of the South. He was vital to the vast rice and cotton fields which were so important to early American economy. That's why Reginald Coupland said "America was saved by Africa."

Emancipation did not by any means solve all the Negro's problems. Progress made in the last 75 years has been uneven and sometimes painful to the Negro. What is his lot today, and what are the prospects for the future? Well, here are a few facts:

There are about 13,000,000 colored people in the United States today, or close to 1/10th of the population.

There have been about 45,000 colored college graduates, and over 200 have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, but one out of every six Negroes cannot read or write.

About 25 per cent of the Negro farmers of the South are full or part owners of their land—all the rest—75 per cent—are tenants or sharecroppers.

Figures reveal that the lowest average Negro wages covered by the Social Security Act were reported from the states of Mississippi and South Carolina—an average of $300 per year. This low figure can be partly accounted for by the shifting of Negro many gains. In the matter of

★W. J. WHEATON

The peoples of the nations of the world have looked with eagerness toward the fulfillment of that document drawn up, and proclaimed to the world by President Roosevelt and Premier Churchill, known as the Atlantic Charter. It has been assured that the principles encouched therein would apply to all of the people of whatever race, nationality or religious belief. To that effect plans are being laid and formulated for a post-war enactment of those principles.

There is a group of people—a very loyal and law-abiding people—in this United States who are watching with interest, and wondering whether or not there will be an acknowledgement of those principles here. For there is already such a charter in the Constitution. The Bill of Rights, which gives a guarantee for those freedoms. This group of people believe that it is right and proper that this nation should be concerned with the freedom of the people in foreign lands. But, they also believe that it is right and proper that this should apply to all of the people at home, so that the oft-repeated and, almost hackneyed phrase, democracy will not be rendered hypocritical and a base denial of those principles for which men are now making the great sacrifice.

While the governments are planning for the great post-war rebirth of freedom for all, it is wise to now plan and act that democratic principles, principles that are guranteed to each and every citizen, become a fact. To whom are we to intrust the planning and enactments that must follow. Why to whom else but the leading women of this group.

Say what you will, even thru and after the days of Negro bondage it was shown the women, who not only planned, but executed their plans for the liberation of the bond. While Frederick Douglass and his composers were telling theworld of the evils of slavery, Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman and a band of loyal women were not only planning, but conducting the "Underground Railway" and bringing freedom to hundreds of their people.

This is no time for useless oratory. This is the day of realism. Well does this group know of the barriers erected in their path to progress, and well do they know of the inhibitions and the humiliations which they are enduring through racial prejudice. We know all of this, and need not be told.

Our pseudo-leaders who meet, orate, resolve, go home and forget have lost face with us laymen who have longed for results. They have been enthusiastic. Yes. But enthusiasm should be sobered by sane judgment and intelligent planning. Less oratory and more action.

We look to see the leading women of our race meet and plan for a voice in the councils which will formulate the principles of the "Four Freedoms." There are many Sojourner Truths and Harriet Tubmans, but their tasks are different. They must see that public opinion is educated to the principle of human equality and that all people be judged according to their worth. That here, in these United States, democracy shall mean in fact just as its words proclaim. The task of educating opinion in some sections will indeed be arduous. But a small beginning, like the small pebble dislodged at the top of the mountain gains in momentum and gathers into the avalanche which sweeps all before it. So will well directed efforts gain the aid of a just and patriotic opinion which, like the avalanche, will sweep every racial barrier before it and democracy shall prevail. Why not start the avalanche here, in California? Act, and NOW.

The Negro's Stake in the War

workers between jobs which are covered by the act and jobs which are not. As a standard of comparison, the lowest yearly wage for whites was $816 in Arkansas—nearly three times as great.

The death rate from tuberculosis among Negroes is seven times higher than that of whites.

Negro marriages are less stable than white unions—though Negroes marry earlier in life, they are more likely to separate. Their high birth rate is balanced by a high death rate, and the net result is that the average Negro family is slightly smaller than the average white family.

A survey made two years ago indicated that the 18 states which provide separate schools for Negroes spent an average of only $12.57 yearly for each pupil, or about 1/4th of the amount spent on southern whites.

In many respects, this overall picture is a discouraging one. It is not surprising that some Negroes are bitter and cynical about the prospects of improving it. Hitler and his Nazis have loong had a policy of stirring up dissatisfaction among minorities, and they have addressed a good many appeals to the American Negro. These appeals probably have not had any great effect, but the Negro cannot be blamed if he senses the ironyy of fighting for democracy abroad when he does not enjoy its full fruits at home. As Mrs. Roosevelt told a church society last January, "The nation cannot expect colored people to feel that the United States is worth defending if the Negro continues to be treated as he now is."

But though the Negro may not have the same stake in the war as some of the rest of us, his stake is still considerable. Hans Habe, a prisoner of the Germans after the fall of France, reported that Negro prisoners were especially ill treated and that many of them were shot outright on the pretense that they were snipers. Habe learned of the policies being set up for Germany's future colonies in Africa. They included plans for strict regulation of Negro labor, a rigid policy of segregation, and complete disenfranchisement. The Nazis called the policy of equal rights for Negroes a "democratic cancer." The Nazi propaganda line was that the Negro was not an enemy of the German, but only his slave. The Negro captespecially since the depression, Negroes have been limited to personal service and hard, unskilled labor. As recently as two years ago, 17 colored boys trained as armanent workers could not find jobs, though their white classmates had no difficulty. At that time the airplane factories used Negroes only as janitors or in some cases not at all. One difficulty was the refusal of many trade unions to admit colored workers. Only a few AFL unions would take them, though the CIO was pledged to admit members without regard to race, color, creed, or nationality.

The waste of Negro manpower led to government action. In the spring of 1941, Sidney Hillman, associate director of OPM, urged defense manufacturers to revise their policies. He said, "In many localities, qualified and available Negro workers are either being restricted to unskilled jobs, or barred from defense employment entirely . . . Such practices are extremely wasteful of our human resources and prevent a total effort for national defense." A number of big firms responded favorably to this appeal.

In June of last year, President Roosevelt issued an executive order establishing a Committee on Fair Employment Practices. It was ordered that the vocational training programs should have no race or color barriers. It was also ordered that all new war contracts should specify that the contractor not practice discrimination in his hiring policies.

Since that time, Negroes have fared better. Airplane factories in California, for instance, are complying with the order and now employ skilled Negroes for skilled work. Unions have agreed not to object to the employment of colored workers, and positions are being found for them in the shipyards and in other defense industries.

There has also been some improvement in military opportunities for the Negro. Before the passage of the Selective Service Act, it was difficult for Negroes to enter any military service, but in the fall of 1940 it was announced that colored applicants would be accepted in every major branch of the Army. A few months ago the Navy announced that it, too, would accept Negro enlistments. The Air Corps set up a special squadron for Negro fliers and serviced it with colored ground forces.

There are many other encouraging signs of Negro progress. Colonel Benjamin O. Davis was promoted to the rank of brigadier general, and thus became the first Negro to hold that position. Not long ago Dr. William Lloyd Imes was elected to the board of Union Theological Seminary. He is the first Negro to serve on the board of a major United States school.

Such signs show clearly that Negroes have much to gain in a victory for democracy in this war. America has not solved many of the difficult questions involving the Negro, but an honest effort is being made. The American attitude is to better the position of our colored populatio as rapidly as adjustments can be made. In this attitude, we are following the tradition of our early humanitarians—a tradition which is sharply in contrast to the Axis policy of turning the Negro back to slavery and ignorance.

"CROSS THAT BRIDGE NOW!!"

Lt. White Assigned to L. A. District as Recruiting Officer

Lieut. Harriette B. White, WAAC, arrived in Los Angeles last week to serve as recruiting officer for a temporary period in the Los Angeles district. She will interview interested applicants any afternoon at WAAC Headquarters, Room 1735, U. S. Post Office Building. Her itinerary includes Pasadena, Santa Monica, Monrovia, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Riverside, San Bernardino, Fresno, Bakersfield, San Diego, Imperial Valley, San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Monterey, Seattle, Washington Phoenix, Yuma and Tucson, Arizona.

Lieut. White is one of the 36 Negro officers who were commissioned on August 29th in the First Women's Army Auxiliary Corps of the United States at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, after completion of an intensive training course.

Speaking of the WAAC, Lieut White stated "I am proud to be a member of the Women's Army Auiliary Corps; I believe it is the organization which will give Negro women the greatest opportunity to serve actively in the present war."

CIO Confab Demands Anti-Poll Tax Bill Passage

BOSTON—In a dramatic win-the-war action that highlighted the second day of the fifth annual CIO Convention held here last week at the Hotel Stratler, 500 delegates crowded the hotel telegraph office to dispatch wires to members of the United States States Senate demanding immediate passage of the Geyer-Pepper anti-poll tax bill.

They were carrying out the instructions of President Philip Murray, who made an impressive appeal for this direct action from labor in support of the vital war measure, following the convention's unanimous adoption of a strong resolution which characterized the abolition of the poll tax as a "military necessity," in achieving victory in this people's war.

Gov. Johnson's Anti-Lynch Stand Praised By 27,000

JACKSON, Miss, Nov. 19—Pledging "unyielding determination to devote our resources and our lives to the cause of victory," 27 thousand Negro citizens of this state last week praised Gov. Paul B. Johnson's forthright condemnation of the fifth columnists responsible for this state's three recent lynchings, and urged him to take further steps to apprehend and punsh these offenders against America's war effort.

They also urged that "Our National Congress speedily enact anti-poll tax legislation as a vital war measure broadening the democratic rights in America, this whole people in democracy."

Speaking as members of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor, Mississippi Jurisdiction, they made their win-the-war sentiments known through one thousand delegates who attended the Fraternal Order's fifty third annual Grand Session here aand passed a resolution which called upon Mississippi's white citizens to "speak out boldly against the evil of lynching as a dagger pointed at the heart of our country's battle for freedom."

COMMUNITY CHEST VOLUNTEERS MAKE FINE SHOWING AT 'KICK-OFF'

Eastside Community Chest volunteers made an excellent showing in attendance at the noon rally last Thursday at the Biltmore Bowl, when division 44, headed by Mr. John E. Hargrove, and division 47, headed by Mrs. G. V. Grayson were among featured divisions of the appeal.

While the two leaders gave initial reports of contributions here totaling $450.00, the rally was their "kick-off" meeting and the opening of house-to-house solicitation for the Chest agencies here. The first report included a substantial contribution from the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company and its employees.

The efforts of Mrs. Grayson and Mr. Hargrove and their coworkers on behalf of the sick, the needy, the neglected children and for the common good was met with generous recognition by Mrs. Albert Crutcher, general chairman of team mobilizations and for 35 years president of Childrens' Hospital, a Chest agency.

"The Eastside volunteers will greatly appreciate all contributions of the citizens who wish to do their utmost to help raise the annual fund for the 86 Chest agencies and our own people. Every penny is needed by them and will be spent where it will do the most good," Mr. Hargrove stated.

"Among the agencies which give predominant servicet o the Eastside are the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, the Eastside Settlement House, Sojourner Truth Industrial Club and the Urban League and every one of the other Chest hospitals, children's homes, day nurseries, clinics, family agencies stand ready to serve when needed.

"We are anxious to spend up the campaign and anyone ready to contribute can telephone me at Century 22511, 4006½ So. Central avenue, and a volunteer will pick up the contribution.

Also attending the Biltmore luncheon rally were Mmes. Josephine Brown, Virginia Osborne, Bernice Nance, Claudia Munford, Virginia Stevens, Ida Scott, Pearl Bailty, Lela Madison, P. Price Cobbs, Arthur T. Reese, Georgia Hardiman, Alma Morgan, Louis Windsor, Thomas J. Pinchback, Bernice Pinchback Turnley, Gladys Devall Williams, Nellie N. Capers Mary Lee Robertson, Lelhe Baker, Ethel Lee Good, Karla Johnson, Bessie Clark, Hattie Saunders, Clara Cotterell, Rev. Anna McMillan, and Misses Elaine Dotson and Madeline Scott. All are volunteers.

BEHIND THE SCENES With Harry

By Harry Levette

WITH A RATION ON PAPER, ink, typewriter ribbons; a ceiling on gasoline, a limit on shoe leather, and stern demands from the War Manpower Board that newspaper columnists engage in essential occupations, this scribbler will not be able to gossip very long with you this session. Such as it is, it will be in short gasps, dots and dashes.

SENSATION OF THE WEEK: The arrival of Benny Carter's famous band for an engagement at the Lincoln . . . Talk of the week: The surprise visit of Charles French, swimmer hero who swam six miles towing a raft full of wounded white shipmates . . . Guests of Dr. Jno. Robinson, now in the medical corps, and his personable wife, they dined at the Dunbar last Sunday night while many admirers crowded around to greet the hero . . . Party of the week: Ben Carter's entertainment of Tyrone Power and other stars of Fox's "Crash Dive," marking the completion of the great technicolor feature.

EUGENE HENRY HUFFMAN, of "Now I Am Civilized" fame, busily preparing for the downtown showing of "The Lost Chord" at the Mayan theatre. His elaborate photographic who's who and souvenir program will be a unique work of art worth anyone getting into it, if possible . . . Jas. Adamson, well known screen player and author of several scenarios, now a sergeant in the State Guard, just finished three weeks preliminary training for a post in the regular army at Camp Harry Hopkins. Nine more week-ends to complete . . . One of Adamson's best was a comedy, "Hell's Little Angels." . . . Screen Actors Guild took into close consideration the case of a man who slapped a girl dancer on the "Thank Your Lucky Stars" set at Warner Bros. last week. He will probably get a warning this time, but suspension usually follows such actions, especially for striking a member of the opposite sex. No one in pictures can remember of such a thing ever happening before.

MANTAN MORELAND IN "COSMO JONES"

Mantan Moreland started last Monday in what no doubt will prove to be his biggest picture of the 1942-'43 season, and besides may land him a swell contract in the radio feature which is being transferred to the screen. This is "Cosmo Jones," with Frank Graham, famous radio star, heading the big cast as the eccentric, but scientific detective and Mantan as his assistant, a veritable "Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson" team. The role played by the famous colored comedian is "Eustace Smith," especially written fo him, and packed with real humor as well as occasional bits of dramatic action. Incidentally, Director Tinley, showing his desire to avoid offending colored fans, called attention to several paragraphs and lines in the script before shooting started and asked Mantan if they would cause offense. Whenever the answer was yes, the script was immediately changed. Wm. Stroboc is the capable first assistant, and the new feature is a Lindsley Parsons production.

Others in the cast are Richard Cromwell, as "Flanagan"; Gail Storm as "Susan"; Gwen Kenyon as "Phyllis"; Tris Coffin, as "Jake"; Gil Stanley as "Tom"; Alice Barnett, as "Gimpy"; Sam Berman as "Whitey"; Joe Garcia as "Gus," and Emmet Vaughn as commissioner of police.

HATTIE McDANIEL, HUGE CAST FINISH "THANK YOUR LUCKY STARS"

Hattie McDaniel, after several weeks of the kind of work that made her famous in her vaudeville days, finished a star of the big colored sequence in "Thank Your Lucky Stars" at Warner Bros. where she is under contract. The versatile, talented queen of sepia Hollywood, who still both sings and dances just as she did before Hollywood discovered her, is sure to be the big hit of the musical when it is released. Other colored feature players are Jesse Brooks and Rita Christina. The swarm of fancifully costumed dancers were directed by Leroy Prinz, well remembered for "Lucky Day," several "Big Broadcasts" and other Paramount pictures, is unusually successful with Negro talent. The dancers include Josh Douglas Florence O'Brien, Myrtle Fortune, Mae Johnson, Ruth Givens, Doris Ake, Cleo Herndon, Millie Munroe, Mildred Boyd, Louise Franklin, Juanita Moore, Vivien Dandridge, Lucy Battle, Patsy Hunter, Avanelle Harris, Suzette Johnson, Artie Brandon, and Dorothy Wooten. The boy hoofers include Johnny Thomas, Leonard Bluette, Henry Roberts, Art Murray, Curry Lee Calmes, Bobby Johnson, Maxie Thrower, Sam Montgomery, Esven Mosby, Freddie Baker, Eugene Jackson, B. Ellis, and Udel Johnson.

With Daniel Meyers and Lucius Brooks as soldiers, and Doc McGill, a policeman, other players in character roles include Wm. H. Johnson, Oscar Vena, Matthew "Tia Juana" Jones, Madam Sul Te Wan, Willa Pearl Curtis, Johnny Beard, Alberta Gary, Artie Overstreet, Irene Allen, J. A. Robinson, Elizabeth Ashley, Geneva Williams and Louise Robinson.

"Thank Your Lucky Stars," under the general direction of David Butler, has a veritable who's who of famous stars including Eddie Cantor, George Raft, Ida Lupino, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sheridan, Dennis Morgan, Errol Flynn, Bette Davis, Joan Leslie, John Garfield, Edward Everett Horton, and S. Z. Sakall.

Another big colored sequence will be seen when Republic releases "Hit Parade of 1943," which just wound up with the sepia artists and dancers last week. Here Count Basie's big band can all hide in a piano while pretty, vivacious Dorothy Dandridge sings and does some neat steps on top of the cover, for "I just ain't tellin'!" Jack Williams also has a featured dance act. The Mills Brothers, world noted "four boys and a guitar," who made their Hollywood debut away back in Marion Davies' "Operator 13" at MGM, are billed high in the notable cast, with Joan Carrol starred, and Albert Rogell directing. The sepia dancers include Lucille Gall, Ruth Mills, Louise Harris, Dorothea Durham, Fanny Bufford, Nadiene Cole, Gladys Jackson, June De Cuir, Roberta Reeves, Neva Peoples, Francis Neeley, Ameil Brown, William Downes, George Davis, Julius Mitchell, and Wynonie Harris.

DON'T FORGET THOSE SHORT STORIES

Just to remind you of the fact that if you can write a short story of Negro life you may become famous from just such a small start, there is something new coming out of Hollywood shortly, and you will want to be in on it. Let me hear from you, giving the title, your name, and address, and I will tell you what to do with your story. (How about a real war story?) Write Harry Levette, 727 E. 24th street, Los Angeles, Calif.

THERESA HARRIS IN "I WALK WITH A ZOMBIE"

"I Walk With a Zombie," RKO drama, filming on the Pathe lot, has the famous former Lafayette player, Dick Abrams, cast as a minister, and Theresa Harris in a featured role. Singers of Wes Indian songs, sailors and villagers are included in the colored sequence.

Thanks to Earl Morris for his words of praise in his last "Grand Town."

SECOND RACE NEWSREEL ON U. S. SCREENS

Acclaimed as the most significant factor in the world-wide recognition of the Negro Race in global events, the All American News, a national newsreel, made its initial appearance on motion picture screens throughout the nation last week and now, the second issue of this weekly release is being exhibited.

Winning the attention and commendation of both the white and the colored press, All American News was at once established as a vital part of theatre programs in all areas where there is a colored population.

The second issue, now being shown, is in keeping with the general pattern of the newsreel for it contains outstanding scenes of colored people engaged in the war effort, in sports, civilian defense and in the arts.

It opens with a victory parade in which one hundred thousand negro citizens mobilize for civilian defense. Follows then, the exciting grid game between the New York Bombers and the Washington Lions, and, in the March of Freedom sequence, a regular weekly portion of the reel, the cavalry troops at Ft. Myers, Va., are shown in drills. The training of Negro doctors and nurses for important war posts, taking place at Meharry Medical College, is another interesting sequence. Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the federal Manpower Commission then appears with a special message for men and women interested in aiding the war effort. Mr. McNutt granted this exclusive interview to All American News. Each week some leading figure will appear in the newsreel, according to the producers. Closing with the famous Fisk University choir, singing inspiring spirituals, the second edition of All American News provides variety, spice, action and thrills as well as real entertainment.

Readers are urged to contact their theatre managers, asking that this important adjunct to the Negro race be displayed in theatres wherever there is Negro population. Its display will mean not only good-will for the theatre, it is explained, but increased business on a large scale since the colored people are eagerly supporting this, the first recognition of its kind ever afforded the Negro.

Elmer Davis will be seen and heard in the third issue of All American News; for the entire federal government, including the War Information Bureau is cooperating with the producers in preparing every issue of this newsreel.

"BLACK SWAN" NOW PLAYING AT UNITED ARTISTS

The master story-teller's most exciting story of the sea, Rafael Sabatini's "The Black Swan," has been translated by 20th Century-Fo into a rousing adventure film. Said to retain all the lusty tang of the book, the film looms all the more glorious, in its swashbuckling way, thanks to the gift of blazing Technicolor.

Starring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara, the film now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, features a cast fully equal in magnitude to the richness of the story—Laird Cregar, Thomas Mitchell, George Sanders, Anthony Quinn, George Zucco and hundreds of others.

SC-UCLA Coming Into Home Stretch

This coast grid season will probably go in the books as one on the most topsy-turvy in history. The underdog has been doing the unexpected right along. A University of Oregon Webfoot eleven which surprised the UCLA Bruins two weeks ago at Eugene came into town last week, and figured to throw a scare into a vastly improved Southern California Trojan. As it turned out, the Webfoots looked feeble, impotent and downright unlike you'd figure a major college eleven could ever look—under any circumstances. After watching the Trojans roll up a score of 40 to 0, the column came away from the Coliseum KNOWING the Oregons couldn't be that bad!

They must have left their game up in Eugene the previous Saturday when they upset Brer Bruin. It must be said for Bob Reynolds, their highly touted sophomore halfback, however, that he did show he is rightly considered as a dangerous passer. A lot may be expected of him in succeeding years, providing the grid sport gets the go ahead signal from the government.

In the race for Rose Bowl bid, despite a conference defeat, the Uclans play host to the University of Washington Huskies here Saturday. Favored, the Bruins will have to play bang-up ball to trip the dangerous northerners. USC and Washington State also are in the Rose Bowl picture, and it may be that conference honors won't be decided until the Trojans and Bruins clash next month.

Chase-Burley Scrap Will Be Humdinger

Classy Jack Chase, the Denver middleweight who has won 17 straight bouts in California rings, and who possesses a lot of ring savvy, is slated to box Charley Burley of Minneapolis at Hollywood Legion stadium shortly. It should be one of the greatest battles of the year. Burley, who boasts a great record against all types of opponents, has yet to show in Los Angeles. He won handily down in San Diego last week. On the other hand, Chase, more the boxer than the slugger like Burley, continues to set a torrid pace. Boxer versus slugger, and the pasteboards for that one wouldn't last more than a few hours . . . Cleve Abbott, coach of the Tuskegee football team, in addressing some of his friends at a dinner in Jacksonville following the Tuskegee-Florida A&M game two weeks ago, expressed himself as believing football WILL BE PLAYED in 1943 . . . Incidentally, Clarence Mackey, the ex-UCLA mite, will romp in the backfield of the L. A. Bulldogs Sunday in the civil war series with the Hollywood Bears. Mackey is holding down a defense job, too . . . Aside to "Honest William Miller": Saw the mention in that daily column. The letter was great stuff . . . Sammy Walker, who has figured in more sensational brawls probably than any other preliminary fighter, gets his second shot at Ad Alonzo tomorrow night at Hollywood Legion. He deserved no worse than a draw in the first mix, but dropped the duke . . . Lloyd Courtney, the all-around athlete from Fresno State who has been employed in the Richmond shipyards, will be in the Army any day now . . . Woodrow Wilson Strode, the former UCLA and Hollywood Bear ace, is at Ft. Huachuca, we hear . . .

Charley Burley KOs Foe in 2

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 19.—Hard punching middleweight Charley Burley of Minneapolis showed before fight fans of this border city last Friday night and knocked out Mexico City's Cecelio Lozada in the second round.

Walker in Hollywood Legion Semi

Jimmy McDaniels, who fights Rodolfo Ramirez of Mexico City at the Hollywood Legion stadium tomorrow night, hopes to get a match with Jack Chase for the state welterweight championship before joining the army the first of the year.

The young Watts scrapper proved himself when he took a onesided decision from Jimmy Garrison in a recent bout.

Garrison had won a lot of fights at Hollywood. He came close to stopping Jackie Wilson one night.

Ramirez has never been beaten at Hollywood.

Sammy Walker, who makes every appearance a sensational one, fights Ad Alonzo in the six-round semiwindup. The go is a rematch. Two weeks ago Alonzo's hand was raised, but most ringsiders thought Walker deserved no worse than a draw.

Last Friday night Carlos Chavez, state featherweight ruler, scored a onesided 10-round victory over Donnie Maes in the main event. Maes weighed 127; Chavez 126. Billy Hale, 126, finished fast to clop the decision over Chester Ellis, 124, in the six-round semi.

Four-round results: Terry Gibson, 146, easily defeated Harry Mills, 149, in the feature; Chuckie Garcia, 132, TKO'd Jack Haley, 128, in three; Paul Guerrero, 120, and Jose Tovar, 122, drew; and Torpedo Reed, 132, nodded Manuel Villa, 131.

Langston Lions Defeat Xavier Gold Rush, 14-0

By CHARLES L. DE LAY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—A gala celebration in honor of the annual homecoming classic, with all the attendant features, proved to be no obstacle to a fighting Langston university eleven as the Langston Lions of Oklahoma defeated the local Xavier University Gold Rush of Louisiana gridders, 14-0, here Saturday afternoon at Xavier stadium.

Both teams displayed an excellent forward wall, and in spite of the two scores made during the first three quarters, the game was slow and uninteresting until the final period when the Xavierites unleashed a dazzling aerial attack.

The initial score came late in the second quarter. Pet Millegan, Langston halfback, heaved a short lateral to Jewell Robinson, Langston fullback, who eluded the Gold Rush secondary to carry the ball to the Xavier six-yard stripe, a run of 45 yards, before being stopped. Robinson then went over center for two yards, and, on the next play, tossed a forward over the center of the Xavier line into the arms of Howard Carion, Langston quarterback, for the first touchdown. Ray Johnson, Langston halfback, was rushed into the game, and his atttempted conversion via place kick was good for the extra point.

Another aerial thrust by Millegan and Robinson of Langston in the third period accounted for the second touchdown. Millegan tossed the final pass into the waiting arms of Clarence Harkins, Langston end. Johnson again placekicked the extra point.

In the fourth period the Xavierites suddenly came to life with double and triple laterals to gain 112 yards in the air in this period alone. However, timely interceptions stopped the Xavierites within the Langston 10-yard stripe twice.

EASTSIDE, WESTSIDE VIE SUNDAY IN GOLF FINALS

With a do or die spirit, the Westside Elites and the Eastside Clinkers golf clubs will meet in the final of three matches Sunday on the Sunset Fields golf course. Each club, represented by its A, B and C teams, will be ready at the first tee of Number Two course at 12:30 sharp.

The Westsiders won the first matches, played Sunday, Oct. 25, by a single point, but the aroused Eastsiders came back to swamp the Westsiders Sunday, Nov. 8, by a margin of six points. The winner Sunday will have taken two out of three matches and will be considered champions of the Los Angeles metropolitan district.

The club captains, with a good line on the playing strength of each man, will attempt to arrange his foresomes in sure-shot formations.

Captain Ivan Johnson III would like to send his men in the same order that he did in the second matches, which his club won so handily, but he will find that Captain Henry Lewis will have changed his line-up back into the winning combination that he had in the first matches.

These matches are sponsored by the Southern California Colored Golfers association, and are the first such matches to be played on the coast in some years. Local players have taken to the matches like ducks to water and are anxious to be the possessors of one of the medals that each player of the winning club will receive.

As before, spectators being welcome, a good gallery is expected to be on hand, to pull for their favorite players.

Tuskegee Bows to Florida, 20-7

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 19.—Tuskegee's gallant band of Golden Tigers were defeated here Nov. 6, 20 to 7, before a crowd of nearly 5,000 spectators, by the Florida A. and M. college Rattlers, moving the Rattlers a notch higher in their claim for the Southern Conference Championship title. Neither team had been defeated in conference competition to date.

The game was played in the beautiful Jacksonville Baseball park and the enthusiastic and cordial welcome accorded both Tuskegee and Florida by the highly excited and enthusiastic football followers gave assurance that Jacksonville has long awaited a renewal of the Tuskegee-Florida game to be played annually in this fast growing metropolis.

Thomas TKOs Miegel in 6

John Thomas continued his unbeaten drive through the coast lightweight ranks Monday night at Ocean Park when he scored a six-round technical knockout win over Charley Miegel. A packed house of 2200 fans saw the bout which was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Thomas looked all of a mechanical man as he pumped a fast left into Miegel's face so much Referee Herb Green put a stop to it.

Thomas weighed 132½; Miegel 136.

Beau Jack Upsets No. 1 Lightweight

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Beau Jack, a wild swinger from Georgia, catapulted almost to the top of the lightweight ladder last Friday night when he scored an upset technical knockout victory over Allie Stolz, white, the No. 1 contender, in the 7th round before 15,000 fans at Madison Square Garden.

A bout between Jack and Tippy Larkin of New Jersey is being considered to determine a successor to Sammy Angott, the champion, who vacated his title because of a bad hand.

Men's Day Sunday at Trinity

Men's Day at Trinity Baptist church, W. 35th and Normandie, will attract hundreds of men in civilian and military life this year. Always an outstanding feature in the church's program, this year's Men's Day, it is reported, will be the most stupendous effort of the year.

The chairman this year is Paul H. Cassell, the chairman of the trustee board of the church and one of the city's most successful contractors. Cassell is being ably assisted in the program arrangement by Clarence D. Hargrove, well known dramatic artist, who is also a member of the church, and Earl J. Pleasant, director of the Celestial Choristers, a group of youthful singers who have made their mark thru their service to the church.

A mammoth Men's Day rally, featuring the Earl Pleasant Chorus, the Southern Gospel Singers, under Prof. Johnson, Eugene Smallwood, Prince T. Patridge, dramatic reader, and many others will be held tonight (Thursday), preparatory to the great Sunday services.

Gale Seaman, formerly the advisor of the Roger Williams clubs at UCLA and USC, will be the speaker Sunday night on the subject, "My Religion During Times Like These." Appropriate musical selections will support him.

The men of the church drafted the pastor, Dr. J. L. Caston, as the speaker at the morning service and churchgoers know what to expect of this brilliant pulpiteer.

For three years the men of Trinity have raised more money than the women and they are out this year to repeat. Women's Day was Oct. 25 and the contest will end this Sunday evening. Come and bring your friends to each of these services.

Second AME Closes $1000 Rally Sunday

A breakfast will be served at Second AME church, corner 43rd and San Pedro place, Rev. Jno. B. Isaacs, minister, on Sunday morning, at 8:00 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Brooks.

Large crowds worshipped at Second church all day on Sunday last. At the 11:00 o'clock hour, the minister, Rev. Isaacs, spoke from the subject, "Shadows and Realities." There were two accessions.

Among the visitors seen at the service at Second church last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. King, Mrs. Birdie Smith, Mrs. Ruth Obey of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Ella Perkins, Mrs. E. V. Neal, Mrs. Nellie Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fagan, Mrs. Cavanaugh, and Mrs. Betty Hill.

The rally to raise $1000 will close on Sunday next. The captains, Mrs. Carrie Brooks, Reginald Green, Mrs. Julia Green, and Joseph Buckner each is confident of leading in the drive. The pastor is silent as to which of these captains is now in the lead, but indications are that the men will report larger amounts of money than would the women. "We shall see what we shall see" on Sunday next.

The minister will occupy the pulpit at both services on next Sunday, preaching at the morning hour on "Spiritual Saboteurs," and at the evening hour on "Lifts in Life." The senior and junior choirs will sing.

The ladies group will serve a turkey dinner at the church on Sunday. Dinner will be ready at 12:30 o'clock.

The choirs are busy preparing for the Christmas season. The pastor has announced that spectacular pageants will be presented during the season with very special musci. Mrs. Isaacs is preparing the pageants to be presented.

A nursery school will be conducted at Second church beginning next Monday. Parents and guardians in the vicinity of the church are asked to bring their children who will be cared for by trained teachers and special nurses.

You will find it profitable to worship at Second church. The pastor invites you to share in the services and opportunities fo the church.

The minister says, "If you cannot make light your troubles, keep them dark."

Baptist Temple Church Services

The dedicatory services of the Baptist Temple, 620 E. 48th street, is progressing far beyond our expectation. We are having big crowds each night. Bishop William A. Washington, pastor of the Bethel Church of Christ Holiness, brought his gospel choir and a big crowd. He gave us a wonderful sermon and also Dr. F. K. Leak, pastor of Calvary Baptist church.

Sunday, Nov. 15, at the 11 a. m. services, Pastor J. C. Sweeney delivered a great sermon. At 7:30 p. m., Dr. H. Mansfield Collins and choir, together with a large number of his members, worshipped with us, and delivered an inspiring sermon.

Another week of spiritual meetings will be observed. The Village Baptist church and choir with their pastor, Dr. Curtis, will deliver the sermon. Also the Morning Star Baptist church, Dr. W. L. Straugther, pastor, and on Thursday, Nov. 19, Wesley Chapel Methodist church and choir and pastor, Dr. E. W. Rakestraw, president of the Interdenominational Alliance, will deliver the message. On Sunday, Nov. 22, the Providence Baptist association will have charge of the program, Dr. B. W. Wade, moderator.

Rev. Jordan Returns to Pulpit

Sunday, Nov. 22, will be a great day at First AME church, 801 Towne avenue. It will mark the return to the pulpit of the pastor, the Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, who has been in the East and South during the past two weeks attending important conferences of the church.

Rev. Jordan was guest speaker at Bethel AME church of Kansas City, Mo., this past Sunday. Bethel is one of the former pastorates of Rev. Jordan. Word received here from members of Bethel indicate that he preached to a crowded church and there were 7 accessions to the membership and three converts at the morning service.

Rev. J. M. Brown of Oakland preached to an appreciative congregation at Eighth and Towne and there were three additions to the membership, one a convert.

Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor of The California EAGLE, spoke feelingly to the congregation concerning the sending of telegrams to the California senators in Washington, expressing our attitude toward the Anti-Poll Tax Bill now before them. The response was gratifying.

Union Services to Be Held Sunday

Union services will be held Sunday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, at Peoples United church, 105th street and Wilmington avenue, at which time Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor, choir and people of the Independent church, will be with us. Rev. Russell will preach and his choir will furnish the music.

The Independent people will be out in full force. An overflow congregation is expected. The public is cordially invited to worship with us, Rev. T. F. Jones, the pastor, said today.

To Install New Officers of IMA

The Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance will hold its regular meeting Monday, Nov. 23, at the Wesley center, 1021 E. Vernon avenue, at 11 a. m. The annual installation of officers will be held with the retiring president, Dr. A. Wendell Ross, delivering the feature address and installing the officers.

Following the installation, lunch will be served for the ministers and their wives, and all who will make reservations. It will be a gala occasion as well as a profitable one.

A man may fall into a thousand perplexities, but if his heart be upright and his intelligence unclouded, he will issue from them all without dishonor.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Paul's question to the Corinthians, "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

A passage from Luke's Gospel relates that when Jesus "was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: . . . And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. . . . And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God."

Relative to the subject, Mary Baker Eddy says in a citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Neither age nor accident can interfere with the senses of Soul, and there are no other real senses. . . . Spirit's senses are without pain, and they are forever at peace. Nothing can hide from them the harmony of all things and the might and permanence of Truth." "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

S. S. - B. T. U. CONGRESS Nov. 27, 28 and 29

EUGENE J. ALLEN
President, Western Baptist BTU Confab

The 8th annual session of the Western Baptist S. S. and B. T. U. Congress will convene Nov. 27, 28 and 29 with the Trinity Baptist church, 35th street at Normandie avenue, in Los Angeles.

We trust that each church will send as many delegates as possible for special instruction in B. T. U. organization and methods. Five 2-hour periods will be devoted entirely to this work. We are putting forth much effort to make these classes interesting and helpful.

We are expecting at least one person in attendance from each department of your BTU.

We are depending on you and your BTU to make this session of our congress the most successful we have ever had.

Western Baptist Young People's Congress to Meet

The Annual Young People's Congress of the Western Baptist State convention will convene with the Trinity Baptist church, corner of 35th and Normandie streets, Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 27, 28 and 29.

The churches of the convention look forward to this congress with much joy as it has been a means of furnishing much inspiration and spiritual power to the youth. Through the years many young people have been led to make their choices in the realm of Christian endeavors, having received the inspiration given out at this congress.

Sent from this congress have been army chaplains, pastors and many workers in the field of Christian education. This year, as never before, the presence of all young people is desired as they are needed in the remaking of the new world, but cannot be effective until they have received the necessary training for same.

This type of training is offered in the congress. Get ready, pastors, and send a large delegation. Christian leaders are there ready to teach them that they may be better church workers and more consecrated in the services of the Master.

Race Track GOSSIP

By Jay Gould

Three glamour girls this week are Betty Cade, Loretta Scott and Sylvia Lewis.

The three best dressed girls of the week are May Crowder, Vivian Farrell and Flo Washington. While-away won the Pimlico test race. Alsab takes the Belmont victory handicap. Charley Gorbett, first day at Bay Meadows, won two in a row, at good juicy prices.

The movie star, Maggie Hathaway, while visiting her friend Edna Mae Goins, was seen at the races daily betting on Jockey Dye's mounts, which won several races each day. Glamour Girl Mrs. Hathaway motored back full of smiles.

W. C. Buchanan, Judge Kearney and Mr. Censor Boss Fish can be seen in and out of the betting ring, club house and paddock looking the crowd over. Marie Williams of Oakland, plunger, where, how and when will you ever get 5 hundred a week to lose on the ponies, after the war is over. You must get your dough out of a pump.

Mrs. Henretta Whitby betting big and won 15 hundred last week at the track.

Rosa Henderson working in the Club House for Kid North won 4 hundred on a 59 dollar horse and walked out on her job.

The 4 sisters, Lithia, Bertha, O'lie and Bea had a good day after getting off to a bad start on a 14 dollar horse.

Sam Berry, Gladys Pitman and Buddy cabraying at the track after winning 80 bucks but spent it all but 30. Some sports.

A. Love still betting 5 and 6 hundred to a race and winning, playing the races out of the form sheet.

Ferguson betting ten, 20 and sometimes 50 but singing all of W. C. Handy's blues and "Go and Get the Enemy Blues." A hard loser.

John A. Burton and yours truly, Jay Gould presents all the swing stars from coast to coast in a row at the Oakland Auditorium, including Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway, Ella Fitzgerald, Gene Krupa, Billy Holiday, Tommy Dorsey, Erskin Hawkins, Lionel Hampton, Ben Watkins and Stuff Smith, who is next on the list, now playing at the Subway, which is a black and tan downtown in Frisco and also Saunders King now playing in an ofay joint downtown.

Top Notchers seen in and out of dances, race tracks, night clubs, and on the ringsides at fights are Myrtle Rector, Ida King, Velda Wilson, Pauline Sanders, Artie Burns, Myrtle Harris, Mrs. Cotton Harris, Juanita Pinkston, Mr. and Mrs. Tire Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. George Childs, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Robbins, Miss Billy Starr, Mrs. Marguerite Clipper, Mrs. Rex Langford, Miss Gercia, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Grant, Gert Maxwell, Big Steve and Gert, Marie Canady, Naomi Gibson, Vera Hamilton, Gene Green, Sadie Robey, Adell Ward, Minnie Lee, Peggie Armstrong, Mr. Penn of New York, Thelma Thompson, Elizabeth Booker, Dorothy Pitty, Dorothy Hammond and Merry Thompson see all things and all the people.

Ray Gardner, Jack Londy, Earl Londy, Palmer Pinckney, Nat Earl, Clarence Dun, Carl Buckner, Tex Allen, Ralph Collins, Emerly Halley, Nick Nickerson, Billy B. Bill Homes, Vernon Brown, Louise Verette, all lucky enough to get caught at the race track by yours truly playing each each race.

Popular names in the news are Isabelle Kellum, Velma Franklin, Vernadine Broussard, Vivian Jeffrie, Elois Roan, Dolores Beal, Shirley Williams, Ophelia Batist, Rosalie Brown, Maggie Joe Green, Mabel Hamilton, Joyce Boyd, Georgie Boyd, Thelma Thomas, Ada Gilmore, Florence Allen, June Hunt, Henriette Viltz, Hilda Davis, Louise Jacobs, Rebecca Davis, Mrs. Vivian Washington, Mrs. Jewel Washington, Mrs. Genevieve Spencer, Mrs. Bobbie McKee, Guy Johnson and Don Jones and wife yrtle. This group is 100% and carry their money with them.

Libby Mullen, Charles Mullen's wife, looks the picture of health. Myrtle Bishop, the torch singer, only plays the race track once a week. She must be short.

So many people kicking about their names not being in the paper, if you don't see it in the Eagle, read the Defender.

Eddie "Rochester" Anderson is owner of the fast race horse "Burn Cork" which wins all races and also owner of the Pacific Parachute Company of San Diego with Howard Smith, manager. Rochester is prepping his goat for the Kentucky Derby.

Ralph Cooper, stage and screen star, is tops as a producer and M.C. His music broadcast jive from Monday through to Saturday, from 8:30 to 9 p. m. over E.W.T. New York.

The "Ink Spots' million dollar hit, was "If I Didn't Care." They have raked in over a million, velvet.

Duke Ellington jumped for joy, "I Got It Bad" was written by Duke for Ivy Anderson and was a hit from coast to coast.

With such strippers as Marie Bryant, Judy Carol, Suzzette Johnson, Artie Brandon, Millie Monroe, Lucy Battle, Ethlyne Stevenson, Doris Akes, Dorothy Danridge, Louise Franklin, Patsy Hunter and Herb Jeffries parading the stage floor—what a show.

Charley Glenn, Rhum Boogie Club in Chicago, with Pork Chops Patterson, Edna Mae Holly and Mae "Cotton Club" Johnson, with Ziggie Johnson producer, were always hot as a 45 gun.

Celeste King who made a hundred and fifty thousand in three years night clerk at the Dunbar Hotel, now owns several apartment houses and two liquor stores. Mrs. Leontyne King is one of the glamour ladies of 1942.

Mr. Bowman, the largest spot on Sugar Hill, New York, gives all customers a big break at popular prices.

Slim Jenkin's cocktail corner bar in Oakland is now one of the leading spots on the coast and a swell guy.

When in Columbus, Ohio, drop in on one of the finest places in the country, operated by Mr. James H. Joyner and ask for the Belmont Club.

Rogers Price and Willie Pierson, who operates the Log Cabin in Cleveland are expected in Los Angeles this season if they race at either track.

The Vendome Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., is where you can pick up on the best people including Marshall Miles, Charley Chandler, Ann Montgomery and others—some sports.

The Brass Rail Bar in Chicago is dynamite and where lots of the pretties ankles in and out.

Muraine, New York, Savannah Church torch singer, Dewey Johnson bartender with Jimmie Marshall greater and manager.

Ed Small's Paradise, New York, is one of America's prettiest spots.

Russell Smith of Seattle made over a million dollars getting top prices for his goods before the other night clubs woke up. Russell ran a black and tan.

Gus West of Seattle with Walter Green, manager, packs and jams them in from a. m. to a. m.—what a business.

Jack's Tavern, 1931 Sutter Street, Frisco—money take is one of the biggest on the coast.

Club Alabam, 1820 Post Street, is a real Black and Tan with a good band.

Drop in on the Cherry Land Breakfast Club and Chicken Shack—it's peaches.

Douglas Hotel, San Diego, has all the business four men can handle over the bar.

Al and George Ramsey's cocktail bar on Third Street is a swell place.

Drop in on the Zanzibar Cocktail Spot when in Sacramento.

Don't overlook the Notty Pine Club when in Vallejo.

Town Club, 1963 Sutter Street, Frisco, is the spot to get popular prices for everything, including home cooking.

Dunbar Cocktail Bar, operated by Lucius Lomax, Jr., is the last word in pretties, lovelies and cuties playing the high stools while sipping choice drinks.

The Los Angeles Memo Night Spot and Cocktail Bar operated by Clarence Moore, goes first class from the rear to the sidewalk.

When in L. A. drop in on Johnny Cornish, Double V. Breakfast Club, and see Johnny and see all the people.

Lovejoy and Honey Murphy's Breakfast Club is a real spot, after hours. Swell people.

Clark Hotel dining room and cocktail bar is one of the prettiest in America.

Willie B. McCovey, take a bow for your swell red outfit and purse to match, t'other night.

Rebecca, ex-Clipper, your tailored blue outfit was a killer which was very nobby and nifty. Sorry you got your wires crossed as your ex- motored away saying "She's a swell girl."

John Mustart, bartender, and his lovely brown skinned wife are both 100%.

"Little Sights" of Detroit is back in the Big Money and his headquarters are at the Bay Meadows smoke shop.

"Louisiana" left the race track with a bank roll that would scare the nag he won it on.

Bessie Jones, Lloyd James and party stopped off at Camp Monterey to see her son, Roosevelt Jones en route from L. A. Sunday.

Clarence Estelle who is going for the pretty Miss Jerry Bradfield in a big way. Clarence is giving another big dinner Sunday but will not invite Kid North or Tom Shafer—use your own judgment.

Ruby Hammond, if closing time hadn't rolled around, you, your landlady and party may have got stewed to the gills.

Mrs. ex-Dorothy Smith, why look so salty and sour grapes as you are not the only pretty brown in Frisco and no one wants to ask you for anything.

Ollie Dawson and Mehan Priestly still puttin' out their southern cooked meals, at popular prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller entertained their cousin over the week end, Mr. J. D. Kent, who writes songs and entertains, but J. D. says "The one thing I don't like is the hills in Frisco."

Tex Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buckner and George Hyson and wife at Armstrong fight and playing the spots afterwards.

Mr. Day from New Jersey, Cal Williams and lady friend were at ringside, all events and then played the night clubs until closing time.

John A. Burton, the Oakland dance promoter, blew his cork and lost nine hundred bucks over a black jack table.

Jean, the ex-Mrs. Walter Green, is opening a liquor store in Stockton—lots of luck Jean. Shirley Allen, Antoinette Rylander were playing all the spots. James Crawford and Pearl Thompson can be seen in and out of all the best places.

James Jeffries, barbecue stand at 1610 Post Street will give you plenty for your money.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Baonier, Mr. Cliff Ritchie, Jr., Charley Moore, Edith Spencer playing the theater cafe in Jack's.

Mrs. Len Alexander was seen at the Club Alabam with Mr. Frank Brown and also Mr. Fity Brown of Los Angeles—Greetings was O. K.

Eloise W. Johnson is in and out of the best places on each side of the bay.

Miss Alyce Crawford entertains Mrs. Henrietta Van Massengale, of Los Angeles for a few days and are they playing hard. Mrs. Massengale and Miss Crawford were seen at the races Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Mr. Ollie Lofton is still operating big. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coleman spent the week-end in San Francisco before going to New York. Mr. Coleman is in the U. S. Navy in New York. Mrs. Jean Wilson and husband seen playing out at the Town Club.

I quote a letter from Woo Fang in New York saying George Hall is there with bells on. Clocker Harry Mann, Clocker Louis Salgers and all the top old timers and big money makers can be seen around New York and on the Metropolitan Race tracks daily. Frank Young Jr. blew in from the east and now is only Negro member of the litho-graphers union on Pacific coast. Some of his friends took a hunch and bet on Dr Young and got well.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

People express themselves more thoroughly through music than any other medium, be it in war, love or poetry. Sunday's musical program at Zion Hill Baptist church, the Negro Festival chorus, directed by Hall Johnson, famous world conductor, inspired the audience to the extent that troubles were forgotten momentarily. Even if you have not perfected your personal musicianship to the point of professional excellence, your analytical conception of harmony and counterpoint oftentimes makes one an expert critic.

CHAPLAIN'S WIFE HERE FOR DURATION

Mrs. Cora N. Holden, wife of Captain Oscar E. Holden, assistant divisional chaplain at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, is house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lawrence, prominent social and civic members. Mrs. Holder, whose home is in Wilmington, N. C., matriculated at St. Augustine's college, Raleigh, N. C., has lived in Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., and New Rochelle, N. Y.; is a cosmetologist by profession, very active in social and civic affairs and also an ardent church worker. She has aligned herself with Father Moore's Episcopalian church and expressed the desire to work with such volunteer organizations as USO, AWVS and all phases of recreation work for soldiers. Chaplain Holder has made great strides since stationed at Fort Huachuca, correlating a social and fraternal program for the men.

AWVS CENTER TO OPEN

The holiday spirit prevails at 4501 So. Central. The spacious hall will formally open doors to the public Sunday, Nov. 22, chairman Laura Slayton announced.

HOSTESSES HERE AND THERE

These loyal hostesses whose double duty with "swing and graveyard shifts" is making the task of serving as hostesses a little difficult: From the General hospital, Nurses Sarah Payne, Gladys Toliver, Lorraine Donato, The USO can always be counted on (although five or more nightly activities are regularly scheduled): Vye Aldridge will SOS some of her faithfuls like Alice De Cuir, Eloise James, Consuelo Van Vactor (ahem), Dee Williams, Mary Stamps, Marguerite Palmer, Inyta Creekmore, Doris Williams, and others.

Too cute was the sight seen one afternoon down at the center. The M. P.'s could not leave the ammunition in the jeep so girls served gingerbread and coffee, while they watched the ammunition. The boys are really appreciative.

LEO DAVIS' BAND AND 75TH CHEMICAL

Junior hostess group had their fun Saturday night with all new faces at the 75th Inglewood dance. The War Service Recreation orchestra with Leo Davis, Melba Lewis and Viola Clay furnished the musical entertainment. Hostesses: Misses Jane Hampton, Helen Young, Doris Williams, Rosa Lee Noble, Chickie Jackson, Billy Faye Lewis, Sylvia Perry, Estella Estus, Barbara Scott, Roberta Scott, Sarah Hunter; chaperone, Mrs. Marion Black. Mr. Bush M. Manson, director of a Los Angeles city playground, did his bit by transporting the hostesses who couldn't make 8 p. m. army transportation.

HE'S IN THE ARMY NOW OR SOON WILL BE

When this goes to press, Weldon Robinson, tenor and stage dramatic who will be remembered as one of the first to participate in the volunteer shows for soldiers, will be needing entertainment. He was generous with his talent, never refused. So we hope he is stationed near here. However, he's plenty brainy and will probably make officer's candidate training.

LAS PRIMAS FORMAL DINNER

The home of Miss Lorena Dethridge was a scene of beauty amidst club colors of yellow and green floral decorations by Hammee Banks, manager of Redondo Florists. The club honored 10 presidents of the following clubs: Mrs. Marshal, Southern Belle; Mrs. Joe Lowery, Unique Art; Jerry Devers, Idlewild; Dorothy Mino, 20th Century; Corelia Chappell, Dahlia Girls; Robbie Brownlee, Poinsettia Club; Mrs. Grundy, Daffodil; Murner Lee Campbell. The topic of the afternoons discussion: "Organized Club Work for the War Effort." A delicious six-course dinner was served.

A man may fall into a thousand perplexities, but if his heart be upright and his intelligence unclouded, he will issue from them all without dishonor.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

What's Doing in the Younger Set

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

Judging from the many showers and weddings given in the last few weeks,I am inclined to believe this is the gay bridal month of June, instead of November. According to the betrothed, the present day conflict has a lot to do with this very, very, unnatural November rush to tie the knot and has definitely convinced the young-uns that the alter is the thing. So without further ado, bethals are being announced and the customary feting is taking place.

Last Sunday was the day of weddings. John Lee Johnson and Nancy Pitts became Mr. and Mrs. at 12:30 sharp at historical St. Patrick's church. The bridal party included Connie Holman, maid of honor, and Herman Linn of honor, Barbara Lewis, daughter, best man. The bride's maids were Margaret Lewis, Florence Jackson, Doris Colley, Edna Smith, Evelyn Williams, and Thelma Stokes. The maids were very beautifully dressed in aqua and pink gowns.

Franzanna Slater and William Suffold choose 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon as the time for their ceremony. All white was the color scheme. Ernestine McNeal served as matron of honor, Paulyn Turner as maid of honor, and Rosalia Saffold second maid. The Gibbon girls, Cornelia Lumpkin, Lattye Bluett, Virgina Cook and Sarah Lumpkin were dressed in white and carried old fashioned nose-gays with ribbon streamers. The reception immediately followed the ceremony. Rev. Harris, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district ofthe A. M. E. church performed the ceremony. Geraldine Nelson and Walley Gray choose same hours to take their vows at St. Paul's Baptist church. The ceremony was well attended by the couple's many friends. Topping the list and making the wedding day complete, Jacquelyn Walker became Mrs. George M. Cofield at the home served as best man and Mrs. Driver her parents. Louie Driver, jr., Miller as matron of honor. Willetta Goodnett served as bridesmaid. Rev. George M. Cofield, father of the groom, officiated.

The week-end proceeding this wedding week-end was spent in showering th different brides. Paulyn Garner headed the shower list when she honored Franzanna Slater with a breakfast bridal shower. Debs from Pasadena as well as L. A. made their fashionable entrances with many lovely gifts. The delightful repast was prepared by Mrs. Garner and Mrs. Graham. . . Nancy Pitts was showered with lingerie by her many close friends. The affair took place at 3 o'clock. . . Falling nxt in line, Jacqelyn Wilson gave a linen shower in honor of Geraldine Nelson. And last but not least Gloria Drake was feted at the home of Harriet Patterson between the hours of four and seven o'clock. Gloria Jones, Dora Lee Armour, Eunice Gross, and Edna Robinson were some of the debs present. Gloria and David Walton will be married at Second Baptist church on the 29th of November. The younger set wishes all the couples much success and happiness.

TEA TIME

The Delta Sprites Tea dansante was a huge success last Sunday. A large group of the college crowd was their helping to make the affair one of the top events of the day. While glancing over the crowd took note of Frank Dupas, Leonette Walker, Clyde Coffee, Artis Grant, Virgie Walker, Sam Armstrongb, and Jewell Wynn, Delores Hollins and many others. Gloria Johnson is club advisor this semestre.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

While passing down the receiving line at the William Saffold wedding took note of the beatiful diamond received by Cornelia Lumpkin from Fred Scott Sunday morning. Therefore, the Lumpkin-Scott issue is no longer a whispered rumor. Oscar Little is in the army now and is stationed down in Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Douglas Van Vactor of Second Baptist church as entertained by the Junior Choir last Monday night as a send-off to the forces. Wonder what Fay Thompson plans to do now? . . . Wonder why Gertrude Lomax doesn't care to discuss the Bud Marshall —Lomax twosome?. . . According to town rumor, Bert Kenner and Roberta North will do knot-tying after the war. However this rumor is subject to change. . . The boys down Tuskegee way are living the life. I recently received one of the invitations to their formal Military Ball, given by the 689th Signal A W Reporting Co. While looking over the invite, noticed names of local boys Clifford Wilson, Arnold Bankston and Tommie Hamilton on planning committee for the affair. . . Had pretty nice time last Monday luncheoning with the S. C. students. While on the campus, I saw the Cooks, Phyllis and Hoxie, Blanche Griggs, Benzell Graham, Sara Jones, Paulette DeJoie, Helen Thompson and lots of others.

That ends it —till next time!

Sunshine Club Achieves Purpose

RIVERSIDE—The Sunshine club of the Allen Chapel A. M. E. church has achieved the purpose for which it was organized, less than a year ago. The liquidation of the entire indebtedness of the church parsonage was accompished in a final effort last Sunday.

This club, also known as the trustee helpers, was formed for the specific purpose of cleaning up this debt which amounted to more than $300 dollars.

Different types of entertainment and programs were given by the club during the year. Among them were the Junior Choir's Evening of music, an illustrated health lecture on cancer by Dr. Ray B. McCarty, Riverside's leading surgeon, a womanless wedding, The Nativity, a screen play by Mr. John Phillips of Redlands andt he final effort last Sunday was a baby popularity contest, supervised by Mrs. Alice Lockhart, one of the culb's leading members.

Each presentation was a succthem all, both financially and socially. All members and friends responded magnificentlyq. The following is a list of the babies and their sponsors and the amount contriuted by them: Charlene Huter, Mros. Ann Monroe, sponsor, $79.64; Russell Scott, Mrs. LW. G. Williams, spnsor, $69.29; Wesley James Norris, Jr., sponsor, Mrs. Edna Williams, $19; Cleveland Blackburn, sponsor, Mrs. E. LaMarr, $14.29; Janice Louise McCoy, sponsor, Mrs. Alma McDowell, $7.79; Carole Louise Strickland, sponsor, Mrs. R. J. McDowell, $14.29; Henrietta Johnigan, sponsor, Mrs. Ada Culpepper, $9.54. In addition, $12. 50 was given by a friend who asked that his name not be mentioned. This made a grand total of $177.69.

The aim being accomplished ,the club has started out for other world's to conquer.

Mrs. Mildred Mott is the president of the club, Rev. H. Judkins is the pastor.

Sees Many Old Friends While on War Job in D. C.

(This is the third and final supplement of Arie Lee Branche's Washington letter.

I have seen many of my old friends from California, namely, Evelyn Braxton, Lillian Greene, Grace Taylor, Nellie Smith, Princene Hutchinson, Minnie Saavedra and several others. Most everyone here is from New York, Chicago, and neighboring states, so whenever I run into someone from California it is like receiving a letter from home.

My best chum is Miss L. Juno Marshall, from Evansville, Ind. Her desk is next to mine, and we share the same hope and desire of some day being promoted to a higher salaried position. We both work very industrially, endeavoring each night to improve our work and not to have any of it returned to us for corrections.

I cashed my first check at the Industrial Bank, and to my surprise, I noted that it is an all-colored bank, and we have a branch of the p office that is all-colored, too. I was so proud to see my own boys and girls with such good positions and such business-like attitudes that I stuck out my chest and reared back.

There are several colored Washington weekly newspapers, but I forgot you probably know about them. The restaurants here have a very thriving business. They are so crowded that you almost have to stand in line to get into them at times.

Lots of colored people here have excellent positions in private industries and with the government, but I merely tried to tell you something about my own small part in our nation's great program, but will make a survey, which I will submit to you as soon as I have more time.

Although Washington does not possess the rugged, picturesque beauty of California, admire the beautiful parks, monuments, and staturesque buildings. I shall get the approval of my branch chief and assistant to have any part of this letter published. You see, I do not want to do or say anything that would be detrimental to my country or my job.

So on closing this BOOK, I must add that I am very happy I have quite an important job, as conformer with the War Production Board, which will in the future pay more money, I hope. I am very proud of my work, as I consider working for the Federal Government one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon anyone. I shall do everything in my power to rise to greater heights. I sincerely hope someday to be able to do something that will be a credit to my family, my race, and my country.

Once more, may I say thank you for your kindness and consideration, and hoping to hear from you soon, I remain

Gratefully y

Arie Lee Branche.

Romance of the Waltz Revived at USO Center

Speaking of activities, the Eastside USO has been fairly buzzing. Requests have been legion. Cooperation has been amiable and fan mail interesting. For the past two weeke-nds special convoys have been arranged to bring men into town to the USO center. Varied activities have been arranged for them to select for their entertainmnt. The finale is usually the Sunday evening hours where torrid swing and romantic waltz recordings are in vogue. The snack bar is a favorite spot.

More and more people are bringing interesting donations to the center. Mrs. Vina Stovall tops all in this week's donation by the presentation of a portable pool table. Since its arrival activities have been centered around its popularity.

People's Equality League Plans Coleman Fete

Festus Coleman's Freedom is the theme and basis for a Saturday dinner, Nov. 28, to be selved by the People's Equality League from noon until mid-night at 215 South Spring Street, the proceeds of which are to go to the Festus Colemon Defense Committee.

It is not Festus Coleman alone we are helping, the same thing could happen to any of us, the League officials say.

We must be deeply cognizant, they continue, of the fact that in every farto detend the country, we til the soil, we make contributions equally with all others to society and the national wellbeing; but, we fail to rise up in mass form to demand our equal rights.

If you do not care to eat the dinner, stop by and register yourself as one in accord with the effort to FREE FESTUS COLEMAN

Palo Alto Teacher Tours South, East

Mrs. Pearl Granderson Moulden, popular Palo Alto teacher, left for an extended tour of the East and South. While visiting her son, Lt. William Moulden and his bride, the former Etta Rae, of Texas, she plans to take in the many fall and winter attractions inthe city of New York. There she will combine business, education and pleasure when she visits the Red Cross headquarters, the national YMCA and Carnegie hall along with the many other places of interest in that great metropolis.

Leaving New York, Mrs. Moulden will journey to Washington, D. C., where she will visit Congress in session, the school of social science, of which she is a teacher.

From there, she will travel to Nashville, Tenn., to witness the graduation of her daughter, the Moulden, who will receive her A. B. degree at A. N. A. State. From here, she will continue her trip to the beautiful city of New Orleans where she was born.

Friends are looking forward to her return with great interest, being an educator and a leader, she will be able to bring inspiration and interest to her group.

YOUR HEALTH AND WAR

Total war calls for total health. Are you doing anything to fortify your health against nervous prostration? Build up your resistance. Have regular checkups on your blood pressure, hear and nervous system.

In this day and time, when our whole nation is involved in a total war and each individual is urged to do his bit, we are proud of the fact that our office is equipped to contribute something by building strong, healthy bodies. Many of our men and women are now engaged in a new type of work, which their physical bodies are not adjusted to; this disturbs the equilibrium and the nervous and circulatory systems. This condition causes strained muscles, backaches, nervousness, stiff joints, leg and foot pains, etc. You can, and you should build up your body so that it will be equal to the task that is required of you.

YOU OWE THIS TO YOURSELF

Come in now for a consultation. Our vapor baths slenderize, tone up the nerves, relieve stiff, aching joints, pains, arthritis and rheumatism. Colon irrigation relieves constipatiton, gas in the stomach, toxemia, etc. Chiropractic adjustments and massage are especially recommended for nervous tension and restore vigor, vitality and health. FOOT DISABILITIES CORRECTED.

INGREDIENTS OF HAPPINESS

If you are not satisfied with your life, it may be because your life is centered around your daily prosaic routine.

In younger years, you may have been more conscious of the actual state of happiness. Perhaps success made you ecstatic and small failures brought a sharp misery. But time smooths our emotions, and we feel things less acutely. We grow less introspective, less rebellious, and so much less intense.

It must be nature coming to our rescue, because we might just go on attaching importance to things that really do not count. Too much success can produce the same mental effect as too much failure. Uncertainty can be stimulating, despite the fact that there is a deep gratification in success. All of these things go to make of the ingredients that supply happiness and success to our lives.

Dear Prof.: I have been doing fine with your lovely works and products. I feel so happy and I don't know how to thank you for everything you have done for me, except by writing you this short letter. May God bless you in your work.

B. M.—Is the man I go with true to me?

Ans.: Probing into the matter I find that this man you are now keeping company with, is sincere in his affections and true to you. He is going to surprise you around the holidays with something very nice.

E. S. M. H.—Can you help me in my difficulties?

Ans. It seems that your difficulty is finding employment, and I suggest that you place your application in the various defense plants that are now hiring colored men and women workers. If you follow up your applications, you will soon get a job. But it takes initiative and ambition to succeed.

A. P.—What can I do?

Ans. Concentrating upon your problem, I find that you have been very careless and lost your money. It is too late to try and get it back, but profit by this mistake and refrain from being so neglectful. As that is really the cause of your losing your money.

Sgt. L. B.—Does the girl I love, care for me?

Ans. You have no reason to doubt this girl's love for you, as her letters explained just how she feels. Because you were in the Army, she has decided to attend school, but if you ask her to marry you, I am sure she will accept.

L. A.—Dear Sir: I am writing you to inform you of how much good your Hindu Charm Bag has done for me. Before I started with you I could not hold any money; I wanted to do things, but didn't seem to be able to. But since I have been wearing this bag, my son has found employment and I have had my house repaired and many other things. Thanks again, Prof. Herman.

A. J. H.—Will I get a good job this year?

Ans.: Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate a change in your luck, and this change will include a good job and many other changes that will bring happiness into your life.

Y. Y.—Under the circumstances, should I make a change now?

Ans.: I do not recommend your making a change just now, as nothing seems definite concerning your husband's future. It would be wise to remain there where your expenses are much more reasonable than to branch out.

B. L. McN.—I am deeply in love with a young man, does he love me?

Ans.: It appears to me that you are only 16 years old and for that reason I suggest that you try to keep your associations with boys on a friendly basis rather than becoming serious. You have so much ahead of you, school, studies, and accomplishing a trade or course that will help you later on in life, that you have no time for these other things. Later, when you will really understand that what you feel now is only infatuation.

Fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing his duty whatever evils beset, or dangers lie in the way.—John Locke.

Santa Monica Club Installs New Officers

The Les Unique Club celebrated the ending of their fourth year with installation of new officers in a very unique way, Tuesday evening, November 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Christine Moore, 1542½ Euclid Avenue. The girls asked the president of the Royal Twelve Club, Mr. Charl. Marrah to install the new officers and the members with their wives and sweethearts to be their guest.

Mr. Morrah conducted the affair with each old officer presenting the new officer pre-ceeding her with a burning candle, while he explained to each her duties of the office she was to fill. Mr. Marrah left the following morning for the army. So after the installation it was a farewell party in honor of him with both clubs presenting him with gifts as a token of friendship. Bridge was played and the Les Uniques served a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

The officers for the new year are Mrs. Christine Moore, president; Mrs. Kathryn Afuer, vice president; Mrs. Mary Fields, secretary; Mrs. Daisy Payne, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary J. Hallaway, business manager; Mrs. Hazel Tippins, treasurer; Mrs. Allene Lewis, club reporter. Members Lela Brown, Marrien Barnes, Bodette Livly, Ida Gordon Wilberta, worthy associate member. Among those who enjoyed this lovely affair was Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Marrah, Villars, Thurmon Thomas, Mr. Ernest Gamnage, Miss Frances Bristel, Mr. and Mrs. Peppy Prince, Ward Afuer, Leveit Paynes, Robert Brown, Pearl Lewis, Leon Fields, Bill Livly, Frank Barnes, Silas Tippins and Clayton Gordon.

MOVE TO SAVE 16-YEAR-OLD ATTACKER FROM SAN QUENTIN

F.B.I. CRACKS DOWN ON FLA. PEONAGE FARM SYSTEM

Cloture Defeat Ends Poll Tax Battle

WASHINGTON—The poll tax filibuster bloc today succeeded in killing the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill for the current session of Congress.

Mustering 37 vote, the poll tax gang prevented passage of a motion for cloture, limiting debate, although 47 senators voted for it. Under Senate rules, a two-thirds majority is required to invoke cloture.

Under an agreement between Majority Leader Alben Barkley (D., Ky.) and Senator Tom Connally (D., Tex.), leader of the poll tax bloc, the Senate leadership had consented to withdraw the bill if the motion for cloture failed to pass.

Immediately after the vote the Senate, by unanimous consent, dropped the bill and began consideration of routine measures.

Judge McKay Acts for Smith Lad

So that it will not be necessary to commit sixteen year old George Smith to the State prison at San Quentin following his conviction on a charge of rape, Superior Judge Wiliam R. McKay has directed that young Smith appear before his court, Dept. 45, on Nov. 25 at 9 o'clock in the morning for the purpose of determining if it be possible to commit young Smith to the Youth Correction Authority for further disposition of his case.

Under the Youth Correction Authority, youthful offenders may be committed to the Youth Correction Authority, which has, under certain circumstances, the right to take over the jurisdiction of these youthful offenders. Judge McKay is anxious, according to a statement to the EAGLE, to save young Smith from commitment to the state prison and feels that in this way he may be able to solve what has been a very perplexing problem.

Under existing state law the court is powerless to commit one convicted of rape with force and violence to a term of probation inasmuch as the hands of the court are tied by provisions of the state law.

A letter from Judge McKay to EAGLE editor Charlotta A. Bass charts the whole story of the Smith case. It follows:

November 16, 1942

Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass,
California Eagle,
4075 S. Central Ave.,
Los Angeles, California

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Pursuant to our conference of recent date, I am pleased to advise you concerning the circumstances surrounding the conviction and sentencing of Robert George Smith.

As you have heretofore been advised by Mr. Smith that he was innocent of the offense of rape of which he now stands convicted, I am taking the liberty to explain with particularity all of the circumstances attending my knowledge of this case.

Mr. Smith was originally charged with the offense of kidnapping, rape, and a violation of Section 288a of the Penal Code. Under date October 9 he entered a plea of guilty to the offense of rape and made an application for probation. In view of the fact that Mr. Smith was but sixteen years of age, I directed the Probation Officer to make a careful investigation and also appointed Dr. J. Paul De River to make a thorough physical and psychiatric examination of him. Under date of October 29 the hearing for probation was held before me and the same was denied and the defendant was sentenced to be confined in the State Prison for the term prescribed by law. The Probation Officer recommended that probation be denied.

In view of the fact that Mr. Smith has informed you that he was innocent of the offense, I beg to advise you that he wrote a complete confession detailing with particularity the circumstances of the offense. This confession was signed by him and given to the Probation Officer and is now in the files of the

U. S. Indicts Fla. Man for Peonage

Attorney General Francis Biddle has announced that a Federal Grand Jury sitting in the Northern District of Florida, at Pensacola, Wednesday, returned an indictment charging Charles A. Gaskin, of Wewahitchka, Fla., with violation of the Federal Anti-Peonage statute.

The indictment charges Gaskin with "unlawfully, willfully and feloniously" arresting a Negro, James Johnson, for the purpose of holding him in involuntary servitude to work off an alleged debt.

Maximum penalties under this statute are five years imprisonment or a $5,000 fine or both.

The indictment followed an investigation by the FBI into a report that on August 5, 1940, Gaskin forced Johnson to accompany him from Panama City, Fla., to Wewahitchka to work out a debt. According to a statement by Johnson, he was beaten up on the public highway by Gaskin and forced—at gun-point—to enter the latter's automobile. Johnson stated that he had left Gaskin's turpentine camp near Wewahitchka in 1937 "free of debt" but that Gaskin in July, 1940, claimed "a look at the ledger" disclosed a $22.00 debt. Johnson escaped from the automobile before he reached Gaskin's camp.

The Grand Jury investigation, requested by Assistant Atty. Gen. Wendell Berge, in charge of the criminal division, was directed by United States George E. Hoffman and Farnk Coleman, special assistant to the Attorney General.

Negro, White Unionists Jailed

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Nov. 26.—The Department of Justice has been formally requested to investigate the activities of the sheriff's office in Spartanburg and the city police in connection with a recent labor dispute at Draper corporation here. Draper corporation is an iron foundry which employs several hundred white and colored workers who are members of the Moulders' union (AFL).

Frank McCallister, secretary, Southern Workers Defense league, in a letter to Victor Rotnem, chief of the Civil Liberties Unit, Justice Department, asking for an investigation, charged that 7 union members had been arrested by county and city police, charged with conspiracy after being held incommunicado the greater part of the day. In affidavits submitted with the request, the various union members testified as to their difficulties and charged that they were arrested simply because they were union members.

A walkout occurred at the plant in October when an expired union contract was not renewed by the company. However, the men all offered themselves for work two days later in reply to a telegram from Dr. Steelman, director of the U. S. Conciliation Service. Although the company had also received a

PORTRAIT OF AN AMERICAN HERO

"IT HAPPENED IN THE SERVICE"—Charles Jackson French, the naval hero, as he appeared over NBC last week in "It Happened In The Service." He will appear again this week over the Philip Morris program, giving further details of his great deed in saving 25 men, mostly officers, who were wounded and floating on an overcrowded raft after their ship was shot from under them. French swam six hours in shark-infested waters, fighting his way with a knife until daybreak. His crew was picked up and he came to the States. Not thinking much of the incident, French was located in Arkansas visiting his sister. From left to right, above: Mrs. Jackson, of Los Angeles; French, Mrs. John Robinson and Clarence Muse, singing his new ballad, written with Michel Michelet, to be produced shortly over "The March of Time."

SECOND "LOOEYS"—Promotion comes surely to men in the Army, say these 12 men at Tuskegee Army Flying School, Tuskegee, Ala., all of whom are now second lieutenants in the Army Air Forces. A few weeks ago, all of them were enlisted men but they went to Officers' Candidate School where they earned their commissions as administrative officers. Left to right, they are: Lieutenants Edward K. Nichols, 426 N. 41st street, Philadelphia, Pa.; Eugene P. White, 1610 14th Avenue N., Nashville, Tenn.; William Roberts, 1347 W. Roosevelt Road, Chicago, Ill.; Thomas J. Money, 6611 Eberhart avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Thomas N. Malone, 5627 Tillman avenue, Detroit, Mich.; Milton K. Henry, 2119 Reed street, Philadelphia, Pa.; Charles A. Bowers, 262 Decatur street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Carl W. Bowman (visiting officer); George R. Currie, 1422 W. 37th street, Los Angeles, Calif.; Curtis M. Chears, 4420 S. Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill.; Osie R. Walton, 1210 W. 36th street, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Cornelius Vincent jr., Matherton Place, Boston, Mass. These promotions are in line with the Army's new policy of making officers out of experienced enlisted men, most of whom hold noncommissioned officer ratings before being sent to the Officers' Candidate School.

On the Sidewalk

by e. a. h.

Today Congress wrangles while nations bleed.

A filibuster launched by Southern reactionaries, a rank minority of the United States Senate, has halted the machinery of legislative government in this country for the past six days.

For two years, the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill has been pending in Congress. Ten million people in eight Southern poll tax states must pay to vote. These ten million do not earn enough money to pay the levy in the exercise of their most fundamental democratic privilege. They are effectively disfranchised.

The Congerssional and Senatorial representatives from these states go to Washington each session to make the laws which govern the whole American people. The Senator from South Carolina, elected by slightly over 100,000 votes has power equal to that of a California Senator elected by 62nd assembly district for the 62nd Assembly district for hte California State Legislature. It is necessary for sixty thousand voters to elect a representative Martin Dies, in the United States House of Representatives, was elected by five thousand votes. It is a fallacy to say that the poll tax is effective only in eight States of the Union. It disfranchises Americans all over the nation. When a restricted electorate of 100,000 can place a man in the Senate from South Carolina, whereas more than one million ballots are necessary to place one there from California, clearly the voting power of nine hndred thousand Californians is being discounted.

But we cannot view the fight against the poll tax as a contest

THANKSGIVING: 1942

America has come a long way since that first Thanksgiving in 1621.

Step by step this nation has moved onward. It has been the hope of people from other lands who suffered from religious and social persecution. First came the sturdy Pilgrims to New England. Most of all the early settlers enjoyed peace of mind. But with the coming of this strange new happiness came English persecution.

"Taxation without representation." The new nation won this battle. Someone has said that it is human to err. America's newly liberated were not willing to grant to the Indians the same freedom they had achieved. Negroes vast millions of them, were allotted the most despicable slavery in the history of mankind. It required the titanic convulsions of the second American revolution to rid the land of its four million chattel slaves. So magnificent was this outburst of American democracy that full citizenship rights were accorded those millions who had been mere property. It took an armed counter-revolution, the black surge of the Ku Klux Klan to kill the full effect of the second American revolution, and today that sabotage of the spirit and the achievement of the Civil War is mantained only by armed terrorism, only by the lynching of babies.

Nineteen-forty-two finds our nation joined with all freedom loving people in a war against that world wide Ku Klux Klan called Fascism. It is the kind of war whose sufferings secure the liberty and the EXISTENCE of unborn generations. It is the kind of war which, but for a few votes this very week, will vindicate and bring to life once again the accomplishment of the second American revolution.

Dear God, we thank Thee for the right to fight for Freedom

GOV. OLSON HEARS DELEGATION PLEAD FOR COLEMAN'S RELEASE

Tuesday a delegation of prominent citizens of California called upon Governor Culbert Olson to present him with thousands of signatures secured throughout the country on petitions requesting the freedom of Festus Coleman, young San Francisco Negro victim of a viciously prejudiced trial for "rape and robbery."

The delegation included Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, of Berkeley, secretary of the East Bay Ministerial Alliance; Rev. F. D. Haynes, of San Francisco, who first brought the attention of the public to the Coleman case; Rev. C. D. Toliver of San Francisco; Rev. Stephen C. Peabody of San Jose; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of the California EAGLE. Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins of Los Angeles led the delegation.

The following prominent names have been added to the original list of 100 signers of the Coleman Pardon Petition:

Joseph P. Bader, secretary Cooks' Union Local 44, AFL, San Francisco; James A. Burford, CIO Council, Los Angeles; Lester Cole, screen writer, Hollywood; Ernest Dawson, civic leader, L. A.; Earl B. Dickerson, Assemblyman, Chicago, Ill., member, Fair Employment Practices committee; Prof. Chadbourne Dunham, Delaware, Ohio; Fred

City Seeks to Purchase Eastside Clinic Building

Council action is expected soon on a proposal of the City Health Department that $27,000 be appropriated for purchase of the 2-story brick building in which the department is operating a clinic at 3425 South Central avenue, according to Councilman Charles A. Allen.

"I showed the property to members of the Council's Finance Committee and they were impressed by the desirability of the location and the fitness of the building for the free public service which has been provided there during the last year," Allen explained.

"Reports of the Health Department showed that the number of citizens seeking medical care is steadily increasing and we agreed that the ground floor of the building, where all the service is given, is inadequate for the expanding service."

Rental of the ground floor of the building has cost the city $150.00 a month while rental of the upper floor would cost an additional $100.00 a month, the Councilman said.

He reported that the building, which the city's purchasing agent says could not be duplicated now for less than $32,000, contains several thousands of dollars worth of fixed equipment paid for by the State Health Department, which assisted in establishment of the Health Center which is the only one in Los Angeles outside of the Health Department's headquarters at Temple and Main Sts., and which is known as the Southeast Polyclinic.

Will Assist Volunteers for Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Expansion of assistance from federal funds for civilian defense volunteers killed or injured while on duty was announced today by the State Council of Defense.

Medical and financial assistance is now permitted if the civilian defense worker is on official duty. Previous rulings allowed claims only if the workers were killed or injured during an officially called blackout or alert.

The State Council also announced that the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance in Washington, a branch of the Social Security organization, is developing a program of compensation payments for civilian defense workers permanently disabled, as well as compensation for the survivors of workers killed. An allocation of $750,000 has been made available to the bureau, which will soon be able to take claims.

All claims from civilian defense workers must be cleared through the county welfare director in each county, the State Council said. According to the Department of Social Welfare, each case will be cleared individually.

The assistance program for civilian defense workers, the council pointed out, has several phases yet to be worked out, but clarification of policy will be forthcoming soon. In addition, any program of assistance is only an emergency and temporary measure pending passage of federal legislation, such as the Pepper bill now being considered by congress.

Meanwhile the State Council had requested county and city councils of defense to make a report of any member of the Citizens Defense Corps killed or disabled as a result of performance of civilian defense duties. Information compiled will be sent to Washington to be used for Federal legislative purposes.

FDR Sounds Tuberculosis Warning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A warning that tuberculosis is increasing alarmingly in warring countries was sounded Tuesday by President Roosevelt in endorsing the 36th annual Christmas Seal Campaign of the National Tuberculosis association, which started Monday.

President Roosevelt said that it will take the greatest effort possible on the part of the people to hold the disease in check in this country. In endorsing the Christmas Seal Campaign, President Roosevelt said.

"The unholy alliance between war and disease is particularly powerful in the case of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis has increased in every past war. The disease is increasing alarmingly in many warring European and Asiatic countries.

"In the United States tuberculosis is now at the lowest rate in our history. But, to hold the disease in check during wartime will demand the greatest effort possible on the part of the people, the medical profession, the tuberculosis associations and the official health departments. Cooperation of all people in the fight against tuberculosis is imperative.

"The tuberculosis associations are well under way in their intensified and expanded wartime campaign. I have full confidence that the American people will generously add the purchase of Christmas Seals, the main support of the National Tuberculosis association and its seventeen hundred affiliated associations, to their many other wartime activities."

Locally the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health association and the Los Angeles County association are directing the sale from the office of the Combined Christmas Seal Fund, 725 South Spring street.

★ WOMEN IN DEFENSE

By PATRICIA CORLEY

Negro women civilian defense workers are truly representative of the state's 124,000 patriotic Negro population, says Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, racial relations adviser for the State Council of Defense.

"Everywhere I go, the women are eager to volunteer for duty. Already, there are hundreds in every defense activity, and they are tremendously enthused about their jobs. Many of them have sons or husbands in the armed forces, and if you don't think these women take their services seriously, you should watch them work!"

The largest segment of California's Negro population resides in Los Angeles, and citing some of the work of outstanding women workers in this area, Mrs. Terry named Mrs. Walter L. Gordon, who has organized more than 300 nurses in the Red Cross home nursing program. Then, too, there are Miss Dorothy Guinn, executive secretary of the YWCA, colored branch, a leader in consumer interest groups and active in the USO, and Mrs. Ardelia Anglin, state president of the Colored Women's Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Terry contacts Negro church, fraternal and other organizations, urging participation in civilian defense. In addition, she works among the Mexican, Chinese, Filipino, and Indian minority groups.

Besides her position as administrative aide for the State Council of Defense, Mrs. Terry also serves as a member of the Los Angeles City Housing commission. She was the first colored woman to act as president of a P-TA in the state, filling that post at Jefferson High school in Los Angeles.

Members of Mrs. Terry's own family practice what she has been preaching about defense and are busily occupied doing their bit for the war effort. Her husband has a defense job. Her son, Frank, is a second lieutenant at Fort Ord, while her daughter, Beulah, acts as a hostess at Fort Ord. Another daughter, Juanita, works for one of the Los Angeles rationing boards.

★ "Short War"

By GEORGE W. DANLEY

Friends, I am bringing good news and glad tidings to you. I have been weighing the war situation very, very carefully, and also waiting on God to see whether this war is short tor long.

Therefore, to my mind, the war is going instead of coming, which means a short war for us. Jesus is willing to have mercy on us by shortening the war, if we will obey his voice now.

We have suffered great disasters, such as tornadoes, fires, droughts, floods, train and ship wrecks, etc. Why should we have a long war? Let us cooperate with our Lord, our president, and our fellow citizens and we shall have a short war. The Axis would have to lay their weapons of war down.

I can smell, taste, hear, feel and see the atmosphere of peace coming. If you won't obey the voice of the Almighty, after it (peace) cometh, then. He will let a worse thing come upon us. We should be tired of the word war and make this a short one by obeying the Holy Ghost.

I am writing with tears in my eyes and joy in my heart for the love that I have for America and all nations, so think about a short war and a substantial peace.

Samuel 24:16, "And when the angel stretched out his hand upon Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord repented him of the evil, and said to the angel who destroyed the people, It is enough; stay thine hand."

The Germans, Italians and Japanese would be glad to quit. If you all want the Lord to shorten the war and give us a substantial peace, you may let me know.

Selah.

between different sections of the United States. A sectional battle at this time would disrupt national unity and injure the war effort. The poll tax fight is the struggle of millions of our fellow Americans who have been robbed of their fundamental democratic privileges. They, too, are engaged in a war for freedom, a war for the survival of our country and its democratic institutions. As has been aptly stated by our for victory It is this weapon President, the ballot is a weapon of the South demand to shoulder. which the disfranchised millions was introduced by Senator Legislation against the poll tax Claude Pepper of Florida in the Senate and by the late Lee Geyer, of California in the House of Representatives. Leading the fight against the poll tax in the Senate today is Senator Alben Barkeley of Kentucky. As well as the New [illegible] and the Los Angeles Times, leading Southern newspapers demand abolition of the poll tax. Southern Labor, in one voice, cries out for end of the poll tax.

Joining with the South in this battle to remove the poll tax is the whole, progressive, win-the-the President down.

war majority of Americans, from

If these are the forces supporting the Pepper-Geyer bill, what are those opposing it? Who conducts the filibuster against this bill? And, most important, why?

Those who oppose abolition of the poll tax are a band of machine the poll tax are a band of machine politicians, placed in office by ridiculous fractions of the electorate, who stand as a solid wall of obstruction to the social and economic progress of the South and of America. There are more than a hundred Congressmen in the upper and lower Houses from poll tax states Hhey control over fifty percent of ranking committees in both Houses. They achieve seniority rights in almost every committe, since they are monotonously re-elected by a shockingly tiny percentage of the pepole in the areas which they "represent." Taken together, the poll tax representatives and Senators wield a power second only to that of the President of the United States.

But why is the abolition of the poll tax NOW a vital military as well as political necessity?

The power of the poll tax must be broken NOW because it places in the American Congress men who do not represent any part of the American people. North or South, and who oppose and obstruct the war effort of 130,000,000 Americans. They represent pro-Fascist Trojan Horse in the [illegible] shrine of American democ[illegible] equal to any which threatened Republican France and to the Cliveden set which for ten years sabotaged the struggle against Fascism in Britain. Such accusations as these in time of war arenot made irresponsibly and are supported by lengthy documentation. Whereas the poll tax bloc is uniformly loud in patriotic protestations of war support, the voting record of poll tax Congressmen shrieks another story, one which is a warning to all America.

It is poll taxer Martin Dies whom Vice-President Wallace has said could not do a better job if he were on Hitler's pay roll.

It is poll taxer Robert Rice Reynolds from whose office in Washington Senate Fascist literature was distributed under government frank.

It is poll taxer Lee O'Daniel [illegible] attempted to destroy the effect of the 18-19 draft bill by attaching to it a Senate order demanding a full year's training before these new soldiers could be used against the Axis—and this over the protest of all army officials and the President.

It is poll taxer John Rankin in the House who disrpts national unity through incessant attacks upon the potriotic Negro-American people.

It is poll taxer Tom Connally who nearly destroyed the President's Good Neighbor policy with the official statement that Argentina had better cooperate with America or we Americans would change the Argentine government.

It is poll taxer Bilbo who said on the Senate floor last Saturday that "Most people—and Negroes —" do not work on that day in the South. What is the effect of [illegible] a statement upon national [illegible] upon thirteen million American Negroes. Upon countless other millions of our colored allies in Asia, Africa, and South America? And we must understand that the Axis propaganda agencies see to it that these alles are well informed upon such matters.

It is the poll tax bloc, as such, which has debased the theory and the practice of majority rule in the United States Senate for the past week. At a moment of utmost emergency, the poll tax bloc has gone on strike!—a strike against the democracy for which sons and husbands and brothers all over American sacrifice their very lives.

--Provincial machine politicians whose power rests upon the disfranchisement of poor people, ten million of them, six million white-Americans and four million Negro-Americans, cannot conduct a war for the Four Freedoms and the principles of the Atlantic Charter. They represent in fact the pro-Fascists of America who would do business with Hitler and sell out the blood [illegible] of our whole people. Elimination of the poll tax, upon which the rotten structure of their domination is based, is vi-

Cloture Defeat Ends Poll Tax Battle

Thus, a nine-day filibuster by a handful of poll tax senators frustrated the desire of a majority of the Senate to enact the measure which would eliminate the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in eight southern states

The bill had passed the House, where the rules do not permit a filibuster, by a smashing three-to-one vote.

The 37 senators who voted against cloture ignored the plea of Senator Claude Pepper (D., Fla.) author of the measure, that the Axis radio would use defeat of the measure for anti-democratic propaganda in every corner of the globe.

In a dramatic fighting speech, which was boycotted by the filibustering poll tax members who walked out of the chamber, but was listened to intently by the galleries, Pepper said:

"What must the Axis radio be making of the spectacle that has been exhibitted here in the last tal to victory.

Furthermore, there is the manifest injustice of asking ten million disfranchised Americans to to die for democracy. These ten million are the same kind of people as you and I. They are part of the common man, and this is the common man's war

We have a job to do, we in California, we in Los Angeles. This filibuster must be broken by the will of the American people. Thousands of Los Angeles organizations and individuals have wired Washington demanding action of our Senators on the poll tax bill. The Board of Supervisors has memorialized the President Senator Barkley, Senator McNary, Senator Johnson and Senator Sheridan Downey urging their vigorous support of the measure. Our Mayor has issued a statement pointing out California's stake in the anti-poll tax fight. It is a statement which gives us fresh pride in Fletcher Bowron.

But this is a job for every citizen. Wire the Senate NOW. Every telegram demanding anti-poll tax action is a bullet fired for freedom!

Negro, White Unionists Jailed

wire from Dr. Steelman, they locked out 41 of the men, including all of the active union leaders. The morning after the lockout, many of the unionists gathered at their usual place before going into the plant to see whether or not they were to go back to work.

The men began drifting off about 8:30 a. m. when it appeared they would not be allowed to work. A few of the men stood around talking. Sheriff Sam Henry, with five carloads of deputies, tore past at high speed in the direction of the plant. A short time later, they came back, screamed to a stop near where the few remaining men were peacefully gathered. Deputies went up to a car where four Negro union members were seated talking and said: "What are you doing here?" They replied: "Just talking." One of the deputies said: "Get out, we are going to take you to jail." They pulled the Negroes out of the car, searched them and carried them off to the county jail.

The president of the local union, R. K. Powell, was witnessing this affair when one of the deputies accosted him: "What are you doing standing there?" Powell replied: "I am just standing here." Th deputy grabbed Powell by the arm and said "Come on, we'll take you down to jail, too."

After they got to the jail, two of the Negroes were questioned concerning their union membership, whether or not they had been told to stay home, and asked if President Powell had made a speech to the members near the plant. They were all held incommunicado most of the day without being told what charges were against them or what they had done to warrant arrest. Finally, friends made bail for them. But when Vice President Walter Taylor, who had arranged bail, came to court the next morning for the trial, he was told that he, too, was under arrest and must furnish bond, which he did.

A Negro union member, Prate Montgomery, was on his way to hear the trial when city policeman Hayes accosted him on the street and said: "Do you belong to that union?" Montgomery replied: "Yes sir." The policeman said: "Well, you are not going to walk around here a vagrant on the streets." He said: "I am going to take you down to jail."

Montgomery was held until Ed Long, international representative of the union, furnished bail and accompanied him to the magistrate's court where the Negro was tried for vagrancy, although he had been employed continuously for more than five years at Draper corporation and had only been locked out of the plant three days. The judge left the charge open and ordered Montgomery to go to work immediately or face a sentence.

The men who had been held incommunicado "for investigation" were first charged with disorderly conduct" when a lawyer was obtained to get them released. However, when they went down to trial the next morning, they found that the charge had been changed to "conspiracy," a state law passed in 1932 which is a felony. Although they were ready to stand trial since they were guilty of no wrong-doing at all and their present status was locked-out union members, the judge said that he was too busy to try the cases then and that they would be informed when their trials would be set.

McCallister charged that the arrest and holding of charges over union leaders' heads was part of a union-busting campaign on the part of public officials. Townspeople say that blocks of stock in the Draper corporation are owned by OES Director James Byrnes, who is from Spartanburg, and Federal District Judge Wyches.

The request for Federal investigation stated that the public officials were in violation of Section 52 of the U. S. Criminal Code which states in part: "Whoever, under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation, or custom, wilfully subjects or causes to be subjected, any inhabitant of any state, territory, or district, to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured or protected by the constitution and laws of the United States . . . shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year or both."

McCallister charged that since the men arrested were innocent of any wrong-doing, the officers involved were guilty of a flagrant abuse of their authority and should be investigated by the United States Department of Justice.

The National Labor Relations Board is also investig ing charges of unfair labor practices against the company.

Judge McKay Acts for Smith Lad

case. You will remember that I directed your attention to this confession recently and you read the same. Mr. Smith was also questioned by myself at the time of his plea and entered a plea of guilty in open court freely and voluntarily. When the matter came before me for sentence. I found that the defendant was not eligible for probation because of the provisions of Section 1203 of the Penal Code which provides that probation may not be granted where one is convicted of rape with force and violence. I also found the defendant as ineligible for sentence to the County Jail under Section 261 of the Penal Code for the same reason that the offense of which he stood convicted was rape with force and violence. I also found that I was unable to commit young Smith to the Chino Reformatory for first offenders because under the law the Court does not have that privilege, but instead the Court must sentence a person convicted for a felony to the State Prison at San Quentin and thereafter the State Board of Prison Direcors may order the prisoners transferred to Chino. In other words, as the law now stands, the Court is not vested with discretion in fixing the place of confinement, but after the prisoner has served some time in San Quentin, he may be transferred either to Chino or Folsom in the discretion of the Prison Directors only.

I further found, in the case of Mr. Smith, that I could not send him to the institution of juvenile offenders because he had previously appeared before the Juvenile Court and there the order was made by the Judge of said Court to the effect that he was not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with by the Juvenile Court, but instead he should be tried by the Superior Court where persons other than juveniles are prosecuted for felonies.

I gave this case considerable thought and consideration. I did not wish to send him to the State Prison at San Quentin and had I been permitted to do so under the law, I would have committed him to the Chino Reformatory and so stated at the time of sentencing Mr. Smith.

I have written a letter to the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles at San Quentin advising them that in my opinion young Smith should be transferred to the Reformatory immediately after his entry at San Quentin and that I would have sentenced him to Chino had it been possible for me to do so. I am hopeful that they will comply with my request.

Let me assure you that I regretted exceedingly the necessity of committing young Smith to the State Prison because of his tender years, but in view of the law I had no alternative. In order to remedy this situation, the law should be changed so that the Trial Court would have discretion in directing where the individual should be confined. Section 1203 should also be amended so that the Court would have discretion to grant probation where the interests of justice might demand such a course of procedure.

I am very pleased to note that you are interested in this case and I am certain that through your efforts we may be able to create an intelligent public opinion that shall demand the changes in the law that I have suggested. This is not a case where either you or I are interested so much in the welfare of any particular individual as it is our interest in the establishment of a polic in this State that shall commit young offenders to a State Prison where they are forced to come in contact with older and hardened criminals.

For years I have been trying to awaken an interest in this matter for it would seem to me that the Trial Court should have discretion in cases of this kind and not simply be an umpire to see that the game is played according to the rules.

I trust that you will feel free to advise with me concerning this case at any time in the future and in the event there may be other matters that you desire to call to my attention, I want you to feel free to do so.

Young Smith has agreed according to the District Attorney's office, to testify against his co-defendant in this same case and for that reason I have issued a stay of execution in order that he may remain here for that purpose. I also wish to advise you that charges of kidnapping and violation of Section 288a of the Penal Code were dismissed against young Smith by the Court in the interest of justice.

May I again thank you for your interest in this matter?

With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I beg to remain

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM R. McKAY,
Judge of the Superior Court.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LEE JOHNSON

Catholic Church Scene of Nuptials Joining Nancy Pitts, John Johnson

On Nov. 15 at St. Patrick's Catholic church, E. 34th street, the church was the scene of the lovely wedding of Miss Nancy Pitts and Mr. John Lee Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Los Angeles, with Father Solbeck and Father Parish officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Pitts, an accomplished musician and also a student of Metropolitan High school, was resplendent in a gown of traditional pearl satin with the veil length of the train held in place by a beaded pearl headpiece. The bride carried a bouquet of white gardenias and orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Barbara Lewis, was a picture in blue with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Connie Holman, gowned in teal, brocaded silk, carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids, Misses Doris Collie, Thelma Stokes, Evelyn Williams, Florence Jackson, Edna Smith, and Margaret Lewis were gowned in pink and aqua and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

The groom's attendants were Herman Slaughter, best man; Richard Springfield, Ben Roshon, Richard Smith, John Pitts jr., and Johnnie Carlson.

The little flower girls, Laura Mack and Patricia Smith were draped in peach gowns, followed by the ring-bearer, Comodore Dunum, who wore a black tuxedo.

The groom, a graduate of Jefferson High school, was also a student of Pasadena Junior college.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Tiny Manning and Mrs. Artey assisted the bride, who received many lovely gifts and best wishes from her many friends.

The visiting guests included Mrs. Margaret Schorbohn, from San Francisco; Mrs. Conales, Mrs. Feino, Miss Lorraine Cohales, and Mr. Harold Williams, of San Diego.

Lilac Girls Club in Regular Session

The Lilac Girls club met at the home of Mrs. Alice Cotton. All members of the club were present. The regular routine of business was carried on by the vice president.

Playing bridge was the entertainment of the evening. Mrs. Sarah Cage won first prize; Mrs. Dora Johnson, second prize; Mrs. Fredia Myers, third prize.

A delicious repast was served by the hostess to those present. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Dora Johnson.

Mrs. Etta Ray Entertains Visitors at Dinner

Mrs. Etta Ray, 956 E. 50th street, entertained with a dinner party in honor of Mrs. Hattie Jackson and Mrs. Mayme Link of Chicago. Other guests included Mrs. T. A. Rowan, Mrs. C. J. Flowers and Mrs. H. Williams.

Cigarette Social Given By Les Shalamars Club

The Lee Shalamars club is back in circulation after their few months departure in giving a cigarette social last Saturday nite at Pueblo Del Rio.

Everyone responded in presenting a package or more of cigarettes with their invitation. There ere w715 packages of all assorted brands taken at the door. Others donated money toward the cause. The girls are still on their cigarette campaign an hope many will respond. These cigarettes will be taken to the nearby army camps and distributed to our boys in the service.

Many of the well known younger set were present and enjoyed themselves immensley. Betty Jean Johnson, reporter.

★ CROWN CITY CAPERS

By PHILIPPA E. JONES

Here I am back again. Sorry I have been absent so long, b it couldn't be helped. Anyway, I hope you enjoy it and if laryngitis improves I'll be back next week.

Well, here goes:

For a while, everyone was sitting around waiting for the ne person to give a party, but it seems as if those days are gone forever. With all the football games, house parties, and dinners going on these lonely days seem to be forgotten. Due to the sudden "draft rush," which included the younger boys everyone thought they would give little get togethers while there was still someone to get together. So you see our town has really jumped lately.

Starting the list of activities off was the party the Bunches (Glo and Jackie) gave in honor of the boys who left on the 16th. Among the boys leaving were Eddie Johnson, Frank Batiste, Bernard Harris and David Scott. Those who were there to help give them a fine send-off were Bernice Cunningham, Ralph McAfee, M. L. Jackson, Dot Mims, Betty Benson, and many others. They really had a fine time. Lora Jacques received the name of "mermaid" because of the fine fishtail she did, but Jessie Arnold wasn't so worse with hers and her boogie really came on.

FLASH! EMINENT CZARS 2, TRIPLE C's, 0.

That was the score of the game of the season. After much preparation and practicing, the game went off two Sundays ago amid much cheering and a heavy mist. But after a heavy battle the Czars won. Following the game, the Fine Melloneers gave the winning team a spaghetti feed at yours truly's hut. They ate in the house and afterwards danced in the backyard by moonlite (romantic). Members of the winning team and of the popular Czars are: Rufus Blake, Roy Stinson, Johnny Burton, J. T. Morgan, P. J. King, Clyde Bowens, and M. L. Jackson. Eddie Johnson played as the guest star (a barefooted one). Many were there to root for their favorite team.

The KKA's gave a skating party last Wednesday that was all reet. All those attending seemed to be having a swell time. Some of those there were Sy Hester, Eliose Butler, and Felix Williams. Rufus Blake and J. T. Morgan seemed to be having an awfully hard time staying on their feet and I still carry the scars. Carolyn Callier received slight injuries but she recovered soon enough to be up when Jimmie Owens came down from Vallejo, Calif.

Going back to the party side of things, Paul Talifero gave a party for his fellow club members, the Czars and their company.

Even two parties in one night: The Triple C's gave a party at Garner's Center and Paul's party went to enjoy themselves.

Among those having a good time were: Johnetta Smith, really putting the "j" in the jitterbug. She was really coming on Gloria Bunch was competing with Lora Jacques and "the Mermaid dance." It would have been quite a contest if Jessie Arnold had not been in bed ill. Paul Devine was seen escorting his sister, Grace, for the evening. Afterwards seen at the Rite Spot were Faye Hopkins and R fus Blake (no it wasn't Jessie Lora Jacques, Paul Devine a Roy Stension. In this geometi cal triangle, we wonder who w sweating the seam? Johnny Bu ton and Jackie Bunch, wi Ralph McAfee and Glo Bun (the changing twosomes). A there and ordering were P. King and Grace Gilchrest. B we do wish the service was quic er.

The last event that really to ped them all (?) was the dinn Johnny Burton gave for his cl (the Eminent Czars) and the company (popular club). T girls each wore a beautiful co sage and the event really car on. Hands across the table we P. J. King and Betty Jon Clyde Bowens and Ma Smith, Dickie Thornton Thelma Jackson, G. T. Morg and Marion Clarke (a special from Watts), Jayne Harris and M. L. Jackson, and Jadd Blake and Jessie Arnold (ba in circulation). The food w fine, served by such lovely a ing waitresses as Mable Re froe, Rudy Burton, Lila Brow Anita Gordon, and Harriet Wil They all had a lot of fun a wondered "why can't they do more often" (who knows, th might).

SO WHAT?

Johnny Burton is a regul troubadour. In the beginning used to render a fine "Til Around," to Carolyn Collier. B times changed and soon it w "I'm Falling For You," just f Glo Bunch. Now it is "Som how" for Jackie Bunch. I wo der what the next will be? Roy Stinsen thinks L. J. wou make a fine ice box salesw He says she's trying to take B.'s place. But Paul D. has a di ferent version of the story . Marion Clarke, from Compton C., was over in Pasadena. S made quite a hit with the bo . . . Also over for the weeke was Faye Hopkins, a Dorseyit She came, she saw, and let's sk the rest. But she does think t Dena boys are very fine and sh thinks they all have personali "plus." Johnny B. is the cute thing, and Jaddie and Ralph well! (How 'bout that Fine's?) . . Will be looking forward the party Johnny Smith is give Thursday. So girls, get yo semi's out of the moth balls . While in L. A., ran into Dann Martin, also Milton Sears, wh says "hello" (to the Bunche . . . Jackie B. thinks she's a Ba ney Oldfield . . . I was in L. A Sunday . . . Comes Thanksgivin Grace Jones will become t bride of Jacob Fraley, U Army. On the following day, Wilma Hickambottom will tie the knot with Ivory Jame Lane. Congratulations to you a . . . Hear Fred V. leaves for th Army soon. Too bad, B. B. an C. J. (it's fun to be popular isn it, Fred?) . . . Heard Thelm looked fine Sunday. Lucky Dick ie . . . AGRICULTURAL WORKER RETIRES—Secretary Claude R. Wickard is shown paying a special tribute to William H. Fitzhugh, retiring employee who had worked for the Department of Agriculture since 1906. The secretary presented him a letter and said, "I want to commend you upon the 36 years of loyal service you have given the department." Except for the short time he served as carriage driver for Secretary James Wilson, Mr. Fitzhugh has been employed in the secretary's file room.

★ POST OFFICE FACTS & FIGURES

By PAUL L. HACKETT SR.

United Federal Workers of America, Local No. 1191, Paul L. Hackett, President

Our trip to Washington, D. C., has been most enlightening. We have learned something about how our Post Office Department operates. We have found that the men heading are always willing to help better working conditions for all employees.

This is a very large and busy department here. Every agency here is overloaded with work. There is not much time to spend on non-essentials. Notwithstanding these circumstances, department heads found time to discuss problems with us.

Mr. J. F. Buckly, acting fourth assistant Postmaster General, is a big man in every way. We also met Mr. Fred Cornwell, in charge of personnel and custodial affairs. From these men we learned that the department here wanted all employees to have the best working conditions possible. We find these men to be very humane and understanding. They want to know and will listen to our problems.

Other officials we met were Mr. Leon Henderson, foreman; Mr. Orr, transfer clerk; Mr. Ralph E. Mizelle, of the office of the solicitor; Station Superintendent Johnson of T Station; Mr. Jackson, assistant and chief clerk at large, R. M. S. These men are all colored.

A unique feature in the new post office is a spiral staircase down through the center of which hangs a single chair which is fastened to the ceiling at the top of the building. Appropriately spaced are electric lights. We operated the new machine, in which you deposit the money required, and it will stamp and deposit the letter in any denomination of stamp needed.

We visited Baltimore, saw their parcel post office terminal in operation. Mr. Raymond, young president of the alliance showed us spots of interest and also introduced us to many old timers. The boys all say their postmaster is a regular guy and sing his praises. We find Mr. Young is a big shot in his town and respected by everyone.

Well, fellows, it kinda looks like they may do something for us if that filibuster ends. Keep your fingers crossed and say a little prayer. If promises mean anything we'll get something.

We have been studying post office procedure while here and feel that great benefits will be derived from it. Getting reservations here is like getting a free meal. We have finally gotten reservations for Monday, Nov. 23 on the 5:10 p. m.; should be in Los Angeles not later than the morning of the 30th. Until then, adios hasta la vista.

P. S.—Jesse, they are still talking about your big hat.

Eastside Chest Workers at Half of Goal

Community Chest volunteers, well under way with their appeal on the Eastside for 86 hospitals, clinics, children's homes, youth organizations and family agencies.

Latest available figures show that the volunters serving with chairman John E. Hargrove in Division 44 have brought in 174 subscriptions totaling $1032.00, 52 percent of quota. Division 47 volunteers, headed by Mrs. G. V. Grayson, district vice-chairman, have turned in $193.00, or 75 percent of quota and expect to be "over the top" during the week-end.

First battalion to go on the honor roll is headed by Rev. Frank Harris, director of the 28th street YMCA, who brought in 135 percent of kuota.

Mrs. Paul Grant, also of division 44, is over the top with 208 percent of quota.

Honor battalions serving with Mrs. Grayson are those of Mrs. Fay Grittith, 226 percent of quota; Mrs. J. A. Sommerville, 182 percent of quota, and Rev. John B. Isaacs, 109 percent.

Mrs. Josephine Brown is reported as giving outstandingly fine work in the Special Gifts Committee, a volunteer post in which she has given veteran Chest service.

The public schools division is now on the honor roll of the Chest campaign with $111,545.00 given to the Chest, 101 percent of quota with more to come.

Among the honor guests at the Schools Day Rally at the Biltmore (18th) were Mrs. Fay Allen, member of the Board of Education. Also Esther McCaskill and Kenneth Seals, who were chosen to represent McKinley Junoir High school. The latter were accompanied by Mrs. Mary Ramirez of the faculty. Previously the A Capella choir of the Jefferson Choir had provided music at a Biltmore rally.

Total Chest contributions amount to $1,294,974, 46 percent of the quota.

"The Community Chest appeal for our charitable agencies is the job of everyone who is not actually on the receiving end," the local chairmen said in urging that everyone give according to his ability.

"Every gift, however small, is valued. Individually, not many of us could do all that might be needed for a sick or crippled child or a stranded family or for thousands of homeless children. By putting our gifts together, rich people and those in modest circumstances, alike can take their share of the community responsibility to care for our own people."

Contributions can be made at the office of Mr. Hargroe, 4006½ So. Central avenue. A telephone call to Century 22511 will bring a volunteer for your gift.

Convicts Seek Own Wartime Defense Council

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—San Quentin convicts want to organize their own wartime defense council.

This was revealed today when Herman Buckner, supervisor of education at the famed prison on San Sablo bay near here, asked the State Council of Defense for permission to set up a defense council for the purpose of instructing the inmates in all phases of civilian defense.

Defense instruction, Buckner said, will be of benefit not only to "lifers" and long term prisoners in the event of enemy bombing, but will also serve to familiarize prisoners eligible for parole with defense activities, so that thy can take their proper places in civilian protection, if and when they are released from custody.

Hundreds of convicts, Buckner added, are now enrolled in Red Cross first-aid classes.

Mrs. B. G. Brown Is Oakland Visitor

Mrs. B. G. Brown, 2921 New Jersey street, made a trip to Oakland last week on the Southern Pacific San Joaquin Daylight. In Oakland Mrs. Brown was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. White jr., her daughter and son-in-law. Mrs. Brown had a wonderful trip and was entertained by many of her friends in Oakland.

★ RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, there is before Congress House Bill 1024 as amended, formerly known as the Pepper-Geyer Bill, which if enacted, will make it unlawful for any state, municipality, or other governmental subdivision or any person to prevent any citizen from voting in elections for federal officers because of failure to pay a poll-tax;

WHEREAS, the requirement of the payment of a poll-tax in order to exercise the right to vote obviously is an entering wedge to require payemnt of other taxes—which requirements have long since been abolished by California and at least three-fourths of all other states;

WHEREAS the maintenance in certain states and municipalities of such requirements constitutes a threat to democratic suffrage—one of the ways of living for the continuance of which this nation is at war, the disenfranchised bearing arms as loyally as others; and

WHEREAS, this council represents the people of a municipality proud of their own record of fair treatment of the underprivileged, but also keenly concerned that the right to vote be not denied to the people of other municipalities on such unjust grounds as the non-payment of a poll-tax;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Los Angeles strongly favors the passage by Congress of H. R. 1024 as reported by Senator Norris with amendments, or substantially the same; and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to Senators Hiram Johnson and Sheridan Downey, and to the members of the House of Representatives whose districts are wholly or partly within the city limits of Los Angeles, viz., Congressmen H. Jerry Voorhees, Charles Kramer, Thomas Ford, John Costello, Leland Ford, Cecil King, Ward Johnson.

HERE'S A TURKEY, SOLDIER—Miss Doris Lowery, student at Alabama A&M college, Normal, Ala., symbolizes the thousands of Negro farmers who are raising turkeys, and other foods so that our fighting men, our allies and our war workers will have adequate supplies. When Thanksgiving tables are spread both for our military men and civilian population, farmers will have the turkeys there. Although weather conditions have prevented growers from reaching the goal set by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, this year's turkey crop of 33,786,000 represents a slight increase over 1941 production. (USDA Photo)

Organized Labor Hits Anti-Poll Tax Filibuster

Good evening: As one who speaks more or less generally for the 12 million workers in organized labor and for the more than 500,000 workers in the United Auto Workers Union, the subject of the poll tax and the fight to remove it from the books of 8 southern states is of considerable interest.

The spectacle now being played by a handful of southern senators who are filibustering to prevent the Pepper Bill from being passed in the upper house, is both shocking and disgusting to organized labor. And at the same time we see in the present tactics the utmost hypocrisy. For the very senators who are trying so desperately to keep the Anti-Poll Tax Bill from being passed are the very bourbon southern senators, who beat the drums so loudly and shriek so lustily about labor. They are the very ones who point to the few short-lived, sporadic, wildcat strikes, which are very, very few in number I assure you—and shout "organized labor is betraying the war effort."

I call this sheer and unadulterated hypocrisy. It is hypocrisy—because the very people who are staging the strikes against the war are not the men and women who must work for their livelihood—but the senators who are standing in the way of progress.

We are now engaged in a war of survival. We need all our resources—all our manpower. We need every branch of our government—which includes the legislative branches. The congress of the United States should be very much in the forefront of the fight. It should be in that fight, implementing President Roosevelt, in devising ways and means of prosecuting the war vigorously.

But what do we see? Instead of fighting our common enemy, the Axis, we have a group of selfish senators who have gone on strike against the war effort. We see the work of the senate stymied by a sit-down strike of a few senators who refuse to permit the machinery of government to function. Yes friends, what is happening in the senate today is nothing but a sit-down strike against the war effort.

Now I am going to ask you, what would these very same senators say if organized labor were to quit on the job—to sit down inside the plants and refuse to produce? I don't think you need me to tell you. You can just about see the headlines in your own minds. Then why should the American people condone similar action on the part of their public servants? That is the question boiled down to its elementals as we in organized labor see this Anti-Poll Tax filibuster.

Mary F. Waring SFWFC Unit, Holds Meeting

The Mary F. Waring club met Tuesday, Nov. 17, at the home of Madame Pearl C. Walton. Madame Walton, the hostess, had for her special guests Mrs. Ardelia Anglin, president of the State Federation of Women's Federated clubs, and Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth, legal advisor of the Talent Lifters Organization, Inc.

After the business meeting of the club was over Mrs. Ruth Williams, the president, called for new business and to the surprise of the full membership present Attorney Macbeth presented Madame Walton with the charter of the Talent Lifters Organization, Inc. In Mrs. Anglin's very wonderful talk on the purpose of the federated clubs and their aims, she expressed her sincere appreciation of being one among the honored guests to witness such an outstanding affair.

Mrs. Anglin, together with the president of the Mary F. Waring club, Mrs. Williams, were loud in their praise of another delightful surprise, a turkey dinner, with all the trimmings was served to the guests and club members. The club gave Madame Walton a rising vote of thanks for the delicious dinner and for making such a lovely hostess.

Each lady present looked like a fashion plate. They were dressed in the very latest of style and wearing a smile of sunshine. The next meeting will be in December at the home of Mrs. Ida Robinson. Attorney Macbeth spoke on "Justice for All Humanity."

Mrs. Bertha Bater is secretary.

To Discuss State War Needs

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—California's war housing needs, as well as food, tire and gas rationing and numerous phases of civilian defense, will be discussed next Tuesday at a meeting of the executive committee of the State Council of Defense in Los Angeles.

The session will open at 10 a. m. at the State building.

★ ORCHIDS OF MERIT

By JACQUELIN WOODS

How many birds in cages die
Thinking a ceiling is the sky.
—Madeleine Aaron.

This week the column pays tribute to many organizations and individuals engaged in meritorious service connected with war work and otherwise.

The People's Independent Church of Christ, its progressive young minister, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, and members of the Cooperative Market Movement, the always inspiring broadcast, The Visitor; the Daily Employment service. In reality it is "the church that serves."

The Explorer, University of California radio commentator, whose comments are very timely and of great value to the Negro.

The Community Chest Volunteers and the capable leaders, John E. Hargrove and Mrs. Jessie Grayson, real race representatives.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass and all colored weeklies whose militant fight for passage of the Anti-Poll Tax Bill.

The Collier's Article, "The Negro Lifts His Head," by Walter Davenport. While much is written in the careful language not to offend the not too liberal white American, it is nevertheless a very enlightening and fairly accuratt article. To quote Mr. Davenport:

"But if anyone tells you that a common enemy has united the United States so solidly that the Negro problem is in abeyance for the duration, you may assume correctly that either he is making a political campaign speech or is a VERY UNRELIABLE SOURCE of information OR BOTH. The vast majority of Negroes in America, organized, unorganized, acting independently, agitated by exhortation from within, propaganda from without, are omitting no activity, ignoring no opportuniy to make het war pay them dividends in equality" (end of quote).

And why? May I and 13,000,000 Negroes ask, why should we have to take the opportunity IF democracy and justice and equality for all. The very reason for this battle of all nations. IF WE HAD IT HERE, WOULD WE NEED FIGHT FOR IT HERE? THE IRONY OF IT ALL. (I would like to question here for my own benefit: Why is there never a change in the Negro population statistics? 13,000,000 has been the figure since I was a little one in school. Long time now.)

By all means, readers, buy Collier's, Nov. 21. Walter Davenport gives a graphic account of the Negro and his white brother.

The Racial Digest, a monthly magazine published by the Community Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

Bill Stern, commentator, whose comments on Saturday eve's broadcast mentioned the Negro captain, Norman Johnson, on the African front with General Dwight D. Eisenhower. How 32 years ago in Abilene, Kansas, Lt. Gen. Eisenhower, who believed in equal rights for all, and proved it by threatening to quit as captain of a football team because his team didn't want to play against another school's team with a Negro boy. Gen. Eisenhower won. And today, that Negro boy, now captain of a troop, and the general are making histtory in Tripoli and Tunisia.

Ida Ramsey Is Installed as Club President

The Sallie W. Stewart club had the installation of officers in the home of Mrs. Austin, 1238 E. Santa Barbara street. The installation was conducted by the state president, Mrs. Ardelia Anglin.

The following officers were installed, president, Mrs. Ida Ramsey; first vice president, Mrs. Evelyn Townsend; second vice president, Mrs. A. Hudson; recording secretary, Mrs. Eva Jones; assistant secretary, Mrs. A. Ross; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Austin; treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Brown; parliamentarian, Mrs. Elizabeth St. Charles Edwards; reporter, Mrs. M. L. Hill.

The house was beautifully decorated and a delicious turkey dinner was served.

The next meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Mary Thompson, 96th and Hooper, who also served a delicious fried chicken dinner.

FANNIE WILLIAMS EXCELSIOR GUARANTEED HAIR GROWER

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower has been on the market for years. It is a wonderful preparation. It stops harsh and brittle hair from breaking and falling. It corrects itching scalp, ring worms, tetter and eczema, and keeps your scalp in a very healthy condition. It is not a gummy or sticky grower. It leaves the hair natural and soft and the hair grows rapidly.

You can get the grower at the following places:

The Anti-Poll Tax Defeat!

After a revolting filibuster which stretched over several days, the United States Senate effectively destroyed chances of passage for the Pepper-Geyer Anti-Poll Tax bill in this session of Congress Monday when a motion to invoke cloture, which would have limited debate and killed the Dixie filibuster, was defeated by a vote of 37 to 41.

Senator Alben Barkley, spear-head of the Administration anti-poll tax forces, conceded before the cloture vote that its defeeat would kill consideration of the Pepper-Geyer measure in this session. Whether this is certain or not, however, remains to be seen. After all, the poll tax bill has not been called up, its introduction having been blocked by the filibuster, and it still holds its position on the Senate calendar and may be called up at any time by any Senator.

But whatever the next step, this vote on cloture marks an important victory for pro-Fascist America. It is a somber warning to all win-the-war forces in our country that the combined power of the native Fascists in press and politics is still big enough to defeat the will of the majority of our people and the will of the Roosevelt Administration.

It is important that we know who were our friends and who our enemies in the recent contest. THE FIGHT AGAINST THE POLL TAX WAS CONDUCTED IN ITS ENTIRETY BY THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION SUPPORTED BY THE LABOR MOVEMENT AND THE NEGRO PEOPLE.

Although there was extensive support of anti-poll tax legislation by Republicans in the lower House, the representatives of that party failed to make one move in favor of the epic reform measure when the final Senate test was at hand.

The reason for this must be clearly understood. In policy and purposes, there is no difference between the Republican party and the Poll Tax South. Both represent the same sinister forces in American life today, and both are ranged in opposition to the democratic will of this nation's people and both are deadly enemies of the Roosevelt Administrations.

There are exceptions. There are pro-war Republicans such as Wendell Willkie. But Mr. Willkie and his followers in the G. O. P., a mere handful, oppose the general purpose of the Republican party today and are actually rebels against the party obstructionist line. On the other hand, there are a few poll taxers who follow Roosevelt in foreign affairs, but even they are not to be trusted and cannot be placed in the pro-war camp.

The Republican party and the Poll Tax South are joined by the chains of common interest, we might even say, common ownership. They are both creatures of Big Money. Moreover, they are both dominated by that section of Big Money which is frightened at the "people's war" nature of the current conflict, scared into jibbering hysteria at our alliance with the Soviet Union and democratic China, and terrified at a new world order to be charted by such men as Franklin Roosevelt, Joseph Stalin and Chiang-Kai-Chek... They are operators of imperialism—the imperialism which damns the Indian people and what Wendell Willkie has called the sub-imperialism which has damned the Negro people and poor whites in the South. Their whole imperialist world structure is threatened with every victory for the United Nations—for every such victory brings closer the day when the world's ranking enemies of imperialism, the gentlemen named above, will hold the balance of power in determining the future of the world. Every victory cuts short the time in which they can agitate for a negotiated peace with their fellow Fascist, Adolph Hitler.

The friends of the status quo are firmly rallied around the Republican, Dixie Democrat and Farley Democrat banners. They are opposed by Franklin Roosevelt and the win-the-war forces which he leads.

It is thus clear just why the fight against the poll tax was conducted solely by the Administration, by the Roosevelt Senate leader, Alben Barkley and the President's Senatorial right hand, Claude Pepper.

If Roosevelt and the pro-war forces are the most potent element in American life, why is it that they were apparently defeated by a handful of Dixie machine politicians? The answer to this lies in the fact that the Fascist appeasement elements retain a tremendous hold upon U. S. public opinion, that there was insufficient organization to fight the poll tax among Negro people and the labor movement.

There was at hand every material necessary for the prompt elimination of the tax which denies franchise privileges ot ten million Americans. There was a national public opinion ready to act on any measure vital to victory; there was the Administration; there was the power of the Negro and Labor.

The major progressive weapon in this crusade for the common man, public opinion, was lost and lost by default. There is a curtain which separates America's million's from the truth. That curtain is the prostitute of native Fascism. It is called the Free Press.

Most of the people in this nation were totally unaware of the significance of the anti-poll tax fight. They were kept that way, deliberately, with cunning and considered design. Source of information for our people is a triumvirate composed of United Press, Associated Press and Hearst's notorious International News Service. Not once did one of these services point the real role of the poll tax in American life. Not once was it pointed out that ten million Americans, black and white, are disfranchised by the poll tax. Not once was it pointed out that the bulk of pro-Fascist power in the American government sneaks into office through the ballot restrictions of the poll tax.

The development of a national wave of indignation at the spectacle of the U. S. Senate staging a sit-down strike against democracy was carefully avoided. All stories were colored to indicate that the poll tax was of little importane, had no connection with the war effort and affected only Negroes. The filibuster was handled in two ways—both close to the heart of the reactionary press. It was played down. It was treated as though it were a gala show put on by the members of the United States Senate for the entertainment of the nation. While the tremendous organized pressure campaign for passage of the bill was not given a passing nod, words from the mouths of opposition leaders Bilbo and Connally were quoted as if they were jewels of rarest wisdom. One United Press "feature" openly egged on the filibuster, held it was "sissy" in comparison to previous ones and gayly quoted Washington old-timers as recalling far more effective acts of sabotage against practice of democracy in America. This story was no accident. It was the product of the same pro-Fascist bias which United Press exhibitted in its lying campaign against the India National Congress following the Cripps mission. U. P. may take a bow for being principally resonsible for U. S. misconceptions of the battle for Indian freedom just as it may hog a lion's share of the credit for fooling Americans about the importance of the anti-poll tax filibuster.

Another element which contributed toward the Senate stalemate was the lack of offensive organization of the Negro people as a whole by those national bodies which pretend to represent Negro-America's interests at the nation's capital. The rabble-rousing voice of A. Phillip Randolph was curiously silent, although it will probably be raised now in furious condemnation of the Administration, which alone kept the faith. An example to America was the anti-poll tax activity of Los Angeles, although by no means as effective as it could have been. Nationally, the C.I.O. conducted a forthright and militant struggle against the Dixie die-hards.

By and large, the Negro press failed to spur its readers to a determined effort, following obediently the 'do-nothing' line of major racial organizations.

Another regrettable failure was that of the President in refusing to take the fight directly to the public and attempting to lick the poll taxers in their parliamentary stronghold. The voice of Wendell Willkie was also strangely silent.

Battle lines for the future are clearly drawn. The poll tax will come in for another assault at the next Congress. National public opinion must be focussed upon this issue. Labor, progressive organizations and the Negro people must defeat those who would place a curtain of ignorance before the eyes of our fellow citizens

This session's fight against the poll tax was defeated because of what the U. S. press did not say. But there are other vocal chords in this nation. Let's use them!

"I'M GOING TO SEE THAT YOU GROW UP IN A BETTER WORLD, YOUNG FELLOW!"

"SUCH SCUM AS BILBO"

Dear Editor:

Because I feel you will appreciate the grim humor of a letter I mailed to Senator Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi, I am enclosing a word-for-word copy of it. It is an historical axiom that political corruption is the sweet handmaiden of reaction. And one wonders whether it is because Mississippi is the most backward state in the U. S., both culturally and politically, that such scum as Bilbo is its political boss, or whether because of Bilbo, who has the great honor of having one of the dirtiest political records in our history, that Mississippi is as backward as it is.

The war has made the issues pretty clear. It has definitely divided the world into two distinct camps: democracy vs. nazism; life vs. death. And if Bilbo prefers the bestiality and depravity of that cannibal, Hitler, then he certainly has no business in Congress, or in the U. S.—except in prison,—for that matter.

If you feel that my letter to Bilbo can help our cause, please do print it with my happy permission.

Yours for a universal Four Freedoms.

Hon. Theodore G. Bilbo
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.
Senator:

I am enclosing some information that concerns you personally, and will deeply interest you. It will also make excellent reading material for your famous filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill. I heard it over my short-wave set and I'm passing it on to you almost word for word as I heard it and wrote it down. Here it is:

"Greetings, Senator Theodore G. Bilbo:

"My instinctive belief in your noble heritage has proven correct. I have gathered facts from authentic sources that establish beyond a doubt your relationship with the noble family of the great Italian Air Admiral, Bilba, who had brought fame to Fascist Italy. Congratulations, as you Americans say. Keep up your splendid filibuster against that sick bill of a sick democracy. The softheaded democracies shall all perish. That dirty bolshevik, Lincoln, and his follower, Roosevelt, have violated the peace and happiness of your once glorious South. We Aryans, guided by our Great Leader, shall soon join forces with you and your brave defenders to save your glorious South from the slave and animal races. Keep up your filibuster until then. You shall be nobly rewarded when the day comes. Heil to the New World Order.

'Herr Goebbels
Minister of Propaganda."

That is the message. Please let me say in passing, that the mere fact I am forwarding this message I inadvertently heard over my short-wave set does not necessarily mean I agree with the opinions of the broadcaster. I simply felt that as an American who believes in listening to both sides of a story, though I may not agree with the other side, I should at least, in all fairness, forward the opinion of the opposing side to the individual for whom it was intended.

Respectfully yours.
MARK KEATS.

Dear Editor:

Enclosed you will find an announcement to the effect that from November 21 to November 27, the Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority is sponsoring a national "Listen, America Week," during which we hope that thru the press, the pulpit, the radio and in the daily round of affairs, white Americans will become better informed and much more concerned about the problems and attitudes of those of us who constitute the largest and most important racial minority in this country.

Our 5000 sorors and their friends in forty-six states, from Canada to the Gulf, are already making plans to write letters to the daily as well as the weekly press, to government bureaus, and to members of Congress, expressing opinion and calling for action on matters affecting Negroes on local, state and national fronts. It may be paving a street in Gainesville, Florida; getting enough qualified Negroes in useful positions in a government agency; making America understand our position in America; converting anti-Negro persons to a democratic attitude toward Negroes; pointing out that America is not united without the Negro; pointing out the unchristian attitude of the church toward Negroes; showing white America that it is important to attack the doctrine hat a man is superior because he is white—inferior because he is black; showing opportunities for blasting the white supremacy myth; pointing out that the test of Democracy in America is a test of color; pointing out that we cannot win the confidence of our darker allies until the Negroes of America are part of our American democracy; gently ridiculing the undemocratic, unscientific and ridiculous customs of discrimination; and any one of countless other equally important matters that you no doubt know better than we do and certainly know how to write about better than we do.

We hope to make our voices heard and you can be of great help if you will:

1. Devote editorial space in your paper for the 21st or 28th of this month to either some special matter or a general statement written with white readers in mind, which our many sorors and their friends can clip and pass on to white readers, the run-of-the-mine type who do the voting and others whose influence is more immediate and direct;

2. Point out the effectiveness of Negroes and friends of Negroes, expressing their point of view, not only this week, but in all the weeks to come;

3. Generally support this program.

Please note that this particular week does not presuppose that this has never been done or encouraged before. It is simply that we wish to have a week of effort of this kind which will gather momentum as it goes along and feel that it will be effective in getting fair play from white America.

We know that we can count on your cooperation to put over this first "Listen, America Week."

Perhaps you could use column fillers announcing the week and its purpose.

Perhaps you have some suggestions that you might pass on to us to make this week more effective.

With sincere appreciation, I am
Very truly yours,
National Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority
THOMASINA W. JOHNSON
Legislative Representative.

Dear Editor.

Words cannot express to you my sincere appreciation and gratitude for your kindness in continuing to send me the West's greatest weekly paper.

Next month I will have completed service of my minimum sentence. Therefore, I look forward to regaining my freedom within six months following, at the latest. I am sending you under separate cover, a Christmas gift of my own creation, a religious ornament of our race. Realizing the fact that you are an extremely busy person, I shall appreciate from the depths of my heart if you would be so kind as to intercede on my behalf in getting in touch with some trustworthy person (member) either of the Rev. Clayton D. Russell's or Rev. J. Raymond Henderson's church to act as agent for me in selling some of these religious ornaments at $1.00 each with a commission of 25 cents thereon or, perhaps, the Rev. Clayton D. Russell could have the manager of the Community Market handle them.

I shall send these ornaments in dozen lots upon the integrity of anyone you might select to get in touch with me. Please let me know within ten days of the receipt of this letter whether anyone wants an order, which will give me time to make up these ornaments and get the same there by Xmas.

Upon my release in the very near future, I expect to embark upon a handcraft enterprise of turning out several useful articles that I have taught myself to make during my stay here. Consequently, your kindly assistance at this time will go a long way towards starting me on the legitimate road of life. I am sending to you also a handcraft calendar made of wood. I wish to congratulate you on your militant and fearless stand with respect to the Festus Coleman case and that of the baby, Robert Smith. With the kindest thoughts and best wishes for your health and a very merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year with the finest Negro newspaper in the country, a newspaper that evaluates the news in true light of the vital isues of the day.

Most sincerely yours,
John Doe

★ AN OPEN LETTER

To U. S. Senator Bilbo:
Southern Sir:

I am just one of the millions of Negroes to which you refer so freely as "NIGGERS." I am just one of this minority who desires a betterment of conditions. But I am different than you. I do not desire this solely for myself; rather for my community, city, state, country, and for my fellowman, black and white.

Down in the South they want a law against the poll tax, the first step toward a betterment of conditions. You are fighting that bill, and in so doing, making a reputation for yourself; a very bad one; that of a HYPOCRITE. You claim to be using hot air as your weapon. Hot air gained from half French and half Irish ancestry, so you say. But I say you are all hypocrite gained from ancestry.

Southern sir, or substituting a better epithet, southern cracker, you were put in congress to act as a United States senator. Rather, you have acted as a representative of the South and all its low-minded conditions. You and all like you have used high offices to "pork barrel," to gain what you want for yourselves alone.

But you will fail in your present venture. Fail because we are not alone. We have Americans with us. Such men as Senators Pepper and Geyer are with us. We have the American idea behind us. And most of all we have Americanism in us. THE NEGRO, which is more than I can say for YOU.

★ SPREADING JOY

By JOHN FOWLER

The Pioneer Club No. 1 held its annual Thanksgiving meeting last Tuesday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson.

If you have been fortunate enough to have been in the Johnson home, you know what a real joy it is to go there. It is one of those sprawling, big houses, large rooms and high ceilings, with solid comfort and refinement written everywhere.

The spacious drawing room and the adjacent music room overflowed to the sunny breakfast rooms with old-timers and leaders of the religious, professional and business world, guests of General S. P. and Mrs. Johnson. If you know the Johnsons at all you know that they are in their sweetest heaven when their house is crammed full of guests. Tuesday they served one of those famous turkey dinners with piping hot rolls and everything.

It was fitting indeed that one of the truly great pioneers of Los Angeles was out to share honors with the trial blazers. I refer to Mr. William Nickerson jr., founder of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company. A pioneer in every sense of the word, William Nickerson jr. blazed the trail and filled the forest in the world of life insurance and high finance that gave to the Negro people of Los Angeles and California a rating they never dreamed possible before he came.

In 21 years the Golden State Insurance company accomplished more than did we of the '60s, '70s and '80s. But let it be said of those first comers that their glory cannot be diminished for they paved the way.

As I sat there and saw the group of fine young business executives in support of their chief, I thought "surely Ethiopia had stretched forth her arms."

I think I saw the secret of the success of William Nickerson. He was smart enough to surround himself with the very best brains he could find. Observe his cabinet: There is Norman O. Houston, himself a product of fine, old pioneer stock. I've known him all of his life and I wouldn't go wrong if I said he was born with an insurance policy in his pocket. He got his insurance training in one of the major companies in San Francisco and rapidly became one of the solid business men of the race.

Then there is George A. Beavers jr., solid in the religious, civic and business life of the community. I think the finest thing I can say of George Beavers is that "he is a man of his word." If he gives you his word you can go home and go to sleep, a rare virtue indeed.

With him also was handsome Kelly Williams. You know I go all out for Kelly Williams, for his little family is my ideal American family—one fine boy and two sweet little girls. Mrs. Williams was a member of my Sunday School when I was the superintendent at 15th Street church, Oakland. Little Juanita Black was the prettiest little girl in Sunday School. Dr. H. H. Towles, the pride of Prairie View and every inch an M. D., and a solid citizen. Also Mr. B. N. Hunnigan, a gentleman and a scholar, an insurance expert and one of our strong citizens.

The musical and literary highlights of the evening were the reading, "Thanksgiving," by Mrs. C. J. Burgess, and solo by Mr. Geo. Bryant and Mrs. Jessie Coles-Grayson. Mrs. Fannie Benjamin was at the piano.

Rev. J. Raymond Henderson delivered a brilliant address in which he congratulated the pioneers in past achievements and pointed out some new frontiers, among them in the new world to conquer, was the establishment of a Negro bank.

Rev. A. Wendell Ross gave one of his familiar fine side-chats on "Optimism and Faith in the Future." Other dignitaries present were Dr. and Mrs. Price Cobb, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Mitchell, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, Dr. C. A. Jackson, and Rev. Pettigrew.

Mrs. Cora Buck, the president, was out, but the chair was filled by the writer.

In the absence of Mrs. Laura Young, the secretary, Mrs. Myrtle Crumbly acted.

The following new members were accepted: Mrs. A. Young, Rev. Pettigrew and Isich Tredwell. Little Ester Bruce, the club's ambassador of goodwill, has been appointed "governor of California" for the All States Tea at the Second Baptist church Friday evening, Nov. 24. She wants to see her constituents out that night, especially the native sons and daughters.

Look who's leading the old sweethearts parade this week: That lovable pair of old darlings, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Robinson.

★ THE NEGRO IN BOOKS

THE NEGRO HANDBOOK—Edited by Florence Murray, New York, Wendell Malliet and Co., $3.50.

Combining talent and resourcefulness with an excellent educational background, Miss Florence Murray, a competent writer, has done an impressive and thoroughly up-to-date job of coverage in the first issue of her Negro Handbook.

From a mass of material on the Negro, Miss Murray, youthful Negro editor, has compiled a volume of current factual information that gives a comprehensive picture of Negro activity and accomplishment in America. She has devoted her research primarily to the Negro in America. All information on a particular subject is assembled in one section. It gives facts, figures, and general information on the Negro in government, politics, labor, housing, agriculture, business, education, health, sports, national organizations, art, etc.

The impartial, interpretative, and uncolored information on the Negro in this handbook is a quick, ready reference on Negro affairs; it is a source book for writers, authors, and teachers; it is a time-saver for research students and educators.

Much useful information in concise form on the Negro is available in this new handbook. It is impossible to present in limited space all of the phases covered. A few facts from its pages will show its indispensability. In showing the upswing of retail business of Negroes in the United States, this handbook says: "Retail sales of the 29,827 unincorporated Negro establishments in 1939 amounted to $71,466,000, an increase of 49 per cent over the corresponding total for 1935, but less than 1929 by 27.5 percent. Sales of 22,756 stores totaled $47,968,000 in 1935 and 25,269 stores accounted for sales of $98,602,000 in 1929."

It is interesting and informative to note that Negroes spent over $25,000,000 in 1939 for beauty service, derived from 3,000,000 patrons.

Business expansion for the year 1940 among banking institutions owned and operated by Negroes is reflected in the latest figures published in this volume. Financial statements submitted by these institutions record a general increase in the principal items for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1940, as against amounts on the date the previous year. Total deposits were $7,258,894 as compared with $5,367,880 for the previous year, an increase of $891,014.

Such examples of information on the Negro contained in this volume could be extended indefinitely. Any general reader or student will find it a most extensive compendium of information on the Negro.

MARVIN E. ECKFORD.

★ LIBRARY NOTES

Helen Hunt Jackson Branch

Some of the more recent additions at the Helen Hunt Jackson branch library include:

Aldrich—The Lieutenant's Lady.

Catching the spirit of pioneer days, this is a tale of a Nebraska girl, who followed the young officer her cousin didn't want and eventually wins his love. Romance and hardship in early Omaha and the river forts along the Missouri is portrayed.

Medearis—Big Doc's Girl.

The story of the daughter of one of the old time country physicians in the Arkansas back country. Mary had to take care of her young brothers and sisters when her father died and her mother was in the hospital, and try to work out her own problems, too.

Lutz—The Street of the City.

The love story of Fannie Fernley and Taliant Willoughby does not run in the smooth pattern they wished, for Fannie has to cope with Marrietta and they are both mixed up with a bunch of Fifth Columnists.

Douglas—The Robe.

Douglas has forsaken his benevolent modern doctors and ministers to tell a story of the family of the Roman Senator whose fixion, who got the Robe of the son was in charge of the crucifixion, who got the Robe of the Galilean and fho later went to his own death refusing to recant his Christian belief before Caligula.

The next two books will appeal especially to young people in High school as Tunis offers All-American, a football story; and Scholz writes a timely story, Soldiers at Bat.

Black America to White America

Let us work by your side America,
If we are qualified?
We'll forget our tears and calm our fears,
And give you a manhood bona fide.

Let prejudice take a holiday,
And brothers let us be,
Our enemies will be put to flight,
Our country will be free.

Our faces may be black America,
But we are white inside.
Fashioned by the same Hand that fashioned you.
Our country is our pride.

Let prejudice take a holiday
As o'er the past we scan.
A house divided against itself,
Most certainly cannot stand.

We are here to stay America,
We black American born,
You'll find us true and tried,
To the only country we have known.

Let prejudice take a holiday
As we go hand in hand,
With love in our hearts,
And hope in our breasts,
For a Victory great and grand.

We'll teach our foes a lesson,
That there'll be no retreat,
With faith in God and in ourselves,
As on the battlefield,
Their challenge we meet.

Pledging allegiance to our flag,
As we march steadily on,
God grant that those who dared,
may pause to weep,
And pen with our life's blood
Their miserable defeat.

Men Wanted for Auxiliary Fire Service

Fire-fighting equipment furnished by the federal government for use in helping protect Los Angeles in case of enemy attack was received here last week and other shipments are due to arrive at an early date, according to the public announcement made by Mayor Fletcher Bowron, commander of the Los Angeles City Citizens Defense Corps.

The following statement, authorized by Federal officials, was released by Mayor Bowron:

"The first shipments of OCD fire equipment intended for the protection of Los Angeles city and surrounding areas have been received.

"They include a number of auxiliary motor-driven pumps. Within the next few days we expect to receive additional pumps and a considerable supply of fire hose.

"Bills of lading for all of this equipment have been received by the city.

"Furthermore, it is planned that complete equipment for the use and training of the city and surrounding county area will be available in the very near future."

Fire Department officials welcomed the information, pointing out that the equipment would be of tremendous aid in the training program for auxiliary firemen of the Citizens Defense Corps, who need constant practice with pumps, hose, ladders, and other equipment, in order to perfect their fire-fighting skill.

Said Frank F. LaVigne, captain of a LAFD Training division and coordinator of Area No. 5, "The allocation of this equipment will naturally be decided on the basis of those areas in the city that have men trained in fire-fighting techniques. If the citizens of the Eastside area expect the added protection to their homes and investments that will be afforded by additional fire-fighting equipment, they must lend themselves more generously to the Auxiliary Fire Service than they have in the past.

"The Auxiliary Fire Service," Captain LaVigne declared, "is the only Civilian Defense service that teaches the control of large fires and the handling of heavy fire-fighting equipment and the operation of motor driven fire pumps. Experience has made it evident that fire continues to be the most effective weapon used by the enemy to demoralize and incite fear in civilian ranks; trained men is the answer to this threat."

Concluding his statement, Captain LaVigne stated, "Inductions and enlistements to the armed forces, employment changes, residence changes and plain indifference to the problem of fire protection has decimated the ranks of the Auxiliary Fire Service to the point where insufficient number, of men remain to man the Auxiliary Fire companies already established. I appeal therefore to all civic-minded male citizens in good physical condition to enroll for training in the Auxiliary Fire Service so that when OCD fire-fighting equipment is allocated, the citizens of this area can rightfully expect their share. Applications may be filed at your nearest fire station."

"NATIVE SON" ★

From the book by

RICHARD WRIGHT

When he opened his eyes he was stretched out upon a cot. A white face loomed above him. He tried to lift his body and was pushed back.

"Take it easy, boy. Here: drink this."

A glass touched his lips. Ought he to drink? But what difference did it make? He swallowed something warm; it was milk. When the glass was empty he lay upon his back and stared at the white ceiling: the memory of Bessie and the milk she had warmed for him came back strongly. Then the image of her death came and he closed his eyes, trying to forget.

His stomach growled: he was feeling better. He heard a low drone of voices. He gripped the edge of the cot and sat up.

"Hey! How're you feeling, boy?"

"Hunh?" he grunted.

It was the first time he had spoken since they had caught him.

"How're you feeling?"

He closed his eyes and turned his head away, sensing that they were white and he was black, that they were the captors and he the captive.

"He's coming out of it."

"Yeah. That crowd must've got 'im."

"Say, boy! You want something to eat?"

He did not answer.

"Get 'im something. He doesn't know what he wants. You better lie down, boy. You'll have to go back to the inquest this afternoon."

He felt their hands pushing him back onto the cot. The door closed: he looked round. He was alone. The room was quiet. He had come out into the world again. He had not tried to; it had just happened. He was being turned here and there by a surge of strange forces he could not understand. It was not to save his life that he had come out, he did not care what they did to him. They could place him in the electric chair right now, for all he cared. It was to save his pride that he had come. He did not want them to make sport of him. If they had killed him that night when they were dragging him down the steps, that would have been a deed born of their strength over him. But he felt they had no right to sit and watch him, to use him for whatever they wanted.

The door opened and a policeman brought in a tray of food, set it on a chair next to him and left. There was steak and fried potatoes and coffee. Gingerly, he cut a piece of steak and put it into his mouth. It tasted so good that he tried to swallow it before he chewed it. He sat on the edge of the cot and drew the chair forward so that he could reach the food. He ate so fast that his jaws ached. He stopped and held the food in his mouth, feeling the juices of his glands flowing round it. When he was through, he lit a cigarette, stretched out upon the cot and closed his eyes. He dozed off to an uneasy sleep.

Then suddenly he sat upright. He had not seen a newspaper in a long time. What were they saying now? He got up; he swayed and the room lurched. He was still weak and giddy. He leaned against the wall and walked slowly to the door. Cautiously, he turned the knob. The door swung in and he looked into the face of a policeman.

"What's the matter, boy?"

He saw a heavy gun sagging at the man's hip. The policeman caught him by the wrist and led him back to the cot.

"Here; take it easy."

"I want a paper," he said.

"Hunh?" A paper?

I want to read the paper."

"Wait a minute. I'll see."

The policeman went out and silently returned with an armful of papers.

"Here you are, boy. You're in 'em all."

He did not turn to the papers until after the man had left the room. Then he spread out the Tribune and saw NEGRO RAPIST FAINTS AT INQUEST. He understood now it was the inquest he had been taken to. He had fainted and they had brought him here. He read:

Overwhelmed by the sight of his accusers, Bigger Thomas, Negro sex slayer, fainted dramatically this morning at the inquest of Mary Dalton, millionaire Chicago heiress.

Emerging from a stupor for the first time since his capture last Monday night, the black killer sat cowed and fearful as hundreds sought a glimpse of him.

"He looks exactly like an ape!" exclaimed a terrified young white girl who watched the black slayer being loaded onto a stretcher after he had fainted.

Though the Negro killer's body does not seem compactly built, he gives the impression of possessing abnormal physical strength. He is about five feet, nine inches tall and his skin is exceedingly black. His lower jaw protrudes obnoxiously, reminding one of a jungle beast. His arms are long, hanging in a dangling fashion to his knees. It is easy to imagine how this man, in the grip of a brain-numbing sex passion, overpowered little Mary Dalton, raped her, murdered her, beheaded her, then stuffed her body into a roaring furnace to destroy the evidence of his crime.

His shoulders are huge, muscular, and he keeps them hunched, as if about to spring upon you at any moment. He looks at the world with a strange, sullen, fixed-from-under stare, as though defying all efforts of compassion.

All in all, he seems a beast, utterly untouched by the softening influences of modern civilization. In speech and manner he lacks the charm of the average, harmless, genial, grinning southern darky so beloved by the American people.

The moment the killer made his appearance at the inquest, there were shouts of "Lynch 'im! Kill 'im!"

But the brutish Negro seemed indifferent to his fate, as though inquests, trials, and even the looming certainty of the electric chair held no terror for him. He acted like an earlier missing link in the human species. He seemed out of place in a white man's civilization.

An Irish police captain remarked with deep conviction: "I'm convinced that death is the only cure for the likes of him."

For three days the Negro has refused all nourishment. Police believe that he is either trying to starve himself to death and cheat the chair, or that he is trying to excite sympathy for himself.

From Jackson, Mississippi, came a report yesterday from Edward Robertson, editor of the Jackson Daily Star, regarding Bigger Thomas' boyhood there. The editor wired:

Thoma comes of a poor darky family of a shiftless and immoral variety. He was raised here and is known to local residents as an irreformable sneak thief and liar. We were unable to send him to the chain gang because of his extreme youth.

"Our experience here in Dixie with such depraved types of Negroes has shown that only the death penalty, inflicted in a public and dramatic manner, has any influence upon their peculiar mentality. Had that nigger Thomas lived in Mississipi and committed such a crime, no power under Heaven could have saved him from death at the hands of indignant citizens.

"I think it but proper to inform you that in many quarters it is believed that Thomas despite his dead-black complexion, may have a minor portion of white blood in his veins, a mixture which generally makes for a criminal and intractable nature.

"Down here in Dixie we keep Negroes firmly in their places and we make them know that if they so much as touch a white woman, good or bad, they cannot live.

"When Negroes become resentful over imagined wrongs, nothing brings them to their senses so quickly as when citizens take the law into their hands and make an example out of a trouble-making nigger.

"Crimes such as the Bigger Thomas murders could be lessened by segregating all Negroes in parks, playgrounds, cafes, theatres, and street cars. Residential segregation is imperative. Such measures tend to keep them as much as possible out of direct contact with white women and lessen their attacks against them.

"We of the South believe that the North encourages Negroes to get more education than they are organically capable of absorbing, with the result that northern Negroes are generally more unhappy and restless than those of the South. If separate schools were maintained, it would be fairly easy to limit the Negroes' education by regulating the appropriation of moneys through city, county, and state legislative bodies.

"Still another psychological deterrent can be attained by conditioning Negroes so that they have to pay deference to the white person with whom they come in contact. This is done by regulating their speech and actions. We have found that the injection of an element of constant fear has aided us greatly in handling the problem."

He lowered the paper; he could not read any more. Yes, of course; they were going to kill him; but they were having this sport with him before they did it. He held very still; he was trying to make a decision; not thinking, but feeling it out. Ought he to go back behind his wall? Could he go back now? He felt that he could not. But would not any effort he made now turn out like the others? Why go forward and meet more hate? He lay on the cot, feeling as he had felt that night when his fingers had gripped the icy edges of the water tank under the roving flares of light, knowing that men crouched below him with guns and tear gas, hearing the screams of sirens and shouts rising thirstily from ten thousand throats.

Learn to Type in 7 Weeks

A 7-week course in Beginning Typing which will meet five nights a week (Monday through Friday), from 5 to 6 o'clock, will open at Metropolitan Evening School of Business, 234 Venice boulevard, on Nov. 30. The regular attendant will develop a thorough knowledge of the keyboard and will be prepared to enter advanced speed-building classes with the new semester in February.

This class is being organized to help meet the war time need for typists in defense industries and governmental service.

It will be necessary for students to enroll promptly at the beginning of the course, otherwise the class will be too far advanced to enroll new applicants.

This instruction is offered under the Adult Education Program of the Los Angeles City Board of Education.

Transportation Panel Named

B. B. Bratton, chairman of War Price and Ration Board No. 5-40 announced this week the selection of an Advisory Transportation Panel to assist the board's Mileage Rationing Panel in the processing of supplemental application forms.

The persons named to this panel are as follows: J. L. Taylor, Dr. J. D. Fowler, Rev. John J. Hicks, W. C. Faulkner, Leonard Tibbs, Edgar S. Browne, Meyer Bluestein, and William Wong.

These persons, who have a knowledge of transportation and geography in this area, will be of invaluable service to the board in making a preliminary study of all applications and passing on to the board their recommendations.

30 Answer Call of Ration Board

More than 30 patriotic and public spirited citizens of the Southeast Los Angeles area responded to a call for volunteer workers to assist War Price and Rationing Board 5-40 in the Mileage Rationing program, according to an announcement today by L. B. Wilson, secretary to the board.

A meeting was held last Tuesday afternoon at the board offices at which time an over-all picture of the entire program was outlined and explained by Boynton, of the State OPA office.

In addition to the board members and clerical staff the following volunteer workers were present and indicated a willingness to assist in the program:

Inez Allen, Ida Ake, Mrs. Malvenia Allen, Mrs. Pearl M. Barrett, Edgar S. Browne, Mrs. Anna L. Beavers, Mrs. Evelyn Boswell, Mrs. Lena Day, Mrs. Grace H. Dyson, W. C. Faulkner, Mrs. Cabrella Farley, Meyer Bluestein, Dr. J. D. Fowler, Mrs. Mary Grimes, Mrs. Theresa Hardon, William Hansbrough, Mrs. Georgia Hardimon, Rev. John J. Hicks, Mrs. Mary E. BEHIND THE SCENES With Harry

By Harry Levette

Through co-operation of the Hollywood Victory Committee and the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs, South America next Thursday will be given a special Thanksgiving program, designed to acquaint them with the meaning of our Thanksgiving Day. On the program, all speaking Spanish, will be Marlene Dietrich, Michele Morgan, Jinx Falkenberg and Alberto Rondon, with the Pasadena Boys choir of 40 voices and a special dramatization of America's first Thanksgiving Day.

AWVS OPENS FINE NEW CANTEEN WITH ALL-DAY PROGRAM

Marking another step in the excellent work done by the nattily uniformed 70 members of the colored branch of the AWVS, one of the finest canteens on the coast was opened last Sunday in the spacious building at the corner of 54th and Central avenue. With comfortable overstuffed furniture for the lounge rooms, pool tables and other games, books and magazines. More than 300 attended the ceremonies which opened the well equipped center for men of the armed forces.

Captain Laura Slayton and Southeast AWVS chairman Beulah Wyndon were in charge.

HOLLYWOOD'S ONLY CAFE MAN HAS SON IN AIR CORPS

One of the proudest fathers in Los Angeles is Roy Loggins who holds the distinction of being the only colored proprietor of a cafe in the confines of Hollywood. He has just received word of the rapid progress being made by his son, Roy Loggins, jr., who is under training for the air force at Tuskegee. Enthusiastically choosing this branch of the service even before the draft, young Loggins, who bore the record of a brilliant student in local institutions of learning is a private in the 366. 318 Ar Base squadron, recruit detachment, Tuskegee.

Loggins, sr., operates a fine commissary cafe, in a new building especially built for him on the Monogram studio lot on Hollywood and Hillhurst. Well liked by all the stars and studio officials, his place is crowded morning and night. This latest achievement is the result of his bold departure from the customary efforts of race restauranteurs who open in the already crowded Negro section.

Several years ago, noting the thriving business of whites who transported hot meals for motion picture companies filming far away on location, he fitted up a string of nicely painted enclosed delivery trucks, and with portable steam tables got into the business. Equipped to serve as many as 150 or 200 each at one or more than one location at the same time.

He soon had several contracts with various studios. This branch of the business he will be able to continue, regardless of his operation of the cafe.

Loggins declares he hopes his air-minded son will knock a lot of Jap and German planes out of the sky, once he has earned his wings and gets into active service.

MANTAN MORELAND WILL GET RECOGNITION AFTER "CABIN"

Because all of the Hollywood screen writers who have written musical have overlooked a bet, the name of Mantan Moreland has not been mentioned as a member of the cast except in th first announcement from the studio. Yet when the sensational feature is released in May, it is a safe bet that critics will juggle the name of this versatile stage and screen comedian aplenty, along with the names of Ethel Waters, Rochester, Lena Horne, Rex Ingram and other stars who have been much in print during its recent finished filming.

For Mantan not only has done one of the most important roles in the story, with his presence tantamout to the plot, but he did unusual tricks of facial expression, the varied shading of his voice and his expressiveness enhanced by long stage experience, will stand out. In the plot he is the head Imp of the 36 wildly dancing Imps, assigned to aid Lucifer, Jr., (Rex Ingram) in his efforts to capture the soul of Little Joe (Eddie Anderson). But when he has failed and is worried about what his "Pappy" will do about it, Mantan appears to notify Rex that he has already been fired and that he is to take over. From then on, according to production room rushes, the new boss is a riot.

Mantan also finished two other pictures on the MGM lot and is now in "Cosmo Jones" at Monogram with Frank Graham.

HIT PARADE STAR STUDIES BOOGIE WOOGIE

Republic has hired Al Newman to teach Susan Hayward mastery of the piano for scene in "Hit Parade of 1943." She plays a piano-playing composer and has to be an expert pianist for this role.

Envy of many a Hollywood leading man is Dennis O'Keefe today announced as the male lead in "The Leopard Man" RKO Radio's mystery, cast of which will boast five lovely leading ladies.

Based on "Black Alibi," best selling thriller by Cornell Woolrich, "The Leopard Man" is slated for production by Val Lewton early in 1943.

The "Leopard Men" of Liberia finally were broken up by the late Col. Charls Young. They were a weird cut of savages who with iron claws.

VICTORIA RICE IN VIOLIN RECITAL

VICTORIA RICE

On Sunday, Nov. 29, at 4:00 p. m. at the People's Independent church, 18th and Paloma streets, Miss Victoria Rice will appear in a recital of music for the violin.

Miss Rice has only recently returned from two years of intensive study at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and this experience has done much to develop an already promising talent.

Among other compositions, her program will include the famous La Folia Variations by Corelli, the Concerto in D Minor of Wieniawski and the dazzling Scherzo-Tarantelle by the same composer.

Assisting Miss Rice is Mr. George Comfort, a gifted young baritone with a fine voice and an engaging personality. Mr. Comfort will sing two groups of songs, including three new arrangements of spirituals by Hall Johnson.

The piano accompaniments will be in the capable hands of Miss Florence Cadrez.

All three artists are natives of this city and are being presented under the Development Plan of the Festival Negro Chorus of Los Angeles. A donation of 50 cents will be requested at the door for the scholarship fund of the chorus.

Mr. Hall Johnson, founder and conductor of the chorus, states that, through the efforts of this group, six talented Negro students are enjoying free tuition with fine teachers whose services would otherwise be beyond their means. At the present moment there is an open scholarship for a talented youngster who wishes to study the violin seriously. Applicants must write a letter by hand to the Festival Negro Chorus of Los Angeles, 5219 McKinley avenue.

The next public appearance of the chorus will be at the Hollywood High school on the evening of Dec. 7 in an elaborate patriotic program presented by the Hollywood chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in observance of the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

COAST SHOWMEN PLAN ANNUAL CONVENTION

On Monday, Dec. 7th, one year after the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Pacific Coast Showmen's Association, the world's largest organization of its kind, will hold its annual convention and festivities honoring their war-time president, Mike Krekos.

Because of the inconvenience of travelling and other disadvantages relative to the war, this amusement affair will be combined with fun and finances in order to add funds too their war chest.

This great event will be held at the Pacific Coast Showmen's Association building at Wilshire and South Grand avenue in Los Angeles. "The Show Must Go On" and acordingly to add to spirit of the occasian a long list of stars from the stage, screen and radio and other outstanding characters will be there Dec. 7. Preceding the ball, memorial services at Showmen's Rest will be held Sunday, Dec. 6. Everybody will be present at this big annual feature event.

McKinley Jr. High School in Spotlight

By FERDINAND DeJEAN

William McKinley Jr. High school is fast becoming one of the finest jr. high schools in the city. Five hundred memberships were subscribed to the P-TA for the first time since it was organized. This fine record is due to the spirit of the students and parents, and we are more than proud of this outstanding accomplishment.

On Saturday, Oct. 24, Bobby Brooks and Mary Louise Whitley, his accompanist, were guests of the High School Teachers association at the Biltmore hotel. Bobby sang two songs, "White Christmas" and "This Is Worth Fighting For."

On the following Sunday Oct. 25, the boys' glee club, under the direction of Miss Cobbledick, sang at the Wesley Methodist church. Nov. 8 they again performed on an Armistice Day program which was given at the Lincoln theatre. The following Sunday, Nov. 15, they sang for the First Unitarian church, located at 8th and Westmoreland. McKinley is justly proud of its boys' glee club.

During the week of Oct. 26 to Oct. 30, there was a salvage drive at McKinley and we wish to say it was a success. One room alone brought in a total of 1,025 lbs. of salvage.

Two weeks ago there was a Community Chest Poster contest for all the schools in the city. In the jr. high school classification McKinley was the only school in the city that won two prizes. They were won by Kenneth Seals, who placed second, and Esther McCaskill, who received honorable mention.

KEN BAKER IN LINCOLN MIDNITE SHOW SAT.

The management of the Lincoln theatre is sparing no expense to bring good entertainment to its many patrons. They realize that with the curtailment of gasoline many people will remain in the neighborhood to secure their entertainment.

The Lincoln is dickering with Hollywood bookers to get major productions earlier. From all outward appearances they will be successful in this venture, securing pictures directly after their run at the downtown theatres.

J. Maloney, manager of the Lincoln theatre, is putting forth every effort to improve the stage presentations at this theatre. In the past they have presented a few definite attractions, for instance, their presentation of Benny Carter, last week, one of the nation's leading musicians.

To put the new policy into effect, the management is featuring as its current attraction, Pepito the Clown. The next attraction, will be, opening Saturday, Ken Baker, popular young maestro, and his orchestra. Following this, Harlan Leonard will appear. The management is now negotiating with Freddie Slack and his Five By Five aggregation.

★DOWN IN FRONT
With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

"... Final Moments of the SC Contest ..."

"... The final moments of the SC contest found the Bruins two yards from the goal line and the Rose Bowl. It was a capacity crowd at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum and these fans saw some real football. Kenny Washington piloted the Uclan team to a 0-0 tie with the Trojans, who were later voted the bowl bid as they had tallied one more win than the Bruins that year ..." So goes a paragraph in this year's brochure regarding that historic 1939 UCLA-USC fracas, which will never be forgotten. And Dec. 12 next, the Bruin-Trojan game may well decide the 1943 bowl representative of the West, now that University of Washington's Huskies failed to topple the Uclans from their present lofty perch near the top of the league. In the last minute and a half of play Saturday, the Huskies had a first down on the Bruin two, and from the way Huskies Erickson and Brooks had been running and passing in their devastating sort of way, UCLA supporters knew that Washington would win, 16 or 17 to 14. But a bad pass from center, with lanky Bruin end Snuffy Smith retrieving the pellet and blacking out Washington's hopes. The game, won 14-10 by UCLA, was probably the most exsiting played here this season.

PROGRAM NOTES: On the debit side—UCLA's downfield blocking, with the exception of the Phillips-Waterfield act, was little short of futile. With a speedy and dangerous open field threat like Solari they should give him more help. The Huskies, incidentally, probably taught them a few things about the art. On the credit side—Bob Waterfield, Bruin quarter, played like an All-American despite an injury, getting off a quick kick that traveled over 70 yards and rolling to a dead stop inside the Huskie five ... He also passed to end Herb Weiner, a steady player, for the clinching touchdown ... How the Huskies were made such underdogs in the first place is beyond this column. The week before they had just held the undefeated St. Mary's Preflight eleven to a 0-0 decision ... If SC has improved enough to get over the Fighting Irish here Saturday they rightly should be favored over the Uclans. We doubt if they can achieve those laurels, however ... The Uclans have yet to take the measure of an SC eleven, but we believe they have their best chane to turn the trick come Dec. 12.

New Promoter at White Sox Park

Little Clarence Mackey, former Jordan-Compton-UCLA grid star made his pro debut Sunday by sparking the L. A. Bulldogs to a 14-12 win over the Hollywood Bears ... Matthew Lipscomb takes over the promotorial helm at White Sox park. Rod Castillo, former promoter, went into the Army Saturday. Lipscomb debuts by admitting ladies and service men free to Sunday's doubleheader between the Elite Giants and Athletics ... Julius Franks, 20-year old University of Michigan guard, is being boomed for an All-American berth. The Wolevrine standout is 6 feet tall, weigh 187 pounds and is a junior in the university's pre-dental school ...

Compton's Ad Holden and Pasadena's Willie Slayton, two of the better Negro backs in jaysee grid circles, faced each other last week. Pasadena won and are that close to the conference crown ... A full report didn't reach the column because of the early deadline this week, but the Westside Elites snared the Southern California Colored Golfers Association inter-club match series Sunday, troucing the Eastside Clinkers 7 and a half points to three and a half. The Westsiders, taking two out of three matches, were captained by Henry Lewis, the losers by Ivan Johnson III ...

FLITES TROUNCE CLINKERS IN FINAL MATCH; 44 GOLFERS COMPETE

Amassing a margin of four points to gain them an easy victory, 7 and a half to three and a half points, the Westside Elites Sunday defeated the Eastside Clinkers for the second victory of three matches played. The Elites are now the champion golf club of the Los Angeles metropolitan district, and have been presented with a plaque for the club and individual medals for each player on the team.

The inter-club championship, as it was termed, was sponsored by the Southern California Colored Golfer's association, and was the second of their four scheduled events for the year, 1942-43.

Eleven foursomes, 44 players, teed off Sunday at Sunset Fields, at 12:30 p. m., and when the teams had finished their first 9 holes of the 18-hole round, it was apparent that the Westsiders were having a good day.

At that, most of the matches were close, most of them being decided on the 17th and 18th greens, and in several cases by a one-point margin. The Westsiders, though, seemed to have the punch to get that point, which was the one that counted most.

The clubs, as before, were divided into three teams, A, B and C; four foursomes in A, four in B class and three foursomes in Class C. The Westsiders won all three team matches, taking three out of four matches in A, winning two and a half to one and a half in B, and winning two out of three in C class.

The winning pairs for the Westsiders were C. Lay-Elmo Williams, Oscar Clisby-L. Paul Grant, Theop Smith-Sam McPherson in A Class. In B class, Sam Drake-Eddie Allen, Geo. Terrell-Henry Martin won their matches, whil Henry Lewis-Norman Houston tied Eddie Atkinson-Oscar Williams.

Winners in C class for the Elites were Leroy Jennings-B. N. Hunnigan a Sailor Smith-Roy Johnson.

The three full points garnered by the Clinkers were due to the successful efforts of the Captain Ivan Johnson III-Fred Miller, A. G. Pasley-Winslow Allen combinations and J. Colbert and Woodley Holt.

ON THE TURF
By Geo. A. Ramsey

SAN DIEGO—First, greetings for a wonderful Thanksgiving to all my friends, readers and well wishers. After three weeks' vacation caused by trials and tribulations, I will now begin where I left off. I do hope the boss, Mrs. Bass, will pardon me for my delay and missing out with my column, but I will try not to miss any more. Well, folks, you know that the world's greatest race track is closed after running three years on Sundays. The management claims that labor trouble forced them to close and then, too, the gas ration had plenty to do with it. Although the management made a statement that they were willing to keep open if the labor situation hadn't come up. They said that the demands ere impossible under the present conditions. We learn from good outhority that a new deal will soon come up that will re-open the beautiful course. Under the new management.

A meeting was held last week at the border town when the Governor of Lower California and met to discuss the future of Caliente. Some say that the track will again open about Xmas time. Others hold that around the first of the year will be the time. Anyway, my readers will get the correct information just as soon as I can get it. We also understand the movement is underway to have gambling at the track. Like the old Casino some years back. This is only a rumor.

Well, with the Rose Bowl game on again it looks as if we might have racing in California. People that are on the inside say that Hollywood Park will apply for a date. If so, and granted it would be a big thing for this part of the State, it would also save the breedding industry and give plenty of money to charitable organizations as well as the government. The sport of Kings helps to keep up the morale of the public and we don't believe that any other sport is as popular or fascinating. Well, folks, next week I will tell you the inside of the three greats of the turf, Whirlaway, Alsab and Shut Out.

So, until then, keep smiling and have a little fun, keep buying U. S. war stampps and bonds—we must keep them on the run—and it takes this to fire those guns.

So let's all praise the Lord and help pass the ammunition. So long.

Pep Takes Wright's Crown

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Age gave way to youth here Friday night as the veteran Chalky Wright of Los Angeles dropped a hotly contested bout for the world's featherweight championship (New York version) to young Willie Pep, the challenger, over the 15-round route at Madison Square Garden.

The biggest fight crowd of the year saw Pep use a piston-like left jab to pile up a margin of 10 rounds to four, with one even.

Chalky's best round was the fifth when it seemed he would end unbeaten Pep's string of wins at 53 straight. He exploded a left hook on Willie's chin, the blow sending the 20-year old youngster half way through the ropes. He did not take a count, but receipted for a real pasting the remainder of the stanza.

Wright, who won his title claims on a knockout over Joey Archibald in September 1941, was making his third defense after turning back the challenges of Harry Jeffra and young Lulu Costantino. He made a magnificent showing, even in defeat.

The decision was unanimous. Pep's speed and piston-like left jab were too much for the old master, Wright, whose age has been variously estimated at from 30 to 40 years.

Oglesby Fights Rojo in Hollywood Legion Semi

Young Matt Oglesby, promising preliminary fighter, bursts into the semi-windup spotlight at Hollywood Legion stadium Friday night when he faces Genaro Rojo, hard-socking Mexican.

In the main event Juan Zurita, recently stopped by Henry Armstrong, mixes with Chester Slider, newcomer here, for 10 rounds or less.

Last Friday night, Rodolfo Ramirez, another recent Armstrong victim, had a comparatively easy time ringing up a 10-round triumph over Jimmy McDaniels, Watts Irishman.

In the six-round preliminary, Sammy Walker, 145½, evened matters with Mexican A Alonzo, 149, by winning four heats and flooring Alonzo for a 9-count in the fourth session.

Preliminary results: Acey Barnesworth, 167, took an easy decision from Joe Cousins, 169, in the feature; Al Sanchez, 135, decisioned Pancho Perez, 132½; Buddy Spencer, 125, and Paul Guerrero, 126, fought a fast draw, and Bob Guess, 160, nodded Ray Paddock, 160, in the curtain raiser.

'Force, West Virginia Clash

DETROIT, Nov. 26.—Four hundred Negro soldiers of the 44th Aviation Squadron will be on hand Thanksgiving Day to see the Wilberforce university-West Virginia State football game at the University of Detroit stadium.

Because of her recent victory over heretofore unbeaten, untied and unscored on team of Kentucky State, West Virginia is the pre-game favorite. The soldiers will be guests of the Detroit Athletic association, sponsor of the game, and will be entertained at a turkey day dinner following the clash.

Armstrong, Lew Jenkins Inked

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26.—Matchmaker Joe Waterman announced Friday that Henry Armstrong, former three-crown wearer now in the midst of a comeback campaign, and Lew Jenkins, former lightweight champion, will meet in a 10-round bout here Dec. 4.

Jenkins is a coast guardsman.

Chuck Railey KOs Gonzales

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26.—Chuck Railey, 137, Riverside, Calif., knocked out the favored Lupe Gonzales, 137, Mexico City, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here Friday night.

Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it.—Abraham Lincoln.

Kentucky State Humbled

Dopping a close 13-15 decision to West Virginia, Kentucky State slipped from the unbeaten, untied unscored on ranks to the morally humbled. Having forgone five victories this seemed to be the Thoroughbreds off day. Maybe it was due to the loss of their famous line mentor, 'Red' Stewart, who was killed in an auto accident the preceding Sunday.

However, the loss left Florida and Texas as the only unbeaten, untied, but, alas, scored on. Both teams had relinquished to no team a score until they met Benedict and Philander Smith, respectively. The Rattlers thoroughly defeated Benedict 60-7 while the Texans likewise toughshoed over P. Smith, 52-12, but allowing these meager tallies.

Hampton's thrice-tied but never beaten team also met upset at the hands of an inspired Morgan Eleven 24-3.

REV. LANE C. CLEAVES . . . celebrates anniversary.

Patriotic Services at 8th. Towne

A service of wide interest and appeal is being planned for this Sunday at the First A.M.E. church, 801 Towne avenue, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, minister.

The sober, yet effective co-operation of this church with the government during this emergency has been noteworthy. They have purchased several hundred dollars worth of defense bonds months to bring their purchase and expect within the next few up to a thousand dollars.

As a result of a canvass of the membership, wholehearted cooperation with the branches of Civilian Defense has resulted in increased enrollment by the membrs. The church has been designed as an Emergency shelter and organization plans perfected for the same.

At 10:45 Sunday morning a set of flags including the Service flag, the National flag, and the Christian flag will be dedicated and placed with appropriate ceremonies. A Detachment from the California State Guard accompanied by First Lieut. Chaplain Rufus A. Cooper will participate in the ceremony. The band of Golden West Lode No. 86, I. B. P. O. E. W., under the direction of ish music. The famous senior Mr. Millard F. Lacey, will furnchoir of the church now being directed by Mr. Jester Hairston, with Miss Robert V. Edwards at the organ will present special selections for the occasion. The Courtesy club of the church, Mrs. Florence Carter, president, has arranged to serve a delicious turkey dinner to all guests.

One of the major clubs of the First A. M. E. church for the past fourteen years has been the Here Am I club of which Mrs. Camilla Leftridge is the president. During the past year, this clube raised nearly $400.00 towards the church bdget. At 7:30 on Sunday evening with an interesting program they will celebrate their 14th anniversary. The Here Am I club is noteworthy for the spiritual enthusiasm of its meetings. Visitors always receive a warm welcome and quickly feel at home.

Thanks Services at Second AME

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the pastor, Rev. J. B. Isaacs, at Second AME church, corner 43rd and San Pedro place, on Sunday last and listened with rapt attention to the message delivered on the subject, "Useful Enemies."

The junior choir, under the direction of Herman Woods, rendered very effectively the music for the service, with Miss Ella Mae Crosland at the piano. There were two accessions.

At the evening meditation hour the music was rendered by the gospel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Smith.

The partial report of the captains in the financial drive was very satisfactory and the outlook for reaching the objective is very encouraging. The pastor expressed himself as being pleased thus far.

Thanksgiving services will be held at 10:30 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day, with the pastor delivering the address. The combined choirs will sing.

The Sunday School reports additional members to its roll in the drive that is now in progress, directed by Robert B. Strather. The superintendent, Joseph Buckner, and teachers are putting forth every available effort to double the membership of the Sunday School.

"Holding the Line" will be the theme of the pastor's sermon on Sunday morning next, and at the evening hour, the theme for the meditation will be "Worry and Anxiety." The Cathedral Choir will sing at both services and the soloist for the day will be Mrs. Webb.

The fellowship turkey dinner, sponsored by Mrs. Carrie Brooks, was a decided success in every particular. We are sorry that a few persons were forced to be turned away without being able to partake of the dinner. Next time come early in order to fellowship with us

The minister says:
"What you say in a hurry
May cost you much worry;
So weigh your words well
And watch what you'd say,
For the Lord also helps those who help others."

EXCELLENT SERVICES AT LANDON CHURCH

Excellent services were held at the Community Baptist church of Landon Sunday. Rev. Ferguson of Los Angeles was speaker. Rev. Williams of St. Paul sent expressions of love for the church.

Rev. E. A. Anderson, first assistant pastor; Rev. E. R. Douglass, third assistant pastor; Bro. B. Clarence Cooke, minister; Bro. A. C. Cole, deacon and chairman of trustees; Rev. L. B. Bentley, pastor.

Dr. J. M. Evans at Neighborhood

Dr. Jos. M. Evans, pastor of the Metropolitan Community church, Chicago, Ill., is vacationing in the city and will be the guest speaker at the Neighborhood church, 27th and Paloma streets, Sunday morning, Nov. 29, at 11:00 o'clock.

Dr. Evans is regarded as one of the most forceful and thoughtful preachers of the race, as well as a leading pastor. Metropolitan church, pastored by him, is one of the largest and most influential churches in the city of Chicago. The public is invited to hear this great pulpiteer.

At the evening service, at 5:30, Rev. Charles Satchell Morris will be the guest speaker, using as his subjec, "The Spirit of Christ in Action." Rev. Morris is rated as one of the leading orators of the race.

PASADENA MINISTERS ALLIANCE IN SERVICE

PASADENA, Nov. 26.—The annual Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of Pasadena will be held Thursday at 11:00 a. m. at the Metropolitan Baptist church, corner of Mentone and Claremont.

Phillips Temple Celebrates Pastor's Fifth Anniversary

Phillips Temple CME church will celebrate the completion of five years' work by its minister, Rev. Lane C. Cleaves, Sunday, Nov. 29, all day.

The committee, headed by W. H. Byrd, treasurer of the church, has secured the Rev. Dr. Williard H. Howard, editor of Truth Messenger, official organ of the Church of God in Christ (Holiness), as the morning speaker. The Hon. F. M. Roberts, former assemblyman in California legislature, will act as master of ceremonies. The choirs of Phillips Temple will serve all day.

Five years ago this Nov. 29 Rev. Cleaves arrived in Los Angeles to assume charge of Phillips Temple CME church, succeeding the Rev. N. H. Humphreys.

The results of his labors have been very gratifying to the members and creditors of the church. All obligations either have been paid in full or up to date. In fact the only obligation is the mortgage on the church of $5,400, which debt is to be paid in full in March.

Such work deserves the presence of the Christians in Los Angeles at one of the three scheduled services.

Opens Drive to Burn Mortgage

McCoy Memorial Baptist church, 802 E. 46th street, Sunday, Nov. 29, will sponsor an effort to raise sufficient funds to pay off the mortgage on their church property and place them in the position to burn the mortgage.

Rev. N. H. Jones, former pastor of Zion Hill Baptist church and organizer and builder of Mount Hermon Baptist church, and the man known as the genius for church building, also a great preacher, will be speaker for the morning, and he knows how to burn church mortgages. Hear him Sunday morning.

Program for the day as follows: 11:00 a. m., speaker, Rev. N. H. Jones; soloist, Mrs. Leona Collins of 8th and Towne AME church and president of the Indiana State club. The subject for the hour, "Don't Let the Sun Go Down." Group No. 6 will have charge of the morning service. Deacon Oscar Jackson is captain.

Rev. E. A. Anderson, assistant pastor of St. Paul Baptist church, will be the speaker for the services at 3:00 p. m. and at night, accompanied by the Cosmopolitan club. Music for these services will be rendered by the quartet and outstanding soloists.

The services for the afternoon and evening will be sponsored by the ministers of McCoy Memorial Baptist church, Rev. A. Wilder, chairman.

The public is invited to share in these services, spiritually and financially, throughout the day. Help us fight this good fight of faith so that we can really burn the mortgage.

Rev. A. Monroe is assistant pastor.

3 Churches Hold Annual Thanks Services

The annual Union Thanksgiving services between Wesley and Hamilton Methodist churches and Phillips Temple CME church, will be held this year at Wesley Methodist church, San Julian and 8th streets, at 11 a. m., Thanksgiving Day, Thursday.

Music will be furnished by the combined choirs of the three churches, and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Lane C. Cleaves, pastor of Phillips Temple.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service and thus follow the order of our commander-in-chief and assemble in our places of worship and thank God for the blessings which have been ours.

Evangelist in Monrovia Sunday

MONROVIA, Nov. 26.—Evangelist B. F. Marbury will be present at the Canyon Boulevard Chapel Sunday evening, at which time he will speak from the subject, "The Gift of Tongues."

The chapel has been constructed for the purpose of a comfortable winter meeting place for the attendants of the Big Tent meetings to be held at Monrovia.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Chorus to Sing at Sunset Avenue

PASADENA, Nov. 26.—The Sunset Avenue church will present special music during services Saturday morning, 11:30 o'clock, in the church auditorium, corner Sunset and Pepper streets.

This splendid musical organization, directed by Rubye Brown of Chicago, has developed into one of Pasadena's leading chorus groups, and is preparing for an extensive radio engagement.

Rev. E. Wilkins, formerly of Atlanta, will be the guest speaker of Rev. Owen A. Troy.

Mrs. Charles Witt Baha'i Speaker

Under the auspices of the Baha'i Faith, Mrs. Charles R. Witt will speak Sunday, Nov. 29, at 3:00 p. m., at 1709 W. 8th street. Her subject will be "A New Social Form," based upon writings of Shoghi Effendi, guardian of the Baha'i Faith.

"The anticipated application of the Baha'i principles," quotes Mrs. Witt, "should achieve as an outgrowth of the reconstruction period, the organic and spiritual unity of the whole body of nations, and should signalize the coming of age of the entire human race. We should see the emergence of a wreld community, the consciousness of world citizenship, the founding of a world civilization and culture."

There is no charge or collection; all are heartily welcomed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKS SERVICES

The Christian Science Thanksgiving Day service, up to the time of the testimonies, will be broadcast over KPAS (1110 kc), Pasadena, at 11 o'clock in the morning, on Thursday, Nov. 26, from Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Thanksgiving services will be conducted on Thursday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The words of the Psalmist, "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving," are the Golden Text.

The healing of the lepers by Jesus, as recorded in Luke's Gospel, is a part of the Lesson-Sermon: "And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks."

Mary Baker Eddy says in a correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed, but one returned to give God thanks,—that is, to acknowledge the divine Principle which had healed him."

Testimonies applicable to the occasion will be given by Christian Scientists in the congregation.

The three glamour girls this week are Maggie (Hathaway) Fleming, Marie Star, Edna Mae Goings, of L. A., and Dorothy Danford of Vallejo.

The three best dressed ladies of the week are Mabel Rowe of San Diego, Lucile Finley of Stockton, and Marie (Valdes) North of L. A.

The California Racing Board is smart on the game and knows just what's cooking.

Duke Browning's Valdina Doll, trained by colored, knocked all the tan-town sports out, but they were hip to Tiny Tim in the last race, also trained by colored and they really laced their boots up again.

The war brings on lots of changes, even in 'Frisco. The winos are now having champagne parties.

A. Love, 50-50 owner in Jack's Tavern, betting five and six hundred a race and airplaning his way to Los Angeles and back each week to buy a certain cashier champagne.

Jimmie Morrell, 50-50 partner at Jack's, racking the drinks back in Julius Delightful and Clarence Estell's new cocktail bar on Fillmore, near Post.

Myrtle Bishop, the torch singer: Take it easy at the track for that's one place you can't use nothing for money when it gives out.

Betty Lou and Ethel Carter: See you betting big at the track, which proves your party was a big success t'other night.

Lee Thompson, race track plunger from Oakland: When you get good you must be lots better good than you are bad when you get bad to keep in dough.

Lena Horne, pretty stage and screen star: You deserve orchids as all the biggies want to swing for you, including champs.

George Dean, of racetrack fame: Why don't you decide between Elnora Calhound and the San Diego chick. They are both swell girls.

See George Ramsey's column has been minus in the California EAGLE since Agua Caliente faded out.

Sonny Howard: Take time out and wait on the customers and let the racing form rest a while.

Cecil Washington: Lots of people thought you were betting your own when you rushed in and played Tow Rope, which won.

Tom McGee, who motored to Bay Meadows for the weekend, beat the nags for several hundred, but watch your step as your wife may wake up.

Buchanan, Percy Williams and Billy Richmond are doublecrossing you for that lovely by getting her tanked to the gills.

Big Steve: Anyone that sees the way you act around the house would think you are the boss, but Gert is the boss and big shot around there.

Evar Kelly, owner of the BB beauty parlor, says she's getting lonesome and may join the big money bunch on the defense.

Ernestine Porter, producer of the all-star colored show at an ofay spot down in Mid City at the Showboat theatre, starring Betty Treadwell, Strut Mitchell, Velda Wilson and many others.

Strong-arm Shorty had a three-day furlough from camp, but didn't do any boxing while in the city as the M. P.s followed him around

John Mustard, bartender at Jack's: Why pat strange ladies on the back? All customers don't live that way.

Sidney White: You are out of line putting your arms around a lady asking for a kiss, which is a five dollar fine—to kiss in public.

Jack Dempsey: Shame on you for cursing the members of the Smoke Shop out t'other night because you work for Tom Kyne.

Tommy Glass, now in Chicago with plenty of kale, and Bruce Kendley, who is rich, offered to shoot it out with each other last week. But friends stopped the killing.

Did you know that Ruth Whitfield, Anita Green and 'ffie Steel are three sisters and smart on all games?

The same goes for the four sisters—Ollie, Bertha, Bea and Lithia. They are all in business in 'Frisco.

All the Los Angeles ringsiders will arrive in 'Frisco next week, including Black Dot McGee, Clarence (Memo) Moore, Jimmy Pitts, Sonny Howard, Bob Hurford, Mack Pinckston, Artie Graves, Quincy Ford, Honey Murphy, coming to take a fling at Bay Meadows.

J. B. Brown, Ernest Gable, Little Brother Sykes, George Rasbery the one Mr. Hollywood, Jim Hill, Johnny Cobb, Calvin Vincent, Johnny Henry, Bob Standley, E. Pittman and Skeeter Bentley are in a class that may not be called for a long time as they are doing their bit for the war now.

Mr. Pitman: That fly chick you brought to the track was wild as a cowboy, asking everybody what horse would win; then if the horse lost, she'd meet him in the city and bawl him out. She should see a doctor.

Sympathy to Tex Allen, who lost his father t'other day in Oakland. Tex is a swell fellow.

Alice (Redhead) Keys of L. A. has just made a round airplane trip to New York, just to buy a few bottles of champagne. Where do they dig the angels up from? However, that proves that P. T. Barnum is right again.

What a sensation Lena Alexander was t'other night, racking the drinks back at the Alabam.

The well-dressed Marie Candy was floy-flying in New York and not Detroit.

Nellie Winslow is only a manicurist at the Dunbar Hotel barber shop, but tripped to 'Frisco wearing a silver fox fur coat with several tails dangling 'round her pretty bowleg lines, and a John Fredricks hat. Great world for some people.

Frank Young jr., ex-newspaperman of Chicago, will march down the middle-aisle soon with a society lady.

Clocker Bailey at Bay Meadows is not hard to identify as his upper and lower choppers shine with real gold.

Steve Brody is still taking his mail at the Rossmore hotel. Steve is a big operator on all events.

See Ralph Roberts was in 'Frisco minus Fay, his wife.

Bobbie Bell and wife out tossing away kale over the cocktail bars.

Jim Grant and wife, Kay, were spotted buying drinks for a party of friends in the Town Club.

Sweetwine, bartender, only works when he feels like it. Bob Miles has shifted from Jack's Tavern to the Town Club. Bob is a New York bartender.

Fred Pugh, Slats Regan and Fat Wilkins are same as the bosses at the Club Alabam as they are on time and know the lick.

Rich Broady still carrying a big bankroll.

Warren George, with four or five hundred down in his front pocket, but only flashes it for an airing and then back down in his front pocket.

See Ray Boughnight, Mabel Hamilton and a party of friends having dinner at Big Steve's.

Jimmy Morrell: When you need a new waitress, why not try and get one that at least will think she's better than the guests and will be a little courteous.

When in Jack's pick up on Dorothy Pretty, Vera Marshall, Thelma Thompson, Elizabeth Booker and Mrs. A. Love—swell waitresses.

See Pauline Sanders and Dorothy Hamnfond wearing slacks with their pants made to order —some tight fit, but looks good.

This column is for fun and pleasure. Hope no one gets salty, hinkty and chesty when their name appears. If so, I, Jay Gould, will apologize.

Thanks for you, you and you, saying "Hello, Jay" and "OK" when you pass as you know I am troubled with bad eyesight. Advance thanks for being so nice to me.

Johnny Jones, playboy, left for the army today with a dozen others.

Wire Flowers Thanksgiving

Elsewhere in this Thanksgiving edition is an advertisement by Ham-mee Banks, manager of the Redondo Floral company at 702 So. Spring street. In the excitement of preparing the eats for the Thanksgiving feast, flowers are one of the most important items and should never be overlooked. He sugests that you call him for suggestions on novelties. As every camp has a recreation hall, it would also be fine and patriotic to wire flowers to the service men for these halls, says this thoughtful and artistic florist.

Burglar Sentenced to Road Camp

At a hearing held in Department 45 of the superior court on Nov. 19, Judge William R. McKay denied the application of Joe Mack Robinson for a new trial and ordered him confined to the road camp for the term of nine months upon his conviction of the offense of burglary.

Statements had formerly been made that Robinson was innocent of the offense and that a deputy Sheriff had indicated that his investigation pointed to that end. However, at the hearing deputy Sheriff Robinson testified that he had talked to the defendant, who had admitted to him that he was present with two other boys, Burt Brown and a person known as Mopstick, when the ofense in question was committed.

Deputy Sheriff Ernest A. Foster, who did not appear at the time of the trial, testified that Robinson admitted to him that he had participated in the robbery of the service station. Robinson on taking the witness stand in his own behalf told the court that he had sworn falsely upon the occasion of the former trial when he stated that he was not present at the service station with the two boys. He, however, admitted to the court that he was present but did not know that a burglary was to be committed, although he did admit that he ran from the scene.

Judge McKay, after denying the motion for a new trial, informed Robinson that he regretted that he had admitted the fallacy of his previous testimony but that he was not disposed to send him to the penitentiary and imposed the road camp sentence. Robinson was very much pleased with the disposition of his case.

Rochester's Kin Dies Suddenly

Shocking the many friends of the family, Frank Wiggins, brother of Mrs. Mamie Wiggins Anderson, wife of Eddie Anderson, died last Friday. He had been ill but a short time and visited stage 19 on the MGM lot where "Cabin in the Sky" was being filmed to watch his famous brother-in-law, Rochester, at work. The elder Wiggins passed several years ago and Mrs. Anderson and Eddie were greatly devoted to Frank.

Frank Larche, Noted Oakland Barrister, Dead

Death claimed Frank Larche, noted Oakland attorney last week. He was stricken at the heighth of his career when the fruits of his toil were about to blossom forth. At forty years of age, Atty. Larche har achieved a lifelong ambition, that of seeing his fellow men working together.

He was the General Chairman of Locals 456 and 582 of the Dining Car Employees, Oakland and Los Angeles. Well known in the trade union movement, a member of the Joint Council of th Dining car workers and legal consultant for many of the locals, he served sincerely and well.

The passing of Frank Larche marks a decade of progress made by him and the membership of the locals that he so faithfully served. Labor circles were so shocked by his untimely death that no successor has been thought of as yet.

Atty Larche is survived by his wife. He had no children. The funeral was held in Oakland

All States Tea Slated Friday at Second Baptist Church

Tomorrow is the day. At last it is here. The All States Tea will be held tomorrow, Nov. 27. Come out and meet your friends. Representatives from every state in the union will be on hand to greet you. Californians and Rhode Islanders alike will be at Second Baptist church. Your state will be present; come out and join them.

Mrs. Anna Griffith Morrow, daughter of the late Rev. Griffith, who was pastor of Second Baptist church for many years, is the chairman of the program committee. Working almost night and day to make this event a success, she has formulated a program which will be as unique and novel as it is timely and interesting.

Always active in church affairs, Mrs. Morrow has never relinquished her devotion and unselfish service to her church. Since the death of her father she has carried on beautifully. She has charge of the junior choir at Second Baptist and helps in every way possible wherever she is needed.

Mrs. Vassie Reese deserves a bouquet also. For her splendid work as president of the organization accepting all responsibilities for this event, she should be commended even before the tea is held. These two women have given their time and energy and have made every possible contribution toward the success of the All States Tea.

The program for the tea was outlined by the chairman, Mrs. Morrow at a recent session of congress, where the governors of most of the states were present.

Probably the most impressive feature of the program will be an exact replica of the S. S. Booker T. Washington, of which Rev. J. Raymond Henderson will be captain. A miniature launching will be presented by Rev. Henderson.

The entire program will carry out a military motif with each feature vying for honors. Keen competition is expected by all contestants from the various states.

MRS. VASSIE REESE

It is rumored that the New Englanders will present a pantomime on the Salem witchcraft and tie it in with the present day scares. John Kinloch will be on hand to put this over.

Hostesses from each state will be on hand to greet each native son and daughter. And no one will want to miss the wonderful exhibitions in the various booths where each state will be represented in miniature. Refreshments will be served from the white house. Governors and senators and citizens from the states will be greeted by the president and the chairman of the event.

The program will begin promptly at 7:00 p. m. and the parade of the states will be presented at 9:00 p. m., from the auditorium to the social hall.

Nostalgia will reign. Familiar faces, fond remembrances and stories of the "good ole days" will be in effect. See you there, fellow statesman.

St. Paul Baptist Marches on Under Banner of Holy Ghost

An unusual service was observed in St. Paul Baptist churmh last Sunday, Nov. 22. Elder B. Clarence Cook, that dynamic Holy Ghost preacher, was the messenger for the morning service. His message was based on the text found in Acts, 10:4, his theme was 'reminding God,' his thesis on the matter of giving were profound, and all who heard him were better informed and more determined to do their duty.

The Holy Ghost power was prevalent , fhen the invitation was extended, nine persons came forardw for mmbership. They had scarce gone to the reception room when there was another outing this flame eight more came burst of Fire from above and durforward including two for baptism. The afternoon program called for a trip by the pastor to The Community church at Landon, Elder L. B. Bentley, one of the pioneer Baptist ministers, pastor, but our service was so very lengthy, owing to the working of the Holy Ghost, that the pastor was unable to make the trip, however, at his suggestion, the congregation sent a special offering to the church by the hand of Assistant pastor E. A. Anderson, who in company with Elders Douglas, Cook and Deacon Cole, made the trip representing St. Paul, with the contribution of $28. Elder Anderson was the speaker at the evening service, after we had witnessed an inspiring devotional service rendered by the Intermediate and Junior groups of the B.Y.P.U. and touching solos, one by a visitor from Houston, Texas, and another by a young man in the armed services. Elder Anderson held us spell bound for a few minutes with a burning message from the subject "A Hidden Wedge." In his exegesis, he very clearly pointed out that one member can retard the progress of the whole church. There were two accessions at the close of the message, making nineteen for the day.

Our financial receipts for the day, $290.00.

Roy Wilkins Will Speak Here Sunday

Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, New York City, and editor of the Crisis, will speak at a mass meeting this Sunday on the subject of "The Negro in the War Effort."

The meeting, which is expected to attract a capacity audience, will be held at the Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith avenue, at 3 p. m. sharp.

Wilkins is in Los Angeles as a part of his tour of the branches of the Far West, and is expected Sunday to electrify his listeners on the progress the organization has made in its fight to integrate the Negro in all phases of the armed forces, and the progress the NAACP has made since the bginning of America's war effort, in securing wider employment opportunities for Negroes in war industries and better treatment for Negroes in the armed service.

An additional highlight on the program Sunday afternoon, will be music furnished by the youth group of the Pueblo Del Rio Housing Project, with Gilbert Allen, music director, in charge. The well known director, Allen, has been active in arranging programs for men in the armed forces, as well as for the United States Treasury Bond Sales. The new choir is to be accompanied by Luvenia Dorses, pianist.

The Los Angeles branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is urging the public to be present.

Much of the nursing work done in our hospitals since wartime is in the hands of Red Cross trained volunteers, known as nurse aides, who are heroically filling gaps left in civilian nursing ranks by military incursions. The nurses are shown at work above.

MONROVIA CHURCH SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

MONROVIA— Testimonials at Community Baptist church were well attended and Sunday school lesson inspiringly reviewed by the pastor. The pastor preached from the subject, "The Providens of God" and at the evening service, "A Thankful Heart." Many visitors attended the services of the day, among them were Rev. and Mrs. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. Three new members were added to the church. Sister Hattie Johnson dedicated her little daughter in prayer to the the Lord Sunday night as a splendid congregation witnessed the ceremony performed by the pastor.

Mr. James Brown made a flying trip to visit his wife here Saturday. Business over which he had no control made it imperative that he should return to Las Vegas Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Earl Newton how volunteered to join the Navy will leave next week. His mother has returned from Mississippi for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. Maude Watkins, wife of the pastor of the Second Baptist church, who has been in the hospital for some weeks, is now at home, 921 S. Samrock avenue, where her many friends might be privileged to see her.

Texas Prelate at Mt. Carmel

The members and friends of Mt. Carmel Baptist church were graced with the presence of Dr. J. S. Peterson af Mt. Olive Baptist church, San Antonio, Tex., who was guest speaker on Nov. 15 and 22 inclusive.

Many heard this wonderful speaker who brought forth many inspiring messages including the followin subjects: "God our silent partner in the affairs of life" "Wake up with Christ and Learn of His Ways and He Will Bear Your Burdens." "Overcome the World By Faith. Effort and Common Sense." His closing sermon subject. "The Superhuman Dignity and Royal Supremacy in Christ" was climaxed by a delicious feast in the social hall of the church. Among the many friends who visited Mt. Carmel during Dr. Peterson's stay were Mrs. D. D Williams of St Paul Baptist church, Mrs C. Davis, Mrs L Palmer, Mr Spicer, Mrs. Mildred Allen and others. Everyone commended Dr. Peterson for his masterpiece sermons.

As grace is first from God, so it is continually from Him as much as light is all day long from the sun, as well as at first dawn or at sun-rising.

Lt. Harriette White Speaks to MDPA Group

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Medical Dental and Pharmaceutical Association met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hilda Allen. Business was quickly disposed of in order to leave as much time as possible for the guest speaker. A delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. Beulah Wyndon, chairman of the Educational Committee, introduced Lieutenant Harriet White, a gracious young woman with a charming personality, who held the thirty ladiess present spell bound for the length of her talk. Her praise of the training given the W.A.A.C. was high. "The Armhy offers a wonderful opportunity for women," she said. Training each woman to do some special work well, fitting her not only for present service but making it easy for her to find her place after the war is ended." Lieut. White readily answered all qustions that were asked.

Mrs. Georgia Hardimon, the newly elected president of the Auxiliary, presided. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Yolande Stovall were hostesses. Contributions were made to the Community Chest and to the A.W.V.S..

YOUR HEALTH AND WAR

Total war calls for total health. Are you doing anything to fortify your health against nervous prostration? Build up your resistance. Have regular checkups on your blood pressure, hear and nervous system.

In this day and time, when our whole nation is involved in a total war and each individual is urged to do his bit, we are proud of the fact that our office is equipped to contribute something by building strong, healthy bodies. Many of our men and women are now engaged in a new type of work, which their physical bodies are not adjusted to; this disturbs the equilibrium and the nervous and circulatory systems. This condition causes strained muscles, backaches, nervousness, stiff joints, leg and foot pains, etc. You can, and you should build up your body so that it will be equal to the task that is required of you.

YOU OWE THIS TO YOURSELF

Come in now for a consultation. Our vapor baths slenderize, tone up the nerves, relieve stiff, aching joints, pains, arthritis and rheumatism. Colon irrigation relieves constipatiton, gas in the stomach, toxemia, etc. Chiropractic adjustments and massage are especially recommended for nervous tension and restore vigor, vitality and health. The pease were not worth gathering but —the barley and the corn did well and for these, thy bounties, we give our thanks, oh Lord."

Perhaps the Pilgrim father speaking this prayer in 1621 did not realize he was inaugurating Thanksgiving Day, oldest of American holidays.

A day of national rejoicing was easily declared in a nation numbering but one hundred souls. The crop of pease failed, but success in a tiny harvest of grain aroused thankfulness in those stern Pilgrims.

Today let one hundred thirty million Americans remember successes, not failures—remember that the powers of good will prevail over the forces of evil.

Give thanks for "the barley and corn"—next year we'll try pease again and—if God wills—we'll harvest the crop.

What Mr. Wesley Steele writes:

My scalp was itching severely. My hair was falling excessively, leaving bald spots all over my scalp. After taking a few treatments of YOUTH AM I SCALP SPECIAL and YOUTH AM I HOT OIL TREATMENTS, new hair began to grow on the bold spots. Now I hae a full head of new hair.

I recommend YOUTH AM I TREATMENTS to any one who has falling hair and itching scalp.

What Mrs. Elnora Hinsley has to say about YOUTH AMI SPECIAL HAIR AND SCALP INVIGORATOR AND YOUTH AM I SPECIAL TEMPLE OIL.

My scalp was itching and my hair had fallen out severely on both sides of my head, until the scalp was completely bald. After using the above mentioned treatment my hair stopped falling; the itching stopped, and my hair began to grow. Now the bald spots are completely covered and my hair is growing nicely.

I highly recommend YOUTH AM I treatments to all who are having such trouble.

HERMAN, the ASTROLOGER, care of THE CALIF. WE THANK THEE

Now, as never before, we should be truly thankful for that turkey, goose or chicken dinner we eat Thanksgiving Day. However, it isn't just the dinner that we can thank God for, but a few of our numerous other blessings. That we are fighting this war in other countries and not here at home. That we have none of the Axis dictators ruling over us. For what the USA means in hope to down-trodden races and a frightened world.

America, is still bountiful and plentiful, while other lands have nothing but waste and famine to greet them on this memorial day. Yet they, too, are giving thanks, for being spared their lives thus far and with Victory showing over the horizon.

Faith and thankfulness should be in the hearts of all as we feast, and may we utter a prayer of thanks and hope, that others may somehow benefit and feel our blessings.

M. A. W.—Dear Professor: Just a few lines to let you hear how I feel about your products and works. I want to tell you about the Biblical Seal and Charm Bag. They are two of the finest products I ever had in my hand. Thanks for recommending them to me, and for all that you have done to help me find happiness.

V. L. H.—Will we be married soon?

Ans.: Probing into the matter I find that you and your friend are having a little trouble just now, and you have begun to worry about the future. But marriage is indicated in your Horoscope, and it will probably be within the next few months. Don't make an issue out of nothing; try to see his point of view sometime, and you will get along much better.

W. E. F.—Will he help us?

Ans.: Concentrating upon your question I find that your little boy's father never married you and assumed any responsibility for you and the child, and now you want him to do so. If you present this matter to him in the proper way I am sure he will be man enough to do something toward the support of his child.

G. S. B.—Which one of them means me the most good?

Ans.: A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that both women think a great deal of you. Their interest is sincere and you can trust them.

Dear Sir: That was the best Horoscope reading I have ever received. And the answers to m questions were also very helpful. I am writing you again for help within the next week; just wanted you to know that I was pleased with my first letter from you. Sincerely, B. W.

E. H.—Will I get the apartment I want?

Ans.: It seems this apartment has been under repairs, but you will soon hear some good news. Don't get discouraged. Remember the housing problem is a hard one nowadays, everywhere. Just be patient.

A. L.—Will I get the money?

Ans.: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that you have a death benefit coming to you because of your husband's recent passing. You will get this money, but it takes a little time to get papers and other matters cleared up.

L. H.—Does this girl love me?

Ans.: It appears to me that the girl you care for is a registered nurse, and is now a long distance from you. But that hasn't anything to do with her love for you. Write her often, for your letters mean so much. She still loves you dearly.

M. L. L.—What happened to my pocketbook?

Ans.: I find that you left your pocketbook in a public place a few days ago, and it was thrown away because there wasn't any identification in it. Always have your name and address in your bag, so that it may be returned to you if lost.

Nothing is denied to well-directed labor; nothing is to be obtained without it.
—Sir Joshua Reynolds

RENEW FIGHT FOR ANTI-POLL TAX BILL PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Declaring that the NAACP is "not in the least deterred" by the temporary set back experienced in the passage of anti-poll tax legislation which occurred when a bourbon senate majority killed the bill on November 23, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced this week in a statement to the press that the NAACP, working in cooperation with other agencies, will renew the poll tax fight with the very first day of the 78th Congress convening on January 3, 1943.

Stating that it is the conviction of the NAACP that "the repetition of filibusters which tie up the country's business during war time will eventually so disgust and infuriate the American public that Congress will be forced against its will to act against the Bilbos, the Connallys and the McKellars" Walter White pointed to recent public reaction to the exposure of the perfidy of the reactionary southern block and those northern Republican and Democratic Senators who are "playing ball" with the filibusters.

On the Sidewalk

by

Mrs. Charlotta Bass,
Editor, California Eagle
Los Angeles, California
Dear Mrs. Bass:

Orchids to you for the chrystal-clear interpretation which you are now and have in the past continuously and wholeheartedly presented this People's War to the Negro masses. You stand alone, literarly, as the beacon light to our people who have long been in the dark in relation to the sinister menace of Hitler and the Nazis. I say without exaggeration or mental reservation that you are the Harriett Tubman and the Sojourner Truth of this day of our Lord.

Your publication together with your name is being lauded wherever it is read. This is because you are an idealist and your paper has social significance. Seasoned Negro gentlemen of the press, although admitting somewhat subtlely that you are perfectly right, laugh at your pioneering editorial policy of Hitler defamation, pointing out that you as a business woman could sell more papers were it that you feature headlines attacking the U. S. War and Navy Departments and the Federal administration. What makes you great is that you, I incerely believe, are aware that your crusading anti-Hitler drive, to which you have almost completely devoted your publication is less profitable than a policy which magnifies the petty grieviences of our people in America, which is ever so much more interesting, but nevertheless is much ado about nothing. I do not mean, as I am sure you will understand, that these Jim Crow practices at home are not important, or should not be fought against. Rather it is small fry compared to what we could expect under Hitler.

Our learned would-be Negro leaders are equally as cognizant as you are to the fact that Hitler's new order founded and thriving on Ayran Supremacy, out-Rankins Rankin, Talmage, and Martin Dies. These three are punk rookies compared to Hitler. But nevertheless these rookies must be vigilantly kept in check as Hitler is their ideal and in the event of a Hitler victory or a negotiated peace, these three will emulate Hitler. They will spread fascism to every nook and corner of America. A negotiated peace would give them renewed inspiration to spread their philosophy of race hatred. If we appease Hitler, the poll-tax lynchers would no longer confine their tactics and philosophies to certain states and the Congressional Record. They will campaign to conquor America for fascism just as Hitler is now out to conquor the world for the same. And if we appease Hitler, who can say that the Curly Brooks, and Ham Fishes will not appease Rankin and fellow fascists at home?

Let us pray that our self-appointed Negro leaders will desert the half-hearted, defeatist "let's win the war, but . . ." and "if we win the war, so what?" Camp and become seconds to Willkie and Wallace whose plans for a post war world, are the embodiment of all our ultimate dreams ever since Emancipation Proclamation.

In closing, I must commend you for the courageous stand you took at the July, 1942 NAACP convention held in Los Angeles. Congratulations, I know, are long past due. I should not have restrained myself so long.

Let me reiterate thatthe California Eagle represents Negro journalism at its best. The fault with the majority element of the Negro press is that while it attempts to uphold the dignity of the Negro race, it fails for reasons I know not, to champion organized labor, which has consistently gone to bat for us as no other group has.

COLEMAN PARDON UP TO OLSON

Orson Welles, Stars Act for Mexicans

Powerful city-wide forces rallied about the cause of Los Angeles' embattled Mexican population Monday night at the Beverly Hills hotel as a meeting called by Orson Welles, Ann Sheridan and Franchot Tone, atracted scores of famed Hollywood personages.

Emphasis was placed upon the current trial of 22 Mexican youths for [illegible] Diaz several months ago at the Eastside "Sleepy Lagoon" gathering place of Mexican youngsters. A combination swimming hole and club headquarters, Sleepy Lagoon, has received wide publicity from anti-Mexican metropolitan newspapers.

All 22 teen-age youths are being tried in Judge Charles Fricke's court for first degree murder and defense attorneys repeatedly charge that the prosecution has attempted to inject racial prejudice throughout the case. For two months the defendants were not permitted hair-cuts or clothes-changes in order that they might be "kept in character." When a committee of trade union, Negro and Mexican groups protested to District Attorney John F. Dockweiler, the ban was lifted.

Newspaper notoriety in Los Angeles given "Mexican crime" was blasted at Monday night's Hollywood meet. It was pointed out that juvenile delinquency in the Mexican community is far below national war-time delinquency percentages. Screen

PARDON BOARD WILL PROBE COLEMAN CASE

What will happen to thousands of petitions from Californians from all walks of life and all races for the pardoning of Festus Coleman, San Francisco Negro worker serving 05 years on a rape and robbery conviction in a highly prejudicial trial, was in the hands of Gov. Olson and the advisory pardon board today, with action expected before January 1.

"Governor Olson gave the committee of Negro and white public men headed by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, an extremely courteous reception," said Mary Scott of the Coleman Defense Committee after return of the delegation from Sacramento where they saw the governor Tuesday.

"The governor was visibly impressed when the committee laid a stack of petition signatures a foot high on the desk in front of him.

"He listened as Assemblyman Hawkins pointed out the errors of law and trial procedure by which the young Negro was railroaded through a viciously prejudiced court last year on a preposterous charge of 'rape and robbery'."

Governor Olson informed the delegation that he would immediately send the petition for Coleman's pardon to the state advisory pardon board, which will investigate and offer its recommendation to him, and he will act on it before he goes out of office at the end of the year.

The board meets for the last time during Olson's administration on December 10.

The Coleman Defense Committee urges all interested in the case to write to the Advisory Pardon Board, State Building, Sacramento, and show their desire for the release of Coleman as an act of justice and a contribution to the unity of races in this war of all America against the Axis.

Race Women Urged to Join WAACs

NEW YORK—Pointing to the slackening of the policy of segregation at the WAAC Training Center at Ft. Des Moines, Iowa, as a heartening advance toward the fuller integration of Negroes in the armed forces of the United States, Walter White, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, urged this week in a statement to the press that more qualified Negro women enroll in the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps.

The Corps are established in order to make available to the government the skills, knowledge and training of the American women of the Nation. The requirements briefly, are that single or married women citizens between 21 and 45 years of age, without dependents may join. They must possess excellent character, the ability to pass an intelligence test and physical fitness. All women upon enrolling become auxiliaries, the equivalent of an army private. After four weeks of basic training auxiliaries may file applications for officer candidate training.

It was observed by Mr. White during a western trip which included an inspection tour of the Corps, that the life of a WAAC is a busy but interesting one. After duty hours, the WAAC's enjoy the well planned recreational program provided through the Army Post Service Club and the USO Center located in the City of Des Moines.

As an auxiliary, a WAAC is paid $50.00 per month and grade for grade the WAAC is paid the same as the army personnel.

Adm. 'Shoot Organizers' Land Gets Bias Protest

"With our country fighting to liberate and extend democracy to all people, it is indeed strange to find a section of the agency which you head moving in the opposite direction. Strang, but true; for within the last two months the War Shipping Administration has begun to bar Negroes from enrolling for the Gallups Island Radio school, which trains radio officers for the merchant marine in Boston Harbor.

So reads the first paragraph of a letter addressed to Admiral Emory S. Land of the War Shipping Administration from the Negro Labor Victory Committee in New York City. Admiral Land recently attracted nation wide publicity with the statement before a banquet of eastern bankers that "labor organizers ought to be shot at dawn."

The letter continues:

On May 2, 1942, in a letter to President Roosevelt's Fair Employment Practice Committee, Telfair Knight, director, division of Training of the War Shipping

THE SEA WAS NEVER LIKE THIS!

First colored member of the armed forces to be heard on tthe Tuesday night NBC "Johnny Presents Ginny Simms" program, sponsored by Philip Morris cigarettes, was 53 year old Wilfred Jackson, 1st Class Ship's Cook, U. S. Navy, who is a veteran of the last war, too. Jackson was chef for the late President Harding aboard the yacht "Mayflower". He placed a telephone call, as Miss Simms' guest, to Charles "Frenchy" French, his buddy, who recently performed the heroic deed of swimming through six miles of shark-infested waters while towing a raft on which were several of his comrades. French surprised everybody by suddenly popping up out of the studio audience. After the program, Ginny Simms introduced both sailors to Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, who showed them Hollywood in style. Shown here, (l. to r.) are Wilfred Jackson, Ginny Simms and Charles "Frenchy" French.

Southern Youth Leaders Chart Victory Program

ATLANTA, Ga.—Calling upon Negro youth to "devote their talents, energies, and life's blood if need be to the job required for building a free world and a free South for generations ahead," Miss Esther V. Cooper, executive secretary of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, keynoted the opening session of a joint Advisory Board—National Council meeting of that organization held in the Conference room of Atlanta University's Administration building on Sunday, Nov. 15.

Miss Cooper pointed to the need

NEGRO VICTORY COMMITTEE OPENS OFFICES!

Offices of the Negro Victory Committee will be opened tomorrow in Room 9 on the second floor of the California EAGLE building at 4075 S. Central avenue as a center for action on cases of industrial discrimination against Negroes and a source of information on defense employment and training. Detailed and correct directions on securing training, birth certificates and employment are to be at the disposal of all citizens.

Cases of discrimination will be promptly investigated and speedy action taken, said Victory Committee Chairman Rev. Clayton D. Russell today.

The Victory Committee will hold a special round-table discussion with Community leaders at 5452 Adams blvd. Monday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Janitors Ask Help in Wage Fight

With a threatened veto hanging over city legislation raising pay checks of city janitors, Negro workers urged that Councilmen representing areas in which the janitors live be especially vigilant in maintaining a large enough city council majority in favor of the pay boost so that it can override the Mayor's veto.

Special attention was concentrated upon progressive Councilman Carl C. Rasmussen of the 7th district.

Dimout Gets H. A. Reeves in Dutch

H. A Reeves, prominent Eastside businessman, was arrested last Saturday night for a minor dimout violation and lodged in the city jail.

Reeves told the EAGLE that he was arrested when embers were seen glowing at his junk yards on Compton avenue. The fire had been ordered out by him early in the day, he said.

Officers unceremoniously whisked him off to the bastille without permitting him even to put on his coat, he said.

Reeves has been outstanding in Eastside business and church life for many years, ranking as one of the city's pioneer citizens.

CRIME WAVE

The cruel fate of permanent blindness had a still more cruel final chapter added to it early last Sunday morning when three bullets crashed into the back of George Thomas, 60 year old blind man of 1806½ East 16th street. He was fatally shot by Elnora Thompson, 38, a well known Central avenue character known as "Dolly". The murderess made good her escape and remained at large until late the same afternoon until Lt. Earl Broady apprehended her at Watts, after carrying out an apparently clueless search. His arrival at her hiding place was very timely, for the woman had just completed arrangements to leave town at nightfall.

According to Mrs. Marie Pitts, the dead man's housekeeper, the

HIDES IN FRIEND'S CHICKEN COOP TO KILL HIM

The strange story of an assassin who hid in the chicken coop of his life-long friend to way-lay and kill him came to light last Sunday night when William Bush, address unknown slashed William Pennix, 40, across the abdomen, almost disembowelling him. At press time he was still in a critical condition at General Hospital, not expected to live. The assailant made good his escape but with a police drag-net thrown around the city his capture is expected momentarily.

According to the four small children of Pennix, who lived with him at 1627 E. Adams. Bush, an old friend of their father, had been enjoying his hospitality all day last Sunday. During the afternoon they quarreled, and Bush left, presumably to go home. But

GIRL'S TALE OF ASSAULT UNFOUNDED -- SHERIFF

Although Los Angeles school doctors claim she has the mind of an eight-year old and the reasoning power of a tot of five, Wanda Lee Doughty, 16, of 1149½ East 50th place, is not so dumb.

Two Sundays ago the girl came home to live with her sister and her sister's husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Joynes, with a story of an attack upon her by a Negro.

The cryptic Sheriff's department report of the case bears out the contention that subnormal Wanda is hep to the penchant of the U. S. press to paint its sex criminals as "Negro brutes." That her tale was given short credence by the Sheriffs is a healthy indication that Los Angeles police are several notches above the San Francisco gendarmeria, which railroaded young Festus Coleman on a looney charge of 'ape and robber.'

The Sheriff's department statement follows:

"Informants stated that victim, who is a sister of Vivian Joynes and paroled to her from an industrial school for girls in Colorado, came home about 6:30 p. m. 11-22-42 and stated she had been attacked by a Negro.

"When we questioned victim, her story was obviously a fabrication of a subnormal child, so we took her and informants to the Gentry theatre at 68th and Compton, which she said she had attended prior to above time. There manager Swanstrom told

Lockheed Workers Meet Sunday

While the vast Local 727 of the International Association of Machinists (30,000 strong) votes this week on acceptance of Negroes to membership, Negro workers at Lockheed-Vega aircraft plants, who initiated what will be recognized as a historic battle to blast AFL Jim-Crow practices, meet Sunday afternoon at an emergency session at the 28th Street YMCA at 3 p. m.

If Local 727 votes to include Negroes in the union, officials have declared their intention of sponsoring a National Referendum among all the 300,000 members of the International Association of Machinists on the question of full and equal participation of Negroes in the union. Part of the International's ritual bars

DON'T
Do anything until you're sure you won't make the victim worse!

(1st in a series of 10)

(The California EAGLE today presents the first in a series of first aid "don'ts" as a service to its readers. Approved by the American Red Cross, we are printing them in the belief that untrained aid can be terribly dangerous. For standard courses in first aid apply to your Red Cross chapter.)

Three conditions demand immediate treatment by even an untrained rescuer—serious bleeding must be halted, stopped breathing must be started, burning chemicals must be removed.

For everything else—relax, don't move the patient, even if he's twisted and incomfortable, or you may turn a serious injury into a fatal one. Don't give him anything to eat, drink or smell. Don't worry about broken bones, apoplexy, epilepsy, internal bleeding, or concussion. Only a physician or trained first-aider can handle such things. If in doubt don't do anything!

Your job is simple—first, have someone call a doctor; second, get rid of crowds, reassure the victim, keep yourself under control

Jesus answered. . . . To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. —New Testament: John 18 37.

Administration, stated "We of course expect to follow the policy laid down by the President in executive order 8802. Any Negro applicant who can meet the standard to the Radio School will receive full consideration as vacancies occur."

The Negro press publicized the stand of the War Administration widely. Hundreds of young Negroes attempted to make application for the school. Local officials of the U. S. Maritime Service, however, especially in the South, added their own entrance qualifications for Negroes. Thus, one Southern functionary of your agency, who required that each Negro applicant obtain character references from three white men, prompted a young Negro to write: "That I can do, sir, but why should I get recommendations to die?"

In some Maritime Service Enrolling Offices, however, the nondiscrimination policy was adhered to. A handful of young Negroes, less than a dozen, found their way into the Gallups Island School. They are still there. They are doing well scholastically. They get along well with the 1000 or so white enrollees, as you see for yourself in the enclosed picture.

Then, even this slight trickle of Negroes into the School was stopped. The ofifcial policy of the War Shipping Administration was altered. On Oct. 29th we found Yale V. Clark, Enrolling Officer in New Orleans, writing a Negro applicant to the school —"You are informed that there is no training for colored men in the radio department.

How are we to reconcile this new policy with President Roosevelt's call for the full utilization of the Negro people in our war economy to help asure victory? What of the pledge to the Fair Employment Practice Committee to adhere to Executive Order No. 8802.

Negroes are admitted to the War Shipping Administration's schools to become unlicensed seamen. Negro seamen are admitted on an equal basis to the WSA's Maritime Officers' Training Schools, where they become licensed deck and engineering officers. Why not let them become radio officers as well"

Hundreds of young Negroes are asking this question more and more loudly. They want the right, side by side with their white brothers, to man the radio rooms of our American merchant marine. They demand the privilege of serving in all departments on shipboard to help deliver the goods for use against fascism—and its roten racial theories

Some people have attempted to make the point that there is nowhere for young Negroes to obtain marine radio jobs after they have ben trained. This is not true. The major union of marine radio officers, the American Communications Association, CIO, has told us that they have obtained employment on standard jobe for every Negro who has applied to them. They have further assured us that they will employ Negroes through their contacts without any discrimination whatsoever.

We ask the War Shipping Administration to renew its pledge to the Fair Employment Practice Committee to observe Executive Order 8802. We ask that, this time, the pledge be implemented by the issuance of orders to all local offics for obedience on this policy

Very truly yours
Ferdinand C. Smith
Chairman

Lockheed Workers Meet Sunday

membership to any but "qualified white machinists."

Before Negroes can secure bona fide entrance into the union, this ritual must be changed. The International Convention does not convene untill 1944 and to secure action on the participation of Negroes, the special referendum must be called.

To secure the referendum, ten percent of all the International's local bodies must ask for it. Local 727, largest and most powerful individual unit in the International, will sponsor the campaign to secure that ten percent providing its own membership, voting this week, approves Negro participation.

Negro workers and white friends will gather Sunday to chart the establishment of a permanent committee to orgaize national pressure among Negroes and Labor groups behind the referendum. Already bearing pledge of cooperation from the National Urban League, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and James Anderson, local Negro representative of the California State Federation of Labor, AFL, the group intends a militant, hard hitting national effort. Chairman, to date, is young Herbert Ward, Lockheed-Vega employee.

Complete Optical Service

..now with Uncle Sam!

The Service Flag of the Los Angeles Railway honors 410 heroes, former members of the Los Angeles Railway family who are now keeping tanks rolling, planes flying, guns shooting, and ships sailing.

Their early training in the Los Angeles Railway employee groups has instilled the idea that service is a paramount issue and will undoubtedly make them as valuable in their new duties for Uncle Sam as they were in their former work for the Los Angeles Railway.

We who remain will strive to keep the cars and coaches in service and to hold that service to its highest possible pitch in order that those who serve at home may reach their work benches safely, comfortably, and economically.

L.ast Sunday afternon from 2 till 4 o'clock, the dining room of the popular Clark Hotel was the luncheon scene for instillation of the new Doll League Club officers.

Toast mistress for the occasion was Florita Ware, who presided over the fitting program. The popular film actress, Louise Beavers served as guest speaker of the day, her address was well received by the club members and their invited guests, as they ate the very delightful repast. Mrs. Leontyne King formally installed the new officers. President Hazel Moreland; Vice-President, Lillian Morgan; Secretary, Marion Brown; Financial Secretary, Lottie Martin; Treasurer, Nellie Brown; Sgt.-at-Arms, Luela Bryant, and Reporter, Helen Allen.

The outgoing president, Nellie Brown, very ably held office for three successive years. As an act of appreciation, the club presented her with a very lovely gift. Lottie Martin made the presentation.

Members of the club include Jeannette Reese, Marion Leopard, Irene Wright, Florita Ware, and Clara Taylor. Laura Slayton is club sponsorer, and Mrs. Charlotta Bass, club mother.

Banquet Given By Mu-So-Lit Club Members

The Mu-So-Lit club held its annual banquet and installation at the Camille Den, 848 E. Adams boulevard, in a beautiful double ceremony.

After singing the Negro National Anthem, Mrs. Mabel V. Gray introduced Mrs. Esther P. Greenley, who installed the new officers.

Mrs. Gray reviewed the scrapbook that she presented to the club the previous year when she installed them. As the members and guests sang "Lead Kindly Light," Mrs. Gray presented a tiny bouquet of chrysanthemums with a lighted candle in the center to each officer to present the president, Mrs. Gladys Allen, and pledge their loyalty to her.

Mrs. Greenley's gift to the club was a beautiful book. Mmes. Greenley and Gray each received a gift of appreciation from the club.

At 10 o'clock they assmbled around the beautifully decorated banquet table and enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner.

The club sponsor, R. C. Jackson, arranged a very interesting program. Each one received a unique souvenir.

The visitors were Mmes. Esther P. Greenley, Mabel V. Gray, E. Warner, Bernice Casen, Arabella Speed, Wilbert Winston, Lenna J. Maxey, Dorothy McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Runnels, Mr. and Mrs. Prince, T. Patridge, Messrs. Walter Smith, Eugene Mason and Harvey Stokes.

Mrs. Gladys Allen is president, and Mrs. Laura Randall, reporter.

MR. AND MRS. IS THE NAME

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM E. POLLARD. She, the former Josephine Burke, prominent vocalist. He, youthful civic leader and executive secretary of the Dining Car Employees. A gala reception was staged for the newlyweds at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Filmore. The time, place and setting were perfect. Many who attended the reception said that it was the most beautiful and the most enjoyable that they had ever been to.

★ GOLDEN WEST BRIDGE

Sunday, December 6th, the G. W. B. A. members will play their 2nd annual mix pair regional match starting at two p. m. There will be two dinner sessions served in the club room at which time the election of new officers will be conducted. All members are urged to be present to cast their ballot.

The success of the GWBA under the leadership of Mrs. Agnes Beal is unequaled in bridge history anywhere. Dues $1.25 per year must be paid on or before January 1, 1943 to the national secretary.

Beatrice Reeves and May Denton won the trophy for November playing and winning three out of four series played on Friday nights. December series will start December 1st. Friday's 18 pairs-Mitchell game was won by May Denton, Beatrice Reeves—N. S. Louisa Roan-Viola Henry, E. W. Winners in a 16 player individual game are I. D. Dunn, 1st and Luther Beeson, 2nd, May Denton, 3rd.

"The Delightful Side"

—Copyright 1943—

My face becomes a mask
When I see you pass
For no longer does that low,
Swift zing fill the long corridors
Of my heart
Leaving me stunned into silence
I only know that sound is no more
And I am a man content . . . and wiser . . .

Word-collection: Glad to report Dr. Howard Allen well on the ole recovery road after his last wk's operation at St. Vincent's . . . and Harvey Brooks, who suffered a nasty accident on his job, is getting back to himself again. Gave us all quite a scare, by golly . . . it's always good to hasten to your typewriter to pound out news of ailing folk being on the gettin'-well list!

In bemoaning the gas ration, few folk give thought to the angle of many of us hitherto always rushing souls rediscovering the charm and enjoyment of home-life again. All of us will have to stick closer to the ole hearthside from here on out, and I, for one, dunno if it won't be something of a forgotten pleasure . . . In case you asked, Lena Horne returns to these sunkist parts within a matter of wks . . . Thelma Price arrives on the 22nd . . . Rhetta Jean Boswell has been here 2 wks . . . Pvt. Alfred Darby left for NY Tues. nite . . . Luther Thompson is at Huachuca . . . Sam Morgan, who has been living up No'th of late, goes into khaki next wk or so . . . The Archer-Rakestraw recention was held Sunday eveg. They'll be Westsiders.

Few things more radiant than Ivie Anderson's happiness, have you noticed? Its always plenty okay to actually live without dipping into a trunk and catching trains as she has done so long, so this all-out happiness she now enjoys as a villager is good for her and us. She and Neal deserve all of it . . . we hope she's here to stay . . . Stunning: Kay Hartsfield . . Thought: We wish Countee Cullen would turn out another volume of his distinctive poems . . . We're just discovering the Roland Hayes biog! Strange, I haven't seen or heard a word of it, have you? Its titled "Angel Mo' And Her Son" . . . Sophisticratic Scene: Betty Hudson, with a man--and not in uniform--on each side, dashing for a martini before dinner, and eye-filling in green under a cascade of silver fox . . . Another real hard woiking goil: Jackie Woods . . . Ben Carter leaves soon for the East on tour . . . Its Dot Brown who is the first girl to be assigned on wing detail at Lockheed, where they'll tell you she's one of the best . . . Puzzle: If Olson could pardon alien Jan Valtin, why all the trouble over citizen Festus Coleman? . . . Gene Sorral gave a 10 lb. turkey to the AWVS. Thanxevng.

Army-bound Wonderful Smith would be a worthy addition to "This Is The Army," so howz about it, Irving Berlin? . . . Detective Work Outcome: A pair of impressed debs cajoled us into finding the identity of that handsome Golden State Ins. Co. agent theyve been admiring from the safety of their car for the past 2 wks or more. Well, gals, he's S. A. Hunter, but if the handsome gent is a bachelor or benedict I couldnt discover . . . you're welcome . . . anything to please, ya know . . . That was a nice break for Leroi Antoine, working on the Sund. Orson Welles airshow at CBS as script advisor and atmospheric music director . . . Capable Rosalia Saffold heads the USO Jr. Hostesses who are putting on a jim-dandy Xmas nite show for the soldiers. They'll romp at the YM, and the show will be called "Double-V Revue" . . . Lunch at MGM with Phil Carter: Phil, gracious host that he is, practically gave us the dam place, after lunch. His office, recently moved into MGM's publicity sanctum, is a good work shop for his talent. He and his wife have deserted Pasadena and are Westsiders. Later, gab with Hall Johnson and accepting his bid t oexplore his office on the same lot, which we promptly did. Mentioning Hall, I think few folk, if any to my knowledge, have a record library that equals his. And his reading library is worth your time, as well. If anybody should do an autobiog, it should be Hall . . . as well as Ellington, Waters and Bill Robinson . . . Kitty Peoples lvs Satd. for Ala, where her hubby is stationed.

Joel Fluellen birthdayed Tuesday . . The guest of the Alf Hathaways, Mrs. R. Fred Cleveland is in town from 'Frisco indefinitely . . . Tis Wesleen Foster (can she rumba? Golly, yes!) who is among the debs who are teaching the soldiers at Burbank —not to rumga, but to be better scholars, I'd better add. The good comradeship and hospitality her family offer occasionally to homesick soldiers are worth mentioning. Their home is open to the lads, and they work like beavers to see the lads enjoy themselves. A splendid gesture, and folks like the Fosters all deserve a lusty hooray around here . . . . Nice, having Victoria Price home again this season, isn't it? . . . . The last time we saw Calvin Jackson, the celebrated young pianist who played for Paul Draper, was several mos. ago in NY when he, with Draper, appeared on a Harlem midnite benefit. Jackson is now here, you know. When we met him he was then a Julliard student in NY, not long outve Philly, and was playing in Ellington, Jr's young band. Since then, he's come a long, long way, and its a pleasure to be able to nod to him . . .

As we do this, we're waiting to honest son of "Dassler" reward-hear what the stork fetched the Reggie Arnauds (Verna). Verna birthdays on the 17th as does Dr. Lois Evans (again Ive forgotten her married name!) . . . It'll be a divorce for the Roy Glenns. He's one talented lad we'd like to see do the role of Crown in "Porgy & Bess!" Never thought his capabilities were fully-shown, somehow. Ellington has a role for him in his opera, if and when its produced . . . Why no story on Negroes denied entrance into that Lockheed union affiliated with AFL? . . . Incident: Wholesale beaming came from the recent statement by 3 soldiers that outsee 19 states theyve visited; Calif. rates tops in hospitality . . Commentary: Have you ever seen anything to beat this town when it comes to choosing Sunday to give 4 or 5 affairs at the same hour, and the following Sunday not a thing goes on?? . . . Something novel and refreshing in the way of social clubs is the birthday club idea of a group of shipyard workers. Rather than waste time and money on aimless affairs, etc., they get together to properly celebrate the birthdays of mmbrse . . . You know Millie Monroe married her Lt.?

Too bad that air corps sergeant who was arrested and manhandled by downtown cops, and refused his stripes and insignia when released, didnt report the case to officials in other quarters!

The Earl Johnsons (Frances) observe their 3rd anniversary on the 10th . . . Chappie Bryant birthdays on the 15th . . . Della McDonald birthdays on the 23rd . . Alice Cunningham, on the 8th . . . Thelma Long, on the 22nd . . Sgt. Harold Batiste on the 14th . . . Helen Sheffield birthdays this month, too . . . Mrs. Hezz Howard birthdays and observes their 22nd anniversary within a few days of each other around the end of December. I believe their anniversary falls on the 23d.

Funniest thing Ive heard in days . . . is the reference . . . to the false hair . . . worn fashionably by . . . the ladies . . . these days and nites . . . you casually refer to it as . . . S. I. B. (some I bought) . . . !

Word comes that Pvt. Bobbie Evans is doing a crack job at Ft. Dix, and probably will be stationed there--lucky guy . . Meanwhile, if you listen very quietly and not appear too interested, you may learn, as we did, the account we read of the Phoenix incident differs completely from the inside version . . . but, then, that wouldnt be surprising, dya think?

★ What's Doing in the Younger Set

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

Doings of the Younger Set have been about the same, with farewell parties for the newly enlisted, hen parties for the lonely girls, and of course, a wedding or two.

Last Wednesday night, the Alphas took over and feted Kenneth Hays and John Alston with a solid going-away gathering. All the crowd was there, including Lt. Wesley Russel, dressed in his uniform, and saying his familiar 'Hija Hun', and Willy Patterson, looking very well gromed in his Second Lt. outfit, and thrilling the hearts of several others besides Jean Watson. Everybody had a fine time including the Grave Yard Shifters, who tok time off from the defense plants, to make the affair. Kenneth and John, were only on, and made their final ados' by kising the girls goodbye. Kenneth started the proceedure with winsome Vivian Stayton. The boys departed for camp in the early bright of Thanksgiving morn. They will be more than missed by the students of UCLA, and oodles more.

IVY'S TAKE OVER

The Ivy Leaf plan to do their bit for defense, when they take over the local USO exclusively Saturday night to dance and make merry with the soldiers. All other USO hostesses will be off duty for the evening, and the SC and UCLA pledges along with the undergraduate chapters plan to make it an unforgetable one.

The Ivy's are definately making plans for the Annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, after which the semi will follow. Speaking of Greek letter affairs, the Annual Alpha Formal is scheduled for the 19th of December, and bids will be out in the very near future.

GLORIA DRAKE TAKES VOWS

Last Sunday at 1 o'clock sharp, petite Gloria Drake, dressed in white lace and net wedding gown, beautifully created by modice Etta Roy, and carrying a prayer book with orchids, became Mrs. David Walton. Sole attendants of the handsome pair, were Harriet Patterson, maid of honor, and Philip Robinson, best man. At four o'clock the reception took place at the home of the bride's parents. Vows were taken at Second Baptist church, with Rev. J. Raymond Henderson officiating. The bride designed her own gown while Etta Roy made it.

WELL, WELL, WELL

Can you picture Frank Dupas, working the grave yard shift at Douglas Aircraft, he's doing just that, and it's a fact . . . The return of boy friend, Luther Goodwin, in a Second Lt. uniform, is the reason for the happy smiles on Joye Speights's face last Tuesday . . . Luther is being stationed up 'Frisco way . . By some way, or another, T. L. Kirk luckily missed the armed forces, and will be on hand throughout the duration delivering mail, and teasing the youthful debs . . Man about town, Neal Collins, was utterly surprised, when Uncle Sam found his lost draft papers, and summoned him to drape out in an olive drab creation . . . Bert Kenner departed last week, and was feted with a farewell party at his home . . . By the way, Rene Hewlett dawned his suit last Monday, and will soon be on his way to Tuskegee, where he will enter as a Cadet . . . John Layman is still stationed at Ft. McArthur, waiting to be placed at Tuskegee. Girl friend, Alma Peak is feeling only too fine . . . Recently received letter from Tamlin Harris, stationed in the Ground Crew, says Tuskegee is OK, but the weather is a little too sharp for his liking, and the Southen Bells don't compare with the LA queens. I hear that Joe Johnson is making rapid progress, and will soon entrain for Officers Candidate School. So much for the local soldiers. Now for the few lone home town stragglers, who feel only too great with the whole debutante field to play, with little or no competition. John Kinloch seems to be quite the ladies man, and we mean just that. Arthur Trent just doesn't know what to do, he takes out a new deb eevry other night. And according to campus rumor, Jack Terry is not the Studd he use to be round town. SC's Catoe Robinson is slowly taking his place . . . Cornelius Cooper andAlbert Hicks blew in town t'other week before gas rationing took effect, and bowled the local lovlies over for a brief spell. Both gents have volunteered for the Air Corps, and are waiting to be called.

As a side kick, bet Naomi Davis and other local girls attending Tuskegee Institute are only on some root time, and having a ball with the cream of the Los Angeles, crop of males . . . By the way, hear that Darrington Weaver departed for Ft. McArthur with a certain Miss Fox on the mind, and a dashing Pasadena damsel on the heart. Now, how 'bout that . . . Certain parties are wondering who holds the strings to Paulite DeJoie's heart. Recently learned, that Dora Lee Armour and James Lee, may tie the knot, comes 1943 . . . Wonder who the soldier could be that Edna Robinson is so interested in . . .

That's all ,till next week.

689th, Army Flying School Unit, Feted By Atlanta USO Center

By CPL. ARNOLD BANKSTON

ATLANTA, Dec. 3.—One of the grandest affairs of the 1942 social season was given by the 689th Signal Aircraft Warning company from the Tuskegee Army Flying School of Tuskegee, Ala., Friday, Nov. 6, at the beautiful and spacious ballroom of the USO Service Men's center in Atlanta. The entire personnel of the 689th invaded the fair city of Atlanta en masse for the outstanding, memorable occasion.

The settting was very picturesque, and a strict pervasion of militant atmosphere was prevalent. It was indeed a spectacle to behold, and the brilliance of the happy, swaying couples conformed ideally with the grandeur of the elaborate affair. The city's fairest and loveliest debutantes and young socialite matrons were composite of the very charming guests who loudly sang their praises in resounding acclamation of this most elegant gathering.

The ballroom was carried out in an inviting military theme. Hung overhead were red, white and blue streamers, with serpentine thrown listlessly across them and left draping loosely to the floor. The large company banner with the signal corps emblem, done in red and white with the crossed signal flags and torch imposed on it was centered directly above the stage.

Befitting the regal occasion, one of the Southeast's finest musical aggregations—the Troubadors—blended in perfect harmony and thrilled the gay couples 'til dawning.

The delightful repast was done in unique buffet style, and was served on beautifully decorated tables in the adjoining clubroom. The huge table center-piece, constructed in very adept sandwich composition with gold tips and trimmings, typified the signal corps emblem and was flanked with lighted tapers.

One of the evening's highlights was the sparkling piano renditions by Private Louis Sicefuff of Philadelphia, Pa., who left the happy throng awe-stricken with his intricate piano passages.

The important event of the lovely affair was presented during the regular evening intermission. It was the crowning of "Miss 689th," company queen. Several of the city's fairest and most charming damsels, a group of beautiful debutantes, who afforded a sparkling eyeful of alluring loveliness, vied for this coveted honor. Of this group were Miss Alfred M. Taylor, Alpha Kappa Alpha; Miss Dorothy Kinney, Delta Sigma Theta; Miss Emmellean Mitchell, Zeta Phi Beta; Miss Evelyn Thomas, Sigma Gamma Rho; Miss Geraldine Bermis, Cura college; Miss Charlotte Carter, Atlanta Life insurance; Miss Annie Mae Adams, Poro Beauty college; and Miss Lena Grace Bradley, Service Men's center.

Upon careful and much studied deliberation, the judges, emposed of noncoms, selected Miss Alfred M Taylor, AKA, as "Miss 689th," with Miss Dorothy Kinney, Delta Sigma Theta, as a closely contested runner-up. Private Leroy Johnson of New York City, presented Miss Taylor with a beautiful engraved loving cup as he crowned her "queen."

The officer roster of the 689th includes Captain Herbert B. Orr, commanding officer, and former professor of radio engineering at Florida A&M college in Tallahassee, Fla.; Lt. Edward Del'Aigle fo New York City; Lt. Dennison Graine, former Tuskegee graduate from Detroit, Mich.; Lt. Lewis McGee of Indianapolis, Ind.; Lt. Maurice Scott of Chicago; Lt. Jack Reynolds of Seattle, Wash.; Lt. Milton Henry of Chicago; Lt. William Spears of Indianapolis, Ind.; Lt. Curtiss Chears of Chicago; and Company Firstt Sgt. Lloyd Turner of Memphis, Tenn.

The committee composed of noncoms, under the able direction of Lt. Edward Del'Aigle, the company recreation officer, were 1st Sgt. Lloyd Turner of Memphis, Tenn.; Clifford Wilson and Cpl. Arnold Bankston of Los Angeles, Calif.; Cpl. Jerome Raymond, of Durham, N. C.; Cpl. Griffin Christmas of Chicago; Pvt. Leroy Johnson, who acted as master of ceremonies, of New York City; and Cpl. Tommie Hamilton of Los Angeles, Calif. These men were solely responsible for the complete arrangements of this lovely affair, and much acclaim must be given these men for their untiring efforts to make this formal dance the season's most brilliant event.

Many thanks and words of appreciation are expressed to Mr. S. G. Edwards, USO director, and his entire staff of hostesses, who contributed so greatly towards adding to the success of this elegant social occasion. The entire city of Atlanta did extend their sincerest and warmest eloquence of thanks to all the members of the 689th, who they stated, proved themselves ideal hosts and they all welcome the return of this group.

Among the happy, gay couples that crowded this brilliant affair were Capt. and Mrs. Orr, Mrs. S. Grace Bradley, executive of the Atlanta Daily World, and party; Lts. Maurice Scott, Curtiss Chears, Al Bowens, Wm. Spears, all former Chicagoans, and officers of the 689th; Sgt. Clifford Wilson of Los Angeles; Sgt. Clifton Russell, Cpl. Arnold Bankston, Cpl. Tommie Hamilton, and Cpl. Dan Ferneil, all of Los Angeles, together with Misses Eleanor Milton, daughter of the largest banking executive in the southeast.

Peggy Cooper, popular debutante daughter of Atlanta's leading physician; Alice Holmes, outstanding concert pianist and youthful society editor of the Atlanta Daily World; Florence Warwick, charming young ballet dance instructress; Alfreda Taylor, "Miss 689th"; and Emmellean Mitchell, popular Morris Brown co-ed and "Miss Morris Brown of '41"; Sgt. Tom Wilson of Philly with lovely Vivian Mapp, Atlanta's Pittsburgh Courier correspondent; Cpl. Robt. McFarlin of Detroit, together with Mrs. McFarlin, Mrs. Emma Bell, Mrs. Rose Turrentine, Miss Elsie Allen, all social workers of Atlanta; these and many others were all interested and elated guests at this elaborate occasion.

Aeronautics Class Gives Program

Jefferson high school's class in aeronautics, which is instructed by Mr. Theodore Neima, prepared an exhibit and gave a series of discussions on the subject of aeronautics at the P. T. A. meeting on Thursday, November 19.

The class consists of forty boys who have organized themselves into squadrons with names, insignia, and check-up-charts. They follow Army air corps regulations insofar as possible. The class officers are Louis Beadle, president; James Bragg, secretary; and Johnnie Delgardo, treasurer. The squadron leaders are Richard Lauterio, George Jones, James Bragg, Johnnie Delgardo and Ray Smith.

At the P. T. A. meeting, Louis Beadle told of the purpose of the course; Joe Calderon, George Jons, Raymond Smith, James Bragg and Johnnie Delgardo told of the materials which are available and of the work and organization of the class.

The boys study aviation English, maps and charts, map projection, model plane building and mathematics, among other things. Many of the boys make a hobby of model plane construction.

Shortage of Nickels in Southland

Add to the growing number of shortages, coins,--pennies, nickels and dimes in some sections of the country but particularly nickels in Southern California.

This was the word yesterday from J. G. Maulhardt, vice-president in charge of the Market and Produce office of the California Bank.

"Expanding payrolls are filling workers' pockets with change, and coin banks in their homes are overflowing," Maulhardt pointed out. "Although the mints are working 24 hours a day it has been impossible to keep up with the ever-increasing demand and metals that should be going into machines of war are going into the nation's pocket in the shape of non-fighting coins."

The banker suggested that it would be a patriotic move to empty coin banks and buy war savings stamps and bonds. If done on a national scale, this would relieve the pressure on the mints and permit more metal too be diverted into war industry.

Ben Bowie Post Meets Monday

Benjamin J. Bowie Post No 228 of the American Legion will have a special meeting next Monday night, December 7, at the Masonic Hall on East 50th street.

At its last meeting the Post agreed ot entertain the Ladies Auxiliary of the Post, with past commander of the Auxiliary 3rd Officer Harriett White of the WAAC, as the honored guest.

Refresments will be served and special entertainment provided.

I love smooth words, like gold-enameled fish
Which circle slowly with a silken swish,
And tender ones, like downy-feathered birds!
Words shy and dappled, deep-eyed deer in herds.

RENEW FIGHT FOR ANTI-POLL TAX BILL PASSAGE

"The poll taxers and their defeatist allies in both the Republican and Democratic parties, have won a temporary victory in their effort to shackle the nation's war effort with the poll tax, but a united American people will administer the final blow that will free ten million Negro and white southerners for victory."

This was the sentiment expressed y the National Negro Congress in a statement issued here today. The text of the statement follows:

"Defeat of the Geyer-Pepper Anti-Poll Tax Bill by a handful of poll tax senators from the South, aided by their defeatist allies in both the Republican and Democratic parties, is a treacherous blow to our nation's war effort and to the cause of the United Nations.

"But this is only atemporary victory for these anti-Administration appeasers, who have succeeded, for the moment, in keeping this vital war measure from coming to a vote and passing the Senate.

"The final and decisive blow against these representatives of America's Fifth Column will be administered by a united and aroused people, determined to free Negro and white Americans in the South and throughout the nation, for victory in this war of liberation.

"The desperation of the poll taxers achieved its most brutal form of expression in the Congress Hall of the capital of the United Nations. Here, a member of the Capitol police force attempted to intimidate a large delegation, led by New York City Councilman A. Clayton Powell, Jr., by threats of pistol play. The delegation, comprising Negro and white trade unions, representatives of people's organizations and prominent ministers, was subjected to police threats before entering the Senate gallery and upon leaving the building after the debate on Cloture.

"Employment of these Hitlerite tactics, approved by the pro-fascist poll taxers and their allies, has only served to stimulate the American people to organized action, through the united efforts of Labor, the Negro people, women, youth and all progressive forces.

"The American people are beginning to see clearly that Martin Dies, Tom Connally, Walt Doxey, Charles McNary, Burton Wheeler and the whole group of Anti-Administration defeatists, are the real servants of Hitler in this country. They are beginning to understand that these agents of the Axis propagandists have utilized the fight against the Poll Tax to build a streamlined political force overrunning all party lines to block the nation's war effort.

"The people of this country are beginning to understand that the unholy alliance of all these anti-victory elements represents a skilfully organized attempt to destroy national unity by lynching piecemeal every part of the President's seven-point program for winning the war."

Charges Kin With Assault;

George Galbraith, defense worker of 1521 E. 53rd st. has been held to answer on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon preferred by Wade Fuller, his brother-in-law of 1571 E. 21st st. who is a foreman at the L. A. Shipbuilding Corp. at San Pedro. Fuller is an ex-pug, testified that on Wednesday morning, Nov. 25 while he was engaged in a quarrel with his brother-in-law over a trivial matter the latter suddenly lunged at him inflicting a severe knife wound which bared his juglar vein and left a scar some seven inches long on his neck.

Under cross-examination by defense Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, however, the victim admitted that during theargument which was very heated, he had called Galbraith "d--n liar" but denied threatening to do him injury. His wife who is Galbraith's sister also took the stand as a prosecution witness but denied having seen the cutting affray, stating that she was asleep at the time the two men were quarreling and awoke just in time to see them both standing in the dor apparently engaged in fisticuffs. She stated that she ran between them trying to push the two men in separate directions and received a slight wound herself, during the scuffle. She admitted, however, on cross-examination that she did not fel that her brother was attempting to injure her.

Attorney Taylor did not allow his client to take the stand, but told reporters after the hearing that he has a good and sufficient defense to offer for his client when the matter comes up for trial. Galbraith and his attorney were ordered to appear in Dept. 41 of the Superior Court on Dec. 15 for plea.

Defense Worker Is Released

Arthur Lokelton, 760½ E. 41st place, L. A. Shipbuilding employee, has been arrested and jailed by Newton Street Police officers on a charge of suspicion of Assault with a Deadly weapon preferred by Lucille Girlridge, maid employed at the El Rey hotel. However, after his Attorney

Chauffeur Is Cleared of Charge

Lynn Bluett, Beverly Hills chauffeur of 485 East 47th street was speedily acquitted of charges of drunk driving in a trial before Justice Cecil D. Holland of the Beverly Township's Justice court last Wednesday morning after he and his girl companion had taken the stand and told in detail how he was apprehended at the corner of Doheny Drive and Melrose avenue on the morning of Oct. 1 dragged from his car, knocked down and brutally beaten by Officer Baker of the State Highway atrol.

Bluett told Judge Holland that the Officer first accused him of passing through a red signal, but when he pointed out that the signal was not working he was made to get out of his automobile, told to walk the line, which he did, and after he had successfully passed all sobriety tests, the Officer became enraged and knocked him down threatening to kick out his teeth. He and his girl friend, however, pleaded with the Officer not to assault him further at that point. He was thereafter taken to the police station, where he was accused of being the possessor of a bottle of whiskey and a knife which was found in the Again, according to Bluett and his witnes, hewas set upon and beaten by the police and then thrown in jail.

Atty. Curtis Taylor produced a police booking slip to show that Bluett had been originally booked on a charge of passing throuh a signal and this charge had been erased and the charge changed.

Curtis C. Taylor had taken up the matter with the authorities and filed a writ of Habeas Corpus. Lokelton has been released from custody pending further investigation. His attorney states that hedoes not believe there is sufficient evidence upon which to file a complaint against his client.

Dr., Mrs. Bowlin Hosts at Dinner on Thanksgiving

Dr and Mrs. Brandon Bowlin were host to a gala Thanksgiving dinner last Thursday. Guests included Lal Singh, noted Indian Nationalist leader, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE editor, and her nephew, John Kinloch

Following dinner, Dr. Bowlin showed his guests films of a recent South American tour. Many of the Carribean Islands he had photographed are now the center of international attention, especially those formerly controlled by Vichy France

Young Brandon Bowlin, jr., entertained on the drums, while the distinguished medico strummed romantic melodies on the guitar and Singh, who was born in British Guinea, sang native So Amercian songs of the Calipso variety.

GIRL'S TALE OF ASSAULT UNFOUNDED -- SHERIFF

us that victim and a young man named George Watson or "Dawson" (described as about 16, five feet, seven, and about 125 pounds, blond hair, pimple faced and living near the Edison Junior High school) had been ejected from the theatre by him after he had observed victim and George leave the front of the theatre, seat themselves in the back row and there subsequently engage in lovemaking during which time George placed his hands insider of her slacks which she had unzipped. With this new development following identification of victim by the theatre manager, we brought victim and informants to the station for further questioning.

"In the station, victim finally told us she had gone with above mentioned subject to a location wheer she had then removed her pants and subject had sexual intercourse with her; that she had then become confused as to location of her home and finally arrived home after being picked up by an unknown party who had purchased a drink for her. (It is not known at this time whether any sexual intercourse took place with this unknown party.)

"Sergeant Teel notified juvenile investigator oJe Donkin, who took charge of the investigation.

"We were informed that victim had been a party to an incest case in Colorado where her father is now serving time in the Colorado State prison for that offense; that she was taken from the Colorado State Industrial schol by Mr. and Ms. Joynes and had arrived here August 28, 1942; that on being enrolled in school here, school doctors had told informants that victim was oversexed and had the mind of an eight year old and the reasoning of a five year old child."

of developing maximum national unity in support of the Allied drive in Africa. She declared: "Now that our country has taken the offensive, this gigantic struggle can no longer seem remote to us. Already Negro lads are in the thick of the fighting. The offensive launched by our armies in North Africa—a preliminary to a full dress offensive in Europe—serves to emphasize the urgent need for putting an early end to all barriers which hamper the full participation of Negro youth in the nation's war effort."

The Youth Congress executive challenged young people not to fight their battles alone, but to "unite in a solid phalanx for victory." She stated that today more than ever before youth belong in the ranks of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, and outlined five major objectives of the organization in the present period. These objectives are: (1) to educate youth on the issues of the war and mobilize them behind the Commander-in-Chief for victory over the Axis; 2 to break down all barriers which stand in the way of full participation in the war effort and full citizenship status; 3 to impart a world-wide rather than a narrow sectional or racial point of view, "with the understanding that our fight will only be won in concert with the peoples of China, Britain, the Soviet Union, India, Africa, and all our other allies who are fighting for the right to our friends and not our enemies; (5) to provide a training ground for race leadership that will be responsible for expressing our people's aspirations and making the important decisions in the post-war world as well as during the present conflict."

Miss Cooper's presentation, together with reports by Louis E. Burnham, organizational secretary, and James E. Jackson, jr. educational director formed the basis for discussion at the one-day meeting. The group decided to enlist three thousand new members in the organization in principal cities of Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana by February 14th, the 6th anniversary of the SNYC. This project also includes the establishment of six youth Centers to provide leisure-time activities for youth working in war industries. It was decided that program emphases for the immediate future would center around campaigns for: increased opportunities for Negro youth in the flying services of the Army and Navy; passage of the anti-poll tax and other franchise legislation, combined with extensive education for citizenship; rapid expansion of defense training and employment opportunities in Southern industrial centers.

Among the adults who participated in the meeting were the following members of the Advisory Board of th Southern Negro Congress: Dr. F. D. Patterson, Chairman, Mr. Charles G. Gomillion, Secretary; Dr. W. E. B. DuBois; Dr Ralph O'Hara Lanier; Mr. Jesse B. Blayton; Miss Susie Elliott; Dr. Ira DeA. Reid.

The group decided that, because of travel restrictions, the All-Southern Negro Youth Conference, usually held in the Spring, would be canceled in 1943 in favor of regional meetings in the areas of organizational concentration.

Woman's Day at Avalon Sunday

Next Sunday, Dec. 6, will be Woman's Day at Avalon. The theme for the day is, "Building With God." Much earnest and prayerful work has gone into the making of this a banner day.

Mrs. Corrine Carter, wife of the Rev. W. D. Cartetr, of Pasadena, will bring an inspiring message in the morning. Two outstanding soloists will also appear on the program, Mrs. V. Shortridge, well known gospel singer, and Mrs. Helena Smith, popular soloist of Wesley Chapel.

Beautiful and impressive candlelight service will begin promptly at 6 o'clock and will last until 7:30. Mrs. Jessie Terry, housing commissioner, will bring the evening message. A well known quartet will also appear on the program.

We extend you a very cordial invitation for we assure you of a very stirring and uplifting day.

Come to the morning service and come to the candlelgiht service in the evening.

A very fine woman's choir of 50 voices, trained by Miss Masingil, will sing morning and evening.

Mrs. Deloras Ennis is chairman; Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, minister.

Soul Winning Mission Has Gospel Feast

The Soul Winning Mission, 2011 Hooper avenue, was recipient of early morning worshippers last Thursday morning at six o'clock.

Gospel-hungry souls came from across town to participate in this gospel feast. The Holy Spirit abundantly blessed us all. Eight ministers graced our congregation and spoke powerful words of truth which tickled our souls.

Our principal speaker was Rev. E. A. Anderson of St. Paul Baptist church, whose logical and practical exegesis set our hearts on fire. Brief, but powerful, his message touched all and will linger long in our memory.

The following churches were represented at this service: Eighth and Towne, AME Zion, Church of God in Christ, Church of God, Holiness; Tabernacle Baptist, St. Luke Baptist, New Jerusalem Baptist, and the St. Mark Baptist church. Nevertheless, we were all one in Christ Jesus and such was the atmosphere throughout.

An appetizing breakfast was served to all. Another treat is in store, beginning Dec. 14, at which time a soul-winning revival begins, with Elder M. C. Jenkins conducting. Remember this date and start praying now that souls may be won. "He that winneth souls is wise." Hattie M. Crooms is minister.

Funeral Rites Today for Pioneer Citizen

High Masonic officers and members will officiate along with members of the Elk's lodge during funeral services held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2:00 p. m. over the remains of Jack Tyson, 64 year old retired city employee and long time resident of this city. Tyson died last Friday at the Queen of Angels hospital where he had gone to recuperate from a complication of illness.

Funeral services will be conducted from the mortuary parlors of the Connor-Johnson co., with the Rev. Wm. T. Mathews, pastor of Mountain View Church of God in Christ delivering the sermon. The deceased was a native of Hollow Springs, Miss. He leaves to mourn his passing here a widow, Mrs. Ruth Tyson, of 1531 Paloma st., and several relatives anda devoted God-daughter, Margurette Love.

Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Sweetheart Kills Blind Man

Thompson woman said to be his sweetheart was a frequent visitor to his home. She had arrived about 2:30 a. m. and had gone into the blind man's bedroom. About two hours later she heard a violent quarrel taking place which was ended by three shots fired in rapid succession. "Dolly" ran from the house and Mrs. Pitts phone Newton Station for police. Investigating officers found the victim sprawled across the bed dying, and his own gun which he usually had kept under his pillow, lying beside him evidently the murder weapon. He was rushed to General Hospital but died at 9 p. m. the same night.

The accused woman confessed the killing to her captor, but claimed it to be an accident. She declared that during a bitter quarrel, Thomas had drawn the gun and attempted to shoot her but that in the struggle he had gotten shot himself.

At the coroner's inquest, held Dec. 2, the Pitts woman repeated the story she had told the officers, and the coroner's jury recommended that the defendant be held to answer on the charge of murder.

The former home of the deceased was Tulsa, Okla. but he had been living here a number of years. His sister a Mrs. Jackson, a prominent socialite in the Oklahoma city, is on her way here to claim the body, and return with it to Tulsa.

Due to the unusual circumstances, it is predicted in police circles that trial of the murderer will result in a conviction of murder in the first degree, carrying with it the death penalty or life imprisonment.

Demand Real Crack-down on L. A. Railway

After a careful investigation of the effort to secure the employment of Negroes throughout the vast transportation network of the Los Angeles Railway Company, the EAGLE has learned that (1) no publicly documented appeal has been made to the Fair Employment Practice Committee, (2) the exclusion of Negroes from the Railway system, condemned vocally by figures of the AFL, which holds labor contracts with the firm, has not yet been turned over to the AFL legal department for action, (3) there is apparent some danger of a "token employment" arrangement between semi-official Negro groups and the company.

At least, this was the situation as it appeared following a hearing with Edward Fitzgerald, of the Labor Conciliation Board, and Negro labor representatives last Friday.

The brazen affrontry of the Los Angeles Railway Company, in the face of the national war emergency, in excluding Negroes from vital employment is not only a direct violation of the President's executive order 8802 but a dagger directed at the heart of national unity.

The Negro community as a whole must be mobilized in this fight. It is a matter of immediate concern, in fact, to the whole city, threatening the transportation efficiency of thousands of defense workers in all sections of Los Angeles. It must be clearly understood that no "deal" for the employment of a few hand-picked Negroes on "C" car-line or the "J" car-line is the answer to the demand for fair and equal treatment of Negroes applying for employment in the city transportation system.

The most powerful weapon to be used against L. A. Railway is the War Man-Power Commission and its Fair Employment Practice Committee. That august body may be pressed into immediate action only when it has all information and when there is such a broad mass demand for action that no other course lies open to it.

Efforts to channelize the struggle for employment recognition by Negroes in Los Angeles into the business-as-usual category of token hiring must be opposed vigilantly. Special "Negro" employment centers must be opposed. We want nothing less than full integration of Negro workers in the L. A. Railway system. Time-worn apologies about white patrons objecting to Negro conductors and motormen do not apply. America is at war. This includes the city of Los Angeles. The city of Los Angeles includes its Railway system, and that system is threatened today with a virtual breakdown through the scarcity of labor. Such a breakdown would disrupt production schedules in hundreds of defense plants in this area, hamper the war effort, and contribute unescapably to the lengthening and disruption of our nation's crusade against Fascism.

There is one fundamental truth which all Americans must grind into their consciousness everyday, every waking moment. Our one big enemy is Fascism. Our sons and brothers and fathers offer their lives to destroy that Fascism. They do it gladly. The stupendous perversion of our war effort flaunted in the face of Los Angeles patriots by the Railway firm turns us all from the gigantic common task, the crushing of Hitler. We simply don't have time to waste.

If it has been the tendency of Railway officials to brush-off a few Negroes protesting this condition, we must change tactics. We must give those who obstruct the war effort a patriotic MASS demonstration of America at war. It is no accident that employment of Negroes in aircraft industries has boomed. This is the result of forthright action by thousands of our citizens. It is the result of giant mass meetings. It is the result of two thousand Negro women marching on the United States Employment Service one fine Monday morning. The railway fight has become a struggle of the people.

Let them fight it!

The Gas Rationing Hullabaloo

An example of the glaring disservice which the American Press as a whole renders the war effort is the revolting uproar in the press over gas rationing.

Most Americans are perfectly willing to make ANY sacrifice necessary in the battle against our common enemy. The President of the United States has declared several times the absolute necessity of gas rationing. It will inconvenience millions of people. Certainly. But five million Russians have been inconvenienced to the point of death in the struggle to end international Fascism. Five million Chinese have been inconvenienced in a similar manner. Homes and private lives all over America have been inconvenienced to the extent of dispatching sons and brothers off to war.

Of course, the papers, Mr. Hearst, Mr. Roy Howard and sundry satellites, claim that gas rationing is unnecessary. The President says it is. The Rubber Commission says it is. The Rubber "Czar" says it is. Which of these groups is best qualified? Which represents the elected spokesmen of America?

This gas rationing furore is as phoney as that which bubbled up over the forty hour week or the press created "wave of strikes," a few months ago. It is as phoney as the blanket silence of the U. S. Press concerning the merits of anti-poll tax legislation.

The effort to disrupt the war effort in the gas rationing campaign is deliberate sabotage. This is important to Negro-America. Once again the position of U. S. newspapers is rendered painfully clear. This is a war against Fascism. American newspapers, by and large, are dominated by Big Money. Big Money is Fascist money. Fascist Big Money opposes the war through opposition to every measure which will help win it. Consider the main campaigns of the newspapers since Pearl Harbor:

1—Anti-Labor drive, the "wave of strikes" lie (denounced by all government labor statisticians), designed to crack national unity behind the war effort.

2—Anti-Negro drive, Westbrook Pegler's foray, and, most important, the conspiracy of silence against the anti-poll tax bill and the deliberate beclouding of the issues when the filibuster against it finally forced the measure on all American front pages,—designed to crack national unity.

3—Anti-Second Front drive, designed to sabotage the fundamental strategy of a war of coalition against the Axis, to strengthen the hand of native Fascists in government (the poll taxers) and the Munichmen (those who want Russia and Germany to bleed each other white), and to divide the United Nations.

4—Anti-Communist Drive, designed to crack national unity behind the war effort. Red-baiting has been recognized by President Roosevelt and the State Department as a Hitler device. Ameirca's No. 1 Red baiter, poll tax Martin Dies, "might as well be on Hitler's payroll," according to Vice-President Wallace. No red-baiter, black or white, is a friend of the Negro people, the war effort, or human freedom. Consciously or otherwise, red-baiters, Negro-baiters, gas ration baiters are performing the job of native Fascism.

Something to Salute!

Announcement this week that the Negro Victory Committee plans the immediate opening of offices in the Central area to combat discriminatory practices in industry, to aid the development of community action around win-the-war projects and to marshal labor and other progressive support for these efforts.

The office will bear financial and all other responsibility directly to the people of this community. According to the Victory Committee, main function of the office will be to involve rank and file citizens and workers in the battle for full implementation of executive order 8802.

Another side of the city's forward march is the splendid achievement of the People's Victory Market which is drawing huzzahs from shoppers all over the East-side. An institution born out of the joint effort of hundreds of "little shots," the Market is thriving under its able community direction and has established a record for courteous efficiency on the Avenue.

Roy Wilkins Is Here

Roy Wilkins, national assistant executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is in the city this week after a sweep through western defense areas investigating employment practices and conditions surrounding the treatment of Negro soldiers stationed in the Far West.

At a meeting of the executive board of the local NAACP body Tuesday night, Wilkins outlined problems involved in improving these conditions and told citizens of our community that the new NAACP lobby at Washington is pressing the case of Negro workers and soldiers in the nation's capital.

★ WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

TURNING POINT

Washington, via Navy Secretary Knox, rightly feels that the Japanese have been dealt a heavy blow in the Solomons. Although temporarily crippled, however, the "Nips" have sufficient naval strength to make a further play for our toe hold, if willing to risk their available ships and men. The Japanese place tremendous importance on the inch we now hold in the Solomons. It is unlikely they will leave us in unmolested possession for very long. Their desire to get back our inch before we make it a mile goes much beyond Oriental face-saving. For one thing failure would be an insult to their Emperor! Another reason much more important to us is that Japan can never establish her new order in Asia with Allied forces in a position to protect their supply lines to Australia, China and India. To hold Guadalcanal is as essential to us as it is disruptive to Japan's plans. Our ability to hold on, or our failure to do so, may be a deciding factor in the Pacific conflict. Bitter battles are yet to be fought. When peace is finally written, the little islands everywhere should not be overlooked. Few nations have heretofore understood their importance in the general scheme of things, but like the little foxes, they can spoil the vines of international amity.

SLOW MOTION

A British shipbuilder has asked for a slow motion picture of shipbuilding methods used on the Pacific Coast. He asks with good reason! California, already the number one arsenal of the nation, led the country in deliveries of ships for October. Of 81 vessels, merchant type, delivered to the Navy, 43 came from the West Coast Yards, and 30 of these from California. From the California Shipbuilding Corporation at Wilmington came 12 ships; Richmond Shipyard No. 2 delivered 10; Yard No. 1 delivered 7. From the W. A. Bechtel Yard at Sausalito came its frist Liberty Ship to be completed. Maybe it takes a slow motion camera for the naked eye to see it done, but we call it war production, California style, from any other angle!

WOMAN-POWER

Women, serious, business-like, efficient, have emerged from homes and offices. Suddenly they have appeared at the helm on street cars and trains. They take tickets, sweep streets, or make deliverie Last seen was a very small woman driving an enormous Army truck. Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, says women are capable of doing 80% of all war jobs, to which he adds that 5,000,000 more of them will be needed by the end of 1943 both in industry and on farms. This announcement will encourage employers to try women for jobs. Some industries are confronted with sudden large depletions, as when a new draft order goes out or heavy demands come from the Armed Services for specialists in some field. The American Trucking Association, for instance, was called upon to recruit 2,000 men within five days to serve in overseas transport units. An urgent call from the War Department for voluntary enlistment from the industry was answered immediately by its men, who were "raring to go." The industry filled the order on time with patriotic zeal, but at considerable sacrifice to its own manpower. While men fight, women—millions more—must work. Many jobs require less actual physical strength than skill, and the hands that potentially rock the cradles of the world, are knowledgeable hands! They can learn.

SOAP FOR RUBBER

We're told the processing of synthetic rubber will use 100,000,000 pounds of soap per year, but no scarcity for the average consumer is anticipated. Our annual soap production is 3,250,000,000 pounds, and the small boy populace of the nation doesn't use its share of that. We'd go without a little soap now and again if it would hurry tires back into being.

DRAFT NERVES

The war of nerves goes on in the conflicting announcements of Selective Service officials. "Married men will be called soon," is one of the latest reports. We all know that married men, with or without children, have already been called by some boards, while unmarried men in other districts have been uncalled. Might it not be better just to let potential selectees wait to find the little notices in their mailboxes, rather than keep them hanging from sky hooks by consantly conflicting reports from draft officials? Every board has its own particular quota problem. General announcements, as if applying to all, only make confusion worse confounded.

POPULAR FALLACIEE

Arthur Hays Sulzzerger, publisher and president of the New York Times, in a talk to the Rotary Club of Ottawa recently, forecast the end of the principle of self-determination among nations—beyond the point where its policy harms the international unit. He said that no leader of any major nation has been able to plunge into a war of conquest any people who had a truly free press and that our international organization must have "teeth in it" this time. Mr. Sulzberger touched the heart of basic thinking about post-war reconstruction in naming three popular fallacies: the assumption of Anglo-Saxon superiority, the assumption that nothing about our pre-war way of life must be changed, the assumption that everything must be changed. It's certain we cannot go back to old ways altogether for many of them won't exist. Life has no static characteristics. We don't want to tear up good landmarks before we have anything better. As for the assumption of superiority of the English-speaking peoples, it was the hole in the dyke, so to speak, plugged with the finger of a certain native milk of human kindness. Moderation in all our consideration of the future of the international scene will best serve its stability.

COME AND GET IT

We don't know yet what fate home delivery may have under the new gas rationing. If, as has been suggested, more shoppers buy their milk at the stores, we shall simply get used to the idea of buying in larger quantities and letting our own ice box do the rest. But the American public has had good practice for many years in "cash and carry." Our multi-unit retailing has long specialized in time and labor-saving devices for manpower. It has had long experience in giving the public the benefit of self-service, thus eliminating so much of the clerical work of bookkeeping, reducing the handling of goods from the producer to Mrs. Consumer, and serving as its own wholesaler. War needs, forcing the nation to cut non-essential services to the bone, prove the genuine merit of the cost-saving reforms introduced by mass distribution. Of course, not much rubber and gas is saved if the public drives down to the grocery store every day in place of home deliveries. But on the "buy once a week" and "share the trip" plan and preferably not on Saturday!—there can be a minimum of travel, and much time saved for the more important

SELF SACRIFICE

Department stores are advertising pretty uniforms as Christmas gifts to the maids. Get us something to put in them and we'll buy them gladly. But Mrs. Roosevelt, on her return from England, rebuked us roundly for any such hopes. Almost no one in England, she said, not even the very rich, continues to have maids . . . everyone does her own work. Heigh ho, do we hear the women say, here's to those dishpan hands? And we were interested in the comment of the Archbishop of Canterbury that he gave up golf because he began to wonder why he cared whether his ball went into the hole or not. Of course it isn't so hard to give up what you may never have done in the first place! And the Agricultural Department pleads with us to hoard wheat flour because supplies of grain are so great. If they had used these tactics about coffee and sugar, the shelves in the shops would still be loaded. Why won't they learn to use proper psychology?

B'S MAY BE BYGONES

Warner Brothers say they will abandon "B" picture making due to scarcity of film, but they will continue to make large budget pictures. Shall we return to the days of one reel? Well, we'd be longer on time while we're shorter on meat, milk, coffee and sweets. Three hours of reels was always a long drag that forced some customers to sleep through B, rather than run the gamut of emotions from A to B.

MORE ON FREEZING

The announcement that all our shipyard and aircraft workers will be "frozen" to their jobs and prevented from voluntary enlistment henceforth brings relief all around. California war plants have been losing thousands of workers monthly through such enlistment. The order constitutes a wholesome solution of the crossed wires causing sparks between war industries and Selective Service. Too many men and no ships would accomplish no more than too many ships and no men. The balance must be maintained for a successful war effort.

★ LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

From a Californian who is a long way from home comes these few lines.

We—there are thirteen of us—who were shipped here some 3 weeks ago for an eight weeks training period for the Medical corps are very happy to represent the Golden State in this highly skilled department of the U. S. Army.

I can say for sure that we are treated as real American soldiers should be treated; we have a large camp, plenty of food, entertainment, sports and plenty of work.

We are here for eight weeks training and then to some outfit that is about ready to go after "Mr. Hitler,' that is, there will be from eight to ten medical men with each outfit that sails.

Te main part that I am getting to is the California poys who have been here before me have set up a fine record for us to shoot at and we won't let them down.

I am an ex-soldier, was in the first world war, spent seventeen months in France. I also have a sister, Miss Thelma Mack, working at the Douglas aircraft co. in Santa Monica and our home address is 442 East 30th street.

We are subscribers to the California EAGLE—come pay day.

★ W. J. WHEATON

World events are changing with such rapidity that it taxes one's capacity for a clear perspective. Mr. Churchill, in a recent speech before the members of Parliament, placed the "Four Freedoms" on the spot by what many termed a rather imperialistic utterance. The declaration that as a prime minister he did not intend to see the interests of the British Empire liquidated.

Of course, that was pounced upon as a repudiation of the democratic ideals for which the people of the United Nations were striving. It may have been that what he said was garbled to suit the ideas of those opposed to democratic ideals, or who wished to convince India that the post-war promise of independence given by England was just a worthless promise.

We do not have the belief that the allied world would countenance such. But this brings us to the promise also made by this nation that the people of the world—which most surely means its own—should have and enjoy the rights and privileges it entails.

The recent happenings in the United States Senate, where a mere handful of narrow-minded men successfully obstructed a basic democratic principle, that the electorate is entitled to exercise that right without paying for the votes they cast, and disfranchising thousands. There must be a big clearing up of the meaning of the Four Freedoms here at home, and a relegating of Bilbo and Talmadge ideals or the ideas of the Connollys and Cotton Smiths to the sepulchre of the forgotten.

We have heard much of what has been termed as justice. The leaders of the Negro group have long protested against their lack of equal opportunity, and cried aloud in her name. But Justice is an elusive lady, a trickery thing, hard to define and rarely enforced. There is but one thing cannot at this time fully subscribe—it is our hope and the hope that will get the attention of this elusive lady and that is an aroused PUBLIC OPINION.

It will take well-defined and sane planning to arouse that opinion. Oratory and resolutions made in meetings have proven futile. They have been the weapons wielded by our men, who have been long on words but short on accomplishment. Either their vision has been obscured by the kaleidoscopic changes or their deals wrapped by personal selfishness. At any rate they have achieved little and results have been less.

We must thank the intelligence and sane thinking of our women for the betterments we have gained and look to them for what we wish to obtain. In the post-war planning for the democratic way of life—the American way, as many put it, and to which we of many, that we will be represented by the intelligent womanhood of our group. The women of other minority groups are planning and working that they might fully share in the Four Freedoms. We have faith. Yes, an unbounded faith, in the integrity and ability of our women to accomplish that which the men have failed to do.

From what we have learned, there has already been formulated a program, or rather, one is in process of formulation, for the education of our youth for the obligations which they will be called on to assume in the era to come. That in itself is no easy task. But it is a work that can be done susccessfully through the intelligence and intuition of our women. We hope to see the women of California take a leading part in world affairs. Not only as they affect us here at home, but to have an equal interest in fighting for an equal opportunity for all people of every race, nationality, creed or color. Women of Negro lineage, knowing what racial submergement means, can make this fight with a sincerity of purpose that will challenge opposition.

★ SPREADING JOY

By JOHN FOWLER

It has ben a long time since I have heard anything more empressive and as sweet as the song that came over the crisp morning air this morning when the choir of isitors broadcast sang as I never heard it before, "Nothing Between My Soul and My Savior." If you can look into your heart and find only love there for your fellow-man, if you can find sympathy, and forgiveness for those who are unkind to you. Then truly you can sing in your heart "Nothing Between My Soul and My Savior."

Each morning is a Thanksgiving morning for one should count their many blesings when they retire every night and give thanks to God when they awaken every morning.

In spite of the Poll-Tax law, prejudice and intolerance I think with out a doubt we are faring better than the people of anyother country. Indeed we have much to be thankful for. I received a delightful thrill the other day when Mary Astor awarded Buel Thomas on the program of the Hollywood showcase. My mind went back years and years ago when Buel's grand-father was one of the leaders of the day and a great singer, with Charley Prince, Jayson Wilson and Frank Prince; they made fame under the name of Crown City Quartett.

Mrs. Ethel Miller Thomas, the proud mother of Buel is one of our favorite singers. So you see singing is handed down to him. In competition with four other top ranking singers Buel took top honors with his splendid rendition of "The Lord's Prayer." My hearty congratulation to you Buel.

I am thinking of another lovable native son whom I think is one of the finest of the wheat. I am thinking of Leo Carillo a favorite actor of stage and screen.

While I've known Leo all of his life practically I saw in him something fine just recently.

We were invited to attend a meeting at one of the prominent Holiness churches in company with Attorney General Warren just a few days before election. In the party were Genral Warren, Leo Carillo, Bert McDonald, Jim Irvin and myself. When we entered the church they were in the midst of a revival service. The question that arose in all of our minds was ow it would be possible to change this high cargedh spiirtual atmosphere into one of politics. After another soul stirring song I was presented as master of ceremonies in a few well chosen words I introduced Leo Carrillo. He arose to the occasion beautifully without any apparant effect he fell into the spirit of the spirit of the meeting by reciting in his own way a poem on God's love and faith which brought forth a corus of amens.

In Leo Carrillo that night I saw the secret of his succes. It was a sublime faith in God. Even the Attorney General and the candidate for governor of the state had caught the spirit of the meeting by that time and he too kept his talk on a high spiritual plane. Here was a revival meeting that was turned into a political campaign meeting without losing any of the high spiritual flavor. I am extending a rose of joy and merit to the family of Dr. Lenard Stovall for the family devotion and loyalty to him and the personal sacrifice they all gladly make to help him in his great human welfare work. They are one of my favorite families.

★ THE NEGRO PRESS TODAY

By V. V. OAK

WILBERFORCE, Dec. 3.—The Negro press has now definitely passed its initial period of experiment, of evangelism, and of missionary zeal, and is now approaching a professional standard which approximates and, at times, surpasses that of the white country daily or weekly. As the Louisville Leader commented editorially on the occasion of celebrating its 20th anniversary in its issue of Dec. 3, 1937, "The journalistic infant of yesterday is nearly full-grown today and the reading public is being served by Negro newspapers, magazines and bullettins financed by Negro capital, made and set-up by Negro printers and linotypers, and put on the streets and into the mail from Negro publishing houses, manned with up-to-date skilled printing and publishing operatives."

For example, the California Eagle, one of the oldest established newspapers in the west (older than most of the Metropolitan papers in the city of Los Angeles). Commonly known as the "Eagle", it is distributed throughout the southwestern portion of the United States and many points throughout the nation. It possesses a modern and well equipped plant. The staff is composed of some of the best linotype operators and compositors in the country. It has its own sterotype department and mat service.

The Negro papers are creditable reproductions of their white contemporaries. Some of them are well written and properly edited, perform their news and advertising functions serviceably, and present a tolerably passing typographical appearance.

The larger publications, like the Pittsburgh Courier, the Chicago Defender, and the Baltimore Afro-American, whose combined Audit Bureau of Circulation was close to 300,000 a week in 1941, are nationally circulated weeklies with a distinct metropolitan aspect, while the best newspapers, the Amsterdam Star-News and the People's Voice, popularly known as "PV" (a new, dynamic weekly started in 1942 in New York after the model of PM, a militant, progressive, and laborite white daily printed in tabloid form), perform their news function as capably as many the outstanding white dailies.

In 1940, there were 158 newspapers, 52 religious, fraternal, college, and other miscellaneous publications, and 129 magazines and bulletins, making a total of 339 Negro periodicals*. All but 7 of these were weeklies, and these compared favorably, on the whole, with their white rivals.

THE CHAMPION OF THE NEGRO CAUSE

The Negro press arose out of the dire need for racial leadership, and hence it is only natural that it is strictly racial even to this day. In fact, its success is due to its being racial, supplementing as it does the service rendered by the white press. In general, it is interested in news that touches the Negro, and rarely, if ever pays any attention to news that has no racial significance.

The kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, one of the biggest stories of the American press, was hardly noticed by the Negro press until it was reported that a Negro had found the body of the Lindbergh baby. "Dizzy" Dean (white) was of no new straight at him and he looked away. But Jan's face was not angry. If he were not angry, then what did he want? He looked again and saw Jan's lips move to speak, but no words came. And when Jan did speak his voice was low and there were long pauses between the words; it seemed to Bigger that he was listening to a man talk to himself.

"Bigger, maybe I haven't the words to say what I want to say, but I'm going to try . . . This thing hit me like a bomb. It took me all week to get myself together. They had me in jail and I couldn't for the life of me figure out what was happening . . . I--I don't want to worry you, Bigger. I know you're in trouble. But there's something I just got to say . . .

They were silent. The wooden cross hung next to the skin of Bigger's chest. He was feeling the words of the preacher, feeling that life was fish nailed to the world, a longing spirit imprisoned in the days of the earth.

He glanced up, hearing the doorknob turn. The door opened and Jan stood from in it, hesitating. Bigger sprang to his feet, galvanized by fear. The preacher also stood, took a step backward, bowed, and said,

"Good Mawnin', suh."

Bigger wondered what Jan could want of him now. Was he not caught and ready for trial? Would not Jan get his revenge? Bigger stiffened as Jan walked to the middle of the floor and stood facing him. Then it suddenly occurred to Bigger that he need not be standing, that he had no reason to fear bodily harm from Jan here in jail. He sat and bowed his head; the room was quiet, so quiet that Bigger heard the preacher and Jan breathing. The white man upon whom he had tried to blame his crime stood before him and he sat waiting to hear angry words. Well, why didn't he speak? He lifted his eyes; Jan was looking Division 44, making daily good returns under Mr John P. Hargrove, chairman, now has 66 per cent of its $2207.00 quota. More than 225 contributions have been made totaling $1463.00. Mr. Hargrove predicts that the division sortly will be "over the top" as generous Eastside residents give their share for the less fortunate.

Leading all battalions here Rev. Frank Harris of Division 44 has brought in the outstanding report of the campaign with 434 per cent of battalion quota. Mrs. Paul Grant, also of Division 44, now has 208 per cent.

Te leaders make acknowledgment of the various groups which have aided in the campaign by funishing volunteers for service. Among them are the YWCA Woodlawn Avenue Branch, 28th Street YMCA, Uran League, Sojourner Truth Industrial Home, Eastside Sttlement, Dining Car Employees unions, 465 and 282 and Ladies Auxiliaries: Lady Auxiliaries of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. Also, the PTA members of Trinity, 28th Street, McKinley Hi and Jefferson Hi Schools.

"The Eastside can be proud of the cooperation of the entire community when the welfare of others and the common good are at stake," Mr. Hargrove stated. "I hope we can quickly finish the Chest campaign and get on to other local duties. Contributions can be made at my office, 4006½ S. Central Avenue, or a telephone call to CE. 22511 will bring a volunteer for it."

Second Baptist church, Griffith avenue at 24th street, J. Raymond Henderson, S. T. M., minister, invites the entire citizenry of Los Angeles to a public testimonial honoring Mme. Mozelle Te Outley, Thursday evening, Dec. 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mme. Outley, who is retiring from active choir work, has made an enviable record as a choir director. The musical contributions she has made at the various churches where she has been employed, have been of the highest type, and for that reason she has won the love and admiration of the entire city.

An interesting program will be given and the processional of the choirs of Los Angeles and vicinity will be a beautiful sight to see. Come and help us honor this fine Christian character. Admission is free.

Aline Thomas, chairman;
Jewel Hall, secretary;
Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, minister.

Teachers of Texas in Last Meet?

Two thousand teachers assembled here Friday, November 27, at 9 a. m. for what may be the last national session of the Colored Teachers State Association of Texas for the duration of the war. What had usually been an elaborate three day session, was compressed into one day and given exclusively to vital business matters, according to President L. S. White of Longview, Texas.

The Texas Commission on Democracy in Education, a militant executive agency of the association led by President Joseph J. Roads of Bishop College, Marshall, Texas, was reviewed its fight for the equalization of educational opportunities in the state and outline developments in the proposed Dallas court case for salary equalization that was filed the first week in December, on behalf of the teachers of Dallas. The Association is expected to give the Commission a thousand dollars on a five thousand dollar budget and a unanimous vote of confidence.

Prominent Newlyweds Entertained in Riverside

RIVERSIDE—A grand reception was tendered Corp and Mrs. Jonathan Carter at the home of Mrs. Ann Monroe on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Carter a former Riversider now stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma is a graduate of the high schol here and the bride, former Armede DeBeal finished from the high school in Corona the past spring.

Tese young people were prominent in Riverside society and the appreciation of such was demonstrated in the reception given them.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Amede DeBeal-Robinson.

Corp. Terry DeBeal of Ft. Sill, Okla. and Lorenza DeBeal of Tulsa, Okla. returned to their respective duties.

Among the honored guests were Rev. and Mrs. Juston Judkins pastor of Allen AME church and Rev. and Msr. Blake of the Holiness Church and many others whose names we haven't space to mention.

Mrs. Ida Robinson, Mildred Mott and Jessie oJhnson spent Sunday in the city.

Mrs. Ann Monroe motored to Los Angeles to visit her brothers and other relatives.

★ What Would You Rather Be?

WHAT would you rather be -- --
By RUTH TAYLOR

What would you rather be than an Ameican? Where would you rather live, if not in America?

That is the only question we need ask ourselves today. That is the only issue at stake. There is nothing to be gained and everything to be lost trying to push through detailed demands now or by caviling and carping on points of disagreement.

There is just one issue for each and every one of us, whether we are Negro or white, whether we are Protestant, Catholic or Jew, whethe we are employer or worker,—and that issue is—Would we rather be Americans? Do we want to be Americans? Are we willing to take the responsibility that is ours as Americans? Do we thank our lucky star we live here rather than elsewhere?

If the answer is yes, then the road before us is plain. We must stick to the narrow way—and concentrate on one thing alone, the preservation of America. We must put aside everything that interferes with our application to this momentous task. There will be time for other things later.

This does not mean that we must overlook or cease to condemn inequalities, discrimination, bad feeling, or prejudice. Our America is not perfect, but its record since the signing of the Constitution one hundred and fifty-five years ago, its record since the Emancipation Proclamation seventy-nine years ago, show greater progress than anywhere else on the globe in the same length of time.

The question before us—Do we want to go on, as Americans, leveling upward, gaining by the peaceful methods of education and free discussion, achieving gerater rights for each succeeding generation through our own merits?

Or do we want to change the orderly process of democracy for new masters, who hide the chains of slavery under garlands of flowery words, who offer to a free people the bondage under which their own people groan.

What would you rather be? You must make your own choice.

Young People Honored in Pasadena

A welcome back a farewell party was given at the home of Ruby Brown on Forest Avenue, Pasadena, last Saturday night.

The social affair was given in honor of Miss Hylda Booker on her return from a trip East and Bernard Wilkins who has been inducted into the army. Alfred MacAdoo, who is attending Pacific Union College near San Francisco, was also one of the guests of honor.

All of these young people have been active in the work of the Sunset Avenue SDA church. Miss Booker teaches in the Intermediate Division and sings in the choir; Mr. Wilkins has ben pianist for the choir; Mr. MacAdoo, who is a student of theology, has been one of the leaders of Young People's Society. Warren Harrison, who is a first year medical student at Loma Linda, was to have ben a guest, but he had to return that evening to his studies. The Sunset Avenue Church has an unusually fine group of talented young people.

Games and refreshments were enjoyed by the large number of young people present. The members of the Yeoung People's Society sponsored the affair. Miss Georgia Nunn is leader; Robert Chillous is secretary.

Victory Committee Prepares New Tours

Service men in nearly 700 Army camps throughout the United States will be entertained by leading screen personalities during the coming weeks, under an expanded program disclosed last Monday following the arrival here of Lt. Col. Marvin Young, of the Special Service Division, U. S. Army, to confer on war entertainment neds with officials of the Hollywood Victory Committee and USO Camp Shows, Inc.

Plans have been made previously to have Hollywood screen personalities headline between 60 and 70 USO traveling camp shows of both races which will start on tour within the next two or three weeks.

Leigh Whipper Completes "Haile Selassie" Role; Gets Vacation

Getting a well-earned vacation, the first one in two years, Leigh Whipper, famous stage and screen featured player, heads for his home in New York on Dec. 8. Last wek he finished in The Road To Moscow, creating the role of Haile Selassie, in an outstanding performance that won the highest plaudits from studio officials, at Warner Bros. First National where the unusual feature was filmed.

Whipper first attracted the attention of Hollywood when following a long run on Broadway he came here as "Crooks", in the stage version of John Stenbeck's "Of Mice and Men", remaining for the screen version. Since then he has been kept very busy including a two months location trip to an island in the Caribbean. Prior to the Selassie part, for which 20 other actors tried out he finished "White Cargo", "Ox Bow Incident" at Fox and another at Republic as yet untitled permanently.

Trend in Movies Insures Action

The road to success for a motion picture is paved with good action. Never before in screen history has the word 'talkie' been in more disrepute. Everything, including actors, background and story, has to move rapidly these days.

Cecil B. DeMille, always a master of action, carries on his expertness at movement in his next, "The Story of Dr. Wassell," which shows this hero's amazing evacuation of nine helplessly wounded American sailors from Java during the burst of shells and bombs.

There are other examples. Many, many more. Put them all together and they spell the trend of 1942—action with a zoom.

Producer Sherman Busy At United Artists

New Jam Session Camera Effect in New Benny Goodman Film

A new camera effect that combines sight and sound with pictorial eloquence in the presentation of an orchestral "jam session," will be seen for the first time in the Charles R. Rogers production, "The Powers Girl," which features Benny Goodman as the musical contingent of the cast. Conceived by Stanley Cortez, whose camera work on "The Magnificent Ambersons" and "Eagle Squadron" revealed great skill and imagination, the special effect was achieved by means of a mechanical device known as the "concentroscope" which the cameraman designed himself.

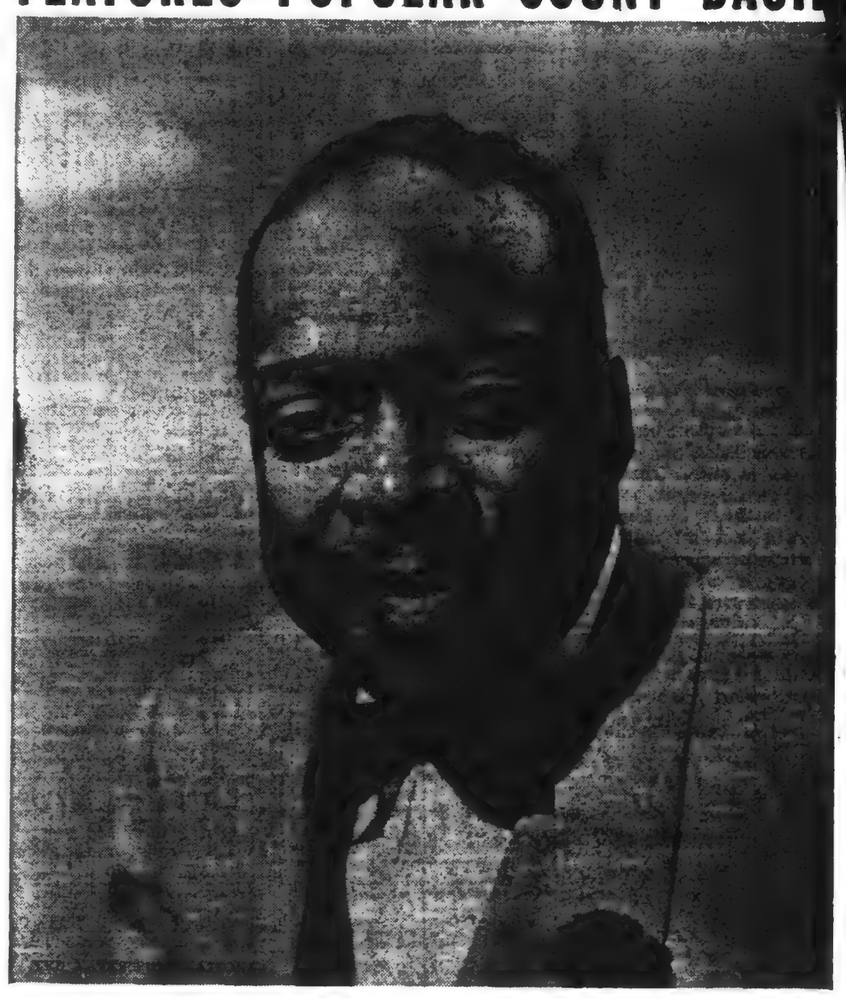
'BLACK SWAN' HELD OVER AT U. A. THEATRE

For entertainment at its zenith, be sure to visit the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, down town Los Angeles, where 20th Century-Fox is presenting Rafael Sabatini's "The Black Swan" for its second big week. This Technicolor adventure triumph, starring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara is far and away the most outstanding film of its type the screen has seen this or any other season.

Picture, if you will, the entertainment dish that is served. Tyrone Power, in our book one of the finest of screen actors by virtue of his ability to do anything and everything extremely well, is in a role that is hand-tailored for him. As Pirate Captain "Jamey" Waring, he gets every opportunity to display those qualities that have kept him at the top of the heap for the last five years. Paired with him in the romance that is smoothly superimposed over the basic adventure story is creamy complexioned, gorgeously appotioned Maureen O'Hara. Maureen's a spirited damsel in the film, and it takes a great deal of masterful wooing by the dashing buccaneer before she's won over.

This is in addition to the compelling action that dominates the film. The settings are magnificent, replete with sailing vessels whose grace and beauty strikes a responsive chord in everyone's heat. There's a terrifically suspenseful--and realistic—dueling sequence between the versatile Powr and burly George Sanders. For th balance of the cast, they obtained the best there is when it comes to supporting actors.



"Tish" with Zasu Pitts and Marjorie Main is the added attraction with "The Black Swan" now at United Artists Theatre, downtown L. A.

Master of boogie-woogie, a favorite with music fans from coast to coast, Count Basie is exhibiting his distinctive style of piano-playing and band-leading in Republic's "Hit Parade Of 1943," in which John Carroll, Susan Hayward, Gail Patrick, and Eve Arden appear. The Count heads a long list of popular negro artists who are featured in the Republic musical.

Delta Sorority Postpones National Confab as Emergency War Measure

WASHINGTON—In a statement made public last week, Attorney Elsie Austin, national president of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, announced that in view of the serious demands of the war effort, the executive committee of the sorority has, as an emergency measure, unanimously voted to postpone the national convention which was scheduled to take place this Christmas in St. Louis, Mo.

Attorney Austin took a poll of the opinions of grand officers and regional directors of the sorority, and the results indicated that they felt Delta Sigma Theta's vigilance in cooperating with the war effort and in taking necessary action to protect democracy at home, could be most rapidly advanced by concentrating the energy, expenditure, and time that would be involved in a national meeting, upon the numerous local activities that the chapters sponsor in their various communities.

The official family of Delta will meet with Attorney Austin early in 1943 to plan further matters of policy and program for the year. The sorority elected its officers for a two-year period at the 1941 convention in Detroit aond a postponement of the convention this year will not hamper the administrative functions of the organization. Other sorority officers are: Myra D. Hemmings, vice-president, San Antonio, Texas; Mary Nightenga secretary, Washington, D. Beatrice Penman, treasurer, Kansas City, Kans.; Victoria McCall, journalist, Detroit, Mich.; and Edna Johnson-Morris, historian and secretary emeritus, Gary, Indiana.

DOWN IN FRONT
With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

The UCLA Bruins have come a long way since 1928. That was the year the University of Idaho, their Saturday double-header opponents, whopped them 20-6. Saturday's game will be the sixth between the two schools. The UCLA-Idaho game goes on Saturday at 1:30 p. m., with USC and U. of Montana taking the field immediately after the gun goes off ending the fray. In fact, it doesn't appear to be a fray at all, both UCLA and USC benefiting from a break in the schedule, which allows them to polish their game for their traditional classic a week later when the conference Rose Bowl representative will be decided. They'll have to thank Bill Ackerman of UCLA and Arnold Eddy of USC for that, they being the schedule makers . . .

Both clubs took bad physical beatings in late engagements. The Bruins were manhandled by those big, bad Washington Huskies, although winning, and the Trojans were pummeled around something awful by the Irish of Notre Dame, and losing.

Jack Kelly, the brilliant Fresno State half, played a fine game Sunday to aid and abet the Bulldogs in their lopsided win over the Loyola Lions . . . Bobby Yaeger, one of the best prospects in local boxing circles, was soundly trounced Friday night at H'wood Legion by Matt Oglesby. It was the six round semi-windup. And five days previously he fought, and won, a tough 8-rounder at the Olympic auditorium. Obviously it doesn't take a seer to see that Yaeger fought once too often last week. In shape, he would be favored to take Oglesby, although the latter is no slouch by a long shot . . . John Thomas continued his winning habits Tuesday night at the Olympic, decisioning easily young Jimmy Doyle. Thomas is far and away the cream of the coast's lightweights. In fact, he'd probably do as well in eastern rings . . . Harry Bobo is fighting again. Had you noticed? . . . And Jack Chase, who had cleaned up everything in sight around here, went down to San Diego last week and proceeded to lose a lopsided decision to the border city's Archie Moore. Just when the Chase-Charley Burley show at H'wood Dec. 11 has everyone talking, too! . . .

Council Committee OKs Purchase of Clinic Building

In a statement to The California Eagle, Councilman Carl C. Rasmussen, Chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee of the City Council, has informed us that the Finance Committee of the City Council will recommend the appropriation of $27.000 for the purchase of the building now being operated as a clinic under the Los Angeles City Health Department at 55th Street and Central Avenue.

Councilman Rasmussen suggests that those interested in this enterprise so esential to the welfare of the community will be welcome to attend the Council session on Friday, December 4th at 10 a. m. in the Council Chambers, at which time this matter will be up for discussion.

"The purchase of this building," said, Councilman Rasmussen, "will bring to a successful conclusion a long and difficult struggle to achieve for the southeast area of the City a very much needed public health service. Due to the large number of defense workers living in this area, it is very essential asset to the war effort."

Under the competent leadership of Dr. Ruth Temple, this institution will become one of the finest of its kind in the entire country.

Frank Dixon Cops Distance Crown

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 3.—Slim Frank Dixon, New York university freshman, is the new National AAU cross country champion.

Dixon captured the title, vacated this year by Greg Rice, former Notre Dame star, when he took the lead 300 yards from the finish line at Weequahic park Sunday to come in 15 yards ahead of James Rafferty of the New York Athletic club. He toured the six and a quarter mile course in 31:42.

LIONEL SIGNS WHITE GUITARIST

That amazing Mr. Hampton! One can never tell what this talented orchestra leader will do next. But, expect what ever it is he does, rates a real lokse. This time its Lionell Hampton, snatching off what has all of the appearances, of being the greatest sensation in music circles today.

All folk will have to do, is just wait till you hear the guitar strumming of 21 year old (and ofay) Doyle Selanthiel, former friend and pal of the late Charley Christian. Yes, he hails from the wilds of Oklahoma. He is a white boy, and everywhere he has appeared before a sepia audience he gets a real and rousing cheer.

HIDES IN FRIEND'S CHICKEN COOP TO KILL HIM

about dusk one of the children ran to her father and told him that a man was hiding in the chicken house out in the backyard. Pennix went out to investigate but just as he reached the door, the intruder leaped out with a long knife and attacked him before he could escape or defend himself. Bush, whom he recognized, ripped him viciously across the abdomen, and fled.

According to police, a charge of murder will be preferred against the missing man if his victim dies.

ON THE TURF
By Geo. A. Ramsey

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Well it looks like that Caliente wont open for some time now as the gas ration goes in effect on December 1st. So as far as the opening which some said would be the first of the year will now have to take it back.

Bay Meadows was granted two weeks extention, which will run that meeting up to Xmas.

New Orleans opened for one of the longest meets in years 75-days of winter racing.

Nearly all the big stables including Whirlway and other greats of the turf has been shipped to Florida.

Regardless of what track that is running you will find Caliente horses there and winning.

Ben Jones, the trainer of Whirlway says "that he is going to try and win a million dollars with the world's greatest money winner"; if the Santa Anita handicap and the Hollywood Gold Cups was up this year we would say that Whirlway would do it. Now that Alsab is laid up with leg trouble, the great champion of 1939 and 1940, Challadon has been retired to the stud, during his racing he won over $300,000, being the fifth greatest money winner of all times.

One of the first gets of the great Seabiscuit made his first start at May Meadows and ran second, beat a head by Lady Lake, you will hear more from the sons and daughters of the Biscuit.

Well folks I hope that you are all doing your part in buying U. S. stamps and bonds, the more we buy the sooner this war will be over. We must do even more than our part if we would all invest twenty per cent weekly in bonds in ten years from now we would have a nice nest egg. Take the money that you use to spend for gas and now put it in bonds, also the extra change buy stamps.

Well I guess that I will be signing off now. So kep smiling and have a little fun. Remember we got to get those three big bums . . . so long . . George.

A man may fall into a thousand perplexities, but if his heart be upright and his intelligence unclouded, he will issue from them all without dishonor.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

FLA. RATTLERS BAG SIAC TITLE AS XAVIER FALLS

By CHARLES L. DE LAY

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—The mighty Florida A&M college Rattlers, Tallahassee, Fla., defeated a valiantly fighting Xavier university Gold Rush of Louisiana (New Orleans) eleven, 44-14, here Thanksgiving Day in the annual Turkey Day grid classic at Xavier stadium.

Nearly 2500 fans witnessed this thrilling contest in which Florida cinched the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship of '42 and continued her march to national honors with an unblemished record.

Both Florida and Xavier opened with aerial offensives, neither team using a ground attack in the first half. The initial Florida score came early in the first period, Echols, Florida center, intercepting a pass by Xavier's Cuthrell on the 'Rush 25-yard stripe, to score the touchdown standing up. Eddie Mike, Florida's sub-end, scored the extra point via place kick.

A fumble gave the ball to Florida deep in Xavier territory, and several plays later Mike attempted a field goal from placemen but the kick was too low. A pass, Adam Williams, Florida back, to Allen, Florida end, on Xavier's 24-yard stripe was good for four yards, Allen eluding the Xavier defense to score standing up. Mike's attempted conversion via placekick was too wide.

BRILLIANT STAND

Florida scored twice in the second quarter, Bell, Florida back, going over from the one foot line on fourth down after Xavier put up a brilliant goal line stand, and Watts, Florida sub end, intercepted a pass by Xavier's Bocage on the Xavier 40-yard stripe and ran for a touchdown. Ogelsby, Florida back, attempted a conversion via placekick which was blocked by "Big Gene" Griffin, Xavier center, and the whole Xavier line surged forward to block Mike's attempted conversion via placekick.

Early in the third period, Mitchum, Xavier end, blocked a Florida punt, Xavier recovering the ball on Florida's 13-yard stripe. Bocage passed to Mitchum who lateraled to Charlie Williams, Xavier tackle, who ran to score standing up. Harris, Xavier back, scored the extra via placekick.

Florida scored in the same period via a pass, Williams to Oglesby, the latter running 16 yards to score. Ogelby's attempted place kick for the extra point was short.

Thompson, Florida back, passed 23 yards to Allen in the end zone to score another Florida touchdown in the fourth quarter. Thompson converted via placekick. Xavier's Riviere, fullback, scored the final Xavier touchdown from the two-yard line in the same period. Riviere converted. Reid, Florida back, scored from the 10 yard line.

Armstrong Fights Jenkins Friday

Henry Armstrong, the former ruler of three boxing divisions at one and the same time, left here Sunday night for Portland, Ore., where he meets former lightweight champion, Lew Jenkins, tomorrow night over the 10 round route.

Archie Moore Whips Chase

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 3.—Snapping his rival's California victory string at 17 straight, Archie Moore, local middleweight sensation, pounded out an easy win over Denver's Jack Chase, here last Friday night.

Chase was down for a no count in both the first and fifth rounds, showing a healthy respect for Moore's attack throughout.

Moore weighed 158; Chase 157.

Bob Smith Drops Duke to Norden

OAKLAND, Dec. 3.—Bob Smith, 180, of Oakland, dropped an unpopular decision to Connie Norden, white 200-pounder, also of Oakland, here last Wednesday night in a 10 round main event.

Bivins in Easy Win Over Savold

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—In what was described as one of the worst heavyweight fights ever staged in Madison Square Garden, Jimmy Bivins, 175½ pound Clevelander, was unimpressive as he won a lopsided 10-round decision over blond Lee Savold, 195, last Friday night before 10,000 fans.

Squat and long-armed, Bivins advanced a peg in the roundrobin tournament to determine a civilian successor to heavyweight champion Sgt. Joe Louis whose title is "frozen" because of the war. Bivins is slated to appear next at the Garden on Jan. 8 when he is slated to meet the winner of the Tami Mauriello-Lou Nova brawl Dec. 11.

★ "Remember These Great Things"

By Rev. Geo. W. Dewey Danley

People, I am reminding you all of some past events before the war ends, which would be helpful to your faith, belief and hope of the war ceasing in the near future. I am speaking in regard to the great acts (Miracles) of God by my hand.

Jesus Christ, made known partially the great mystery of Col Lindberg's kidnap-murder case by my faith, belief, love, hope, prayer and prophecy in 1932, but the other fellow was rewarded. The Lord has not forgotten me concerning this great thing and you shouldn't so easily to forget.

The Lord and the law stopped Al Capone and Bruno Hauptman concerning this great case by my spiritual hand, and you all should remember in every respect concerning these great things of God, by doing so it would help end the war sooner. I am testing you to see if you want a short war and substantial peace from God.

The Almighty, the Son and the Holy Ghost changed the condition of the great economical depression, January 1, 1934 by my hand. My desire is to keep the great wolves off you all with the mighty power of God, therefore you should remember these great things from God by my hand.

Remember those great things namely: The Lord and the law stopped John Dillinger and his gang of 1934. He saved Miss Ruby Bates and the Scottsboro boys from death by my strong faith, belief, hope, prayer, prophecy and by the power of God, who are Germany, Italy and Japan? I will fight again therefore remember these great things.

Zion Hill Mission Society Scores

One of the most tangible evidences of what Christian friendliness can do was demonstrated last Sunday at Zion Hill Baptist church when more than 400 women and men united to show their love and appreciation to those men who have been called to the colors.

The program was patriotic in keeping with the occasion and was planned very carefully and thoughtfully, carried out in like manner.

Mrs. W. D. Carter, state president, was the principal speaker. Her subject, "What Jesus Has Done for You," was well received and helpful.

The collection totaled over $133.00, given out of the hearts and souls of those present.

Too much praise cannot be given the president, Mrs. E. Rivers, and the program chairman, Mrs. W. L. Willingham, together with the capable state chairman of Christian Friendliness, Mrs. Lillian Stewart.

Last Sunday afternoon, Christian Friendliness worshiped with Macedonia Baptist church, South Los Angeles. The principal speaker, Mrs. Lillian Stewart, chose as her subject, "Choosing Your Life's Work and Dedicating Yourself to the Service."

A big mass meeting, sponsored by Christian Friendliness, will be held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, in Pasadena, 3:00 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words of the Psalmist are the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist: "All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone."

A Scriptural selection includes Matthew's record of Jesus' healing of the man who "was brought unto him . . . possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and" the story continues, "he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. . . . But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils. And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; . . . And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? . . . But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you."

On the subject Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "The point for each one to decide is, whether it is mortal mind or immortal Mind that is causative." In healing the sick and sinning, Jesus elaborated the fact that the healing effect followed the understanding of the divine Principle and of the Christ-spirit which governed the corporeal Jesus."

Greater Olivet Baptist Closes Installation Rites

Rev. W. R. Hutchinson, pastor of the Greater Olivet Baptist church, 981 E. 35th street, brought a soul-stirring message, "God's Call to His People," a message we shall never forget.

Nov. 29 brought our installation services to a close. Deacon C. Moaning delivered a welcome address that spiritually flooded every soul that heard it. Bro. B. E. Hines aroused stronger faith with his original reading, "Wait On the Lord." It recounted the necessity of waiting and patience in every walk of life. Sis. V. Sledge brought the spirit almost to its highest peak with the solo, "Come and Dine."

Dr. B. W. Wade, his congregation and choir were our guests. He brought showers of blessings, both spiritually and financially. His text was, "The evidence of our discipleship is Love."—John 13:35. Dr. Wade, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist church, is also moderator of Providence association. Their presence left $221. Watch for further financial reports.

The BTU has styled a new feature of topics, under the leadership of Deacon B. E. Hines. Come and take part. You'll enjoy it. Dinner served free every Sunday.

Recommendation Approved By St. Paul Baptist Church

To the Pastor, Officers and Members of the St. Paul Baptist church, Greetings:

I know that most men in the hour of success and prosperity become exalted in spirit, and feel excessive pride and haughtiness, but the subject at hand is a glowing exception to the rule, for he has shown a most remarkable spirit of humbleness and brotherly love.

Since, then, we have fared so well in the past few years in our church, spiritually, numerically, publicly and financially, I am anxious that we should commit no blunder that would mar the triumph of our success. It is for this reason that I urge and persuade you to carefully consider this recommendation, and resolution.

About 7 years ago, this board raised the salary of its pastor from the level then obtaining to $215.00 per month, at a time when the membership was not near as large as it is today, at a time when the cost of living was fra less than it is at this time, and when the assets of the church were 200% less than they are at present. I am sure that you felt then that your action was commendable and could be complied with by proper business management, and the present status of the church proves that you were right.

For the past few months I have been in position to note carefully the financial record of the church, and from such observation and notation, I am fully persuaded that we have not kept abreast of the times and conditions that we are blessed to enjoy. Most business concerns reis a business, a business of the fer to their trade in terms of assets and liabilities. A church Lord. Jesus said unto his parents, "Wish ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

The assets of the church are the promises of God, coming thru the tithes and offerings of the members. The liabilities of the church are its thankfulness to God and the performance of its duties to its fellowmen.

Since you raised the pastor's salary, the Lord has blessed the hurch by the addition of hundreds of members, under the leadership of Pastor Williams, directed by the Holy Ghost, and these members have caused our financial status to exceed more than a hundred thousand dollars, while our liabilities remained status quo. Much of this money has been wisely spent in remodeling the plant, new equipment, maintenance, operating expenses, salaries, and increase in salaries.

Then when we saw from the records that we still had a huge surplus, it became the order of the church to place this surplus on deposit where it would draw interest to the end that we might receive our own with usury.

In face of all these financial transactions, we have neglected to increase the pastor's salary. If it was necessary to raise the salaries of other workers to meet the rising cost of living, it seems to me that the same rule should apply in the case of the pastor. So I ask you to carefully, and prayerfully consider this proposition to the end that you will approve the resolution, realizing that the present salary being received by our pastor was voted at a time when our membership was very small, and when most of you who are now working at lucrative jobs and important positions were unemployed. In face of these facts, and believing that God will bless us more abundantly if we show appreciation and loyalty to his anointed, I most humbly submit for your action the following resolution:

Resolved, That the official board of the St. Paul Baptist church, in thankfulness to God for His many blessings, and in recognition of the unreserved service given us by our beloved pastor, S. A. Williams, that we do hereby increase, unsolicited, his salary from the present level to $300.00 per month, and that this increase be retroactive to

NOTE—This resolution and recommendation was unanimous-

October 1, 1942.

Very respectfully submitted,
S. E. BUXTON.

ly approved by the board on the first reading.

Before the board of deacon and deaconesses, the second reading was made, and met with unanimous approval, and sent back to the official board with recommendation that the entire document be published.

The third reading was before the official board and was unanimously approved for publication. There is a sentiment now prevailing in the church to, in the near future, have our pastor be the highest paid minister of our group in the West, since he is the only pastor of our group who is called as pastor for life.

Race Track GOSSIP

By Jay Gould

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Bay Meadows Flashes: T'other day, when it was raining cats and dogs and the shipyard workers had a day and the money take was over $250,000—some betting.

Joe, the colored lad marking behind the mutuel machines, is the only one who can go in and out of the money room when he pleases as the boss says that Joe is honest and couldn't get his hand in the East River without touching the Brooklyn bridge.

When A. Love bet $50 on Swingy-Wingy, which paid 29 bucks, the cashier at the $50 window paid him a $150 too much. Love returned the money, saying "I don't need it. Tell Mickey Dwyer (the boss) there's some honest people that come to the races."

See Gedson Grant, the golf, pool and billiard champ who beats all comers, including Gilbert Ayler, in town.

It seems that Juanita Pincksten, and all the play girls have forgotten about love since they have been working on defense.

Genevieve Friend, Rex Langford, Emma Littleton, Marguerite Clipper, Rebecca (ex) Clipper, Willie Bea McCovey, Billy Starr, Victoria Francis, Peggie Armstrong and Little Mama play the races, rain or shine, hot or cold, wet or dry, win or lose.

Pick up on the Cherry Land Breakfast Club, which opens at 11:30 nightly.

Night lifers leave the late spots with their minds full of music and thinking about the swell time they had, which takes their thinking off the war.

The red and green light, stop and go signal, first winks one eye and then the other, which makes you you and you take it easy as 35 miles an hour is the limit.

Bay Meadows grandstand club house and the betting ring is washed clean as a pin by 11:00 o'clock each day and all ready to be stepped on by thousands and thousands of feet daily.

Warren George, standing behind a cigar stand in the Bay Meadows smoke shop on Post street with hundreds of visitors ankling in and out of the back room, and never gave George a tumble.

The little girl working in that beverage store, corner Post and Fillmore, should make a good sales girl, if there is anything in looks.

Dave Miffin, playboy and gambler, walked out on Marguerite Dodson, saying goodnight until tomorrow, but returned a year later and gifted her with a diamond ring, which proves he's 100 percent.

George Ramsey and Grant Edison couldn't take their trip to Bay Meadows because they couldn't get accommodations in San Mateo. Looks as if Frisco is too large for them.

Night club owner and entertainer, sitting around with sad faces the early part of the night waitting for a live one to pop in and say, "Give us all a drink."

John A. BurTon and this writer will book Noble Sissle and Happy Robert's band, which has never left Broadway, New York before; will get booking at the Oakland auditorium. Watch this space for the date.

On the Bay Shore highway, between the air field and the racetrack you might be interested to know that those water ponds you pass are salt beds from which California gets all her salt.

Earl Gray flipped his way from Vancouver, B. C. through the air to Bay Meadows with his pretty wife, humming Cab Calloway's latest tune, "I'm Just Around." Earl is some sport.

Walter (Playboy) Green, better known as Mike, is now in Seattle running Gus West's Monte Carlo, where they scoop up the money in the cash register with shovels. Mike's take is over a hundred daily for himself.

Pop Kirk, playboy from California is now worth a quarter of a million dollars with his grocery stores and restaurant in Seattle.

Ted Bell, Mr. 29, and Russell Smith have all the money they need and still raking it in with both hands.

Jap Burr, playgirl: We are the same people up and down Melody Lane and Swing Alley, but since you beat the Chinaman for $600 we never get a glimpse of you any more.

Marie Bentley: Saw you at the racetrack. Were you just sightseeing or playing the nags? You seemed to be only looking on.

Vera Hamilton, Naomi Gipson, Myrtle Harris, Artite Burns, Ira Carlson, Mary Thompsn, Hattie Cherry, Ida King, Billy Davis, Helen Ford, and Mrs. Percy Williams: Don't be short if that's what keeps you away from Bay Meadows. Let me know and I will send you some passes. Poor butterflies.

Phoenix races may be called off. But in case the gas man gives us the green light, Bay Meadows will run until Dec. 19, maybe.

The boxing match between John Mustard and his best girl after the party t'other night was calld a draw by Mr. A. Love, the referee.

Mr. Clay: I am a Dunbar Hotel barber. There're no handbooks at Bay Meadows so you can't bet no less than two bucks. Don't spend your bus fare coming up.

Elinor Vernon and Bessie Cooper were seen in and out of the best night clubs.

Benelia Brooks, Henry Thomas and Carrie Claiborne, betting at the races and having a time at the Town Club.

Ruth McCoy and Mabel Hamilton made all the night spots. Ruth is from Portland.

The new Town Club bartender, Bob Miles, is on the loose and may be looking for another girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ellis seen out playing hard at all the best places again. Mr. Ellis had won heavy dough and was telling Jay that they were going to San Diego to visit relatives on a plane, as their time was short and they were in a hurry. I left them racking them back and enjoying themselves at Jack's.

Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Handy, Sgt. Wilker Underdown, Corp. David Homes were all knocking themselves out at the Club Alabam.

Bill Ferrell, one of the boys from around the tracks, came in from L. A. after spending a few days there en route from Chicago. Say, Rochester has really got something in Burnt Cork.

Rosetta and Singdu happy in love—yeah man! These shoes are killing me at this age. She, the new Mrs. Singdu, is only 20.

Cliff Ritchie, Edith Spencer, Charley Moore and Ethel Ritchie can be seen at dances and night clubs several times a week.

Walter Green is going over strong as manager of The Two Pals in Seattle. Walter is some manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Brone knocking themselves out at dances, fights and night spots.

Lila Alice Anderson, Mr. Ernest Gabriel's sister, is studying welding. She is preparing to help win the war.

Cuba Davis just came back from the mountains and gained 30 pounds with his pockets running over with money.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hart are here in Oakland from Chicago; also Sam Reddo from Chicago and Miss Jose Jackson, Oakland, in party.

Ethyl Phinney from Seattle, Wash., now in Frisco, having a good time, also working on war work.

Percy Williams, Billie Richmond, Buck Cannon are planning a trip to Los Angeles on the plane. Show L. A. how to play, boys!

Robert Mitchell is lonesome—now I wonder why.

Pvt. Eddie Moore from S. F. arrvid Wednesday from Tuskegee, Ala. Flying School, 318 Air Base, on his way to L. A. for a few days before going back.

Love, the manager at Jack's, has put a 45 gun on the drinks at his place. To think you have to pay 50 cents for black and white Scotch just makes me mad. —A. Patson.

Mrs. Willis M. Hodge of New York and Mr. Clyde L. Mercer of U. S. N. at the Alabam.

Duan Zakove, Mrs. Gladys Pitman spent some few minutes backstage after the races with Sam Berry and Lawrence Brown, whose father, Rev. B., married one of the parties.

Mrs. Maggie Hathaway up visiting her friend, Mrs. Edna Goings on Sutter street, after finishing her best part in "Cabin In The Sky."

Willie May Hodge, formerly of New York, can be seen in and on of the best places, looking like a million.

Miss Palmer arrived in San Francisco Wednesday and made all the night spots.

Irma Lee Redman: I was having the time of my life at the Town Club Thursday night with a Mr. John.

The thre glamour girls this week are Peaches Lee, 'Frisco, just back from visiting with relatives in New Orleans; Mrs. Ruth Clay, and Lottie Coffin, both play girls of San Francisco.

Three best-dressed ladies of the week are Tillie Whaley (Lorraine) of the Dunbar hotel, L. A., wearing a eight hundred dollar silver fox coat, a John Frederick hat, high heeled shoes and silk stockings; Marie Canady at Bay Meadows looking like a million and Peggie Armstrong betting $50 across the board on the ponies at Bay Meadows.

Bay Meadows Flashes: The big meeting goes on for an additional two weeks giving you wise guys until December 19 to send your message to Santa Claus. Bill Kyne and Kid North kicked in two fat checks to the two colored ministers, one Baptist and one Methodist at San Mateo Army and Navy Day.

Bill Kyne and Kid North thrilled the crowd when they led a large colored band that played at the Meadows recently.

W. C. Buchanan, Judge Kearny and the well dressed censor boss, Mr. Fisk, are all smiles because they got the green light until December 19.

The colored gentleman and his wife had a straight ticket each on the horse that paid two hundred and ninety-five dollars for a deuce ticket because they worked for the owner of the nag.

Duke Browning on the lawn at the track letting off steam and ballyhooing in front of a big gallery. I quote him saying "If Mr. John oDe lost a twenty dollar bet he made they would have to send for a doctor himself before Valdina Doll wins again.

Rosa Foster, owner of the Rose Dolph hotel, was just getting ready to play hard when she heard that her husband was going to the Army.

Jess Wilson don't seem to be brooding so hard over certain parties walking out as he don't show around the spots where he can get a glimpse.

Warren George carries a big bank roll of four and five hundred but may have strings tied to it.

Who is the show girl making all the spots with "Mustard" the bartender. She is a hip hurler and a globe trotter from San Diego.

Checking reports that Artelia Burns and Myrtle Harris, beauty operators are not on the loose anymore as they are not playing so hard.

Thelma Thomas, Dorothy Pitty, Myrtle Blazier's sister, Vera Marshall and Mrs. Love are raking in 10 to 12 dollars a day as waitresses at Jack's.

Pauline Sanders, Dorothy Hammond and Velda Wilson are tops at the Town Club.

Brook's "Monte Carlo" smoke shop is getting aterrific play with eight or ten 'G's' in action each night. Stop by and see for yourself.

Big shots and rich women of the country: Mrs. Louise Delightful of Honolulu; Mrs. Lucille Finley of Stockton; Nagatha Gobez, Kate Carter, Mable Rowe and Beulah Robertson of San Diego; Pansy Spates, Mrs. Horace Clark, Mrs. Lena Moore, Lucille Brooks, and Mrs. Kitty (Dunbar Hotel) Nelson of Los Angeles; Minnie Lee, Sadie Robey, Gene X Green, Ms. Carl Buckner, Mrs. Clarence Dunn, Mrs. Tex Allen, Mrs. Marshall Breedon, all from upstate California; Mrs. "Slim" Jenkins, Oakland; Mrs. Barnett of Hotel Vincennes fame, Chicago; Marva Louis, Detroit, Mich.; Marguerite Dodson, Genevieve Friend, Mrs. Betty Brownl, Mrs. Bernice Verett of Club Alabam fame.

Nightlifers, big spenders, male and female sports. Slow down for the Christmas. Get your baskets and cash ready for your Xmas friends.

★ WOMEN IN DEFENSE

By PATRICIA CORLEY

Nationwide rationing of ALL essential foods is just a matter of a few months, says the State Council of Defense.

We won't have to go hungry, says the council, but we will have to make many sacrifices.

The rationing of meat will be followed by the rationing of canned foods (including some meat, fish, fruits, vegetables, some soups, beans and meat and fish products.) After meat rationing will come, too, the rationing of: fish (probably fresh, dried, frozen as well as tinned); lard; coffee and tea; dried fruits(if any are on the market); bananas (if any are to be had); cocoa and chocolate; frozen foods (meat and fish only); milk.

We also face shortages of spices, condiments, jams, jellies and preserves.

It's no news that the demands of the Army and Navy, lend lease shipments, transportation difficulties, labor shortages, as well as an increased civilian purchasing power due to higher wages, are responsible for food shortages.

Meat is first on the rationing list, despite the fact that production by June 30, 1943, will be the greatest in our history—a total of twenty-four billion pounds. But we face a shortage of three billion pounds.

Voluntary meat rationing, to allow every one to get his fair share of meat, is already here.

At Washington's request, the State Council of Defense has asked local councils of defense to utilize their block organizations in making house-to-house canvasses urging citizens to hold their consumption to two and one-half pounds of meat per week in the government's share-the-meat program. At the same time, literature on the subject will be distributed to householders.

Although the government has not yet announced complete plans for meat rationing, the amount allowed each adult and adolescent will probably be around two pounds. Plans have been made to use the point system, used in England for clothes rationing. Prices will be fixed in terms of points. For instance, a pound of meat costing 20 cents would be one point; a pound of meat costing 40 cents would be two points; and every one will have the same number of points to use per week.

Any housewife, beginning to feel like old Mother Hubbard after these rationing predictions, should remember that her cupboard will still be the best stocked of any in the world.

The English housewife, if she's first at the market, gets one egg per week, one pound of meat (including bone), one quart of milk per week (if it's available), 8 ounces of sugar, 8 ounces of cheese, two ounces of butter, two ounces of cooking fats, four ounces of margarine. She is also entitled to some fish, head when they are available, and a pound of jam each month.

Boys Work for Post Office

Over one hundred Jefferson high school boys will be employed by the Post Office for the Christmas rush.

The boys were selected by Mr. George Costello and Mr. Samuel Brown for recommendation and were then assigned to a variety of jobs.

t. Harriette White Recruiting ffice; WAAC Corps Expanded to 150,000

"Where may I go to join the Women's Army" has been the inquiry in scores of letters from many southern states received by Lt. Harriette B. White, WAAC Headquarters, 1755 U. S. Post Office Building.

"These women are anxious to join the Corps to give service to their country; they know that this war, which is also a woman's war, cannot be won without their help."

By executive order the Woman's Army has now been authorized to recruit its full strength of 150,000 women. This means that hundreds of Negro girls (21-44) will have an opportunity to enroll in the Corps. They will serve in such capacities as accountants, bakers, bookkeepers, cadre clerks, camera technicians, cashiers, chauffeurs, clerks, cooks, dispatchers, motor vehicle, draftsman, librarian, machine record operator, messenger, photo laboratory, technician and many, many others. Many of these members will be recommended for Officer Candidate School after completion of their basic and specialist training; and subsequently become commissioned officers; many of them will qualify and serve as non-commissioned officers while many will remain which entitles them to additional auxiliaries with specialist ratings pay. There is no limitation to promotions for the enrollees of the Corps.

Requirements, 21 to 44 years of age, good health, good character, mentally alert, possess fair intelligence.

Today is a day of equality of opportunity, training, assignment and advancement. Already at Ft. Des Moines are outstanding Negro women including dentists, school teachers, social workers, clerks, stenographers, yes, even housewives, all with one purpose, to share in America's drive to victory. You too may enroll in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Join today! WAAC Headquarters, Room 1755 U. S. Post Office Building.

Missionary Day in Landon Church

LANDON—Missionary day at the Community Baptist church in Landon was very inspiring. The women rendered the following program: prayer, Sister Zigler; Scripture lesson, Sister Powell; talk, Sister Marton, subject, "Our Duty as Missionary." Paper, Sister Procter.

The pastor spoke from the 12th chapter of Revelation. PFC Ocey Ferguson, who is in the service of the U. S. wrote the church a letter and prayer was offered for him and others in service of the USA wrote the church a letter and prayer was offered for him and others in service throughout the day.

All States Tea at Second Baptist Most Successful

One of the most successful achievements in the long history of the Second Baptist church was apparent following the All States Tea held before a capacity crowd last Friday night at the beautiful churchedifice at 24th and Griffit avenue.

Climax of the annual affair was the mock launching of the Booker T. Washington on the pulpit by Rev. J. Raymond Henderson.

With the church basement gaily decorated, booths representing all the states in the Union were operating by natives o these various national divisions. Full financial report had not reached the EAGLE at press time, although it is believed that the event set records in that department as well as in the social whirl.

A detailed statement is expected in the next issue.

San Bernardino Teacher Week-ends in L. A.

'The Feast' Is Theme at Second AME

The Rev. Mr. Isaacs thrilled his audience on Sunday morning as he spoke very touchingly on the subject "Hold That Line". He pointed out very clearly and distinctly the benefits to be derived by the individual in holding to the Line of Truth about God, The Line of Christian Character, and the Line of Christian Home Training against any opposing influences.

There were many expressions of praise and commendation heard from the listeners. There weer some additions to the membership.

Reports from the financial drive which is now in progress continue to be encouraging and indications are that the goal will be reached. At present Mrs. Carrie Brooks is leading the captains in the report with Mrs. Julia Green a close second Mr. Joseph Buckner and Reginald Green are trailing the women.

"The Feast" will be the theme of the Communion Meditation of the minister on Sunday next. The Holy Communion will be administered. Music will be furnished by the united Senior and Gospel Choirs with Mr. Hiram Webb as the baritone soloist.

The Junior Choir under the direction of Herman Woods will furnish the music at the evening Meditation Service with the address by the minister on the subject "What Is In The Basement"?

The Junior Missionary Society and the Young People's Missionary Society will meet the pastor at the church on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance, the pastor asks that all members be present.

The minister say: Better to go to church on your own two feet than to be carried by your friends. Besides, you will be of little use to the church or the church to you after you are dead.

Special Program at Antioch

Don't fail to hear two new songs that will be sung Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, at 3:30 p. m., at the Antioch Baptist church, 1569 E. 55th street, Rev. A. L. Walton, pastor.

Mrs. Mary Givens of the Zion Hill Baptist church has written a beautiful song, "The Home of the Soul." This number will be sung by the Williams and Hall quartet. "Take Jesus as Your Friend," words and music by Rev. Archie J. Williams, will be sung as a solo by Patrick Hall of the Mt. Zion Baptist church.

A special program has been prepared for this occasion. All are welcome.

Oakland USO Committee Fetes Soldiers With Chop Dinner

The Canteen Committee of the club sponsored their first Chop Dinner to the service men who attended the club Tuesday evening, November 10th. Mrs. Cora Beckford, chairman was assisted y Mrs. Hippolite. Mrs. Mabel Calhoun made arrangements for the dinner in the games room. The dinner consisted of lamb chops, uttered spinach, shoestring potatoes, fruit salad, mint jelly, french bread, tea and cocoa and donoughs. Over fifty men enjoyed the feed.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 12 at the International House, Berkeley, over 750 servicemen and 300 girl hostesses danced to the strains of the famous Navy Band from Livermore, Calif. The girls presented a beautiful picture in their evening dresses. Altho there were only 300 girls to dance with the men, it didn't make any difference; everyone had a good time. The gala affair drew soldiers from Camps Ashby and McKnight in the Metropolitan area, Camp Stoneman in Pittsburg, Camp Ord in Monterey and sailors came from as far away as Livermore. An impromptu program presented Mrs. Gertrude White, Associate Director of the Buchannon Street, USO, San Francisco, who rendered several popular selections upon a borrowed trumpet from a member of the band. She at once reminded her hearers of the famous Harry James, when she played, "You Made Me Love You." Then the beauteous Kathryn Huggins of San Francisco rocked the place with a crooning number that set a thousand pairs of feat shuffling. To make things worse that handsome, four letter college man James E. Stratton, West Coast Area Director for Special Services, stole the show with, "I'm Gonna Move On The Outskirts of Town." Both Lts. Cosgriff and Als, from Camp Ashby praised their men in short speeches. Lt. Mary McGlinn and her Commanding Officer, John M. Lyle made short pleas for young women to join up with the WAAC's. Both were roundly applauded.

The concert ended with God Bless America. All present sang with the director of the Oakland USO, James C. Thomas, better known as "Give Him A Big Hand Jimmy." Flash light bulbs were popping all over the place. Mrs. May E. Hill, YWCA Director was as graceful and charming as ever. She occupied all evening in seeing to it that the guests were taken care of properly.

The hostesses came from Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco. They devised a way of dancing that enabled each girl to dance with three or four men at a time. The affair solved a problem for Camp Recreation Officers. It was so successful that its sponsors, the DeFremery USO, hope for many return performances.

The busy week at the club closed on Saturday evening with a Chille supper given by the Library Committee, Miss Bernice Allen, chairman. About a hundred enjoyed the supper. Dancing was then endulged until 11 p. m., when all filled up with hot donnoughs and coffee.

On Sunday a gorup of hostesses from the club, jouneyed to Monterey, Camp Ord, when they dinned with the men and danced until they left for home at 6 p. m.

While the girls were away entertaining the men at Camp Ord the boys at the club were entertained by the Cubs Social club of Oakland. Lesley Murray, president.

The club has received gifts of musical instruments, cigarettes, cookies, donoughs, sweaters, games and toilet preparations, all of which they are enjoying.

Jefferson Has Service Flag

The Home-Eco's, with the assistance of Mrs. Bertha Boyd, will make a service flag for Jefferson High school. It will be of white taffeta with a red border and a large blue star in the center, upon which will be the number of boys in service. The space around the blue star will be reserved for gold stars in case some of the boys should be among the casualties.

Mr. C. A. Dickinson is collecting the names of alumni, as well as students who are now in service.

If parents or friends of Jefferson alumni call or write and give information to the school, it will facilitate the getting of an accurate record for the flag.

St. Paul Baptist Marches On Under Banner of Holy Ghost

The worship and services in St. Paul today is, to say the least, phenomenal and very unusual, in that persons are coming into the church for membership during the weekly meetings of the auxiliaries, and on Sundays they come in great numbers without any persuasion whatsoever. The great numbers coming in, and the way they come, reminds one of the scripture which reads, "They take the Kingdom by violence."

Pastor Williams has been discussing for quite some time the subject, "Three Things the Church and the World Need Most in These Perilous Times."

No. 1. Holy Ghost preaching, which implies preaching Christ; the world needs Christ today more than ever before.

No. 2. Holy Ghost Living; that is, living right by the aid of the Holy Ghost.

No. 3. Christian Unity, or Christian solidarity; there has been and, there is today, too much division between Christian views, Christian ideals, and Christian principles.

Speaking of Holy Ghost Preaching, quite a little has been said about Pastor Williams' Thanksgiving sermon at the Second Baptist church last Thursday morning. Being a reporter for the St. Paul church, I noted carefully the different expressions made by way of comment by various people. Some, outside of the membership of our church, were very extravagant in their lauding the message; some went so far as to say that it was one of the greatest and most powerful Holy Ghost messages they had ever heard. A certain man said, "It was the greatest message I've heard since I listened to the late L. K. Williams."

I was speaking to Pastor Williams about the various comments and he said, "Neither the message nor the worship was great because of any big showing on my part, but it was the culmination of the spirit of cooperation shown by that great aggregation of Baptist preachers who were present and built up a great Christian fervor that permeated the whole audience.

"If the ministers had not been so completely united in their efforts, my message would have been a complete failure. Therefore, it can be seen at a glance just what Baptist ministers can do and are able to do toward making an impression on an entire city, if and when they cooperate and serve as one man."

As a layman and reporter, it is but natural that I should note the financial angle of our church program. To me it is very unusual for a church to be out of debt, and carry on such an extensive program, involving hundreds of dollars, without resorting to Sunday teas, card parties and such, but depends solely on the voluntary contributions of its members. Our contributions run from $300 to $400 each week.

S. E. Buxton, reporter.

Rev. G. W. Reed Scores on KGFJ

The program over KGFJ by the Reed Schol of Christian Education presenting its Dean, the Rev. G. W. Reed, is growing in interest each Sunday morning. His message last Sunday morning emphasising the Christian Message for the Present day World--Economically," was highly received as evidenced from the many expressions received from the listeners.

Dan Reed is a preacher-teacher of national reputation. His sermons and teaching are always informative and spiritually inspiring. He will be heard next Sunday morning over the same radio station 8:30. Listen in you will be helped by both the message and the singing which is by a splendid male quartet.

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE

FATHER RIKER, 'FRISCO FASCIST, HURLS BLAME AT FATHER DIVINE

On the Sidewalk

By CHARLOTTA A. BASS

Los Angeles' Negro leadership rolled up its sleeve last Monday night at Camille's Party Den and vowed an all-out contest against the defeatist anti-Negro policy of the Los Angeles Railway Company and the property race restrictions which have bottled up thousands of vital Negro war workers in a slum-infested area which rates as FIVE PER CENT of the city.

Last week in our editorial columns, there was published the following paragraph concerning what appeared to be a slow-moving campaign against the job refusal policy of the Los Angeles Railway:

"After a careful investigation of the effort to secure the employment of Negroes throughout the vast transportation network of the Los Angeles Railway Company, the EAGLE has learned that (1) no publicly documented appeal has been made to the Fair Employment Practice Committee, (2) the exclusion of Negroes from the railway system, condemned vocally by figures of the AFL, which holds labor contracts with the firm, has not yet been turned over to the AFL legal department for action, (3) there is apparent some danger of a "token employment arrangement between semi-official Negro groups and the company."

Since that time, a distinct improvement in the railway situation has come about. The Fair Employment Practice Committee has been called into action. And that body has recently ordered inbiased employment of Negroes in a similar case involving the Capital Transit Company in Washington, D. C.

But most important is the mass meeting called for Sunday night (8:00 p. m.) at the First AME church which will mobilize rank and file transit customers in the effort to secure jobs for Negroes in all departments of the firm, i. e., to relieve the manpower shortage in transportation which has severely limited operation of all Los Angeles defense industry.

This meeting has been called by a broad cross-section of the community life. It is formally called by the Negro Victory Committee, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the National Negro Congress, but it is actually backed by scores of other citizens' organizations.

Other central point of Sunday's meet will be launching of an offensive against property race restrictions which limit Negro war workers to occupancy of homes in fractional ghetto where there is an acute housing shortage and what available housing there is has become largely sub-normal. It is further determined that un-American quota system in the Federal Housing Projects.

There is some effort being made in the San Francisco trial of pro-Fascist Father William E. Riker to paint him as a harmless nut whose vile racial preachments are of little importance because they emanated from a man whose sanity is, well, dubious.

Such efforts must be resisted by public opinion. Father Riker is not so dumb that he failed to recogonize the close allegiance which his racial notions created between his notorious Holy City (in Northern California) and the sprawling Nazi domain of Adolf Hitler. Extensive correspondence by Riker, addressed to the German dictator, is an essential element of the Government's case against him.

Father William E. Riker's theories are crazy. Yes.

But they are not one whit different from those of Fascist Europe.

Elevation of crack-brained racial theorists to astounding power is the political phenomenon of this age.

Riker's kind are dangerous. Today, more than ever, they represent the living spectacle of the advanced regiments of native Fascism. They cannot be dismissed as "crackpots." They should be dismissed, all right, — to Alcatraz!

DENY FESTUS COLEMAN'S PLEA FOR PARDON

THEY GAVE HIM NO PARDON . . . this is the sad story REV. CLAYTON D. RUSSELL had to tell following his return from a last-minute effort in Sacramento to secure a pardon for Festus Coleman. Representing Los Angeles, Rev. Russell appeared with members of the Free Festus Coleman Committee before Prison Pardon Board Thursday. He is pictured on return here. Full story of long Coleman case and new plans in his behalf will be published next week.

The session of the Pardon Board was presided over by Lieut. Gov. Ellis E. Patterson. During course of the hearing Warden Clyde Plummer, of Folsom prison, stated "I don't believe Negroes have the right to impose themselves upon white people."

POLL TAX CONFAB TO BE HELD IN WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, N. Y.—As organized Labor, the Negro People's organization, and all other progressive forces among the American people began this week to formulate plans for establishing a nation-wide mobilization drive for passing a federal Anti-Poll Tax Bill in the 78th Congress which opens January 1, the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax announced today that a national conference to work out plans for conducting the fight will be held in Washington February 9.

According to officials of the Committee, the February date was chosen in preference to the first week in January, in order to allow the trade unions and all other organizations to coordinate their plans for mobilizing the people of every state through a set-up that can reach into every community.

Miss Sylvia Beithcher, secretary of the National Committee stated that directives will be sent out within the next few days to all organizations, including the trade unions, setting forth plans for the national conference. She urged that evey group begin now to aise funds to support the work of the committee, as well as to carry on local and state activities. The committee maintains an office in Washington at 10 Independence Avenue, Southwest.

Among the first of the local Anti-Poll Tax Committees to get under way since the defeat of the Geyer-Pepper Bill in the Senate last month, was the Brooklyn and Long Island Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax, headed by the Rev. Thos. S. Harten, pastor of Brooklyn's Trinity Baptist Church.

The Committee wsa formed at a meeting called by the Rev. Mr. Harten at his church Tuesday, December 2. More than 900 persons, Negro and white, representing labor, women's organizations, young people attended the meeting.

Bert J. Coffey, former vice chairman of the National Council of Law Students, was elected executive secretary of the Committee. Other officers of the committee will be chosen at a later meeting, the Rev. Mr. Horten said, when representatives of many more organizations will be invited to become members of the group in order that the committee ma yhave the broadcast community sponsorship.

The Committee also plans to affiliate directly with the National Committee in Washington, Dr. Harten declared.

NMU SECRETARY CITES HEROISM OF UNION'S 5000 RACE SEAMEN

NEW YORK—Ferdinand C. Smith, Secretary of the National Maritime Union, in a speech delivered to the Tom Paine School of Social Science and Arts in Philadelphia declared that "the 5,000 Negro members of the National Maritime Union who were risking their lives delivering the weapons of war to the fighting fronts all over the globe were adding a new and glorious chapter to the history of the American merchant marine and to Negro participation in America's wars."

Relating instances of heroism and bravery by all union seamen, Negro and white alike, Smith declared that their will to win would circumvent any obstacles Hitler or Hirohito could place in their paths. He related many instances of bravery among NMU seamen and singled out for particular mention Harold Harper, the 54 year old seaman who has been tarpedoed six times. "Harper's mother was a slave freed by Abraham Lincoln," Smith said, "and he himself holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Edinburgh and a Master's degree from the University of Berlin. His wife and son were killed in the Japanese earthquake in 1923 and his mother was killed in a blitz in 1940 in London. Another son was killed by the Nazis in Louvain, Belgium when they took that town in 1940. But despite these harrowing experiences, his spirit is unflagging. His will to win remains high. He typifies the spirit of the Negro in this war."

Smth said that in addition to keeping the sea lanes open, the NMU members upon their return speak at various civilian defense meetings and factory and shipyard workers urging the people at home to greater participation in the war. In addition Smith said they sell war bonds, organize blood donor camaigns, and speak under government auspices via short wave radio to the conquered people everywhere.

Smith called for the extension of the present North African offensive to the continent of Europe and said, "the common man must win the war as well as the peace. If we do that we can make this the last world war."

(See text of Smith's speech on editorial page.)

VOL. 63—NO. 35 LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1942 PRICE 5 CENTS

Call Mass Meet for Sunday Night

Take the fight to the people!

That was the thundering decision of an unprecedented unity round-table discussion of community leadership Monday which gathered to consider outrageous housing conditions on the Eastside and the sabotage of the Los Angeles Railway Company in refusing employment to qualified Negroes as conductors and motormen. The meeting, which brought together a complete cross-section of this area's political, business, religious nad labor life, called for a huge mass meeting Sunday, December 13th at First AME church, Eighth and Towne avenue, at 8 p. m.

Among organizations participating in the mass meeting call are the Negro Victory Committee, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the National Negro Congress, the California Eagle, the Los Angeles Sentinel, and individuals representing every strata of community life.

Big guns of Eastside mass pressure will be directed against Housing restrictions which bottle up Negro workers into an area which is the center of slum housing and bum sanitation. An offensive will be launched aiming at complete dismantling of deed restrictions on housing in Los Angeles. Such a move is declared to be vital war necessity.

Eastside workers are predominantly employed in industries important to war production. Peace time property restrictions force them into a tiny fraction of the city, an area far removed from all major defense plants. When housing, readily available in other sections, cannot be occupied by war workers simply because of their race, a situation exists which endangers Los Angeles' contribution to victory.

Shocking revelations of a housing shortage in the "Negro ghetto" showed that during the last fifteen days NOT A SINGLE

RIKER BLAMES ARREST ON FATHER DIVINE

SAN FRANCISCO—Father William E. Riker, California native fascist, cult leader, and founder of lily white Holy City, California, who is on trial for sedition, today accused Father Divine, Negro religionist, with causing his arrest.

Riker was fust exposed in the columns of the California EAGLE. He was erported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation several times by local groups. Finally, forthright action by the Negro Victory committee in Los Angeles brought his 'Frisco arrest for sedition.

The United Press story covering Riker's accusation of Father Divine follows:

"Father" William E. If I Were President) Riker, prominently displaying an American flag in the lapel of his coat, today had heard a number of soldiers and FBI agents testify at his sedition trial that he had communicated with Hitler, urged peace with the Axis "minus Japan" and

A HELPING HAND

Perhaps you are facing a problem of vital importance. Perhaps it is full of startling and surprising possibilities, but, you lack the initative or the incentive to succeed in life.

Socially and economically life is a struggle, and those who are not willing to try, or, are afraid--perish. The victors have an exalting and thrilling existance, which usually turns out to be quite profitable as well.

Look around you at the most successful people you know. They were not always the most skilled—most learned--or most courageous. But they did possess a certain power which they unconsciously used to attract to themselves, the very conditions and advantages which they so desired.

You can use this hidden power too, if you will let Prof. Herman, determine how you are to go about it. Wite him for information concerning your future possibilities for the coming new year. Send for your 1943 Horoscope which will help you find true love and happiness.

Dear Prof. Herman: I am so happy and elated over the change in my friend that I just had to wite you and tell you about it. He not only spends more time with me, but has asked me to marry him . . . isn't that just wonderful! I know that you and your works are responsible for this change and wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart. E. N.

Martha M. Your letter was received, but you failed to give your complete name and address, please do so. As I wish to answer your letter privately.

B. K. What can I do about my present situation?

Ans.: After giving your question careful thought, I find that your mother will soon forgive you if you try to be a very nice girl and get along in school. Everything wrong you do is naturally added to the things she already has in mind, that is why she doesn't trust you. But, you can make her see you are a fine girl and get the respect that is due you from your brother and sisters by carrying yourself in the proper manner. It maybe a little hard at first but it will be well worth the effort.

B. B. Will I ever marry the person I like?

Ans. According to your various Zodiacal signs, marriage to this particular girl born under the Taurus sign, would be successful. Yes, I vision your marrying her within the next year.

A. W. Will I be successful in

Ans. I suggest that you write your husband concerning this matter, and if he doesn't give you and satisfaction, than consult a good lawyer, since you have been seperated for sometime.

M. B. M. J. I have been reading how you have helped so many people, until I decided to write you myself. Please tell me if theer is any use in my worrying about the money?

Ans. It seems to me that you have been worrying about this money for months. But it really wasn't necessary. Soon all of this will be cleared up, and you will be surprised how easily.

O. F. Will I be succesful in obtaining employment?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet, indicate your finding steady employment soon, and it will be a pleasant job, one that you will like.

A. B. Does my husband love me?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that your husband loves you dearly, dismiss the doubts that you have from your mind and try to be a better companion to him.

M. H. Shal I go where my husband is working or remain here?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that you have a young baby, and I am sure your my endeavor?
husband would rather you and the baby come to him, than be so far away. If possible, I suggest that you go to California.

Mrs. M. L. Should I give up, or keep trying?

Ans. By all means keep trying! Don't ever give up. There is no reason why you cannot make a success out of your work if you concentrate upon it. Perhaps there is something that you have not done that is necessary in order to build up your trade, concentrate upon it and study all that you can, you will soon note a change in your business.

★ POST OFFICE FACTS & FIGURES

By PAUL L. HACKETT SR.

"Sending too little too late." This often repeated phrase is synonymous with "Remember Pearl Harbor". Every war has its immortal slogan and these will be remembered as emblematic of World War II.

While most people of the world are enslaved by war hysteria we should take care lest our prospective of democracy become distorted. Advocates of democracy all agree that we must win this war. The perpetuation of freedom, of thought and speech are dependent on victory. To guarantee pemanency, foundations must be laid based on fundamental principles.

As a farmer sows seed in the summer for winter so must prepare during war for peace. Winning the war is the most important thing, but there must be the assurance that the objective will be achieved. Now is the time to prove that all peoples shall be given the opportunity to contribute in the building of world wide democracy.

After every war there is a reconstruction era. It becomes necessary to readjust our lives accordingly. Factories and plants of all descriptions must retool their shops to meet the needs of industry and the public in general. The transition is gradual and we should be prepared to gracefully accept each change.

The question arises as to how we might best accomplish our aims. Let me suggest this slogan "Don't Give Too Little Too Late". Again you might ask, what do you mean?"

Here is our answer, "Render unto Ceasar That which is Ceasar's and unto God, that which is God's." In other words give freely of your time, effort and money.

Support organized labor which has made better working conditions for all and has opened new fields of industry to minority groups. Contribute to churches and all religious organizations which will continue to make this a better world in post war days. Do not dessert loyal employers who have befriended you when you needed them. These enticing wages are of a temporary nature and also the shortage of labor. The war will not last long enough for you to become financially independent thrugh the high wages received by you.

Hoarding money will not insure against adversity. Generousity and gratitude pay the heaviest dividends in the end. To have universal prosperity all men must be given the opportunity to strive for it. Let us work for lasting peace by giving our time, effort and money.
